12. CURRENT RESEARCH AND RELEVANCE

This Research is a collaborative one between the Microbiology department in conjunction with the Medical Laboratory department of the Landmark University Medical center and the Landmark University Center for Research Innovation and discoveries (LUCRID):Under which the Sustainable development goals (SDGs) is being driven. The research intends to focus on:

1. Prevalence of Hepatitis B and C viral infection in communities and risk factors involved.
2. Incidence of Human Papilloma virus (HPV) as causative agent for cervical cancer—the way forward for prevention.
3. Coordinating the activities of the Research group enabling a formidable synergy in research between the Dept. of Microbiology and the Medical Laboratory Department of the University Health Center.
4. Ongoing proposal to establish a Reference center for cytology screening at the Landmark University Medical Center.
5. The Research group is currently liaising with the Public Health Unit of the Kwara State Ministry of health to obtain an ethical protocol for this laudable research which covers selected schools in Kwara South senatorial zone.
