Cardiff University – change context:

- Research intensive, highly distributed institution
- Localised, uneven development of digital education
- Disruption of status quo:
  - pandemic
  - new leadership
  - strategy revision
  - new approach - Digital Education Programme

Multi perspective reflection:

---

Learning Technologist perspective:

Change management challenge:

Restructure digital education provision

- Initial Covid response
- Restructure
- Challenges
- Change management process

Academic perspective:

- Digital Education Framework
  - Provided programme and module teams with guidance about design and delivery of courses in 2020/21
  - Ensure students experienced a core consistency to their education during this unique year.
- Shift to Blended learning and the return of students to campus
  - Blended Learning Framework – reworked the Digital Education Framework to the new 2021/22 context
  - Retaining the best practices and student experiences from the recent online experience, blend with the advantages of face to face
- What worked / didn't work?

Bended Learning Framework

5 Key Principles

- Keep it simple
- Concentrate on what works in a blended context
- Provide clarity and structure
- Focus on quality
- Accessibility

Leadership perspective:

- Transition from emergency response to strategic focus and sustainable transformation
- Digital Education Roadmap:
  - review of digital learning ecosystem
  - development of online portfolio
  - CPD for staff involved in learning and teaching
- Maintaining collaborative approach:
  - Repositioning of Centre for Education, Support and Innovation as Learning and Teaching Academy
  - OU Online Teaching microcredential

Key questions going forward:

- How do we sustain change through new academic year?
- How do we (can we?) continue the change process at the same pace and scale?
- How do we ensure governance structures and processes support the change and not constrain it?
- How do we ensure research and learning and teaching genuinely work to support each other?
- How do we convince all students of the benefits of blended learning?
