'GRAND ILLUSION' HERE THURSDAY

French film appears Thursday evening

TOMORROW evening at 8:00 "Grand Illusion," a French film with English subtitles, will be shown in the college auditorium. Directed by Jean Renoir and including in its cast such names as Erich von Stroheim, Pierre Fresnay, and Jean Gabin, the picture is one of the most effective cinematic attempts to deal with World War I

Most war pictures, even such great ones as "All Quiet On The Western Front" and "The Big Parade," concentrate on the heroics or turmoil of battle. "Grand Illusion" forgoes the appeal of bombs bursting in air, focusing instead on a group of French soldiers in a German concentration

The camera eye follows Captain de Boeldieu (Fresnay), his mechanic Marechal (Gabin), and Rosenthal (Dalio) through their removal to another prison, a fortress this time, whose commandant, von Rauffenstein (von Stroheim), provides the excuse for a full-length portrait of a cynical member of the aristocratic German military cast.

The presentation of the film is sponsored by the Division of Language and Literature; there will be no admission charge.

SKATING PARTY SLATED FOR O-C WOMEN, MEN

OFF-CAMPUS Women shifted into high gear for winter quarter when they announced a skating party to be held Friday, Jan. 30, at the Roller Rink for all the off-campus men. Further notices of this event will appear in the CRIER and on the bulletin boards, so watch for them!

Other evidences of their acceleration were in the plans that are now being shaped for their banquet to be held February 20; and their mixer to be held January 29 at 4 o'clock.

Plans are under way for a Red Cross knitting group and all girls interested in joining should watch the O. C. B. B. for further notices.

Science Division Offers Nursing Courses

TO MEET the needs of June high school graduates who wish to enter hospitals in September, Dr. Edmund L. Lind announces that the Science Division will offer this summer an intensive chemistry course of 10 credit hours, corresponding to the fall and winter courses in general chemistry combined. History of nursing, bacteriology or some elective could be carried also.

Students who know of girls who would be interestedd in this course should call it to their attention. At the same time, it is emphasized that the four-quarter nursing course will be offered as usual.

Chemistry, physics, mathematics and medical majors continue to be in demand, and special opportunities are open to such students in all branches of the armed forces. The intensive chemistry course mentioned above can be used in science majors by these students, as it will be of standard

Announcement will be made late concerning a special course in electricity and radio which is being developed to meet the demand. It is planned to offer this course and also one in trignometry, thmis summer.

DON GEORGE, PUPPETEER, HERE TUESDAY

CASPER returns to CWC next Tuesday with Don George, former CWC student, presents Casper and . his other puppets in a 10 a. m. assembly in the college auditorium.

Mr. George was on the campus during summer term, 1941, and proved an instantaneous hit.

Magician Lee Grabel Here On Thursday Assembly

LEE GRABEL, famous magician, will appear before the members of the faculty and students of CWC on January 22 at 10 o'clock in the College Auditorium.

Mr. Grabel has been congratulated on his presentation and skill by the wife of the world's greatest magician Mrs. Harry Houdini.

He demonstrates in the evolution of reasoning, impersonates foreign magicians and does many tricks.

His program will include selections from Thimbles, Hindu Turban Mystery, Rope Tricks, Mutilated Parasol. the Floating Light, the Disappearing

A word to the wise: CWC students have a liking for such programs, come early and get a seat.

Red Cross Benefit Dance Sponsored by Seniors

AN AMERICAN Red Cross benefit dance, sponsored by the CWC senior class, will be held Saturday evening, Jan. 31, from 8 to 11 p. m. in the women's gymnasium. Admission to the dance has been set at 15 cents per person, and 25 cents per couple. Proceeds of the dance, beyond expenses, will be turned over to the Red Cross emergency fund.

Committee chairmen appointed last week include Woodrow Wilson, class social commissioner as general chairman; Oral Baker, orchestra; Pat Price, Buster Morris, Windy Hildebrand, decorations; Maryon Cotton, programs and patrons and patronesses; Helen Hill, refreshments; Lorry Plath, publicity; Charlotte White, cleanup.

This is the first all-school activity sponsored by a CWC senior class in recent years.

MORGUE IN PREPARATION FOR JOURNALISTS

A "MORGUE" is now being prepared for th use of CRIER and HY-AKEM staffs. It may appear that CWC publications are indulging in mayhem, but to the informed a "morgue" is only a reference library for journalistic use.

Betty Lou Baker and John Shrader are in charge of morgue work. Plans include a cross-reference file on stories appearing in recent years in the CRIER, copies of CWC handbooks. catalogs, basketball programs and other reference materials on the college, as well as a central art and photo library.

WESLEY CLUB FIRESIDES ON SUNDAY EVE

DR. WILLIAM C. Poole, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Buenos Aires, spoke at the Wesley Club fireside on January 18 at 6 p. m. Dr. Poole chatted informally with his audience, dispensing with any special topic. His discussion of the origin of the educational system in Argen- ish dancer, and her troupe. Comtina was especially interesting to the group.

Dr. E. E. Samuelson, a member of the Wesley Foundation board, will be the speaker at the fireside on Jan. 25. Cross benefit.

GRABEL, MAGICIAN, will present the little curio, and others at the College assembly tomorrow morning.

PHOEBIAN NURSING CLUB ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

PHOEBIANS, the first club of its kind on the CWC campus, was organized last quarter under the capable guidance of Mrs. Helen Okpisz and Miss Betty McCormick, school nurses. This club is made up of women on the campus who are interested in the nursing profession and is named in honor of Phoebe, the world's first visiting nurse.

Heading the organization this quarter is President Bette Barry, with Lavinia Brallier as secretary. Charter members are: Bette Barry, Lois Bise, Lavinia Brallier, Rica Columbo, Shirley Hand, Shirley Heath, Keturah Jenkins, Lee Johnson, June Laws, Lura Mitchell, Helen Rodman, Ruth Sparks, and Marjorie Upton.

Any girls who are interested are invited to attend meetings which are held the second Monday of each month at the infirmary.

Winter Term AWS Mixers Start This Thursday

by Mary Bowman

Well, girls, it's time once more to have fun at an AWS mixer.

On Thursday, Jan. 22, at 4 o'clock p. m. the Associated Women Students are holding the first women's mixer of the quarter in the old gym. All women on the campus are invited and urged to attend. Especially welcome will be the new girls attending CWC for the first time. If you aren't acquainted yet with many of the girls, now is your chance. If you do know most everyone, come and help the shy ones out. A novel program is in store

Evangeline Norris is general chair man for the event and is in charge of the following committees:

Food committee: Loretta Eckhart, chairman, Thea Shearer, Mary Gilmore, Mary Louise Hunter.

Publicity: Peggy Charlton, chair-Program: Ruby Roloff, Barbara

Williams, Colleen Chambers.

Remember: 4 p. m., January 22, in the Old Gym, and don't forget the refreshments.

Pormitory Regulations Meet Discussions

by Margaret Stewart

MANY college students residing in the dormitories have quite evidently opposed the new restrictions which have been passed recently, as an economy measure. It seems a hardship to some to be forced to turn off the lights and retire at 11:45 on school nights. The conscientiouslyminded students, although they appreciate their sleep, find it difficult to get their work done in the allotted time. It seems, at times, almost impossible for the student who works several hours each day to complete his work by 11:45. The sentiment is that under the circumstances the faculty should be somewhat more understanding and sympathetic. The faculty returns the answer, "Budget your time!"

The students, however, do appreciate on the whole, the 12:30 hour on Friday and Saturday nights. They are glad they do not have to sacrifice their social life. It is also a help to have social functions scheduled earlier in the evening.

The calling hours have remained the same-4:00-7:00, and 9:15 to 10.

STUDENT GROUPS APPROVE RULES

Democratic process works on CWC campus

THE ATTENTION of the students of CWC was focused this week on their personal responsibility in a democratic society. AS Prexy Roy Patrick Wahle called campus leaders together last week to meet with college faculty in an attempt to determine the part which students were to play in the local and national defense effort.

After consultation with their respective student groups the student leaders decided upon the program to be followed. The program is selfimposed by the students, but the students may ask college officials to assist in carrying it out.

The deliberations culminating in the publication of the new rules and agreements regarding living regulations serve to answer numerous objections among students that unnecessary and unenforceable "administration-dictated" rules have been the prevalent practice at our college.

The Associated Student Council accepted the report of the special committee at the Monday night meeting. The report has been published on all the AS bulletin boards.

JOB PLACEMENTS BRIGHT FOR 1942 GRADS

"PREPARE for early placement," said Dr. E. E. Samuelson, Director of Placement, at a special meeting last Thursday of CWC juniors and seniors interested in teaching.

He offered these words of advice to the interested attendants:

- 1. Get your records on file and up to date.
- 2. Make up your mind as to what type of position you want.
- 3. Men won't be discriminated against in placements this year.
- 4. There is a possibility of some placements in March.

He said that in many cases it would be advisable for men students to first earn their BAs in Education before teaching because of the uncertainty of the Army draft call.

"I would advise all men to teach for a while if possible before entering the Army. You will thus have a leverage on a return to the teaching profession."

Placement prospects are good, Samuelson stated. CWCs Placement Bureau placed 300 teachers last year. 161 of 163 graduates of last year now have positions.

SME HEARS STEINHARDT AT MONTHLY MEET

TUESDAY evening, Jan. 13, Sigma Mu Epsilon held its monthly meeting in A&S 100. The business session was followed by a program by Professor Milton Steinhardt.

In the course of business was the reading discussion and acceptance of amendments to the constitution and the acceptance of them by the members. Wilma Oliver was elected historian-reporter upon the resignation of Loren Troxel.

Mr. Steinhardt presented a most interesting program consisting of a review of the development of the concerto and its form. He illustrated the latter by playing some movements from a violin concerto by Torelli accompanied at the piano by Miss Juanita Davies.

... Open season on basketball ... Alumni luncheon

by Jackie Laws

You don't need to believe in oracles -we frown upon the custom but if you want to know anything about WAA events past, present, or future consult the new bulletin board in the gym hallway outside the lounge. The schedule for all turnouts will be posted there and by checking with the schedule there is no reason why everyone cannot arrange to be out for the minimum hours required for membership. If you become one of the old familiar faces at turnouts you can probably play both basketball and badminton because after you have attended enough turnouts to qualify in one sport you can take up the other for the remainder of the practices. Five practices and a tournament in either sport are necessary. You cannot mix your sports and get credit.

An open WAA council meeting was held Thursday and plans for the quarter discussed.

Daisy Mae may have been chasing Lil' Abner Saturday night but Saturday morning she was chasing a basketball at WAA's winter quartetr grand opening.

Miss Kane, the club's newest honorary member, was present in the capacity of the club adviser, 'Miss Puckett, who could not be present.

Basketball drills and rules were emphasized in keeping with the club's new policy of raising the standard of the games.

Badminton is sharing honors with basketball on the winter sports schedule and still drawing the faithful among whom were: Harriet Hogue, Lee Johnson, Betty Cady, Mary White, Mary Jane Gilkey, Mary Louise Harshner, and Lila Mae Williams.

Plans are being completed for a P. F. Majors and Minors Club luncheon at the N. Y. Cafe Saturday, Jan. 24. Last year's alumni, who are now teaching in the field, have been invited as guest speakers.

A NONY MOUSE

Vic Foresythe is pretty smart. When he left to become one of Uncle Sam's nephews, the council bestowed upon him a gift. With foresight in his eye Vic used said gift before he found he was to return to school. That's o.k. Vic, for we're mighty glad to have you back.

We are wondering if Hal Chambers is doomed to wear long underwear til spring, or did those buttons really do the work?

Lloyd Samuelson seems to have a different philosophy about women. The latest rumors chart three girls in one day. What a man!

Six Sue girls decided to help the USO and invited some of our visiting soldiers to the Barn Dance. We think that was very helpful of them even if some of the male population is resentful of the fact. But remember the ratio!

We have a lot to be proud of in the swell way our profs entered into the Barn Dance. Miss Kane gave a good deal of her voice to help along the square dances. Thanks, to all of you.

Do you suppose many people felt the way Phyllis Downey looked after the Barn Dance?

Cigars seemed in order at the Barn came hangovers to certain people not Dance and we understand some beused to such indulgence.

Anyone celebrating their 21st birthday and who is in need of a plan of entertainment contact Jimmy Spaulding. He seems to know all the ins and outs of such. At least he knows how to celebrate.

Dear Problems of Men:

SHOULD I join the Army now, or wait until the next barn dance? Mother doesn't want me to, Dad says it is my duty, AND my girl friend didn't ask me to attend the dance with her.

Now, does she love me no more, or has she found someone else? Realizing of course that the ratio being what it is (to quote from one of your former letters) every boy on the CWC campus could have a date to the dance -why didn't I get one?

Yours in all sincerity, Handsome Jack.

Dear Handsome Jack:

Here is a good going over the coals from me to YOU. It is all your fault that you didn't get asked to the barn dance. Surely you read the proclamation in last week's CAMPUS CRIER, and even if you didn't, the notice was posted in the Library. All you had to do was stand, sit, or lie in front of the Ad Building until -- which in my case took about 5 minutes.

WILDCATS PRIMED FOR SAVAGES

WISEMAN HAS HIGH AVERAGE

By S. T. MATAYA

Those ol' Cheney Savages are two up on the Wildcats after the thumping they administered to CWC's hoopsters last week, but I'll bet my sock (small size) that they will not be four up—or even three up—after this weekend's return games over here. The Savages looked pretty good on their own floor, and so did the Wildcats when they trimmed St. Martin's twice on the CWC floor. This all adds up to one thing: fans can look forward to seeing some first class basketball Friday and Saturday when these two teams resume their feud.

Last Saturday night's game must have been a lulu. Around 51 fouls were called (there were a few others, of course); about 100 points were tallied; eight men were sent to the showers for personals, and for amusement, a few blows were thrown in. All in all, there must not have been a dull moment during the entire game.

The Savages are hot, but they are going to be stopped this week and not by the tire rationing program, either. The Wildcats will be out to get them this week because: (1) they are fighting mad from those two lickings of last week; (2) they want the pleasure of deflating the Savages, and (3) they want to prove to the hoop fans that they have a good ball club and that the two wins over the St. Martin's club were the beginning of what is going to happen in the future.

NOTHIN' IN PARTICULAR

Three Cheney boys fouled out in a vain attempt to stop Russ Wiseman in Saturday night's battle . . . They should have realized their error and devoted their time and energy to a better cause, but it could have been possible that they were satisfied with their efforts. . . . By the way, Russ only has a 17 point average to date. . . . Mike Kuchera probably thought he was playing against the Pacific Lutheran gridsters when he got smacked above the eye in Friday's tilt. . . . Pouring in points for Cheney was none other than the sensational prep hoopster who was the outstanding player of the past two state tourneys, Irwin Leifer of St. John and Pine City high schools. . . . Clipper Carmody's exit in the second Cheney affair was as pronto as he can probably recall in his five or so years of hoop participation. . . . Cheney's Stoelt, Perrault, Nicolai, and Hipskind pack as much punch as you will find in the Winco League. . . . CWC's threesome of Wiseman, Lewis, and Carmody will have the same sort of welcoming waiting for the Cheney bunch as the Savages had for the Wildcats, and Jack Hubbard and Jim Adamson's passing wizardy will be directing the attack.

EXTRA SPECIAL

Following are very brief thumbnail sketches of the Wildcat hoopsters: Captain Jack Hubbard, sophomore from Everett, was a member of last year's squad; is a hustler and his passing accounts for plenty of counters. Clipper Carmody, sophomore, Ellensburg product, was a regular last year; his long shots started to connect late last season and so far it seems they are going right on connecting; is another great hustler. Ernie Lewis, sophomore, center, is a transfer from the U.W. Besides being a good backboard man, he holds up his end of the scoring. Jim Adamson, freshman from Chehalis, is a good "feeder"; although a very smooth ball player, he is found in the middle of every mixup; his basketball knowledge makes up for his low scoring. Russ Wiseman, freshman from Concrete, Wash.; packs plenty of size and weight which makes him a tower of strength under the backboards; his left-handed pivot shots are hard to check, and so far no one has even come close to doing it. He is labeled to be the sensation of the league. Mike Kuchera, sophomore, a transfer from U. of W. and a former Cle Elum Hi star, gives Coach Nicholson another valuable man for use under the backboard. Also packs scoring punch. Jake Morrow, sophomore, former Yakima Junior College and Yakima High ace, is cool-headed and a good ball handler and long shot.

Too bad Adolf had to go and make such a mess of the war situation, because this gang of boys could make one sweet ball club in a year or two.

STARTING OFF with a bang the Faculty and W Club opened their intermural schedules with convincing victories over the IK's and the Off-Campus Locals.

The Faculty, led by Gorter who tallied 23 points, smothered the IK's under a 50-29 score, having the game well in hand all the way. The Locals gave the W Club five a real battle before bowing 28-22. "Windy" Hildebrand led the winners with 12 points.

The Off-Campus Foreigners and the Munson five were idle, but will see action this Wednesday night when they tangle in their initial test. The other contest will see the firehouse Faculty quintet attempt to continue their winning ways against the Off-Campus Locals.

CWC Prepares For Savage Fight In Local Weekend Tilts

EWC defeats Wildcats in wild Cheney series. Friday and Saturday promise fast action.

by Don Engbretson

CWC will play host to EWC in a returning Winco series this coming weekend, January 23 and 24. The Savages will return two up on the Central quintet and with the admiration of the Wildcats. The Savages have proven their ability, but Coach Leo Nicholson promises them a tough tussle, strategically fought all the way.

The CWC Wildcats lost to Cheney, 49 to 39, and 36 to 57 in the Winco series last weekend. The Central quintet was competing against heavy odds, but showed they have possibilities.

During the second half of the first game, the Cats gave Cheney a scare when the Central five began to roll. This roll ceased, however, when Mike Kuchera received a bad cut over his left eye in a melee under the basket and was forced out. Kuchera received four lovely stitches to close the cut, but saw action the following night.

Saturday night's game developed into a free-fouling affair of 51 personals and nine banishments. OWC lost four needed men on fouls, which hampered greatly the team's success.

Russ Wiseman was high point man scoring 17 points Friday and 15 points Saturday.

If you want a real thrill this week'cnd don't miss the jumping meet at liyak where it will be Torger Tokle against the field. The little man with the invisible propeller will be out to beat his national distance mark of 288 feet set last year on the same hill and may do it with favorable snow conditions.

Jerry Mundy and a few of the other lads and lassies who swing a mean schottische in the local heavy-broganed fraternity felt right at home at the Barn Dance Saturday night.

a contingent of soldiers

IS NOW LOCATED at Ellensburg. Naturally they will enter the college social sphere. College authorities have decided that they may partake in student socials on the same basis as other local non-CWC men: upon receipt of a Social Privilege card secured through the Dean of Men. We are glad to see this courtesy extended and feel that they may help to fill a noticeable break in the ranks of CWC men.

during this weather

IT MAY SEEM out of place to discuss the all-school picnic of spring quarter. However, the question of the locale of the outing has been raised and so should be settled, regardless of present temperatures. In the past the picnic has been held at Eschbach Park in Yakima County. Costs have been high because of transportation and admission charges. The Swauk Recreational Area, 20 miles northwest of Ellensburg, offers most of the features of Eschbach Park at a greatly reduced cost. In view of reduced student finances should we go to the Swauk this year?

stanford has a word

FOR IT. They call it the "honor system." Apropo our recent blast referring to student activities while in pursuit of grades we offer this suggestion as a remedy, not only for this but for other problems of student conduct. Stanford University has a student-conducted honor system which cares for all student discipline cases—in a manner satisfactory to all. Would someone care to study it with a view to adoption here?

the senior class

COMES FORWARD with a suggestion for a class day as part of June Week activities. As part of such activity, even as practiced in other schools, it would be possible to give suitable recognition to CWC award winners. A Class Day would add much to our college tradition. We extend the editorial blessings to the idea and hope that it bear fruit.

INTERVARSITY FELLOWSHIP ELECTS CLUB OFFICERS

The officers which were elected at the last business meeting of the CWC LaterVarsity Christian Fellowship were: President, Margaret Stewart; vice-president, Leona Heald; secretary-treasurer, Arlene Cooper; social commissioner, Dorothy Ortman, and publicity chairman, Clifton Alford.

A singspiration will be held Thursday night, Jan. 22, at 7:00 at the home of Betty Thomas, 716 E. 8th. Rev. Green will lead the discussion group. As InterVarsity is an intetrdenominational group, all students are cordially invited to attend.

ASSEMBLY TALK

Dear Editor:

Last quarter I was given to understand that the students desired to have Professor O. H. Holmes of the social science division appear on the assembly schedule as a speaker and interpretor of a current topic. The winter quarter assembly schedule is out and Mr. Holmes is not on it. Could you explain why?

TO YE ED

Dear Editor:

Please accept my sympathies for the recent Letters To The Editor you have been forced by prejudicial public opinion to publish.

Most of them are only the uninformed rantings of verbose adolescents who are possessed momentarily by an idea of doubtful merit. These so called ideas are doubly harmful: they create a bad impression on outsiders, and they usually hurt the people they are aimed at. They should realize that your shoulders are not broad enough to bear everyone's grief in addition to whatever they usually

And then, too, I think our school is run as nicely as any other, and I'm one of those simple people who will fight for it.

Council Notes

Admission Cards

Attention of students is called to the CWC Associated Student constitution which states that AS cards must be presented at all student events for admission.

Student Assembly

A general student assembly in the near future will discuss these problems: rental fees for student post office boxes, revision of the Associated Student constitution, student finances, and other items of student government problems.

Council Vacancies

Loren Troxel was named sergeantat-arms to fill one of three council vacancies resulting from student members not returning to school. Junior and sophomore classes will be asked to meet and suggest students to fill these offices. When these recommendations are received the council will pass upon the names and fill the vacancies,

Council Projects

Among possible improvements under consideration as a possible project is establishment of kitchen facilities for the use of club meetings. Further suggestions are solicited.

Assembly Attendance

A questionnaire will shortly be sent to all students to determine possible changes in the assembly program to better suit needs of the college.

Next Meet

The next council meet, to which, as usual, all students are invited, is Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p. m. in the Student Lounge.

Forsythe

Vic Forsythe, former social comsioner, unexpectedly returning to school, was named co-social commissioner to aid Jim Bow, present social chairman in conduct of college socials.

PRESBYTERIANS OFFER SCAVENGER HUNT-TRAVEL

The College Presbyterian Christian Endeavor extends an invitation to all Presbyterian students to attend a scavenger hunt and traveling party to be held Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 7:00. Watch the bulletin boards for further announcements.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS MEET; RECRUITING UNDERWAY

The regular meeting of the Lutheran Students' Association was held in the Ad Building Monday night.

Eileen Hilpert was elected vicepresident to succeed Ruth Ellingsberg, who has taken over the duties of president in the absence of Ray Schonewill. Erma Riess was appointed social commissioner.

Plans were discussed for study books and the social calendar for the winter quarter was planned.

L. S. A. is accepting new members at this time and all those interested should sign on the paper which will appear on the bulletin board outside the business office this week.

Education Conference Meets at CWC

A CONFERENCE for Central Washington teachers featuring five nationally-known educators will be held at Central Washington College at Ellensburg, February 13 and 14, according to Ernest L. Muzzall, director of public service at the college. This is one of the five regional conferences of the National Progressive Education Association to be held this year in the Northwest.

Conference Theme

The theme of the conferences will be "The Task of Education in Time of War" and will feature Dr. Reinhold Schairer, director of research for the United States commission on educational reconstruction, and Dr. Ralph W. Tyler, dean of the department of education of the University of Chicago. Dr. Schairer is the former head of the German youth movement and has received nation-wide attention since he began working with this government. He escaped from Germany when Hitler came into power. Dr. Tyler has achieved national recognition for his work in developing procedures for the evaluation of school work.

Other nationally known educators who will participate in the conference are Dr. Hilda Taba, University of Chicago; Dr. Roma Gans, Columbia University; and Dr. Howard Lane, Northwestern University.

A conference fee of one dollar will be charged to all participants. Students will be given a special rate to the Friday evening and Saturday session.

The holding of the conference on this campus marks an opportunity to hear nationally famous educators and to participate in the discussions. The planning committee charged with making arrangements is Miss Amanda Hebeler, Dr. E. E. Samuelson, D. H. Thompson, and Ernest L. Muzzall.
