RED CROSS BREAKFAST — A kick off breakfast for the 1980 Red Cross Fund Drive was held this morning at the Murray Holiday Inn. This year's goal is $12,000, according to Robert G. Jeffrey, 1980 fund drive chairman. Materials for the drive were distributed to the captains and their workers during the breakfast. Wednesday, March 12, has been designated as "contact day" where each worker is to make a progress report to his captain. The captains then are to report to Jeffrey. The last day of the Red Cross Drive is Wednesday, March 19. All kits are to be returned to the Red Cross Office, Jeffrey said. Speakers at this morning's breakfast were Jeffrey (left photo) and Lucy Wright, executive director of the local Red Cross.

Until Bankruptcy Proceedings End

Trial Continued In Case Against Firm's Officers

A continuance was granted today in the case against Clark Hicks, president of Calloway Manufacturing Co., and William B. Cappock, the firm's secretary-treasurer, on 120 counts of failure to pay their employees.

Calloway County Attorney Max Parker, acting for the commonwealth, made the motion to continue the case until a determination is made in the bankruptcy claim of the firm which was filed in U.S. District Court in Paducah in late February. The continuance order was signed by Calloway County District Judge Sid Easley.

The two men are charged with a violation of Kentucky Revised Statutes 337.020, which states that every employer shall pay his employees all wages earned within 18 days of the last work performed.

Violation of the statute carries a penalty upon conviction of a fine ranging from $25 to $100 on each count. No jail sentence is provided for the violation.

The firm, which manufactured blue jeans at 111 East Poplar St. for two and one-half years, last issued paychecks to employees on Dec. 21 for the pay period ending Dec. 14. The plant closed Jan. 4.

Parker stated in his motion that the filing of the bankruptcy petitions is "the first official indication that the corporation did not have the means to pay its employees at the time of its alleged failure to do so."

Hicks and Cappock reported in the bankruptcy claim of the firm that their assets are $145,113.15, while their liabilities are $507,876.91.

The motion further states that the purpose of the statute and of the suit is to try to obtain the workers' wages. The filing of the bankruptcy petitions protects the assets of the corporation and, therefore, the wages of the workers since employees' wages are given priority over all other unsecured assets in bankruptcy proceedings.

If the commonwealth were successful in obtaining the maximum fine of $12,000 against the defendants in a criminal action, Parker said, the money would have to be forwarded to the state treasury. The county attorney said the commonwealth would much rather the money be used to pay the wages of the workers.

Four civil lawsuits also are pending against the company. They include one filed by the former employees seeking $1.2 million in damages, one by Hoyt and Opal Roberts seeking $2,666 for rent on the building and grounds, one by the city of Murray seeking $2,641 for utility bills of December and January, and one by the Bank of Murray for $53,819 remaining on a note.

At the time of the bankruptcy filing, Donald Muir of Paducah, attorney for the company, said the bankruptcy was a result of the cancellation of contracts with several major buyers after the buyers claimed Calloway's workmanship was defective.

Afghan Rebel Leader Hurls Accusations

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — An Afghan rebel leader accused the Western and Moslem worlds of "being unconcerned spectators...while our people are floating in their own blood because of Russian atrocities." He denied the rebels are receiving aid from the United States or China.

Professor Burhanuddin Rabbani, head of a coalition of five rebel groups fighting the communist government in Afghanistan, told a news conference here Tuesday that hundreds of his men had been killed in the past four days as Soviet warplanes bombed rebel strongholds in eastern Afghan provinces near the Pakistani border.

Susy Wells Is First Female Elected As Baseball Group Head

Susy Wells has been elected president of the Murray-Calloway County Baseball Association. She is the first female to serve in that position in the history of the association.

Also, John Randolph was elected secretary-treasurer.

The following were elected as league presidents — Roy Smith, Junior Babe Ruth; Jim Morganti, Little League; and Ken Bucy, Kentucky League.

Presidents still are needed for Senior Babe Ruth, Prep League, Park League and T-Ball.

The next association meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 18, at Calloway County High School.

Passes Senate, On Way To House

Changes Strengthen Lottery Bill

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The lottery bill, which picked up strength after it was modified, is on its way to the House today after passage by the Senate.

Meantime, the attempt to repeal the Sunday closing law ran into stiff resistance in the House and was defeated Tuesday.

And in the Senate, the last nail was hammered in the coffin of the effort to repeal the milk marketing statute.

The lottery is in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment. If the House approves and Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. signs it, the question would appear on the next general election ballot.

Under the bill, proceeds from the first statewide lottery on the Kentucky Derby would go to Vietnam War veterans as a bonus.

Later, half the receipts would be earmarked for education, with 25 percent going to the state transportation fund and the remainder to county and city governments.

The proposed amendment also would allow charitable organizations to conduct lotteries for charitable purposes.

Opponents raised the specter of legalized gambling and organized crime. Supporters said it is an honorable way to finance various governmental needs.

The vote was 23-13, with the ayes reaching the bare minimum necessary to approve a constitutional amendment.

Meanwhile, Sen. Tom Easterly, D-Frankfort, failed in an attempt to resurrect his proposed measure repealing the minimum price law on milk. His discharge petition failed to obtain enough signatures to dislodge it from a committee.

The House closed down an effort to repeal a 179-year-old Kentucky law controlling the operation of businesses on Sunday.

"Kentucky has some integrity on Sunday," Rep. Claudia Riner, D-Louisville, said after the repeal proposal was beaten. "I don't believe the majority of citizens are for this."

Although the House defeated an amendment offered by Mrs. Riner to extend the current hours that non-essential businesses cannot be opened on Sunday until 2 p.m., it also rejected the bill.

The Sunday closing law prohibits businesses deemed nonessential from opening on Sunday unless a local unit of government adopts an ordinance specifically allowing such openings.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Jerry Lundergan, D-Lexington, would have had the reverse effect. It would have still prohibited non-essential businesses from opening from 6 a.m. until noon, but would have left it up to the individual business whether to open after that unless specifically prohibited by a local ordinance.

The bill evolved out of a dispute in Lexington, where the Urban County Council has refused to adopt legislation allowing Sunday business.

A provision in the bill would have prohibited a person from being forced to work on Sunday.

After spending nearly three hours over a two-day period debating a spouse abuse bill, the House quickly and unanimously approved a companion piece of legislation Tuesday.

The bill, which would allow an abused spouse to file a petition seeking protective orders for themselves, their children or stepchildren, passed 88-0 and goes to the Senate.

The House also approved and sent to the Senate a measure that would require a study of the fiscal impact on any bill or administrative regulation before it is passed or implemented.

Refusal: Militants Still Say No To Meeting

By The Associated Press

The young militants holding the American hostages in Tehran refused again today to let the U.N. investigating commission meet with their captives even though Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini gave his implied approval to the meeting.

"Our position has not changed. We will not let the meeting take place," a spokesman for the militants occupying the U.S. Embassy told a reporter by telephone. The spokesman said Khomeini's agreement to the meeting had not been confirmed.

Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, who favors the visit, accused "communists and Zionists" of trying to foil the commission's mission, an apparent reference to leftists among the captors. The foreign minister's comment was in an interview with the Tehran newspaper Azadegan.

Khomeini's son, Ahmad, who in the past has acted as a liaison between the embassy militants and his father, was quoted as saying he believed the meeting would be useful.

"It doesn't hurt anybody and this was part of their (the commission's) work," he was quoted as saying in an interview with the official Pars news agency.

The five members of the U.N. commission met with Ghotbzadeh to try to nail down arrangements for the meeting with the hostages. They returned to their hotel an hour later, and a spokesman said they still expected to see the Americans.

President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr told reporters Tuesday night that Khomeini had given him and the Revolutionary Council, which Bani-Sadr heads, jurisdiction over the matter of the proposed meeting between the U.N. group and the captives. He said the council decided the meeting should take place,

Reagan Wins In Vermont, While Kennedy, Carter Split Primaries

Bush, Anderson Locked In Massachusetts Standoff

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

BOSTON (AP) — Republicans George Bush and John B. Anderson were locked in a dramatic Massachusetts standoff today after Ronald Reagan inched to victory in Vermont. The two tight New England contests point to the kind of stalemate that might entice former President Gerald Ford into the GOP presidential race.

Sen. Edward Kennedy got a lift for his Democratic challenge with a landslide victory over President Carter in homestate Massachusetts. Carter buried Kennedy by an even more lopsided margin in Vermont.

Kennedy won by better than 2-to-1 in the campaign year's first big-state primary, winning enough nominating delegates to offset the lead Carter built up earlier. Carter took Vermont by 3-to-

1. As the final votes were tallied early today, Anderson trailed by margins so tiny that they represented virtual dead heats.

Bush led by little more than 600 votes out of more than 373,000 cast in the Republican primary in Massachusetts with 96 percent of the precincts reporting. Reagan's margin was 616 votes with 99 percent counted in a Vermont primary that drew more than 62,000 GOP ballots.

Reagan ran third in Massachusetts, close behind Bush and Anderson.

The results were so close that unofficial morning-after recounts were scheduled by News Election Service, which tallies the ballots for news agencies and networks.

Tuesday's big surprise was the tandem challenges by Anderson, the white-thatched liberal congressman from Illinois. Anderson said that by coming so close, he had established himself as a major competitor for the GOP nomination.

Both Bush and Reagan said Anderson was a one-day wonder who couldn't last. The competition shifts on Saturday to the conservative South, with a Republican primary in South Carolina, and contests to follow on Tuesday in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

While Anderson said he had proven his national campaign credentials, he is bypassing those states to concentrate next on the March 18 primary in his Illinois home.

With Reagan and Bush unable to take clear cut leadership of the GOP campaign, Gerald Ford loomed as an impendable factor. He wasn't saying much.

Kennedy gained almost two-thirds of the Democratic vote in Massachusetts, and said that was an important lift for "the campaign and the issues we're concerned about," inflation chief among them.

The Massachusetts victory gained Kennedy 77 votes for the Democratic nomination, while Carter got 34.

That put Kennedy ahead nationally, for the moment, with 113 votes to Carter's 89. It will take 1,666 to win.

Carter almost surely will reverse that advantage in the South next Tuesday, and the White House said he already is assured of 55 Minnesota delegates who have yet to be formally selected.

The Vermont victory won Carter no delegates, since that primary was purely advisory.

This was the Democratic verdict in Massachusetts with 97 percent of the precincts reporting:

Kennedy 567,290 or 65 percent.
Carter 251,231 or 29 percent.

California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., who had folded his campaign in the state, 30,089 or 4 percent.

The balance of the vote was uncommitted.

In Vermont, virtually complete returns stood:

Carter 28,622 or 74 percent.

Kennedy 9,896 or 26 percent.

It was Carter's third victory in New England, to go with Maine and New Hampshire.

The Republican results in Massachusetts, with 97 percent of the precincts tallied:

Bush 119,699 or 31 percent.

Anderson 118,821 or 31 percent.

Reagan 110,665 or 29 percent.

Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee 19,199 or 5 percent.

Former Gov. John Connally of Texas 4,601 or 1 percent.

Rep. Philip Crane of Illinois 4,449 or 1 percent.

Ford picked up one percent of the vote on write-in ballots. Uncommitted Republicans and three other candidates shared the rest.

Those returns gave Bush 14 nominating delegates, while Reagan and Anderson claimed 13 each and Baker won 3. Bush and Reagan gained 22 apiece in earlier contests. It will take 998 to make a Republican nominee.

In Vermont, the GOP numbers read:

Reagan 19,441 or 31 percent.

Anderson 18,825 or 30 percent.

Bush 14,006 or 23 percent.

Baker 7,936 or 13 percent.

Crane 1,218 or 2 percent.

Connally 879 or 1 percent.

Constant candidate Harold Stassen got 100 votes.

Under Vermont rules, it took 40 percent of the vote to win any delegates, so none were convention.

"Only a mediocre person is always at his best."
Somerset Maugham

We were far from our best in the bidding of today's interesting hand. In the National Life Masters Men's Pairs, Ace Bob Hamman and myself reached only a heart game instead of the much better contract of six diamonds. However, what is missed in the bidding can sometimes come back in the play, and I was lucky enough to salvage a good score.

Had I rebid three diamonds instead of three hearts, it would have been easy to reach the diamond slam. Unfortunately, I chose to stick with my strong major suit because the game was match points, and the diamond suit was lost for good.

Dummy's club ace won the first trick and it seemed certain that I would lose at least one heart and a diamond. I also saw that, with any 3-2 diamond break, the hand was virtually cold for 12 tricks at diamonds.

How to salvage a good score? I must try to make one more trick than most of the other pairs who also rested in four hearts.

At trick two, I cashed two high hearts and led a third one to West's queen. West exiting with a spade, I won the ace of spades and cashed my ace of diamonds. West falsecarding with the queen (a cute play, but one that I did not believe).

Next all the hearts were run and a spade was led to dummy's king. The spade queen was cashed and I discarded a small diamond. West now had to reduce to two cards and West's ruse was exposed.

He couldn't afford to discard his club queen since the club jack was still in

Virgins Had Misconceptions

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a girl could become pregnant without going all the way. Thanks for printing it. That is what happened to me.

Before we were married, my fiancé and I had gone together for 2½ years. We were very much in love, and just like the kids do today, we did a lot of hugging, kissing and cuddling; but I swear we did not go "all the way!" Never theless I found myself very much pregnant.

I couldn't believe it, but the doctor explained it to me exactly the way you explained it: "All that is necessary is for the sperm of the male to meet the ovum of the female, and this can be accomplished without actual penetration."

Even though WE knew how it happened, it was hard to explain to others. We are now in our 60s, and we still kid about it, and call each other...

"DUMB BELLS"

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those "unusual cases" of a woman being a pregnant virgin. I conceived with my hymen intact.

When I went to the doctor, suspecting that I might be pregnant, he examined me and said I most certainly was. When it came time for me to have the baby, the doctor had to deliver me surgically. I never would have believed it, but I am living proof that a girl can become pregnant without going all the way.

MRS. W. TORRINGTON, CONN.

DEAR ABBY: I was very happy to see the item in your column about the girl who got pregnant and had a baby, though she was still a virgin. The same thing happened to me when I was 17. He married me, and we have five children. The oldest is now 18.

People never believed me when I told them that that is what really happened. My doctor confirmed it.

B.P.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 39-year-old mother of four, and I was just as innocent as that 55-year-old grandmother who asked you to explain how a girl could get pregnant and still be a virgin.

It's a shame how people can go through life half ignorant because they're too embarrassed to ask questions. I sent for your booklet, WHAT TEENAGERS OUGHT TO KNOW, for my two sons, 12 and 14, and they thought it was terrific. So did I. And my husband agreed with me. I never could have told them about drugs and sex the way you did.

Thank you for having the courage to write something so straight and easy to understand. All parents want their kids to know how to keep from getting VD, and how to avoid getting pregnant, but nobody wants to tell them.

The chapter on drugs and what they can do to you was great.

I'm sorry I didn't have something like that to read when I was a teenager.

MRS. R.J.L. IN ORLANDO, FLA.

Are there questions you can't ask your parents? Get Abby's new booklet: WHAT TEENAGERS OUGHT TO KNOW. Drugs, sex and alcohol are plainly discussed. Send $2 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

HEALTH

Blood sugar rises

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Does sugar show up in the urine with any other illness besides diabetes and does it need any special treatment? I've had a lot of blood tests and urine tests for years but nothing has ever shown up. I test my own urine and recently it showed sugar in the urine.

Thirty-four years ago I was declared to be a diabetic and stayed on a strict diet for one year. In a week's time I became sugar free and my doctor said I'd never need to take insulin if I watched my diet.

Now I'm 79 years old and don't have much endurance to walk and must lie down to rest after 15 minutes of work. I take blood pressure pills and also circulation pills and aspirin to relieve arthritis. I eat graham crackers and angel food cake occasionally.

DEAR READER — Under normal circumstances, if the blood sugar gets above the 160 to 180 range, some sugar will spill into the urine. This can happen to a person who eats a lot of sweets that are rapidly absorbed into the bloodstream. Some people will have this occur with the glucose tolerance test for blood sugar.

The spillage in the urine by itself doesn't mean that a person has diabetes. I think you should regard the urine test as a screening device.

Now that you've had a positive test, you might want to see your physician and to let him examine your blood. The blood glucose tests are much more accurate in assessing whether a person has diabetes and if it is significant.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-11, Diabetes: Diagnosis, Prevention and Management. It will give you more information about the problem. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Some authorities feel that as you get older it's normal to have higher blood sugar readings. I'm not sure I agree with this. It may be like a lot of other changes in the body that we assume are normal because they're common as you get older. That doesn't mean they're necessarily good for you or representative of optimal health. It's common to have heart attacks but I don't think that anyone would agree that's good for you. It makes a lot of difference what you mean when you say normal.

I wouldn't get excited about doing anything until you have your doctor test you. There are some medicines that will alter the results of urine tests for diabetes. If a person is taking large amounts of vitamin C, that can also affect the test for sugar in the urine.

Other readers might want to know that you can have a negative urine sugar test and still have an abnormally high blood glucose level. This is particularly likely to happen if the kidneys are diseased and there is a change in how they filter glucose. That is another reason that the final diagnosis is usually based upon carefully done blood studies.

SUPPORTS CHOIR — The Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club voted at the recent meeting to contribute financially to the Paducah Boys Choir exchange visit with the Vienna Boys Choir. Martha Crafton, club member, said that two former Murray boys, Tyler Prince and Eric Hutson, will be participating in the event as well as many boys with relatives in the Murray area. The Paducah Choir will leave New York on April 6 and return April 21 after giving seven concerts in Bamberg, Regensburg, and Dinkelsbühl, Germany, at the St. Florian Monastery, in Salsburg, Austria, in Strassbourg, France, along with a two days visit with the Vienna Boys Choir during which time both choirs will perform and the Paducah boys will visit their school. In return the Vienna Boys Choir will visit Paducah in the spring of 1981. This is the first such exchange program for both the Vienna and Paducah Choirs, according to Tony Whitfield, choir director. A special concert to help finance the trip will be given March 20 at 7 p.m. at the Lone Oak Baptist Church, Paducah, with tickets being children, $1, adults, $3, and patrons, $10. They may be purchased at The PanHandler or from Barbara Brandon, 753-1975, or by mail from Tyler Prince, 15 Margaret Court, Paducah. Pictured are Tyler Prince, center, accepting a check from Mrs. Jack Uddberg, left, and Mrs. Don Bennett, right, chairman and vice chairman respectively of the Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club.

Rainey's Day

By RAINEY APPERSON

Attitude, attitude, attitude—any doctor, teacher, counselor, or preacher will tell you that a good attitude can make up for a multitude of sins. We all get down in the dumps at times, and feel sorry for ourselves. It always helps to hear about a fascinating person—making the most of her life.

Julia Kentner, 93-year-old resident of Greece, New York, could teach us all a little humility. A visitor in Murray a few years ago in the home of Dorothy (Mrs. O. B., Sr.) Boone, Julia says she doesn't understand why people would want to read about her. But she will admit she might be a little unusual since, at 93, she drives up to 40 miles a day to visit younger friends confined to nursing homes.

At a guess, you'd say Mrs. Kentner looks about 70, as she moves up and down stairs, and bends to the floor to pick up the rugs she crochets for friends. She shares a house with her niece and nephew-in-law near Rochester, New York.

Maybe part of her secret is Mrs. Kentner's healthy state of mind—she always tries to stay cheerful. She would like to be remembered as a person who helps others. Sometimes she sees more than a dozen people in hospitals and nursing homes in a day. Every year at Christmas she bakes about 2,000 cookies that she packs into some 45 boxes she distributes to friends and neighbors.

Julia says she has always led an active life. After working 14 years as a dressmaker in Rochester, she received a letter from a friend who was a missionary in Japan. "She said she had a job for me," and Mrs. Kentner remembers, "but she said to bring my sewing machine and come to New York City."

The job was in Japan teaching Japanese women how to make American clothing for their children. From 1921 to 1923, she lived in Yokohama. Julia married at the age of 48. "Old enough to know better," she laughs,

"but I'm glad I didn't." She had 35 good years. Her husband died in 1970.

"We always believe in having fun," she says. Her husband never learned to drive, so she was always behind the wheel on the trips that eventually took them through every state in the United States, most of those miles in a 1935 DeSoto they bought for $860.

Mrs. Kentner stays active in the Hilton Baptist Church and the Senior Citizens' Group.

She feels that it's very important for the elderly to exercise. She says, "people shouldn't give up."

Her philosophy could be summed up in this statement: "I've had a very full life and on very little money. I haven't tried to live it up, but you read so much about people who work very hard all their life, save a lot of money and then die before they can enjoy it. I've always believed you should enjoy what you have now, while you have it."

Jim Abourezk, former South Dakota senator, and of Lebanese descent, charmed this year's audience in the Harry Lee Waterfield Distinguished Lecturer Series. An attorney, who took an early out of politics, still has some strong and liberal views of the world today. The students and interested people in the jammed auditorium of the special education building at Murray State University, got their money's worth at this event sponsored by the MSU Department of Political Science and Public Affairs.

I'm always laughing saying my life is filled with trivia—you know what I mean—if we go out to lunch, I can describe exactly what you had on, and what you ordered for lunch. If my life depended on it—I couldn't tell you what the exact budget for the church is. Trivia—the unimportant and the insignificant.

A Waiting Game

President Carter has realistically counseled the American people against swinging from extreme optimism to extreme pessimism about the release of hostages from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

The counsel is needed because hopes had risen with the mounting evidence in recent days that a deal had been struck to free the Americans in return for the appointment of a United Nations legal commission to hear and report on evidence against the former shah. The Ayatollah Khomeini seemed to demolish this speculation with his statement, coinciding with the arrival in Tehran of the U.N. commission, that the new Iranian parliament would have to make the decision about releasing the prisoners.

Inasmuch as the parliament has not yet been elected and will not assemble until April, the statement appears to condemn the 50 Americans to additional weeks, perhaps months, of captivity. This is a dismaying development, but not as serious, perhaps, as appears on the surface. The ayatollah does not always mean exactly what he says. He has previously said the prisoners would not be freed until the shah was returned to face trial. He seems to have dropped that demand, although the militants holding the embassy still voice it.

Even if Khomeini has been persuaded to change his mind on this point, he does not want to bear the onus of telling the militants that their hostages must be released on other terms. He has, therefore, delegated this authority to the new parliament to be elected in March, in effect washing his hands of an unpopular, and perhaps unenforceable, order.

This ploy, an indication perhaps of the intense political struggle in Tehran, seems to complicate immensely the release of the Americans. The militants who hold them prisoner have said they will take orders only from the ayatollah. If parliament tells them to free the prisoners, they may refuse. And President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr has made it clear that he will not liberate the prisoners by force.

The ayatollah shrewdly waited until the U.N. commission arrived in Iran before attaching the new conditions to what was certainly a quid pro quo agreement.

for the release of the Americans. And experience has taught that more deception and ambiguity can be expected from Tehran before the hostage issue is resolved.

Still, despite the frustrations, continued patience and forbearance are required of the American government and people as long as any progress is made, albeit obliquely, toward a goal shared by the United States and the rational men in Bani-Sadr's government who want to settle the crisis.

Any other stance by the United States now will only play into the hands of the extremists at the embassy — implacable foes of this country — and dim the hope that reality will be made to temper the ayatollah's dogmatic certitude.

Capitol Ideas

Slack Side Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the SALT II treaty off the Senate calendar and the attention of leaders riveted on presidential primaries, congressional business has been tending toward the slack side.

In fact, several times in recent days the Senate has literally run out of things to do.

There have been long pauses on the floor, numerous quorum calls, days with nothing accomplished and "pro forma" sessions involving little more than quick bangs of the gavel.

The House has gone through the motions of at least appearing busy — but so far this year few major bills have been debated. One day recently a bill entitled "tariff treatment of feathers and down" was the main event.

The usually serious Democratic Whip John Brademas of Indiana, who is in charge of putting out the daily schedule, has even taken a whimsical turn.

Brademas took to the floor several days ago to proclaim: "Mr. Speaker, last night was another proud night for the University of Notre Dame."

"Living up to the finest traditions of the Fighting Irish, Notre Dame's basketball team handed No. 1 ranked DePaul University of Chicago its first defeat of the year, 76-74."

Commonwealth Consumer

Consumer Legislation Not Being Bought By Assembly

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Consumer legislation is not faring well in the 1980 General Assembly.

To date, only one consumer-related bill has passed both chambers — a measure to increase the size of a claim that may be filed in the small claims division of district court.

The bill, which now goes to the governor, would allow consumers to take claims of up to $1,000 to court without the necessity of hiring a lawyer.

Existing law limits small claims to those under $500.

But the picture is pretty dim for other major consumer bills.

Legislation dealing with automobile problems — a statewide consumer complaint — has not fared well, and the forecast is not good.

For example, a fairly innocuous bill that would require auto mechanics to provide a written estimate of repair costs at a consumer's request was reported out of committee but later recommitted — reportedly because of behind-the-scenes pressure by the Kentucky Auto Dealers Association.

The measure still languishes. Other legislation — potentially much farther-reaching — would provide relief for newcar buyers who wind up with lemons.

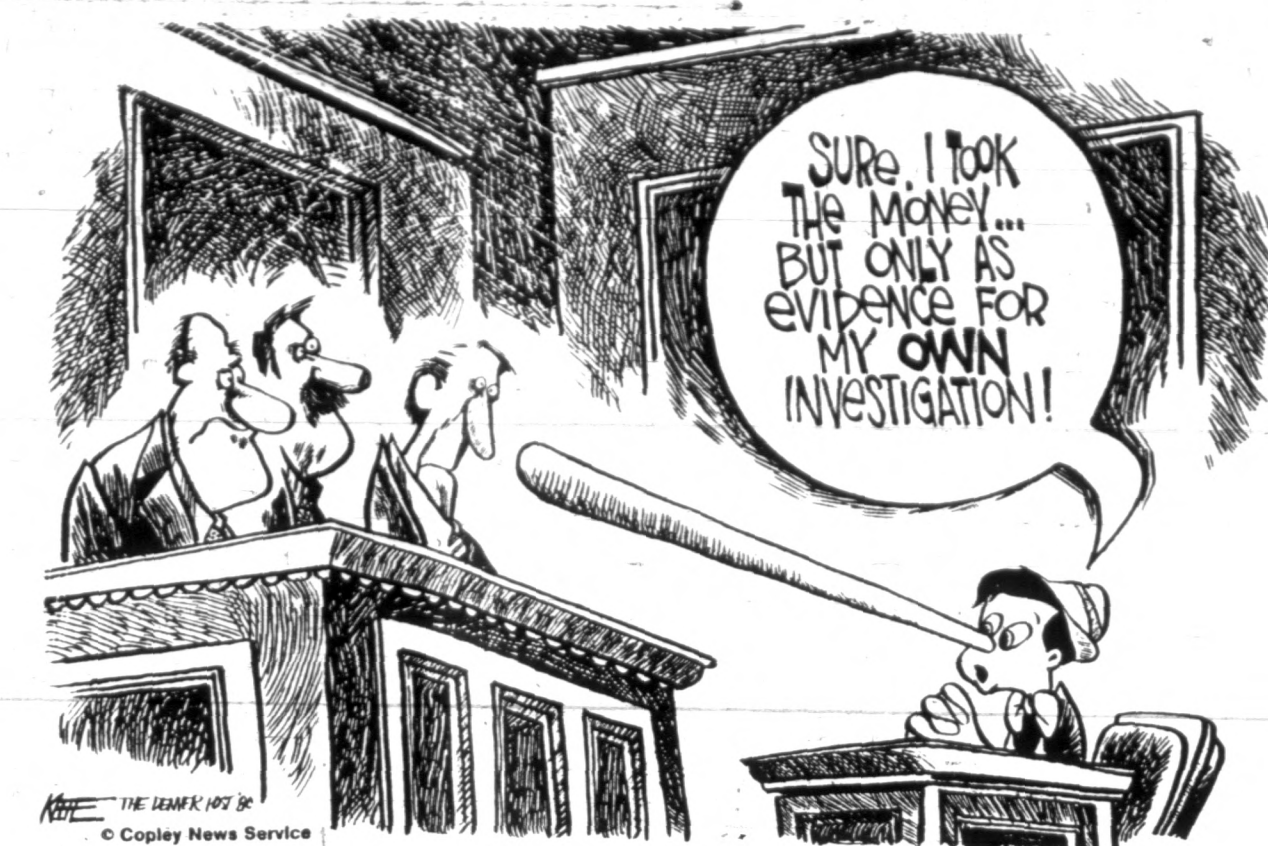

But it has a really fundamental problem: a race with the clock.

Although Attorney General Steven Besher heralded its coming at a news conference two weeks ago, the legislation has yet to be introduced.

Its late arrival on an already crowded legislative stage won't help, since it faces powerful KADA opposition.

Another controversial measure to repeal the state's pricing law on milk hit the dust last week after a frontal attack by the Kentucky Farm Bureau and small retailers.

The bill would have done away with the law that requires retailers to sell milk above cost.

HEARTLINE

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press Writer

answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am thinking of joining my family permanently after retiring next year. My family is in Albania. I have been told that I move to Albania I will not be allowed to receive my Social Security check each month. Others have told me that my Social Security check is guaranteed no matter where I move. Can you tell me whether or not I can receive Social Security benefits in the country of Albania? I am a U.S. citizen and have been for 25 years. I haven't seen my family for 36 years — V. Q.

ANSWER: No monthly benefit can be paid to anyone who resides in Albania or any other country from which payments are withheld by the Treasury Department. The checks are withheld because it appears there is no reasonable assurance that the beneficiary would actually receive his or her check and be able to negotiate it for full value. The countries from which payments are currently withheld by the Treasury Department are:

Albania
Cambodia (KHMER Republic)
Communist-controlled China including Mongolia and Tibet
Cuba
German Democratic Republic (includes East Berlin)
North Korea
Vietnam

A U.S. citizen may be paid his or her accrued benefits upon leaving the restricted country; however, a non-U.S. citizen who leaves a restricted country may not receive any benefits for months after May, 1968, which were withheld because of Treasury restrictions.

HEARTLINE: I was in the hospital for two weeks. I have now been home for three weeks. If I have to return to the hospital before a full 60 days has passed, do I have to pay the Medicare $180 deductible again? — H. W.

ANSWER: No. Since you would not be home for 60 days before returning to the hospital, your benefit period would continue from your first stay. You would have to pay the $180 deductible only if you were entering the hospital with a new benefit period. You must be out of the hospital (or skilled nursing facility) for 60 consecutive days before you automatically will be awarded a new benefit period.

If you need further information about your Medicare coverage, we now have available our 1980 Guide to Medicare. To order, send $1.75 to Heartline's Guide to Medicare, 114 East Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381.

HEARTLINE: I would like to find out if my mother is eligible for Medicaid coverage to help pay for her drugs and medical supplies. Where do I go or call to find out? — H. D.

ANSWER: To see if your mother is eligible for Medicaid, check with your County Welfare Office (or Medicaid office if they are listed separately).

GAS PRICES HAVE CHANGED THE DEFINITION OF "HIGHWAY ROBBERY"

The Story Of Calloway County 1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

A wave of arson spread over Lovins Town near New Concord with three buildings burning within 30 minutes. The incendiaries were credited to arsonists who had been arrested on a moonshining charge and had perpetrated the fires in retaliation. The blazes occurred Aug. 10, 1948. Another note of interest to the Blood River neighborhood was the release of two beavers, bringing the beaver population to seven. Also REA announced plans to extend 248 miles of electric lines which included the New Concord neighborhood. Although the war was long over, town householders were urged to grow gardens to combat the "grey market" which was threatening higher prices. The gardens wilted on the vine long before Dog Days from a drought of husbandry participation.

In a petition to the House of Representatives from Calloway County, 53 residents asked for the resignation of its member who happened to be one of the team writers of this book. The protest resulted from the effective debate executed by the writer, which permitted towns of the first four classes to vote independently from the county on the issue of for or against the sale of alcoholic beverages. Your writer argued the case in the opinion the smaller unit was more desirable and more compatible in a democratic society, wholly from a political administration point of view. In the argumentation, Kerby confessed that when and if a local option were held in the City of Murray, he would staunchly campaign to retain Murray as a dry city. About 20 years later when the opportunity to defend the dry status of Murray occasioned, he fulfilled his earlier commitment more than any other single individual in the town. In addition, the law permitting the independent vote of the cities has been retained as a desirable statute upholding the structure of democracy in action, even later approved by many of the petition signers. The petition incident was the most publicized political happening occurring during the year of 1948, thus its inclusion in "The Story of Calloway County." Furthermore, the city-county vote controversy carried over with sharp intensity into the 1949 primary election which will be later narrated.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, March 5, the 65th day of 1980. There are 301 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On March 5, 1770, gunfire erupted during a scuffle between British troops and a crowd of hecklers in Boston. The incident became known as the "Boston Massacre" and contributed to unrest in the colonies.

On this date:

In 1496, England's King Henry VII commissioned John and Sebastian Cabot to discover new lands.

In 1868, the senate was organized into a court of impeachment to hear charges against President Andrew Johnson.

In 1953, Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin died in Moscow at the age of 73, after 29 years in office.

In 1977, a powerful earthquake devastated Romania. The death toll eventually reached more than 1,000.

Ten years ago, a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons went into effect, ratified by 43 nations.

Five years ago, Israeli troops stormed a Tel Aviv hotel and killed the half dozen Arab terrorists holding some 40 guests and employees hostage.

Last year, the Israeli cabinet accepted secret American proposals for a Mideast peace treaty, and President Carter said he'd go to the Mideast in an effort to wrap things up.

Today's birthday: Actor Rex Harrison is 72.

MSU Nabs KFA Championship

Murray State University won sweepstakes awards in debate and in individual events as well as the Overall Sweepstakes Award in the 1980 Kentucky Forensic Association (KFA) Championships at Georgetown College Feb. 22-23.

Eleven students representing Murray State participated in nine different contest events to take the state championship in speech and debate. Russell Walker of Ashland and Tim Reding of Elizabethtown, both seniors, each won four trophies and awards in the competition.

Walker recorded three first place awards, more than any other individual. His 1980 awards, when added to awards in previous years, make him the top award winner in KFA history.

Walker won firsts in impromptu speaking, information speaking, and extemporaneous speaking and a tie for second in oratory. Reding had a first in after-dinner speaking, a third in impromptu speaking, and fourths in information speaking and duo interpretation.

Other Murray State students who won awards and the individual events categories in which they competed were:

Merilee Hughes, Benton, Ill., sophomore, first place in prose interpretation, sixth place in duo interpretation, and seventh place in poetry interpretation.

Yvette Payne, Jopka, Ill., sophomore, first place in oratory and seventh place tie in impromptu speaking. Skip Hamra, Murray senior, second place and fourth place in duo interpretation and second place in prose interpretation.

Carla Horton, Murray junior, second place and seventh place in duo interpretation and fourth place in after-dinner speaking and prose interpretation.

Tim Butterbaugh, Wickliffe sophomore, sixth place in duo interpretation and prose interpretation and seventh place in duo interpretation.

Keith Brown, Mt. Washington junior, fifth place in extemporaneous speech. Randy Hutchens, Murray junior, and Mike Soltys, Wickliffe sophomore, took the first place team award in debate. Hutchens won second and Soltys third in the individual speaking awards.

Miss Payne's championship in oratory qualifies her for the Interstate Oratorical Competition, the national championship in intercollegiate oratory. It will mark the third time in the past four years that Murray State has represented Kentucky in that event. Walker was the representative of the other two times.

Robert Valentine, director of forensics at Murray State, and Julia Ledford, associate director, both of the Department of Speech and Theatre on the campus, accompanied the students to the KFA Championships.

Racers Begin Quest For NIT Championship Tonight

From AP And Staff Reports

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Ron Greene isn't one to badmouth a basketball tournament, whether it's one in which his Murray team is playing or one his Racers missed joining by an eyelash. Greene's Murray team, 21-7, missed a chance to enter the 48-team NCAA Tournament when the Racers lost a 54-51 decision to Western Kentucky in the finals of the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament. Because of that game, Western Kentucky is headed for the NCAA while Murray was headed for Florida and a first-round date tonight with Jacksonville in the 32-team National Invitation Tournament.

"I personally resent people looking down their nose and saying the NCAA's been watered down," Greene said. "There are a lot more good teams now than there were a few years ago. There's a team in the NCAA with a 14-13 record."

If the NCAA is watered down, the critics say, then what of the NIT, which must make do with the teams that don't qualify for the tournament that decides the national champion?

"We've got some teams over 20 (victories) in the NIT," Greene said. "We're over 20 (21-7 in fact). Jacksonville has 20. There are some pretty good ball clubs — Las Vegas, Long Beach, some of the Big Ten teams. It's a very good tournament."

Based on those comments, it's easy to guess how Greene feels about the whole thing.

"We're just glad to be playing now," he said, even though his team will be forced to play any and all NIT games on the road. That's because the regional concept devised a few years ago by the NIT works best in the biggest arenas — and Murray's 5,500-seat gym is too small.

"We're the new kids on the block," Greene explained. "When you're the new kid on the block, you play on the other guy's court. We're just happy to be here."

Greene would be even happier if his Racers beat Jacksonville and took another road trip next Monday. A win would move Murray into the second round against the winner of tonight's Alabama-Penn State game. The third round will also be played regionally before four teams converge on New York for the semifinals and finals at Madison Square Garden March 17 and 19.

Tonight's game looks like a defensive collision. Greene's Racers allowed only 65.4 points a game, tops in the OVC, while Jacksonville led its Sun Belt Conference by allowing only 60.1 points per outing.

The Dolphins also averaged 34.1 rebounds a game while its opposition had only a 27.8 average.

Jacksonville was eliminated in the Sun Belt Conference tournament by Alabama-Birmingham, 64-60. In earlier games this year, Jacksonville won at Florida State by a 77-76 score, won the Gator Bowl championship over Florida, 61-55, and defeated Duquesne easily, 73-54.

Tonight's game will feature a match between the two leagues' players of the year, Murray's Gary Hooker and Jacksonville's James Ray.

Hooker is scoring at a 18.7 points a game clip while averaging 12.8 rebounds and shooting 55.5 percent. Ray is shooting 53.5 percent for the year, not far behind guard Steve Tutson, who is hitting 56.6 percent.

Probable Starters

Here are the probable starting lineups for tonight's 6:35 game:

MURRAY STATE

- 6-5 Senior Forward Gary Hooker
- 6-6 Freshman Forward Glen Green
- 6-6 Senior Center Allen Mann
- 5-10 Freshman Guard Mont Sleets
- 6-4 Junior Guard Jerry Smith

JACKSONVILLE

- 6-5 Sophomore Forward Mike Hackett
- 6-7 Sophomore Forward Singh Guram
- 6-9 Senior Center James Ray
- 6-3 Junior Guard Jimmy Martin
- 5-8 Freshman Guard Maurice Roulhac

Pennsylvania Gains NCAA Spot

Long Beach Routs Pepperdine In First Round Of NIT Tourney

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

The University of Pennsylvania became the last team into the NCAA tournament and Pepperdine became the first team out of the National Invitation Tournament. And tonight, the postseason action begins in earnest.

Penn edged Princeton 50-49 on James Salters' bucket with 10 seconds left to win a playoff for the Ivy League title at Easton, Pa. The Quakers, who made it to the Final Four last year but lost their other four starters from that team to graduation, thus completed the NCAA tourney field. Penn travels to West Lafayette, Ind., on Thursday to play Washington State in the Midwest Regional.

The NIT opened with Michael Wiley connecting for 31 points in leading Long Beach State to a 104-87 rout of Pepperdine. All five Long Beach starters hit for double figures.

The NIT continues tonight with eight first-round games. St. Peter's visits Connecticut; West Texas State is at Illinois State; Lafayette travels to Virginia; Loyola, Chicago is at Illinois; Penn State takes on the University of Alabama in a game at Birmingham, Ala.; St. Joseph's, Pa., visits Texas; Murray State goes to Jacksonville and Bowling Green is at Minnesota.

There are six more NIT openers Thursday and one more on Friday.

Other NCAA tournament sites Thursday include Greensboro, N.C., Lincoln, Neb., and Ogden, Utah. On Friday, opening round contests will take place at Providence, R.I., Bowling Green, Ky., Denton, Texas and

"I was in that rhythm," said the captain of the 16-11 Quakers. "Last year we had something to prove; we knew how good we were. This year we don't know how good we are ourselves."

Louisville Moore Falls In Season Finale But Not In Prep Cage Poll

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Louisville Moore stumbled in its regular season finale, but an Associated Press panel of sportswriters and broadcasters apparently feel the Mustangs still are the team to beat in Kentucky boys high school basketball.

Moore, 26-3, retained its No. 1 ranking in the season's final AP poll, collecting eight of 12 first-place votes despite a 70-69 loss to Oldham County.

The Colonels, however, were unable to advance in the standings. They remained No. 6 for the third straight week, despite a 26-2 record.

Second-ranked Warren East, 29-2, received the remaining four votes after bouncing Bowling Green 59-53 in the District 14 tournament. Owensboro concluded regular season play at 25-2 after a 72-62 victory over Central City and remained third.

Franklin County and Covington Holmes remained fourth and fifth, respectively. The Flyers, 24-4, ripped Grant County 84-53 and Holmes, 26-2, stifled Independence Simon Kenton 86-71.

Following Oldham County in the middle five was Louisville Ballard, which jumped from 10th to seventh at 21-5 after a 43-42 squeaker over city rival St. Xavier.

Lexington Bryan Station was upset 70-63 by Richmond Madison, but rebounded to nip defending state champion Lexington Lafayette 66-64 in the 43rd District tournament. That ensured the state a new boys champion, but did not keep the Defenders from slipping a notch to eighth at 23-5.

"I was really proud the way the kids hung in," said Penn Coach Bob Weinbauer. "With one senior guard — and we lost three possible starters to injuries — they just kept hanging in all year."

Salters led Penn with 15 points and impressed Pete Carril, coach of the 15-15 Tigers.

"The whole thing came down to a tough shot and he's been making tough shots all year."

Long Beach State's Wiley added 12 rebounds to his 31 points and Francois Wise had 15 points and 18 rebounds.

"We played the first 10 minutes about as well as we could play," said 49ers Coach Tex Winter. "In our last five or six games, teams held the ball on us and kept us on defense. We were foaming at the mouth to get in a running game, like a racehorse that is trying to get out and run."

"I guess as long as you are in the game, these things are going to happen," noted Pepperdine Coach Jim Harrick. "Long Beach played exceptionally well. We missed some shots we normally should have made, but you cannot take anything away from Long Beach."

The 49ers, second place finishers in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, are 22-11. Pepperdine, 17-11, were third in the West Coast Athletic Conference and had beaten Long Beach 95-94 earlier this year.

U Of L's Griffith Named All-America

Father Happy About Son's Award

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "He was the happiest young man I've ever seen," Monroe Griffith said of his son Darrell.

"And I think it's great to have two boys from the same state on the first team."

The senior Griffith was referring to The Associated Press All-America basketball team announced Tuesday, which included Louisville's Darrell Griffith and Kentucky's Kyle Macy.

Joining the Kentucky backcourt-duo on the honor team were Joe Barry Carroll of Purdue, Albert King of Maryland and Mark Aguirre of top-ranked DePaul.

Darrell Griffith just "loved it, loved it," when he was named to the team, the player's father said.

"During the Metro Tournament last week, we kept hearing rumors that he was and that he wasn't on the first team," said the elder Griffith, who added that he wasn't sure his son had made All-America until "we read it in the paper today."

Griffith said he expected Darrell "will be overwhelmed with offers from the pros. His selection as an All-America should put him high up on the draft list."

When Griffith learned of his selection, the 21-year-old guard said the credit should be shared by his teammates. "If it hadn't been for them, maybe I wouldn't be getting this honor."

Griffith, named Most Valuable Player in the Metro Conference Tournament last week, also was chosen Metro Player of the Year.

The leading all-time scorer at Louisville, he has pumped in 2,217 points, including 709 this season for a new record.

His 357 assists placed him fourth on the all-time list at Louisville.

Macy, one of the nation's top foul shooters with a 92 percent accuracy mark, has averaged 16 points and five assists a game this year.

Catch Tournament Fever

Hoop Fans Second To None In Breast-Beating

By MIKE CLARK
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When it comes to breast-beating, Kentucky college basketball fans are second to none, and the statistics that followers recite show that their teams are just as hard to beat.

Kentuckians become victims every March of "tournament fever," since the state usually has a team or two contending for the national title. In fact, since Western Kentucky's 1940 appearance in the NCAA tournament, the state of Kentucky has only twice had to suffer through the month of March without cheering for one of its teams in a post-season tournament.

This year, the fever is acute, because three of Kentucky's six major colleges — Kentucky, Louisville and Western Kentucky — are in the chase for the NCAA Tournament title. A fourth team, Murray, is entered in the National Invitation Tournament.

All this is to be expected, fans will say, because Kentucky plays the best basketball around. To stifle arguments, they can recite a string of superlatives.

—Kentucky is the winningest team in college basketball, entering NCAA play this year with 1,261. In the past 50 years, Kentucky has won 1,057 games and is the only team to average 20 wins a season over such an extended period.

Western Kentucky, incidentally, ranks 11th overall in victories with 1,055 while Louisville has 925.

—Louisville, 28-3 this year, has strung together 10 straight 20-win seasons and 36 consecutive winning seasons. Both streaks are close to Kentucky's national records of 14 consecutive 20-win seasons and 38 straight winning seasons. Kentucky's streak of consecutive winning seasons was halted when the 1967 team finished 13-13, but the Cats maintain a 52-year run without a losing season.

—Kentucky's 28-5 record marks the school's 29th 20-win season, tops in college basketball. Western Kentucky, with 24 such campaigns, is tied for second with North Carolina and St. John's. Louisville is next with 23.

—Should it win its first two NCAA games this year, Kentucky would notch its sixth 30-win season. Only UCLA, with

Ali To Return In Search Of Fourth World Title

By EDSCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm gonna shock the world." It sounds like an echo.

But it was a statement made in the present that hinted at the future.

It was Muhammad Ali talking by telephone from his training camp in Deer Lake, Pa. On Feb. 14, Ali told The Associated Press there was a 75 percent chance of his fighting again.

Tuesday, Ali said he would spend three months at his camp to get ready to try and win the heavyweight championship of the world for the fourth time.

Today, promoter Bob Arum was to meet with Ali's manager, Jabir Muhammad (formerly Herbert Muhammad) and attorney Charles Lomax to work out a contract.

Here we go again.

Arum wants to match Ali against John Tate, the World Boxing Association champion, in late June in the New Orleans Superdome for an unnamed (dream up one and it might be too low) purse.

Of course, Arum must reach an agreement with Tate and Tate must dispatch Mike Weaver March 31, the same night Larry Holmes defends the World Boxing Council title against Leroy Jones.

Ali says he's not worried about Weaver or Jones upsetting his plans.

"I'm going to be a quintuple champion," said Ali, who on his first day in camp, already was looking past Tate to Holmes. The man who retired last year after becoming the first three-time heavyweight champ by outpointing Leon Spinks Sept. 15, 1978 then explained that he would consider himself a five-time champion by beating both Tate and Holmes.

Money? Some say Ali needs money, not because he's broke but because it costs to maintain the lifestyle to which he has grown accustomed. There is also his Muslim faith.

"Some of our mosques are in trouble and some of our schools are closing. I would return to keep houses of religion and schools open," Ali said back on Feb. 14 when asked why at age 38 and with nothing to prove he was considering a comeback. Money has to be a factor.

He also misses the cheers? Nonsense, said Ali. Ah, then it's the challenge?

"They say they never come back," said the man who came back from a 3½-year exile forced on him after he refused to accept military draft to beat George Foreman and win the title a second time.

"He who is creative enough to take risks will accomplish anything in life," continued Ali, who risked his career over his stand on the draft and stood firm until the U.S. Supreme Court overturned his draft-evasion conviction.

"I'm trying to tell you something. I'm going to shock the world," said the man who as big-mouthed Cassius Clay was given no chance against Sonny Liston in 1964, who was a 5-1 underdog against Foreman in 1974 and who admitted he wanted to quit after 10 rounds against Joe Frazier in Manila in 1975 before he rallied to stop Smokin' Joe.

Nicklaus Attempting To Prove To Himself He's Still Got Touch

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

LAUDERHILL, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus will be attempting to prove something to his toughest, most severe critic this week in the $300,000 Jackie Gleason-Inverrary Golf Classic.

"I'm not worried about proving myself to anyone else," Nicklaus said after a practice round over the 7,127 yard, par 72 Inverrary Golf Club course.

"But I always have to prove myself to me."

So far, he hasn't done it. He knows it. He's the first to admit it.

And, with the single-minded determination that helped make him the greatest player golf has ever known, the Golden Bear is concentrating all his formidable talents and energies on an attempt at changing that situation.

"Every two or three years, someone wants to write me off," he said.

"I don't intend to be written off."

He's been practicing at home about six hours a day for several weeks now, something he's rarely done before. His longtime teacher, Jack Grout, has spent countless hours with him. He's working as hard or harder than ever before.

Generally, Nicklaus said he is hitting the ball very well, at age 40 he's physically sound, and he's again eager to play. His comeback from the first non-winning year of his matchless career is going pretty well according to schedule.

Although he has been less than overwhelming in two previous starts this year, he has to be considered the man to beat in the 72-hole test that begins Thursday. The Inverrary course, within commuting distance from his home at North Palm Beach, is one of his favorite playgrounds. He's won here three times and has finished fourth or better in six of eight previous appearances.

While Tom Watson, a two-time winner this season, is among the missing, the 144-man field is a strong one. It includes all of the current Big Four title-holders, Seve Ballesteros of Spain (British Open), Hale Irwin (U.S. Open), David Graham of Australia (PGA), and Fuzzy Zoeller (Masters).

Other leading players include defending champion Larry Nelson, Hubert Green, Jerry Pate, Johnny Miller, Lou Graham, Lee Trevino and Dave Eichelberger, a winner last Sunday in the Bay Hill Classic.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by CBS.

Big E Scores Season High To Lead Bullets Rout Of Pistons

By The Associated Press

The Big E has rarely been bigger — or better — than he was Tuesday night.

The Big E, also known as Elvin Hayes, connected on 18 of 27 shots — including 12 straight at one stretch — and scored a season-high 42 points to lead the surging Washington Bullets to a 135-107 rout of the Detroit Pistons.

For good measure, Hayes grabbed 10 rebounds and handed out three assists. The Bullets have won six of their last seven games to move into the Eastern Conference playoff picture. The triumph moved them ahead of Indiana in the race for the final playoff spot.

The Pistons, meanwhile, have lost 15 of their last 16 games and have a road record of 3-31.

In other National Basketball Association games, the Boston Celtics crushed the San Antonio Spurs 137-108, the Houston Rockets downed the Atlanta Hawks 93-83, the Los Angeles Lakers shaded the Milwaukee Bucks 127-124, the Seattle SuperSonics nipped the Portland Trail Blazers 98-97, the New Jersey Nets defeated the Indiana Pacers 114-109, the San Diego Clippers trimmed the Cleveland Cavaliers 116-105 and the Golden State Warriors beat the Utah Jazz 111-105.

Celtics 137, Spurs 108

Larry Bird led Boston in scoring as the Celtics routed the slumping Spurs for their seventh consecutive victory. It was the sixth consecutive loss for the Spurs — worst losing streak since they joined the NBA in 1976 — who fired Coach Doug Moe two games ago.

Rockets 93, Hawks 83

Moses Malone scored 28 points, including a 10-foot jumper that gave Houston the lead, as Atlanta's magic number to clinch the Central Division crown remained at eight. The Rockets built a 66-53 lead before the Hawks scored 13 straight points, eight by John Drew, for a tie. Malone's jump shot then put the Rockets ahead to stay.

Lakers 127, Bucks 124

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar hit two crucial free throws in the final seconds and combined with Jamaal Wilkes for 52 points as the Lakers snapped Milwaukee's five-game winning streak. Milwaukee pulled within 125-124 with nine seconds to go but Dave Meyers fouled Abdul-Jabbar, who made the final two of his 28 points. Wilkes had 24.

SuperSonics 98, Trail Blazers 97

Seattle guards Dennis Johnson and Gus Williams outscored Portland guards Dave Twardzik and Ron Brewer 46-10. The loss dropped the Blazers into a virtual tie with San Diego for the last Western Conference playoff berth. Dennis Johnson led the way with 32 points for Seattle.

Nets 114, Pacers 109

Maurice Lucas scored 25 points as New Jersey handed the Pacers their fifth straight loss, severely hurting their playoff hopes. The setback dropped the Pacers behind Washington in the playoff race. Indiana now has the eighth-best record in the Eastern Conference, three games out of the sixth and final playoff spot.

Clippers 116, Cavaliers 105

Lloyd Free scored 10 points in the third quarter and Brian

Taylor added nine to rally San Diego. Swen Nater hauled in 19 rebounds and scored 13 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter to preserve the Clippers' fifth victory in their last 20 games. Free led the scoring with 24 points and Freeman Williams came off the bench to score 21.

Warriors 111, Jazz 105

Robert Parish paced the Warriors with 26 points, Sonny Park added 24 and John Lucas scored five key points in 15 seconds. Utah was ahead 105-102 with 1½ minutes left but Lucas hit a three-point basket, then stole the ball for a layup that put the Warriors on top. Utah's Adrian Dantley led all scorers with 39 points.

Players Call For Strike

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — "The stakes are big," said a haggard, disheveled Marvin Miller, sending a puff of cigarette smoke drifting lazily toward the ceiling.

Miller is a labor negotiator, one of the best. Once he took on U.S. Steel. Now he is wielding the cudgel for the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Across the table is Ray Grebey. He's no novice in this fierce give-and-take business himself. Once he represented another industrial giant, General Electric. Now his client is baseball.

It's not nuts and bolts, boiling cauldrons and kitchen appliances they're haggling over. It's peanuts, popcorn and "get your cold beer here," not to mention the distribution of tens of millions of dollars in salaries.

It's a question of whether America's favorite pastime starts on schedule the second week of April, or never.

The situation is grim.

"They want to take away the gains players have made since free agency," says Miller, referring to the club owners. "They figure on saving $11 million or $12 million a year if they could push through their wage schedule. The money they could save changing the compensation rule would be enormous."

In a smoke-filled room in a Tampa motel Tuesday, the players' executive committee passed a resolution calling for a strike vote if an agreement is not reached by April 1.

Miller today launched a tour of the various camps to get approval. "The players are 100 percent solid behind this action," Miller said. "We have had 23 negotiating sessions in 16 weeks with no significant progress."

Right now, it's about 60-40 that there will be a strike.

The last time the players struck was 1972. They missed 13 days. Eighty-six games were lost, resulting in an abbreviated season.

Sports In Brief

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Jimmy Connors breezed to a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Bjorn Borg and Italy's Adriano Panatta upset Vitas Gerulaitis 6-4, 6-4 in the opening matches of the $120,000 Copenhagen Cup.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Third-seeded Eddie Dibbs defeated Sherwood Stewart 7-6, 4-6, 6-4 in the first round of a $125,000 tennis tournament.

Earlier, No. 2 seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia ousted Billy Martin 6-2, 6-1. No. 5 John Sadri eliminated Tomas Smid of Czechoslovakia 6-4, 6-4. Ferdi Taygan defeated Hank Pfister 6-4, 6-4, and Andrew Pattison downed Dick Stockton 6-2, 6-4.

DALLAS (AP) — South African Greer Stevens stunned third-seeded Billie Jean King 6-4, 3-6, 7-6 and top-seeded Martina Navratilova whipped Beth Norton 6-1, 6-4 in the opening round of a $150,000 women's professional tennis tournament.

In other matches, South Africa's Yvonne Vermaak outlasted Virginia Ruzici of Romania 6-7, 7-6, 7-6; Australia's Wendy Turnbull turned back Peanut Louie 6-1, 6-1, and Pam Shriver surprised Andrea Jaeger 6-1, 6-0.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The executive board of baseball's players association authorized striking the opening of the 1980 season if a new labor contract is not reached with major league club owners.

The action was disclosed after a nearly five-hour meeting between the executive board and its director, Marvin Miller.

Miller said the strike action, if ratified by the players, would be taken on or after April 1. The season is scheduled to open April 9.

FOOTBALL OAKLAND (AP) — The NFL and 27 of its teams — all except the Oakland Raiders — filed a suit against the Raiders seeking to stop the team from moving to Los Angeles without NFL approval.

It was the latest of many legal maneuvers involving the Raiders, whose lease at the Oakland Coliseum has expired. Raiders' managing general partner Al Davis has signed a memorandum of agreement with the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum to play there this year.

BASKETBALL NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Bird, who led the Boston Celtics to nine victories in 11 games in February despite the loss of Dave Cowens to an injury, was named the NBA's Player of the Month for February.

Bird averaged 26.8 points, 10.6 rebounds and five assists per game during the month. In a losing effort against Phoenix on Feb. 13, he scored 45 points — the most points for an NBA rookie since Buffalo's Bob Adoos also scored 45 against Houston on March 28, 1973.

SKIING LAKE LOUISE, Alberta (AP) — Italy's Herbert Plank raced to an easy victory in the final World Cup downhill race of the season.

Switzerland's Peter Mueller, who finished 14th, was declared the overall World Cup downhill champion for the year with 96 points.

Plank was timed in one minute, 50.47 seconds, .77 seconds ahead of Harti Weirather of Austria.

Deaths & Funerals

Leon Darnell Dies Tuesday With Rites Planned Thursday

Leon (Buster) Darnell, 72, died Tuesday at 4:30 a.m. at the Community Hospital, Mayfield. A retired paper hanger, he was a resident of 1014 South Tenth Street, Mayfield.

Mr. Darnell is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ernie Tabers Darnell; two daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Sue Lawson, Calvert City, and Mrs. Malinda Mays, Wingo; one son, Bobby Darnell, Mayfield Route 4.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Grace Chapman and Mrs. Stanley Smith, and two brothers, Herman and Gaylon Darnell, all of Mayfield; five grandchildren; one great grandchild.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the chapel of the Byrn Funeral Home, Mayfield, with the Rev. Willard Watson and the Rev. Gayle Barnes officiating. Burial will follow in the Highland Park Cemetery, Mayfield.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Rites On Thursday For Mrs. Williams

Services for Mrs. Helen Williams of 1708 Olive Street, Murray, will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Martin Mattingly officiating.

Palbearers will be Alvin Farris, Prentice Dunn, Larry Dunn, Noble Wilson, and Hugh Waldrop. Burial will follow in the Murray Memorial Gardens.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 5 p.m. today (Wednesday).

Mrs. Williams, 64, died Monday at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. A member of the St. Leo's Catholic Church, she was born in Louisville in October 1915 to the late Morris Martin and Elizabeth Ackerman Martin.

The Murray woman is survived by one son, Braxton Williams, 1708 Olive Street, Murray.

Mrs. Myrtie Ellis' Rites Are Today

The funeral for Mrs. Myrtie Ellis of Murray Route 6 is being held today at 2 p.m. at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Gerald Owen officiating and the Sugar Creek Singers providing the music.

Palbearers are Howard Morgan, Buel Morgan, Robert Burken, Andy Burken, Carlos Elkins, and Tommy Elkins. Burial will follow in the Curd Cemetery.

Mrs. Ellis, 83, died Tuesday at 2:35 a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Russell's Chapel United Methodist Church.

One son, Talmadge Sims, and his wife, Hester Morgan, Sims, of Murray Route 6 survive.

Ernest White Dies Tuesday; Funeral To Be On Thursday

Ernest White of Murray Route 3 was pronounced dead on arrival at 12:39 p.m. Tuesday at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. He had been stricken ill at his home.

Mr. White, 59, was self employed as an electrician, and was a member of the New Concord Pentecostal Church. Born March 9, 1920, in Mississippi, he was the son of the late Nathaniel White and Flossie Tidwell White.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Virginia White; four daughters—Mrs. Sandy Stepp and Mrs. Judy Cooper, Marietta, Ga.; Mrs. Laura Ann Sepulveda, Chicago, Ill.; and Mrs. Shelby Foster, Noxapater, Miss.; three sons—Nathan White, Murray Route 3, Larry White, Chicago, Ill., and Bobby Joe White, Woodstock, Ga.

Mr. White is also survived by three sisters—Mrs. Thelma Thomas, Water Valley, Miss.; Mrs. Lorene Moore, Crowder, Miss.; and Mrs. Joyce Faulkner, Indianola, Miss.; three brothers—Bob White, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; J. T. White, Morgan, Utah; and Russell White, Lambert, Miss.; two half brothers, S. S. Green and B. S. Green, Water Valley, Miss.

The funeral has been scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home. Burial will follow in the Piquah Cemetery, Latham, Tenn.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. today (Wednesday).

BLACK HISTORY QUEEN — Kim Tharpe, second from right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tharpe, was crowned queen of Black History Week at Murray High School in ceremonies Thursday. Miss Tharpe's escort was Walter Payne. She was crowned by last year's queen, Karlesta Catlett, who was escorted by Darwin Bumphis. Miss Tharpe's attendants were Rochea Perry, left, escorted by David McCuiston; Lisa Johnson, second from left, escorted by Eugene Reed; and Linda Johnson, right, escorted by Tony Parham. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Perry are Rochea's parents, while Mr. and Mrs. Perry T. Johnson are the parents of Lisa and Linda. The Rev. C. E. Timberlake led in prayer, and Wynetta Foster read a poem. Michelle McGehee was master of ceremonies for the program which featured Dennis Jackson of the Paducah City Schools as speaker. Jackson, a graduate of Murray's Douglass High School, was the first black athlete at Murray State University.

Sentencing Set For Sebree Man Charged With Murder

DIXON, Ky. (AP) — Sentencing is scheduled Monday for Gary Lee Brooks, an unemployed rural Sebree resident who has pleaded guilty to charges of first degree murder, kidnapping and robbery in connection with the shooting death of a grocery store clerk last October.

Brooks, 26, entered the plea Tuesday, shortly before a Webster Circuit Court hearing on a defense motion to throw out Brooks' previous confession. He had been charged with the October 1979 death of Kathy Short, a 20-year-old clerk at the Kwik-Pik store in Sebree.

After the plea was accepted by Circuit Judge Will Tom Wathen, the prosecution recommended that Brooks be given life sentences on the murder and kidnapping charges and 20 years on the robbery charges. The prosecution asked that those sentences be served concurrently.

Steve Robey, as associated of Brooks' attorney, public defender Gene Dauer, said that Brooks apparently entered the guilty pleas in hopes of receiving a lighter sentence. He could have been sentenced to death on the murder charge, but Robey said that Brooks would be eligible for parole in six years if he received the recommended sentences.

The guilty pleas came after Dauer had said he had all but ruled out trying for a change of venue for Brooks.

Late last year, Dauer failed in his attempt to have Brooks' preliminary hearing closed to the news media and public. In his arguments to close the hearing, Dauer had claimed that further coverage would have the effect of "inflaming passion" in Webster County, making it impossible for Brooks to receive a fair trial.

Brooks has been convicted in the press, he argued.

But Dauer said Monday that he had changed his mind about Brooks' charges for acquittal in Webster County, a county that Dauer said has a poor record of convicting people accused of murder.

"Webster County has a history of acquitting murder defendants," he said. He said he has been told that "if I lose this case, I'll be the first one to lose a murder conviction" in the county.

The trial had been scheduled to begin Monday in Webster Circuit Court.

Investigation Continues Into Army Helicopter Crash Near Hopkinsville

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An investigation continued today into the crash of an Army medical helicopter, in which a female member of a medical team was killed and three male crewmen were injured.

Major Larry Bates, public information officer at Fort Campbell, said that the crew aboard the medical helicopter had delivered blood from Nashville to a hospital in Madisonville, Ky., and was returning to Fort Campbell at the time of Tuesday's crash.

An official cause of the crash had not been determined, but witnesses reported that the helicopter apparently struck a power line near the highway.

Bates said that the identity of the victim was being withheld pending notification of next of kin. Medical personnel at the scene of the crash, however, confirmed that the victim was female.

Officials identified the injured, all members of the 326th Medical Evacuation unit at Fort Campbell, as Michael Ransom, 21, Edward Funnell, 20, and Jeffrey Norton, 30.

The injured were taken to Jenny Stuart Hospital in Hopkinsville and were later transferred to a hospital at Fort Campbell, Bates said. Hospital sources said that Ransom suffered a broken leg, while Funnell had chest injuries and Norton dislocated a hand.

Kentucky State Police at Madisonville reported that the helicopter went down on the Pennyville Parkway about five miles north of Hopkinsville.

A replica of the Liberty Bell, made entirely of tobacco, has been donated to the Tobacco History Corporation in Durham, N.C., by R.J. Reynolds Tobacco. The bell is a mate to one presented by the company to the Smithsonian Institution for its 1976 Bicentennial exhibition. The replica contains enough tobacco to manufacture over 150,000 Winston cigarettes.

Among Artifacts In Museum

Tobacco Liberty Bell Takes Its Place

DURHAM, N.C. — A Liberty Bell made of more than 300 pounds of tobacco has taken its place among the many other tobacco artifacts at the Tobacco History Corporation museum here.

The museum is part of the Duke Homestead State Historical site — former home of Washington Duke, who is often credited with founding the modern North Carolina tobacco industry. World-renowned Duke University also bears his name.

Donated by Winston-Salem, N.C.-based R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., the bell is meant to signify tobacco's importance in North Carolina and American history. It is a duplicate of one given to the Smithsonian Institution by Reynolds Tobacco in 1976 as part of the nation's Bicentennial celebration.

Presentation of the bell to the North Carolina museum follows a $5,000 contribution from R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc.

"Tobacco has played an important role in the history of North Carolina and the entire nation," said Reynolds Tobacco Executive Vice President George B. Whitaker, during presentation ceremonies. "It was used as money during the country's colonial period and exported to France to repay Revolutionary War debt."

Whitaker also noted that tobacco plays a vital role in the present-day economy of the U.S.

"Each year, tobacco contributes $50 billion to the nation's economy," he said. "It generates more than $6 billion annually in tax revenues."

The Reynolds donation goes toward a current $500,000 fund drive being conducted by the Tobacco History Corporation for a variety of projects, including expansion of its present facility. The organization was founded in 1972 as a showplace of tobacco history, receiving a $15,000 donation from R.J. Reynolds at that time.

"Since then, thousands of tourists from throughout the U.S. and the world have viewed the worthwhile contributions of tobacco and its rich heritage in this country," said Whitaker.

The Liberty Bell will be added to the museum's growing number of displays that document tobacco history. The bell was hand-made in R.J. Reynolds' graphic arts unit, requiring almost 200 hours to complete. Its 300 pounds of tobacco, enough to manufacture 150,000 Winston cigarettes, is held together by more than 22 gallons of marine-quality polyester resin. Worth nearly $5,000, the tobacco bell stands more than three feet high and measures in excess of nine feet around its base. It features every detail of the authentic Liberty Bell, including both the crack and the raised inscription (Leviticus 25:10) around the top.

Special Enrichment Programs Offered By Mini University

Mini-University 1980 will mark the fourth consecutive year that elementary students in the two local school systems will have the opportunity to participate in a special enrichment program involving the study of subjects not offered in their schools.

Sponsored by the Center for Innovation and Development in the College of Human Development and Learning at Murray State University, the program this year is designed for sixth-grade students in the Murray, Independent and Calloway County school systems.

Jean Hudder, program coordinator, said Saturday sessions are scheduled March 2 and 29 and April 19 and 26 from 9 to 11 a.m. Enrollment is set for the week of March 3.

"The spring breaks of the university and the public school systems make the split schedule necessary," she explained.

Mrs. Hudder said any sixth grader in the Murray or Calloway County schools who wishes to participate may sign up for the course, but she added that they will be asked "to sign a contract of cooperation."

"Mini-University is a cooperative venture that unites the university, the public schools, and the community in formulating an educational exercise to challenge," Mrs. Hudder pointed out.

The university provides the facilities and part of the staff, the schools make buses available for transporting students to the campus, and the community-at-large shares persons with expertise in several fields.

More than 200 students expressed their intent to attend Mini-University when queried with an interest inventory about their preferences for classes. Among the subjects named by students were 11 favorites for which instructors have been named.

Subjects and instructors are:

Archaeology, David Foley, Calloway County teacher; astronomy, Dr. Bill Burnley, MSU faculty member; biology (aquatic), Dr. Don Johnson, MSU faculty member and director of the Hancock Biological Station; cooking, Sally Duford, MSU faculty member, and Diana Rinard, graduate assistant in home economics; drama, Richard Valentine, director of the Community Theatre and Young Actors Guild; German, Dr. Milton Grimes, Murray State faculty member, and Sondra Hoover, graduate assistant in German.

Indian Culture, Debra Smith, Murray State student; pet care, Mary Belle Adelman, certified instructor of dog obedience, and Carol Barrett, Calloway County Humane Society; physical fitness (aerobics), Dr. Gerald Hudder, Murray State faculty member; rappelling, Dr. Tom Darnon, Murray State faculty member; and weaving-spinning, Sallie Guy, weaver-spinner artist from Murray.

Details about scheduled field trips will be released at a later date.

British novelist Aldous Huxley worked on the scripts of a number of movies, including the 1940 version of "Pride and Prejudice."

MSU History Teacher Writes On Kohn For Biography Supplement

Dr. Ken Wolf, an associate professor of history at Murray State University, has written a biography of Hans Kohn appearing in the "International Encyclopedia of Social Sciences, Biographical Supplement," published in late 1979 by Macmillan Press.

Kohn, a pioneering student of nationalism and an influential American historian, authored or edited 50 books on this subject before his death in 1971.

Wolf, who has taught at Murray State since 1969, earned his doctoral degree in European history from the University of Notre Dame in 1972 with a dissertation that studied the intellectual development of Hans Kohn from an active Zionist student in Prague in the pre-World War I years to a major opinion-molder after his move to the United States in 1934.

An earlier article by Wolf, "Hans Kohn's Liberal Nationalism: The Historian as Prophet," appeared in the "Journal of the History of Ideas" in 1976.

It was on the strength of that essay that he was invited to contribute to the prestigious "Encyclopedia of Social Science Supplement." Wolf is now working on a comparative study of nationalism in the modern world.

Glen Hendren Named Easter Seal Chairman

Glen Hendren of Murray has been named chairman of the 1980 Easter Seal campaign for crippled children in Calloway County.

The announcement was made by Dr. Harvey Sloane, Louisville, state campaign chairman. The annual appeal will be conducted from March 1 through April 6, Easter Sunday.

Contributions to the annual appeal will be used by the Kentucky Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults to provide rehabilitation services for physically handicapped Kentuckians.

Easter Seal centers operated by the society include Cardinal Hill Hospital, Lexington; West Kentucky Easter Seal Center, Paducah; Northern Kentucky Easter Seal Center, Covington; the Easter Seal Hearing and Speech Center, Louisville; Geiger Easter Seal Center, Ashland; and Camp Kysoc, Carrollton; and Camp Green Shores, McDaniels.

The Kentucky Society also supports the National Easter Seal Research Foundation. Dr. Sloane reported. More than 400 grants have been made by the foundation for research investigating the causes and means of preventing crippling and for improving rehabilitation techniques.

"Crippled children are the reason for Easter Seals. We are hopeful that they will prompt generous giving for crippled children in keeping with the Easter tradition," he continued.

The Kentucky Easter Seal Society needs the support of people in counties all over the state because its services are statewide.

Well-Known Performers To Play At Festival

Three well-known performers will be among the guests artists for the seventh annual Jazz Festival at Murray State University April 18-19.

Participating in the festival, which will include improvisation clinics and listening sessions, will be saxophonist Jamey Aebersold, cellist David Baker, and pianist David Haerle.

Among the other events in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center will be performances by guest high school and college jazz ensembles and concerts by Murray State faculty and students.

The festival will culminate in a concert at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 19, in Lovett Auditorium featuring the guest artists and select Murray State musicians.

Tickets for the concert will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Registration for all festival events is $6 per person. Murray State students may attend at no charge.

For more information or to make arrangements for registration, interested persons may write, visit or call; Department of Music, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071, telephone (502) 762-4151.

Parker Ready To Get Program Underway

Albert Parker, supervisor of the Senior Citizens Garden, said he is getting ready to get the program underway for this year. He said he has one more plot available and any senior citizen interested in participating in the program is asked to call Parker at 753-5330.

The garden program committee has also announced that a drive is underway to collect any old lawn mowers, worn out garden tools, etc., that anyone desires to give away. Persons may call Mr. Parker concerning any item they have to donate.

Volunteer drivers are needed for the Senior Citizens Home Delivered Meal program. Vehicles are provided and would be approximately two hours each day from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For more information regarding volunteering one or more days for the meal program call 753-0929, the office of the Senior Citizens, 106 North Fourth Street, Murray.

Young Democrats To Honor Mills At Convention

FRANKFORT — Kentucky Young Democrat State President Mickey McGuire of Grayson has announced that the Young Democrats will honor Don Mills at their 1980 reunion banquet at the Hyatt Regency Lexington on March 1.

Mills, currently chief administrative assistant to Gov. John Y. Brown Jr., was state president of the Young Democrats in 1969. A former editor of the Lexington Herald, Mills served as press secretary to former Gov. Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt. Breathitt also served as state president of the Young Democrats. Mills is rumored to be a possible candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District.

McGuire pointed out that the Kentucky Young Democrats, now in its 51st year as the official youth arm of the Democratic Party, has developed workers and leaders for the party and prepared its members for public service. "Don Mills, while serving as a government official and as a member of the press, has exemplified the ideals of the Young Democrats. This is an opportunity for us to salute Don on his accomplishments," McGuire stated.

The national president of the Young Democrats, Dale Emmons, will serve as master of ceremonies at the event. Emmons is the first Kentuckian to hold the national presidency.

The Young Democrat Reunion is an annual event bringing together present and past members of the group for an evening of reminiscing. The event is open to the public. For ticket information contact the Young Democrat office at Kentucky Democratic Headquarters in Frankfort, (502) 695-4828.

Theme Chosen For Weights, Measures Week

For the second straight year, "Weights and Measures Is Consumer Protection" has been chosen as the theme for the 1980 observance of National Weights and Measures Week March 1-7, it was announced by Red Hale, of the Kentucky Department of Weights and Measures.

The special annual observance recognizes the important role of state, county, and city officials throughout the United States in assuring accuracy in all commercial weights and measures transactions, Hale said.

"Consumers are paying a large share of the high cost of inflation, which makes the theme of Weights and Measures Week especially appropriate," said Hale.

"It is our job to see that consumers get the weight they pay for in the supermarket, just as it is our job to protect merchants and food processors against inaccurate weights and measures. Everyone is entitled to equity in the marketplace."

Richard Tidwell Speaks On Research At Seminar

Dr. Richard Tidwell spoke on his research in anticoagulate therapy at a seminar Feb. 26 in Boston sponsored by the Massachusetts Center for Blood Research and the northeast section of the American Red Cross.

The subject is a culmination of Tidwell's work over the past five years at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Tidwell has authored 24 publications in several medical and chemical journals.

A graduate of Murray State University, Tidwell also gave his report at the 7th Annual International Congress on Thrombosis and Hemostasis last July in London.

Holder of a doctor of philosophy from the University of Tennessee, Tidwell is the son of Margaret Tidwell of Murray and the late Robert Tidwell. He is married to the former Mary Kathryn Youngerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Youngerman of Murray.

The Tidwells have two children, Lisa, 9, and Margot, 6 weeks.

Magic Silver Show Now Showing At MSU

By Philip Deaver
Murray State University

In this year's Magic Silver Show, an exhibit of photographic art now showing in the Clara M. Eagle Gallery, there is a certain photograph which captures the essence of and closes the book (for me) on the argument of photography as art. Because photography is like no other art form, it has sometimes been difficult to understand as art.

The viewer seems to do a great deal of the creating, through the association of his own experience with the subject matter of the picture; the images in many pictures are special specifically on the merits of the subject matter and, simplistically, many critics say that the only art in those pictures is the art of having been there with camera; — photography, with the capability of being very rough-and-tumble, continues to be judged by traditional notions of painting and sculpture — elegance and order, composition, style and technical facility.

The certain photograph I'm referring to in the present exhibit is Lisa Morpheus' "Dancing Lessons," in which in the quiet of a sunny afternoon a mother and her young daughter are caught dancing in the privacy of home. The lyrical movement of the picture, the fullness of its suggestion, and the gentle color all work together to evoke a very adult and happy view of the relationship between these two people. Hung inauspiciously among the other photographs in the gallery, this one is still with you when you get on the elevator to leave. While I don't believe photography needs to be held to traditional notions of art to be art, this photograph is a composition full of elegance and order. Yet beyond tradition, this single instant of frozen light records a thousand details of narrative that are fascinating because the details are not representations placed there by the artist but are simply reality as we know it.

This year's exhibition (the Magic Silver Show) is an annual photographic contest now in its fifth year) remains politically quiet. In his statement concerning the show, Emmett Gowan surmised that many of the entries are the work of students, and this would explain the political silence. Gowan, this year's juror and himself a nationally celebrated photographic artist now teaching at Princeton University, was the creative vision for the task of selecting two hundred photographs to be exhibited from among 1,800 entries. Professor Michael Johnson, of the Murray State University Art Department, has directed all five years of the Magic Silver Show contest and exhibit.

If the exhibit lacks an active political interest, it has improved over last year in that it has a sense of humor. Marsha Polier's "Hairflip No. 4" satirizes the pastoral paintings of workers in the field which seemed to always hang on the dining-room walls of country homes. And Rebecca Busselle's series of four pictures suggesting Freudian fears about Freud is a sophisticated joke on traditional psychiatry "couches" in the medium of photography.

Another emphasis which can be found in the exhibit is the thrust of attention on private life, private moments, random scenes in the personal experience of the artist. The artist's personal impressions seem to dominate everywhere, and in a uniquely photographic way. This emphasis is epitomized in a series of pictures by Reed Estabrook — particularly his "Not Me" and his "Educational Dilemma" in which (with harsh and raggedy dispatch) he crudely cuts away a section of his pictures, imposing a void which creates mystery and a real fascination with the story that is told in the remaining image fragment. He creates a collage by omission — the effect comes from a kind of dialogue between the section crudely cut away and the detail in what remains. Suddenly, with the holes slashed in them, Estabrook's images cease to be merely pictures of a moment and become instead real artifacts of an emotion-filled human event.

Trademarks of the great photographers are their subjects and their attitudes about their subjects — this translates into something like "style" in painting. Yet there is something more happening in a photograph. In Bill DePalma's "views of New Orleans streetlife," particularly his "Untitled No. 1" and "Untitled No. 5," cold fearsome reality stares back at you. Whether the picture is of a prostitute high-kicking across a street under the gaze of passers-by, not all disapproving — or of a muggy precinct station on the poor side of town, the slash of reality makes you forget everything else, draws you in with details, the chipping wooden doors, the puzzlement in the faces — these aren't creations of the artist; his art is the capturing of real details and showing in frozen moment the ironies and complexities that are always washing around us unnoticed.

Then there is the nostalgia of Marie Berstelt's "Girls," a hand-tinted, coyly titled photograph of two girls in the hallway of an old school. Again, the details: It is one of the real schools, from the old days, with oak door jams, porcelain water-fountains, dark steel lockers oppressing the space and light, afternoon yellow gleaming into the hallways through transoms above classroom doors. The moment caught is commonplace but poignant — the two girls standing there, one waiting for the other, short frilly dresses, going home. The suggestion is of simpler days in that most common of commonground, the grammar school. The viewer can realize no detail in this picture without an absorbing rush of memory.

The exhibit, as an expression of the artistic taste of the juror, is difficult to decode. Some selections seem arbitrary, and this confuses the matter — if there is an over-all vision, it is elusive. Yet, among the 200 photographs there is something to please everyone. The technical craft of the tableaux, still-lives, and set-up pictures is amazing, and the street pictures sing with fresh and lyrical detail.

The Magic Silver Show remains in the Clara M. Eagle Gallery through March 2. I recommend that you use this exhibit for an hour of quiet escape. Whether you are interested in photography as art or you're interested in picture-taking as a technical skill, you can't help but be startled, amazed, and profoundly moved by some of the images in the exhibit.

Court System Speakers Available Through Public Advocacy Office

FRANKFORT, Ky. — School, civic, legal and advocacy groups interested in learning more about the court system, criminal justice system and individuals' rights under the law can schedule speakers from the State Office for Public Advocacy.

The Office for Public Advocacy has established a speakers bureau to serve as a resource to schools and interested groups, according to Jack Farley, director of the office.

The Office for Public Advocacy is responsible for protecting the rights of indigent individuals charged with crimes, persons facing involuntary mental commitment and persons with developmental disabilities.

The lawyers, psychologist and education specialists employed by the Office for Public Advocacy will be available to speak to groups and social studies, civic or government classes.

Farley and other staff members will be available for speaking engagements.

"We have created the speakers bureau to inform Kentucky citizens about how the courts work and what an individual's rights are," Farley said.

"Many Kentuckians don't fully understand the criminal justice system. We hope that by speaking to students and citizens we can improve their understanding of what happens to a person charged with a crime and how the criminal justice system affects their lives," he said.

"We also want to inform people about the protection and advocacy system for developmentally disabled persons," he added. "Everyone should know what his rights are and how to protect those rights."

Teachers and interested groups interested in arranging for a speaker can call toll free to the office. The number is 1-800-372-2988. Callers should leave their name, school or group, topic to be addressed and preferred time.

Call Century 21 Loretta Jobs Realtors about our VIP Referral Service...because changing homes is enough trauma by itself. In a word it's called adjustment. Moving from home to home and neighborhood to neighborhood.

After we sell your home, we pride ourselves on knowing the neighborhood that awaits you elsewhere. The schools, parks, shopping facilities. Now for the ingenious part...VIP Referral may also find a buyer for your present home from another city, then help that family adjust to your neighborhood. Sound familiar? It's the same thing we do for you someplace else. Call 753-1492 for helpful information on this service.
