He then entered Creighton College at Omaha, Nebraska, received his M. A. degree in 1911 and that of M. D. in 1913. Doctor Thomas Fleming began the practice of medicine at Cold Spring, Minnesota, in 1914, and continued in practice there until 1920, when he relinquished his practice and went to New York and Chicago for further study, taking post-graduate work, in both cities, on the eye, ear, nose and throat. He then came to Saint Cloud, Minnesota and began practice, specializing in affections of the organs named, and has been a resident of Saint Cloud since.
