Academic Costume

Academic costume worn at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical costumes, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, as their regular attire.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect the tonsured head. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders from European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early sixteenth century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Graduates of Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown comes from the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors, and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have colored gowns.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

University Medallion

Serving as a perpetual symbol of Virginia Commonwealth University, the University Medallion is worn by the President at ceremonial occasions. The Egyptian Building, a historic and architectural landmark on the Medical College of Virginia Campus and the oldest medical education building in the South, is the centerpiece of the medallion. Egyptian hieroglyphics and images surrounding the building stand for medicine, the arts, the home, the community, writing and wisdom, measures and numbers, time, knowledge, and the sciences. These images represent VCU's mission of teaching, research, public service, and patient care.

HONORS AND AWARDS

University Honors and Awards

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

Virginia Commonwealth University is committed to excellence in teaching, research, public service, and patient care. To realize and recognize academic excellence is VCU's highest priority. The University Honors Program was established to help fulfill this objective by meeting the needs of academically talented undergraduate students.

STUDENTS GRADUATING WITH THE AWARD OF UNIVERSITY HONORS

VCU bestows the accolade of "graduation with University Honors" on graduating seniors who have attained distinction through impressive achievement in course work as well as other formal and informal educational experiences. To merit this distinction, students must complete a rigorous prescribed honors curriculum, excel in their academic work, and submit an academic dossier that reflects their commitment to learning in the best university tradition. Their petition to graduate with University Honors must be approved by the faculty serving on the University Honors Council. The University Honors Medallions worn at Commencement recognize students earning this award; this distinction is also noted on the students' official transcripts and on their diplomas.

THE HONOR SOCIETY OF
PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society founded in 1897. The Virginia Commonwealth University Chapter was established in 1976. The primary objectives of this society are to promote the pursuit of excellence in all fields of higher education and to recognize outstanding achievement by students, faculty and others through election to membership and various awards for distinguished achievement.

Phi Kappa Phi typifies the honor society ideal, characteristic of American higher education, as it exists for the dual purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who attain high scholastic achievements, and encouraging those students who are capable of doing so.

Phi Kappa Phi is unique because it recognizes scholarship in all academic disciplines, and does not restrict its membership to a specific field. Its interest and eligibility are extended across all subjects offered at the modern university and, by so doing, highlights the importance of appreciating and understanding more than a single limited specialty.

Virginia Commonwealth University is supported by Virginia to serve the Richmond area, the state, and the nation through teaching, research, service, and patient care.

VCU supports comprehensive undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs as well as one of the largest academic health centers in the nation. With nearly $122 million a year in sponsored research funding, VCU is a Carnegie Doctoral/Research University-Extensive, one of only three institutions in Virginia to be ranked in the top category for higher education in the United States.

More than 24,000 students pursue 153 degree and post-graduate certificate programs through the University's ten schools and one college. VCU has a full-time faculty of more than 1,600 who are nationally and internationally recognized for excellence in the humanities, the life sciences, engineering, education, social work, business, and all the health-care professions.

With an annual budget of more than $1 billion and with more than 14,500 employees, VCU also is a significant economic enterprise in the Richmond area. Moreover, two thirds of its more than 108,000 alumni live and work in Virginia.

VCU has been engaged in a long-range strategic planning effort throughout the 1990s, which has resulted in such initiatives as a visionary master-site plan, the Virginia Biotechnology Research Park, the School of Engineering, the Carver-VCU Partnership for neighborhood development, and, most recently, VCU Life Sciences, a comprehensive undergraduate and graduate program incorporating all aspects of the University's academic and clinical missions.

VCU's long-range planning also has sought to protect the future of the clinical health-care mission, including providing top quality patient care, indigent-care services, and support for the teaching and research mission. The result is in the VCU Health System, which was established on July 1, 2000, and encompasses all the clinical activities of the Medical College of Virginia Hospitals, MCV Physicians, and VCU's School of Medicine.

VCU and the VCU Health System have enjoyed a decade of national recognition for its top-quality graduate, professional programs and its medical-care programs by U.S. News & World Report; local, regional, and national guides to the best hospitals and best doctors; and professional societies and journals.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL!
