Mission Statement

The role of the athletic program is to support the overall University mission. Intercollegiate competition has been an integral part of higher education in America for more than a century. The University endorses the concept of "Athletics as Education" described in the policy statement adopted by the American Council on Education in 1984, which cites key contributions of athletics to the individual, the institution, and society as a whole, as follows: "Among these contributions are the development of discipline, teamwork and self-confidence of individuals who participate, the improvement and substance of institutional reputations and morale, and the heightening of visibility that aids in recruitment of students and financial contributions." The basic premise underlying these very positive contributions is that athletics is, and must continue to be, an important part of the educational process.

Men's Golf Preview

The last remnants of Lynn University's 2005 NCAA National Tournament team have graduated but the new crop of Fighting Knights are committed to getting back to the national stage. Head coach Chris Greenwood has assembled a solid cast of youth and experience that should propel Lynn to a trip to Houston, Texas, site of the 2008 NCAA National Championship.

"We expect to compete for a conference championship and get ourselves back to the national tournament," said Greenwood, whose squad advanced to the NCAA Super Regional Tournament for the fifth consecutive year. "Last season was a learning experience for myself and the team. Across the board, everyone was in a new position and undertaking roles unfamiliar to them. This year our players are more comfortable in their roles and are better prepared for the rigors of the season."

PING All-South Region selection Scott Aydelotte returns and will be counted on to be the top golfer. He tallied a 74.68 scoring average and notched six top-10 finishes in 11 tournaments. Other returners in contention for one of the four remaining starting positions at the opening tournament September 24-25 are Greg Gonzales, Patricio Salem and Casey Schrader.

"Four of our top five from last year return and we've added two junior college transfers and three freshmen," Greenwood said. "It's a very good mix of youth and experience. But you can't underestimate the presence of our returning players, who shot six-under the final round of the NCAA Regional Tournament."

Federico Celano, after taking a year off from playing golf, finished second on the squad with a 75.07 scoring average while Gonzales came into his own with a 75.2 average and two top-10 finishes. He also nearly qualified for the U.S. Open, making it through the opening cut of the first round qualifier before dropping out in the second tournament.

Salem, younger brother of former Fighting Knight Sebastian Salem, saw action in six tournaments as a freshman and closed out the season with a 77.0 scoring average. Schrader only participated in three rounds but has come back to school determined to push his teammates for playing time. Lynn can also count on Fletcher Coonan, Campbell Gordon, James Hirshfield, Morgan Holmes and Dean Walters to push for playing time as they combined to play 45 rounds last season.

The newest additions, Marcus Williams, Jordan Holley, Alex Kang, Zak Kozuchowski and David Rose each have strengths that will make it hard for Coach Greenwood to keep them out of the lineup.

"Marcus [Williams] and Jordan [Holley] were two of the premier junior college golfers in the country last season," said Greenwood. "They both shot in the low to mid 70s and should compete for playing time.

"Kang was one of the top junior golfers coming out of North Carolina," Greenwood adds. "He has tremendous talent, evident by him shooting 64-70 to win a tournament at the age of 17. I'm also going to be interested in seeing how Kozuchowski and Rose progress throughout the year, mainly because both hail from up north and will be getting their first chances to practice and play year round."

Men's Coaching Staff

Chris Greenwood enters his third year as head coach of the Lynn University men's golf team. Under his guidance the Fighting Knights have consistently been ranked as one of the nation's best programs, evident by the team's 44th ranking amongst all NCAA Division schools by Golf Digest this past year.

Overseeing a young squad in 2006-07, Greenwood still managed to push his team enough to earn their fifth consecutive bid to the NCAA South/South Central Regional Tournament. He also saw one player earn PING All-South Region honors and another named as a GCAA/Cleveland Golf Academic All-American Scholar. In just two years with the Knights, Greenwood has coached three All-Americans, three All-South Region selections and two Academic All-Americans.

In his first year, Greenwood directed the Blue and White to their best season since joining the NCAA in 1996-97. The former Canadian Golf Tour veteran managed a Fighting Knights squad which won a program record four tournaments, recorded its best finish at the NCAA National Championship (fourth overall), won the Sunshine State Conference Tournament for the second time in three years and had the lowest team scoring average in school history (75.24). All the while he became the second coach to win SSC Coach of the Year.

Greenwood came to Lynn after a 12-year playing career on the Canadian Golf Tour. The Valdese, N.C., native tallied six professional wins, multiple top-ten finishes and set a tournament record with a 22-under par at the Eagle Creek Classic. He has also played on tours such as the PGA, Nationwide, Tige Lies, Nike, South African PGA, Australasia PGA and the Dakotas tour.

While on the Canadian Tour, Greenwood served as the United States Players Representative on the Board of Directors and the Tour representative to Srixon, ensuring all players have the correct equipment for each tournament.

A member of the North Carolina State University golf team from 1990-92, Greenwood notched one tournament victory at the John Ryan Memorial hosted by Duke University. Following his playing career he joined the Wolfpack as an assistant coach. As an assistant, he was in charge of all practice operations and B-team tournaments.

Greenwood graduated from NC State with a Bachelor of Arts in General Communications with a concentration in public relations. Prior to NC State, he attended Virginia Tech where he was an All-Conference selection as a freshman. He is married to the former Nancy Christine Gorey and the couple has two daughters, Savannah Christine (4-years old) and Mackenzie Elizabeth (3-year old).

3rd Season

Eric Abreu begins his third season as the assistant coach after an illustrious 14-year career as head coach. Abreu enjoyed one of his most successful seasons in the 2004-05 season, helping guide the Lynn University men's golf team to an eighth place finish at the NCAA Championships, the program's first NCAA Championship appearance.

Under Abreu's tenure, the Fighting Knights claimed the 2003-04 Sunshine State Conference Championship, advanced to the NCAA South Regional Tournament four times and won the 1996 NAIA National Championship.

A native of Madeira, Portugal, Abreu also serves as LU's assistant men's soccer coach. A former professional soccer player, Abreu spent 21 years honing his skills in South Africa, Hong Kong, the Phillipines, New Zealand, Japan and Australia. He was chosen to represent both Japan and Hong Kong in league elect matches.

Following the completion of his playing career, Abreu came to Lynn, arriving in 1985 as an assistant to then-coach Roy Wiggemansen. Instrumental in recruiting a number of key players which helped to begin the storied history of Fighting Knight soccer, Abreu was a member of the coaching staff in 1987 as the Knights captured the first-ever national title in school history.

Abreu left Boca Raton in 1989 to spend four years in Europe, returning in 1993 as the head women's golf coach, a position he held for one year before assuming control of the men's golf program in 1994. Under his direction, the men's golf team claimed the 1996 NAIA National Title. In the fall of 1996, he rejoined the men's soccer staff under current coach Shaun Pendleton and has been on the LU bench ever since.

Born Eric Agostinho Abreu on Feb. 28, 1945, he is currently single and resides in Boca Raton.

Women's Season Outlook

Women's Golf Preview

Lynn University's 2007-08 women's golf season opens up with a different look and feel to it. Graduation took two NCGAA All-Americans while an injury will sideline another starter until the spring. But the Fighting Knights calm and collective nature as well as the rise of some underclassman has eased worries and given Lynn hope for the upcoming year.

"We have high expectations for this season," said fifth-year head coach Courtney Bibby. "Our ultimate goal is to win a national championship. All of our golfers are dedicated towards reaching that end as well as accomplishing their individual goals."

Nine golfers will vie for the five person starting lineup when the Fighting Knights begin their season on September 22 at the Lady Falcon Invite. Although Lynn will be replacing its two lowest scorers the six returning players and three newcomers are more than up for the challenge.

"We have great diversity on our squad which provides for a terrific mix of youth and experience," Bibby added. "We lost two starters last year but our returners have stepped up their level of competition and I am confident that with the assistance of our three new players, we can fill that void."

All eyes will turn towards junior Katy McNicoll. The junior from Carnoustie, Scotland led Lynn with a 74.0 scoring average in the fall before injuring her knee and missing the spring season. She will miss the upcoming fall season but is slated to fight for a spot come spring and will be an important addition down the stretch.

In the meantime, Lynn must move past the early season injury and not get discouraged. Potential and talent is abound on the LU squad. Sophomore Maha Haddioui highlights the talent available as she finished third on the team with a 76.96 scoring average with five top-10 finishes and earned All-Sunshine State Conference Tournaments honors.

"I'm anxious to have some of our upperclassmen back into the mix of practice and competition," Bibby said. "We had some devastating injuries last year and with them returning, they will provide us with some additional leadership, which will be invaluable in the spring."

Two seniors, Ali Beuckman and Amanda Sabitoni, appear poised to make the jump into the starting lineup. Beuckman is finally healthy and ready to live up to the expectations of being one of the top high school players to come out of Palm Beach County. Sabitoni has seen her scoring average drop all three years and has SSC and National Tournament experience. Not to be forgotten is junior Megan Mangone and sophomore Manavi Halwasiya. Mangone was one of four golfers last season to participate in every round and finished with two top-15 finishes.

Lynn's returning players cannot get complacent though and will need to look over their shoulders with the addition of three highly capable freshmen. Anne van den Bosch, Rebecca Mangone and Becky Kohberger hope to add to Lynn's tradition of brilliant golfers as each bring national and state championship experience to the table.

"It appears there will be a couple of positions for which there may be competition in the fall and spring semesters," said Bibby. "I'm not deterred by this but optimistic because this will encourage hard work both on and off the golf course. I expect some new golfers will start and have a big impact on the team's results."

SENIOR, AMANDA SABITONI

Courtney Bibby enters her fifth season at the helm of the Lynn University women's golf team. Since taking over head coaching duties in 2003, Bibby has gone 84-51-2 against Sunshine State Conference opponents, won eight tournaments and built the women's golf program into a national power consistently ranked in the top-five. She has also coached four NGCA All-America selections and three NGCA All-American Scholars.

The 2006-07 season, although filled with ups and downs, was statistically the best season in program history. Bibby's squad posted a program best 32-13-2 record against SSC opponents, managed three tournament victories, set a new team scoring average record (78.32) while reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year. The Knights closed out the season ranked fourth but missed the cut for the national tournament.

Lynn's golf program reached a renaissance of some sorts in 2005-06 as the Fighting Knights reached the NCAA Championship Tournament as a team for only the second time in program history (1996-97 was the first), finishing third overall. Under Bibby's guidance two women's golfers earned All-America honors and a third was named an Academic All-American.

The Fighting Knights also won a program record four tournaments and notched a 26-11 record against SSC opponents. No women's golf team had won more than two tournaments in a season as the Blue and White won the Lady Falcon Invite, Fall Preview, NIU Springlake Classic and the NSU Spring Classic.

Bibby's third season came on the heels of a stellar 2004-05 campaign. Under her watch, the women's team won the Saint Leo Invite, the first tournament victory in five years, reached the NCAA Regional, saw an individual reach the NCAA Division II Championship for the second consecutive year and posted the lowest team scoring average in program history (80.44). The Fighting Knights also notched a program record 17 wins over SSC opponents, nearly equaling the amount of the past two seasons combined.

In her first season as head coach, the former Fighting Knight player led a group of three freshmen and three sophomores to a third place finish at the Sunshine State conference championship while overseeing the development of SSC Freshman-of-the-Year Natasha Morgan, the lone player to participate in the NCAA tournament. Bibby also tied a then program record with nine victories over SSC opponents.

The Skokie, Ill., native succeeded Gregg Cox, who stepped down to focus on his duties as the Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences. Bibby, a four-year letterwinner under Cox, was a two-time Most Valuable Player recipient during her time as a Fighting Knight and posted the team's lowest stroke-average in three of her four years, becoming the first player in program history to accomplish this feat. She also earned All-SSC and All-SSC Tournament honors as a senior, when she helped lead Lynn to a second place finish at the conference tournament and an invitation to the NCAA Regional tournament.

Off the course, Bibby has already received a pair of degrees from Lynn and is working on a third. She has earned a bachelor's degree with honors in business management, a Masters in Business Administration with honors, and is currently pursuing her Ph.D. in corporate leadership. She accumulated a spotless 4.0 grade point average during her time as an undergraduate and was named LU Scholar-Athlete-of-the-Year in 2000-01.

Extremely active in the community, Bibby participated in numerous community service initiatives during her time spent as a student-athlete, including Hoops for the Homeless, Walk for Breast Cancer and working as a soup kitchen volunteer. The beneficiary of presidential and honors scholarships to Lynn, she is a member of the Lynn University Honors Society.

Away from coaching, Bibby's golf experience includes time spent as a golf instructor at Boca Raton's Don Law Golf Learning Center and as a golf assistant at Boca Lago Country Club in Boca Raton.

Born Courtney Lyn Krell on December 17, 1979 in Skokie, Illinois, she is married to Grier Bibby. She enjoys gardening, biking and outdoor activities.

Athletics Department

Her first year as AD proved eventful across the board as two athletic teams won Sunshine State Conference titles, six programs reached the NCAA Tournament and men's tennis won its first national title.

Moraz, a member of the SSC Basketball Championships Committee since 2005, also chaired the 2007 SSC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships, hosted by Lynn University for the first time in school history. She will also begin work with the Men's Tennis South Regional Advisory Committee starting in the fall of 2007.

During her time as Associate AD, the Columbia, Md. native handled a myriad of duties for the 11-sport Fighting Knight program, including overseeing budgets, supervising coaches and teams and serving as co-advisor to Lynn's very active Student Athlete Athletic Council (SAAC). She was as a representative on the NCAA Division II Softball South Region Advisory Committee (2004-06) and served as a point person for all home events and conference championships held on the Lynn campus.

Moraz is well aware what Lynn student-athletes go through on a daily basis as she competed on the hardwood for the Knights from 1993-97. She was a four-year letterwinner for the women's basketball team and served as team captain during her senior year. Moraz was part of the Knights' 24-5 squad that advanced to the NAIA National Tournament its inaugural season.

She also found time to be a campus leader, serving as Student Government Association president during her senior year, a member of the Knights of the Roundtable honorary society and recipient of the Trustee's Medal, the university's highest honor for a graduating senior. Moraz earned her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Lynn in 1997 and a Master of Business Administration from Lynn in 2000. She is currently an ABD doctoral candidate at Capella University's School of Business.

Following her playing days, Moraz spent time in the private sector and as Lynn's student activities coordinator from 1998-2000 before returning as Assistant Athletic Director in the summer of 2002. She has also served as a mentor for Lynn's freshman transition program, First-Year Experience.

A 1993 graduate of Hammond High School in Columbia, she played on the Maryland Class 2A State Champion Golden Bears girl's basketball team. Her high school accomplishments led Lynn University to recruit Moraz for its first women's basketball team in 1993.

Moraz is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA), National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), Division II Athletics Directors Association (DII ADA) and Young Professionals Board for the chamber's Golden Bell Education Foundation and volunteers with the Greater Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce.

THE Sunshine State Conference

Founded in March of 1975, the Sunshine State Conference has risen from a single-sport organization to become the NCAA Division II "Conference of Champions." Started as a basketball conference, The SSC has since grown steadily in sports played, membership and national prominence. A weekly check of national rankings in nearly any Division II sport proves the point, as SSC member institutions consistently find themselves ranked amongst the nation's elite.

Now with nine full members, the SSC is the proud owner of some 67 NCAA Division II National Championships in baseball, men's basketball, men's and women's golf, softball, men's and women's tennis, men's and women's soccer and volleyball. The Orlando-based league recently added to its already full trophy case with Rollins College capturing their fourth consecutive women's golf title and the University of Tampa claiming their fourth baseball national championship.

The SSC currently crowns regular-season champions in volleyball, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. The league also administers season-ending tournaments in men's and women's soccer, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's tennis and women's rowing.

MCCUSKER SPORTS COMPLEX

McCusker Sports Complex is the home of the baseball, softball, soccer and tennis teams at Lynn University and has been the host of Sunshine State Conference and NCAA Regional tournaments.

BASEBALL: The baseball field is located on the southeast corner of campus, sharing a border with Military Trail and Potomac Boulevard. Long home runs can be seen crossing mid-day traffic. The baseball team has strung together three consecutive 30-win seasons under skipper Rudy Garbalosa, just the second time this has happened in program history.

SOFTBALL: The softball field is located adjacent to the baseball field and share outfield bleachers. This field saw a program record 88 home runs sail over its fences in 2005, which are 190 down the lines and 220 to straightaway center field. The softball field received a face lift in 2006 with the possibility of a new stadium in the near future.

LYNN UNIVERSITY SOFTBALL FIELD

SOCCER: The men's and women's soccer team call this place home, which is located on the southwest corner of the Lynn University campus. The soccer field hosted the 2003 Sunshine State Conference semifinals and finals as well as the 2006 quarterfinals round of the NCAA Division II National Tournament. Six national championship teams have played on the soccer field formerly known as "the graveyard."

TENNIS: Both men's and women's tennis teams host their events on the complex's six tennis courts. Both the men's and women's tennis teams hosted the NCAA South Regional tournament in 2005, 2006 and 2007, the first time in program history that occurred. The women's tennis team has won six national championships while the men's program celebrated its first national crown in 2007. These two programs have combined for 10 Sunshine State Conference Championships as Lynn also became the first school in conference history to hold back-to-back titles on both the men's and women's side simultaneously.
