Improving Sector and Thematic Reporting

By Olivier Serrat

Communities of practice have become an accepted part of organizational development. Learning organizations build and leverage them with effect. To reach their potential, much as other bodies, they stand to gain from healthy reporting. Quality of information and its proper presentation enable stakeholders to make sound and reasonable assessments of performance, and take appropriate action.

Background

On 31 July 2009, Haruhiko Kuroda—ADB President and concurrent Chair of ADB's Board of Directors—approved Enhancing Knowledge Management Under ADB's Strategy 2020,[1] a plan of action to advance the knowledge management agenda under Strategy 2020: The Long-Term Strategic Framework of the Asian Development Bank (2008–2020).[2]

Four pillars support the plan: (i) sharpening the knowledge focus in ADB's operations, (ii) empowering the communities of practice (CoPs) hosted by ADB, (iii) strengthening external knowledge partnerships, and (iv) further enhancing staff learning and skills development. The four pillars are closely related: the set of actions/outputs that make up the first focuses on adding value to ADB's operations in its developing member countries; the other three sets deal with how that might be achieved.

These Knowledge Solutions showcase the revised guidelines for sector and thematic reporting that ADB then approved on 6 October 2009 to empower the CoPs it hosts. ADB, as a learning organization, must build CoPs and leverage them effectively to improve the quality of its operations, eventually in the interest of its developing member countries. A coherent set of directional documents is a prerequisite to this, and the new guidelines constitute a practical, incremental, and forward-looking move in that direction.

Seeking, Giving, and Using Feedback

Feedback is a circular causal process whereby some portion of a system's output is returned to the input to control dynamic behavior. In ADB, good feedback from CoPs is essential to realize their potential as collaboration mechanisms.

The revised guidelines for sector and thematic reporting by ADB's CoPs forged a new direction. The rationale was to (i) introduce principles of good reporting based on accuracy, transparency, and economy of knowledge sharing; (ii) provide guidance on key elements of reporting for organizational performance, including the use of knowledge management metrics; (iii) present, to support coordination, a composite picture of the progress of work on sector and thematic priorities to inform management systems in ADB, including the annual Development Effectiveness Reviews[3] and Work Program and Budget Framework papers, as well as the Annual Administrative and Capital Budget exercises; and (iv) assess the performance of CoPs, without duplicating data reports generated by the operations departments. The guidelines are flexible to the varying needs of each sector and theme.

Box: Guidelines for Sector and Thematic Reporting

Introduction

Sector and thematic reporting is part of a comprehensive monitoring system at regional, country, program, project, sector, thematic, and institutional levels. Over the years, from 2005, the CoPs hosted by ADB have developed to support the sectoral and thematic effectiveness of ADB's operations.[4]

Exhibit: Archetypal Functions of Communities of Practice

Filtering. Organizing and managing information that is worth paying attention to.

Amplifying. Taking new, little-known, or little-understood ideas, giving them weight, and making them more widely understood.

Investing and Providing. Offering a means to give members the resources they need to carry out their main activities.

Convening. Bringing together different, distinct people or groups of people.

Community Building. Promoting and sustaining the values and standards of individuals or organizations.

Learning and Facilitating. Helping members carry out their activities more efficiently and effectively.

Enhancing Knowledge Management under Strategy: Proposed Plan of Action (2009–2011),[5] approved on 31 July 2009, emphasizes the need to empower CoPs explaining that ADB, as a learning organization, must build CoPs and leverage them effectively to improve the quality of its operations. Good reporting by CoPs is essential to make the most of their potential as collaboration mechanisms and thereby maximize ADB's development impact, ultimately to the benefit of its clients, partners, and audiences. First, CoPs should be able to clearly present what in their views are key issues that ADB should focus on in terms of strategic studies and new business initiatives. Second, they should be able to distill and synthesize for wider institutional learning what ADB has learned from its sector and thematic operations. Third, flowing from the above, they should be able to demonstrate how ADB's sector and thematic operations have contributed to achieving development effectiveness. In this sense, reporting by CoPs should be seen as integral to overall reporting on that.

To better accomplish their functions under Strategy 2020: The Long-Term Strategic Framework of the Asian Development Bank (2008–2020),[6] the guidelines on sector and thematic level reporting are hereby revised to ensure focus on crucial areas and coverage of assessments and results in high-quality, reader-friendly reports that will inform the annual Development Effectiveness Reviews[7] and Work Program and Budget Framework papers. The following suggests what sector and thematic level reporting is included, yet acknowledges that it should be adapted to the particular needs of each sector and theme. In the guidelines, CoPs are taken to mean the larger communities of interest and practice of which formal sector and thematic committees are a functional subset.

Strategic Focus of Reports

Sector and thematic reports would track the progress of broader results in terms of outputs and outcomes, and present succinct "value" and "impact" stories that illustrate challenges and accomplishments in the domain of each CoP.[8] Departmental results, aspects of ADB's corporate results framework, and Millennium Development Goals (MDG) results aligning with a particular sector and theme would be considered. Management and staff would use the reports as key internal monitoring and evaluation documents that guide the activities of CoPs to strengthen sector and thematic performance in ADB's operations. They might also be disseminated externally in a form that appeals to the public.

Focal Points for Reports

In consultation with the respective CoP, the lead/principal specialist assigned by the Budget, Personnel, and Management Systems Department (BPMSD) would be responsible for coordinating and preparing triennial (Section I) sector and thematic reports and participating in monitoring and evaluating progress (Section II). A community convenor, chosen by CoP members (and who may not necessarily be the lead/principal specialist assigned by BPMSD), would be responsible, working collaboratively with CoP members and the lead/principal sector specialist, for preparing annual reports focusing on the CoP (Section II).[9]

List of Sectors and Themes

The sectors and themes to be monitored and reported on would follow the list in the updated classification system (Annex I). Each sector report would include thematic mainstreaming as an important aspect. Likewise, thematic reports would indicate the progress of sector-wise mainstreaming as appropriate.

Period and Periodicity

Full reports would be written every 3 years, with an annual update on the progress, activities, and plans of corresponding CoPs prepared collaboratively by the CoPs. Annex I lists the years of the next reports. Annual reports would be due by the end of the third quarter of each year to feed into the Annual Administrative and Capital Budget exercises. Triennial reports would be due at the end of the first quarter to feed the annual Development Effectiveness Reviews and Work Program and Budget Framework papers. They might also inform ADB's annual meeting.

Sector and Thematic Reports

[8] See www.adb.org/mfdr/default.asp. To note, ADB's Managing for Development Results framework requires regional departments to consolidate sector and thematic reporting of outputs and outcomes. However, the executive and operations dashboards allow management and staff access to basic data on performance of sectors/themes by division, country, department, and ADB-wide. Hence, it is no longer necessary to include such data in sector and thematic reports. Notwithstanding, during the preparation process, these sources should be consulted and analyzed to inform content.

[9] Where no CoP exists or functions, the lead/principal specialist prepares both sections. However, Section II would likely be truncated.

Content

Though not prepared together each year, the two sections are mutually supportive. Section I contains priority strategic directions and broad results evaluation, while Section II looks at good practice and lessons more specifically. Planning and budgeting in Section II will be able to draw from analysis and conclusions of Section I.

Section I: Performance of Sector and Theme in ADB's Operations (every 3 years) would be limited to 30 pages of main text. Each report would have a core narrative, as suggested by Section I focusing on strategic directions and results evaluation. It might be usefully informed by discussions at retreats and regular peer gatherings. Apart from this, there could be a focus on special areas of interest that arose during the period reported against, placed in an appendix. Another appendix could contain brief "value" and "impact" stories illustrating the findings of the report with direct experience. Annex II provides a recommended tool, namely, a scorecard to summarize the performance of a sector and theme in ADB's operations.

Section II: Assessing the Performance of CoPs (annual update) would be limited to 15 pages of main text and aim, principally, to demonstrate the contributions of CoPs with good practices and lessons. This section would include a plan of activities with estimated budget figures. It might be usefully informed by annual surveys of the perceptions of CoP members, themselves informed by or building on the results of the 2009 Survey of the CoPs Hosted by ADB,[10] and those of the annual Most Admired Knowledge Enterprise survey that ADB conducts. Annex III provides a recommended tool, namely, a sample scorecard with which to summarize CoP performance. The CoPs must meaningfully adapt the format of Section II and the scorecard tools to ensure the report is useful to both the CoPs and to Management.

Methods

The reporting process would generally begin by consulting CoP members on the task at hand and seeking performance information about both the sector and theme and the CoP. Rather than limiting the information to descriptive data, eliciting "value" and "impact" stories from CoP members and other interested parties would give Management and staff a better picture of work in the sector and theme. Reviewing key documents and identifying trends across the sector or theme can be useful. Trends and patterns in the quantitative data on sectors and themes from ADB's information management system can be interpreted at different levels of operation. Informal interviews could be conducted with CoP members and with Management. However, the most beneficial approach would be to gather CoP participants together for a planning/evaluation session to interpret findings and discuss lessons around key issues in the sector and theme and what activities the CoP can undertake to support change. This group might also choose a unifying focus for the report as it emerges from deliberation. Many tools and metrics support these processes including Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats (SWOT), outcome mapping, appreciative inquiry, search conferences, and the like (see scorecards in Annex II and Annex III).[11]

Report Recommendations

Reports will often include recommendations to point to a direction in which positive changes can be made. When a recommendation is made, it should be (i) fully supported by and flow from the associated observations and conclusions, (ii) aimed at correcting the underlying causes of the deficiency, and (iii) directed specifically at the entity or entities with the responsibility to act on it. A recommendation should be clearly stated. It should be (i) succinct, straightforward, and contain enough detail to make sense on its own; (ii) broadly stated (stating what needs to be done while leaving the specifics of how to do it to entity officials); and (iii) positive in tone and content. Crucially, a recommendation should also be action-oriented. It should be (i) practical (able to be implemented in a reasonable time frame, taking into account constraints);

[11]   The Knowledge Solutions series offers guidance on many related tools, methods, and approaches. Available: www.adb.org/documents/ information/knowledge-solutions/default.asp. For guidance on CoPs, for example, see ADB. 2008. Building Communities of Practice. Available: www.adb.org/documents/information/knowledge-solutions/building-communities-practice.pdf

(ii) cost-effective (the benefits of implementing it will outweigh the costs); (iii) efficient (optimizing the use of resources); (iv) results-oriented (giving some indication of what the intended outcome is, ideally in measurable terms); and (v) able to be followed up (the originating entity will be able to determine whether it has been acted upon).
Management Forum and Responses

Feedback is a circular causal process whereby some portion of a system's output is returned to the input to control dynamic behavior. Good feedback by the CoPs hosted by ADB is essential to make the most of their potential as collaboration mechanisms and thereby maximize ADB's development impact, ultimately to the benefit of its clients, partners, and audiences. Management responses to reports are likewise necessary. Upon release of triennial reports the lead/principal specialist should schedule an informal session with Management to discuss the report's findings and recommendations. Members of the relevant CoP should be invited to participate. Such interaction can help clarify understanding and motivate CoP members to move forward with action. Similarly, the annual reports (Section II) should be discussed with relevant managers in a constructive CoP-led open forum upon release. All reports would be coursed to the Vice Presidency for Knowledge Management and Sustainable Development (VP-KM&SD) through the Director General, Regional and Sustainable Development Department (DG, RSDD) or, as the case may be, through Head, Office of Regional Economic Integration. (New CoPs, hosted by other offices and departments, would course their reports to VP-KM&SD through relevant heads.) Management would meet the initiating CoP and/or relevant offices and departments, consider the highlights of reports, and provide guidance on recommendations. Beyond Management, the reports should be made available to all staff on the intranet and announced in ADB Today. The reports may lead to additional discussions, brown-bag seminars, or other interactive means to explore issues raised.

Resource Implications

Resource requirements of up to two-and-a-half (2.5) person-months of professional staff and two-and-a-half (2.5) person-months of consulting services would be required to prepare a full report for each sector and theme, as the guidelines propose, every 3 years. Annual updates could be completed with 2 weeks of consulting services through a facilitated retreat for CoP members, with the results consolidated in a report. Based on these estimates and the current number of sectors and themes, the total revised resource needs for implementing this reporting program is about 22 person-months of professional staff[12] and 22 months of consulting services per year.

Others

Annex IV articulates ways to empower the CoPs hosted by ADB for better knowledge generation and sharing.

[12] This level of staff effort may not be uniform. A large CoP, such as the Water Group, may involve many more professional staff hours in participatory consultation than a smaller, less active CoP. This is not a problem if we assume the investment to deliver a commensurately higher benefit in return in terms of ownership and participation in the sector or theme.

Quality and Timeliness of Knowledge Products and Services	• Aggregated knowledge is tailored and timed to needs, and are clearly presented, technically sound, and state-of-the-art. • CoP has realistic timetable for delivery.	• Demand for knowledge products and services • Staff, CoP member, client, and expert reviews and surveys • ADB/CoP content management processes • Staff view knowledge products and services as responsive and future-oriented	G A R G A R
Access to Practical Knowledge and Reach in ADB	• CoP members demonstrate trust, respect, mutual support. • CoP is widely inclusive across departments and seniority. • CoP members have ready access to up-to-date knowledge to do their jobs.	• Dissemination tracking, usability testing, usage monitoring of published and online knowledge, and information and knowledge services • Staff, CoP member, client, and expert participation in knowledge sharing events and feedback • CoP application of appropriate technology to support activities and communicate	G A R G A R G A R
Utility	• Shared knowledge are adopted and applied in policies, strategies, partnerships, programs, and projects. • Lessons learned and good practices are captured and shared to ADB and clients. • CoP knowledge products and services are part of staff work plans and performance reviews, and supported by management.	• Knowledge management strategy articulated in sector and thematic strategies and sector road maps in country partnership strategies (CPS) • Knowledge products and services built into staff and client (team) learning activities • Staff, CoP member, client, and expert surveys and activity self-assessments • Self- and independent assessments of knowledge-sharing process in CPSs, and lending and nonlending services • CoP members actively seeking and giving support	G A R G A R G A R
Likely Impact	• ADB and client knowledge bases and capacities are enhanced. • Improvements are targeted in ADB development results. • Staff development is enhanced with greater work engagement.	• Ongoing knowledge assessments • Successful attainment of objectives is demonstrated through tangible "value" and "impact" stories • Sector and thematic reports demonstrate improved outcomes against stated objectives	G A R G A R G A R
Cost Effectiveness	• Programs and activities are carried out without the right amount of resources to achieve objectives.	• Tracking and benchmarking costs of activities • Resources are adequate for innovation	G A R

G Green: "On track" (More than 50% of the indicators in the group have shown improvements over baselines or previous periods).

A Amber: "Potential regression" (Results are mixed: equal number of indicators improving or beginning to stagnate or regress).

R Red: "Stagnated or regressed" (More than half of indicators in the group stagnating or regressing over 2 or more years).

Annex IV: Empowering Communities of Practice to Generate and Share Knowledge

The communities of practice (CoPs) hosted by ADB encompass both formal sector and thematic committees and what were previously called "informal networks." Any staff can join as a member of one or more CoPs. Each CoP is proposed to have a community convenor, chosen by CoP members, normally an expert in the concerned sector and theme, and active in managing funds designated for the CoP, sharing articles and newsletters, driving informal dialogues with other staff to share information, leading annual reporting (including preparation of annual two-pagers for broad circulation specifying the domain, community, and function and achievements of the CoP, as well as its plans for the future, e.g., finance, clients, internal processes, and innovation and learning, and external knowledge partnerships), and updating websites, among other things. The community convenor need not be the sector and thematic committee chairs or co-chairs. The duration of any CoP depends on continuing interest from CoP members (but also demand from staff); thus, some may serve their purpose over the span of only a couple years and then choose to disband. He or she would confer with the relevant sector and thematic committee and be responsible to the CoP.

The committees reside within CoP's (where corresponding CoPs exist), each having at least five to eight members holding at least level 5 positions. Committee chairs and co-chairs would be appointed by VP-KM&SD. Chairs and co-chairs would appoint members of their respective committees while keeping DG, RSDD and VP-KM&SD (through RSDD-KM) informed. The committee chairs or co-chairs have no formal authority over the CoP at-large but function as members of the CoP.

ADB's sector and thematic committees would continue to be tapped as advisors on policies and strategies for sectors and themes. They would (i) provide advice on formulation of sector and thematic policies and strategies; (ii) propose actions to address implementation issues associated with sector and thematic policies and strategies, for instance, through the annual and triennial reports prepared by the lead/principal specialist; (iii) represent the interests of their respective sector and thematic areas at management level at annual meetings with VP-KM&SD; and (iv) act as advocates of CoP operations and achievements. While CoPs are formed at the initiative of staff, Strategy 2020, or ADB's current and changing priorities would drive the formation of committees as they are accountable to VP-KM&SD through DG, RSDD.

CoPs can play a critical role in generating and sharing knowledge that enriches ADB's operations. Complementing sector and thematic committees, the typical CoP member may have more current and direct field experience to draw from than those at the director level and above. Their practical knowledge may be tapped as sources of information during preparation of country partnership strategies (CPS), project/program design, policy review, operational guidance, or as members of a workgroup or task force on crosscutting issues, e.g., members of energy and transport CoPs collaborating in the area of clean energy. To take advantage of their potential to strengthen ADB, new CoPs would be encouraged and supported as much as possible across diverse areas, not limited to ADB's priority sectors and themes.[17]

[17] A CoP can be formed simply by sending an electronic mail to RSDD-KM indicating the title of the CoP, the name of the community convenor, and initial group members.

The CoPs hosted by ADB would also help drive individual and collective learning and development to improve performance at both levels by providing an environment for continuous learning, solving common problems, pursuing joint solutions, and facilitating decision making. This environment includes activities to (i) produce and disseminate knowledge, information, and best practices; (ii) facilitate access to community resources, including the latest trends, developments, and innovations related to their areas of expertise; (iii) provide diverse avenues for interaction, dialogue, and collaboration between and among CoP members; and (iv) provide informal learning opportunities to help build the capacity and strengthen the skills of CoP members. The community convenor would be accountable to the members of a CoP and to ADB or external donors when a CoP receives grant, technical assistance, or project funds.

From experience to date, a strength of CoPs is likely to be the hosting of learning events, e.g., brown bags, talks, presentations, etc., in collaboration with other CoPs, regional departments, knowledge departments, and relevant offices and departments. To ensure the relevance of topics and a high quality of content in learning events, CoPs would be consulted on events organized by offices and departments. All events would support interactive learning toward identified learning outcomes. This means that events would not only entail more than the delivery of a talk or presentation but would also involve specific learning processes that allow discussion on the relevance and applicability of the topic to staff work, issues, and concerns. If necessary, support to apply learning through follow-up activities would be made available. Good collaboration between CoPs and relevant departments would translate key learning into high-quality knowledge products and services that support Strategy 2020.

BPMSD and other departments would continue to support training. CoPs would work with the Staff Development and Benefits Division (BPDB) to develop specific learning and development programs, engage speakers, and address opportunities related to staff's professional development. CoPs and relevant departments would collaborate to translate learning into knowledge products and services.

ADB's vision is an Asia and Pacific region free of poverty. Its mission is to help its developing member countries reduce poverty and improve the quality of life of their people. Despite the region's many successes, it remains home to two thirds of the world's poor: 1.8 billion people who live on less than $2 a day, with 903 million struggling on less than $1.25 a day. ADB is committed to reducing poverty through inclusive economic growth, environmentally sustainable growth, and regional integration.

Based in Manila, ADB is owned by 67 members, including 48 from the region. Its main instruments for helping its developing member countries are policy dialogue, loans, equity investments, guarantees, grants, and technical assistance.

Knowledge Solutions are handy, quick reference guides to tools, methods, and approaches that propel development forward and enhance its effects. They are offered as resources to ADB staff. They may also appeal to the development community and people having interest in knowledge and learning.
