A. E. Wagner, '03, has published a history of Carbon county, for use in the schools, which is having a wide sale and extended use in that county. He is Supervising Principal of Nesquehoning township of that county, and has been successful in the establishment of industrial training courses in the High School, in lines of work that are directly useful to the graduates if they seek employment at home. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company was so impressed with the project, that it contributed part of the equipment for teaching these courses.

Mary E. Markley, '02, A. M., Columbia University, '07, is announced in the catalogue of Agnes Scott College of Decatur, Ga., as Adjunct Professor of English and Latin. Agnes Scott is one of the three leading colleges for women in the South. At this institution Miss Bertha Trebin, who will be remembered by many friends as an instructor in the Academy from 1898 to 1900, has been head of the German Department for the last four years.

Dorothy Latshaw '11 entertained a number of her college friends at a Hallow'en party at her home in Royersford, last Tuesday evening.

The editor will be thankful to any one who will send him the address and present occupation or position of Amos J. Heinley, William C. Strack, Lewis D. Rose and Viola Marple.

Will the members of the class of 1910 communicate with their editor and put him in the possession of their addresses and occupations?

FIRST ENTERTAINMENT

Christian Associations Present Philadelphia Opera and Concert Company

Last Thursday evening the Philadelphia Opera and Concert Company gave a pleasing musical and theatrical entertainment before an unusually large audience in Bomberger Hall. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the combined Christian organizations of the college, being the first of a lecture course of four numbers. While the number was neither particularly entertaining nor instructive and decidedly below the standard of the entertainments given by our local talent, yet it gave the students an evening of relaxation without the trouble of preparing for it or the expense of trolley fare.

The company was composed of a pianist, and soprano, contralto, tenor and bass singers, all of mediocre ability, but with voices which blended nicely.

The first part of the program consisted of vocal solos, duets and quartettes, some of which were really good and deserving of the encores they received. The second and main part of the program was the presentation, in two acts, of Gilbert and Sullivan's Japanese Comic Opera, the Mikado. This was nicely costumed and staged, considering the poor facilities offered by the college chapel, and was rendered as well as could be expected of four persons.

On the whole, it was a better entertainment than most of those offered last year and it can be expected that the remaining numbers of the present course will continue the improvement.

Chemical-Biological Lecture

To-morrow evening at 8 o'clock the Chemical-Biological Group will present to the students and townspeople Dr. Smoother, of West Chester Normal School, who will lecture on Birds of America. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Dessa Ebbert, '05, who is the teacher of English at Cheltenham Township High School and has a scholarship for graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, visited Miss Brooks, '12, at college, last Thursday and Friday.

Singley, '15, went to his home on Saturday to attend the funeral of a friend.

SCRUB GAMES

Second Team Loses to Football Wise Hill Reserves, 24-0

Last Monday afternoon the Scrub football team was defeated by Hill School Reserves at Pottstown by the score of 24-0.

The score is a little in excess of the relative merits of the two teams, but it is not to be denied that the Scrubs were outclassed, outgeneraled and outplayed by their younger yet heavier and wiser opponents. During the first period Hill was unable to score but in the second, after a pair of brilliant end runs by Markle and a recovered punt, they succeeded in pushing the ball over for a touchdown although the Ursinus boys held them valiantly on the three yard line. Later in this period Hill recovered a punt and Hiscock drop-kicked a beautiful field goal.

The Scrubs weakened in the third period and Hill scored two touchdowns and a goal. In the fourth Ursinus braced and held down the score to six points and after Hill had substituted an entirely new team, came near scoring on the victors. Markle, Bently and Hiscock played well for Hill, while E. Kieckline was the star for Ursinus with no close second. He tackled fiercely and surely and used good judgment in running with the ball. Others of the Ursinus boys who played well were, Shope, Wiedorn, Shellhamer and Keller. Shellhamer's punting was especially valuable and kept the ball out of danger.

It was no disgrace to have been beaten by a bunch of boys who know football and take it as seriously as do the boys of Hill School.

Perkiomen 16--Scrubs 0

On Friday Ursinus Reserves lost a well fought game to Perkiomen Seminary at Pennsburg, 16-0. The score by no means indicates the nature of the contest. The first two touchdowns were made possible only through unfortunate fumbles by the Ursinus men.

Captain Robbins won the toss and received the kick-off. The strong wind was greatly responsible for Perkiomen's first touchdown. Come misjudged the pigskin, allowing the fast Pennsburg ends to recover it. The second touchdown was made in the early part of the second quarter, when Ursinus fumbled. In the third

SWARTHMORE VICTORIOUS

Ursinus Drops Hard Fought Game to Swarthmore by a Score of 6-2.

Ursinus added another to her string of defeats by losing to the fast Swarthmore team at Swarthmore, Saturday, by the score of 6-2. The game started with a rush and was hard fought throughout. The score is a fair criterion of the relative merits of the teams as they played Saturday. Swarthmore has fast players, wonderful formations and sends out interference that is almost unbreakable. Their whole team is well balanced and played with a snap and vim that was good to see. Ursinus was weak in her interference and was lacking in the fighting spirit which has made her teams famous. She seemed to depend upon her two stars, Captain Thompson and Gay, to do the major part of the playing and failed to work together as a unit.

Ursinus won the toss and elected to kick-off. Swarthmore got the jump on their opponents and after ten minutes of brilliant play against stubborn opposition, McKissick got away for a thirty five yard run and a touchdown. McKissick kicked the goal. In the second and third quarters Ursinus had the better of the argument and kept Swarthmore on the defensive. In the third, after Swarthmore had failed in two forward passes and were forced down near their own goal, R. Thompson broke through and blocked a punt. A Swarthmore man recovered the ball behind the goal scoring a safety for Ursinus. Ursinus tried in vain to score in the final period but the low kicks and forward passes of Swarthmore kept them away from the coveted goal. Both teams tried for field goals but failed.

Captain Thompson and Gay starred for Ursinus, the former handling his team in an able manner.

Notwithstanding the fact that the football team lost, the loyal rooters at Ursinus received the team in a body and conducted the men to a huge pyramid of wood which was promptly fired. Amid the hissing flames of the bonfire that arose sky-high, Capt. K. Thompson, Yoh, Weidorn, Posey, Kieckline, Minich, West, Prof. Atkinson and Dr. Corson recited the story of the battle to the great delight of the boys who roundly cheered the speakers

EDITORIAL

The student government plans are about to reach a definite point in their development. During the past week the Chemical-Biological and Mathematical Groups have ratified the constitution presented by the Constitutional Convention some weeks ago and the Mathematical Groups have elected Senators. The Chemical-Biological will elect their representatives to the Senate at their regular meeting to-morrow night, thereby completing the first stage of the self-government idea.

The chairman of the Constitutional Convention, who is authorized to call a meeting of the Senate for organization within two weeks after the ratification of the constitution, announces Wednesday, November 8, at 7.30 p. m., as the time for the meeting in the English Room.

With the organization of this body the students will have an institution on which they can rely in times of need. It is hoped that the Senate will not be called during the entire year—that there will be no occasion for it to act,—but still we think it will be useful as a legal medium, through which the students can protect themselves from either real or imaginary injustices of their fellow students or the faculty.

As we have exhausted our supply of Alumni notes and feel sure that the Alumni is still alive and doing, we ask you to send in your knowledge of those doings. You alone can keep your column full. We have heard from several of the Alumni editors, but many have not as yet responded.

Students at Glenwood Hallowe'en

A large number of our students attended the Hallowe'en entertainment given by the townspeople at Glenwood Hall on the Saturday evening preceding Hallowe'en. The townspeople turned out en masse, young and old, to make merry. It is estimated that over 200 people were there, most of whom were in costumes and ludicrous masks. An orchestra furnished music for dancing. Games, contests and refreshments were also enjoyed. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Clamer, well-known residents of Collegeville. The entire affair was a big success.

Classical Group Meets

The Classical Group held a very interesting as well as entertaining and instructive meeting last Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Three papers—"The Home Life of the Athenians," "The Morality of the Early Germans as Caesar Found It," "The Sociology of Sparta and Athens at the Time of Their Supremacy," by Messrs. Herson, Hess and Holt, respectively—were read and discussed. All these papers were very interesting and were well written. They provoked an unusual amount of discussion and debate on questions of religious, historical and sociological significance. The Group Adviser, Dean Kline, supplemented the material presented by the students with enlightening remarks on the questions discussed. After so much intellectual exercise, excellent refreshments, which were quite in order, were served.

Saturday Night at Olevian

The Olevian Hall Co-Eds celebrated Hallowe'en on Saturday evening, October 28, by holding a masquerade party in which about twenty of the sterner members of the student body participated. The rooms were adorned with decorations suitable to the occasion and the evening was spent in games and contests. In the latter Misses Kenmerer, Sabold and Mr. B. Jacobs excelled and were awarded the prizes. At a late hour refreshments were served, after which the boys gave several rousing cheers in honor of the young ladies and preceptresses and took a reluctant leave.

Mathematical Group Meets

At a special meeting of the Mathematical Group on Wednesday evening, the fellows ratified the student constitution and elected Senators, K. Thompson and Long to represent the Group in the student organization.

ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHT INEXPENSIVE

Good light lends cheer and comfort to every home and since enjoyed you will hesitate to return to the use of kerosene lamps.

As an example of what it costs we give you the average costs of lighting during the shortest days of the year. You require artificial light in the kitchen on such days on an average of four hours, and with the 25 watt Mazda lamp, you would consume 100 watts in the dining-room the average is three hours, and with the 40 watt Mazda lamp you would consume 120 watts in the library or sitting-room the average is two watts; in the bath-room you would consume 75 watts; with three sleeping rooms, and using the 25 watt Mazda lamp, and an average lighting of three hours, you would consume 75 watts, a total of 225 watts.

Our rate is 14cents per 1000 watts, with a minimum rate of $-.30 per month, for which we allow 1000 watts. You may not require light as many hours as we have figured, and you may not use it in as many rooms as those described, but if you use it as illustrated it will cost but a fraction over 8 cents per night, and on the days when the sun rises late and sets early.

Let us help you to turn winter nights into summer evenings.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

Y. M. C. A.

The topic for discussion at the Wednesday evening meeting, "Lessons From the Life of Jonathan," proved to be a very fruitful subject. Harriety, the leader, compared very clearly the love and affection of Jonathan for David with that which we to-day exhibit for our most intimate friends. We can of necessity have very few really close friends and these should be carefully chosen. In order to win or deserve the friendship of others, we must ourselves be true friends. Friendship is one of the highest and noblest attributes. It ranks with the most sacred things of life. The lives of many people are what they are through the molding influence of friends. We can therefore attain great good by associating with a true friend and at the same time have the opportunity of influencing others for good. Several members responded during the time allotted to discussion.

The Bible study class, of which Rev. Wagner of Lower Providence is leader, is meeting every Monday evening at 6.40 o'clock. The three meetings that have been held were well attended. The course, which is proving to be a very good one, will be concluded in ten weeks. It is hoped that every fellow will take advantage of the opportunities that accrue from such a course, by attending.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Tuesday evening. Miss Saylor was the leader and chose for her subject "David Brainard and his work among the Indians."

She gave an interesting biography of him and an account of the splendid service he had rendered to humanity.

Wesley wrote of him: "Find preachers with David Brainard's spirit, and nothing can stand before them."

Shreiner Girls Entertain

On Monday evening a number of gentlemen ghosts in Hallow'en garb took their way to Shreiner Hall, where lady spirits entertained them in their usual charming and original manner. The characteristic decorations of the season of amusement invited the guests to enjoy themselves from the start. After the grand march, which ended in the boys having their proper partners, the fun proceeded and fate was consulted in many mysterious places. Games were played and at a suitable time refreshments were served. That everybody had a fine time and that they weren't bothered at all by outside jokers, was evidenced by the cheering upon dispersal.

Second Olevian Entertainment

On Monday evening a second Hallow'en party was held at Olevian Hall, which was even more delightful than the first event held at that place Saturday evening, if such a thing were possible.

As the party was arranged on the spur of the moment its chief charm was its informality, a thing always appreciated by students. After the young men who had journeyed to the hall in semi-masquerade dress had been duly identified by the fair inhabitants of the Hall, the remainder of the evening was spent in playing the old-fashioned games so well known to all.

Refreshments were served and more games were indulged in until, all too quickly, the evening had been spent.

On their departure the boys gave a rousing cheer for their hostesses, which was heartily returned. The following constituted the party: Misses Brooks, Stout, Heebner, Sabold, Sigafos, Hallman, Clark, Kemmerer, West, Peters, Hanson, Messrs. M. Jacobs, Billman, B. Jacobs, Small, Kantner, Matlack, Robbins, Ensminger, Elicker, Reinhold and Fichthorn.

 quarter Ursinus outplayed her opponents and gained consistently on beautiful passes and exchange of punts. The third touchdown was made in the last quarter. Perkiomen kicked the last goal.

The Reserves played better football than at any time this season, and at no time during the game did they cease to fight. Each and every man played his best. Robbins, Shope, Shellhamer, Minnich, and Weidorn played the most consistent game.

The treatment received at Perkiomen deserves especial comment and an annual game with the Pennsburg eleven would receive the hearty approval of the members of the College Scrubs, and he it known that the prep. school boys put up a brilliant and clean-cut game. Their wonderful interference was the main feature of their play.

The Scrubs play the Swarthmore Scrubs at Swarthmore next Monday, November 13.

SOCIETY NOTES

Schaff
 A large audience of members and visitors listened to last Friday evening's program which, although of a rather light nature, was very amusing. The principal number was a mock trial—a divorce case in which the plaintiff was Miss Tegtmeier and the defendant Holt. The attorney for the plaintiff was M. Jacobs and for the defendant, Ensinger. Glatfelter was judge and various other members of the Society took the parts of jurymen and witnesses. The musical numbers, which were all rendered in an excellent manner, included a piano solo by Miss Clark, a vocal duet by Misses Saylor and Moser and a clarinet solo by Lauer. Billman read a very original and entertaining exercise Miss Ebbert, '05, and Thomasson, '11, spoke. Mr. A. Brumbaugh was reinstated as a member of the Society. The chairman of the anniversary reported that the drama entitled "The Cricket on the Hearth," had been selected.

Zwinglian
 The question for debate on Friday evening, Resolved, That immigration should be confined to those nations that are in sympathy with American institutions, proved to be a good one and brought forth numerous and spirited arguments on both sides. Yost, Mertz and Minich on the affirmative, got the two-to-one decision of the judges. Lockart, Isenberg and Weidorn ably upheld the negative. The speech of Weidorn was the best heard in Zwinglian for some time, and Minich's was a close second. Weidorn and Minich both gave excellent rebuttal speeches. The general debate was very spirited, the negative winning the decision of the house. Mertz read an excellent Review.
