¿Cómo establecer conexiones significativas con nuestra comunidad local?

- Conectar emocionalmente
- Escuchar
- Observar
- Estar allá donde estén
- Participar de sus actividades y encuentros
- Hacerles partícipes de la biblioteca
- Cultivar la percepción de que estás ahí cuando les haces falta y cumples tu palabra

Hi Kitty, thank you for joining the group!!

Feel free to share the link to the group to other people at Ualbany that might be interested in Latin American & Caribbean studies. The idea is to share research resources information within UAlbany, not only LACS.

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/lacsresearchresources/>

Also, sharing information here is multidirectional so anyone can post information, not just the librarian.

It would be great if you post here information about the Caribbean, Haiti, etc. This is all about sharing our expertise and the information we learn about every day. Thanks!

Our next movie: Tango. Please, come to HU 354 next wednesday and enjoy a live tango performance at 7:00pm before the movie starts!

Film and Music: A History of Love International Film Series Tango España/Argentina (1998) Directed by Carlos Saura With a special tango performance before the movie! Presented by Lina Rincon (Sociology) In Spanish with English subtitles	October 12 Wednesday at 7:00pm in HU 354 Organized by the I.L.L. Department in collaboration with the University Librarians

It's no slight to the lovers seen in Carlos Saura's thrilling "Tango" to say that the kissing seen here is less torrid than the dancing. As in "Flamenco," Mr. Saura means to capture the essence of a dazzling dance tradition, and he does so in a film that wafts dreamily through countless forms of tango magic. As shot by Vittorio Storaro with all the nuance and fluidity such an undertaking demands, "Tango" offers transfixedly beautiful glimpses of the dance and all the wide range of emotions it can conjure. Review by Janet Maslin for the New York Times

Preguntas de Consulta

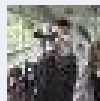

Carlos Caban

If I may I have a question. I was wondering if anyone has done any research on or read about the Armenian population in Latin America, specifically Argentina and their relations with the Basques there?. I have come across a few websites and journal articles, and the majority are in Armenian. Jesus, I was trying to look via the library to see if there was any information there.
