THE SECOND STRING

Scrub Team Strongest on Defense and Furnished Good Practice for Varsity

By R. L. Matz

Ursinus was particularly fortunate in having an unusually strong reserve squad this year. In the five games played against opposing teams the scrub made a good showing. As the season progressed the Scrub grew in power. It lost to Allentown Prep., Perkiomen Prep., and Hill School by small scores, but won from Royersford High and tied the strong Swarthmore Scrub.

Notwithstanding the enviable record made against opposing teams, perhaps the best word of commendation that can be spoken of the Scrub is the splendid and scrappy practice it gave to the first string men.

Captain Robbins at center and E. Kichline in the backfield were the only veterans left from last year. The rest were new men and had to be taught all the rudiments of the game. Liberal attention by Coach Price, Douthett and Capt. Thompson of the Varsity soon developed a strong defense which was practically all the team possessed. An assistant coach is badly needed to make the Scrub a real training school for Varsity material, develop men to carry the ball and build up an offense for second teams.

To Captain Robbins, J. Wiedorn and later in the season to Fred Wiedorn belongs, in a large measure, the credit of putting "pep" into the fellows and arousing a real fighting spirit. J. Wiedorn has developed into a strong defensive player and with a little more coaching on offensive play will be a strong asset to the Varsity. Shellhamer and Minich played wonderful games at tackle. The former graduates this year but the latter has three more years and will make a strong bid for a permanent varsity berth next year. Captain Robbins played a good game at center and handled his men well. Come, at quarter, was an able general and played a good consistent game. Other players who look promising are Keller, Bogert, E. Kichline, Bush, Shope and Fleming. Jacobs, Cassel, Fisher, Austerberry, Heller, Bechtel and Mertz also deserve credit for taking their bumps and playing a good game against the heavy Varsity men.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Townpeople and Athletic Association Entertain Football Squad

The football squad were the guests of the townpeople and Athletic Association at a complimentary dinner at the Perkiomen Bridge Hotel on Saturday night. Sixty-five banqueters partook of the sumptuous dinner, sang songs and listened intently to the hearty responses to the various toasts.

Mr. J. Truman officiated as toastmaster. Coach Price in responding to "Football Achievements at Ursinus during the Last Four Years" traced the development of the teams and paid a glowing tribute to Captain Kerr Thompson. Dr. Omwake spoke on "Are Athletics an Asset to a College?" Captain Thompson, whose picture graced the program, received an oration when he arose to respond to "Four Years in Athletics at Ursinus and what They Mean to Me." "What We Expect To Do in 1912" was the toast of Captain-elect Paul Voh. Ralph Miller indulged in "Reminiscences." Under "Extremore" by members of the Gang. A. Hendricks, A. D. Fetterolf, Col. Vanderslice and ex-Captain Quay spoke.

Dr. Culp Pleads Audience with Lecture, "Uncrowned Kings"

On Wednesday evening Dr. W. C. Sherman Culp delivered his lecture on "Uncrowned Kings" to a large and enthusiastic audience in Bomberger Hall. His lecture contains many good things, in fact the same thing could be said of Dr. Culp as Champ Clark said of Theodore Roosevelt, "He knows a little about more things than any man I know." The completely developed man is the uncrowned king in the lecture. Body, morals, mind and soul must all be studied and developed. He dwelt particularly on the need of education and the solving of our social problems. He showed the wonderful opportunities for service that are now before us and will continue to arise and urged people to develop themselves to grasp those opportunities.

While Dr. Culp said many pertinent things yet he was not a man with a message. It was plainly seen during the course of the lecture that he elaborated on remarks that seemed to take well with the audience and to neglect those

SCHAFF ANNIVERSARY

Cricket on the Hearth the Feature of Forty-First Anniversary

The Schaff Literary Society celebrated the forty-first anniversary of its foundation on Friday night, in Bomberger Hall. A record-breaking crowd was present, including many of the alumni, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

The program was one that showed Schaff at her best. Misses Heebner, Bartman, Peters and Clark played as a piano quartette, Schubert's Trovis Marches Militaires. The oration, "A Pen Consecrated to Humanity," by M. C. Jacobs, was a good feature of the program. The oration was on the work and influence of Dickens, and as such was in accord with the remainder of the program. The vocal duet, "Passage Birds' Farewell," by Miss Saylor and Mr. Detwiler, was good.

The Cricket on the Hearth, dramatized by Albert Smith from Dickens' novel of that name, was well given. Mr. J. Edward coached the players and made the scenery. Both the acting and the scenic effect evidenced ability. The parts were taken as follows: John Perrybingle, a carrier, Billman; Mr. Tackleton, a toymaker, Emsminger; Caleb Plummer, his man, Glatfelter; Old Gentleman, Caleb's son disguised, Small; Mrs. John Perrybingle, Miss Viola Moser; Bertha Plummer, a blind daughter of Caleb, Miss Brooks; Mrs. Fielding, Miss Scheuren; May, her daughter, Miss Florence Detwiler; Tilly Slowboy, a nurse, Ada Schlichter. All the members of the cast did well. The usual reception, refreshments and social, completed the evening.

which did not. His business was to please because he was paid to do it. He is an orator of the old school and frequently resorted to flamboyancy to prove his points when evidence was lacking. He had the happy faculty of asking himself questions that he could easily answer and then replying to them in a witty, sarcastic manner that made them look ridiculous. Nevertheless he furnished plenty of food for thought, for which he is to be commended and it is hoped that the remainder of the course will measure up to the standard set by Dr. Culp.

FOOTBALL RESUME

Season of 1911 a Success Despite Defeats and Bad Breaks of Fortune

By John B. Price

In a review of the past season in football, there would be many things that the writer might dwell upon, but lack of space will make it impossible to cover everything. However, there are several phases of the past football season, which, in the opinion of the writer, might be touched upon. In the first place it is true without a doubt that the 1911 season was not as successful as that of 1910. There were several reasons for this. The graduation of two such sterling players as Gerges and Quay and the further loss of Isenberg, Slonaker and Pownal, practically wrecked a once great team. Even with these men absent the prospects for a successful season appeared good when the football candidates reported for practice. In fact a good many persons believed, from the first showing of the candidates, that a repetition of the 1910 season was at hand. The new men, Erickson, Potteiger, and Posey, together with Seaman, Mitterling, Minich, Behney and Shellhamer, looked good enough to warrant a continuation of the phenomenal success of Ursinus' teams.

Right here I wish to speak of something which every man well versed in sports understands, yet is never really able to explain. This is what they call the "breaks." It is an undisputed fact among followers of sport, that many a good team has been followed throughout a full season by a succession of queer incidents, unfortunate happenings, injuries and sickness, which, too mighty for human endeavor to overcome, nullifies all efforts and actual ability, and make for a rather unsatisfactory season. A good illustration of this can be found in the records of many good athletic teams which, even though admitted to be inherently strong, have totally failed to live up to expectations. These teams get all the bad breaks. Everything goes against them; they seem to be the target for all the catastrophes imaginable.

The Ursinus team of 1911 can justly be classed with these. Dur-

The Athletic Committee met last Monday evening, and decided to codify the following rules:

Any member of any Ursinus Varsity team participating in any game not approved by the Athletic Committee, shall be prohibited from participating in subsequent games scheduled by the Athletic Committee.

All men participating in a Varsity contest must have a general class average of 75 per cent.

Any student entering college late in the year shall not be permitted to participate in a Varsity contest until he is passed upon by the faculty.

Any person who has been a member of an Ursinus Varsity team for four years, shall not be permitted to further participate in Varsity contests in the particular sport in which he has played.

This action by the committee is timely and commendable, inasmuch as Ursinus has now reached a position athletically that safeguards must be taken against threatened degeneracy. When Ursinus had an Academy connected with the college the academy men were not barred from the Varsity teams; but as the academy has now been abolished and the college increased in numbers, a four-year rule is expedient. Gay is the only player who will be affected by the four-year ruling, and as he has played only two years on the Varsity baseball team and will graduate next year, he can play the two remaining baseball seasons. In all probability he will be made assistant coach of next year's football team and can render valuable service in coaching the Scrub team and developing new men. The other rules have been in practice for several years and were simply codified.

The student body, while regretting the loss of such a brilliant player as Gay, sees the necessity of the action and takes to it very kindly.

At the end of this football season Ursinus has fared well at the hands of the football critics. The team as a whole has been given a place as one of the strong teams among college elevens, despite the adverse scares, and some of our individual players have been given prominence never before accorded to Ursinus men.

Captain Kerr Thompson has been the recipient of much favorable comment. Reeves, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, picked him as tackle on his All-Eastern team as a mate to Hart of Princeton. In giving his reasons for his selection of our captain, he says in part as follows: "Kerr Thompson, the giant leader of the little Ursinus College eleven, is given the place without any hesitation.  Defensively he is a team in himself. Impregnable in defending his position, tackling on the ends and down the field.  Without doubt the Ursinus man was the best forward of the year in leaving his position to carry the ball.  In interfering for a runner he was also better than Hart, while his tackling was equally as deadly. On a 'Big Four' team Thompson would have been the sensation of the year."

The Philadelphia Press picked Kerr for the second All-American eleven and he received favorable mention in the Philadelphia North American and Inquirer. Kerr has been an ideal leader as well as a brilliant player. He knew the rules thoroughly and always contended intelligently and vigorously for the rights of his team. His own conduct on the field was sportsmanlike and he demanded the same conduct of his team mates. He is without an enemy in the college and he commanded respect and admiration wherever he went. Never has Ursinus had such a leader and player and many years will pass before she has another.

R. Thompson was the second All-American guard selection of the Philadelphia Inquirer, while Gay received favorable comment from nearly all of the Philadelphia papers. While the team of 1910 was more successful in winning games, yet the team of 1911 rounded out more stars than any previous team.

ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHT
INEXPENSIVE

Good light lends cheer and comfort to every home and once enjoyed you will hesitate to return to the use of kerosene lamps.

As an example of what it costs we give you the average costs of lighting during the shortest days of the year. You require artificial light in the kitchen, on such days on an average of four hours, and with the 25 watt Mazda lamp, you would consume 100 watts; in the dining-room the average is three hours, and with the 40 watt Mazda lamp you would consume 120 watts; in the library or sitting-room the average is 30 watts; in the bath-room you would consume 25 watts; with three sleeping rooms, and with the 25 watt Mazda lamp and an average lighting of three hours, you would consume 75 watts; a total of 625 watts.

Our rate is 14 cents per 1000 watts, with a minimum rate of $1.50 per month, for which we allow 1500 watts. You may not require light as many hours as we have figured, and you may not use it in many rooms as above described, but if you use it as illustrated it will cost but a fraction over 8 cents per night, and on the days when the sun rises late and sets early.

Let us help you to turn winter nights into summer evenings.

Yoh Elected Captain of 1912 Varsity
The Varsity "U" men met on Wednesday and unanimously elected Paul Yoh, '13, to captain the 1912 Varsity football team. Yoh entered Ursinus from Mercersburg Academy, with no football experience, but made the Varsity in his freshman year and has since developed into a strong tackle, both on offense and defense. He will probably be the star of next year's team and should make a good leader.

Y. M. C. A.
"Superstition and Faith" was the subject discussed at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Association. Glatfelter, the leader, gave a very clear and interesting talk on the relation of these two subjects to one another and to life. Other members gave interesting talks on the topic.

Y. W. C. A.
The last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. before the holidays was held on Tuesday evening. Miss Rapp, the leader, had a very interesting discussion on "Fault-finding."

Letters Awarded
The Athletic Committee awarded the Varsity "U" to K. Thompson '12, R. Thompson '12, Douthett '12, West '12, R. Kickline '12, Behney '12, Yoh '13, Gay '13, Seaman '14, Mitterling '15, Erickson '15, and Potteiger '15, for faithful service in football and to Kershner '12, for track work. The U. A. A. was granted to Shellhamer '12, Robbins '13, Bransome '13, B. Jacobs '13, Cassel '13, E. Kickline '14, Posey '15, Minich '15, Shope '15, Come '15, Keller '15, Bush '15, Fleming '15, Bogart '15, and J. Wiedorn '15.

Students Celebrate Football Season with Parade and Bonfire

As a fitting end to the football season of 1911 and as a means of showing their appreciation to the team, the students conducted a spirited bonfire celebration last Monday evening. The entire student body came out at nine o'clock and paraded Main street making the town resound with cheers, yells, songs and noise. The immense bon heap on the back campus was fired and speeches were given by Coach Price and members of the team. A snake dance around the dying embers was a fitting climax to the wild scene.

ing the second week of the college year practically every man on the squad was attacked with a form of sickness which practically crippled the team for the rest of the season. In fact, I am confident, had the team been up to par physically on September 30, we would have defeated Lafayette College. This misfortune was really the turning point of the whole season. Hard work resulted in the team getting into fair shape for the Penn game, but here again an intensely unfair decision robbed Ursinus of more glory in a game that every critic in Philadelphia admitted to have been the best game played by Penn until her Michigan game. In this game our list of injured was increased. Yoh and Mitterling both being out of the game, were joined by Pottelger, who tore a muscle in his leg. When Ursinus faced her greatest rival, F. and M., she was forced to play a team on which were but seven regular men, two of whom were out of their positions, thus greatly affecting the work. And yet Ursinus defeated F. and M. for the first time in the history of the college, twice in succession. In this game Captain Thompson, without a doubt the greatest football player that ever represented Ursinus, injured his wrist so badly that he was forced to wear it in a brace for the remainder of the year. And so it went on. Practically no one seemed immune. On the entire squad there were but two men who were not at different times seriously sick or injured during the season.

Misfortune not only followed the team physically, but also in the games. In the Lafayette, Penn, Lehigh, Swarthmore and Bucknell games, all of which were attended by small scores, a slight slip which just as easily might have gone the other way, prevented Ursinus from either winning or tying the score. But even though Ursinus did not defeat these teams which represented a student body of from three to fifty times as many students, she held them at bay and in most cases outplayed them—defeated in score but victorious in reality. With all due respect to the teams that have gone before them, some of which the writer was a member, I wish to state that these football teams from 1908 and 1911 inclusive have, in the words of a prominent alumnus, "done more to put Ursinus on the map than anything that has been done for the last twenty-five years."

And now to those who are either through graduation or friendship, or any other affiliation, connected or attached to Ursinus. There is a lamentable indifference toward Ursinus' athletics from without, and quite a bit from within. Were it not for the excessive interest displayed by a few, coupled with the interest of the townspeople of Collegeville, I wonder where we would be! One cannot appreciate too much the unflinching activity of certain people of Collegeville who are not even alumni of Ursinus, and that of the Vice President, Mr. Omwake, the latter having shown at all times a willingness to further the advance of Ursinus in legitimate and straight athletic lines. But what of the alumni? A faithful few are seen at some of the games, and as a rule they are always the same few. But they have as yet to respond to repeated calls for united help. In four years but three men have come back to help coach and encourage the team. And only four men have written the athletic director concerning new students. Alumni of Ursinus, wake up, do something for your Alma Mater's athletics, which will cost no money but only a little energy and spirit. Ursinus loses nine men of her first squad this year. She will start next season badly handicapped by a great team. Will you help her keep her record up, or will you let her sink back to be forgotten? Will you languidly say, "Oh, what's the use?" or will you realize what all this means to your own college, your Alma Mater who has done much more for you?
