Values

"The Army's flag with its 168 battle streamers bears testimony to the Army's dedication that the country shall survive and the American people shall be free."

John O. Marsh, Jr.
Secretary of the Army

The greatness of our nation, the courage of our people, and the strength of our Army are inseparable. They inspire those who founded the republic. These beliefs endure today. The U.S. Army, a Total Force Army, is the guardian.

*John O. Marsh, Jr.
Secretary of the Army*

Norman
Rockwell

values

"Norman Rockwell Painting from Archives of Brown and Bigelow Company."

COMMITMENT- “... the soldier above all other people prays for peace, for he must suffer and bear the deepest wounds and scars of war.”

General Douglas MacArthur

COMPETENCE- “... Our number one weapon is still the individual soldier armed with a rifle he knows how to use.”

General Earle G. Wheeler

CANDOR- “... every military leader, from the lowest to the highest, owes it to the men whose lives are at his disposal to speak out clearly when he feels a serious mistake is about to be made.”

General Matthew Ridgway

COURAGE- “If bravery is a quality which knows not fear, I have never seen a brave man. ... The courageous man is the man who forces himself, inspite of his fear, to carry on.”

General George S. Patton, Jr.
