SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

No. 896.—OCTOBER TERM, 1969 Recirculated:

MAY 15 1970

George K. Wyman, etc., et al.,
Appellants,
v.
Edna Rothstein et al. } On Appeal From the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

[May —, 1970]

PER CURIAM.

Appellees commenced this action in the federal District Court for the Southern District of New York challenging on equal protection and statutory grounds § 131-a of the New York Welfare Law which provides for payments to welfare recipients in Nassau, Suffolk, and other New York State counties in lesser amounts than provided for residents of New York City should the Welfare Administrator determine that adequate cause exists for the differential. A three-judge court was convened and it found that appellees' likelihood of success on their constitutional claim warranted the issuance of a preliminary injunction against what it found to be the payment of welfare in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The Court found it unnecessary to consider appellees' statutory claims. We noted probable jurisdiction. — U. S. — (1970).

Subsequent to the decision of the District Court this Court rendered its decision in Rosado v. Wyman, — U. S. — (1970), wherein we held that a federal court called upon to pass upon the constitutional validity of a State's welfare program should, before reaching the constitutional issues, consider first any pendent statutory claims that are presented, notwithstanding the pendency
