EDUCATION DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED

College is Host to Prominent School Men and Women

Saturday was Education Day at Ursinus and as has been customary for years the Schuylkill Valley Schoolmen's Association was the guest of the College on this occasion. This year an invitation was also extended to the Association of High School Principals of Montgomery County as well as Alumni engaged in teaching, to join in the celebration.

In spite of the fact that the attendance was meager those present entered heartily into the spirit of the meeting.

The morning session opened at 10.30 with a few remarks by Dr. Omwake, president of the College. In the course of his address Dr. Omwake impressed those present with the fact that education must be stressed as never before. For, said he, "We are living in an age that stands out as one of the high points in the annals of history." Mr. C. B. Pennypacker, of Ardmore, was then presented and very ably directed a discussion on the "Teaching of Morality."

At the close of the morning session a special dinner was served in the College Dining Hall. After this Dr. Homer Smith entertained the guests with an organ recital in Bomberger Hall.

At the afternoon session Dr. C. S. B. Reimer of Harrisburg, of the State Department of Education, gave a most enlightening and instructive talk paying particular attention to the extreme need for high school teachers at the present time.

THE MAY DANCE

All that the "Eds" and Coeds" anticipated when the College authorities issued the proclamation—"Students may dance," was more than realized on Saturday evening, May 29, at the long planned May Dance. The "Eds" in white ducks and the "Coeds" in organdies congenially mingled among each other and conversed with the honored guests, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Baden. Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Yost and Miss S. E. Ermold, who with Miss Ferree, '14, of West Chester, and Miss Sabold, '14, delightfully capricated as patrons and patronesses.

The decorations in shades of pink and yellow were light and airy, suggestive of May.

The special committee for this particular affair deserves much credit in bringing to a successful close the series of enjoyable dances held this past spring. The regular dance committee legislating and planning the procedure of all the social events is also to be commended. This dance was the last occasion of its nature for the year 1919-20, marking the temporary termination of a new institution at Ursinus—namely, formal dancing.

GLENWOOD ASSOCIATION MEETS AT URSINUS

On Thursday morning the Glenwood Association which is composed of former students of the Pennsylvania Female College met in the reception rooms in Freeland Hall. After the morning session in which business was transacted and a luncheon served in the Ursinus College dining room the Association met on the site of the Pennsylvania Female College where at 3 p. m. a memorial erected in honor of James Warrenne Sunderland, LL. D., founder of the College was dedicated. The following program was rendered: Invocation, Rev. W. O. Fegely, Trappe, Pa.; music; address of welcome, Francis J. Clamer; address, Mrs. Emma Hahn Olmstead, Washington, D. C.; music; address, A. H. Hendricks, Esq., Collegeville, Pa.; address, Rev. N. F. Schmidt, Schwenksville, Pa.; music.

The Glenwood Association is at present raising $2500 to be presented to Ursinus College as a scholarship for young women students and to be known as the Pennsylvania Female College Scholarship.

SOPHOMORES PROVE SUPREME.

Tuesday afternoon witnessed the final combat of the Frosh and Sophs. The game had the appearance of running into extra innings until the heavy end of the Soph batting order in the last inning touched Kerlin for two runs. The Frosh made a grand try at a comeback, walloping Rahn for three hits in the final inning, but the best they could do was score one run. The game ended with a 6 to 5 score, and the Sophs did the shouting.

Everybody on both teams fought to win. The Sophs however played as a unit and tightened in pinches while the Frosh made several poor plays at inopportune times. The pitching of both teams' moundmen was commendable. Greenawalt in right field starred for the Sophomores.

Sophs 2 0 1 0 0 1 2—6
Frosh 0 0 2 0 1 0 2—5

LARGE ENROLLMENT ASSURED

The executive offices of the College announced yesterday that the number of applications for admission in September by qualified students had already exceeded the available accommodations for the new school year. Further applications will continue to be received, however, and those who are best qualified for admission will receive a preference.

TENNIS

Saturday afternoon the Ursinus Tennis Team composed of Lentz and Bacon went to Allentown and played Muhlenberg. The result was favorable to Ursinus but details are unavailable up to time of going to press.

URSINUS DEFEATS FRANKLIN & MARSHALL

Ninth Inning Rally Wins Game From Old Rivals

Last Friday afternoon the Ursinus baseball team avenged its defeat at Lancaster by trimming the F. & M. nine by the score of 6-5. A sensational ninth inning rally consisting of an error and two two-base hits by Isenberg and Moser on which Miller and Isenberg scored with no one out did the work. In fact it was the reverse of the Lancaster game in which F. & M. rallied to victory in the disastrous ninth.

Howells for Ursinus and McIlvain for F. & M. pitched good games but the home nine connected with McIlvain's delivery for hits when needed. The hitting of Moser and Miller featured for Ursinus while the fielding of Canan and Knipe was commendable as was the catching of Helfrich who has proved himself a terror for base-stealers.

The last game away from home was played in Chester against Pennsylvania Military College, Saturday. The past few years brought victory to Ursinus but this year the wheel of fortune stopped at 4-0 in the cadets favor.

The game was a pitchers battle. Shellenberger pitched a great game, but was not supported as well as he should have been. Reilly, a port sider, retired sixteen of the twenty-seven men who faced him, and allowed but one hit. Knipe, our sensational short stop, connected for the only hit of the Ursinus team. Canan on third stopped the hot ones and slow ones like Herzog. The last game of the season will be played at home Saturday with Drexel Institute.

Editorial Comment

The Indian aborigines of this country herded together on reservations are slowly becoming extinct. The bison, once monarch of the plains, remains only in insignificant herds. Bird life has been destroyed until we have plant pests innumerable. Now even wild flowers, the hitherto unharmed beauty spots of Nature, are going the way of the Indian, bison and bird life.

One of the saddest accompaniments that spring brings to the true lover of Nature is the vandal who instead of taking time to pick flowers properly, pulls them out roots and all. Arbutus, lady slippers, pitcher plants, and many of the flowers most delicate or attractive are rapidly becoming extinct. Auto parties from the cities are most to blame but country people are not immune from this careless destruction. At College, too, as decorations in dining hall or dorms one occasionally finds flowers, roots, and all. Generations after us will want to enjoy beauty. If true love of Nature does not keep us from uprooting flowers, consideration for future generations should. Let's live and let live.

Laws cannot cure this wantonly destructive habit. Even with economic pressure to help law our birds are still killed. Only educated sentiment can save our wild flowers and our spots of beauty. The college graduate or student who does not have a keen interest in Nature and who is not willing to use effort to increase a sentiment which will create a true love of nature finding expression in repression of the destructive vandalism prevailing to-day is deficient in a phase of life as important as any treated in college.

The preservation of wild flowers may seem an insignificant topic, but it is the sun total of insignificant things that makes or mars. If our flower friends of spring-time are to make glad the days of our old age as they made glad the days of our youth we must take warning. United influence in word and deed creates overwhelming sentiment. G. P. K., '21.

SCHAFF LITERARY SOCIETY

An exceptionally good general literary program was rendered in Schaff Hall on Friday evening. Seriousness of the interesting variety marked every number.

Peterman opened the exercises with one of his usual captivating violin solos. The demand for an encore well illustrated the society's appreciation. Miss Light clearly presented the life of Wm. Dean Howells, after which Mr. Hoke gave a reading from that author. Weller, in his initial appearance as a vocal soloist held the attention of all, especially in his encore, a parody on "Bubbles." Miss Walker entertained with a short recitation. An instructive paper on the life of Mark Twain was read by Miss Herschberger. Mr. Newitt, in the role of an impersonator, in splendid manner gave characteristics of several members of the Ursinus faculty. The Gazette by Miss Kelley, forming the final number, contained an editorial of interest and importance to every Schaffite, together with a number of clever witticisms.

Schaff was glad to have as visitors Miss Myra Sabold, '14, and Miss Helen Ferree, '14.

The election of officers for the succeeding term resulted as follows: President, Mr. Kehl; vice president, Mr. Sheeder; recording secretary, Miss Huyett; corresponding secretary, Miss Deitz; chaplain, Mr. Fretz; Gazette editor No. 1, Mr. Newitt; No. 2, Mr. Reifsnnyder; No. 3, Miss M. Xander; janitor, Mr. Schlegel; critic, Miss Richman.

Y. W. C. A.

Wouldn't you like to go to Eaglesmere this summer, listen to inspired, far-seeing men and women, swim, compete in out-door sports, and hike along laurel Indian paths? Everybody present silently answered a vehement, "yes," to this question on Wednesday evening at Y. W.

Leah Gingrich; the leader, called upon various girls, who had gone at delegates last year, to depict certain of the conference phases. It was all very interesting and touching especially the closing number, the singing of the favorite Eaglesmere song by the entire delegation of last year.

After the meeting the following delegates were elected: Ruth Snyder, Dorothy Mentzer, Esther Shirey, Helen Fahringer, Louise Kunkle, Josephine Xander and Marguerite Moyer, with the hope that a few more girls later on will find it possible to go. Inasmuch as last year thirteen were sent, Ursinus should endeavor to send at least the same number, if not more.

Juniors and Sophs should do their best to be represented and thereby receive inspiration early and retain it thruout the college year. The conference extends from June 18 to 28.

ZWINGLIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

It was Junior night in Zwing Friday evening and that class acquitted itself well and gave a splendid program.

"Strains from the Junior Music Box" was the title of the first number by Miss Mentzer and Mr. Schwartz. The encore demanded by the listeners was deserved unquestionably. Miss Wood and Mr. E. Yost presented a real and well acted parody on the recent Junior Play with the assistance of most of those in the original play. A mock Junior Oratorical Contest was next in order under the capable leadership of Isenberg who also acted as judge of the affair. His clever work brought roars of laughter from the audience. The "Junior Chorus," Misses Harding and Snyder, leaders, occasioned much favorable comment. Miss Klingler deserves especial commendation for her "Junior Jingles." "The Junior Leap Year Dance" as portrayed by Miss Kunkle and Mr. Moser was provocative of much merriment. Mr. Helffrich gave us a clever insight into Ruby staff affairs and its attendant worries. The Junior Review by Mr. Lentz contained some excellent jokes and a splendid editorial. The society was pleased to hear from Mr. Samuel Miller and Mr. Shellhase of the class of 1918.

At the election the following officers were chosen: President, D. L. Helffrich; vice president, Mr. Zent; treasurer, Mr. Rutter; attorney, Mr. E. Yost; recording secretary, Miss Lawrence; corresponding secretary, Miss Kirkpatrick; critic, Miss Heindel; chaplain, W. K. Beattie; editor No 1, F. W. Stauffer; editor No. 2, Miss Ash; musical director, Miss Mosteller; janitor, Neuroth.

Y. M. C. A.

At the last regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, Miles Miller gave a very interesting talk upon the work to be taken up by the college graduate. College life is a preparation for the business or professional life of the future. This preparation should be founded upon Christian principles. The idea of service to mankind should so impress those upon the verge of graduation as to make service their foremost aim.

The quota of delegates to the Silver Bay Conference in July has not yet been attained. Will not more men go?

TWO COMMENCEMENT EVENTS

The Girls' Glee Club will present its regular program at its home concert Saturday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock. The club has been giving a series of successful concerts and has been warmly received everywhere.

In connection with the play presented by the Senior expression class Monday, June 7, 10.30 a. m., a song cycle entitled "The Morning of the Year" by Charles Wakefield Cadman will be rendered by L. Bernice Wagner, soprano, Leah A. Gingrich, alto, David S. Tyson, tenor, and Daniel N. Tippin, bass.

Monday evening the Sophomores elected officers for the first half of next year. The following were elected: C. L. Rutter, president; H. A. Altenderfer, vice president; C. H. Weller, treasurer, and Mildred Mitman, secretary.

ALUMNI NOTES

J. Carroll Deisher, '19, has been elected to the position of assistant treasurer of the Royersford Foundry and Machine Co., of Royersford, Pa.

The College Male Quartette gave a concert at Southampton last Tuesday evening, and was very well received by a large and appreciative audience. E. A. Brehm, '10 was instrumental in booking the quartette for this concert.

Harold B. Kerschner, '16, received his B. D. from Union Theological Seminary last week. After completing a course in the Summer School at Columbia University he will receive the degree of Master of Arts in September. He is at present pastor of Kent Street Reformed Church of Brooklyn.

Scrubs Win at Haverford.

The Scrub team won a well contested battle over Haverford Prep School on Wednesday, May 26 by the score of 3-1. The pitching of Howells was the feature of the game. The team made hits when hits were needed and played exceptionally close ball through the whole game. Richards was the individual star in the infield, accepting all of his many hard chances while Paine contributed to victory with good stick work.

The Y. M. would like a large delegation at Silver Bay. It's a trip that will never be regretted. Think it over.

STUDENTS' COLUMN

The United States Department of Agriculture urges college students as a means of securing summer work and also performing a patriotic duty by relieving an acute shortage of farm labor to secure work for the summer upon a farm. The supply of labor is only 72 per cent. of the normal supply. The Director of Agricultural Extension, Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa., will give information.

At the business meeting of the H-P Group on Thursday the following officers were elected for next year: President Schwartz; vice president, Paine; treasurer, Detwiler; secretary, Canan.

The last joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will be held on the campus on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The Presidents will address the meeting.

On Thursday evening the Greek class taught by C. E. Heffelfinger, '20, tendered their instructor a farewell party in the reception room of Shreiner Hall.

MUSIC HISTORY CLASS TRIP.

On Saturday, May 22, the Music History Class enjoyed a most interesting day in Philadelphia. Guided by Professor Jolls, the class first visited Fairmount Park and studied the music section of the Museum and proceeded to the music exhibits of the University of Pennsylvania Museum. After luncheon at the home of Prof. Jolls, the members of the class journeyed to Wanamaker's. Here the great privilege of viewing the console and interior of the marvelous Wanamaker organ, under the guidance of Mr. Fleming, builder of the organ, was theirs. The music students are agreed it was a day of pleasure and profit.

Chem-Bi Group Meeting.

The Chem-Bi Group met in Schaff Hall last Thursday evening. It was Senior night and the program which was almost entirely given by the Seniors was very well prepared and delightfully rendered: The individual numbers follow: Vocal solo, Mr. Tyson; violin solo, Mr. Peterman; biological specimens, Mr. Light; Senior will, Mr. L. Glass; impersonation, Miss Brooks; the Chem-Bi Group, Mr. Walton, and a talk by Mr. Deitz.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, J. H. Brownback; vice president, Josephine Xander; treasurer, A. Glass, and secretary, Miss Lawrence.

Third of Musical Recitals

On Monday, May 24, at 5 p. m., another recital of students from the vocal and instrumental departments was held. The program was as follows: "Deep River," Cole-ridge-Taylor, Miss Mentzer; "Slumberland," Turner, Mr. Weller; "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell, and "From Uncle Remus," Miss Stevens; "Gay Little Dandelion," Chadwick, Miss Purrington; "Prelude" Op. 28, No. 20, Chopin, Miss S'amp; "Four-Leaved Clover," Willoughby, Miss Snyder; "Prelude" Op. 28, No. 15, Chopin Miss M't-man; "The Cure's Garden," Richards, Miss Heindel; "Baby Clovers," Miss Wagner; "The Monk and the Mountain," Bullard, Mr. Shellenberger.
