Employment Expected To Reach 125 In 60 Days

New Factory Opens Doors

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Managing Editor

A new manufacturing concern, Landolt and Goldberg, Inc., opened its doors today in Murray with expectations of building its workforce to 125 persons over the next sixty days.

The partners in the firm, George Landolt, Michael Goldberg and James Johnson, have been working on the project since February and, according to Goldberg, "we're ready to go right now."

The firm will be manufacturing women's designer jeans for worldwide distribution by nationally known brand name companies.

The corporation has purchased the building at 111 Poplar that formerly housed the Calloway Manufacturing Co.

The approximately 15 workers already hired by the firm began cutting material for jeans today.

"We'll begin sewing next week," Landolt said, adding that they anticipate increasing the workforce by about 20 to 25 employees each week over the next 60 days.

Landolt and Goldberg, Inc., is accepting applications for jobs at the company headquarters, 111 Poplar, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Johnson, general manager of the plant, said they plan to level off the workforce at about 125 this summer, smooth out their production, and hopefully begin an expansion program.

"In light of recent events locally, (the announcement that the Tappan Company plans to close its Murray plant which employs 750 persons), we congratulate the men who have formed Landolt and Goldberg," Walt Apperson, president of the Murray-Calloway County Chamber of Commerce said. "It is very encouraging, particularly with our nation's economy in its present state, to find someone willing to take a chance and put people back to work."

Apperson urged everyone in the community — local government, organizations and state-related agencies — to lend their support to the new job-producing firm in any way possible.

The three young businessmen see an unlimited potential for their endeavor.

"We have installed better and more efficient equipment (than was used by the former manufacturing plant at the site)," Landolt said, pointing out that the plant has been completely re-outfitted with all-new, modern sewing equipment.

Landolt is a Murray native and graduate of Murray High. He graduated from Vanderbilt University in the spring of 1978 and has been associated with Prudential Insurance and the Landolt Insurance Agency since returning to the community. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Landolt and the grandson of Mrs. George Hart and the late Mr. Hart, all of Murray.

Goldberg, from Houston, met Landolt at Vanderbilt where they were classmates. Goldberg graduated from the Nashville school in December of 1977. He came to Murray from Houston where he was vice president of a family-owned business, Goldberg Sand, Inc.

Landolt, president of the corporation, and Goldberg, will handle the administrative side of the business while Johnson will be responsible for the production and general management duties.

Johnson has had 15 years experience in plant engineering and management and moved to Murray from the East Tennessee town of Otawah. For the past 1½ years he has been production and quality control manager for Cacharel, a designer jeans manufacturer based in New York.

Johnson and his wife, Ruth, a nurse at Murray-Calloway County Hospital, have two children, Anne, 12, and Debra,

8. Landolt and Goldberg are both bachelors.

"We've been working from 6:30 a.m. to midnight for the past two weeks getting ready to go into production," Landolt said. A crew of supervisory and maintenance personnel have already begun work in the plant, coordinating the installation of equipment and receiving shipments of material that will be turned into jeans.

The three said they were discouraged when they first began working on setting up the new manufacturing concern.

"We spent 2½ months negotiating to purchase the building," Landolt said. "While we were working on getting the building the economic picture began to get worse making it harder for us to get financing for the equipment."

Landolt also said he was disappointed at what seemed like a "lack of interest" among some local and state officials.

"It was a real struggle to get where we are," Goldberg said, "but we're happy to be open and to have gotten this far. At times, it did not look like we'd make it."

But they have made it. And production should be picking up tremendously over the next several days as new employees are added to the payroll.

Board Signs Contracts For School, Garage

Contracts for the high school renovation and new school bus garage were signed Thursday night at a special Calloway County Board of Education meeting.

The high school contract went to Cleaver Construction Co., who made a base bid of $1,349,500. Edwin Cain Construction Co. was given the bus garage contract. Its bid was $230,875.

According to Dr. Jack Rose, superintendent, construction will include a new classroom addition on the east side of the building, a new industrial arts addition adjacent to the present shop and an enlargement of the present artroom.

Renovations and improvements in the building will include air conditioning, removing windows, lowering ceilings and installing acoustical panels and fluorescent lighting, Rose said.

The board's action follows the Calloway County Fiscal Court's approval of the school building bond issue Thursday morning. First reading of the bond ordinance, providing for the sale school building revenue bonds, was held April 15.

The low interest bid of 7.5698 percent by J.J.B. Hilliard and Lyons, Louisville, was accepted by the court. The firm will act as the bonding fiscal agent. Three other companies submitted bids.

Concerning the high school early graduation policy, a committee, consisting of the superintendent or his representative, the high school principal or his representative and two counselors, was designated to review the matter.

Donna Herndon, counselor in the Project COPE, presented a list of proposed regulations for the board to consider regarding some students graduating after three years of high school. No mid-year graduation for seniors is available.

The proposed regulations include students must maintain and honor roll average in grades 9-12, both parents must sign a statement that they support early graduation as the best interest of their child, at least one teacher and counselor recommendation must be submitted pertaining to the social and mental maturity level of the student.

AFTERMATH — Bricks and smoldering rubbish are all that remain to Lil' Vegas, on the court square, following a fire early Friday morning. According to fire chief Jackie Cooper, the fire department received the call about 1:42 a.m. However, flames already were shooting through the roof when the trucks arrived on the scene, he said. Cause of the incident has not yet been determined, Cooper said. He added the fire may have started in the back of the building. Don Senf, of the state arson investigators office, is investigating the fire, Cooper said. Backhoes currently are dragging out the rubbish to aid in determining the cause, Cooper said.

Downtown Business Destroyed

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Managing Editor

A fire destroyed the Lil Vegas game room on the south side of the Murray Court Square early this morning but quick and professional action by local firefighters prevented the blaze from spreading to adjoining structures which could have resulted in a loss into the millions of dollars for the several businesses in the block.

"We thought we were going to lose the whole world when we first got on the scene," Murray Fire Chief Jackie Cooper said today. Cooper said the fire had engulfed the back of the building and flames were breaking through the roof when the firefighters first got to the scene a couple of minutes after the call was turned in at 1:42 a.m.

Two Murray firefighters, Capt. Joe Albritten and Ricky Stewart, were injured when the front wall of the building caved in on the sidewalk. Both men were treated and released from the Murray-Calloway County Hospital and sent home to recuperate.

Initial Steps Toward Mobile Home Ordinance Taken By Council

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Managing Editor

The initial steps toward an ordinance that will give the city of Murray more control over the location of mobile homes in the city were taken by the Murray Common Council at its regular meeting last night.

Also at the meeting, the council approved on first reading an ordinance that will provide for a 90-day extension of two-hour free parking in the downtown business district.

The mobile home ordinance, which is expected to be presented to the council on first reading at its May 8 meeting, will prohibit the location of any new mobile homes within the city outside of approved mobile home parks.

The new ordinance "permits the continuation of existing mobile home parks," City Planner Steve Zea told the council. Zea said the ordinance will also permit individual mobile homes presently within the city to remain but they would be required to obtain a certificate of occupancy.

Zea said the 35 to 40 mobile homes on individual lots in the city at the present time must all be registered within 90 days of adoption of the ordinance and that the planner's office would assist the owners of those mobile homes in the no-charge registration process.

Zea said the individual mobile homes may remain on those sites and may be replaced with a newer mobile home under the ordinance but pointed out that any existing individual space not used for a period of one year or more would lose its permit for a mobile home.

The ordinance also requires all mobile home parks to conform with the provisions of KRS Chapter 219 as well as the provisions of the zoning ordinance.

The ordinance will also prohibit local municipal utility companies from providing service to individual mobile homes unless those mobile homes have a permit issued by the city planner's office.

Zea pointed out to the council that the reason for the new ordinance, which was unanimously recommended by the Murray Planning Commission, is that the ordinance adopted in 1969 has become unenforceable.

That ordinance required all individual mobile homes to be moved within three years of its adoption but the provision was not enforced at the time.

"With this ordinance we will make all (mobile homes) that have come in (to the city) illegally legal through nonconforming use," city attorney Bill Phillips said.

The downtown parking ordinance will become effective following approval on its second reading, expected May 8 and will be in force for 90 days. The ordinance will automatically expire at the end of the period.

It is anticipated that the council will, prior to the end of the 90 days, decide whether to adopt the two-hour free parking permanently, return to the use of parking meters, or opt for another method of parking space control in the

City School Attendance Is 10th In State

By DEBBIE N. LEE
Staff Writer

The percentage of attendance in the Murray Independent School System ranked 10th among 178 school districts in Kentucky for the 1978-79 school year according to a report given to school board members Thursday night.

Willie Jackson, director of pupil personnel, said that the city school system's 95.68 percent average daily attendance rating also placed it as seventh highest among independent school districts. The statewide average attendance for last year was 92.81 percent.

During the first seven months of this school year, local attendance has averaged 95.5 percent, Jackson said.

The director noted that while the system experienced a census drop of 11.4 percent over the past five years, the average daily attendance had dropped only 9.9 percent during that period. Meanwhile, the census drop was 4.2 percent statewide with a 4.9 percent average daily attendance drop.

The dropout rate last year for the city school system was 2.32 percent, which was less than half of the dropout rate for the state, 5.86. So far this year, Jackson said, the rate stands at 2.09 percent systemwide. The state defines a school "dropout" as a person 16 years of age or older who chooses not to remain in school, those who drop out of school for physical or mental reasons, those who are committed to institutions or reform schools, and those who marry and choose not to remain in school.

Jackson also reported that the school buses transport an average of 602 students daily, an increase of 48 students over last year. This number breaks down into 306 students transported to Carter and Robertson Elementary Schools, 195 to Murray Middle School and 101 to Murray High School. Seven buses are used daily by the system with two kept in reserve.

In the other evening's report, band directors James Light, James Wright and Richard McLendon told of the band program's activities during the past year.

Band members received the first draft of a handbook that will be given to band members during band camp prior to the opening of school. The handbook includes information about the program that will be of interest to members and their parents.

Kennedy Reports On Gasohol Plant

Don Kennedy, American Farmers Market Cooperative, Clarksville, Tenn. told local Rotarians Thursday that a plant to make gasohol would be located in Graves County and an official announcement of the construction and specific site would be made next Tuesday in Mayfield.

Kennedy, a native of Christian County said the plant could mean $300 million for the Jackson Purchase. PETCO of Cincinnati, Ohio will begin preliminary work on the plant and he said a timetable for construction would give completion by December of 1981.

The plant when completed would employ 85 people and use about 15-20 percent of the corn grown in the area for the ethanol. It would use about 3.8 million bushels of corn and make about 10 million gallons of fuel alcohol. Also the plant would use 2.4 tons per hour of high sulfur coal from West Kentucky to create energy for production. The byproducts of the operation would be sold.

"Gasohol is created from the starch in the corn and the protein is left intact, only concentrated," he said. The distilled grain would be dried and bagged for sale at approximately $140 per ton.

He said that avenues for financing the plant at approximately $20 million are being arranged and stock is being sold in the venture.

"It is time we started saying I can instead of Iran," he said.

HEALTH

She's depressed

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 19-year-old girl. About a year ago I lost my boyfriend. My whole life changed. I gained weight and my menstrual cycles became irregular. Now I can't lose the weight that I've gained and my menstrual cycles have never returned to normal. Also I'm sluggish and tired all the time. I'd like to lose weight and regain my energy but I just don't seem to be able to do it. I feel like I lost everything when I lost my boyfriend. I've tried diet pills and everything else and nothing helps. I've had complete medical examinations and they're all perfectly normal. My doctor put me on birth control pills to try to regulate my periods and I'm afraid that they will cause me to gain even more weight. I'm home almost every night because I lack friends and I'm basically a shy individual. Could you give me any advice for what I can do for my situation?

DEAR READER — Yours

is a fairly typical story, a young person who has been rejected in love. When you lose someone, either because the person withdraws or through death, it's not uncommon to grieve, or to state it another way, to become depressed.

Although you've told me about your weight gains and other changes you've experienced, the underlying problem is undoubtedly a mild depression. That's also why your energy has been sapped. A depressed person doesn't have energy.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 10-10, Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life, so you can have a better understanding of what has happened to you. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Of course, gaining weight is directly related to eating more calories than you need. Your desire to eat more calories is probably related to a mild depression. Rather than suggesting that you go on a rigorous diet — which you might overdo — I would like to see you get some professional help for your depressive reaction. A return to a normal life style might change your eating and exercising habits for you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any danger involved in removing a healthy mole? That is one that has not changed color or shape. It seems I've heard that it's better not to tamper with them unless they show signs of change. Can their removal lead to any dangerous condition?

DEAR READER — It's wise to surgically remove moles that are constantly being irritated. That includes moles that are on the face in a man who must shave or on the shoulder where it's being irritated by a strap. There's absolutely no danger involved in the surgical removal of such moles.

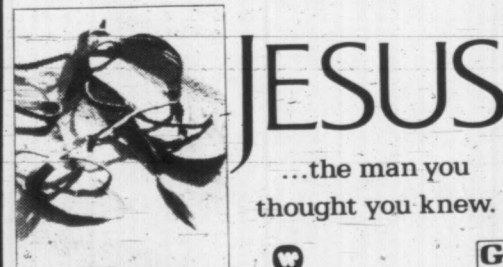

Removal prevents any changes that could lead to cancer.

Any mole that shows any change whatsoever in color, size or shape should be evaluated immediately and, in most instances, removed surgically. Such changes can be an indication of a malignant melanoma which is a severe form of cancer.

"A man sits as many risks as he runs." - Thoreau.

Today's declarer ran all the risks in his play of today's enticing game. He took every finesse at every opportunity, but he missed his best chance to ensure his game.

South would have been better off had he raised North's spades. First, North would most probably have made the game and, second, he wouldn't have had to search for flimsy reasons for failing in three no trump.

West's heart nine was ducked to East's queen and back came the club deuce. Declarer inserted his 10 and West won the jack. Another heart was ducked to East's king and another club finesse went to West's king. Four leads, four losing finesses and four tricks for the defense. There was no way to avoid the loss of a spade trick and the game was one down.

South had to find two excuses. One for not raising spades and the other for the way he played the hand. And North was buying neither of them. North's tempered comment was, "If you're going to steal my dummies, the least you can do is treat them well."

To increase his chances for success, South should refuse to finesse when East shifts to a club. Instead, he should win the ace and lead a diamond to dummy's king. Next a spade is ducked to West's queen, but now the defense is stymied.

West exits with a heart won by dummy's ace and declarer cashes his top tricks. The spades and diamonds behave nicely and

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

This Fantasy Needs Weaker Signal

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for 16 years. My problem is that since before we were married I've had a crush on my husband's older brother, whom I'll call Arnold. It seems ridiculous at my age (39) to admit this, but it's true. Arnold is 42 and seems happily married.

Arnold and I have the same interests, share the same opinions, and we seem to have much more in common than he has with his wife or I with his brother.

Not that it's important, but even members of the family have commented on how much alike Arnold and I are. I'm ashamed to say that I've often wondered what it would be like to go to bed with him.

How do I put this man out of my mind? And why do I still fantasize about him after so many years?

I love my husband, and at times feel that my feelings about his brother could be considered infidelity. It would be a great relief to have an answer soon.

OLD-TIME CRUSH

DEAR CRUSH: Fantasizing is a far cry from acting out, so don't feel guilty. Unless you're looking for trouble, avoid fantasizing in Arnold's presence. He could be operating on the same wavelength and pick up your signal.

DEAR ABBY: I have just graduated from college and am thinking about getting married. I have a girlfriend whom I love very much, but I am afraid if I marry her I will also be marrying her mother.

My girlfriend is 24, and she still tells her mother everything! When she's not at home with her mother, she calls her on the phone just to "talk" or "ask her advice." She has never made an important decision without consulting her mother first. She freely admits she doesn't have any self-confidence, and she needs her mother for support.

Abby, I can give her all the support she needs, and if she wants to talk things over, she has me to talk with. I think at 24, it's time she cut the cord between her and her mother. What do you think?

ME IN NYC

DEAR ME: I think you're right. If you marry this woman now you will be competing with her mother. So unless she changes her priorities, don't rush out to buy a ring - it might end up through your nose.

DEAR ABBY: You recently asked how the children should be named if both parents retained their own names. Both my wife and I kept our own names, and we agreed that our children will be named in this way: Girls will take their mother's last name, and boys will take my last name. This seems both fair and sensible.

We rejected using both our names, hyphenated, because it would be too cumbersome. And we didn't want to give our children a new name unrelated to ours.

M.H. IN IOWA CITY

DEAR M.H.: Your solution makes sense. Read on for another solution:

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are professional people, each with a separate identity, so we decided that I should keep my maiden name after we married. What to name our children was no problem. My last name was used as our children's middle name; their last name is the same as their father's.

Country's Public Payroll Shrinking

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The country's public payroll is getting smaller.

More and more cities and states are laying off workers or not filling vacancies as they try to balance budgets squeezed by rising costs and a drop in federal aid.

Large-scale firings are still the exception rather than the rule; Most areas report they are managing to cut employment by attrition instead. But government and union spokesmen say the situation will get worse as the economy weakens and as July 1—the start of the fiscal year in many places—approaches.

Federal statistics from the Census Bureau show that state and local employment grew at an annual rate of 4 percent in the years from 1967 to 1974. The rate of growth slowed to 2 percent and then, in 1977 and 1978, to 1 percent. After 1978, public employment started to drop. "It's not new," said Don Wasserman, director of research for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Virginia is typical. State employment had been growing by 5 percent a year until 1979 when Gov. John Dalton put a freeze on hiring. Dalton said job vacancies could be filled only if the agency involved could justify its action to him. About 115 jobs—roughly twenths of a percent of the state payroll—have been eliminated so far.

Gov. Hugh Gallen of New Hampshire has proposed a similar plan; vacant jobs could not be filled unless he and a fiscal committee from the Legislature agree. Gallen also wants to freeze upgrading of state employees from one pay level to the next.

Virginia and New Hampshire have avoided outright firings. Detroit hasn't. Almost 400 police already have been laid off. Mayor Coleman Young, facing a potential budget deficit of $56 million, wants to lay off an additional 703 members of the 4,600-member force—670 of on Sept. 5 and the rest on Jan. 1, 1981.

Officials in New York City say no layoffs are planned, but the city payroll has been reduced by attrition. Kansas City, Mo., is laying off 76 of its 5,110 employees, ranging from professional engineers to laborers. An additional 100 jobs will be left vacant. "We're trying to minimize layoffs and maximize transfers," said Tom Lewinsohn, the city's personnel director.

A major problem for many cities is the potential loss of federal revenue sharing funds. President Carter has proposed eliminating the $2.3 billion program under which the states got block grants, then passed about 44 percent of the money on to local governments.

Unemployment in the private sector also is putting pressure on public workers. Tax revenues—from individuals and companies—are going down at the same time demand for services is going up. "We anticipate that we'll see some (layoffs), particularly in local government as the tax bases start to shrink with the shutdown of certain companies," said Thomas E. Schneider, executive director of the Montana Public Employees Association.

Gene Denton, the city manager of Wichita, Kan., blamed a combination of inflation, federal cutbacks and salary increases for a hiring freeze instituted on April 1. Cleveland is cutting about 650 from its work force of 10,000; 150 people will have to go when federal funds for public service jobs run out.

Wasserman is critical of federal lawmakers. "The administration has planned and wants a recession," he said. "They have talked of a recession with glee. It's quite obvious that we fault the administration and many in Congress who have tried to outdo the administration in cutbacks."

Local spending lids as well as federal ones have caused the loss of jobs. In New Jersey, for example, municipal budgets cannot increase by more than 5 percent a year without specific voter approval. Jack Trafford, executive director of the New Jersey League of Municipalities, said the limit was reasonable when it was enacted in 1976, "but with the inflation rate the way it is today, that's not very much...Every year you cut and cut and cut, and now many municipalities are cut to the wire."

Newark, N.J., cut its work force by 12 percent, including 258 police officers; Paterson laid off 188 administrative employees in 1979 and city officials are talking about firing 48 firefighters and 47 policemen this year; Orange eliminated 80 workers. "The present belt tightening will get worse," said Trafford.

Out in Wyoming, Robert Cantine, executive director of that state's Association of Municipalities, was equally pessimistic. He said mass layoffs have been avoided so far—"More of what we have is doing it through attrition. It's less painful that way." But he also said that local governments got only a tenth of what they asked for from the state this year. "It's going to be extremely difficult next year," said Cantine. "I think it's going to get much worse."

Robert Mosher, the state comptroller in Iowa, said that a recently announced freeze on hiring will last "at least a year." Meanwhile, Mosher said, "We will not fill a position unless it has been deemed absolutely necessary to do so."

William Boys, the director of the Illinois Department of Personnel, said the state has not been forced to freeze hiring or lay off workers so far. But he said that unemployment in private industry is having its effect on the state all the same. "I have noticed a considerable increase in the number of people applying for state jobs," Boys said.

The Story Of Calloway County 1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

More than 50 car dealers organized an auction sale business during 1955, further enhancing the rapidly growing business structure of Calloway County: Murray Auto Auction held open house for public inspection April 17 of the modern facility located on 10 acres of land fronting Hazel-Murray highway. The 50X105 foot structure housed a restaurant, 15X30 foot office, and seating bleachers to accommodate as many as 100 buyers who bid on cars as they rolled down the line in harmony with the warbling auctioneer's chant. A typical weekly sale average grossed approximately $134,555, requiring the assistance of 22 employees with a monthly payroll of $2,412. In addition the 50 county dealers employed an estimated 250 workers on a payroll of $58,500, and purchased parts, gasoline, and other supplies at a cost of $52,810. The auto auction, strictly limited to dealer participation, was heralded as the ultimate success of the clean-up shop businesses scattered over the four corners of the entire county, providing efficient outlets for renovated cars.

One of the familiar faces in the used car business, Cross Spann, announced he had formed a new realty company with offices in the Purdom Building at the northwest corner of South 5th and Maple streets with his son, Joe Hal Spann. The firm was identified as the Cross Spann & Son Realty Company.

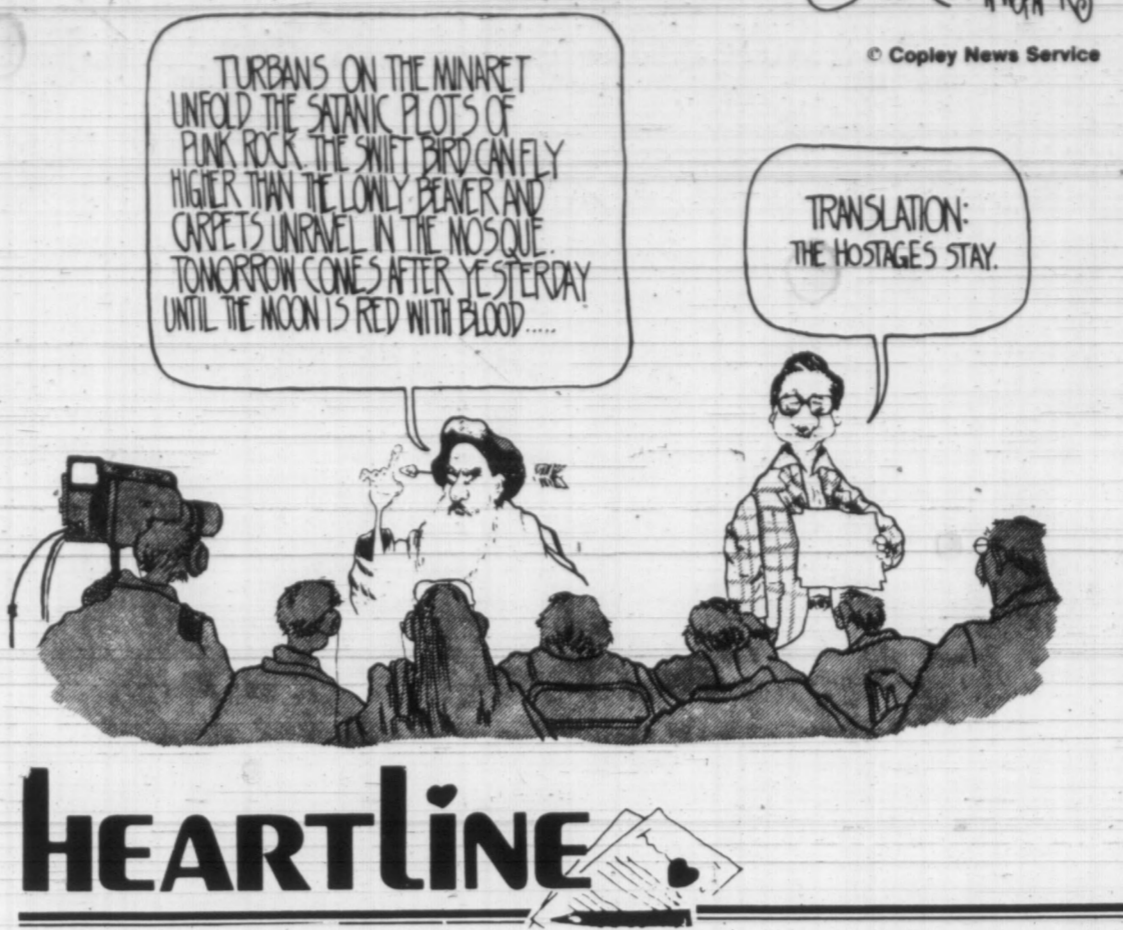

The medical profession in Calloway County gained a new member when Dr. Harry Wayne joined his father-in-law, Dr. A. D. Butterworth, at the Butterworth Clinic. Before coming to Murray Dr. Wayne had completed a tour of service with the U. S. Army and had briefly engaged in practice at Houston, Texas.

Joe Dick was appointed teller at the Bank of Murray to fill the vacancy created by the death of Hewlett Clark who had been associated with the bank for many years. Joe is the son of the respected Ewing Dicks of the New Concord community.

Vick Jeffrey, the jovial father of superb athletes, died Jan. 12, 1955, after an illness extending for several months. Vick, at 72, maintained the radiant personality that had been his special brand of warmth throughout life as a retail salesman. Too, he had enjoyed witnessing his sons' record-breaking feats on athletic fields across the breadth of the county. He was buried in the City Cemetery.

The state champion cherry pie baker in Calloway County was June Foy who early in the year, Jan. 10, 1955, was named "super cherry pie star" in Lexington. The National Cherry Growers Association had a finger in the pie, naturally, with intent to whet American appetites for the tart fruit.

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems—fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I called my Medicare carrier four times and asked them for the prevailing fee on oxygen. Each time I was told something different. The last time, I was told that this information was not available to the public. I am trying to get an idea of how much the maximum amount will be that Medicare will pay. I know that there is no guarantee that I will receive an amount equal to the prevailing fee. I am aware of the fact that I will probably receive less than the prevailing fee. However, I can't find out what the prevailing fee is. Does Medicare have to release this information? One person there said that this information was classified due to the privacy act. — A.R.

ANSWER: Heartline contacted the same Medicare carrier and at first was told that this information was not available. We then contacted the Health Care Finance Administration in Baltimore and were told that the carrier was wrong. We again contacted the same Medicare carrier and learned that this information was available to persons over 65 and physicians. We were also told that requests for prevailing fee information must be in writing to the carrier. Requests can only be honored in instances where an exact procedure code from the carrier's coding manual in use is identified in the written request. Finally, it would also be necessary to have some sort of short description concerning the prevailing fee which is being requested.

HEARTLINE: Is it true that H.U.D. (The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development) changed the maximum loan amounts for the purchase of mobile homes? — L.J.D.

ANSWER: Yes, H.U.D. recently issued a final rule increasing the loan amounts for the purchase of mobile homes. The new loan amounts were authorized by Section 313 of the Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1979. The new rule increases the maximum loan amount on a single-section mobile home from $16,000 to $18,000.

Multi- or double-section mobile home maximum loan amounts are increased from $24,000 to $27,000. The maximum maturity period for loans on both single and multi-section mobile homes remains the same.

HEARTLINE: Recently you mentioned that it was unlikely that a national health plan would be passed soon and you mentioned three plans. Can you give me a brief explanation of each plan? — J.B.

ANSWER: The Kennedy plan is the most expensive and comprehensive but probably also the least likely to be enacted. The Carter plan, and particularly the Long plan, both have, as a core, a limit as to what an individual or family must pay medically per year BEFORE the government takes over liability. In other words they are basically "catastrophic" plans (i.e. major medical insurance with a high "deductible"). Under Carter's proposal the dollar amount is $2,500; under Long's plan $3,500.

With respect to Medicare/Medicaid coverage of those over 65, the Long plan makes little change (although the $3,500 deductible applies to all ages), while the Kennedy and Carter plans - realizing that Medicare/Medicaid is currently covering about 40 percent of total (including eyeglasses, dental, foot care, etc.) health care costs - envision picking up more of the cost for the elderly.

Sunday School Lesson

By H.C. Chiles

Walking In The Light

First John was written to believers to teach them how to enter into fellowship with Christ, joy in Him, and likeness to Him. Fellowship with Christ, and with those who truly love and follow Him, constitutes one of the greatest and most glorious privileges which God gives His children.

1 John 1:5-10

If this glorious fellowship with God, Who is light and in Whom there is no darkness, is to be maintained and enjoyed, it is necessary for us to walk in the light. One cannot walk with God and in darkness at the same time. As we walk in the light, it reveals transgressions and causes us to seek for cleansing therefrom.

Some, who are not instructed properly in God's Word, frequently confuse sonship and fellowship. They do not understand that one may be a child of God without always enjoying good fellowship with Him, just as children may be out of fellowship with their earthly parents through disobedience, and yet they are still members of the family.

Having been saved by grace through faith in Christ, we enjoy fellowship with the Lord and with His followers. Few things, if any, bring more satisfying peace to the mind and soul than true Christian fellowship.

Sin is universal. God's Word plainly states that anyone who declares that he is without sin both deceives himself and proves that he is a liar. Not only is the one who denies that he sins mistaken, but he leads himself astray, or the erring is of his own doing. If anybody claims to be sinless, the only person he deceives is himself; everybody else who observes his conduct knows that he is a sinner. Instead of falsely claiming sinlessness, every Christian should confess his sins to God and ask Him for loving forgiveness and cleansing, which will be forthcoming.

1 John 4:1-6

During the life and ministry of John there were numerous false teachers, as is also true in our day, and many professing Christians were gullible enough to be misled by them. Then and now, Christians should be able to distinguish the difference between truth and error. John told his readers to put the spirits to the test and to ascertain whether or not they were of God. He admonished them not to accept the utterances merely because they claimed to be spiritual instructors. They should carefully test those who represent themselves as having come from God by scrutinizing what they teach about Christ. Their teachings are to be tested by the Word of God, and wherein they differ from it they are to be rejected.

John urged professing Christians to stop believing the teachings of those who denied either the humanity of Christ or the deity of Christ, and openly spoke against His virgin birth, atoning death, and physical resurrection. With the knowledge of God's Word and the leadership of the Holy Spirit, which are available to each Christian, there is no excuse for being led astray by false teachers. Nothing is more certain than the fact that God will ultimately vindicate His truth.

Bible Thought

Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord. Jeremiah 17:5

Any man who places his trust in another man can only have a man to look to when eternity comes. God is the God of eternity and He will look to Christ.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE HITTING? seems to be the subject of the conversation between Murray State baseball coach Johnny Reagan (left) and his centerfielder Tony Threatt. Threatt may have partially corrected the problem when he belted a solo home run in Murray's second-game win.

Murray State Rallies For OVC Split With Tech, Western Next

With a spot in the Ohio Valley Conference playoffs hanging in the balance, Murray State split a doubleheader at home against Tennessee Tech yesterday, losing the first game, 9-1, while coming back to take the second, 7-0.

Murray grabbed a short-lived 1-0 lead in the third inning of the first game when Doran Perdue reached first base on an error, went to second on a single by Ronnie Scheer and scored on Tom Fehn's double.

Tech came right back in the top of the fourth when David Wilkinson unleashed a grand slam home run after two of the runners had reached base on walks.

Murray pitcher Clay Vangilder was lifted in the next inning, when Tech scored two more runs for a 6-1 lead, but the move was too late. Vangilder had walked four batters in the 41-3 innings he pitched.

Murray's best chance at a big inning was foiled when Scheer sent a hard line drive to centerfield in the fourth inning with runners at first and second base. In the second game, everything that had gone wrong for Murray in the first game went right.

Following their past custom, Murray got the break on Tech in the first inning when it scored four times.

After Ronnie Scheer, Scott Tucker and Brad Taylor drew consecutive walks, Tim Hopkins came up to knock a double over center field and drive in all three runners. Hopkins then scored when Tony Threatt hit a grounder that was too hot for the Tech shortstop to handle.

In the second inning, Perdue singled, stole second and third bases and came home on an error by the catcher. The other run of the inning scored when Brad Taylor drove in Tom Fehn.

In the third-inning, Threatt capped Murray's scoring for the afternoon with a solo homerun, his sixth of the season.

The win was the third against two losses for pitcher Doug Rice, who struck out eight and walked three batters without allowing a runner past second base in seven innings of work.

The split left Murray in a position of needing a sweep against Western Kentucky, which plays a doubleheader here Sunday. Western won two games from Austin Peay yesterday to raise its OVC record to 14-2.

"We just didn't do anything (in the first game)," Murray State coach Johnny Reagan said. "We just haven't been hitting."

"With young kids, it's contagious. I hope we get our hitting eye back. I'm hoping they will bust out of their slump and score some runs."

"Western Kentucky had a real hot year," he added about the conference race. "They've never won the division since I've been here and they've only finished ahead of us three times."

"There's not that much difference in the (OVC) teams. Pitching will prevail (in the playoffs). I don't see anybody being a strong favorite."

LEADING THE BARRAGE in Murray's four-run first inning in the second game are Scott Tucker (left), greeted by Tony Threatt (4) at home plate and Ronnie Scheer (right).

Ruiz Put Through The Ringer To Explain Marathon

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — For Rosie Ruiz, the hardest part of posting a record time in the Boston Marathon may be having to explain it. She came to a news conference to talk about the race but burst into tears after her meeting with the media took on tones of a police interrogation.

In only her second marathon and without the benefit of the extensive training prescribed for long distance runners, Ruiz was the first female finisher at Monday's Boston race with a time of 2 hours 31 minutes 56 seconds — the third fastest marathon by a woman.

That was the easy part, compared to the one-hour grilling she underwent Thursday at a packed news conference here.

She explained her appearance by saying: "I'm not guilty. There is no reason why I should not answer questions. I don't have to prove myself innocent because I know that I ran it."

Asked to describe the marathon course around Boston, Ruiz didn't recall too many details. There was "beautiful countryside. There were roads winding in and out," she said.

Some of her inquisitors Thursday were marathon runners, who laced their remarks with such words as "fraud" and "cheat."

Fred Lebow, organizer of the New York City Marathon, said Ruiz didn't finish that race last October or the Boston Marathon. He scheduled a news conference for today to reveal his evidence. It was Ruiz's time of 2:56:29 in New York that qualified her for Boston.

Ruiz said at the Thursday conference that her next race would be a 10-kilometer race (6.2 miles) here. The July 5 event is run by Steve Marek, president of the Suburban Roadrunners Club of New York, who was with Ruiz on the podium.

"I am not a marathon runner per se. I think a time of 2 hours 31 minutes is remarkable for me," said Ruiz, who doesn't have the typical taut, lean body of a long distance runner. "Running is not a profession for me. I just love to run."

Thursday's New York Post quoted unidentified sources in Boston as saying Ruiz would be disqualified today and the second-place woman, Jacqueline Gareau, would be declared the winner.

Will Cloney, director of the Boston Marathon, said, "Nothing has led us to believe anything yet...I'm not going to show what our investigation is showing until I can have everything put together."

Cloney was interviewed on a Boston television show, along with second-place finisher Gareau.

He told her: "Even if we do reverse the decision, and we have not made that announcement yet...There is nothing we can possibly do for that moment of glory that you missed, or perhaps missed...If we do reverse the decision I want you to get all the acclaim to which you're entitled."

Under a barrage of rough questioning, Ruiz cried off and on but finally broke down when asked if she would continue running if she is stripped of her Boston title. Marek then led her out of the room.

No matter how long Ruiz did run on Monday, her hour on the podium Thursday must have seemed as long as a marathon.

Baldrige Chosen For Georgetown

Murray State assistant football coach Bill Baldrige has accepted the head coaching position at Georgetown College, according to an announcement by Murray State Sports Information Director Doug Vance.

Baldrige is returning to the school where he served one season as the defensive coordinator. He had been at Murray State for two and a half years.

"It was a hard decision," Baldrige said. "I have real strong feelings for Coach Gottfried and his staff."

"I learned more football under Gottfried than I ever have. He's a great person and I'll miss our association. He was very instrumental in helping me get the job."

"I am very excited about Georgetown College. There are not that many head coaching positions and I'm looking forward to the challenge of building the program."

"Anytime you have a successful program, it becomes difficult to keep good people," Murray State head coach Mike Gottfried said. "I'm very happy for Bill."

"It's a good step for him. I'll miss him not only for his contributions on the staff, but also for his close friendship."

Georgetown will have 15 seniors returning from a team that was 4-5 last year and plays in the Heartland Conference and is a Division II NCAA school.

Picture Rosy Again For Rockhill Native After Blue Grass Victory

ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Rockhill Native, the 1979 2-year-old champion, spent a bleak winter in Florida, then came home to Kentucky and once again the outlook is a rosy one for the 3-year-old gelding.

Rockhill Native won the $119,550 Blue Grass Stakes on Thursday at Keeneland for his fifth victory in as many starts in Kentucky. If he stretches that streak to six on May 3 at Churchill Downs, he will end up with the blanket of roses that goes to the winner of the Kentucky Derby.

"He ran great...we won it," said jockey John Oldham after Harry Oak's Rockhill Native took the lead on the clubhouse turn and held it for a two-length victory over Super Moment. "The plan going in was to let him run his own race."

If the victory was a big one for Oldham, a resident of Lexington, it was a great one for 63-year-old trainer Herb Stevens, who was born in Lexington and lives in nearby Versailles. It was Stevens' first stakes victory at Keeneland, where he has been racing for 34 years.

"I don't know that I ever dreamed about a day like this," said Stevens, who has never had a racehorse like this. "Of course, naturally, anybody would always want to have a good enough horse to win a major stakes here in front of the home folks."

Rockhill Native's second straight victory was good enough to make him a major Derby contender and maybe even make him the posttime favorite.

It was his fourth victory in six starts this year and his second straight at Keeneland, following a 2-for-4 performance at Hialeah in Miami, where Stevens blamed the race track and not Rockhill Native for his mediocre showing.

Super Moment, owned by Elmendorf, almost certainly earned a Derby start. Mrs. Philip B. Hofmann's Gold Stage and Arthur A. Appleton's Lord Gallant also probably earned tickets to Louisville. Gold Stage, second for most of the race, finished a neck behind the fast-closing Super Moment and a neck ahead of Lord Gallant in the field of 11 3-year-olds.

Rockhill Native ran the 1½ miles in 1:50 and Stevens said, "No, the time don't mean anything to me. He just ran faster than anybody else."

Rockhill Native paid a winning mutual of $3 and earned $77,707 to boost his 1980 bankroll to $156,525. Last year, when he posted six wins and two seconds in nine starts, he earned $267,112.

Completing the order of finish in the Blue Grass were Bold 'n' Ruffling, Ray's Word, Spruce Needles, Cuchillo, Hazard Duke, Doonesbury and Prince Valiant.

The latter was a big disappointment, having won the Louisiana Derby on March 23.

Murray High Routs Reidland Twice, Goes To 11-2

Travels To Paducah Tilghman Today For Rematch

By GARY GARTH
Sports Writer

The Murray High Tigers continued their winning ways Thursday night by sweeping a doubleheader against Reidland, putting their overall record at 11-2.

Both games were shortened by the ten-run rule as the Tigers won the opening game 18-4 and the second contest ended after five innings with the Tigers on top 12-2.

Tony Herndon was the winning pitcher in the first game, surrendering only three hits and notching 10 strikeouts.

Making his high school pitching debut, Bobby Daniel was the winning hurler for the Tigers in the nightcap. Daniel survived seven walks and allowed only two hits in five innings of work.

Murray fell behind early in the first game when Reidland third baseman Mark Crowell knocked a two-run homer over the left field fence to give the visitors the early lead.

Murray came right back, scoring four times in the home half of the first. Eddie Requarth led off the inning for the Tigers and was awarded first base after being hit by a pitch. A Reidland error allowed Bill Milton to reach base and Requarth to advance to third.

Mark Denham tied the game with a single before Bruce Taylor was hit by a pitched ball. Both runners came around to score on an error by the first baseman.

The Tigers added two more runs in the second when three Reidland errors allowed Requarth and Milton to score for Murray.

The Tigers turned the game into a rout in the third when they exploded for 13 runs in the inning.

Wilson, Hooper and McMillen opened the inning with three singles. After Brooks walked and Requarth reached on an error, Milton singled and Denham reached on another Reidland mistake.

Taylor was hit by a pitch and Herndon followed with a single. Wilson, Hooper, McMillen and Brooks followed with four straight singles before Requarth made his way to first on the third error of the inning, scoring the final two runs.

The big inning ended as quickly as it had begun. After thirteen Tigers had come to the plate, twelve scoring, the side was struck out.

The visitors went down in order in the fourth and scored the game's final two runs in the fifth on two hits and four walks.

The Tigers pounded out 11 hits in the contest and sent 36 hitters to the plate in five innings of play.

In the nightcap, the Tigers used another big inning to down Reidland. Murray sent seven runs home in the third and went on to post a 12-2 victory.

Tiger hurler Bobby Daniel experienced control problems in the third. With Murray leading 3-0, Reidland scored one of its two runs by way of four walks.

Murray increased its lead to nine runs by scoring seven times in the third. The Tigers used two hits, a walk and three Reidland errors to push their seven runs across.

Leading 10-1 going into the fifth, Reidland scored its second run combining two Murray errors with a single by Grogan.

The Tigers ended the game with the ten-run rule by scoring twice in the home half of the fifth.

Requarth reached on an error by the third baseman and proceeded to steal second. With two out, Taylor and Herndon singled, scoring one. Third baseman Wilson delivered the game-winning hit for Murray, a single scoring Taylor.

The Tigers go after win number 12 today when they travel to Paducah to face Tilghman in a 4:00 p.m. contest.

TONY HERNDON (18) backs off from this Reidland pitch in Murray's doubleheader sweep yesterday.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are loaded down with left-handed pitchers. But as everyone knows, Fenway Park is not for left-handers.

Two of Chicago's leading men were pitchers Richard Dotson and Ed Farmer, who combined to hold the Boston sluggers to two earned runs.

"Dotson pitched a good game but his arm stiffened during the sixth," said Chicago Manager Tony LaRussa. "I had to take him out."

"Dotson struck out nine and walked two through his strong six-inning performance before giving way to Farmer. The right-hander left with the game tied 3-3, but the White Sox came up with two runs in the top of the seventh and thus presented him with the victory.

"If we hadn't scored (the two tie-breaking runs), I really would have been weighing taking him out," LaRussa said of the 21-year-old Dotson. "I hate to take a pitcher out with no decision, especially after he has struck out four batters in a row, like he did."

The game was the only one played in the American League Thursday. In the National, the Atlanta Braves edged the San Diego Padres 8-7 and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the San Francisco Giants 5-2 in 10 innings.

Along with the good pitching supplied by Dotson and Farmer, the White Sox continued to get good hitting from Lamar Johnson. Johnson drove in four runs, two of them with a homer in the third inning. His RBI grounder in the seventh produced the tie-breaking run.

The victory gave the surprising White Sox a 9-4 record so far this young season.

"What we have is a bunch of guys who like to play," said LaRussa, explaining his team's hot start. "If we go out and play every day, we're good enough to be in the ball game."

after Asselstine's gamewinning hit.

Willie Montanez' two-run homer in the top of the eighth had provided the Padres with a 7-6 lead before Atlanta's rally.

Dodgers 5, Giants 2

Dusty Baker's three-run homer broke a 2-2 tie in the bottom of the 10th, leading Los Angeles over San Francisco. Reggie Smith, who homered in the fourth, singled to start the winning rally. Steve Garvey followed with another base hit before Baker's homer gave the victory to Jerry Reuss, 3-

Sonics, Lakers Series Moves To University Of Washington Court

By JIM COUR

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics and the Los Angeles Lakers move their National Basketball Association playoff series to the University of Washington campus tonight.

The Sonics, who set an NBA single season attendance record at the Kingdome in 1979-80, were forced to move Games Three and Four of the series to the smallish Hec Edmundson Pavilion, which holds 9,600, because the Kingdome and the Seattle Coliseum were booked.

The Kingdome is being used by the American League Seattle Mariners and the Seattle Coliseum was booked for an ice show.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Lakers played at the campus facility for UCLA more than a decade ago and Gus Williams, the Sonics' offensive star, played there for the University of Southern California. Jamaal Wilkes played there for UCLA.

But, other than that, the building basically is uncharted territory for both teams.

"I don't even know where Hec Edmundson is," joked Seattle center Jack Sikma.

The best-of-seven Western Conference finals, which is tied at one victory apiece, will continue at the University of Washington Sunday.

The Sonics and the Lakers split the first two games of the series at Los Angeles' Forum.

Seattle won 108-107 Tuesday night and the Lakers came back to win 108-99 Wednesday night.

Coach Lenny Wilkens of the Sonics is unhappy about the officiating, saying he thinks Abdul-Jabbar is getting special treatment against Sikma in the series. He said the officials of Wednesday night's game, Joe Gushue and Jim Capers, allowed Abdul-Jabbar to go over Sikma for several tap-ins of rebounds. Abdul-Jabbar scored 31 points and pulled down 16 rebounds in the Laker triumph.

"It's not fair that guy (Kareem) can do that," Wilkens said. "If you let him do that, nobody can stop him." He added, "A lot of times, Jack was being held and we weren't getting any calls. Not just with Kareem but all year Jack just doesn't get any calls. He hardly ever goes to the line."

Sikma, who has been outscored by Abdul-Jabbar 57-19 in the first two games agrees with his coach.

"I felt a couple of times he (Abdul-Jabbar) had good tips," said Sikma of Wednesday night's game. "And a couple of times he came over my back."

"They're trying to front me with Jack Sikma," said Abdul-Jabbar, "so I'm inside of him in position for the rebound."

"If we're a championship club," added Lakers' Coach Paul Westhead, "we have to win on the road. Hopefully, we can take two games in Seattle."

Sarazen Still Has Deep Pride In Game

By DENNEH. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — At age 78, Gene Sarazen still has deep pride in the way he plays golf and the manner in which the game has progressed.

"I still shoot below my age everytime I play and I guess I'll keep playing as long as I can do that," said Sarazen, who was first to tee off today in the $400,000 Legends of Golf Tournament.

Sarazen, who was paired with Jim Ferrier, said, "I shot 71 two weeks ago at a good course (Hole in the Wall) in Naples, Fla. I can still hit my drives 220 to 240 yards. But no longer can I hit it far enough on the long par-4s.

"I just can't turn like I used to and I lose 40 yards. But I still hit it straight."

Sarazen and Ferrier were not expected to be a threat in the 54-hole tournament which has a first-place prize of $70,000.

However, newcomers Arnold Palmer and Dow Finsterwald were expected to take dead aim at defending champions Roberto De Vicen-zo of Argentina and Julius Boros.

"It's great to have Palmer but I am proud of the fact that this tournament was a success without Palmer or Byron Nelson or Ben Hogan," said Sarazen. "We got this tournament off the ground without them. This tournament is a successful 747 at 30,000 feet."

Also chasing Boros and De Vicenzo will be such tandems as Art Wall and Tommy Bolt, Sam Snead and Don January, and crack Australians Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle.

Wall and Bolt forced the tournament into six extra holes in 1979 before De Vicenzo ended the marathon playoff with a birdie.

"People still talk to me about this tournament and the way it ended last year almost everywhere I go," said Sarazen. "Next to the U.S. Open and the Masters this tournament will have the biggest television audience of any in 1980."

Palmer who has played well in practice rounds, said he certainly did not consider the Legends of Golf a mere exhibition.

"Any tournament I have entered I feel is important that I win," said Palmer, who has shot 3 under par in practice over the par-70 Onion Creek Golf Club that plays to a friendly 6,584 yards.

Horner Deadline Moved

ATLANTA (AP) — Al Thornwell, executive vice president of the Atlanta Braves, said Thursday night he has extended by two days the time in which Bob Horner has to report to the club's Class AAA farm team at Richmond.

"In order to be a little lenient with Bob, I have extended his reporting date to Sunday," Thornwell said. "This gives him a couple extra days to rethink his position."

"The Braves can give Bob to Friday, Sunday or next Saturday, but he is not reporting to Richmond," said Bucky Woy, Horner's agent. "We just want out. That hasn't changed. Ted Turner has taught us who's boss. He loves controversy, but it's destroying Bob."

Horner, the 1978 National League Rookie of the Year who batted .314 last year but was hitting .059 in 10 games this season, was demoted to the minors Monday night by the Braves.

He has steadfastly refused to go and has asked to be traded.

future."

January, who also just turned 50, was asked what he thought about playing in the tournament. "I'm not sure what a legend is, but I'm tickled pink to be one."

"We're still hoping he will change his mind," club spokesman Wayne Minshew said Thursday night. If not, General Manager John Mullen has said the club "will do what we have to."

Translated, that means Horner will be placed on the disqualified list and will lose his benefits and about $2,000 a day in salary if he does not report to Richmond by Sunday, Thornwell's new deadline.

Mrs. Jewel Parks Has Four Doctors In Her Family

There are four physicians in Mrs. Jewel Parks' family, but they do not live near enough to claim her as their patient.

Her daughter, Imogene, is married to Dr. Willard Dill, a psychiatrist, practicing in Gulf Port, Miss. She is a specialist in elementary education and teaches there. They are visiting here this week-end.

The Dills have three children - all of them have names beginning with the letter "D." Two are physicians. Danny, the eldest, is practicing in Colorado. Dianne recently married to a doctor, is a gynecologist, and practices with her husband in Pittsburg, Pa. Douglas, the youngest, decided against medicine and chose to be a businessman in Mississippi.

The father, Dianne and Dannie are graduates of the Louisville Medical School.

Imogene and "Dill" met while attending Murray State. Danny did his pre-med work at Murray State, too.

Another guest this week is a daughter, Volina (Mrs. Jack Scoughling) and her son, Greg, from Taylor, Mich.

Jewel and Imogene are dear to me. I first knew Jewel when we taught in the county schools in the 20's. Later her daughter, Imogene, when she was a high schooler lived with us, graduated from Murray High School and attended Murray State. She was one of the family and helped me with my then little Lochie Fay.

In those years the roads in the county where her home was, were too muddy in the winter to travel easily. She left Hazel High School because of this difficulty and came to live with us.

She and "Dill" were married. He was called into service and served as a glider pilot overseas. Again Imogene came to my house. This time to wait for Danny's birth.

Jewel, although in poor health, continues to live alone in her well-appointed home at 625 Ellis Drive. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dolly Haley, lives across the lawn from her, and aids in her personal care.

The Dill's home was completely destroyed last season by a tornado. It has been rebuilt.

Two More Doctors Call Murray Home

Speaking of doctors reminds me of two more whom I visited in their clinic not long ago. They are Murray graduates, too. Ronald Kelley, M.D., and P.S.C. heads the Kelley Psychiatric Clinic, Lone Oak, and has three assistants. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kelley and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Kelley who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary here Sunday. I imagine he'll be right there for this occasion which is to be in the Murray Branch of Federal Savings and Loans.

The other Murray grad connected with the clinic is Gene King. Having coffee with them and chatting about old home town was a pleasant occasion. I remember them fondly as they studied in the high school library.

New Film, 'Jesus,' Probably To Be Seen By Over 95 Percent Of World Population

Beginning in Murray last night, April 24, at the Cheri Theatre was a film, "Jesus," which is going all over our nation and eventually will be translated into 163 languages, shown in other theaters of other countries and carried by motorcycle and shown by generator wherever audiences can be found in remote countries. This film effort will enable this film to be viewed by over 95 percent of the world's population. In areas where the film has already been shown, advance tickets have been sold and ticket sales at the box office have been 3-5 times the number sold in advance.

The film is the most authentic ever made on the life of Jesus Christ, and is by all information, the most authentic, possible human effort to illustrate Jesus' life. The script is entirely scripture except for an occasional greeting of "Shalom" (a Hebrew word and greeting). The script is taken almost entirely from the book of Luke. This is appropriate. Luke, himself, was a physician and historian who investigated firsthand the events of Jesus' life before writing anything. (George Cornell, Assoc. Press) More than 200 hundred scholars checked the script of the movie, "Jesus," to ensure its historical and Biblical accuracy. Research for the film was also done by archeologists and historians.

Jesus Christ is referred to by many as the "most exciting man in history." Some secular educational theorists refer to Jesus as a model example of teaching. So for even the non-believer in Christ, this film contains historical information and biographical material on the life of a man called Jesus.

Research on the dress, customs, and food of the time when Christ was to have lived greatly affected the filming. As mentioned, research was done by historians and archeologists and was underway 5 years before any filming began. An example of the coordination of this was the care taken not to film any eucalyptus trees as there were no eucalyptus trees in Israel until 1943.

All scenes were shot on location. They were filmed as close as possible to where the action was believed to have taken place. In some cases, this required the permission of both Palestinian and Israeli governments. Many scenes were filmed in Arabian villages on the West Bank of the Jordan River.

Care was taken to remove telephone poles and television antennas, temporarily so they would not appear in the background.

The script has been endorsed by several hundred key church leaders. The cast of the film, "Jesus," is almost entirely Israelis and Arabians. The cast numbered approximately 5,000. It was said that the casting director, in order to find 2,000-year old faces, turned to the Jews of the Middle East. Their features appeared to have remained relatively unchanged from those of their ancestors. (George Cornell, Assoc.

Press) "Jesus," himself, however, is an Englishman, a former Shakespearean actor, Brian Deacon. Deacon said, "every day, when I go to the set, I realize how mortal I am." Obviously, it would have been preferred that the part of Jesus be played by an Israeli, but apparently no one could be found to "out act" Brian Deacon in this part. Deacon memorized whole chapters of Luke; he read the book, St. Luke's Gospel, 22 times before the filming began. It was said that, at times during the filming, the extras would break out in spontaneous applause in response to the sermons of Jesus, done by Deacon.

The producer of the film is the Genesis Project which is an attempt to get the entire Bible on film. The film company is Warner Bros. Parochial schools over the country are being signed to bring entire student bodies to see this movie. Several Christian actors and actresses who had small roles in the film are traveling, appearing on radio talk shows and on television and speaking to civic clubs and church congregations about the film.

Profits from the film are being used to translate the film and support film teams to carry the movie to remote areas.

Six hundred committees have been and are being established across the U.S. with a combined goal of bringing more than 6,000,000 people to the showings. According to Inspirational Films, distributors, "never in the history of the motion picture industry, has a film been made where such elaborate plans have been drawn to distribute it around the world."

The film will be shown April 25 through May 1; twice daily at 7:00 p.m. & 9:15 p.m. at the Cheri Theatre on Chestnut Street. There will be a matinee on Sunday only at 2:00 p.m. Advance tickets at a 20 percent discount may be purchased at many area churches or by calling one of the following numbers, 753-7237, 753-1948, 759-4784.

Thy Shalt Not Steal

Getting There Is Half the Fun

Americans have been described as an upwardly mobile society. We are constantly striving to better our lot in life. This is certainly a commendable trait but it can have its drawbacks. We can become so preoccupied with "getting there" that we forget to enjoy the journey. Our lives become a series of hollow victories that leave us feeling empty. It is little wonder that in middle-life many people find themselves asking "Is this all there is?"

Take a look at yourself—In your haste to reach your destination, are you missing the small pleasures along the way? Remember, getting there can be half the fun!

In Conjunction With Charity Ball

Celebrities To Be At Mental Health Benefit

Local Murray celebrities will be on hand at McDonald's Restaurant for four hours Sunday afternoon at a charity benefit designed to support local mental health activities. The event is being presented in conjunction with the annual Murray Charity Ball, scheduled for May 31, according to Jo Curris, co-chairperson.

"We're sponsoring, with McDonald's, a pre-charity ball kickoff party," Mrs. Curris said, "to raise additional money for the mentally handicapped."

McDonald's will contribute twenty-five cents to the local Mental Health Center for every Big Mac hamburger purchased on Sunday. In addition, McDonald's will provide free gifts to anyone who contributes two cents or more to the Center, and will give a Ronald McDonald doll to contributors of five dollars or more. All proceeds will be used locally for the development of home and draft skills for the mentally handicapped.

Numerous local celebrities will be on hand from noon to 4 p.m. at McDonald's. They will include:

Noon — Gary Brockway/Bob Valentine, Folk Music Group.

12:30 — OVC Coach of the Year, Ron Greene; OVC Player of the Year, Gary Hooker; OVC All Freshman Team, Mont Sleet; MSU Back Dunker of the Year, Walt "Dr. Dunk" Davis.

1:15 — Murray High School Tiger Band, performing music from its marching show, including the Flag and Rifle Corp; Murray Band Directors, James Light, Jim Wright, and Richard McLendon.

1:30 — A member of the Calloway County Sheriff's Department and Terry Elkins, Sgt., Murray Police Department.

2:00 — MSU football players, including Terry Love, OVC Defensive Player of the Year; Vernon "Mt. Vernon" Brodnax, OVC second team; Anthony "Tony" Boone, Murray linebacker.

3:00 — Puppet Show featuring the Memorial Baptist Church Puppeteers, directed by L. D. Kathey.

3:30 — The Columbia Blues, a musical group from the Calloway County High School, directed by La Vaughn Wells.

In addition, the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity fire truck will be available for viewing all afternoon.

"We hope that everyone in Calloway County will help us to raise money for the Mental Health Center," Mrs. Curris said.

"Since not everyone attends the annual charity ball, we thought it would be nice to have some kind of pre-charity ball kickoff party which everyone in the county would enjoy," she added.

"We are most appreciative for the generous support of McDonald's and all the local people who are donating their time to be at the kickoff party."

The annual Charity Ball, which this year has the theme of "Some Enchanted Evening," will be held at the Colonial House on Saturday, May 31. Tickets for the event will go on sale in mid-May, will cost $30 per couple, and will be on sale at the Murray-Calloway County Library.

Last year's Charity Ball featured a disco format, but according to Margaret Trevathan, co-chairperson, this year's event will be more traditional. Featured will be a dance band and other musical entertainment, late light dinner, auction and door prizes.

"We are also going to extra effort this year," Mrs. Trevathan said, "to beautifully decorate the rooms so there will be an atmosphere of elegance."

Anyone wishing more information about the Charity Ball is invited to call the library at 753-2288.

are enrolled in the high school band and 162 in the middle school band.

He also presented the board with a request for additional percussion instruction for next year. The contract of the third band director, McLendon, was not renewed at the board's last meeting. McLendon is the band's percussion specialist.

Board chairman Don Henry said that no action will be taken on the request until next year's budget is prepared.

In other action taken at the meeting: — The board approved the 1980-81 personnel recommendations of Superintendent Robert Glin Jeffrey for secretarial-clerical workers, custodial-maintenance workers and personnel in the food service department.

— Board members accepted the low bid of $1,600 of Grace Sales and Service Inc., Nashville, Tenn., for minor renovation to the dressing rooms at Murray High.

— The board rescinded the Model Procurement Code which it had adopted earlier this year.

— Board members voted to change their meeting time from 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in accordance with the change to Daylight Saving Time. The board changed its second May meeting to Monday, May 19, in order not to conflict with Murray High's graduation exercises set for Thursday, May 22.

The council agreed at an earlier meeting to provide a part-time employee to police the parking spaces on a regular basis, expected to total about 30 hours each week. The downtown merchants association is providing $1,000 to the city to help defray the cost of that employee.

A similar experiment began in late November but council members and merchants agreed that it provided less than satisfactory results because of irregular enforcement of the two-hour parking limit.

The ordinance provides for the tow-away of vehicle in violation as well as a fine upon conviction of $5. It was pointed out to the council that the actual tow-away of a vehicle will be up to the discretion of the police department and that it would not be anticipated unless the parking rules were being severely abused.

The council may authorize the city clerk to accept a lesser amount for the advance payment of parking citations. Council members have discussed setting that figure at $1 for first offenders but final action is not expected until after the ordinance is enacted.

In another matter related to downtown parking, councilman J. D. Outland, a member of the Murray Electric System board, advised the council that the MES board asked him to find out if the city would be interested in taking over a paved lot at the corner of 5th and Walnut that is owned by the system.

The council authorized Outland to request the electric system to lease the lot to the city at a nominal annual fee. It was mentioned that the lot could be utilized for additional parking spaces in the downtown area, relieving some of the congestion around the court square.

In other business Thursday, the council approved the nomination John Youngerman to a third three-year term on the Murray-Calloway County Hospital Board. The nomination was submitted by the Murray-Calloway County Jaycees, one of several local government and civic groups authorized to nominate hospital board members under the MCHC bylaws.

Mayor Melvin B. Henley pointed out to the council prior to action on the appointment that "technically, they (the Jaycees) were supposed to submit three names to the council."

"If they only submit one name it actually allows them to appoint the new board member rather than the council," councilman W. R. Furches said.

Councilman C. C. Lowry agreed with Furches and suggested that all nominating bodies be notified that the council will not act on future appointments unless three names are submitted as required in the hospital bylaws.

The council was advised that the regular meeting night of the public safety committee has been changed from Thursdays to the first and third Mondays at 5:30 p.m.

students must be 17 years old by the end of their junior year, students must submit a self-written paper on the reasons they desire early graduation and make a personal appearance before the assistant superintendent, students would forfeit participation in graduation exercises, extra-curricular activities would be limited to the three years as a full time student and student absences should be limited to four days each semester except in cases of a doctor's excuse, funeral in the family or other emergency situations.

Larry Paschall, CCHS counselor, presented recommendations to the board concerning the use of correspondence courses. They include elective courses for students repeating required classes, courses needed by transfer students to facilitate graduation in four years, courses needed to facilitate completion of graduation requirements for those who have dropped out and are returning to complete their education and special interest courses for the more serious students who desire them.

The policy will be discussed at the May board meeting. The summer school program, in effect on a one-year trial basis, also was discussed. Paschall said several students have stated an interest in the program.

Eaker and her son, Gary, had been in operation since August and was currently being remodeled, Mrs. Eaker said this morning.

Mrs. Eaker would not estimate the value of the building and its contents but did say it "was pretty expensive" when she and her son purchased the building last summer and that it contained a considerable amount of equipment, including her son's truck. She said they did have insurance on the building and its contents.

Cooper said that the Calloway County Rescue Squad was called in to assist in fighting the blaze, partly because one of the MFD trucks is "in the shop" at present. The Mayfield Fire Department was also called to assist the local firefighters because it was first feared the fire might spread to buildings on either side of Lil Vegas which house Purdon and Thurman Insurance and Real Estate and Purchase Industrial Loans.

Cooper said about all the firefighters could do when they arrived on the scene, due to the enormity of the fire at the time, was to try to contain the blaze and keep it from wiping out the entire block of buildings.

"This just verifies what I've been saying," Cooper said this morning. "We've got the best fire department in the country and our men are to be highly commended.

Cooper said the wall caved in about 2:30 a.m., "just as we thought we about had the fire under control." He said that Stewart and Allbritten were on the sidewalk pouring water up under the eaves of the building when the wall fell. Just moments before, Cooper, himself, had been on the sidewalk with the two Murray firemen but had stepped back into the street when the wall collapsed.

Cooper said that fellow firemen in the street saw the wall coming down and shouted warnings to Allbritten and Stewart but "there just wasn't time for them to get out of the way." The fire chief said Stewart was bounced back by the falling bricks but that Allbritten was buried under the rubble.

The firemen quickly dug Allbritten out and moved him back into the street to await the arrival of an ambulance for both men. Allbritten sustained a broken left wrist, a severe burn on his right hand and both men received multiple bruises and abrasions in the accident.

"We lucked out on the injuries," Cooper said. "We were just lucky someone didn't get killed."

Cooper also commended crews from the Murray Natural Gas, electric and water systems for their assistance during the firefighting efforts.

Approximately 22 Murray

firefighters, 10 members of the local rescue squad, and four Mayfield firemen were on the scene for 4½ hours until the fire was brought under control.

"They didn't even take a ten-second break," Cooper said in praising the work of the firemen.

City fire inspector Phillip Owens, who also was on the scene throughout the night, was joined early this morning by state arson investigator Don Senf. Owens said they presently are conducting an "origin and cause investigation" but that he would be later today, at the earliest, before anything definite could be determined about the fire.

Owens said preliminary investigations indicate the fire began somewhere in the rear of the building but that he could not say for certain at this time.

Maple Street between Fourth and Fifth streets was blocked off today as city crews were busy digging down into the rubble so the inspectors could attempt to find the origin of the fire.

Owens said that the Purdon and Thurman building sustained minimal smoke and water damage and Purchase Industrial received somewhat more water, which, in spots, was two inches deep inside that building this morning.

Results of the investigation into the cause of the fire will be released as soon as they are available, Owens said.

Murray High Groups Receive Triple A Ratings

The Murray High Hi-Y and Tri-Alpha Clubs were awarded Triple A ratings at the recent Kentucky Youth Assembly held in Louisville and Frankfort. Only four other clubs in the state received the top rating, which is based on points earned in nine months of school and community service.

Kentucky Youth Assembly, a YMCA-sponsored mock legislative convention, was held in Louisville at the Executive Inn West and in Frankfort at the State Capitol.

The legislation proposed and debated by the Hi-Y would require lights to be on automobiles when windshield wipers are on, but this measure was defeated. A second bill to exempt the food service establishment permit fee to licensed health facilities and health services was passed.

Tri-Alpha proposed sex education seminars for seventh graders in all public schools. Amended by a committee to read "fifth graders," the bill passed both house and senate but was vetoed by the governor because of the amendment. A second bill to make closed shops illegal passed the house but failed the senate.

Bills which were successful in both houses and signed by the youth governor included acts to raise the fine for littering on Kentucky's highways, to require that household articles and furniture containing urethane be made flame retardant, to request a direct tax credit for energy-efficient motor vehicles, to raise the penalties for driving while intoxicated, to extend compulsory school age to 18, and to permit the use of laetrile in the treatment of cancer.

Highlights of the meeting included a Governor's Banquet which featured Lt. Gov. Martha Layne Collins as speaker; the KYA dance; and the awards ceremony recognizing outstanding clubs and club members.

A surprise move was the appearance of Governor Terry Smith of Murray, who served the 1979 assembly, and who presented a resolution to abolish the death penalty in Kentucky. The group passed the resolution but defeated a second one which would encourage legislation regarding the legalization of marijuana.

Eighteen delegates from Murray High School included nine seniors, Janna Bell, Mickey Cochran, Tambi Gray, Nancy Kiesow, Nicky Swift, House of Representatives; Karen Brandon and Julie Sams, Senate; Joe Harman and Mary Lindsey, Cabinet. There were seven juniors: Charles Beaman, lobbyist; Shari Crafton and Quinton Walls, press; Christine Grogan, House; David Honchul, David Mikulchik, and Phil Resig, senators.

Two sophomores, Lisa Russell and Sandra Whaley served as pages.

Accompanying the delegates were the two sponsors, Mary Ann Russell and Loyd Hasty, and two parents, James Lee Harmon and Margaret Sams.

The 1981 KYA will be held in April at the Lexington Holiday Inn.

Tax Aspects In Marital Dissolutions To Be Seminar Topic

"Tax Aspects of Marital Dissolutions" will be the topic of a law seminar at Murray State University on Friday and Saturday, April 25-26.

The last of six continuing education legal seminars scheduled in the area in 1979-80, the program will begin at 1 p.m. Friday in Room 228 of Roy Stewart Stadium and conclude with a morning session to begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. The series is jointly sponsored by Murray State University and the University of Louisville.

Marlin E. Volz, professor of law at U of L, developed the program format for the seminar series.

Topics on the two-day program include: review of key statutes and regulations and identification of common problems; tax problems involving maintenance - temporary and permanent child support; property settlements; practical problems and typical property settlement provisions; employee benefits; estate tax and estate planning consideration; private insurance and use of trust; and conducting negotiations and convincing the court.

A question-and-answer period will conclude the Saturday program.

The registration fee is $35, which includes a handbook of materials. Continuing legal education units will be awarded to attorneys who attend the seminar through the Office of Conferences and Continuing Education at Murray State.

Attorneys interested in attending the seminar who have not pre-registered may register at the door prior to the first session. They should make their own reservations for overnight lodging.

EXHIBITIONS

On April 25 through May 7, the Eagle Gallery at Murray State University will have on exhibit photography and painting by Kathryn McGrew, Louisville; and an exhibition in metals by John Thomas Lee, Murray.

Women As Religious Leaders To Be Discussed

A debate on the topic "Resolved: Women Should Be Accepted As Religious Leaders" will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday in Mason Hall Auditorium on the campus of Murray State University. The building is located on the corner of 14th and Sharpe Streets.

The debate will feature MSU President Constantine W. Curris; Robert Valentine, a debate and forensics instructor; Dr. Vernon Gantt, chairman of the speech and theater department; and Dr. Ken Wolf, a history professor.

The men debating the topic philosophically, Valentine and Wolf are teaming up to present an empirical argument in favor of women in leadership roles.

Curris and Gantt will provide opposition with a rationalistic argument against women's leadership.

All the debaters have experience in logical analysis and debate tactics and will be exploring the ways in which our philosophical dispositions influence our religious beliefs.

Time will be allotted for arguments, audience questions and involvement and rebuttals.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK — Nita Baugh and Joe Roberts of the Calloway County Public Library presented a puppet show for students at Robertson Elementary School on Monday in observance of National Library Week.

Murray Congregation To Join With Delegates

The Murray Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will join with delegates from 21 other congregations in Western Kentucky and Southern Indiana for the Witnesses semi-annual Circuit Convention to be held at the Executive Inn Rivermont in Owensboro, April 26, 27.

The two-day meet is expected to attract more than 1600 people for a program highlighting the theme "Please God By Our Obedience." A baptism is planned for Saturday morning.

Lester L. Roper, District Supervisor for the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society of Brooklyn, New York will deliver the main discourse on Sunday at 2 p.m. when he addresses the assembly on the subject "To Whom Does the Obedience of the People Belong?"

Roper, a native of Springfield, Mo., has spent more than 48 years in the full-time ministry, traveling to serve congregations in 29 states. He spent five years as a missionary in the Republic of Panama.

The effects of disobedience are very much in evidence today, according to Roper, and obedience to God is essential for life. Jesus Christ is the head of the Christian congregation and we must recognize that fact, Roper said.

The public is invited to attend both days of the convention. No collections will be taken, Roper said.

Second Program In District 13 Workshop Scheduled For Monday

The second program in the District 13, L.P.N. workshop series "The Respiratory Patient" will be held Monday, April 28, at 7 p.m. in the private dining room of Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

The series of programs is sponsored by District 13 of the L.P.N. Association and application for continuing education units has been made.

Dr. Hugh Houston will be Monday night's featured speaker. His topic will be "Tuberculosis - A Case Study."

For those who are not able to attend the Monday evening meeting, a tape of Dr. Houston's lecture will be played at a special meeting on Tuesday afternoon, April 29, at 1 p.m. This meeting will also be held in the private dining room.

Dr. Hugh Houston

All practical nurses in the district are invited to attend any of the L.P.N. District 13 meetings, according to Ronnie Pool, association president.

St. John Church To Observe Auxiliary Day

Auxiliary Day will be observed at the St. John Baptist Church on Sunday, April 27, at 2:30 p.m.

The Rev. Gardner and members of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Paris, Tenn., will be the guests.

The purpose of this program is to encourage more people to participate in various departments of the church. The theme of the program will be "Unity In Service," according to the pastor, the Rev. C. E. Timberlake, who invites the public to attend.

Southwest Holds Handicapped Awareness Week

Project EASE Activities Make Students Aware Of Problems Of Handicapped

By MATT SANDERS
Staff Writer

Handicapped Awareness Week, to make students more aware of the problems handicapped students cope with in schools, has been observed this week at Southwest Calloway Elementary School.

The week is part of the three-year federal program, Project EASE (Environmental Approach to Special Education), the school is involved in. Environmental education also is included in the program.

Several of the project's activities included walking with crutches, walking with a block taped to one foot, writing with the non-dominant hand, walking blindfolded, tracing lines through a mirror, using mittens while making art projects and working puzzles with glasses that obstruct vision.

Others activities were prey and predator, a game where students rely on sound instead of sight to find their partners. Multi-handicapped students ate lunch at the school and visited the library and classrooms.

A visit from a blind person and a film on the life of a woman born with no arms also were planned.

Several of the fourth graders involved in writing with the non-dominant hand agreed it "was hard." A first grader commented that she had "a funny feeling and it was hard to get use to."

Many fifth graders who walked on the blocks and with crutches said their major problem use getting use to "the way people stare" at them. Several said they fell down and there was some difficulty in keeping their balance.

Several fourth grade students also traveled to the Land Between The Lakes where they were allowed to hike. They also discussed the planets, stars and wildlife.

Reita Ladd, learning disabilities teacher who participates in the project, said that she has felt the project activities have taught the children to accept others as they are. She also said the project gives handicapped children a chance to compete in regular class activities.

Teachers working in Project EASE along with Ladd are Susan Ramp, fourth grade; Juana Dodson, fifth grade; Gail Turner, fifth grade; and Eupal Underwood, first grade.

Ladd said an in-service session to explain Project EASE was held for all Calloway County teachers last year. She added that another in-service was for the Southwest students was held this year. Ladd stressed that a good understanding of some of the difficulties faced by handicapped students is needed to make the program successful.

"We are the ones who make ourselves handicapped," Ladd said.

She added the handicapped don't consider themselves handicapped since they live with their disabilities.

Involvement by teachers and the school administration also is required to the project's success, Ladd pointed out.

Ray Dunn, principal of the school, was in a wheelchair Wednesday visiting classrooms to discuss some problems of handicapped students.

Turner said she felt the project has been beneficial to her class and to herself. She added the project, especially the environmental education, has been enjoyable.

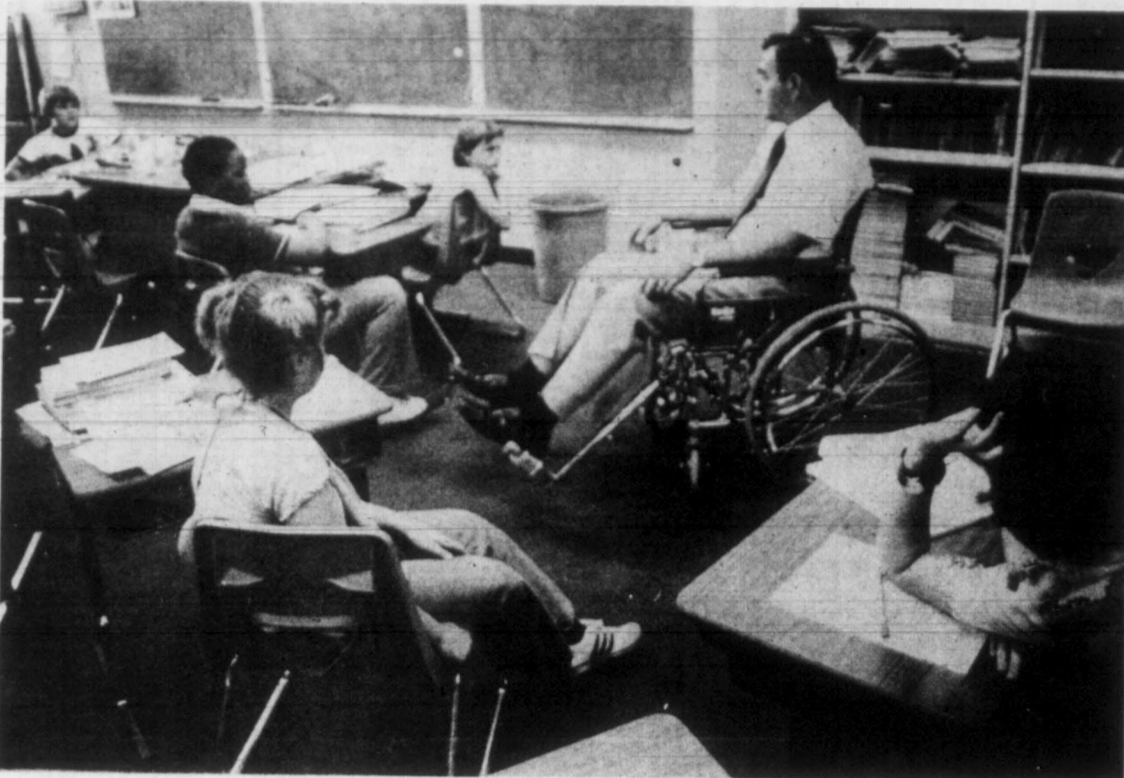

Janet Kirk, the Calloway nurse who travels to the various county schools, said she thought students are becoming more aware of the special needs of the handicapped. She added that students have been very cooperative in assisting their handicapped peers.

But, Kirk said the project's only drawback could be that some children may be too helpful.

Ladd agreed and added that part of the project's objectives for the handicapped to get along in a regular classroom.

Several school systems in Kentucky, Tennessee and Illinois currently are involved in the project. Ladd said teachers discuss and share techniques used in their projects.

The project is in its second year at Southwest.

Southwest principal Ray Dunn was in a wheelchair Wednesday as part of Handicapped Awareness Week. Dunn traveled to various classrooms discussing problems people in wheelchairs have to cope with.

Multi-handicapped students visited the school Thursday and ate with Southwest students. The multi-handicapped students also visited classrooms and the library.

Activities included working puzzles with glasses that obstruct vision and making art projects while wearing mittens.

First graders had to draw and to color while wearing blindfolds.

Sixth graders played prey and predator, a game where students rely on sound instead of sight in order to find their partners.

VOLUNTEER CERTIFICATES — Tripp Thurman (left), executive director of the Murray-Calloway County Senior Citizens office, and Gil Hopson, board chairman, sign certificates to be presented to volunteers in appreciation for their services. Thurman said over 157 volunteers worked over 4,000 hours last year. He added their services have kept the office open. Thurman also thanked the First United Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church and the Memorial Baptist Church for the use of their vans for the meals on wheels program. Members of the senior citizens staff will deliver the certificates.

Iran's Minister Condemns Mission As 'Act Of War'

By The Associated Press

Iran's foreign minister today condemned President Carter's "act of war" in launching an airborne mission to rescue the Tehran embassy hostages, but he said he hopes Iranians will react with restraint to the failed military operation.

Eight American crewmen were killed when two of the rescue aircraft collided as they tried to withdraw, President Carter said.

Sketchy reports from Tehran indicated the Iranians believed some Americans might have been stranded in the eastern Iranian desert where the daring mission was aborted because of what Carter called "equipment failures."

Government-run Tehran Radio told people in the area around Tabas, in the Dasht-e-Kavir desert 350 miles east of the capital, to search for "Marines and raiding personnel now in the region."

Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh told CBS in an interview he had received information "there were some Americans" left behind "but this has not been precise."

Carter said, however, that all those involved in the operation — by Iranian estimates 400 or 500 — were safely withdrawn.

The president, in an address broadcast nationwide at 7 a.m., said the equipment failure occurred aboard "the rescue helicopter." But he did not describe the problem, and various other reports from Washington, Tehran and elsewhere said the mission was aborted because of the collision, because of an explosion aboard a helicopter or because helicopters became mired in mud.

The Iranian military command claimed the planes crashed while fleeing from Iranian warplanes, but Carter said there were no hostilities and the Iranians were unaware of the U.S. attempt until several hours after the withdrawal.

The American raiders took a busload of Iranians prisoner briefly before releasing them and flying off, Tehran Radio said.

The desert was being used as a staging area for the final leg of the mission to Tehran, Carter said.

In Tehran, an estimated 10,000 jubilant Iranians poured into the streets around the U.S. Embassy when they got word of the failed mission, celebrating with shouts and cheers. They flashed victory signs, clenched their fists and screamed, "Down With Carter!" and "Carter's Finished!"

A spokesman for the Moslem militants who have held the 50 embassy hostages since Nov. 4 said they were "doing well," the Japan Broadcasting Corp. reported from Tehran. The militants previously had threatened to kill all of the hostages if the United States took the slightest military action against Iran or made any attempt to rescue them.

Speaking in English, Ghotbzadeh told ABC-News he hopes the Iranian government will proceed with caution and "not react as nervously as the Americans did" in launching the raid. He said he also asked the militants who seized the Americans at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran 174 days ago to "refrain from harsh actions."

The militants holding the 50 Americans in the embassy since Nov. 4 threatened previously to kill their captives if an attempt was made to rescue them. Their spokesman said today they would announce their decision once they had received more details on the raid.

Ghotbzadeh said he had spoken with the militants several times as well as with members of Iran's Revolutionary Council and urged restraint. Ghotbzadeh said he had not spoken directly with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini but that he believed the Iranian revolutionary leader and the entire Iranian government shared his feelings.

He said Carter had not explained why the action was taken. "And therefore I certainly see it as a clear indication for the act of war against Iran ... If these kind of things continue, believe me our nation is ready to go, to set fire in the whole region not to let the Americans by force win anything."

Monday Is Last Day To Register To Vote

The deadline for registering to vote in the May Primary Election is Monday, April 28, according to Calloway County Clerk Marvin Harris.

Plant Manager Has No Comment After Meeting

Murray Tappan plant general manager E. J. Haverstock said this morning that he "could not comment about what occurred during the process" of a meeting Thursday between Tappan management and the bargaining committee of United Auto Workers Local 1068 but did say the meeting covered "preliminary information" about the phase down of the plant.

Tappan has announced its intentions to close the local plant, currently employing some 750 people, by the end of this year and move its gas range production to a plant at Mansfield, Ohio, the company headquarters.

Haverstock said another meeting between company and union officials has been scheduled for May 7.

The two parties are meeting to negotiate the procedure to be followed in closing the local plant, which has been in operation since 1947. The current contract between Tappan and the union expires in June of this year.

Haverstock said that a layoff of about 60 workers, announced today, is "an inventory adjustment (layoff) related to sales requirements."

"It does not reflect anything relative to the phase down of the operation," the plant manager said, indicating that the layoff would have occurred whether or not the plant was being closed.

Tappan officials announced April 18 that the Murray plant would be closed, citing "economic reasons" for the decision.

Tappan president D. C. Blasius said the estimated cost of closing the Murray plant, moving its production to Mansfield and moving microwave oven production from Mansfield to a Tappan plant in Dalton, Ga., is $7 million.

By TOM JORY

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS is the new champion of prime time television after knocking ABC from the top in a hotly contested, eight-month race that ended in a flurry of blockbuster programming.

An audience survey by the A.C. Nielsen Co. for the last week of the season, which ended Sunday, showed CBS with a comfortable three-point lead over ABC. And that was just enough to nudge the challenger into first place for the TV year by one-tenth of a ratings point.

ABC, which began the season in September a week ahead of the opposition, argued the race ended in a "virtual tie." But both CBS and NBC, which finished third, gave the title to CBS.

By one yardstick, the race was not close. CBS listed eight of the season's 10 highest rated programs, including No. 1 "60 Minutes." That was in stark contrast to ABC's dominance in prime-time, which began during the 1976-77 season.

"The psychological impact of winning is important," said Robert Daly, president of CBS' entertainment division, "but the tenth means nothing. The key is eight of the Top 10 shows, because that's what we sell."

Many industry observers were surprised that CBS could challenge ABC, which entered the 1979-80 season with both the World Series in October and the Winter Olympics in February on its schedule.

It was the closest race in a decade, and perhaps in the history of television. The two networks began the last week of the season in a tie for first place, and both pulled all the stops.

ABC jumped to an early lead Monday night with its broadcast of the Academy Awards show, ultimately the week's top-rated program. But CBS followed the next two nights with "Guyana Tragedy: The Story of Jim Jones." "Guyana Tragedy" finished two-three in the ratings, the most-watched miniseries of the season.

The climax came Sunday night, with "The Sting" on ABC and a two-hour "Dukes of Hazzard" special on CBS, opposite one another. "The Sting" won by a hair.

CBS finished the week with a rating of 20.7 to 19.4 for ABC and 13.2 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 20.7 percent of the nation's TV-equipped homes were tuned to CBS.

CBS claimed the season with an average rating of 19.6 to ABC's 19.5 and NBC's 17.4. ABC said the leaders had finished tied at 19.5.

NBC found at least a glimmer of hope in the season's statistics: The network halved the margin between itself and the leader, and recorded a 2 percent improvement in its average rating over the previous season. CBS, by the same calculation, improved 5 percent, while ABC declined by two points.

One industry source estimated ABC may have spent an extra $15 million in the last several weeks of the season, producing extra episodes of series like "The Love Boat" and "Eight is Enough," as well as a full night of championship boxing March 31.

The same source estimated CBS had allocated about $5.5 million for special programming at the end of the season, including "Guyana Tragedy."

"You can sum up the season with two statistics," CBS' Daly said. "Last year, ABC won 25 of the 31 weeks. This year, CBS won 17 of 31, and ABC 12. And out of the 12 weeks ABC won, two were the Olympics and two were the World Series.

"In addition to that," Daly said, "last year, ABC had seven of the Top 10 shows. This year, CBS had eight."

The season's top ten shows, in order: "60 Minutes," CBS; "Three's Company" and "That's Incredible," both ABC; and "M-A-S-H," "Alice," "Dallas," "FLO," "The Jefferson," "Dukes of Hazzard," and "One Day at a Time," all CBS.

"What really made it for us this year," said Daly, "were our regular series and made-for-television movies. And I think that's a good sign for going into next year."

"With most of our prime-time programming returning next fall, and with a strong program development effort from which to select new series," ABC said, "we eagerly anticipate the 1980-81 season."

Then, in a paragraph obviously intended for advertisers, ABC declared: "We continue to provide the most balanced schedule of entertainment programming in primetime, with special appeal to viewers under 55, while CBS is dominant with viewers 55 and older."

Here are the Top 10 shows for the week ending April 20:

Academy Awards, with a rating of 33.7 representing 25.7 million homes, ABC; "Guyana Tragedy: The Story of Jim Jones," Part II, 31.7 or 24.2 million, and "Guyana Tragedy," Part I, 28.9 or 22.1 million, both CBS; "Olivia Newton-John Special," 26.3 or 20.1 million, ABC; "Carnival of Thrills," 26 or 19.8 million, and "60 Minutes," 25.4 or 19.4 million, both CBS; Movie: "The Sting," 24.9 or 19 million, ABC; "Dukes of Hazzard," 22.3 or 17 million, CBS; "Three's Company," 22.1 or 16.9 million, ABC, and "M-A-S-H," 21.5 or 16.4 million, CBS.

The next 10 programs: "Laverne and Shirley," ABC; "20-20," ABC, and "Alice" and "WKRP in Cincinnati," both CBS, three-way tie; "Happy Days," ABC; "The Jeffersons," CBS; "Real People," NBC; "Flo," CBS, and "Benson" and "Barney Miller," both ABC.

Students in grades 5-8 of the Murray City and Calloway County Schools are invited to enter posters in the Charity Ball poster contest. The annual ball is a benefit for mental health and the posters will be displayed all over town to promote ticket sales.

Students may use watercolor, paint, magic markers, construction paper, etc. on 20" by 30" poster board. The posters must contain this year's theme "Some Enchanted Evening" and May 31. The student's name, presidents' names, grade and school should be on the back of the poster.

Judging will be on creativity, originality of idea and on neatness. Prizes will be given to the best three posters from each grade.

All schools have been contacted and posters should be turned in to the schools' offices by May 1.

Preston, Syreeta Ride Atop Charts With Hit

By YARDENA ARAK
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For more than 15 years, Billy Preston has been playing and singing gospel, rock and rhythm & blues, not just his own, but with a true Who's Who of stars — including Little Richard, Ray Charles, the Beatles and the Rolling Stones.

Although Syreeta Wright hasn't had quite as much exposure, she too is known in the soul circuit for recording and writing with ex-husband Stevie Wonder. Together they penned such uptempo hits as "Signed, Sealed, Delivered (I'm Yours)" and "If You Really Love Me."

But the duet Preston and Syreeta have riding on the charts sounds like none of the above. In fact, "With You I'm Born Again" is — of all things — strangely reminiscent of the Barbra Streisand-Neil Diamond smash, "You Don't Bring Me Flowers."

Preston and Syreeta — she goes by her first name professionally because she started her performing career during her divorce — admit the resemblance has been noted by others.

"I'm Barbra and this is Neil — we're just in blackface," jokes Syreeta, obviously in high spirits, during an interview in a Motown Records office commanding a good view of Hollywood.

The duet is on Preston's recent Motown album, "Late at Night," but Syreeta and Preston were actually paired by their mutual manager to record the song more than a year ago for the soundtrack to the movie "Fast Break."

The film fizzled, and the rest of the tunes on "Late at Night," are, in fact, far more in keeping with Preston's past output — which isn't surprising since he wrote them. But Motown believed in "Born Again" and that belief was obviously justified.

At this point, a hit of any kind must be welcome to Preston. A talented keyboard player who contributed the funky organ solo to the Beatles' "Get Back," he's always been in demand as a session player and was a popular fixture on the Rolling Stones' 1975 U.S. tour.

But while he had a few record successes on his own in the early '70s — "That's the Way God Planned It," "Outa Space," "Will It Go Round In Circles" and "Nothing From Nothing," to name the highlights — the long string of big ones has eluded him.

For Syreeta, "Born Again" is equally welcome as a timely sendoff for her own new solo album and her first real success without Wonder. (She has since remarried and has two small children.)

Rich Girl, Tomboy In Race To Lose Virginity

By YARDENA ARAR

LITTLE DARLINGS pits a poor little rich girl against a tough-talking tomboy in a race to see who will lose her virginity first — at an all-girl summer camp, no less.

It's admittedly a gimmicky premise for a film about growing up, but screenwriters Kimi Peck and Dalene Young and director Robert F. Maxwell carry it off with lots of humor, reasonable sensitivity and only minimal mawkishness.

Tatum O'Neal and Kristy McNichol are to be congratulated for turning the stereotyped protagonists into appealing young women, with Miss McNichol especially outstanding as the loner whose street smarts can only take her so far in her dealings with the boy camper across the lake.

They are backed by top-flight performances from a gaggle of adolescent bunkmates, particularly Krista Errickson as the precocious ringleader who engineers the contest. Rated R for subject and language; there's no on-screen action.

Moore To Play
More Eccentric
James Bond

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer
FFOLKES tries to portray Roger Moore as a cat-loving misogynist, but don't be fooled. The role is a slightly more eccentric James Bond, a death-defying superman who takes on a band of oil rig hijackers in the North Sea in Her Majesty's service.

Director Andrew McLaglen knows his way around an adventure movie, and he keeps the action moving and the characters larger than life but fairly plausible. Moore plays the title role, a troubleshooter who swigs whiskey from the bottle and does petit point, training his frogmen with brutal precision.

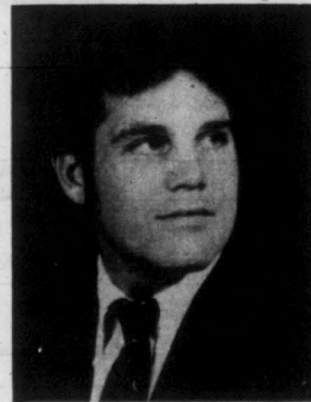

Adm. James Mason plays his reluctant partner with customary solidity, and Anthony Perkins and Michael Parks are the bad guys.

A standout in the excellent cast is Faith Brook as the British prime minister. A crackling good adventure. Rated PG, with a few naughty words and occasional violence.

ment is hidden in a match box. Holmes is asked to solve the disappearance of the document. Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, George Zucco. 1943.

Film Tries To Seize Creativeness

By BOB THOMAS

NIJINSKY is a brave effort to recapture the creative explosion that was the Ballet Russe. Director

Herbert Ross and co-producer Nora Kaye display the same good taste and kinetic sense of their "The Turning Point," but with less success.

The superb dancing is offset by a leaden plot that dwells on the relationship between Sergei Diaghilev and protege Nijinsky. Alan Bates is handsomely diabolical as the impresario, heavy-lidded George de la Pena exhibits both the dancing genius and the incipient madness of Nijinsky.

Less fortunate is Leslie Browne as the dancer's wife; her role is ill-defined and she is burdened with impossible lines. The rating is R, presumably because of the heavy content of homosexuality, plus one glimpse of nudity and simulation of on-stage masturbation.

TV WEEK

Wayne Revisited

John Wayne stars as a former Civil War colonel who battles corrupt carpetbaggers, in "Rio Lobo," to be rebroadcast as a special movie presentation, Saturday, May 3, on CBS.

"Rio Lobo," produced in 1970, is a typical Wayne western that features Jennifer O'Neill as his niece who is kidnapped. This is O'Neill's first movie, which she soon followed with her critically acclaimed role as a seductress in "Summer of '42."
