Note: The manuscript of this book was completed and ready for publication in 2017. Due to a number of unavoidable reasons that were beyond us, the manuscript remained unpublished until CENTRIS, IUM took up the task in August 2021. The education status of many of the contributors have been updated. However, the rest of the information in the book remains as it has been in 2017, except for some minor footnotes and notes, and an additional Preface.

AUTHORS

Aamir Bashir [B.E. (Electrical Eng. Hon.), NUST, Pakistan; M.Sc. (Electrical & Computer Eng.), Georgia Inst. of Tech., USA; Shahādah al-'Alimīyyah (Dawrah al-Hadīth), Jamī'ah Ashrafiyah, Lahore; M.A. (Islamic & Other Civilisations, Concentration: Islam in South Asia), ISTAC, IUM; M.A. (Islamic & Near Eastern Studies), WUSTL, USA].

Aamir is a native of Pakistan and fluent in Urdu (his native tongue), Arabic and English, with basic knowledge of French and modern Turkish. He is pursuing a doctorate degree in Islamic thought from the University of Chicago, USA. His research interests include Islamic law and legal theory (the Ḥanafī School, maṣlaḥah and maqāṣid al-shar'ah, Islamic economics, banking and finance), Muslim responses to modernity, Islamic spirituality and Islamic education.

Aidah Wong Suk Ting [Professional Dip. (Company Secretary-ship & Admin.), Hong Kong Polytechnic; M.A. (Islamic & Other Civilizations), ISTAC, IIUM)].

Aidah is a Chinese from Hong Kong, fluent in Mandarin and English, with good proficiency of Arabic and can communicate in basic Hausa. She embraced Islam in the early 1990s, and studied in Syria to learn the Arabic language and to acquire a basic understanding of the Islamic faith. After working for some years with different Muslim organizations for the promotion of Islam in her native city, she enrolled in IIUM and attained an M.A. in 2013. Her thesis is entitled "Value Transmission in Two Cultural Traditions: A Comparative Study of an Islamic School and a Chinese School in Kuala Lumpur". She worked briefly as a Research Assistant in the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and was involved in the setting up of a Research Centre on Islamic Culture in the university. She is currently a housewife living in Nigeria, giving voluntary services to the local Muslim community. She is particularly concerned with Islamic education.

Asma' binti Muhammad Uthman El-Muhammady [B.A. & M.A. (Uṣūl al-Dīn & Comparative Religion), IIUM; Ph.D. (Islamic Revealed Knowledge & Heritage), IIUM].

Asma's Ph.D. thesis is based on her research on the Sikh community in the state of Selangor, Malaysia, looking into their current understanding and practices of Sikhism. She is fluent in Bahasa Melayu and has good proficiency of Arabic and English, apart from basic knowledge of Punjabi. She teaches at the Department of Uṣūl al-Dīn & Comparative Religion, Kulliyah of Islamic Revealed Knowledge and Human Sciences, IIUM. Her areas of expertise include humanities, religious studies and comparative religion.

Fadzillah A. Rahim [B.A. (Graphic Design), LimKokWing University of Creative Technology); MA (Art History and Cultural Management), UiTM]; Ph.D. (ISTAC, IIUM).

Fadzillah's M.A. thesis, "Styles of Jawi Scripts of the Early Malay Manuscripts (16th - 20th century)" has been published into a book. Fadzillah completed her Ph.D. at ISTAC / the Malay World, IIUM. Her doctorate dissertation is on Islamic influence on Malay Wood carvings. She has deep passion on art and is currently teaching Art and Design at International Islamic School Malaysia (Secondary). Proficient in Bahasa Melayu, English and Tamil, she occasionally blogs at fadzarahim.blogspot and posts her artworks at Instagram as @fadzillaharahim

Gary Dargan [B.Sc. & M.Sc. (Geology & Palaeontology), Macquarie U, Australia]; Ph.D. (Contemporary Issues in Islamic Civilisation), ISTAC, IIUM.

Gary embraced Islam in December 1986, has a lifelong interest in geology and palaeontology and collects minerals and fossils as a hobby. He worked in various geological research organisations for nearly forty years. He has long held an interest in the often vexed relationship between religion and science. On retiring he moved to Malaysia to pursue research in this area at ISTAC, IIUM. He is in the last stages of his Ph.D. research into the topic of evolutionary science and Islam, with a thesis entitled, "Seyyed Hossein Nasr and the Theory of Evolution, A Critical View". English is his mother tongue, apart from basic working knowledge of Russian.

Marina Munira Abdul Mutalib [B.A. (Uṣūl al-Dīn and Comparative Religion) IIUM; M.A. (Islamic Studies) U. of Birmingham]; Ph.D. (ISTAC, IIUM).

Munira is a lecturer at the Faculty of Leadership and Management, Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM). Her academic interests include theology, philosophy of religion, Islamic studies, Abrahamic faiths and comparative religion. Shaykh (Dr.) Muhammad Uthman El-Muhammady's critical view on the idea of religious pluralism propagated by John Hick had motivated her in pursuing her Ph.D. at ISTAC / the Malay World, with her thesis along the same theme. She has since completed her Ph.D. with a dissertation, "Religious Pluralism in Contemporary Malaysia: Muslim and Christian Perspectives", under the supervision of Professor Dr. Ibrahim Zein. Bahasa Melayu is her native tongue, and she has good proficiency of Arabic and English.

Nur Jannah Hassan [B. Sc. (Hon. Sc. in Chemistry), U. of Waterloo, Canada; Dip. Ed. (IIUM); M. Ed. (IIUM); Ph.D. (Philosophy, Ethics & Contemporary Issues) ISTAC, IIUM].

Nur Jannah completed her doctorate under the supervision of Distinguished Professor Tan Sri Dr. Mohd Kamal Hassan, and was an advisee of al-marḥūm Shaykh (Dr.) Muhammad Uthman El-Muhammady. Her interests include, among others, the Qur'ānic Worldview, integration, natural science education, spirituality, ethicality and intellectuality of Ūlū al-Abāb, curricula and pedagogy, Islamic and Western philosophies of science, environmental sustainability, holistic medicine and natural healing. Her Ph.D. dissertation is a study on issues pertaining to integrating Qur'ānic perspectives in the curricula of natural science in selected Islamic secondary schools, comparing those in Indonesia and in Malaysia. One of the appendices of her thesis is the manuscript of Natural Science from the Worldview of the Qur'an: An Introduction, a three volume work for Islamic secondary schools, published in 2018. She is proficient in Bahasa Melayu, Bahasa Indonesia and English, with basic knowledge of Arabic.

Sevgi Altundal Hajdari [B.A. (Uṣūl al-Dīn and Comparative Religion),

M.A. (Comparative Civilisation) ISTAC, IIUM].

Sevgi has been active with several NGOs and presented her findings of her studies in seminars and trainings in Malaysia, Brunei Darussalam, Kosovo, Bosnia Herzegovina, Macedonia and Montenegro. "Makedonya Müslümanları" (in Turkish, which is her mother tongue), "Tarihi Süreç İçerisinde Misyonerlik ve Misyonerlerin Yetim Faaliyetleri" (in Turkish, English and Arabic) are among her published works. Currently she works as a civil servant in her home country, Turkey. She is also proficient in English and Arabic.

The Village Preacher Shaykh (Dr.) Muhammad Uthman El-Muhammady is the outcome of a special project by al-Futuwwah, the Students' Association of ISTAC of the 2012-2013, 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 academic years, in commemoration of the beloved and dearly missed teacher and murabbi. In him, his students of all walks of life and his contemporaries found one of the brightest stars that twinkled with wisdom, humility and a guiding light. This special book is divided into two parts. Part One consists of anecdotes on the life of al-marhūm, written by his daughter and students, and a number of his photographs. Part Two comprises of actual assignments, tests and final papers by his students, submitted to and graded by him – a select sampling from stacks and bundles of papers retrieved from his collection at his office and at his residence in ISTAC and in Pasir Mas, Kelantan. Indeed, in him we see an exemplary beacon for us all. This book presents none, but a glimpse of this beacon.
