THE QUARTETTE TAKES A TRIP

The College Quartette with Prof. Jolls made a trip to Mahanoy City last Thursday, where they gave a Concert in the Reformed Church of which Rev. J. G. Kerschmer is pastor. The Concert was quite a social event, and people from the entire county were present. The vocalists were assisted by Miss Minnie Kerschmer, reader of Allentown, a graduate of Emerson School of Oratory, Boston. The Concert was a success in every way, and press comments are loud in their praise of the music rendered.

The Quartette remained until Monday morning, during which time they were entertained at the Reformed parsonage and by the good people of the town. Several selections were sung at Sunday services, and large audiences received them. During their stay, the boys enjoyed the never-tale-forgotten experience of having been through a coal-mine and breaker. The boys made many friends up state, and speak well of the hospitalities of the Mahanoy City people.

Stewart, '07, now principal of the Lansdale High School called at college on Sunday.

PUBLIC CONCERT

Rain and snow availed nothing against the power of music last evening when many devotees of the art made their way to the Auditorium to listen to the concert given by the School of Music.

The program rendered was of a high standard, and all the organizations did excellent work. Praise must be general, not specific. The Orchestra under Prof. Henckels made its debut and was given a great ovation; their rendition of "Faust" deserved it all. Prof. Jolls' and Miss Riddle's solos were strong numbers. Miss Spangler was at her best in "Florian's Song," by Gadard. In general effect, this number was one of the most attractive on the program. The Handel Choral Society, Men's and Ladies' Glee Clubs and the Male Quartette also contributed excellent numbers to the evening's entertainment. Mr. Howard R. Drake as reader added a pleasing variety with his several selections, and was well received.

This was the last public concert before the Spring Musical Festival to be held on May 6 and 7, 1909.

LECTURE ON PORTO RICO

All classes were suspended on Monday afternoon in order that everyone might hear the lecture on "Our Experiences in Governing Porto Rico," by the Hon. Rowland P. Falkner, Ph. D. Mr. Falkner was for four years, from 1903 to 1907, Commissioner of Education to Porto Rico and is now connected with the Federal Immigration Commission. The speaker showed the methods employed in dealing with the problem of educating a people, seventy-five per cent of whom were illiterates, and who had had no experience in legislative government. The lecture revealed many things not commonly known about our insular possessions. We are grateful to Prof. Henckels, through whose efforts we were afforded the opportunity of listening to the eminent Dr. Falkner.

FIELD HOUSE FUND

The field house Fund increases slowly but surely, and there is every reason to believe that if every student does his part and if every alumnus who has been appealed to responds, the field house will be a certainty before the end of the school term. Several new developments have taken place recently and as soon as they have been consummated, they will be published in the "Weekly." And again we ask every one to respond to the appeal and help build the field house.

The list of subscriptions paid in this week is as follows.

Brought forward from last week	Actual Cash on Hand.
I. Calvin Fisher	$101 00
E. I. Cook	10 00
Jos. Yost	2 00
J. E. Mitchell	1 00
C. F. and N. M.	4 00
	10 00
Total cash on Hand	$128 00
The Field House Fund Committee adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, that the names of all those who have subscribed toward the Field House Fund shall be engraved and placed in a conspicuous place in the building after it has been completed.

LIFE AT AN ENGLISH UNIVERSITY

Fairly installed you soon fall into the daily routine. Rise when you will but Chapel is at eight which it is desirable to attend occasionally in the morning. Breakfast in your room, cooked partly by yourself on your open fire, may be supplemented by viands ordered from the College Kitchen. Classes are apt to be any time between nine and one; at these the gown must be worn. As Queens' is confederated in a group of five of the smaller Colleges, these lectures are partly in your own, partly in other Colleges. Such, like breakfast, is eaten in your own room; at either meal you will often have guests or go out to other rooms as a guest. The early afternoon is devoted to athletics. If you row, the eight may be ordered out at two or two thirty. In either case you get down to the river then and put in an hour or two emulating the galley slave of ancient Greece, but getting more pleasure out of it and only a verbal lash from the coach. Return to College by four to four-thirty and have a cup of tea and a biscuit in some one's rooms or your own. Work an hour. Evening Chapel at six-thirty, which you are more apt to attend than the morning one; you have to attend a proportion of the weekly Chapels, the two on Sunday counting double; for most it is more a privilege than a duty. Dinner in the Hall is at seven, which everyone attends in cap and gown. The Fellows of the College sit on a raised platform at one end, the undergraduates at long tables below. The Hall itself is a large room with arched roof, woodwork carved with armorial bearings, oil paintings at the upper end, and stained glass windows recalling the Hall "Where twelve great windows blazen Arthur's wars, And all the light that falls upon the board Streams through the twelve great battles of the King."

After dinner you have the evening to do what you will. If you are an Honour man you will spend

EDITORIAL

The coming Spring calls the students to God's out-of-doors. Reading beside the radiator must give way to physical recreation. The knight of the bat and ball are donning their uniforms, and devotees of all kinds of sport have their day. The perfect days, such as we recently enjoyed, call one from one's books, and though we would fain turn a deaf ear to the Siren call, our inner selves respond with a feeling of renewed vigor and spirit. The effect of dull, sluggish days is counteracted by the springing of life everywhere. Feathered songsters have returned from tropic climes to thrill the heart with grandest music and relieve the monotony of the wintered landscape. Spring is in all things, and "Whether we look, or whether we listen We hear life murmur, and see it glisten."

***

The baseball team plays its first game of the season to-morrow. The men have been faithful in their endeavors to learn the fundamentals of the game from men of experience and are naturally anxious for the first game. The best hopes of the students go with them, and barring misfortune, there should be a good story to tell when our team returns.

***

The public Concert last evening was one the equal of which has not been given for many years. The fact that it was public has significance. In the first place, it shows that the School of Music is not merenary. It is overflowing with things which it is willing to share. In the second place, it is a sign of appreciation to the public of their generous patronage throughout the year. The organizations that took part in the concert last evening are deserving of being heard, and all efforts are now directed towards the May Music Festival.

SOCIETIES

SCHAFF

The program for Friday evening was a debate which was rendered as follows:

Piano Solo, Miss Booser, '10; Vocal Solo, Fogelman, '10, "The Bird and the Rose."

Debate, Question, Resolved, That local option is better than high license as a means to temperance.

Messrs. Peters, '09, Tyson, '10, and Stamm, '12, argued for local option while Herber, '11, Gladfelter, '12, and Heinly, '12, defended the negative side.

The judge Miss Spangler, '09, decided in favor of the affirmative on the merits of the debate. After an interesting general debate the house decided in favor of the Negative.

Messrs. Saylor, '10 and Kichline rendered two Cornet duets.

ZWINGLIAN

A large number enjoyed the miscellaneous program on Friday evening. The various numbers were as follows: Vocal Solo, "O Promise Me," Mr. Faust; Talk, "The Recent Session of Congress" Lorenz; Sketch "A Society for Prohibition of Slang," Misses Fryling, Fermier, Bauer and Thomas. Talk, "Improvement for our Public Schools," Miss Clark; Vocal Duet, "Schubert's Serenade" Misses Fermier and Bauer; Encomium on Roosevelt, Mr. Lau; A Criticism of Roosevelt, Mr. Mertz; Declamation, "Biddie's Trial among the Yankees," Miss Rapp; Original Story, "The Ambitious Youth" Mr. Strack; Piano Solo, "The Reverie," Long.

After the program an election of officers followed which resulted as follows: President, Mr. Abel; Vice-President, Mr. Mertz; Recording Secretary Miss Rapp; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Place; Treasurer, Mr. Belney; Chaplain, Mr. Godshall; Musical Director, Miss Fryling; Editor No. 1, Miss Fermier; Editor No. 2, Mr. Bunting; Critic, Mr. Myers; Janitor, Bear. An appropriate speech was given by the president.

Y. M. C. A.

Dunseath, '10, conducted a very interesting meeting, choosing for his subject the following: "The Rule of a Happy Life." The remarks were based upon Jude 2: 1.

The gentleman shown in the illustration is dressed in "very swell" attire of the fashion of about 1850. Jacob Reed, the founder of Jacob Reed's Sons, was an authority in the clothing business long before that time however, and his successors are still actively engaged in supplying correct clothing and outfitting to "smart" young men of the present generation—experience counts for something.

"Sin is the cause of all unhappiness, therefore one of the rules of life must be to put as much sin out of our lives as possible.

We must build up a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

The rule of Christian happiness is the rule of prayer.

The rule also is the looking forward to the things of God. Looking to greater, better and more Christian things of our life.

Therefore the rule of a happy life must have these four characteristics namely, escaping sin, building on Christ, prayer and looking towards the holy Christian side of life."

CHESS CLUB

As the number of games played increases, the interest in the chess tournament grows rapidly. Now that Spring weather is at hand, it is urged upon the members of the club to play the full number of games scheduled so as to make the match worth while.

Last week the club chanced off a chess set which Mr. Stamm was so fortunate to secure.

By the resignation of Mr. Behney, the membership of the club has been reduced to fourteen and in accordance with this number it has been thought best to divide the competitors into two divisions and thus make the race for positions more interesting to all parties concerned.

Score for fourth week:
 First division:

	W.	L.	Percentage
Mathieu	11	3	.786
Lindaman	30	9	.769
Stamm	14	5	.733

PERSONALS

Miss Shaw, ex. A, of Jeffersonville visited friends in college last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gresh of Norristown left for Europe on Friday the nineteenth to stay a month.

Wagner, '10, and Moser, '10, spent Saturday in Philadelphia.

Herson, '12, attended the Methodist Conference held at Philadelphia.

Messrs. Earl Newburn, William Knobler and Morey Williams of Royersford visited Gerges '11, on Saturday.

Mertz, '10, was with friends in Norristown Tuesday evening.

Miss Sarah Kepler of Pottstown spent a few days this week with Miss Thomas, '12.

Messrs. Earl Busch and Harry Kaltenbach of Royersford visited friends at college last week.

On Saturday evening Miss Clamer entertained the Phi Alpha Psi.

Dr. Blessing made a visit to the college on Tuesday.

TRACK PROSPECTS

Track work for 1909 has begun at Ursinus, and taking advantage of the intermittent bursts of sunshine and of the more clement weather the candidates are doing the best work possible.

Although the conditions are not altogether favorable for this line of sports, we may still expect a speedy team to represent Ursinus this spring, and great hope is cherished for a repetition of the favorable season of 1907.

When a call was issued for candidates by Coach Price in the early part of the season only five men reported, but the number has kept growing larger until at present each afternoon finds eight or ten candidates working on Spangler's cinder-path.

The men who are trying for positions on the team are Custer, Spears, Heinly, Come, Erickson, Kerschner, Keyser, Douthett, Maeder and Davis.

Four of these men have had some experience on the track while the rest, although green, yet give promise of developing considerable ability.

So far only one event has been scheduled, namely the meet at Franklin Field on April the 24th, but everything is being done to try to give the men a chance in some other athletic meets.

Track work at Ursinus is in its infancy, but if the college grows in athletics as it has during the last year, there is no reason why this branch of athletics should not forge to the front, and become one of the leading sports.

THE MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA

HAS FOUR DEPARTMENTS:

Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry

The instruction in each is thoroughly practical, laboratory work, ward work and bedside teaching receiving particular attention. All courses are carefully graded, and free quizzes by professors and trained instructors, clinical conferences and modern seminar methods are special features. All students are accorded the same college privileges and those in Medicine and Dentistry have the advantage of abundant clinical material, as the College has its own Hospital and the largest and finest clinical amphitheatre in the world. Students in Pharmacy are trained to fill lucrative commercial positions, and those in Pharmaceutical Chemistry for the many openings created by the new Pure Food and Drug Laws.

Address the Dean of the Department in which you are interested for an illustrated announcement describing courses in full and containing information as to requirements, fees, etc.

most evenings at your books; otherwise there is a theatre and an occasional concert. The Cambridge Union holds weekly debates of a high standard. The College Union holds weekly meetings alternating debate and concert. But you must not return to College later than midnight. To do so would be a "serious breach of discipline" and would probably result in expulsion. This may be a favourable place to say something of restricting regulations.

You must wear cap and gown at all Academic exercises, at Church and Chapel, in the town on all evenings after dusk and all day on Sunday. You must not smoke in cap and gown.

You must be in College by twelve and to enter after ten it is necessary to ring the porter's bell and have your name taken down.

You must attend so many Chapels a week.

Some of the regulations seem unnecessarily strict and of too paternal character for College men. It should be said though that the fact that they have been enforced on students ever since the Middle Ages means that everyone takes them as a matter of course and does not think them a hardship.

It is now time to say something about work at Cambridge. At the outset we must differentiate two classes of students, the Honour men and the Pass men. Both get the same degree of B. A. The pass man takes the following series of examinations. The Previous Examination (or "Little Go"), consisting of fairly easy papers in classics, elementary mathematics and an English essay; the General Examination (or "Great Go"), involving more advanced work in classics, mathematics, physics and English; a Special Examination involving a more detailed study of one subject which may be Theology, Political Economy, Law, History, Chemistry, Physics, Modern Languages, Mathematics or Classics.
