ARTISTS SERVE FOR RED CROSS

Enjoyable Concert Under Auspices of Collegeville Chapter Draws Large Crowd

Bomberger hall, on Thursday evening, was the scene of a really fine entertainment given under the auspices of the Collegeville Branch of the American Red Cross. This organization, which has its headquarters in Freeland Hall, has been doing an excellent work and took this method of raising some very necessary money.

The program throughout was of an exceptionally high character. The performers were all true artists who had given their services to the cause and each of whom strove to make the gift a valuable one by doing the best possible work. It would indeed be difficult to make any distinction as to merit or popularity of any of the numbers or performers for the large audience that completely filled Bomberger seemed thoroughly pleased with all.

The talented persons who so kindly aided the Red Cross ladies in this noble work were: Vocalists, Miss May Farley of Philadelphia and Mr. Thomas R. Middleton of Norristown; readers, Mrs. Margaret Welthall Nortenheim of Philadelphia and Mrs. Dorothy Gristock Light of Collegeville; violinist, Mr. Walter Slough of Norristown; organist, Mr. Harry A. Sykes, of Norristown and accompanist, Mr. Henry Lukens of Philadelphia.

Part I: Organ Solo, Andante and Allegro, from the "Cuckoo and Nightingale," Handel, Mr. Sykes; Reading, selected, Mrs. Light; Vocal Solo, selected, Miss Farley; Violin Solos, (a) "Cradle Song," Schubert, (b) "Minuet," Beethoven, Mr. Slough; Reading, selected, Mrs. Nortenheim; Vocal Solo, "Call Me No More," Cadman, Mr. Middleton.

Part II: Vocal Solo, selected, Miss Farley; Reading, selected, Mrs. Nortenheim; Violin Solo, "Fantasie Caprice," Vieuxtemps, Mr. Slough; Vocal Solos, (a) "I Wept Beloved," Georges Hue, (b) "My Boy," Huhn, Mr. Middleton; Reading, selected, Mrs. Light; Vocal Solo, selected, Miss Farley; Reading, selected, Mrs. Nortenheim; Organ Solo, (Continued on page eight)

'VARSITY LOSES TO LEHIGH TEAM

Hardfought Battle Results in 13-7 Victory For University Team

The strong Lehigh team was forced to content itself with a small score in the hotly contested game Saturday at South Bethlehem. Coach Keady, not wanting to take any chances of a defeat, speeded up his machine in the last quarter in a desperate effort to clinch the game.

Ursinus kept her heavier opponents from scoring during the first period. Early in the second period, however, Nolan and Halstead took the ball to the 6-yard line, from where Halstead plunged over for the first touchdown. This only served to arouse the Ursinus spirit, and from then until the last period the Collegeville boys proved invincible in defense. It was in this last period that Harrington, for the Brown and White players carried the ball across, and the goal was kicked, totaling Lehigh's 13 points.

In the last three minutes of play, with Lehigh in possession of the ball, McNamara fumbled and "Woody," who played a strong game at tackle for Ursinus, seized the ball and ran 45 yards for a touchdown.

As a high score by Lehigh was generally expected, and taking into consideration the inequality in weight of the two teams, and the inexperienced men on the Ursinus line, Coach Thompson may well be proud of the stiff fight and good showing his team put up. Great hopes are held for the Lafayette game next Saturday. The line-up:

LEHIGH		URSINUS
Owens	Left Guard	Helffrich
McDonald	Centre	Light
Early	Right Guard	Lentz
Johnson	Right Tackle	H. Gulick
Young	Right End	Witman
Nolan	Quarterback	Richards
Harrington	Halfback	Bowman
Lind	Halfback	Evans
Halstead	Fullback	Isenberg

Touchdowns—Halstead, Harrington, Wood. Goals from touchdown—Halstead, Wood. Referee—Thorpe, Columbia; Umpire—Fonda, Stevens. Head Linesman—Chenoweth, Lehigh. Time of periods—10 minutes. Substitutions—Sterrer for McDonald, McNamara for Nolan, Savarra for Lind, Maginnis for Early, Schellhase for Helffrich, Glass for Lentz.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR DR. WEINBERGER

Exercises in Honor of Late Professor Emeritus Held Last Sunday Afternoon

An impressive service was held in Bomberger Hall last Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in honor of the late Professor Emeritus J. Shelly Weinberger, LL. D., of Collegeville, Pa. It was quite fitting that the College should thus memorialize the faithful labors and life of one who had been associated with the institution from its inception and had devoted much time and energy towards its welfare, and the exercises served to inspire a higher opinion of the noble efforts of the early leaders of the College, and a new determination to put forth greater effort in the present.

Prof. C. D. Yost read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer, after which a biographical sketch of Dr. Weinberger was read by Dean W. A. Kline, pointing out his valuable services as a teacher, a citizen, and a church member. Dr. Henry T. Spangler then presented a worthy tribute to the deceased, showing clearly his sterling virtues of godliness and faithfulness, and lamented the passing of men possessing such qualities. President Geo. Leslie Omwake, in conclusion, spoke of Dr. Weinberger as exemplifying in his life all the old Grecian ideals, as being further an exemplary American patriot, and most of all, a man in whose heart was the divine love.

FACULTY RECITAL

That the very high standard of the Music Department of Ursinus will see no lowering was amply demonstrated last Tuesday evening in Bomberger Hall when Miss Clara E. Waldron and Mr. John Myron Jolls gave a Faculty Recital. Miss Waldron, who succeeds Miss Lewis as Instructor in Piano and the Theory of Music, proved herself a finished and accomplished artist on the piano. Mr. Jolls, who has never failed Ursinus, again showed himself the master he is. The students are congratulating themselves on still having Mr. Jolls and on having acquired a new friend and instructor in Miss Waldron. In every way the recital bespoke a most successful year along musical lines.

The Tower Window

THE registration slips reveal a good deal of information about ourselves as a college which will be of public interest.

Of the 148 students who registered at the opening of college (I think a few have come in since the record was examined for this study), 81 are young men and 67 are young women. The average age of these students is 20 1-10 years. The youngest student, a young man, is 16; two students, men, are above 30.

Nearly all of the present students of Ursinus are church members, representing thirteen different denominations as follows:

Reformed	75	Mennonite	8
Lutheran	18	Catholic	2
Presbyterian	13	Jewish	2
Methodist	11	Moravian	1
Episcopal	8	United Brethren	1
Church of Brethren	4	Evangelical	1
Baptist	3	Noncommittal	6

We can vouch for the Christian character of those who put down no denominational affiliation for themselves quite as readily as for most of those who do so. In this connection should be recalled the statement made in the WEEKLY of last week, namely, that all of the young men residing in the dormitories have enrolled for Bible study classes under the Y. M. C. A. The same is doubtless approximately true in the case of the young women.

The parentage of the student body is quite interesting. Of the 132 living fathers, only two are retired, the rest representing 16 occupations. They are:

Business Men	38	Contractors	3
Farmers	27	Physicians	2
Tradesmen	18	Engineers	2
Mg'rs and Foremen	14	Artists	2
Ministers	8	Lawyers	1
Postal Service	5	Dentists	1
Teachers	4	Architects	1
Bankers	3	Army Officers	1

This is an array to be proud of. It gives some indication of the stuff Ursinus students are made of. It shows that our students come from homes of activity. Back of us as a college is a body of men who are helping to do the world's work. Let us show no less practical enterprise in the work we do here.

MEMORIES OF BOSTON

The editor asks me to write, to pen, to inscribe or indite of holiday ambles, Bostonian rambles and memories happy and bright of the city New Englanders dub the principal centre and hub of the universe great from North Cape to the Strait and from Pribylov Isles to Uskub.

In Boston, the funny men used to say that the infants refused to take any supper from mummer or pupper until they were first introduced; and spectacled Waldo would say, when asked "How's the young man to-day": "My health, I opine, is remarkably fine; quite normal in every way." In Boston the folks are supposed to be simply not it till disclosed to be truly descended from Pilgrims who wended, intolerance sternly opposed, their way in the Mayflower small a fifth round this watery ball, defying the demons (consult Mrs. Hemans) of forest and winter and all.

Perhaps that's all true in Back Bay, but I was out Roxbury way, where Murphys and Owens, Trentowskis and Cohens are common as birds are in May; and the Frog Pond was full of small boys and girls who were testing the joys of bathing together in hot, humid weather with plenty of laughter and noise. The fact is democracy's rife throughout the community's life, and every great city, (perhaps it's a pity,) is full of its clamor and strife.

Large towns as they increase in size acquire very similar guise, their main features agree in les Etats Unis; (to all lands this hardly applies). Tall buildings and subways that roar, signs flashing on sky-lines that soar proclaiming the virtue of whisky ('twill hurt you) or Dashes' departmental store; broad boulevards blazoned with flags and almost deserted by nags, but swarming with hordes of Buicks and Fords with forty-eight states' license tags; more remarkable are, to my mind, the queer narrow streets as they wind, (they were made by the cows that delighted to browse in the devious way of their kind), all vibrant with newsboys' loud yells and clang of the trolley car bells as they rapidly jump from hollow to hump past dwellings and stores and hotels; and drab, dreary flats by the mile, spacious suburbs with gardens that smile, and pestilent slums where the alien comes and buildings of varying style.

But characteristic, I think, of Boston alone, link by link, the Parkways' long chain that o'er hillside and plain, by river, by pond, by sea's brink, encircles the town with its shades, its cool, sedgy waters, its glades, its hilltops, wood crowned, its pleasant play ground, its wide views and close ambuscades. On the upper Charles river canoeing, from the Blue Hills the scenery viewing, seeing bears at the zoo, and elephants too, and birds each the other out-hueing, Arboretumwards studying trees, on the harbor enjoying the breeze, at Nantasket the surf, in the Gardens the turf—you may choose any prospect you please.

Then Harvard has added renown to the name of this notable town, and Technology, too,—its fine buildings new adorn its fair fame like a crown.

This August from near and from far came the men of the famed G. A. R. and each Boston street was honored to greet the heroes of freedom's last war, while in khaki or naval white clad was many a splendid young lad, preparing to go to fight liberty's foe as the veteran army men had. We trust, not this nation alone, but all men will brotherhood own, that soon, after strife, shall begin a new life with Liberty firm in her throne.

Hallowe'en Fete

On Saturday evening, October 27, a fine old-fashioned Hallowe'en party with festival features will be held in Bomberger Hall. Committees are being formed to arrange for the great variety of attractions which will characterize the event.

It will be the occasion on which the new downstairs rooms will be thrown open to the public. Inasmuch as these have been provided partly as an accommodation to day students the aim will be to make the party a community as well as a college affair.

Alumni who would like to visit the College and meet old friends and classmates should make this the occasion of their return.

The proceeds of the fete will be used in helping to meet the expense of furnishing the new compartments.

Editorial Comment

"What would you do if your team lost every game this year?" said one of the football men at a recent "pep" meeting. There's food for a bit of deep thinking in that question. Not that anybody imagines that our team is really going to lose every game of the season, but the query points the way to a truer realization of just what consistent loyalty is. But there isn't any need to say "consistent loyalty"—loyalty implies consistency. How many of us are really and truly loyal to our team? Of course when the team wins, we can shout as loudly as the next one, yet when the eleven comes home defeated, don't we sometimes begin to "crab" and complain? That's not loyalty. Your "rooting" does not amount to anything if it is not as loud one moment as the next.

But you might cheer for the team from the beginning of the season to the last game, and still not realize the farthest extent of which loyalty is capable. You must not only be a "rooter", you must be a supporter as well. That means to offer your services, to be out on the field or grandstand whenever you can. It means "to talk up", to slap the fellows on the back, and wish them success, to let the team know you're with them all the time.

The men out there on the field are working very, very hard for us and for our college. Even if they should lose every game it is our duty to stand by and loyally support them. But with true support, our team isn't going to lose. The responsibility rests with all of us for the success of the season. Who will be the chief booster?

P. E. D., '18.

That which applies to the American people as a whole or that which causes any change in their attitude towards existing conditions must, in part at least, leave its imprint on even a secluded community such as Ursinus. Perhaps, too, the depth and continuity of that impress varies directly with the extent to which that community is in touch with country and world-wide conditions.

Ursinus, as never before, is linked up with this crisis in our national affairs. The heart of her student body beats in tune with the great heart of the American people for her sons and daughters, and the brothers, sisters and friends of her sons and daughters are part and parcel of Democracy's great sacrificial effort. From this reasoning, we would conclude that Ursinus, like the rest of America, is "going through the fire" to come out a "refined product."

Such, too, is the real case. Never before has the spirit of Ursinus been so good. Her students are more eager for education and training than ever before; their attitude, their unity of purpose is higher. Though few in number, they have, as it were, come through the fire. May we never return to the smug, self-centered, self-satisfied attitude of the independent community, but keep ever attuned to the throbbing consciousness of our people. Then, and then only, will Ursinus have the real satisfaction that comes from living. She will be, not an eddy in the nation's life current, but a pulsating, dynamic artery maintaining and controlling its potency and treasure.

Miss Harclerode, '20, was the guest of Miss Grim, '20, at the latter's home in Perkasio, over the week end.

Rev. John A. Koons, '09, of Hopewell, North Carolina, was recently unanimously re-elected as President of the Rowan County Sunday School Association.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

The joint meeting of the Christian Associations held on Wednesday evening in Bomberger was conducted by Mr. Yaukey, '19. A beautiful violin selection "The Shepherd Boy" was artistically rendered by Mr. Rutscky, '19.

The speaker whom the committee secured for this night, was Freeman C. Havighurst, Student Volunteer Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. His remarks in brief were:

"There is a question which comes to all men at this time. Am I a slacker? What right have fellows to be in college today when their room-mates are in training camps, in the trenches or even in prisons? The answer is found in a statement made by a great Y. M. C. A. worker, 'America has never needed her universities as she needs them today'. The nation demands not only clear thinking, but also Christian thinking, and where can she find persons of such calibre but in an institution like Ursinus and in an association like the Y. M. C. A. You can serve in no better way than by going to college to train for educated thinking. We are slackers only when we do not enter into the sacrifices which are brothers are undergoing in France.

"Another kind of service is that which we should render to our God. Two million men died in battle last year. How must Christ have felt to see so many die, some of them in sin? And yet thirty-three million people died last year in non-Christian lands. Oh! how the heart of Christ must have bled to see so many depart from this world without the knowledge of a living God!

"The secretaries want to raise $1,000,000 for Y. M. C. A. work in the prison camps. But do you know that only $170,000 was given last year for work in non-Christian lands? The call comes for young men and young women, who are willing to go to the foreign fields. There is always a great expansion in the missionary fields after a great war. Only college graduates are sent to the foreign field today and only 2% of the people of the United States go through college. Our responsibility surely is great. The fate of millions is resting on our shoulders. If the people in the past would have let Jesus come into their hearts this war would not be raging. You can 'do your bit' by finding out what Jesus Christ wants you to do with your lives".

The remarks of Mr. Havighurst were followed by a flute solo by Mr. Trucksess, '19.

Miss Beulah Scheaffer, '17, is vice-principal in the Bainbridge High School.

Literary Societies

Schaff Society

B. F. Keith himself should have been at Schaff on Friday evening to see the "near" Keith vaudeville which formed the main part of the program. It covered all fields from the "light fantastic" to real tragedy. Four numbers composed the main vaudeville performance, which was in charge of Mr. P. E. Deitz. They were: (a), Jack and Jill, Fancy Dancers, Miss Beddow and Mr. P. E. Deitz; (b), Koshello, Artist in Black Face Phraseology, Mr. Kochel; (c), Royal Hoboes Band, Messrs. Paladino, P. Deitz, Trucksess, Raetzer, Rutschky; (d), "Somewhere in France," a tragedy by the tragic trio, Miss Rosen and Messrs. Raetzer and P. Deitz.

Preceding the vaudeville Miss Grim gave a piano solo, Miss Keely read an original essay, and Mr. Rutschky played a violin solo. Following the sketch Miss Hinkle read an excellent Gazette.

Miss Clara E. Waldron has honored Schaff by becoming an honorary member.

Zwinglian Society

Miscellaneous in its character and satisfying indeed in its effect, the program of last Friday evening was a marked success. Each number, as it appeared on the program, was truly a treat. Especial mention should be made of the sketch. This, naturally, held the foremost place in the evening's entertainment and in its progress and by its very nature set forth the meaning of "Zwinglian standards."

Piano Solo, Miss Slamp; Recitation, Miss Macdonald; Mixed Quartet, Miss Roth, leader, Miss Rhoads, Mr. S. Gulick and Mr. Wilhelm; Sketch, "Smith vs. Smythe," Mr. H. Gulick, leader, Messrs. Putney, Diehl, Yost, May, Schellhase, Wood, Moore, S. Gulick, Yoch, Hefren, Glass, S. Miller and Grove; Oration, "Eyes That See Not", Miss Craft; Zwinglian Review, Miss Moul; Critic's Report, Miss Brant.

Coach Thompson gave us a few words for thought and the Society was certainly glad to welcome him once more at its meeting.

George Conahey, ex-'20, and Paul G. Jones, ex-'19, were seen on the campus Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Stettler, '21, was visited Sunday by the members of her family from Slatington, Pa.

Miss Margaret E. Slinghoff, '18, spent some time over the week end with relatives at Limerick, Pa.

New "Weekly" Staff Members

At a meeting of the Board of Control held last week the following WEEKLY staff elections were ratified: For associate editor, Mr. Ernest Y. Raetzer, '19; for assistant business manager, Mr. Charles W. Rutschky, Jr., '19. Mr. Rutschky takes the place of Mr. Russell M. Houck, ex-'19, who is at present pursuing a medical course at Hahnemann in Philadelphia. The position that Mr. Raetzer now occupies was formerly filled by Mr. Russell D. Custer, ex-'19, who is now a non-commissioned officer in the Regular Army. We welcome these additions to our editorial staff.

On the Campus

The Modern Language Group held a business meeting at which the following officers were elected: President, Miss Rebecca Rhoads, '18; Vice President, Miss Nora B. Keely, '20, and Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Elsie Bickel, '18.

A meeting of the the "Scrub" football men was held last week and Mr. Walter Diehl, '18, was elected captain.

Rev. J. N. Faust, '98, and family, of Spring Grove, Pa., spent a few hours at the College, last Tuesday, as the guests of Mr. Solomon Hoke, '21.

Miss Lillian Sheppard, who served the College so faithfully as stenographer, left Saturday, October 6, to take up another position in Philadelphia. Miss Sheppard carries with her the best wishes of the student body and faculty.

The Music Society, after its regular weekly meeting on last Monday night, held the usual monthly social time. Under the leadership of Miss Hinkle, who is chairman of the Social Committee, a fine time was possible for all. Some "outside friends" added a spice of excitement to the evening by carelessly delaying the serving of refreshments. It is to be hoped they enjoyed their ice cream as well as those present enjoyed theirs.

There is quite a lot of agitation around college for a male glee club. Prospects look good for a small club to be chosen competitively.

Private Richard Sands, ex-'18, with the ambulance corps at Allentown, visited friends at College, Sunday. "Dick" was warmly welcomed.

Scrubs Defeated by Perkiomen

Last Saturday, while the 'Varsity put up a strong fight against Lehigh, the Ursinus Scrubs journeyed to Pennsburg and were overwhelmed by the team representing Perkiomen School, 34-0. A combination of clever forward passes, excellent team work and superior weight proved too much for the inexperienced second string men from Collegeville. The Scrubs, however, are all loud in their praises of the fine treatment received and commend the Perkiomen team for their clean hard football. Assistant Manager Willauer was in charge, and the following men took the trip: Capt. Diehl, S. Gulick, S. Miller, Long, Putney, Yaukey, Deisher, P. Deitz, Clamer, Moser, W. Lentz, E. Grove, Yoch, Paladino, Trucksess, Unger and Hoke.

Have you procured your copy of the Centenary Volume on the Life and Work of John H. A. Bomberger, D. D., LL. D., founder and first president of Ursinus College? An inspiring record. Invaluable to one who would know the earlier history of the College. In binding and contents a fine addition to your library. Editors: Geo. Leslie Omwake, James I. Good and Calvin D. Yost. Publishers: Publication and Sunday School Board, 15th and Race Streets, Philadelphia. Price, $1.50 post paid. On sale at the Library of Ursinus College.

"Marsellaise" and "Star Spangled Banner," Mr. Sykes.

This program as rendered was of such high character that everyone felt the admission price to be entirely inadequate and not a gift for Red Cross work, but that the giving had been done by those who gave their time and efforts to make the affair the success it was.

Faculty Recital

Death of Henry W. Kratz, LL. D.

Another life-long servant of the college has been taken in the death of Henry W. Kratz, LL. D., Honorary President of the Board of Directors. Almost until the day of his death, Mr. Kratz had been in good health. He attended the recent state convention of insurance men at Butler, Pa., in September, as well as the annual meeting of the American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City, week before last. On the day before his death, which occurred during the early morning of Thursday, October 4, he attended to business as usual although he was suffering somewhat from the effect of a recent cold. Death came quietly in the night when he was temporarily alone in his room at his home in Norristown.

Funeral services will be held in accordance with his own expressed wish, at St. Luke's Reformed Church, Trappe, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday, October 9. A report of this service and an account of Mr. Kratz's life work will appear in the WEEKLY of next week.

Miss Beddow, '20, was visited Saturday by relatives and friends from Minersville.
