in SEASON'S BIG BATTLE

Brown and Richards Star When Franklin and Marshall Bows to Ursinus

The Ursinus warriors completely outplayed Franklin and Marshall on Saturday on the local gridiron and snatched a much prized 21 to 7 victory before a record breaking crowd. This victory has special significance because it was Ursinus' most important game of the season. Although Brown and Richards excelled in individual work for the local team, the excellent offensive and defensive work of all the players made apparent individual prowess possible. Ursinus started with a rush and kept the opponents on the defensive throughout the first half, scoring three touchdowns. Except for a lucky blocked punt during the second half when F. and M. secured the ball on Ursinus' 3 yard line, they would have been unable to score. Through costly fumbles and many substitutes Ursinus were held scoreless during the second half. Captain Mylin and fullback Williams excelled for F. and M.

FIRST PERIOD

F. and M. kicked off and Richards was downed on the twenty-seven yard line. On the first play Brown gained, but Hambry's fumble forced Ashenfelter to punt. From their forty-five yard line F. and M. failed to gain, being penalized when Irwin had gained seventeen yards. Mylin punted to fifty yard line. In a series of line plunges in which Brown, Richards, Hambry and Ashenfelter figured, Ursinus fought their way to the opponents five yard line. On the next play Brown rushed through guard for a touchdown. Wood kicked the goal. Wood kicked off to F. and M. F. and M. fumbled and Clark captured the ball on the twenty-five yard line. Richards and Brown made a first down. Then Ursinus lost on downs and F. and M. were penalized to their own one-yard line. At this time with a touchdown in sight, Ursinus was penalized fifteen yards. F. and M. punted and Ursinus failing to gain tried a placement goal, which failed. Score: Ursinus 7, F. and M. 0.

SECOND PERIOD

gained twelve yards and a first down. After gaining five yards more F. and M. fumbled, recovered the ball, but lost twenty-two yards, and had to punt. Clark gained five yards, but Ursinus was penalized. On the next play Richards forward passed to Vedder who ran fifty-seven yards for a touchdown. Wood kicked the goal. Ursinus kicked off to F. and M. who were forced to punt. Brown and Richards followed with a first down. After Clark and Brown had each gained four yards, Richards made a thrilling end run for eighteen yards gain. Evans and Brown continued to gain, but at this point Brown fumbled and lost the ball on the enemy's ten-yard line. F. and M. failed to gain and on the third down Mylin fumbled, when Ashenfelter scooped the ball and dashed across the line for the third touchdown. Wood kicked the goal. Wood kicked off. F. and M. surprised Ursinus by a forward pass for twenty yards. A second pass failed and Clark captured the ball on the third attempt. Brown made a twenty-five yard gain by clever twisting and turning through the opponents and the half was ended. Score: Ursinus 21, F. and M. 0.

THIRD PERIOD

Wood kicked off for Ursinus. F. and M. gained a first down through a six-yard gain and a penalty for Ursinus.

A FORWARD MOVEMENT

for CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

A Nation-Wide Campaign for Our American Colleges and College Students

During the year 1911, several Boards of Education, representing prominent denominations of the United States, formed themselves into a Council of Church Boards of Education and invited others to join. In the five years intervening between that date and this, the Council has grown to include, twenty Church Boards of Education, representing altogether a membership of about twenty million people, and a constituency of three times that number.

Partly at the suggestion of the Council of Church Boards made to a group of College Presidents at St. Paul, Minnesota, at a meeting of the National Education Association in July, 1914, and partly in response to a very urgent need felt by many College Presidents, a call was sent out to the Presidents of all Independent (non-tax-supported) colleges in the United States. A meeting was held in Chicago in January, 1915, and resulted in the formation of the Association of American Colleges.

The Council of Church Boards of Education met at the same time, in the same place, and suggested to the Association of American Colleges a nation-wide campaign in the interests of Christian Education and the American College. The Association, by resolution, expressed their approval of the prosecution of such a campaign and pledged their sympathetic support. The organization of the campaign was left to the Boards of Education who had proposed it. At a meeting of the Council in June, 1916, President R. Watson Cooper, Secretary of the Association of American Colleges, was asked to assume the work of organizing and initiating a nation-wide campaign.

The campaign is now on. The purpose of this Forward Movement, as outlined by the Executive Secretary and passed upon by the Campaign Committee of the Council at a meeting at Niagara Falls in August, 1916, is three-fold:

1. To promote the cause of Christian

The Tower Window

"BECAUSE I was a good animal" — thus did Henry Ward Beecher explain his success. Time was when the physical and spiritual natures were regarded as antagonistic, and under this view the soul was destined to failure unless it could triumph of the "flesh" in the terrible conflict. Under the modern conception of the self as a unity, the body and the soul are regarded as complementary and mutually helpful one to the other in human development.

Thus the body is of sacred importance and to be a "good animal" means that the body shall be ethically as well as physically healthy and efficient. The body, to be ethically good, must be put to good use; so it was not alone his great robust physical frame that made Beecher a success, it was quite as much the fact that as an animal he served a good purpose.

This brief discussion may help college boys and girls to understand the "whys" and "wherefores" of physical culture from the genuinely human viewpoint. Whereas the mediaeval monk regarded it as virtuous to be sick we are coming to the view that in many instances, at least, it is sinful to be sick, much sickness being due to an unmoral attitude toward the body, resulting in a sort of criminal negligence of the laws of physical health.

In the dormitories, at the table, on the athletic field—at all times, let us live the life of ethically and physically "good animals." G. L. O.

A Forward Movement for Christian Education

education in all institutions of higher learning, including the promotion of the religious life and culture of students in all tax-supported and independent institutions.

2. To strengthen the Christian college, to maintain in it the highest educational standards, and, specifically, to provide for religious instruction therein.

3. To assist in defining the function of the independent (non-tax-supported) college in America, and to assist in securing more definite recognition of it as a natural and permanent part of our developing system of education.

The central office of the Executive Secretary, which for the present becomes also the office of the Association of American Colleges, has been established in Room 911, Association Building, 19 S. La Salle Street, Chicago. The immediate work of the office, as at present conceived and organized, will be prosecuted in the following manner:

1. By publicising, through legitimate channels of newspapers and periodicals, bulletins, and pamphlets, the importance of religion in education and of education in religion, and the function of the college in our American life.

2. By the organization and permanent establishment of a central office for the college world, which shall serve as a depository and clearing house of information for all colleges.

3. By promoting College Associations, wherever practicable and useful, and by uniting all college forces (tax-supported and independent) in any state or community in the interests of religious education and culture.

4. By comprehensive religious and educational surveys of individual states and groups of states, which will display the social, religious, educational and political background of any college, and of the entire college group within any state, and will thus disclose the educational needs and possibilities of any state and of any institution.

5. By setting up conventions and exhibits in various portions of the country, which will bring together representatives of the college communities and the public, representatives of the educational organization of the churches, representatives of our public schools and universities, and which will present by address and by chart and graph convincing data of the great work that is being done, its successes and its failures, the demands of the future and the ways and means of meeting those demands.

It is not now expected that the central office will give any direct assistance in the organization or management of financial campaigns for colleges. This will be left to the individual college or to groups of institutions. Boards of Education of several denominations are now prosecuting vigorous campaigns in the interests of educational institutions. The office of the Executive Secretary will be kept informed of all such movements, the methods used in the campaigns, the successes and failures of the means used, and all other information of value as information to institutions wishing to prosecute other campaigns. The business of the central office will be to secure and provide the basic facts affecting any institutions or all institutions; to know and to be ready to point out the forces that are in operation and the means that are available; to be acquainted with available literature, and to beget literature that may be of service. In the matter of financial campaigns the central office will serve as an investigating, correlating and publicising bureau.

This movement, generously directed and vigorously prosecuted, is a crying need of the American college world at this moment. At the same time no greater opportunity and no more momentous cause faces the Christian church than this proposed emphasis upon Christian education. The very life of the Church and the future spiritual welfare of our nation are involved herein and dependent upon the success of this movement.

Our constant theme: The supreme place of religion in education and of education in religion.

Our constant aim: To put the cause of Christian education upon the heart and mind of the Christian Church, and the cause of the historic American college upon the conscience of the American people.

Our Battle Cry: More students for our colleges. Better colleges for our students.

The impulse behind this movement is generously Christian without sectarian interest or bias. It is strictly educational, aiming at the betterment of the colleges and the strengthening of the college life of the students of America. It is national in its scope, comprising all American colleges and college students. It is emphasizing religious education because religious education has been seriously neglected. It is aiming at the organization of the American college world because of the manifest need of organization and re-organization in this department of our educational system.

MISS HOBSON BECOMES BRIDE

There was a pretty wedding Thursday evening at Collegeville when Miss Mabel A. Hobson, daughter of Mrs. Ella M. Hobson, was married to Edward S. Fretz, a prominent manufacturer, of Pottstown. The wedding was a beautiful home affair, only the near relatives of the contracting parties being in attendance. The house was attractively decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and palms to carry out the November coloring.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Hamilton Smith, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Pottstown, assisted by Charles E. Wehler, vice president of Hood College, Frederick, Maryland, and an uncle of the bride. The bride's sister, Mrs. Wellington R. Wolfinger, of Allentown, was matron of honor. E. R. Cassel, of Pottstown, was best man. Francis Smith, a cousin of the bride, and Wellington R. Wolfinger, a brother-in-law, were ushers. Frank H. Hobson, of Cynwyd, a brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" was played by Mrs. George Leslie Omwake, of Collegeville.

The bride was gowned in Duchess satin trimmed with silver lace and tulle and wore a veil of silk tulle. The matron of honor wore a gown of gabardine crepe trimmed with real lace and pearls.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, at which time a delightfully appointed buffet supper was served.

Mr. Fretz is president and general manager of the Light Manufacturing and Foundry Company. Miss Hobson was graduated from Ursinus in 1906. She is an accomplished musician and linguist. For five years she taught German in the Pottstown High School. She is an accomplished teacher of German, having studied in Berlin.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Fretz left to spend some time in the South. Upon their return the couple will reside at the beautiful Fretz home, at Rahn's Hill, Pottstown.

In final preparation for the F. and M. game, Saturday, an enthusiastic mass meeting was held in Bomberger Hall on Saturday morning. It was marked by the adoption of "The Ursinus Hand Clap," a new and novel feature in cheering.

A 'Varsity smoker was held in Thompson Field Cage on Thursday evening. Arousing interest was manifested on the prospects in anticipation of the F. and M. football game, Saturday. Several alumni and townspeople were present, besides all the male students of the college.

Editorial Comment

Some of the students seem to have forgotten the rules that pertain to the care of our front campus. Those of us who have spent a few years at Ursinus remember the time when it was an exceedingly rare, occurrence to see any student trespassing on this particular section of our property. They seemed to take a peculiar pride in keeping their surroundings as beautiful as possible. Surely this was commendable and should be an example worthy to be followed by students even at this later date. If any advantage could be gained by walking on the edges of the campus rather than on the gravel walks, surely provision would have been made for the same by the proper authorities. But since nothing can be gained by the violation of this rule and much harm may be caused on account of it, it is conclusive that either the offenders perform this act in direct defiance of the rule or through mere carelessness. Whatever the cause, we believe that every student, male or female, who considers Ursinus worthy of the responsibility of conducting their education, should join in a spirit of loyalty by strictly obeying her rules.

Another rule that has recently been openly violated is the one pertaining to the wearing of Freshmen caps. Surely this violation cannot be excused on the ground of "ignorance of the law," for these rules, which are very specifically put, have been conspicuously posted on the bulletin board in Bomberger Hall. As a general rule, Freshmen have been very obedient in the compliance with this rule, but the particular clause which states that the caps shall be worn to and from the car when the students leave the town or return to the College, has been violated in several cases.

If the persons who have failed to comply with this rule did so thinking that it would pass unnoticed, they have made a mistake, and besides, it is an exhibition of poor college spirit. The members of the Student Council, in whose hands the enforcement of this rule lies, dislike very much the idea that it is necessary for them to do the undesirable work of policemen among the students of Ursinus. Ought such a condition be necessary? We are forced to believe that these things were done without any serious thought on the part of the offender, and therefore this comment, which we hope will help to bring about a spirit of coöperation. Probably some day these same persons will be leaders in our College, and if so, their work will be much more pleasant and profitable if they are conscious that their own record as college students has been reasonably free from unfavorable criticism.

Literary Societies

Schaff Society

Schaff Society enjoyed an unusual and very original program last Friday evening. The initial number was an artistically rendered piano solo by Miss McManigal, followed by an enjoyable encore. An essay on the life of Browning was read by Mr. Bowman. Mr. Spanuth followed with a reading. Mr. Brooke rendered "An Incident of the French Camp" in a very acceptable manner. The feature of the program was then announced. Miss Boyd and Miss Slinghoff were the leaders and "end men" of The Girl's Minstrel, unparalleled in the history of Schaff. The Gazette by Mr. Bowman, several selections by Schaff Orchestra and the Critic's Report by Miss Reifsnider closed the program. Mr. Hoover of the '16 class favored the society with his hearty greetings and best wishes.

Too much credit cannot be given to the girls for their decidedly successful Minstrel. All the numbers were exceptionally well rendered. Wit and humor were mingled with genuine originality. The opening chorus, "Wake Up Schaff," was followed by Miss "Periwinkle" Hinkle's solo, "Turn Back the Universe," "Pollyanna" Beddow recited "A Lonely Honeymoon" with good expression. Miss Chandler startled all with an unusual parody of "If You Knock the L out of Kelly." The "Checkerboard Quartette" composed of "Rosemary" Borneman, "Dinah" Bickel, "Sophronia" Schweigert and "Patricia" Rosen very effectively sang "Kentucky" Babe." Dinah Bickel followed with a uniquely graceful "jig." Snowball Boyd sang "You're a Dangerous Boy," to the delight and also confusion of (some of) the audience. Mammy Brooks crooned all to sleep with "Little Puff of Smoke, Good-night." The Flashlight Chorus ended the performance.

Messrs. McKee, P. Deitz, G. Deitz and Houck, alternate, were elected to represent Schaff in the coming Inter-collegiate Debate.

To complete the enjoyment of the evening the Society welcomed into its midst Miss Doris H. Sutcliffe of Spring City and Mr. Russell D. Custer of Cedars, Pa.

Zwinglian Society

Unusual interest was centered in the Senior-Junior interclass debate which constituted the Zwinglian program Friday evening. The question, Resolved, "That Congress should adopt a literacy test for all European immigration," is one of standing import throughout our nation and the speakers, Messrs. Putney, Wilhelm and Diehl on the affirmative, and Messrs. Lehman, Ziegler and Grove on the negative, treated it in a manner well becoming its rank. Each presented his arguments with convincing force and vigor and so made the production one of oratorical as well as argumentative superiority. In the rebuttals, delivered negatively by Mr. Grove and affirmatively by Mr. Putney, the speakers maintained the same high standard as was shown in their main arguments. The Judges, Professors Tower, Munson and Clawson, rendered their decision in favor of the negative.

The musical part of the evening's program was of a type equal to that of the debate itself. The piano solo by Miss Wagner was one of extraordinary quality and was rendered in a most masterful way. The orchestra was in its best trim and under the leadership of Mr. Wiest performed in a quite commendable manner. Mr. S. Miller read an interesting Review and Mr. L. Yost closed the program with a strict criticism of its several parts.

Under voluntary exercises the Society enjoyed a pleasing vocal solo by Miss Fisher, '13.

CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATIONS

Miss Ruth Craft was in charge of the regular monthly meeting which the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. enjoy in common, and conducted a very helpful service last Wednesday evening in the chapel. Prof. Crow had been invited to speak and presented some thoughts about the book of Jonah, Jonah himself, and his various experiences. The talk was almost informal, and being aimed to present practical truths, proved interesting and helpful.

Prof. Crow drew some very striking lessons from Jonah's experiences. "Sometimes we run away from things like Jonah,—let us be sure to come back in just the way he did. Don't sulk if God's plan doesn't seem to coincide with yours. If you stop to think, very often you will see how small you are." And in the same manner, the speaker continued to draw the various lessons as the story proceeded.

But besides this, Prof. Crow showed how easily the story could be proved true by scientific means, and thus discounted the opinion that the book should not be literally believed.

Toward the close of his talk, the speaker read some questions he had clipped which may prove of interest to all college students: "Have you learned to make friends and keep them? Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself? Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye? Do you see anything to love in a little child? Will a lonely dog follow you in the street? Can you be happy alone? Can you look out in the world and see anything but dollars and cents? Can you look into a mud puddle and see anything but mud? Can you look into the sky and see anything but stars? Strive to be able to answer in the affirmative by the time your college course is completed."

At the close of the program, a short social period during which choice refreshments were served, was enjoyed by all.

At a mass meeting of the student body, last Monday night, S. S. Gulick, '18, was elected assistant cheer leader, to succeed H. S. Gulick, '18, who has become a member of the football squad.

The regular monthly meeting of the Classical Group was held Wednesday evening in the Freeland Hall Reception Rooms. The program rendered was one of a most enjoyable and pleasing character, and showed the marks of extensive preparation in all of its parts. It was as follows: Vocal Solo, Miss Maurer; Reading from Hawthorne, Mr. Edwards; Ocarina Solo, Mr. Roth; Essay, "War the Antagonist of Education," Mr. May; Recitation, Miss Beddow; Quartette, Messrs. Bomberger, Dietz, Weiss and Wilhelm; and talks by Prof. Kline and Prof. Wailes. Following this, the Group enjoyed a most pleasant social period during which refreshments were served.

A photographer representing Gilbert and Bacon, Philadelphia, spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week at the college taking photographs for the 1918 Ruby.

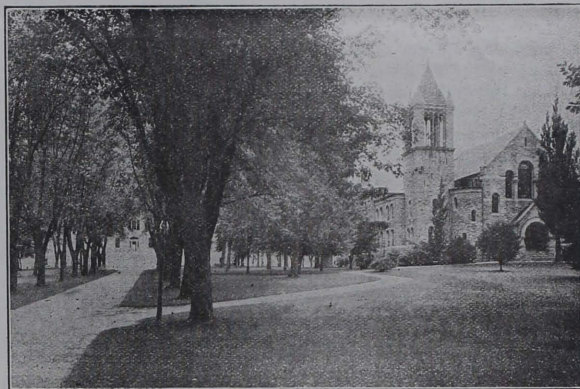

Last Friday evening Prof. and Mrs. Yost entertained the members of the faculty, their wives, and a few other friends at their home on Sixth avenue. The evening was pleasantly spent in a musical tour around the world and a few contests. Refreshments were served and the guests assured their hosts that they would be glad to see them "at home" again.

The Mathematical Group held its regular monthly meeting at Olevian Hall Wednesday evening. The program consisted of three papers, one opposing the Adamson Eight-hour Law, by Mr. Bartman, another upholding it by Mr. Bowman, and a third dealing with "The Life and Works of Archimedes" by Miss Hinkle. After a heated discussion on the eight-hour law a brief social period was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.
