FIRST GLEE CLUB TRIP SUCCESSFUL

Second Week of Christmas Vacation Spent in a Glee Club
Tour of York and Lebanon Counties.

EDGAR T. ROBINSON
Manager of This Year's Glee Club.

The first trip for this season was successfully made by the glee club during the week beginning December 29.

The club which numbers thirty-two members is larger than previous clubs have been for a number of years. The repertory of songs is of a high class, containing such well-known compositions as "Vagabondia" by Bullard, "Song of the Vikings" by Faing, "Timbuctoo" by Geibel, "Mammy's Lullaby" an arrangement from Dvorak's Humoresque and a number of other selections equally popular and pleasing.

The special features contributed largely to the popularity of the program. Deininger in his impersonations never failed to win great applause. Rumbaugh with his Ursinograph stunt received a "glad hand" everywhere. The sketch by Pritchard and Deininger though somewhat old and witnessed before was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. Wiest in his cornet, and Robinson in his vocal solos were always roundly applauded. The quartet, although greatly handicapped by the fact that two of its members had very bad colds, did commendable work and was invariably called upon for encores. These numbers backed up by the heavier work of the entire glee club made one of the best concerts that an Ursinus club has ever given.

The itinerary included five towns, four in York County and one in Lebanon County. Not a little credit should be given to Robinson, '14, who arranged for the trip, and also for the capable manner in which he handled the business end of the club.

The members of the club collected at Harrisburg on the 29th and proceeded to Red Lion, York County, at which place the first concert was given that evening. This was the least satisfactory concert of the five, owing to the fact that the members of the club had been separated during the Christmas recess and had little opportunity to rehearse before the concert. A fair sized audience heard the singing of the club which aside from being somewhat ragged, was creditable.

The concert in the theatre at Glen Rock on Tuesday evening was very much better than that of the previous evening and the club was greeted by a considerably larger audience.

On Wednesday evening the club sang at Hanover. Despite the fact that an unusually large number of social functions were being held on the same evening, a large crowd heard the work of the club.

The boys appeared before the largest audience of the trip at York on Thursday evening. The concert was held in Dr. Wiest's

Joint Meeting of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

"The Gift of God" was the subject of Dean Kline's seasonable and helpful talk on Wednesday evening. He based his discussion on John 4:10, in which Christ, at Jacob's well, tells the Samaritan woman about that "living water" which is the gift of God.

We are still, he said, in the Christmas season; for the real meaning of Christmas is the birth of Christ in our hearts, with forgiving and transfiguring power. Bethlehem, His earthly birth-place, is not comparable to the human soul, with its heavenly possibilities and aspirations.

If we would but carry the spirit of Christmas with us always, the whole world would have a different aspect. When filled with this spirit, people reach out for the one great gift which cannot be purchased with money—that nobility and power which is given us by Christ's birth in our souls.

Dying Christ's life on earth, humanity, burdened with the Roman yoke, and with the yoke of sin and death, was looking for a deliverer, and did not realize the fullness of His life. His divinity came later in His life, when the gift of God, the Christmas spirit, entered and changed the world.

A life filled with the spirit of Christmas blossoms out into a life of service. He wants us to blossom out, and to give material gifts, but we must not forget the gift of God, forgiveness and life in Christ. Compared with this, all temporal gifts are worthless. God alone is the Giver, and He has given us Christ, the inspirer and sustainer of life. May we all know this gift and help others to desire and receive it!

Singley Represents Ursinus at Kansas Convention.

A great international convention of the student volunteer movement was recently held at Kansas City, Kansas.

Nearly all the educational institutions of the world had representatives in attendance. Ursinus was represented by D. F. Singley, '15. A full report of the work of the convention will appear in next week's issue of the WEEKLY.

The Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices Mr. Singley went, desires to thank all persons who helped to make possible the sending of a delegate, by their contributions. Mr. Singley will make a report of the convention before any school or church audience on condition that his expenses to and from the place be borne.

EDITORIAL

The value to a college of a good glee club is so apparent to most people that comment upon the subject may seem superfluous. There are always persons, however, who call into question the claim made by any organization, and as every person has some influence others may be deterred from giving their support to a movement because of disparaging criticism.

Every college has certain auxiliary organizations; and all these organizations, however varied they may be in their functions, have just two or three main purposes. Either they support the college financially or they give it publicity or else their object is to furnish diversion to the students from the routine work of the class room and study. A good glee club in a pre-eminent degree realizes these last two aims.

There are a great many diversions apt to be indulged in by students which have practically no moral uplift and very little cultural value. Anyone taking part in a good musical organization finds recreation of the highest type from his more arduous duties. And at the same time he is receiving an aesthetical development which is essential to the truly cultured man or woman. Like Darwin, many a one has regretted in later life his neglect to cultivate this side of his nature, and has felt his power to appreciate the finest and most beautiful things in life to have atrophied.

The value of a good glee club as an advertising agency for the school which sends it out can hardly be over estimated.

There is scarcely a college in the country which does not send out some kind of a musical organization. And we are probably safe in saying that not more than half of these institutions come out ahead or even, financially. Many of them have deficits to make up at the end of the season. They consider that they are being compensated by the publicity which the club is giving the school. And in this belief they are right, for a glee club advertises the school which it represents in a way which no other organization of the school can. A baseball or a football team rarely gets into the homes of the people when playing other teams. And besides, they play teams of other colleges from which they cannot hope to win students for their own school. They frequently make trips without coming in contact with any persons save the students of the institutions which they are playing.

With a glee club, however, it is very different. It goes not to another institution but into a town. Its members come in contact with students of other institutions of course; but they also meet many young people who have not decided what college they will attend; and they meet still others who have not decided whether they will go to college at all or not. Furthermore, they go into the homes of the people and become personally acquainted with them.

By no means do we mean to disparage the value of the work of athletic teams by this comparison. We merely wish to show that the glee club is doing a work which the athletic teams cannot do. Both are doing an important work within their own province and both are legitimate within their own field. Both are doing more to bring their school before the public than all the circulars and prospectuses that an institution can send out; for frequently the latter are consigned to the waste basket with only a superficial examination—or some times none at all.

A glee club which goes through a season and comes out at the end financially intact, does more than most musical organizations do. In addition it has furnished the best kind of recreation to a large number of students and by frequent association and common interest has strengthened and tightened the bonds of friendship. The college also has profited by being brought to the notice of the public in a manner which has involved neither trouble nor expense.

Miss Helen M. Ferree, '14, spent several days in Philadelphia during the past week doing research work at the University of Pennsylvania.

Bible Study.
 On Wednesday evening Dr. Wailes gave the last of a series of Bible study talks, telling the story of Mary, the mother of Jesus. He said in part:—

There is little known of Mary's life, but her influence has been incalculable. A mother is her child's first friend; and Christ and his mother were always in perfect sympathy. So great, in fact, was His love for her that even on the cross he thought of her, and entrusted her to the care of his favorite disciple, John.

We think of Mary, not as the highest nor holiest, but as the blesseddest of all women. The story of her mother-love for the child Christ has sweetened all childhood and hallowed all motherhood; and our lives ought all to be purer and sweeter for studying her life.

Cupid Still on the Job.

That that little god of love, cupid, has not shot all his arrows yet was proven on New Year's eve when Mr. Samuel S. Loucks, of Red Lion, York County, Pa., was united in marriage to Miss Elsie Gladys Seelrich, also of Red Lion. Although the engagement had been announced a year ago, the wedding came as a surprise to their many friends.

Mr. Loucks was graduated from Ursinus with the class of 1910. He then studied for two years at Columbia University. Last year he held the chair of political science in Syracuse University but resigned his position there in order to study law at the University of Pennsylvania.

The bride is a graduate of Millersville Normal School and for the past two seasons has been a student at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Loucks will take up housekeeping in the spring at Red Lion. After finishing his law course Mr. Loucks will practice his profession before the York County Bar.

Former Ursinus Professor will Lecture Here This Evening.

Prof. Chas. Grove Haines, A. M., Ph. D., will give an informal lecture in Bomberger Hall this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Dr. Haines is an alumnus of Ursinus. He was graduated with the class of 1903. For a number of years he held the chair of History and Political Science here. Of late years he has been a member of the faculty of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington.

Dr. Haines is at present the guest of his father-in-law, Mr. E. S. Moser of Collegeville.

Injured Hand Operated Upon.

Harold Kerschner, '16 recently underwent an operation in the German Hospital, Philadelphia, to restore a tendon in his thumb which he had the misfortune to sever while working in the laboratory some time ago. The operation was a difficult one and Mr. Kerschner has suffered considerable pain as a consequence. We hope soon again to see him have the full use of his hand.

Glee Club Boys Play Basketball.

During the glee club trip a basketball team, picked from the club, played the Lebanon High School team on the Y. M. C. A. floor at Lebanon. The Lebanon boys won the game, the score being 29-19. Our boys considered this a very good showing in view of the fact that they had had no practice at all this year.

PERSONALS.

Prof. C. V. Tower, Professor of Philosophy, is able to be about again, after having been confined to his home with an attack of the grippe.

The class pins of the Senior class were distributed on Friday. They are in the form of a seal and are quite unique, bearing the initials of the college and their numerals, 1914.

Prof. I. M. Rapp, Professor of Physics and Instructor in Chemistry, was unable to meet his classes during the past week, on account of suffering with a severe cold.

The various Groups have organized for the purpose of playing basket ball. Hess, '14, has been elected manager of the Classical Group, and Seaman, '14, was elected manager of the Historical-Political Group. The students have been practicing in the Field Cage during the past week.

church. Dr. Wiest, who is a director of the college had a little reception for the club at the conclusion of the program.

The concluding concert of the trip was given in the P. O. S. of A. Hall at Lebanon on Friday evening. This engagement was secured through Rev. I. C. Fisher, D. D., an alumnus and director of the college. A reception was tendered the club at the home of Dr. Fisher after the concert.

The young men composing the club were entertained in the homes at the places where they appeared and a very pleasant time was experienced by all.

Prof. R. W. Kelsey, Ph. D., of Haverford College, will give a lecture in Bomberger Hall on Wednesday evening, January 14, at 8 o'clock. His lecture will be "Central Forces in Modern Society." Prof. Kelsey comes to Ursinus under the auspices of the Historical-Political group. He is a keen student of sociology and a very pleasing speaker. To the students and public the Historical-Political group extends a most hearty welcome free of charge.

"Keeping in Front"

You fellows know what that means! You've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these cigarettes were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good.

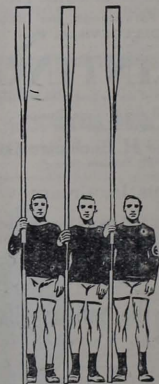

Then we put out for the big race, to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country.

No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas. We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the smokes for 15 cents.

Now your college crew is of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to their good quality—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them.

Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
