FOOTBALL

URSINUS IS DEFEATED BY RUTGERS.

With a crippled team, the 'Varsity journeyed to New Brunswick, last Saturday to be beaten by the score of 29 to 5. Capt. Ellis having received an injury in the Lehigh game was unable to play and Kerschner having been hurt in practice during the week did not accompany the team. Heller who acted as captain was also hurt before the game.

Ursinus won the toss and decided to receive the kick-off. Rutgers kicked off and Ursinus carried the ball down the field, by tackle plays, and double passes to Rutgers' 25 yard line, where it was lost on a forward pass. Rutgers then advanced the ball by line bucks and out side of tackle plays, and finally carried it over for a touchdown. Goal.

Ursinus then kicked off. Rutgers advanced the ball to mid field where on a fake forward pass, it was carried down the field and across the goal line for a touchdown. No goal.

Rutgers kicked off. Ursinus by hard playing took the ball to Rutgers 10 yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. Rutgers was soon forced to punt, and in turn Ursinus was held, and Paist punted. Rutgers then scored another touchdown and kicked the goal; making the score 17-0. The half ended soon afterwards with Ursinus in possession of the ball on Rutgers' 25 yard line.

SECOND HALF

In the beginning of the second half Ursinus kicked off. Shortly afterwards Quay was hurt and was forced to leave the game. Alspach who was playing left-end was put in at tackle and Keyser took end. For a while the ball sea-sawed up and down the field, until Rutgers on a successful pass took it over

SECOND NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE

"THE MAN OF GALILEE," by GEORGE R. WENDLING.

Wednesday evening, December 5th, the second number of the lectures will be given. That evening George R. Wendling will deliver his lecture on "The Man of Galilee." He is one of the best reputed of American present-day lecturers, and all who can should hear this, his most famous lecture.

George R. Wendling is without doubt one of the greatest American lecturers. Trained to the law, his grasp and treatment of his subject is comprehensive, exhaustive and logical. His lectures are all dignified, scholarly and eloquent, but the eloquence, like that of Daniel Webster's, is the eloquence of matter rather than of manner. All who came out to hear him last winter at Kutztown on the subject, "Does Death End All?" heard a magnificent address and went home with faith increased and a stronger rational hope, that if a man die he shall live again.

"The Man of Galilee," is the most entrancing of all the Wendling lectures, and it may well be; for it is the result of many years of study, the child of his mature age, beside dealing with the greatest character in all the tide of time. No Christian should fail to hear this the most masterly presentation of the life and character of Christ that has ever been given from the platform.

PERSONALS

Miss Fryling, '09, was in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon.

Myers, '07, Sponsler, '07, Bordner, '08, and Spangler, '10, witnessed the Medico-Chi—Jeff. football game at Philadelphia Saturday.

Professor Chandler saw Viola Allen in Cymbeline at Philadelphia Saturday afternoon.

Leidy, '08, was in Pottstown on business Monday afternoon.

The greater number of the students are spending Thanksgiving at their respective homes. Only a few, those living at a great distance, can be seen around the college during vacation.

Stamets, A, made a flying trip to Jacksonville, Florida, last Tuesday until Sunday. Although gone but a short time, he had varied experiences, mostly pleasant ones.

PROF. C. G. HAINES ENTERS MARRIED LIFE

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Moser, fifth avenue, Collegeville. Miss Bertha Moser, '02, became the bride of Prof. Charles Grove Haines, '03.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and smilax. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. P. Shellhamer of York, pastor of the groom, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends.

Just as the clock was striking the hour of noon the bridal party entered the parlor to the strain of Lohengrin's, rendered very beautifully by Miss Margaret Moser, sister of the bride. The groom attended by Mr. LeRoy Roth, and Mrs. LeRoy Roth, Matron of Honor, in a dainty gown of white over pink, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations, were followed by the bride handsomely gowned in white, with a bouquet of bridal roses, leaning on the arm of her father.

A reception followed the ceremony. At 2 p. m. in a shower of rice, confetti, they left in an automobile for Norristown, where they boarded a train for Atlantic City.

The bride was principle of the Collegeville High School since graduating from Ursinus. The groom after taking his A. B. at Ursinus, took three years of post-graduate work at Columbia University and in September, became professor of Economics and History at Ursinus.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN FOR 1907

Monday evening ex-captain Ellis gave the 'Varsity a royal smoker. During the evening the past football season was discussed, mourned over, and the highest prospects for a successful season in 1907 were brought out. As a leader for the gridiron for 1907, Ira J. Hain, '08, was chosen. Hain has played right half-back on the 'varsity for the past three years, and has always been one of the best ground gainers, as well as an exceptionally good defensive player.

With such a leader, one who believes the best football comes from hard work, strict training and severe practices, the student body can look forward to a series of victories won by the team of 1907.

Mrs. Strickland, Preceptress at Olevian made a business trip to Philadelphia Tuesday.

THE URSINUS BULLETIN

The November number of the Ursinus Bulletin presents some very interesting facts about Ursinus College and in particular, throws much light on the financial condition of the institution. It contains the official reports of officers and committees presented at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors, Nov. 8, 1906.

Pages 1, 2 consist of a number of inspiring editorials. They are such that should infuse every alumnus and friend of the college with a desire to do more than ever before to promote the well-being and advancement of Ursinus.

The report of the Finance Committee upon page 3, outlines the methods by which that committee has operated since its appointment in July, and what it has accomplished. In its report the Administration Committee announces that the work of the college has been excellent, the that appearance of the grounds has not deteriorated, and much general repairing has been done. The Dean reports favorably upon the enrollment, courses of instruction, and especially the excellent behavior of the students. At the close he states: "We are fortunate in having an exceptionally devoted and honorable body of students. The manly and upright conduct of the Ursinus students is a matter of frequent comment in the community."

The last three pages, 6, 7, 8, of the Bulletin, contain the report of the treasurer of the college. The report shows that for the fiscal year ending August 13, 1906, there has been over and above all expenses, a profit of $1619.89. As is stated in the Bulletin, "Ursinus College is thus working its way toward financial freedom and independence." The complete realization of this freedom depends upon the Finance Committee and the loyalty of Ursinus Alumni.

The Sunday School room of the Trinity Ref. Ch., Wayensboro, Pa., Rev. F. F. Behner, D. D., '73, pastor, refurnished and very much improved, was reopened for services on last Sunday morning.

At a recent district convention of the Lebanon Co. Sunday School Association, which convened at Myerstown, Rev. C. A. Butz, A. B., '99, delivered an address on "Jesus Christ as a Model for the Sunday School Teacher."

Once again the football season is closed. We cannot say that our season was a success in winning a majority of the games played. Many obstacles were in the way for the small number of gridiron warriors to overcome. With the aid of our coach we mastered these obstacles that stood out prominently. But underneath all this there is something greater, and something which the coach, captain, nor players could bring out. This spirit of the student-body at large is something woefully deficient at the present time. Only can this deficiency be realized when Ursinus faces some other team away from home; the followers of Ursinus are dumb founded when they hear the cheering and encouragement other players receive from the student-body. Other sports are discouraged and football encouraged but can we say this of the past year? We cannot remedy the lost season but let us take warning for the future. If you intend to support football go into it with your entire spirit, push and help along. With the possibility of loosing only four men by graduation and the nucleus that remains we feel safe in predicting for Ursinus a bright future in football.

To-day good conversationalists are rare indeed. This is due to the complete revolution in civilization. In former times the only means of disseminating knowledge was by the spoken word, and all cultivated the art of conversation. To-day printed matter has taken the place of it, and but few become polished conversationalists.

All college men should be able to converse in good English diction, and he, in the speaking, natural and sympathetic. He should be able to attract and interest whom ever he may talk with and possess in addition the power to listen. As a people, the average American is too restless and feverish to be ever a good listener.

It is embarrassing to stand around the average reception room dumb and helpless. Unable to enter in the general conversation we feel miserable and wretched, and wonder why we are not sought out and popular. Particularly is this true in college life.

As college men and women we should try to become good conversationalists, that is, become broad and tolerant, "open our hearts wide, exhibit a free nature and an open mind, and be responsive, so that a listener will throw wide open every avenue of his nature and give us free access to his heart of hearts."

SOCIETY NOTES

SCHAFF

The program for Friday evening was general literary in character. It was a Thanksgiving program and was thoroughly enjoyed. The first number was a piano duet by Miss Helen Neff, '09 and Mr. Krusen, '09. The selection was "The March of the Gypsies" which was encored and "To Arms" followed—an equally pleasing selection. An essay, "The Origin of Thanksgiving" by Mr. Cook, '07 was well treated and showed the history of a "day of thanks" in all nations.

Mr. Umstead, '09, recited "Thanksgiving." This was a timely selection and was recited with ability. Miss Lillie Beck, '08, rendered a piano solo very efficiently.

"Reasons for Thanksgiving" an essay by Mr. Fegley, '07, was a discussion based upon the political and economic situation of our nation. Mr. Steward '07, read a Thanksgiving story which all enjoyed. An original story, written by Miss Long, '09 and read by Miss Spangler, '09, in the absence of Miss Long, was exceptionally good.

Mr. Eli Wismer, '09, sang "Land of Beulah." An essay—"The Thanksgiving of To-day" by Miss Eva Thompson, '08, was very interesting. Mr. Thomason, '10, recited "November" a very interesting selection. The gazette by Mr. Danehower, '08 deserves praise as a very entertaining and witty

The girls showed themselves very proficient in the roles they played and it was a great success. ZWINGLIAN

The general literary program rendered in Zwinglian Society last Friday evening was very entertaining and instructive. The first numbers, a pleasing violin solo by Moser, '10, was followed by an interesting reading by Roth, '07, H. K. Thomas, '10, recited very well, and Long, '09, rendered a piano solo in his customary, vigorous manner. Following the solo, was the feature of the evening, a comical dialogue by Maeder, '10, and Myers, '10. Maeder in character of a persistent and ambitious book agent, in the process of the dialogue, sold Myers, a very busy bookkeeper, who had no time for agents, various kinds of patent medicines, books and such things.

After the reading of a cleverly written original story by Abel, '09, a cornet solo was given by Stoner, '08. An excellent declamation by Miss Butler, '09, followed, and an instructive and thoughtful essay by Rhodes, '08. The Mandolin Club, with Snyder, '08, as leader, played a clever selection, and responded to an encore. A well-composed oration was delivered by Brown, '07. The Review, replete with humor and wit, as well as some sound-articles, by Custer, '09, completed the regular program for the evening. Under voluntary exercises, Myers, as a Southern negro pulpit orator, and introduced by Maeder, as one of the church deacons, delivered a typical sermon in negro dialect.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing term: President, Moore, '07; Vice-president, Rhodes, '08; Recording Secretary, Myers, '10; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Fermier, '10; Treasurer, Brown, '07; Chaplain, Quay, A; Musical Director, Miss Drumm, A, Editor, No. 1, Leidy, '08; Editor No. 2, Lau, '09; Critic, Crunkleton, '07; Janitor, Stroock, A.

HIGH SCHOOL FITS FOR COLLEGE

In this morning's Philadelphia Press, Nov. 30, there appears an editorial upon the theme, High School Fits for College. In it is stated that Cornell University as well as Harvard University has discovered that high school graduates which it has received for the past forty years, have proven

The Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia DEPARTMENT OF DENTISTRY

Fees for this Department have not been raised for the Sessions of 1005-06
As a distinct part of the Medico-Chirurgical College, the Department of Dentistry offers superior advantages to its students. The clinics of the college present wide opportunities for the practical study of general and oral surgery, as well as supplying abundance of material for practical work in the Dental Infirmary. All the privileges of the students of the Medical Department of the College are accorded to the dental students. A complete system of quizzing conducted by the professors free of charge, obviating the expense of private quizzing and preparing the students for examination. themselves better students than those from private schools. Particularly is this true in the New England States, says President Eliot, of Harvard.

This condition, however, is not particularly true of the Middle States. In Pennsylvania a high school may "mean anything or nothing." Some high schools give thorough preparatory training, while others do not. The majority are of the poorer class.

These statements show that although during the past fifteen years the high schools have wonderfully increased in number, the old, renowned, and much regarded private secondary institutions have not yet disappeared, but are still doing an ennobling work in the field of education.

Rev. J. C. Stamm, S. T., '06, pastor of St. Paul's church, and his bride, who was Miss Pauline Herbrecht of Doyelstown, were tendered a large reception on Tuesday eve., at 364 Chestnut St., by about 75 members of his congregation who took the pastor and his bride completely by surprise. Luncheon was served during which Rev. S. A. Hitner, in behalf of the assemblage, presented Rev. Stamm with a purse of money and eulogized his work as pastor. Rev. Stamm responded in a feeling manner.

on the last down. Paist punted out to Hain, but Hoover failed to kick the goal. Score Rutgers 29.
Ursinus 5. The half soon afterwards ended with the ball in Rutgers' possession. For Ursinus Quay, Alspach, Abel, and Eisenberg played the best offensive game. On the defence Heller, Hain and Cook excelled. The new men who were sulted in a victory for the Scrubs, the score should have been much larger. Both teams fumbled badly and the Scrubs after carrying the ball for good gains would lose it on a fumble. This lessened the Scrubs chances of scoring very much. In

FRESHMEN WIN

Tuesday afternoon the Freshman football team accompanied by the 1910 co-eds journeyed to Conshohocken to play Conshohocken High School. In every way the trip was a success, the game was won by a score of 28-0, and no merrier crowd could be found than the one returning to college on the 8.30 trolley.

The game was played as practice game in preparation for the inter-class match to be played Saturday, Dec. 8th. The Freshman have been practicing faithfully, and judging from the recent work of both teams the Fresh-Soph contest will be most interesting and exciting.

The meeting on Wednesday evening was a quiet hour service.
Koons, '09, conducted the meeting.
Inspiring songs were sung and several of the members led in prayer. The short period of service was one of spiritual refreshment, and, although the attendance was small owing to the Thanksgiving recess, those present felt well repaid by the inspiration they received.

squirrel rifle with the convenience and rapid fire of the most improved repeater. It is so constructed that the same rifle uses the following cartridges: .32 short and long rim-fire, .32 short and long center-fire, and is the only repeater made using rim-fire cartridges larger
