OUR MISSION

Olivet Nazarene University, a denominational university in the Wesleyan tradition, exists to provide a university-level liberal arts “Education with a Christian Purpose.”

Our mission is to provide high-quality academic instruction for the purpose of personal development, career and professional readiness, and the preparation of individuals for lives of service to God and humanity.

“We seek the strongest scholarship and the deepest piety, knowing that they are compatible [and] ... a Christian environment ... where not only knowledge but character is sought.” (The quotation is taken from the Olivet Catalog, 1915.)

This mission provides the common ground for us as we blend our various gifts and interests together to impact each student. You will have many opportunities this year to live out this mission. Watch for those occasions, for they are moments of great possibility and reward. Through our mission, we transform lives for eternity.

WELCOME

FROM JILL AND JOHN BOWLING

One of the long-standing traditions at Olivet is this annual President’s Dinner for Faculty and Staff. It is a gathering of the family and an occasion to formally mark the beginning of a new academic year. This evening also underscores the breadth and depth of the Olivet faculty and staff. Some are here for the first time while others have been part of the University for decades. We have different gifts, experiences and expertise, but we are united by our mission to provide “Education with a Christian Purpose.”

I encourage you to take a few moments to review the dinner program booklet. This provides an overview of many of the accomplishments of your faculty and staff colleagues: degrees earned, books written, presentations made, articles published, service rendered and much more!

We will recognize individuals for milestone years of service and welcome new members of our faculty and staff. We hope you have a wonderful evening and a great year.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL RECOGNITION

2016 FACULTY MEMBER OF THE YEAR

David Van Heemst '96 MPC/'98 MA

Chair, Department of History and Political Science

Dr. David Van Heemst will forever hold the distinction of being the first political scientist hired in the history of Olivet.

When he joined the faculty in 1993, he accepted the assignment of designing a program that focuses on the four major areas of political science: American government, political theory, international relations and comparative politics. He became department chair early this year.

Connecting with and inspiring students are twin passions that radiate through Dr. Van Heemst's teaching. DVH, as he's known around Olivet, sponsors the student clubs Capitol Hill Gang, the Academy and International Justice Mission. He also sponsors the political science honor society, Pi Sigma Alpha. In and outside the classroom, he strives to inspire students to develop a Christian vision of cultural and political transformation.

"Being part of the Olivet family is a blessing," he says. "I am thankful to the Lord for the opportunity to encourage the next generation to be passionate about and committed to serving Christ and His kingdom."

Ever the student of academics and life, DVH holds a bachelor's degree, three master's degrees and a doctorate. In 2013, he received Olivet's Samuel L. Mayhugh Award for Scholarly Excellence. His other awards include the Faculty Award for Teaching Excellence and the Second Mile Award.

In a 10-year period, he authored "Empowering the Poor: Why Justice Requires School Choice," "Herman Dooyeweerd and Eric Voegelin: A Comparative Study," "Hope in Troubled Times: A New Vision for Confronting Global Crises" and "College: What's the Point? Embracing the Mystery of the Kingdom in a Postmodern World."

DVH and his wife, April, are parents to twin daughters Maggie and Ellie; and triplet daughters Elizabeth, Annika and Jessica. David and April have homeschooled their children since kindergarten from a classical Christian perspective.

Another of his passions is helping and encouraging fathers to be involved in their daughters' lives. To help decrease the number of absent and uninvolved fathers, DVH wrote "Splashing in Puddles: How To Be a Father to Your Daughter." Written to dads but for daughters, this is a guide on how and why to be an involved father.

In his leisure time, he enjoys long-distance running, working out in the gym and reading. Having grown up on the East Coast, he's a huge New York Yankees and Brooklyn Nets fan.

David, for challenging students' thinking, modeling how to live as a Christian in challenging times, and serving God on our campus and in our world, we salute you as the 2016 Faculty Member of the Year. ■

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL RECOGNITION

2016 STAFF MEMBER OF THE YEAR

Faith Newman '04

Assistant Director of Human Resources

“My first big lesson in surrendering my plans and accepting God’s plans was enrolling at Olivet,” says Faith Newman. “The Lord totally provided for me to come here as a student.” He has continued to use Faith’s gifts, talents and skills to bless thousands of students, alumni, staff and faculty.

From her first job as a student worker in the Financial Aid Office to her job today, Faith has enjoyed the journey. A marketing major, she originally planned to work for a Major League Baseball team. She even completed an internship with the Toledo Mud Hens, a Triple-A affiliate of the Detroit Tigers.

After graduation, she joined the HR team while searching for the “right job.” That was almost 12 years ago. Her marketing degree and skills have proven to be valuable in her HR work. She enjoys the strategic partner role that HR fills in working with the administration and employees.

“I appreciate all the opportunities we, as Olivet employees, have to share the truth of Jesus Christ while we’re on the job,” she says. “Our responsibility is to shape and mold a generation by speaking the truth to them.” She credits Donna McAllister and Toni Smith as the mentors who have shaped her.

Currently, Faith’s job responsibilities include recruiting, hiring and onboarding new employees; planning and overseeing employee communications and events; assisting HR Director David Pickering with employee compensation; and serving as an HR generalist.

She has been part of the hiring process for half of Olivet’s current employees. “Watching the Lord’s hand bring the right people to Olivet at the right time is the most satisfying part of my work,” she says.

In addition to her Olivet bachelor’s degree in marketing, Faith holds a master’s degree in human resource management from Keller Graduate School. She has also earned the Professional in Human Resources (PHR) certification.

An avid U.S. and international traveler, she just returned from a trip to Scotland. She enjoys bicycling and teaches a spin class on campus. In 2015, she and her dad joined 25,000 bicyclists in riding across Iowa.

Faith is the daughter of Glenn and Amy Newman and grew up in Toledo, Ohio. Her Grandma Doris Newman had dreamed of attending Olivet but never did. Faith has had the opportunity to live out that dream in even greater ways than Doris could have imagined.

Faith, for your enthusiasm in your work and Olivet, for all you do to make this a Best Christian Workplace and for the fun you add to everything you do, we salute you as the 2016 Staff Member of the Year. ■

A BRIEF HISTORY OF OLIVET

In the beginning (1900 to 1920s)

Olivet Nazarene University's origins can be traced to the first decade of the last century and to the resolve of several families in east central Illinois who were committed to providing a Christian education for their children. In 1907, classes began in a home in the community of Georgetown, Ill. A year later, the founders acquired several acres of land in the nearby village called Olivet. There, they raised a modest building and added the secondary level of instruction. A College of Liberal Arts followed in 1909, along with the first name for this fledgling, but ambitious, institution: "Illinois Holiness University."

By 1912, the founders and trustees were aware of the school's need for a wider constituency and offered to give their educational work to the Church of the Nazarene. This young denomination accepted the school with a pledge to support and promote its ministry of Christian higher education. That early church commitment is still being perpetuated by the more than 800 Nazarene congregations throughout Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The school grew slowly during the next decade.

There were several acting and short-term presidents; the campus of 18 acres contained only a few small buildings; the first yearbook, the Aurora, was published in 1914; and a new school name followed in 1915: "Olivet University." In 1923, the name was changed to "Olivet College."

As was the case with many small church colleges in the 1920s, Olivet's financial base eroded significantly, forcing the trustees to declare bankruptcy in 1926. Then-college treasurer, Dr. T.W. Willingham, bought the school back at a public auction, outlined a new plan for solvency, and was elected that night to serve as president.

New directions (1930s to 1950s)

A devastating fire destroyed the main campus building in November 1938, prompting the newly elected president, A.L. Parrott, and the trustees to consider locating a new campus as an alternative to rebuilding at their rural site. They found and purchased the present campus in Bourbonnais in 1939 and moved the college in the summer of 1940. "Nazarene" was added to the college's name that same year.

At the time of Olivet's move to Bourbonnais, the campus consisted of 42 acres, which had been the site of St. Viator's College from 1868 until it closed in 1938. Four of the buildings purchased then are still in use today.

Receiving formal recognition and accreditation by the University of Illinois in 1939 was a major academic milestone for Olivet. The college catalogs of the 1940s reflected a School of Liberal Arts, a School of Music, a School of Religion, and a high school Academy. In 1953, under the skillful leadership of Dr. Harold W. Reed, president, and Dr. Willis Snowbarger, newly appointed dean, all areas of study were grouped into curricular divisions.

Managed growth (1960s to 1980s)

Dr. Harold W. Reed, president from 1949–1975, led Olivet through a period of remarkable growth, including the construction of 20 major buildings to keep pace with swelling student enrollments.

Dr. Leslie Parrott continued this focus on campus expansion, development and beautification during his 16-year tenure with a specific interest in the elevation of Olivet to university status.

In 1986, the school's name was changed to "Olivet Nazarene University" to reflect the diversity of academic programs and graduate studies.

Significant expansion (1990s to today)

In 1991, Dr. John C. Bowling became president and has led the University in continued growth and effective ministry.

During the 1990s, Olivet expanded and strengthened both its undergraduate and graduate programs. The University established a formal development program, including planned giving and major gifts, an annual fund program known as Friends of Olivet, renewed grant writing, a comprehensive program of donor relations, and the "In Word and Deed" capital campaign. In 1994, a full-time chaplaincy program was established to give direction to chapel, student spiritual life activities, small-group ministries, missions and compassionate ministry experiences.

Additional successes in the 1990s included: Chalfant Hall was renovated; the Harlow E. Hopkins Alumni Center was established; Milby Clock Tower was reconstructed; Ludwig Dining Room, the Red Room, and the bookstore were renovated; the coffee shop, Common Grounds, was established; the Olivet computer, media, and communications network was created; the campus entrance was completed; and the Admissions Center was constructed.

In the following decade, the campus continued to undergo several changes. Between 2000 and 2009, the Weber Center was constructed; two parcels of land south of the Admissions Center were purchased; and the Larsen Fine Arts Center was renovated. Major renovations also took place in Burke Administration Building, Williams Hall, Chapman Hall, Common Grounds coffee shop and the Decker Quadrangle. Renovations to Benner Library and Resource Center included a new student hangout, Jazzman's. The Hardy C. Powers President's House was renovated to house the Center for Student Success, and a new residence for the president was established at Reedy House on Olde Oak Drive. Ludwig Dining Hall was expanded and remodeled. Olivet purchased the former Fortin Villa property from Provena Healthcare, including 25 acres of land along Main Street, just south and west of the main campus. Today that property is utilized for ROTC classes, as well as intramural activities.

Significant improvements to the athletic facilities were completed in the 2000s, including renovation of Birchard Gymnasium to include a new varsity weight room and a new fitness center for students, faculty and staff. In Snowbarger Athletic Park, additional seating and a new press box were installed at Larry Watson Baseball Field; tennis courts were resurfaced, and new nets and posts were installed; and electric service was improved. Ward Field was renovated to include a larger running track, a new entry building, fencing, refurbished bleachers, a larger press box, an enhanced facade, and lighting for night games and practices. In 2002, Olivet began a long partnership with the Chicago Bears as the ONU campus became home to their annual summer training camp.

Throughout the 2000s, Information Technology expanded wireless access throughout the campus, including wired access to every classroom and residence hall room. In the academic realm, the radio station WONU-FM and broadcasting classes moved from the north wing of Benner Library to a former restaurant building next to the Admissions Center on Main Street. The Department of Communication and some art classes moved into the library space, including new television, graphic arts and photo studios. The Bourbonnais offices for the School of Graduate and Continuing Studies moved to 21 Heritage Drive, just north of the main campus.

In 2005, North Central Association granted ONU continued accreditation for the maximum of ten years without conditions. The academic departments were restructured into four Schools and one College: the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, School of Professional Studies, School of Theology and Christian Ministry, and School of Graduate and Continuing Studies.

During the summer of 2010, there was a major overhaul of the inner campus landscape and walkways, along with renovation of the Milby Clock Tower. Hills Hall was significantly upgraded, and the process of sprinkling system installation in residence halls continued. One of the most significant projects in the last century came to completion with the construction of the Betty and Kenneth Hawkins Centennial Chapel. The 3,000-plus seat chapel was dedicated on October 29, 2010. Since the spring of 2011, chapel services have been held there, allowing students, faculty and staff to worship together as one community.

Olivet's School of Graduate and Continuing Studies has experienced tremendous growth in recent years.

In 2004, the School established a Chicago Regional Center in Rolling Meadows, Ill., and in 2011, a new office was opened in Oak Brook, Ill. Through a partnership with a university in that area, Olivet also offers a master's in professional counseling in Hong Kong. Two new regional centers have opened: Indianapolis, with enrollment for classes in summer and fall 2015; and Grand Rapids, Michigan. The Indianapolis center is Olivet's first location in the state of Indiana.

For 11 consecutive years, U.S. News and World Report has selected Olivet Nazarene University as a top university in its report, "America's Best Colleges."

For 11 consecutive years, the University has also been commended for the pursuit of excellence and ongoing Christian witness to the world by the Best Christian Workplaces Institute. Olivet Nazarene University qualified for certification as "A Best Christian Workplace" in the United States.

The Douglas E. Perry Student Life and Recreation Center was dedicated and opened to students at midnight on 12-12-12. This 160,000-square-foot facility boasts an eight-lane, 200-meter running track; two pools, including a 10-lane competition pool for men's and women's varsity swimming; a four-story rock climbing wall; four basketball courts; workout facilities; a large game area; a spacious central lounge; and several classrooms. The Perry Center is named in honor of Dr. Doug Perry, Olivet's vice president for finance.

In 2014, the University continued to expand and improve facilities within the Department of Athletics. On Ward Field, Kiefer USA installed a new UBU Sports Speed S5-M synthetic turf game field. Tiger football, men's soccer and women's soccer play home games there. The durable playing surface will accommodate the safety and performance requirements for each sport. New entrances — south gateway and west gateway — to Snowbarger Park now welcome our many campus visitors. Brick columns with lighting and black iron fencing provide a more inviting appearance. The recent expansion and remodeling of Gibson-Ide men's locker room include 125 large lockers for the football team and an area appropriate for team meetings, as well as expanded storage areas. In addition, the baseball, men's soccer and men's tennis teams now have newly remodeled and separate locker rooms.

Construction of the 19,000-square-foot, three-story engineering addition to Reed Hall of Science is now a reality. Opening and move in was completed just in time for fall 2014 classes. In May 2015, the Board of Trustees established the Martin D. Walker School of Engineering and Technology. Through a generous gift, the Walker family has demonstrated strong support for Olivet's future.

Plans for the 18,000-square-foot expansion of the building's south section will provide both new and updated facilities for the sciences. Included in the plans are new laboratory spaces and additional classrooms to accommodate the growth generated by the new School of Life and Health Sciences.

Recognizing the accomplishments and degree offerings of Olivet's music program, the new School of Music designation became a reality in July 2014. Dr. Don Reddick was appointed as dean. In 2013, the iLearn@Olivet initiative provided sheet music, textbooks and apps to all music students through the iPad. In 2014, the School of Music received the Apple Distinguished Program designation. The Marching Tigers received a formal invitation to perform in the 2016 Parade and Festival in London, England, on New Year's Day. To encourage success and leadership in the lives of Olivet students, the family of Dr. David L. Elwood and Ella (Jones) Ellwood — Olivet alumni — made a significant gift to the University in 2014. It is designated to expand and strengthen the programming of the Center for Student Success, as well as to coordinate and strengthen various leadership efforts in the new Elwood Leadership Program. On October 31, the Center was renamed and dedicated as the David L. Elwood Center for Student Success.

Shine.FM continues to add new broadcasting capabilities with the newest stations in Lansing, Michigan, and Indianapolis. Brilla.FM, a Hispanic radio ministry that broadcasts Christian music of the Spanish culture, joins Shine.FM, Shine Worship and Shine RX3 in streaming worldwide. Each week, Shine.FM reaches more than 200,000 listeners online, through the iOS and Android mobile apps, and through stations in Chicagoland and northwest Indiana. In February 2015, Olivet's institutional accreditation was reauthorized by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC).

Olivet was recognized for maintaining a solid financial situation, being significantly mission-focused, having realistic goals and planning processes, and meeting all criteria for accreditation. The University has earned accreditation continuously since 1965. ■
