FOOTBALL

DICKINSON, 25. URSINUS, 0.

A large crowd of interested spectators saw Ursinus go down to defeat before the strong Dickinson team last Saturday. Ursinus was outweighed and was forced to be on the defensive through almost the entire game. Although Ursinus never had a chance to win yet the game was not an easy one for Dickinson by any means. The team certainly has the true fighting spirit as was shown in the last five minutes of play. In the middle of the field Dickinson was forced to punt. Paiste caught the ball and eluding the ends, he brought the oval back to the Ursinus forty-five yard line. The whole team seemed to be aroused by the brilliant work of their quarter-back, and the way they ploughed through the Dickinson line and circled their ends was a revelation to their supporters. The ball was on Dickinson's twenty yard line and a touchdown seemed inevitable, when time was called.

The team as a whole played well considering the strength and weight of the visiting team. Heffelfinger as usual was a tower of strength on defense. Several times he broke through Davis and broke up the play before it got fairly started. Foltz, Faringer and Paiste were strong on defense, while Roth Faringer and Hain did the best offensive work.

For Dickinson, big Davis was the star. He seemed to be always able to gain at least five yards and he made the last touchdown on a run of thirty yards. In kicking he was not in good form, although his goal from placement was a clever piece of work. Robison, Salter and Viebalm were also consistent ground gainers.

Dickinson chose to receive the kick-off and Faringer kicked to Harry. By line plunges and plays outside of tackle, Dickinson carried the ball to Ursinus' five yard line. Here Ursinus gave her best exhibition of defensive work. The team responded to the frantic yells Regular weekly devotional exercises were led by C. H. Brown, '08. Subject, "Seek ye the Lord," Isa. 55:6.

The speaker pointed out that our object should be to seek to obtain the true knowledge of Him; to seek reconciliation with Him; to seek His pardoning mercy; that the commencement of religion in the heart is a seeking after God; that the injunction is intended for us as well as for the Jews.

In the second place, he showed that the passage implies (1) an ignorance of God; (2) that if men would obtain favor, they must seek it; (3) that the invitation should be made to all; (4) that knowledge of God is inestimable—God would not command us to seek worthless things.

If there were eleven commandments, this would be the first, for the commandments imply a knowledge of God. And hence the command, "Seek ye the Lord," is as truly a commandment of the other ten. Through it, men are directly accountable to God for ignorance of His word and His salvation.

EDITORIAL

Every man should prove himself a true American whenever the opportunity presents itself. Last fall when the question arose among the students as to the advisability of going home for election, there was hardly a dissenting voice. A petition was signed and given to the faculty, asking for leave of absence on election day. This leave was readily granted, and as a consequence a large number of the students went home to cast their ballot for the presidential election. This year a similar petition was handed in, but for some reason the faculty refused to grant a leave of absence. In spite of this fact a great number of the students showed their loyalty to the state and to themselves by again going home to vote. This goes to prove that the American citizen is not only loyal under favorable but often under unfavorable circumstances.

The peculiar attitude of the students in regard to public entertainments has often been observed. Musicales, lectures, concerts, etc., are given in Bomberger hall, but very often these are poorly patronized by the students. The question of money does not enter into the matter. A free entertainment is not better attended than one to which admission is charged.

The Wicks lecture and the recital given by the Schubert String Quartet again bring this question to the fore. They were both patronized especially well by the townspeople, but only fairly so by the students. Such men are often engaged at great expense, and it is only just that an appreciation should be shown by the students by a good attendance.

The entertainments given in Bomberger hall are of different kinds. These help to round off the rough edges with which a student is often surrounded. They help to broaden one's views and give one a different view of life. Book learning, while very necessary is apt to make one narrow. These entertainments and public concerts are just what the student needs to round out his college course.

SOCIETY NOTES

SCHAFF

Instead of the regular order of program the members of the Schaff gave scenes from Sheridan's "The School for Scandal." Of this well known play Act I. Scene 2, Act II. Scenes 1, 2 and 3, Act III. Scenes 1 and 3, Act IV. Scenes 1, 2 and 3. Act V. Scene 2, were well given. The cast of characters was—

The play spoke for itself. Some scenes undoubtedly could have been given better, but considering the short time spent in preparation and the nature of the play, there seems to be no ground for criticism. The screen scene and the scenes between Lady Teazle and Sir Peter deserve special mention and commendation.

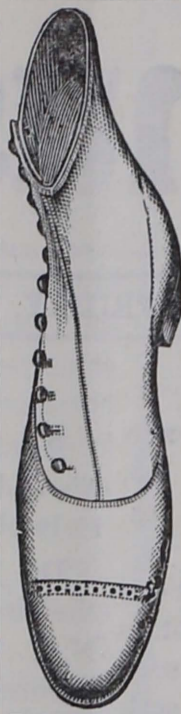

The play brought out to some degree the capability of the Schaff members, and the spirit with which things are done.

The program was interspersed with piano selections which made it very entertaining and produced a pleasing effect. We were delighted to see the great number of friends present and hope they will come again.

ZWINGLIAN

"Resolved, That the present rate of immigration into the United States is injurious to the country" was the subject for debate in the Zwinglian society on Friday evening. The affirmative speakers were Hain, '08, Custer, '09, Keasey, '06 and Miss Jackson, '08; the negative, Stamy, '08, Koerper, '07, Lau, '09, and Brown, '07.

The discussion was spirited throughout and interesting, the new members showing promise of developing into good debaters. Many valuable arguments were presented by both sides. The summary of the arguments is as follows:

Affirmative:

1. The United States needs unskilled laborers, but they must be good men, physically and morally, such as the Germans and Norwegians.

2. Immigration reduces the standard of our country's morals: the majority of the immigrants are corrupt; they lead a hand to mouth existence.

3. The 1903 bill does not prevent the influx of men of poor physique who will eventually become public charges.

4. The immigrants flock to the South, where the cities will become congested, taxing resources to the utmost to provide for charitable institutions, etc.

5. Immigration affects our educational system.

6. The causes of immigration are different now than they formerly were.

Negative:

1. Entrance of swarms of immigrants represents so much laboring power. Labor is the wealth of Nations, (Adam Smith) therefore labor is the only direct and primary means of acquiring wealth. The facts of history prove this.

2. A country is not overpopulated so long as the "saturation point" is not reached, i. e., when the country is just able to properly clothe, feed and shelter its inhabitants.

3. The "saturation point" in the United States is far distant. Netherlands with 359 persons to the square mile, Great Britain with 311, Germany with 234, and France with 187, have a prosperous laboring population. The United States has a population of only twenty to a square mile. With this in view, and considering the great area of agricultural land in the country and the immense resources, the United States cannot be overpopulated.

4. There is a need in the country for unskilled labor, because the American laborer has risen to such a position that he wouldn't think of going into the ditch or upon the railroad.

5. Most of the immigrants have received some experience in representative government in their countries.

The judges decided in favor of the negative. The house supported the affirmative side. The Zwinglian Review was read by Fry. The material was carefully selected. The jokes were wholesome, and the editor read them in a very effective manner.

COLLEGE NOTES

Among those who went home for election were Foltz, '06, Smith, '06, Wise, '06, Cook, '07, Crunkleton, '07, Ellis, '07, Myers, '07, Toole, '07, and Rhodes, '08.

Bordner, '08, and Munhall, '09, who were confined to their rooms with attacks of tonsillitis, are able to be about again.

Dr. and Mrs. Carver entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chambers, Philadelphia, last Saturday.

Among the out-of-town guests at the Ursinus-Dickinson game on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kelly, Atlantic City, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Healy and Miss Healy, Pottstown; Mrs. Francis Riera, Miss Lillian Riera and Miss Harriet DeYoung, Philadelphia; Miss Anderson, Phoenixville.

COLLEGE WORLD

Arthur Duffy, the famous sprinter from Georgetown, who holds several world's records, publicly confessed that he has been a professional athlete since 1898. His record for one hundred yards is nine and three-fifths seconds. The chief source of regret over his professionalism is that it will cast doubt upon our amateur athletes, who have contested in England and in other foreign countries where Duffy holds several amateur records. His name will be expunged from the records of the Amateur Union.

Wisconsin University has taken the initiative in founding a western basketball league.

The compulsory morning prayers of Princeton have been cut down from six times a week to two. This bids fair to their abolishment.

All new students at the Nebraska-Wesleyan are required upon registration to sign a pledge stating that they will not pledge their membership to any literary society until they have been at the University for three months. This is done in order to avoid society "rushing" at the opening of school, and also to give the new students a fair opportunity to decide which of the societies has the best literary talent.

Those recently selected for the Hall of Fame at N. Y. U., were John Quincy Adams, Alexander Hamilton, James Madison, General William T. Sherman, John G. Whittier (who received the largest number of votes), Louis Agassiz, John Paul Jones, Mary Lyon, Maria Mitchell and Emma Williard. Great surprise was manifested at the failure of election of Poe. Ex.

of "Hold them!" "Hold them!" In two plays Dickinson only gained two yards and it was third down, two yards to gain. Davis was called back and given the ball; but he was downed for no gain, and it was Ursinus' ball. Faringer at once kicked, but a moment later Salter circled left end for thirty yards and on the next play, Harry scored the first touchdown. The goal was missed. Score, Dickinson, 5. Ursinus, 0.

After carrying the ball to the Ursinus twenty-five yard line, Davis kicked a ball from placement. This made the score 9-0 at the first half.

Ursinus was unable to check Dickinson's fierce rushes in the second half and two more touchdowns resulted and one goal. Then Ursinus braced and was playing excellent football when Faringer fumbled a punt and Cramer fell on the ball. On the next play Davis broke through the line and ran thirty yards for a touchdown. He missed the goal. Score, Dickinson, 25. Ursinus, 0. For the remainder of the game Ursinus out-played Dickinson and had the ball on their twenty yard line when time was called.

Oh! let us gaily sing
While merrily they play

For they to us do bring
A victory to-day.

Oh! let us gaily sing
Our boys must know we're here

When they make a dashing run
When the victory is won

Oh! let us give the old Ursinus cheer.

MARLIN

THE Marlin RIFLE, Model 1892, .32 calibre, is the best rifle made for exterminating pests and torments about a place, as rats, weazels, woodchucks, etc., also for a companion on your vacation trip, combining the good points of the old muzzle-loading squirrel rifle with the convenience and rapid fire of the most improved repeater. It is so constructed that the same rifle uses the following cartridges: .32 short and long rim-fire, .32 short and long center-fire, and is the only repeater made using rim-fire cartridges larger than .22 calibre.

The short cartridges are just the thing for small game while the long ones kill animals of fair size easily. On the first 2000 cartridges used you have saved the cost of a Marlin.

New Marlin Catalog—and our Experience Book that tells what Marlins are doing the world over—Free, for 6c. postage.
