DELAWARE COLLEGE ELEVEN FALLS PREY OF URSINUS

Collegeville S. A. T. C. Team Wins In Easy Fashion, 9-0

Ursinus, after recuperating from the severe trouncing by the Navy, came back last Saturday and swept Delaware off their feet from the very beginning to the end of the game. Although somewhat lighter than their opponents the Collegeville lads had no difficulty in conquering them. In fact Ursinus' goal was only threatened once, the ball being on the 10-yard line.

Captain Isenberg won the toss and elected to receive. Ursinus started like a gust of wind. McCarragher ran the ball back twenty yards from the kickoff and in two more plays the ball was in midfield. Then Isenberg caught a well-directed forward pass from McCarragher and ran forty yards for a touchdown just four minutes after the game had started. Isenberg had no difficulty in kicking the goal. Delaware braced but could not get within striking distance of Ursinus' goal line and the ball was exchanged several times on punts and the period ended with Delaware in possession of the pigskin on Ursinus' 30-yard line.

The second period witnessed the desperate attempts of Delaware to score. However, the Ursinus line held them for downs and quickly marched down the field. But just when it seemed as though Ursinus was going to score again a Delaware halfback intercepted a forward pass from McCarragher. Delaware again lost the ball on downs and after a line buck and a run around end Newitt, the speedy Ursinus end, caught a long pass from Isenberg and this put the ball on Delaware's 10-yard line. Fritz advanced five yards but the whistle blew before Ursinus could score.

Delaware was more successful during the last half. Loose, Stewart and McCaughan

SCHAFF PLAY

As the month of December draws near bringing in its wake the event of the annual Schaff Play, quite a number of inquiries have been made with regards to it. Owing to prevalent conditions the question of rendering a play this year was at first a mooted one and the rumor was rife that there would be no Schaff play. The committee in charge, however, has finally made the necessary arrangements and the performance will be given, not at the regular time, but about a month later than customary.

This year Schaff will revert from tragedy to comedy and endeavor to present one of the modern, high-grade comedies. It is thought that within a week or so the title of the chosen play will be divulged and the date of its rendition published.

SPRINKLE HALL FIVE TROUNCES COLLEGEVILLE

Visitors Completely Outclassed by Speedy Civilians

The Sprinkle Hall basketball team made its debut on Thursday evening in Thompson Cage by defeating the Collegeville High team to the tune of 27-9.

Each team was ardently supported by a large retinue of rooters. The clientele of the high school was present to a man; but the fair Ursinus co-eds who came out to cheer the Sprinkle boys on to victory were never in danger of being overshadowed.

The Sprinkle tossers took the lead from the start and had little difficulty in carrying the ball into their own territory at will. The first half ended with Ursinus having a 19-5 lead.

In the second half the Sprinkleites went into the fray "hammer and tongs" and when they emerged from the conflict the score was comfortably in their favor. Although outplayed throughout the game the high school boys never slackened in their efforts, but displayed a wonderful amount of determination.

The Sprinkle team presented a very formidable line-up: Shellenberger, formerly of Perkiomen, was at center; Frutchey, the Bangor High star, and Rahn, the former Collegeville speedboy, played forward, while Paine, of Lebanon, and May, of Baringer High, Newark, held down the guard positions. Altendorfer, of Bethlehem Prep., was also in the game during the last quarter. If the skill that the Ursinus boys displayed in this game is a criterion from which we may judge the future, great things in the way of basket ball may be expected this season.

ENGLISH-HISTORICAL GROUP HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

Everyone Present Has Enjoyable Time.—Some Unique Games Played

On Thursday evening the English-Historical Group met for the first time this year, in Olevian Hall. A musical program was rendered, the first number of which was a piano solo by Miss Wagner. This was followed by a vocal duet by Misses Lattell and Gingrich; a recitation by Miss Sutcliffe; a ukelele quartet led by Miss Knauer; an impersonation by Miss Moul; and a piano duet by Misses Snyder and Shiffert. Dr. Smith entertained the Group with a very interesting description of the organs he saw during his travels last summer. Every number on the program was excellent and was greatly enjoyed. The social hour began with a spirited "Group Sing" in which every one joined heartily. The rest of the evening was spent in a novel way. The members were divided into four groups, or "colleges," of which Vassar was captained by Miss Chandler, Sic-em-more by Miss Light, Camouflage by Miss Moyer and Beat-em by Miss Jones. There were four contests in which the representatives of each "college" competed. The first was a shot-put, which was followed by a one-yard dash. The two contests that were most enjoyed were the running high squeal and the bowl game. Beat-em College took second. After the strenuous effort put forth in these contests, everyone was ready to do justice to the appetizing refreshments which were served. All agreed that they had spent a delightful evening.

The new officers for the Group are: President, Miss Jones, vice-president, Miss Fries; secretary, Miss Mentzer; treasurer, Miss Lattell. Dr. Smith received a letter from Guy A. Koons, '17, a former president of the English-Historical Group, in which he asked to be remembered to his old friends in the Group. Mr. Koons was in the trenches "Over There" when the letter was written.

On Sunday evening at about 7.15 o'clock the S. A. T. C. unit was marched from College to Evansburg to attend the services at the Evansburg Methodist Episcopal Church where the Rev. Daniel B. Franklin (a student at Ursinus) is pastor. The pastor's dissertation was on the subject of "Brotherhood." It is needless to say that the sermon proved to be a most excellent one replete with appropriate illustrations and lofty sentiments.

Frutchey, '22, was elected captain of the Sprinkle Hall basket ball team.

Most of the S. A. T. C. men visited their homes over Saturday and Sunday.

Editorial Comment

Another year has rolled by and the Thanksgiving season is with us again. We all know how Thanksgiving day originated—how the Pilgrim Fathers, out of deep gratitude, set this one day aside for Thanksgiving and prayer. They rejoiced in the body by using the gifts that God had bestowed on them,—thus we have the feasting time of turkey, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, and everything that's good. They also rejoiced in the spirit by setting aside a time for fasting, thought, and prayer. In the rush of time the second attribute of Thanksgiving dropped out. It has been handed down by tradition as a feasting day. Thanksgiving, turkey, and pumpkin pie to some minds seem almost synonymous.

The whole world has something for which to be thankful. The great struggle has ceased and the period of reconstruction is here. We can now use all the forces of nature in the building up of humanity. There has been a triumph of Democracy over Autocracy, of liberty over oppression, and of right over might. We, Ursinus people, have much to be thankful for. During the epidemic we passed through the "shadow of death" unscarred. We have healthy minds and bodies to meet the present demand. Not only are we living in a momentous age, but we have the advantage of a college education which makes us leaders in this, the greatest of all ages.

This year has been different in every way from all preceding years with their changes and surprises. In keeping with the times let us turn away from the traditional Thanksgiving with its feasting alone—and observe a real Thanksgiving day. Let us enjoy home and all the goodies that the season brings, but let us also remember the second attribute,—that of thought and prayer. Let us have a Thanksgiving in the full meaning of the word—a true thanks giving day. E. M. B., '19.

The editor wishes to take this opportunity of thanking Misses Chandler and Moul and Mr. Hoke, who, although not members of the "Weekly" staff have most generously and willingly given of their time and talent to help during that period when the staff was seriously crippled because of the illness of a number of its members.

We are glad to note that the "Y" room has, at last, been opened. The difficulties which presented themselves in the means of transportation made the securing of supplies, at an earlier date, an impossibility and as a result the good work was somewhat held up.

Through the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. a number of entertainments will be given which being of a very high caliber, will prove both beneficial and entertaining to the men. E. Y. R., '19.

Y. W. C. A.

The spirit of the meeting was one of thankfulness and praise throughout, from the first part of the service, under the leadership of Mary Closson, to the second part with Jessamine Macdonald in charge.

Miss Closson very appropriately arranged the meeting as a song service and all the hymns were suitable to the season.

In her talk, Miss Macdonald, recalled the first Thanksgiving when the pilgrims set aside two days—one for feasting and thanksgiving and the following day to be observed by fasting and humiliation. The former day has been observed ever since, but the latter has been abolished. Turning to our own time we find again that devotion to a high ideal has brought us safely through the horrors of war and because the cause was noble and our men faithful, God has blessed our efforts with the rich harvest of victory and peace.

But let us remember the day of fasting of the pilgrims and like them, let us not become too arrogant nor selfish in claiming the rewards of the conquest. Let us remember that there are some who have suffered more than we have and to whom a friendly smile and a kind word mean more than we can realize.

Y. M. C. A.

On Wednesday evening the "Y" meeting held in Bomberger was well attended. Following the singing of a few hymns the secretary read the Scripture lesson.

The speaker, Rev. Mr. Williams, pastor of Lower Providence Presbyterian Church, was then introduced.

His topic, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" was well interpreted. This he stated is an important question to-day. It is a practical question. Men are bartering away their souls for a mess of pottage. For instance, our late enemy Germany. She has made a bid for a conquered world. Has she succeeded? This great tragedy of Germany suggests to us that this is an important question. Germany to-day has lost her three strongest elements, namely, character, soul, morality. She has tried to teach the world that God is on the side of heavy artillery. Her philosophers tried to spread German Kultur throughout the world. But all her jealous ambitions have failed. Her ruthless warfare and treachery in all her dealings has taught the world to put no trust in her. Thus we see that Germany is a complete wreck.

Now in contrasting the tragic condition of Germany, what parallel might be drawn with ourselves? Don't we find ourselves sometimes bartering our souls for pottage; for things not beneficial to the soul's welfare? Though we may try to camouflage ourselves, nevertheless God sees through. Money may be our aim, but it can never take the place of character. "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Nor is it personal appearance. We judge not by stature, but by heart. Man looks on outward appearance; God on inward. Nor is it position, but the manner in which we execute the authority of that position. Let us not, therefore, follow the example of Germany, but a true light,—Jesus Christ.

Zwinglian Literary Society

A short but enjoyable program was given in Zwing on Friday evening. The first number, an original story by Miss Wood, was a cleverly depicted romance full of humor and originality. The characters were local thus adding a special interest to the story. Miss Mitman then played a very pretty piano solo followed by an encore which was also well-played and enjoyed. The next number was an Encomium of Alan Seegar by Miss Fries. Alan Seegar is one of our war-time poets and Miss Fries gave a splendid sketch of his romantic life and untimely death. Seegar is only one of the many men whose genius has been lost through the world war. A parliamentary drill was next on the program. The leaders of this, Messrs. Hefren, Bacon, Hedrick and Brightbill, drew up a plot in which two members of the Society took the leading parts. The drill, which lasted for fifteen minutes, was valuable in bringing out some important points of parliamentary law. Mr. Schwartz, the editor of the Review, read a timely editorial followed by jokes which were appreciated by all.

Election was held, the results of which are as follows: President, Mr. Clamer; vice-president, Miss Moul; recording secretary, Miss Reiner; corresponding secretary, Miss Ash; critic, Miss Jones; pianist, Miss Mitman; editor, No. 1, Mr. Brown; editor, No. 2, Miss Knauer; janitor, Mr. Rutter, and chaplain, Mr. Zendt.

SPECIAL FEATURES AT SING

At every one of the Thursday night sings, a special feature is arranged and this week everyone was delighted to find that there were two,—one which was planned and another which came as a surprise.

After several ensemble numbers, the Girls Glee Club, made their debut this year, with two very beautiful selections. The one, a rather heavy and elaborate arrangement of a song whose sentiment is touching and the melody lovely—"Dear Lad O' Mine." The second was a light catchy little tune with snappy words—"Knitting."

The new football coach, Mr. Frank Sommers, who was present, was called on and gave a very interesting talk, encouraging the team and urging everyone to stand by them for they are fighting against odds continually. When he had finished everyone joined in a loud, long, lusty yell for the coach.

Schaff Literary Society.

The program which was debate, in nature, was very appropriately opened with a piano duet by Misses Greta and Louise Hinkle. The question for debate was: Resolved, "That a League of Nations Should Be Established to Insure International Peace." All of the speakers had clearly outlined their arguments and had a good delivery. The affirmative speakers were Mr. Paladino, Miss Grim and Mr. Frederick and the negative speakers were Mr. Krekstein, Mr. Detwiler and Miss Schweigert. As usual the rebuttals were the most spirited speeches, Mr. Paladino delivering the rebuttal for the affirmative and Mr. Krekstein for the negative side. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative side.

One of the most enjoyable numbers of the evening was a chorus under the leadership of Miss Laub, which gave a very clever original song.

Mr. Young, as editor of the Gazette, kept the Society in paroxysms of laughter as he "reeled" off one joke after another. The program was closed with a very thorough though just critic's report by Mr. Deisher.

S. A. T. C. NOTES

There was considerable excitement on Wednesday afternoon when the woolen uniforms and overcoats arrived from the Quartermaster's Department in Philadelphia. Those who had the distribution of the clothing in charge were almost pestered to death with foolish questions and were therefore glad when Thursday morning dawned and the hour-hand pointed to seven at which time distribution was made. Of course there were the usual misfits and swappings but ultimately everything was straightened out and the men appeared resplendent in their new outfits. As the Fates would have it, permits were issued for the men to go down town in order to get hair-cuts and so quite a number were afforded the opportunity of displaying their new acquisitions before the eyes of the admiring (?) townsfolk. It is an undeniable fact that some of the overcoats do look suspiciously like bathrobes, but then they are warm and style is not a prerequisite of a good soldier.

If the S. A. T. C. unit continues to pass through the neighboring villages on its hikes it might be suggested that the proprietors of the local emporiums replenish their supplies of chocolate (?) and other hard-tack (?).

Bancroft, '19, who has been absent from College for over a month because of illness has now returned and resumed his studies. We hope that it will not be long until some splendid articles from Mr. Bancroft's pen will make their appearance in the pages of the "Weekly."

Private Mark Messenger, '17, of the Chemical Warfare Service of the U. S. Army, stationed at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., renewed acquaintances about the College on Tuesday last.

Miss Hilda M. Zweier, from West Chester Normal, visited Dorothy Mentzer over the week end.

Miss Natalia A. Beach, ex-'14, who withdrew from college before completing her course in order that she might accompany her family to the far west, subsequently continued her work in California and is now Registrar in the State Normal School at Santa Barbara, that state. Miss Beach's mother, who was for a time principal of Shreiner Hall, makes her home with her daughter in the Santa Barbara bungalow.

Miss Rhea E. Duryea, '08, 3528 North Eighteenth Street, Philadelphia, treasurer of the Coal Committee of Ursinus College reports a lengthy list of recent contributors to the Coal Fund which has now passed the eleven hundred dollar mark. This fund is expected to reach four thousand dollars before the end of the year, the purpose of the Committee being to furnish the entire coal supply of the College for the coming winter.

An Ursinus family well represented in patriotic service is that of Rev. Wm. U. Helffrich, '93, pastor of Christ Reformed Church, Bath, Pa. Mr. Helffrich in addition to his pastoral duties, works in the voucher department of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Mrs. Nora Shuler Helffrich, '93, is employed at the same place. Donald L. Helffrich, ex-'20, a son, is at Camp Selfridge, Mt. Clemens, Mich., in the Aviation Division of the Signal Service.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM LOSES

The second race of the cross-country team resulted in a defeat for the Ursinus runners, administered by Blair Academy at Blairstown, N. J. The score of the meet, which extended along a course of 3½ miles, was 18 to 37.

The team labored under great difficulties, as they had been traveling up to fifteen minutes before the race.

Though tired from travel, the spirits of the men were excellent and every one showed their gameness by finishing in the race; which ended as follows

- No. 3 ..... Greenawalt
- No. 7 ..... Rutter
- No. 8 ..... Klingaman
- No. 9 ..... Sames
- No. 10 ..... Meyer
- No. 11 ..... Detwiler
- No. 12 ..... Kohler

The entire team was not represented at Blair, as Eiseman, Brown and Morningstar are still on the hospital list; while Kohr, Snyder and Johnson were unable to attend the meet.

Gilbert A. Deitz, A. B., '18, has at last secured his furlough from the Chemical Warfare Service of the Army and is now at College. As the Chemistry classes are exceptionally large this year and, so far, have had no laboratory work, Mr. Deitz will be kept pretty busy. However if we may judge from his former activities in chemical lines both at school and at Washington there is no doubt that the back exercises will be speedily made up and the work in the laboratory progress rapidly.

broke through Ursinus' defense occasionally and a pair of passes also helped to place the ball in enemy territory. Just then the tide turned by Ursinus intercepting a pass and on a series of plunges Delaware territory was invaded. Finally Ursinus was forced to kick and Delaware gradually headed for a score but upon being held a drop kick was tried but missed the bar.

In the final period Delaware made their last dying attempt to score but the best they could do was to arrive at the 10-yard line. Ursinus' other two points were made when Pierson, the Delaware quarterback became confused and placed the ball on the ground back of Ursinus' goal after picking up Isenberg's kick on the 5-yard line.

Although the game was rather loosely played it gave Coach Sommer a chance to straighten out Ursinus in preparation for the big Thanksgiving Day game at Muhlenberg.
