Women's Studies Center

Director's Summary of Accomplishments

Year 2004-2005

The major goals of the Women's Studies Center for 2004-2005 included: (a) enhancing the excellence of the undergraduate program and developing a Graduate Certificate program, (b) generating and promoting scholarship and creative work in Women's Studies, and (c) providing leadership on women's issues in the region through education and social and cultural programs. The goals and highlights of the accomplishments in each area are presented below.

A complete report of the activities of the Women's Studies Center for the period June 2004 to May 2005 is contained in the following pages, including: (1) a summary of the undergraduate program and the new Graduate Certificate program that includes enrollment for the undergraduate B.A. and Certificate programs and other undergraduate student activities and accomplishments, (2) the achievements of the Women's Studies faculty, and (3) advancement activities of the WSC.

GOAL 1: To enhance the excellence of the undergraduate program and to develop a Graduate Certificate program.

Accomplishments:

- Established a Graduate Certificate program begun in Spring 2005
- Enrollment increased from 2,781 (2003-04) to 3,734 (2004-05; including 3,543 undergraduate students and 191 graduate students)
- Courses offered included 101 undergraduate and 21 graduate
- Students majoring in Women's Studies increased to 104 (from 72)
- Students earning a Certificate increased to 124 (from 98)
- Provided academic advising for 228 degree and certificate earners
- Graduated 21 students with a B.A. in Women's Studies (up from 17 in 2003-04)
- Graduated 29 students with a WS Certificate (up from 22 in 2003-04)
- Proposed and offered fourteen new Women's Studies courses
- Faculty developed and offered three online WS courses enabling an online Certificate to launch in Fall 2005
- Internship program: 20 students participated
- Third year of Women's Studies Student Association (25 members)
- Hosted the 4th WS Student Conference (37 presentations; 100 attended)
- Published a journal, Making Waves, Vol. 3, based on the 2004 WS Student Conference
- Gave twenty awards to students ranging from $150 to $1,500
- Sponsored travel for 8 students to the Association for Women in Psychology conference in Tampa, Feb 2005 and for 5 students to the Florida Women's Consortium Lobby Days in Tallahassee, March 2005.

GOAL 2: To generate and promote scholarship and creative work in Women's Studies.

Accomplishments:

- Hired a Postdoctoral Fellow in Women's Studies (Van Tilborg) for 2004-05
- Arranged the signing of a Memo of Understanding between FIU and the University of Granada for collaboration and exchange between our WS programs (Morcillo, Rose). Travel to Spain was supported by WS and the FIU Transnational Center/Madrid Center
- Hosted presentations by 49 noted scholars, authors, filmmakers, artists, performers, and dignitaries
- Three Women's Studies Core Faculty, 22 Affiliated Faculty, and one Adjunct Faculty were active in publishing, grant reviewing, and editorial roles in 2004-2005. Accomplishments include the publication of one book, three book chapters, 11 journal articles, one creative work/performance, 5 curatorial projects, 18 book reviews, 6 grants, 22 conference presentations, 15 invited presentations, 8 editorial boards, and 7 awards.
- Sponsored a Faculty Representative (Friedman) to attend the United Nations, Commission on the Status of Women, 49th session
- Sponsored four presentations by faculty at national and international conferences

GOAL 3: To provide leadership on women's issues in the region through education and social and cultural programs.

Accomplishments:

- Continued Year 3 of the Women of Distinction Series to attract community support; drew audiences ranging from 40 to 100 at each of four events
- Year 4 of Friends of Women's Studies fundraising campaign ($9,185 raised, including a donation from the Wollowick Foundation)
- Continued fundraising for Elaine Gordon Scholarship ($7,428 contributed; endowment total=$50,320)
- Established a Women's Studies Board of Advisors (a donating board) comprised of prominent women in the community ($17,300 contributed or pledged)
- Viewings of the WS website increased greatly (from 11,317 visits in 03-04 to 17,365 for 04-05)
- Website for the FIU Women Faculty Book Club (www.books.fiu.edu) received about 200 viewings per semester

The Women's Studies Center was successful at meeting its academic and advancement goals for 2004-2005. Graduate enrollment increased sufficiently to support the establishment of a Graduate Certificate program, undergraduate enrollment was at an all time high, and the collaboration with the University of Granada was formalized. Faculty research on women and gender continued to be recognized at the national and local level. Last, the reputation of the WSC grew locally with the establishment of the donor Board of Advisors.

Respectfully submitted,

Suzanna Rose, Ph.D., Director

Women in Eastern Europe

Prof. Weitz, English Dept., FIU runs Czech Studies program in collaboration with Charles University faculty members from Prague, Czech Republic.

University of Granada, Spain

Professor Margarita Birriel from the Instituto de Estudios de la Mujer at the Universidad de Granada visited the Women's Studies Center at FIU in November 2004. Dr. Birriel's visit was part of the continuing process to establish an exchange program between our two centers that include student and faculty development. During her visit Professor Birriel met with Vice Provost of International Relations Dr. Douglas Kincaid, Dr. Suzanna Rose, and Dr. Aurora Morcillo from the Women's Studies Center.

Professor Birriel is a historian who specializes in early modern Spanish history. She gave a lecture entitled Women and Property in Early Modern Spain. This event was co-sponsored by the Women's Studies Center and the History Honor Society. The lecture was a success with a numerous attendance from faculty of the History department and the Women's Studies program, as well as students.

Prof. Ophelia Weeks, Biology, FIU Excellence in Teaching Award.

Women's Studies Donors

Since July 2001 Sue Wartzok has been Head of the Cataloging Department at FIU's Green Library. Sue contributes to Women's Studies because she can remember the days when Women's Studies was a new and not-well-respected discipline. She wishes to see FIU have a strong program so that today's young women and men can learn about women's roles in history and how very recently women won many of the rights they now have.

Commissioner Sally A. Heyman was first elected to the District 4 seat of the Miami-Dade Board of County Commissioners in September 2002. She has been and remains active in charitable, women's issues, political and community organizations and activities.

Dr. Glenda A. Belote is Associate Dean of Undergraduate Studies at Florida International University. She teaches interdisciplinary gender studies courses in Women's Studies and Liberal Studies.

Elizabeth Baker is a lawyer with Baker & Cronig, LLP (family, real estate, banking and business law). This year she received the Mattie Belle Davis award, which is presented annually to honor the woman who has done the most to promote women and the administration of justice.

Published Books

Friedman, R. (2004, December/2005, March). Masculinity, Autocracy and the Russian University, 1804-1863, Basingstoke/NY: Palgrave / Macmillan.

Professor Rebecca Friedman's research has focused on the history of masculinity in Russia. Her book examines behavior, loyalty and sociability among a generation of Russian university students that would reshape the Russian social and political landscape for decades to come. In particular, it explores the models of manhood that these young men encountered and created during their three to four years of study, including the respectable servitor, drunken comrade, honorable fraternity member, romantic friend and loyal son. This project offers a picture of the complex processes through which gender ideologies were forged and negotiated in the nineteenth century. Friedman also edited (with Barbara Clements and Dan Healey -- Palgrave/Macmillan 20020) the collection Russian Masculinities in History and Culture, which is the first volume in English focused on the growing field of Russian masculinity studies.
