FOUNDERS' DAY ACTIVITIES

Inspiring Address, Student Dinner, and Excellent Concert Mark Successful Observance of the Day.

An interesting and inspiring Founders' Day address was delivered by Dr. James I. Good, professor of Church History, in the college on Thursday afternoon. The subject, "University Days of Ursinus," was a very popular one, and was enjoyed throughout, due to new facts obtained by Dr. Good's personal research work. Dr. Good said:

"Ursinus lived about 300 years ago, and came to the forefront of the educational movement, which we call humanism. He was born in Breslau, Germany, 1534, and at the age of 16 entered the university of Wittenberg. At the close of his university days he traveled extensively until 1561, when he was called to Heidelberg University as professor of Theology. Here he soon became known as one of the most prominent theologians of the day.

"Ursinus did very little talking and consequently his fame was lessened by his modesty. He was so modest that if he had known that this (Ursinus) college was to be named after him, he would have refused the honor. This great thinker spoke very little in public; but, nevertheless, was a great teacher of his day.

"Ursinus was very industrious during his university days, and in his whole after life. He thought that a student, unfaithful to his studies, is unfaithful to himself; to excel in life is to excel in studies at college.

"A strong character and deep gratitude marked Ursinus' life. He chose good associates, and had a wonderful influence upon those with whom he came in contact. We have a fine example in Ursinus as a college student. May Ursinus College always stand true to his high ideals!"

Founders' Day Dinner.

The Founders' Day dinner, which was served in the college dining hall to the entire student body, faculty, directors and friends, was a great success.

Owing to the much regretted absence of Dr. Omwake because of sickness, Rev. J. M. S. Iseberg acted as toastmaster.

Mr. A. D. Fetterolf, of the board of directors, was first called upon. He expressed the attitude of the directors toward the college and complimented the student body on their excellent conduct so far this year.

Prof. Hirsch, representing the faculty, spoke on "College Loyalty."

There should be no bounds to the devotion and loyalty which we feel for the college which gave birth to our intellectual beings.

Mr. Lary B. Small, in behalf of the student body, responded to the toast of "The New versus the Old Ursinus." Advance is possible only through persistent effort.

Glee Club Concert.

On the evening of Founders' Day the annual home concert of the glee club was given in Bomberger Hall. The evening was rainy, but, notwithstanding, a large audience heard the concert and pronounced it the best in years. The girls' quartet rendered two very pretty selections. The program follows: Vagabondia, Glee Club; Piano Solo—Selected, Fegely, '15; Selection, Ursinus Male Quartet; Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night, Ancona, '15, and Glee Club; Dialogue, 'The Miser's Woods,' Deining, '15, Pritchard, '16; Cornet Solo—Selected, Wiest, '17; Timbuctoo, Glee Club; Selection, Ursinus Girls' Quartet; Base Solo—Selected, Robinson, '14; Song of the Vikings, Glee Club; Selections by the Ursinograph, Records made by Rumbaugh, '14, this instrument operated by Hoover, '16; Selection, Ursinus Male Quartet; Wanted a Wife, Glee Club; Reading, Deining, '15; Mammy's Lullaby, Glee Club.

BIG CONFERENCE PLANNED BY A. A.

Alumni will Come Together to Discuss Athletic Situation.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association, some time ago, proposals for a big athletic conference at Ursinus were discussed and acted upon. During the past week or ten days these proposals have crystallized into a definite project.

The object of the conference is to bring together the younger alumni for the purpose of discussing the athletic situation at Ursinus, and also to formulate and adopt plans to keep the alumni in closer and more vital relation with the athletic department of the college. A large number of letters have been sent out and already enough replies have been received to assure the success of the project.

No date has been definitely decided upon, but the conference will take place some time between now and the opening of the baseball season.

The proposed conference is an important as well as a worthy movement, and every student should get behind it and stand ready to assist in bringing it to a successful consummation.

Dr. Hillis Will Lecture.

The second number of the lecture course will be given at eight o'clock on Thursday evening in Bomberger Hall. Newell Dwight Hillis, regarded by many as the foremost speaker on the American platform to-day, will be the lecturer. His subject will be: "The America of To-day and To-morrow." This is one of Dr. Hillis's latest lectures and has been pronounced one of the most popular and helpful lectures that he has ever presented. Seats are on sale now. Out-of-town people may make reservation of seats by communicating with the college office; price, 50 cents.

Valentine Fete Cleared $150.

After all receipts were in and all bills paid, it was found that exactly $150 had been cleared at the Valentine Fete.

Miss Kate Webb, of West Chester, Pa., visited her sister Mrs. Webb at the college on Sunday.

FRESHMAN CONTEST UNUSUALLY GOOD

Zwinglian Society Holds one of the Best Contests in Years.

Zwinglian Society held its annual Freshman Declaration Contest on Saturday night in Bomberger Hall. The number of contestants was unusually large this year but the interest and attention of the audience was held throughout the long program. There was a pleasing variety in the nature of the selections and at intervals these were interspersed with musical numbers. The contest was unusual not only in the number of speakers but also in the high grade of excellence displayed throughout. Marked ability and thorough preparation were shown.

After the contestants had been ushered in by Mr. Robinson, '14 chairman of the committee a selection was rendered by the Zwinglian orchestra. Following the invocation by the Dean, the first declamation, "A Child's Dream of a Star," was given by Miss Eva Sandt.

Mr. Walter Kaltreider's selection was entitled "Sink or Swim." "Spartacus to the Gladiators at Capua," was then given by Mr. Leo Hain. Following him Mr. Seth Grove delivered the "Eulogy on Washington."

At this point the Ursinus Girls' Quartette composed of Misses Detwiler, Snyder, Wagner, and Klein sang. This number was much enjoyed for its excellent harmony. After they had responded to an encore Mr. George Lightkep spoke, giving "Webster's Reply to Hayne." "The Philippine Question," was the subject of the following declamation by Mr. Harold Miller. "The Curse of Regulus" was then forcefully delivered by Mr. Paul Lehman. A piano duet was the next number. This was rendered most effectively by the Misses Rahn and Wiest.

A declamation, "A Vision of War," was next given by Mr. Howard Weiss.

Mr. Preston Ziegler followed and declaimed in a masterful manner on "Heroes of the Land of Penn." The last speaker of the evening was Mr. Lloyd Yost, who rendered "America, a World Republic."

Y. M. C. A.

"A Student's Bible" was the subject of the Y. M. C. A. discussion on Wednesday evening which was led by Vogel. He read an instructive paper carefully covering the subject, and gave to the students many valuable suggestions. He said: "there are four classes of students of the Bible: those to whom the Bible is the revelation of a wonderful life; those who consider the Bible a literary monument; those who read it for its impressiveness; and finally, those who find in it a sense of familiarity, and to whom it is a practical, interesting book. While all may have a high respect for the Book most students read it from a sense of duty rather than as a relish. Too often we would prefer to listen to what others have to say regarding the Scripture, than study them ourselves. The Bible is crowded out of a student's life because we read too many other new books. We should approach the Bible in an attitude of desirability to learn something new from its teachings."

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Sigafos gave an excellent discussion of the topic "Wishing and willing" in the Y. W. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening. She said in part:

Our wills give us power to organize our forces toward the attainment of our wishes. While the strength of one's will is determined to some extent by heredity, the power to will can be developed and increased by exercise. We must surrender our wills to the Divine will, if we would develop real will power.

Conceding that what we can, in some degree be attained, we must examine our wishes and see that they be worthy of attainment. Our wishes can be made to mark out a way for our will, so as not to detract from our highest purpose; and our wills may be so trained as to attain these wishes in the surest and easiest way. In brief, we may reach a stage where to wish is to will.

Jingle Bells.

The students have been taking advantage of the snow during the past week.

On Monday evening four sled loads left the college. One party of twenty couples went to Pottstown. Another party, terming themselves the "Deacons," hied to Norristown while a third party chose Schwenksville as their port. The sleighing was excellent and all report having had a very enjoyable time.

On Tuesday evening a party went to Phenixville and were entertained at the home of Miss Wright, ex-'14.

Math. Group Meeting.

The Mathematical Groups held their regular monthly meeting, Wednesday evening, in Schreiner hall. The program consisted of various games and an interesting paper, entitled "The New Tariff," by Miss EBright. After refreshments were served, the groups adjourned.

Students Hear Lecture on Public Health.
 On Wednesday evening, Dr. Seneca G. Egbert, Dean of Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, gave an interesting and instructive talk to the student body and professors of the college, in Bomberger Hall, under the auspices of the Chemical-Biological Group. His subject was, "Preventive medicine and public health of to-day."

He treated the subject in a very informal way and his arguments for the promotion of good health in cities, were clearly and forcibly presented. The following facts were emphasized: Pure air, pure water and pure milk will lengthen the average life of an individual seven years. Free circulation of air in cities will reduce the death rate by tuberculosis to a great extent. Crowded tenement houses and narrow streets should not be permitted by the authorities. A pure water supply is important for good health. Facts show that every time a city improves its water supply, the health of its inhabitants improves. We must educate the people to use wholesome food; cities should have municipal sanitation; the laws must be enforced regarding quarantine and disinfection; and the inspection of school children by physicians should be encouraged. Pennsylvania stands first in the Union in having the most stringent health laws. In educating the people to obey these laws we will have better health and the average length of life of individuals in this state will be increased.

Glee Club Sang to Large Pottstown Audience.

The Glee Club gave a concert to a large audience in the auditorium at Pottstown on Tuesday evening. The club was very nearly at its best and the audience was enthusiastic in its applause. Encores were freely responded to, while Mr. Deininger, as reader, and the quartet, were recalled the third time by their eager admirers. At the close of the concert a reception was tendered the boys, during which they were treated to ice cream and cakes. A special car brought the club back to the college about midnight.

A dozen or more of the young ladies of the college attended the concert and spent the night at the home of Miss Hallman, '14, and with Mrs. Bond, former preceptress at Schreiner Hall.

A NEWS LETTER.

When this has been arranged one can walk through the narrow, crooked and not too clean streets just wide enough for two persons to pass. By following these calyrynian, and sometimes subterranean, passages one can see smiths, cobblers, carpenters, weavers, bakers and shop keepers at work in small, one-room shops that have but one opening, that facing the street, and are therefore poorly supplied with light and air. Carpenters and smiths sit at their work and in many cases use both their hands and feet in handling tools.

Many sections of the city are much the same as they were during the occupation of the Romans but there is also a more modern section where there are electric cars, automobiles and European buildings and stores.

Beirut has many schools of all nationalities except Turkish. The largest of these by far is the Syrian Protestant College which has 950 students under the instruction of 90 professors and teachers. The plant, worth more than a million dollars, is well organized and is divided into the following departments: Preparatory, Commercial, Normal, Collegiate, Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical in addition to a school for nurses. An agricultural department will be added next year. The value of the work done every year is hard to estimate, as the students come from many different lands and they take back with them varying degrees of American ideals and education. They come from Russia, Turkey in Europe, Armenia, Bulgaria, Albania, Servia, Greece, the islands of the Levant, Egypt, Persia, India, Africa and Mesopotamia. There are absolutely no color distinctions, and, although a constant effort is made to show the students what Christianity is, every one is free to believe what he will. Moslems, Jews, Druzes and the various sects of Christians are given ample opportunity to celebrate their respective feasts and fasts. In my work in the Preparatory Department I meet 150 different students several times every week and this gives me a splendid opportunity to study types. The school is truly American in that it takes all nationalities and makes them all loyal S. P. C. men. They are proud of their school and have a right to be.
