REPORT OF THE AUDITOR

I have examined the books and accounts of the Selectmen, Town Treasurer, Town Clerk, Tax Collector, Road Agent, Library Trustees, Cemetery Commissioners, and Trustees of Trust Funds, have compared their several accounts, vouchers and bank statements of funds on deposit, and find these accounts in agreement and believe these reports to be a true account of the conduct of the Town business for the year ending January 31, 1935.

I have also examined the books and accounts of the Treasurer of the New London Water System Precinct and find them correctly cast, and supported by proper vouchers and bank statement of funds on deposit February 1, 1935.

IRA S. LITTLEFIELD, Auditor.

TRACY MEMORIAL BUILDING

Librarian's Report

For the year ending October 1, 1934

Eight years of library and community service have been completed at Tracy Memorial Building. Appreciation of the value of such a service to the life of the town has been variously expressed by many individuals during the year.

The free use of the building has been enjoyed for regular meetings of the Hospital Aid, the Woman's Club, the Garden Club, and for occasional meetings of the 4-H Club, the Civic Association, the King's Daughters, the Junior Guild, and numerous committees. A piano recital by pupils of Mrs. Helen M. Colburn was given in June. The New Hampshire Pen Women met at Tracy Memorial in September.

Several entertaining and educational evenings were offered to the community during the fall, winter and spring months. Prof. Arthur F. Newell, representing the Lord Bryce Fellowship, spoke on "Adventures in Understanding", furthering friendly relations between England and United States. Victor M. Cutter gave an interesting description of "Life in Central America", based on his personal experiences during fifteen years in the tropics. Miss Ruth Colby entertained with an illustrated talk on a summer trip through England, and a flight to Paris. Herbert D. Swift gave a showing of local moving pictures one evening. Alfred E. Plumpton and his daughter, Phyllis Plumpton, gave a pleasing piano and song recital on a Sunday afternoon in May.

Ten major exhibits were open during the year. These included a Local Talent Exhibition, the Guy Shorey Photographs, the Doll Exhibit, the Manrique Textile Exhibit, a two day Flower Show by the Garden Club, the Stamp Club Exhibit, the Smithsonian Wild Flower Plates, the Sawyer Studio Exhibit of Hand-tinted Scenes of North America, and the Second Annual Exhibition of the Slade Photographs and other photographs by members of the Boston Camera Club.

Small exhibits at the library desk and under the glass tops of the fireplace tables have been of interest from time to time.

Features in connection with the work of the children's room were the customary display of new, also favorite older books in the post office window during Good Book Week in November, under the slogan "Growing Up With Books"; four afternoons of pictures of an educational nature—World's Fair pictures shown by Bertha M. Glassey; King Arthur pictures, shown and described by Edward Picknell of the Elkins School, who, with another Elkins pupil, John Pierce, drew the long roll of pictures; Memo pictures of Yellowstone National Park shown to Grades V and VI, and Alaska pictures shown to Grades I and II by the librarian. A new venture was the Stamp Club, started primarily for the children, but developing naturally and pleasantly into a mixed group of children and adults. Meetings are held regularly twice a month, with considerable evidence of interest, and an exhibition was held in June, which nearly three hundred people visited.

The observance of Christmas was accompanied by holiday decorations and a Christmas program followed by carol-singing about town. On New Year's Day open house was held by trustees and librarians, assisted by several ladies of the town.

Adult education classes were successfully conducted by Dr. Royce S. Pitkin and Dr. J. Duane Squires during ten evenings of the winter months. The course was called "An Introduction to American Civilization Today", and attendance and interest were very gratifying. M. Roy London and Lester S. Frost conducted winter classes in book-keeping and a good number availed themselves of the privilege of such a course. New London is fortunate in having those who are qualified and willing to give their time in such ways as these men have done.

George F. Slade has presented the building with an enlarged picture of the finale in the pageant, "Hills Against the Sky". "Sunapee Mountain from the Brocklebank", an oil painting by George O. Draper, was loaned by the artist for several months.

Mrs. Jane A. Tracy has given the library five folios of North American flower plates, containing four hundred separate plates, the work of Mary Vaux Wolcott. The excellence of these plates is recognized when one knows that they are published by the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C. Gifts of first day covers and foreign stamps from Mrs. Tracy have been welcomed by Stamp Club members.

Gifts and loans of books, pictures and curios, also a gift of ten dollars from a friend of the library, testify to the interest of many people in the place that Tracy Memorial holds in the life of the community. Gifts of stamps have come from several sources. Mr. Arnold has given two more specimen stones for the gem collection. Autographed copies of works of the authors have been received from Clare Benedict and Royce S. Pitkin. The loan of numerous books from the personal library of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Manrique was appreciated throughout the winter.

Additions to the International Mind Alcove arrive regularly four times a year, a welcome and appreciated gift of books of travel, showing life and customs in other countries. Books valuable to the reference collection have been added by the acquisition of the Cambridge History of English Literature, in fourteen volumes, and the Cambridge History of American Literature, in three volumes. Three volumes in the Dictionary of American Biography have been added as published. The library, by yearly additions, is acquiring a well-rounded reference collection.

The May number of the American Library Association Bulletin contained an article by a California librarian on "Libraries in Community Buildings", in which was included a description of Tracy Memorial Building.

In June a library school student, Miss Esther Williams of Wollaston, Mass., was sent from Simmons College to Tracy Memorial for two weeks of observation and practice work.

Library meetings of the year were attended by trustees and librarians. The state meeting at Exeter was attended by Mrs. Jane A. Tracy and Mrs. Mary B. Macomber, trustees, and by the librarian. Mrs. Bertha M. Glassey, assistant librarian, was in attendance at the meeting of the American Library Association at Montreal. The librarian had a part on the program of the Boscawen Neighborhood Meeting.

The Elkins borrowers have visited the library for the exchange of books to a greater degree than in former years. Earlier in the year Mrs. Allie J. Sargent attended to the exchange of the Elkins books.

During the months of July and August Alice A. Todd served as vacation assistant. Evelyn Dahl of Jamestown, N. Y. assisted in the care of the building and flowers during the summer months. She assisted in the children's room on Saturday afternoons.

Consideration of the statistics for former years shows definite growth and use of the facilities of the library and community building. Town school use of the library is constantly growing, and members of the faculty and student body at Colby Junior College continue to be frequent visitors and borrowers.

Figures for the past year show that visitors have numbered 21,200, and the circulation of books, magazines and pictures has totaled 18,405. Twenty per cent of the circulation has been non-fiction, which is an indication of the studious nature of the community. The picture collection has reached such proportions that there is a marked use of the material, which is filed in three special cabinets designed and built by Melville H. Robbins. Five hundred sixty-five pictures were loaned, principally to teachers, during the six months in which a record of this material has been kept.

Books added to the library in a year's time have been 517 in number, of which 128 titles were gifts, and 389 were added by purchase.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED J. PEASLEE,

Librarian.

HOSPITAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING

AUGUST 31, 1934

During the past year the Executive Board has held twelve regular meetings, one special meeting, and several informal meetings with the Tag Day committees. These meetings have been well attended, there being an average of six members present.

The Board has had splendid co-operation with the Hospital staff, and Miss Boyle should be highly complimented for her work.

Mrs. Maurice Shepard was appointed on the Board of Directors to fill the unexpired term of the Secretary.

Early in the year the financial condition of the Hospital due to lack of income through the winter months, became a real problem. A campaign for funds was conducted among the summer residents and resulted in gifts totaling $490. This support of our Hospital by the summer people is appreciated by the Board.

The town of Sutton voted at their town meeting the sum of $200 for a free bed in the Hospital.

A gas machine of the latest type, for giving gas and ether, has been added to the operating room equipment, a gift from Colby Junior College.

This year the Hospital Board managed the affairs of Tag Day for the first time. With the assistance of the Hospital Aid Association and all local organizations, the day was successful.

Other gifts of money and supplies, in addition to those mentioned previously, have been received during the year. These gifts are all sincerely appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

PERCY M. THURSTON, Secretary.

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION REPORT

For the Year Ending October 1, 1934

During the year we have held six afternoon meetings and four all day meetings with an average attendance of twelve. As usual the Hospital mending has been done at these meetings. Several members who have been unable to attend the meetings have assisted with the mending which has been sent to their homes. We have also made many articles for our table on Tag Day which was in charge of the Hospital Board this year.

Our activities have been much as usual. During the year we have bought table linen and other necessary articles for the Hospital. We paid $350 on the Hospital debt. Extra money was earned during the winter by giving bridge parties. The rummage sale held in the fall netted us a larger sum than last year.

Donation Day was held in November with the usual generous response. Some of the money given at that time was used to purchase new dishes and some necessary kitchen utensils for the Hospital.

The officers of the Hospital Aid Association wish to express their grateful appreciation for the cooperation of all those who have assisted them in so many ways during the past year.

REPORT OF BOARD OF ENGINEERS, NEW LONDON FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Board of Engineers report another satisfactory year's work with the New London Fire Company. There have been few severe fires, but more still alarms and chimney fires than usual, which has made the amount of fire expense greater than usual.

The matter of chimney fires is a difficult thing to control. No one knows how serious a small danger may become, and we believe it best to respond ready for efficient action, even though the number of such fires becoming serious, is small. We responded to one call at George's Mills to a serious fire, but owing to the lateness of the call, no efficient help could be rendered except for protection of the adjoining property.

The equipment has been kept up to condition by the addition of new hose this year, and the Board would like to see the further addition of a quantity of 1½ inch hose as soon as conditions warrant. This type of hose is being used by many departments and is, we believe, just as effective for many places and is much less expensive and easier to handle.

Respectfully submitted,

HORACE C. STANLEY,
A. STANLEY LITTLE,
HAROLD E. MESSER.

Board of Engineers.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the New London School Board:

I herewith submit the annual report of the superintendent of schools.

Attendance

The attendance last year was a little low on account of illness. This fall and winter whooping cough has kept many pupils at home. This is unfortunate but could not be prevented. The number of tardinesses last year was too large. Some tardiness is, of course, unavoidable, but most of it can be prevented by a little extra effort. The present enrollment is slightly less than it was last year. The grades next year, with two exceptions, will apparently be remarkably uniform in size, each having 12-15 pupils. The senior high school, in its third year now, enrolls 41 pupils. In the future, as far as we can judge at this time, it will have 50-60 pupils.

High School Program

The course of study in the high school is modern and progressive, and is much nearer, without doubt, the ultimate course toward which we are tending than the program now in operation in most secondary schools. The emphasis is correctly placed upon those subjects which are intimately concerned with the pupils' future social, civic, industrial, and family life. The few who wish to go to college can by proper selection of subjects gain admission to most of the colleges. Colleges are not now so much interested in preparatory courses as they are in the calibre of the pupils seeking entrance. Too long have high schools shaped their courses of study to fit the small group preparing for college under the old rigid requirements. High schools are now at liberty—rather, are morally bound—to revise their programs to suit the needs of the ever-growing group of pupils who will pass into life's occupations directly upon graduation from high school.

The subjects offered in the New London High School are as follows:

The Course of Study

This course of study aims to provide a broad cultural training leading to active participation in the social, civic, industrial and family life of the nation. It should, of course, be supplemented by work in art, dramatics, journalism, music and athletics.

Grade 9

Subjects marked with an asterisk (*) alternate with subjects in the grades immediately preceding and will not be offered again until the school year 1935-1936. The subjects are arranged as they would be taken by a pupil entering grade nine in the fall of 1934.

Pupils in grade ten may elect subjects listed under grade nine for the school year 1934-1935. Pupils in grade twelve may elect subjects listed under grade eleven for the same school year.

By proper selection of subjects this curriculum will prepare for admission to most of the leading colleges and universities.

No elective subject will be offered unless the number electing it is large enough to make the teaching of the course justifiable.

Extra-curricular Activities

The school is to be commended for having organized games in a recreation period at the close of the day. It is decidedly more beneficial to have all pupils engaged in wholesome athletics than merely to develop a single team, with other pupils on the side lines. School-room work is not thereby shortened since each class period is forty minutes in length.

The Glee Club and Orchestra meet once or twice a week, under the able guidance of Miss Shambo.

The English classes, under the direction of Miss Colby, issue a weekly paper in mimeographed form. This is good experience and serves as the local weekly paper in the winter season. This is a good service well performed.

School Work

The work of all the grades is being carried on effectively, as shown by tests. Instruction is adapted to the needs of the individual pupil. Effort is constantly made to discover the difficulties of each pupil and steps are taken to remedy the trouble.

The work in reading is especially good. An effective system gives the pupils a good start in the first grade. In each grade there is a library of easy books which the children may read in spare time and they do read them, with pleasure and profit. Constantly they contribute information gleaned from this supplementary reading. Thus their background of knowledge is broadened and their ability to read is increased. Perhaps no single factor is more important than this library of supplementary reading books.

The Elkins School is one of the outstanding rural schools in the state. The atmosphere of the school is one of co-operation, loyalty, and good fellowship. Books are not the only source of knowledge there. In many purposeful projects the pupils construct models, draw pictures, collect interesting articles, or dramatize episodes in history and literature.

Nursery School

With the cooperation of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration we are operating a nursery school. The purpose of such a school is to train pre-school children in good habits of play, rest, and eating; also to develop group cooperation. The government pays the salaries of two teachers, nurse and cook; also furnishes the noon lunch and a part of the supplies used. The local expense is only for janitor service, fuel, and place of meeting.

Whooping cough kept many children at home at first, but now there is an enrollment of 22 children. The school is really accomplishing its purpose and is a worthy part of the school system. The teachers are Elizabeth Ann Healy of Contoocook, N. H. and Dorothy Goings of New London. Mrs. Laura Homan serves as nurse and Mrs. Beth S. Woodward as cook.

Finances

The budget for 1935-36 is a little smaller than the appropriation for 1934-35 and is much less than the amount spent in 1933-34. The school board has managed the financial affairs of the school with good judgment. It is expected that there will be a balance on hand next June of about $1,500. This can be used to decrease the appropriation for 1935-36. Half of this anticipated balance is due to tuitions from pupils who entered our schools rather unexpectedly. About $600 has been saved on transportation because it was not found necessary to maintain one route which was rather anticipated.

I want to express my appreciation of the cordial cooperation of the School Board and teachers which has made my work in New London very pleasant.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH.
