 Mack would kiss a bon - nie lass he just passed her on to me.
 I have my doubts be - cause I know she does - n't like Mac - Kay.

Chorus

2nd time f

When I meet Mac - Kay and Mac - Kay meets me,

I treat Mac - Kay and then Mac - Kay treats me.

I like Mac - Kay, for Mac - Kay's true blue; It's on - ly when Mac - Kay comes home that I have one or two.

When I have one or two. D.C.

PATTER

No, she doesn't like MacKay, because the man takes a dram and speaks the truth. I can see my wife as plain as if she were here noo; she is watching me coming in, but I'll stand my ground. I'll say "Yes, I did, I met MacKay and we had one — and, then I stood one, and — no, we had not two two's, we had only one two. And we'll, yes, to my knowledge he is, MacKay is a gentleman. What is a gentleman?

Well — a gentleman is a friend who says 'Certainly not, this one is with me! I am not too near the fire; I'll stand as near the fire as I like; I'll stand in the fire if I like.

Yes, I know you were complaining of having sore feet, the soles of your heels were sore. Yes, I know the cause of your sore feet; it's jumping at conclusions. Yes, I'll be up when the lark is singing — and I'll be singing like a lark."
