TEVOGT, WILLIAM

File No. B-1336

William TeVogt, son of Anthony and Johanna(Tenfort) TeVogt, was born in August 1857 in St. Cloud. When he was six weeks old his parents came to New Munich, where Anthony TeVogt bought a small store.

The trip from St. Cloud to New Munich was made by ox carts, as there was no railroad at that time.

At the Sioux Indian outbreak the people all fled to St. Joseph, where they remained until the war was over.

When William TeVogt was about fourteen years old he went along with Henry Borgerding, who hauled provisions and cattle from St. Cloud to Winnepeg. They would leave early in the spring and come back in December. When they would get to Winnepeg they would have to go to the Court House and get stamps before they could sell their products.

William TeVogt, worked for Henry Borgerding for about eight years. Then he bought a butcher shop and feed store in Melrose.

William TeVogt, was married January 5, 1896 to Mary Brokamp, in the St. Boniface church at Melrose. The cememony was performed by Father Bernard Richter. The attendants were Herman TeVogt and Elizabeth Tenfort.

William and Mary (BrokampP TeVogt had four children: Johanna was born on July 23, 1900, is married to Leo Dailey and has four children: William, Mary Lee, Francis, and Robert. They live in Melrose with Mrs. William TeVogt.

Delphia was born October 19, 1902 and is married to M. B. Schields. They live at Chicago, Illinois.

Norbert was born in May 1909, and he died in March 1910. He
