University of Dayton

eCommons

University Libraries Blog Archive

University Libraries

10-21-2016

This Way to Voter Information

Lucy Fisher University of Dayton

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/ul_blog

eCommons Citation

Fisher, Lucy, "This Way to Voter Information" (2016). University Libraries Blog Archive. 47. https://ecommons.udayton.edu/ul_blog/47

This Blog is brought to you for free and open access by the University Libraries at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in University Libraries Blog Archive by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact mschlangen1@udayton.edu, ecommons@udayton.edu.

UD COVID-19 A-Z index | UD case dashboard | Report positive test or close contacts | CDC COVID-19 info

> LEARN LEAD SERVE APPLY G MENU

UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON BLOGS

BLOGS DIRECTORY NEWS

CALENDAR

University Libraries

Blogs at UD / University of Dayton Libraries / This Way to Voter Information

FRIDAY OCTOBER 21, 2016

Blogs at UD \rightarrow University \rightarrow Libraries Blog University \rightarrow Libraries Website Marian Library Blog Get RSS Feed

Subscribe to UD Newsletter

This Way to Voter Information

By Lucy Fisher

"Nobody will ever deprive the American people of the right to vote except the American people themselves and the only way they could do this is by not voting." - Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 32nd President of the United States

Voting is one way to make your voice heard in today's busy world, but how do you make sure your decision reflects what you really want? How do you find resources to make your decision? Roesch Library is here to help!

If you're voting in Ohio and would like more information about voting, candidates, the election calendar or results, visit http://www.sos.state.oh.us/elections.aspx.

If you're from out of state and are curious about how and when to vote, try http://www.vote.org. You can also check your registration status and request an absentee ballot if you cannot vote on election day at http://www.vote.org.

Launched by the League of Women Voters Education Fund in October of 2006, http://www.vote411.org is a "one-stop-shop" for election related information. It provides nonpartisan information with both general and state-specific information on absentee ballots, early voting options, election dates, factual data on candidates, ID requirements, polling place locations, registration deadlines, voter qualifications, registrations forms, voting machines, and much more.

If your head is spinning with all of the interviews, debates, and information, check in with http://www.factcheck.org. FactCheck.org is a nonpartisan, non profit, consumer advocate for voters that aims to reduce confusion in the political landscape. FactCheck.org monitors the factual accuracy of what is said by major U.S. political players in the form of TV ads, debates, speeches, interviews and

PREVIOUS POST

?Quadditch?" That?s Quidditch on the Quad!

Friends of Madam Pince (aka, University Libraries) most graciously invite you, Muggles and Potterheads alike, to spectate a Quidditch friendly on the KU Quad on Monday, Oct. 24 at 4:00 p.m.

Read More

NEXT POST

Happy International Open Access Week!

With the theme "Open in Action," International news releases. FactCheck.org is a project of the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC) of the University of Pennsylvania. The APPC was established by publisher and philanthropist William Annenberg to create a community of scholars within the University of Pennsylvania that would address public policy issues at the local, state and federal levels.

Speaking of TV ads, the money spent by political candidates may be interesting to you. If so, visit http://www.fec.gov where the Federal Election Commission (FEC) administers and enforces the Federal Election Campaign Act. The duties of the FEC are to disclose campaign finance information and their site provides easy-to-navigate maps and charts that display whatever finance campaign information that interests you.

Finally if you're dumbfounded by the Electoral College process, visit https://www.archives.gov/federal-register/electoral-college/about.html. The National Archives and Records Administration has information and a video to help educate you about who makes up the Electoral College and how the process works.

Don't forget to get out and vote! Whether you need to vote an absentee ballot, decide to vote early or vote on election day, Tuesday, November 8th, be sure to exercise your right to make your voice heard.

- Lucy Fisher, Course Reserves Specialist

Open Access week showcases and celebrates the rising value and appeal of OA publishing, repositories,
data resources
and archives worldwide.

Read More

Share

Topics

Libraries

What's Trending A Garden for La Virgen de Invested in Each Other Guadalupe UD in the News March 12-25 Eye on a cure Powered by Apply Careers Visit Contact 300 College Park Dayton, Ohio Academic Calendar

45469 937-229-1000	Request Info	\rightarrow	Alumni
info@udayton.edu Directions	Give	\rightarrow	Libraries

INATION DIVERSITY

PORCHES POLICIES REPORT A CONCERN PRIVACY & TERMS NONDISCRIN