Eight State High Schools Will Participate In Clinic

Great Falls, Missoula, Helena, Belt Valley, Flathead, Troy, Simms, Beaverhead to Send 60 Debaters To Practice Tourney Here

Sixty students representing eight Montana high schools are registered for the debate clinic to be on the campus tomorrow and Saturday, Ralph Y. McGinnis, instructor in speech, announced yesterday.

High schools that have signed for the clinic sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha, forensic honorary, are Great Falls, Missoula, Helena, Belt Valley, Troy, Flathead county, Simms, and Beaverhead county.

The practice tournament will consist of three rounds of practice debating for all students attending and lectures and demonstrations on debating technique, logical reasoning and debate strategy, said Mr. McGinnis.

The national interscholastic debate question, "Resolved: That the federal government should own and operate the railroads," will be used.

Scott Is Chairman

Bill Scott, Great Falls, appointed chairman of the arrangements committee by John Pierce, Billings, president of Tau Kappa Alpha, will be assisted by Glen Nelson, Missoula; Roy Chapman, Bellflower, California, and Betty Lou Points, Missoula.

Members of the entertainment committee are Mary Templeton, Helena; Roger Hoag, Jeffers, and Walter Coombs, Missoula. Dick Wilkinson, Butte; Garvin Shallenberger, Missoula, and Mary Templeton are housing committee members.

Last year the university played host to 43 high school participants from seven schools in the first debate clinic on the campus. Cold weather kept Butte Public, Lewistown and Conrad delegates from attending.

Each high school is allowed to bring as many student debate teams as it wishes as long as it has the same number of teams for each side of the question. A team may debate one side of the question only or both sides alternately and its members may exchange positions with other students from the same school if they wish to, said McGinnis.

Schools Supply Judges

Each school was asked by the Montana News Letter to supply one judge for every two teams entered. If sufficient judges cannot be furnished by an attending school, university debaters will be asked to serve, McGinnis said.

Judges will announce their decisions and deliver at least a 15-minute critical analysis of the debate, giving specific attention to the degree in which the participating teams evidenced skill in constructive argumentation, organization of case, refutation, rebuttal and delivery.

As this is a practice tournament, schools which boast of their number of "wins" will be frowned upon, read the News Letter.

NEWS SUMMARY

London—A British news service reports that Russia has severed diplomatic relations with Finland. If this means war, Russia will write "finis" to the history of the 30-year-old republic. Further border clashes are headlined in the Moscow-controlled press.

Washington—Secretary of State Cordell Hull issued a dramatic statement last night that the United States stands in readiness to act as negotiator in an attempt to forestall open hostility between the Muscovites and their Finnish cousins.

Helsinki—Finland completed a reply to Soviet charges that she was precipitating war with the Soviet nation (a country fifty times her size). Contents of the note remain secret. Border patrols are reported to be withdrawing from advance posts on the border.

Washington—President Roosevelt's suggestion that presidential conventions convene at a later date than usual brought varying support in both parties. Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican national committee retorted, "Mr. Roosevelt's deep solicitude about economy in political campaigns is very amusing in view of his record."

London—Residents along the northeast coast had ring-side seats at an aerial battle in which a lone German raider was shot down by British fighting craft which soared to meet the Nazi plane.

Detroit—The most costly labor dispute in automotive history, a 54-day controversy, ended today when Chrysler corporation drew up new agreements satisfactory to CIO officials.

Performance of Shaw's Play, 'The Gentle People' Is Tonight

Convocation To Present Varied Acts

Gerard Price Will Talk; Student Music, Skit Other Features

Gerard Price, associate in social work and state supervisor of the department of public welfare, will address tomorrow's convocation on "What the Bachelor's Buying club is doing." Other features of the convocation sponsored by the Buying club will be student written skit, "The Dishwater Drama," two vocal solos, a vocal duet and two arrangements by a dance orchestra.

The skit, written by Avis Schmitz, Brockton, and directed by the author and Master of Ceremonies Al Shone, Butte, presents in three scenes the problems confronting batching students. Kathleen Tuott, Sidney, vice-president of the club, will introduce Shone.

Kenneth Bangs, Inverness, and Betty Mullikin, Hingham, will play Mr. and Mrs. Arlen, parents of Bob, played by Walter Niemi, Butte. Fred Kiebler, Jordan, is cast as Dick, Bob's cousin. Allan Bond, Brockway, will portray Bill; Lucille Loebach, Hobson, will act the part of the grandmother and Sterling Wardell, Joplin, is cast as Tom.

Duncan Campbell, Butte, will sing "Always" and "South of the Border." Jerome Phelan, Chinook, and Liala Jensen, Sidney, will sing "Make Believe" and "Play to Me, Gypsy." Phillip Galusha, Helena, will play the piano accompaniment for Campbell.

Jimmie Stubban, Chinook, and his orchestra will play two arrangements of popular songs.

Hospitals Admit Eight As One Is Released

Students sent to South hall infirmary yesterday were Edmund Porter, Whitefish; Bjarne Johnson, Dutton; Alfred Buckner, Custer, and Tom Johnson, Grass Range.

Jim Whilt, Missoula, was admitted to the St. Patrick's hospital. Norma Hunt, Philipsburg, and Audrey Watson, Butte, Thornton. Florine Rouleau, Butte, went to the Northern Pacific.

BALL VISITS CAMPUS

Robert Ball, '39, visited the campus yesterday. Ball was graduated from the School of Business Administration last June and has since been employed by a Billings coffee wholesale house.

"This play is a fairy tale with a moral. In it justice triumphs and the meek prove victorious over arrogant and violent men. The author does not pretend that this is the case in real life," reads the flyleaf in the script.

The mood for the central theme of the play is set against the background of Steeplechase Pier, Coney Island, New York. Fishing forms the only material happiness for two old friends who otherwise live amidst unhappy, almost sordid, circumstances. Four nights a week they fish, forgetting the unpleasantness of wives and hypochondriac amorous employers.

Main Action

However, the main action of the play is not based on this tangible pleasure but on a dream of these two old men, Jonah Goodman and Phillip Anagnos (Harold Schechter and Manzer Griswold respectively), which is to buy a boat with two bunks and a galley and to fish in the Gulf stream.

Harold Goff (Sammy Parker), who as a petty gangster sells "protection for small fishing boats, disturbs the tranquility of this dream. His first demand is for $5 a week. Later, when he learns from Stella (Kay Stillings), Jonah's daughter, that the two old men have saved $190, he demands that also.

The triumph of the meek comes when, after a beating by Goff, Jonah convinces Phillip that they must take matters into their own hands. The solution to this situation presented in the play seems thoroughly natural.

Action Motive

A further motive for the action taken by Jonah and Phillip is furnished by Goff's affection for Stella. Jonah cannot bear to see his daughter in the company of Goff, speaks to Stella, but is ignored.

Stella too, like her father, has an unrealized dream. She finds her life as an employe of the Edison Brooklyn company unbearable. She wants to taste all the lighter pleasures of life—dancing and dining at Longchamps—and jumps at the chance Goff offers her.

As a contrast to Goff, Eli Lieber (Walter Roe), an unexceptional, grave, sincere young man, tries for Stella's affections. Unsuccessful, he waits through the plot until finally the action of Jonah and Phillip wins Stella as his wife.

American Youth Groups Fight Deceiving Forces

"The American people must not be deceived again—this is not our war! American youth must resist those forces which would deceive us into fighting . . ." reads the call of the National Youth Anti-War Congress called for December 27 to 30 at International House in Chicago.

The Congress is being sponsored by the Youth Committee Against War and its co-operating groups. It will draw delegations from campuses, community organizations and farm, labor, co-operative and church organizations across the country. Among the many persons who endorse the Congress is a Montanan, Mrs. Mildred K. Stoltz, junior leader of the Montana Farmers Union.

The Youth Committee has a well-planned program and definitely outlined policies and pledges. They seem to know what they want and they appear to be sparing no efforts to achieve their ends. Behind their ideas are well-founded beliefs which really do affect all American youth.

The first plan is to bring a halt to the steady militarization of the United States. "Propaganda for 'national defense' can aid only in mental mobilization for war abroad." Perhaps this is true—at any rate the enlarging of our defense machinery is being widely propagandized. Yet on the other hand we cannot eliminate the possibility of being forced to use our armed forces to protect our shores. Maybe such a contingency will not arise for a long time. Carrying a big stick may invite trouble but it might also avert difficulties.

"Rejection of the international police force concept of United States foreign policy" is another plank in the platform and one which has long been advocated in this country. Early in our history we were advised to stay clear of foreign alliances. It is hard to mix in other persons', or other nations', quarrels and come out unscathed. Everywhere we hear "Let's stay out of this mess." Surely one of the best ways to stay out is to keep out of alliances.

Another plan of the Youth Committee is to bring about "abandonment of all plans for industrial mobilization." Certainly we do not wish to bring about a dictatorship. On the other hand we do not want to plunge the country into chaos should we ever become an active party to a war. By industrial mobilization such as is involved in the government's "M-day" preparations the confusion, waste, inefficiency and profiteering of the last war would be eliminated to a large extent. Once more we can say that it would not hurt to be prepared.

To be sure there are innumerable arguments for and against every proposal the committee has made. Any question of such vital importance would necessarily be controversial. To say whether the Youth Committee Against War is attacking the problem in the right manner is no easy assertion.

We hope they can do a world of good and we commend them for their alertness, their earnestness and their desire to keep America for Americans and to keep Americans in America.

Tuott, Tuttle, Tweto—

From Abel to Zur Muehlen that small gray book called the student directory is filled with romance, drama and comedy. To start off with Sparks, Huff, and a Bang one finds all the romance of a novel under the L's. It's a Lovely night and a boy and girl very much in Love are walking down the Lane towards the Lake. The moon is shining down through LaPine and that is about enough of that. In contrast, the book is splattered with bits of human anatomy. There is a Back, Brain, Bone,

Legge and a Foot kicking around unattached. Getting down to the more practical outlook one finds a number of occupations and workers in the pages of the student directory. A hurried survey reveals a Baker, Taylor, Plummer, Butler, Cook, Farmer, Gardner and a Miller. Following along this line our little book is packed with good things to eat. There are a Grape, Pease, Plumb, Cherry, Berry, Peachar, Nutting and Rice. The last two are stretched a bit. Speaking of food brings up the

Five Colleges Have Entered Debate Meet

Five colleges have registered for the Treasure State debate tournament here next Thursday and Friday and more entrants are expected, Ralph Y. McGinnis, instructor in speech, said yesterday.

Concordia college of Moorhead, Minnesota; University of Idaho; Washington State college and Carroll college will send debate teams and Montana's varsity team is entered. All northwest colleges and universities are invited to enter.

Varsity and novice debaters will participate in the tournament, sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha, forsenic honorary. Committees which will function during the high school debate clinic will also serve during the Treasure State debate tournament, said McGinnis.

Survey Shows Students Definitely Oppose Laws Banning Hitch-hiking

Austin, Texas, November 28—The ride—"thumber" should not be banned from the highway. That is the verdict pronounced in a nation-wide poll of college and university students, perhaps the largest group of Americans who use the hitch-hiking manner of travel.

"Reel Hollywood"

By WALT MILLAR

HOLLYWOOD LOWDOWN—

Results of the Motion Picture Herald Exhibitors' Poll, to be announced in December, will show three top box-office stars: Mickey Rooney, James Cagney and Bette Davis.

Charles Laughton has once again returned to Hollywood. Three years ago, after completing "Mutiny On The Bounty," for which he received the Academy Award, Laughton swore he would never return to Hollywood. Juicy offers have been given to Laughton, but time and time again, he has turned them down. He has contented himself making "The Beachcomber" and "Jamaica Inn," both of which were produced by his private company in England. But war will change things—and so the great Laughton has returned to the United States. His next picture is "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which critics hail as his best.

Says Walter Winchell: "It is hard to perceive that man is capable of such emotions as is Laughton. Whereas stars will occasionally give a performance worthy of Academy Award recognition, Laughton, symbolic as he is of what an actor should be, gives stereotype performances—they're all perfect."

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame," as you may remember, was done in the silents by Lon Chaney. Laughton, a master at makeup as was Chaney, gives an amazing performance as the eccentric, crippled bell-keeper who dies a hero.

Believe it or not, the screen's greatest glamor girls have gone soft. Marlene Dietrich who was a washout in her last two pictures has turned comedienne. Destry Rides Again," a story of the wild and woolly west, is her latest. From all reports she is good as a comedienne. Jimmy Stewart co-stars.

"Ninotchko," a comic story of old Russia, starring a new Greta Garbo, is receiving rave reviews from all the New York papers. The great Garbo, master tragedienne, is really adept at sophisticated comedy, says the New York Times. Melvyn Douglas, quite adept as a comedy star, is Garbo's leading man.

"My Son, My Son," best seller of last season, has been adopted for the screen, the cast including Frances Dee, with others yet to be cast.

MARRIAGE IS ANNOUNCED

The former June Marie Wood and Chris Schroeder of Corvallis, Friday announced their marriage, which took place six weeks ago. Mrs. Schroeder, a senior in the School of Business Administration, has withdrawn from school. Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder will make their home at Corvallis, where Mr. Schroeder is employed as an electrician.

An overwhelming majority of the collegians—four out of every five—believe that laws against hitch-hiking should not be on the statute books, according to the results of the latest study of campus attitudes conducted by the Student Opinion Surveys of America for the Kaimin and nearly 150 other member newspapers. Ballots were gathered by personal interviewers on campuses from coast to coast, and the results from this carefully selected sampling have been tabulated at the Surveys' headquarters at the University of Texas.

It is of interest to note that in parts of the country where cities are more widely scattered, and where travel is therefore more difficult, greater percentages of students opposed such laws.

The Southern states, comprising the largest of the six sections into which the U. S. is divided in this scientific cross-section, voiced the loudest disapproval when students were asked, "Do you favor laws prohibiting hitch-hiking?" New England students, who live in the smallest of the sections, were most in favor.

Nationally, these were the results:

FOR BANNING 20 per cent
AGAINST BANNING 80 per cent

Significantly, too, New Englanders are among the more wealthy of students, according to figures compiled by the Student Opinion Surveys through its weekly polls. These show that in this section of the country only three out of every ten men and two out of every ten women have to work for all or part of their college expenses. In the nation as a whole, nearly five out of every ten students hold some kind of job or another.

In this poll on hitch-hiking it is also evident that it is the working student who more consistently objects to moves by several legislatures to prohibit the man with the varsity sweater and the sticker-pasted traveling bag from trying his luck on the road.

Sentinel Staff Asks Support

The 1940 Sentinel is gradually assuming the appearance of a year book, but students and organizations are slow in cooperating, Ray Howerton, editor, said yesterday.

Students who have taken pictures of campus activities and would like to have them appear in the Sentinel are urged to turn them in to the Sentinel office.

Organizations which have failed to have pictures taken should do so now, Howerton emphasized. Group pictures which have already been taken will have better chances for the good positions in the book.

Fraternity make-up pictures for Greek men who failed to appear at the photographer's at appointed times will be taken next Monday and Tuesday. Tardy co-eds will have their pictures taken Saturday. After these dates fraternity and sorority pictures will not be taken, the editor declared.

"Life is futile, and everyone is growing gray hair, but with a few breaks, the year book will be out on time," says Howerton.

Women Play Hockey Game In Dense Fog

Freshmen-Seniors Blank Sophomore-Juniors By Two Tallies

"Ghost" teams whose "spirits" wielded banging hockey sticks in a quiet, eerie world of fog initiated women's interclass hockey strife Tuesday when the freshmen-seniors blanked the sophomore-junior team, 2-0.

Like fugitives from a seance, members of the two elevens wafted in and out of the dense mist to wage a hard-fought, evenly matched first half. Ann Johnson broke the deadlock late in the period when she scored the first tally.

In the second half, the sophomores-juniors threatened their opponents' goal once when Shirley Timm staged a one-man drive to their 25-yard line only to have the ball stolen from her. Then lack of teamwork cracked the sophomore-junior defensive, and Betty Leaphart shoved another score into the cage.

Leaphart, Johnson, Plummer and Leary starred for the winners. Timm and Bowman of the losers played a fine offensive game while Barney, Smith and Jarussi ruined many scoring attempts of the opposition.

Team rosters are listed below.

Two more tournament games are scheduled for this week.

SPORTALES...

By BOB PRICE

Montana's sight-seeing Grizzlies spend Thanksgiving in Arizona today battling the dangerous Wildcats in a game which will spell "finis" to the Grizzlies' 1939 football schedule. A victory will boost the season's won-and-lost column up to a fairly decent average, while a defeat will shove Montana down into their worst season since 1935 under Doug Fessenden's reign. This afternoon sometime the referee will toot his horn and 22 eager footballers will fight like one big happy family to see which side can do the most with the spheroid pig.

Coach Mike Casteel's Wildcat club has been hot and cold this season. His outfit took a severe opening season shellacking from Minnesota, 62-0, but did knock over College of Pacific, 12-7. Pacific is the team which astounded the football fans early in the fall by upsetting University of California.

Cream of Casteel's backfield is Johnny Black, 173-pound left half-back, who has averaged close to five yards from scrimmage, punts far and passes accurately. Carl Berra, Del Randall and Hargis give punch to the Cat backfield behind the heady signal barking of Don Gatchall.

Arizona's line averages close to that of Montana's, but their backs hold a decided edge over Grizzly pig toters. The game is a toss-up. If the urge to block, tackle, think and play heads-up football hits the whole team simultaneously, then Montana may spoil Arizona's Thanksgiving. We'll just have to squat by the radio and anxiously wait.

A tall story is told of Bobby Svob, an Arizona back, who stood on the Jerome (Arizona) high school football field and booted one to the outskirts of Clarksdale, a neighboring town a mile and a quarter away... (the long downhill roll helped, 'tis said.)

Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavy-weight who is Joe Louis' next punching bag, first took an interest in boxing when as a boy he waited for hours at the telegraph office for results of the Dempsey-Firpo fight. He won't have to wait that long for results of the Louis-Godoy fight we betcha.

It's about that time of year when sports scribblers, fans, shop girls, hat-checkers and elevator boys get the demented urge to pick the real All-American. It is really a rather simple matter, lacking in complications. All you have to do is sit down with a pencil and paper and write down eleven of the most outstanding gridders of the year. Only about 20,000 university and college players took part in the noble pastime this year. You aren't sure whether Harmon of Michigan is better than Kinnick of Iowa, but that's probably because you've only seen them in one news reel. Of course Kinnick has had more pictures in the papers than Harmon, but then as far as pictures go this Kimbrough of Texas A & M is a better looking fellow. Paul Christman is good, but he talks too much.

Notre Dame and USC have four good men in each backfield, the Middle West is lousy with good linemen, the East has All-Americans running over each other, and the Coast has players who have been given miles of publicity. It is supposed to relax the mind to pick an eleven from the mob. They'll start flowing soon.

It is a good time for mental relaxation, so put your choice of the 1939 glamor boys on the Kaimin ballots, which will appear today and tomorrow. Mail them in the ballot boxes waiting for you in the Student store, Main hall and the Journalism building.

Females can pick 'em, too, although Clark Cable, Tyrone Power, Richard Greene and Robert Taylor wouldn't exactly make up a powerhouse All-American backfield.

Edwin Atherton, special investigator for the Pacific Coast conference has been in Missoula the last few days investigating athletic conditions at Montana. The main point delved into by G-man Atherton is player income and the conditions under which the athletes work for their financial gains.

Atherton, with his assistant, Richard Heier, and a secretary will make a report of the probe which will be given at the next Coast conference meeting. It is unlikely that Mr. Atherton will find the boys on the Grizzly team fretting over their income tax reports of nights.

The results of the investigation will be mainly to help the conference eventually arrive at a point where a definite standard of player remuneration can be settled

Frosh Smother DeMolay Quint

Montana's Cubs opened their basketball season with a punch as they smothered the DeMolay five 52-11, last night at the Loyola gym, with Burgess ringing the bell for 22 points.

It was the first tilt for Coach Charley Miller's freshmen, who are entered in the city Independent league. The yearlings picked off first place in the tourney last season.

Frosh starting lineup for the game was: Burgess and Dreidlein, forwards; Horr, center; Kelly and Taylor, guards.

WOMEN SWIMMERS TO ELECT OFFICERS OF CLUB TODAY

All women who are out for the swimming team will meet at 5 o'clock today in the women's locker room at the men's gym to elect officers for Swimming club, Miss Jane Potter has announced.

upon to satisfy all big schools and little schools of the conference. The trend is in this direction.

University of Pittsburgh, which scuttled its athletic setup and put in a more restricted policy on paying players, has just finished its worst year in the last 16 grid seasons. Idealistic Chancellor Browman stated, "The thing is that the boys now are having a better time than formerly under the old policy. All have a good time now." Pitt has played to a home average of 37,400 fans for this year as compared to an average of 40,500 fans for six home games under Sutherland last year. Pitt has won five, lost four this year.

Red Cross Drive Will Continue Until December 8, Price Says

Red Cross Roll Call on the campus will continue for another week because of the time lost during Thanksgiving holidays, Derek Price, Anaconda, student enrollment chairman, said this morning. The drive closes December 8 instead of November 30, the day previously set for the end of the drive.

Checkups on the success of the drive Tuesday night at meetings of Spurs and Bear Paws disclosed that contributions and memberships total $101.35, Price said. Seventeen students have purchased memberships, six sorority and fraternity houses have contributed 100 per cent and two have pledged 100 per cent contributions.

Ball to Feature Whirling Batons

Jack McGuinn, sophomore drum major of the Grizzly band, and his luminous batons will be featured in a colorful exhibition at the Rx Pharmacy ball Saturday night in the Gold room of the Student Union building.

McGuinn, tall, blonde and versatile, has been twirling the baton for five years, starting when a sophomore in Harlowton high school. He was surprised one day when, as a member of the band, he began "monkeying around with a baton" and discovered that he could manipulate it easily. He sent for a book of directions and exercises for baton twirlers but by the time it arrived he had already worked out and perfected the rudiments and routines included.

For the next three years McGuinn was busy giving exhibitions and helping to establish twirling corps and classes in other towns throughout the state. During the football season of his senior year he transferred to Butte to be drum major for the Butte band but returned to Harlowton to graduate.

The past two summer sessions at the university Jack has been teaching a class of about 50 members in band direction. This fall quarter he has been directing a class of 64 in baton twirling maneuvers and making plans for enlarging the corps to 100.

Winter quarter he will inaugurate a course in flag swinging, an art comparatively new in this country.

McGuinn is now writing a book on baton twirling, because there "just aren't any such books." Included in his book will be elementary and intricate rudiments and routines, many of which are of his own invention, and pictures of himself demonstrating the manipulations.

Frosh Issue Bi-weekly for Bunyan Club

"The Seedling," published by Forestry club freshmen, made its first appearance at the club meeting last night. Robert Fisher, Chicago, and Jim Cummings, Missoula, published the first edition of the paper which they intend to distribute at the bi-weekly meetings.

A poem by George Dixon, West-hazleton, Pennsylvania, giving his impression of conquering Mount Sentinel during freshman initiation, met the club's approval.

The club voted against formation of a photography group and voted to have President Clarence Graham, Laurel, appoint a sick committee and a committee to arrange for Sentinel pictures.

The club voted against the photography idea when John Milodragovich, Butte, said it would cost too much to make a dark room. The sick committee will be composed of a member from each class and will visit or send flowers to club members who are ill.

Group singing was led by Charles Thielen, Superior; Eugene Elliott, Billings, and Bob Fisher, Chicago. Seniors wore their green club sweaters.

All men interested in turning out for varsity swimming are asked to meet in the men's gym at 4 o'clock this afternoon.
