During this time the divorce of the body from the soul is accomplished;
the hand rests inert between the warm hands of her companion - neither consenting nor resisting - a thing.

We shall say this women is in Bad Faith.
- Patterns of Bad Faith
Jean-Paul Sartre

Sometimes- Sartre Would Not Be Proud

A stab of guilt reminds me of flowers- a peace offering
But you meant more than that.

Still I lied to you just as so many others had used me
Lived in Bad Faith.

Crushed petals of a pale pink rose
Lost between scraps of lace.
