News In Brief

Labor Day Arts and Crafts Festival scheduled for Fenton Access Area

A record number of crafts people have registered to participate in the 1988 Labor Day Arts and Crafts Festival at the activities portion of the Fenton Access Area in Land Between the Lakes. Artisans from six states will exhibit and sell a broad range of items, including woodcrafts from toys and trunks to furniture, needlework and soft sculpture, quilts, baskets, porcelain and ceramics, stained glass, tile, jewelry and wearables.

A special area has been reserved for working crafts, where visitors will be able to watch craft workers exhibit their talents.

A special music area will be set up for entertainment from noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Food and drink concessions will be available for refreshments. The festival provides an excellent opportunity to find unusual gifts and items for the home, as well as a day of enjoyable browsing and entertainment.

The location for the festival is U.S. 68 just east of Aurora. Hours of the event will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, September 3, and Sunday, September 4. Parking is $1 per car.

For more information and for exhibitor registration contact Kentucky's Western Waterland, Route 1 Box 28A, Grand Rivers, Ky. 42045 or telephone (502) 928-4411.

Democrats' chances in West Kentucky eyed

GILBERTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hopeful Democrats say they believe western Kentucky, which supported Ronald Reagan overwhelmingly in the last presidential election, could come back to their party and support nominee Michael Dukakis in November.

"The tidal wave of support that will sweep Dukakis to the White House will begin in conservative areas like western Kentucky," said Bob Harper of Hebron. "Dukakis needs to get an area like this lined up for him and make it spread to other border states."

Some in the region call Dukakis a "mystery man," but Caldwell County Attorney Brent Caldwell is optimistic.

"Nobody knows much about Dukakis, but they were real impressed with the way he handled the vice presidential selection," he said. "People I've talked to were very encouraged about Bentsen being put on the ticket." The 1984 Republican victory in the 1st Congressional District happened despite a 2-1 Democratic voter registration advantage in the far-western region.

The major parties have been courting Kentucky and its nine electoral votes this year. Dukakis visited the state a week ago. Bentsen attended the Fancy Farm picnic Saturday and George Bush was in Louisville in June.

Dukakis will need the support of western Kentucky's "Reagan Democrats" in order to win, said

Shultz says that he's not intimidated by bombing

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz, unscathed by a bomb attack blamed on cocaine traffickers, later praised Bolivian efforts he said have put drug lords on the run in this cradle of coca cultivation.

The U.S. envoy, whose visit intended in part to express U.S. support for Bolivia's stepped up anti-drug efforts, told reporters he was not "intimidated by the tactic of using violence to try to scare government officials."

A remote-controlled bomb damaged three cars in Shultz' 11-vehicle motorcade as he drove to La Paz from the airport Monday morning.

The blast ruptured a tire and blew out three windows, including one next to Shultz's wife Helena, who was not riding with her husband. Another bomb went off at dawn Monday at the U.S. Embassy commissary in La Paz.

State's rainfall still well below normal

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Despite above-normal precipitation during the past four weeks, rainfall levels since April 1 were still well below normal in Kentucky, a report said.

Soil moisture supplies as of Friday were rated 13 percent very short, 60 percent short and 27 percent adequate, the Kentucky Agricultural Statistics Service said Monday.

Kentucky's corn crop improved to 12 percent very poor, 42 percent poor, 38 percent fair and 8 percent good. Corn prospects were highly variable depending on timely showers and planting date, the report said, but July and early July drought caused more damage to corn than any other row crop.

As of Sunday, 10 percent of the corn had reached the dent stage, compared with a year ago, when 32 percent was in the dent stage. The five-year average is 16 percent.

A few fields were being harvested for silage and forage as farmers tried to salvage some feed from drought-stricken fields, the report said.

The soybean crop showed marked improvement with 1 percent rated very poor, 3 percent poor, 62 percent fair and 34 percent good. Many of the beans were small and were expected to be heavily dependent on August and September rains, the service said.

The latest planted soybeans will also need frost-free weather at least through October, the report said.

As of Sunday, soybeans were 72 percent blooming or beyond with 24 percent of the soybean plants setting pods. The 28 percent not yet blooming were primarily double-crop soybeans.

Burley and dark tobacco continued to improve, and recent rains were expected to help the crop size. Tobacco condition was primarily fair to good, but there was considerable variation in size, the report said.

Only remaining drought-relief suspense: when will it happen?

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Senate passage of the $3.9 billion drought relief bill, the only suspense remaining about the measure's final congressional approval is when it will happen.

The Senate gave its assent Monday on a 92-0 vote. Just a few minutes earlier, the House cleared the way for expedited consideration of the measure, which could come as early as today.

"There's no question about passage," Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said Monday. "It's just by how many votes."

The measure — the biggest federal emergency relief bill ever passed for farmers — is aimed at the hundreds of thousands of farmers and ranchers who have been buffeted by one of the worst droughts in the nation's history. Growers in the Eastern cornbelt and the Northern plains have been

Douglass High schedules 19th reunion event

Douglass High School's 19th Gala Reunion will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The activities will open with an alumni meeting for the election of officers, committees, etc., on Thursday at 7 p.m. at Ruling Star Lodge building on Walnut Street.

A western party will be Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Curris Center, Murray State University. A prize will be given for the "best dressed in western style." Refreshments will be served and a d.j. will be present to provide music from 1940 to 1988. Saturday's activities will begin at 10 a.m. at Willis Center on L.P. Miller Street, at the site of the old Douglass High School before it was consolidated with the other city schools.

At the banquet at 5:30 p.m. at Holiday Inn on Saturday, the former students who played with the Bull Dogs of Douglass High School will be recognized.

Many awards will be presented including the L.P. Miller Athletic Award and the L.B. Tinsley Academic Award. The hospitality hour will be from 5:30 to 6 p.m.

with the dinner from 6 to 8 p.m. A dance will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Curris Center, Murray State University, to close the reunion activities.

Tickets are $2 for western night, $10 for Saturday night dinner and $4 for closing dance. These may be purchased on Friday night and Saturday morning.

The Miller Athletic Award is in honor of L.P. Miller who served as principal of Douglass High School until it closed in 1967. He then became assistant principal at Murray High School until his retirement in 1974.

Miller, born and reared in Calloway County, attended Pleasant Hill Elementary School, graduated from high school and later from Kentucky State College, Frankfort. He did graduate work at University of Kentucky and Murray State University.

During his years at Kentucky State, he excelled in football while working and maintaining a high scholastic average. Miller financed his education by working at the college after football season.

He began his teaching career at Douglass High and in addition to teaching, he coached football and basketball. During his coaching career, Douglass took on such opponents as Manassa High of Memphis, Lincoln of East St. Louis and Central High of Louisville. Douglass defeated Central, one of the largest high schools in the state, in a 20-6 contest during his tenure as coach.

Physical improvements after Miller became principal at Douglass included completion of the gymnasium and installation of lights on the football field. Academically, courses added were typing, manual training, art, music, improvement of science department and organization of a band.

Miller married the former Bessie Noland in 1931 and they have four sons and two daughters. The Douglass High School yearbook was dedicated to him in 1949 and the Murray High School yearbook in 1971. He was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame at Kentucky state in 1975, and was recently honored as a member of the Kentucky State University's golden anniversary class.

In 1977 Second Street in Murray was renamed L.P. Miller Street in his honor.

The Tinsley Academic Award is in honor of L.B. Tinsley of Detroit, Mich., who served as principal of Douglass High School from 1937 to 1945.

He has served as a teacher and principal for 47 years in various schools; was an instructor in Tennessee State University Extension program. He has served pastorates for 55 years in Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Tinsley sponsored and raised educational funds for training of young men for the ministry.

The Tinsley Awards will be presented to a high school student who has achieved "educational excellence," according to Dennis Jackson, one of the organizers of the annual reunion.

Shultz...

No injuries were reported in either blast.

Police said the roadway bomb, believed to be several sticks of dynamite, was set off by someone on a hill overlooking the road seconds after Shultz' car passed. The blast tore up pavement and threw rocks across the road.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility, but Foreign Minister Guillermo Bedregal said both bombings were the work of cocaine traffickers.

In Washington, the State Department said a team of U.S. agents would fly to Bolivia today to help officials investigate the bombing.

After giving a talk entitled "Winning The War Against Narcotics" at a La Paz hotel on Monday evening, Shultz left through a back exit under extremely tight security and was driven to the airport for a flight to Costa Rica.

This time, the airport road was cordoned off.

The 67-year-old Shultz has been secretary of state since 1982. He has traveled widely during that time but has never before been attacked.

In his talk to government officials and business leaders, Shultz praised Bolivia's cooperation with the United States in recent anti-drug efforts.

Suspense...

hit particularly hard. According to the Department of Agriculture, 43 percent of the country was suffering from severe or extreme drought in mid-July, the fourth worst percentage since the government began keeping the statistics in 1895. The highest measurement was made in 1934, when 61 percent of the nation's area was similarly parched.

The government estimated last month that the country's corn crop will be down from a normal year by 29 percent, barley production down 42 percent, oats down 43 percent and spring wheat down 51 percent.

The Agriculture Department has estimated that the government's regular farm payments would be about $7 billion lower than expected this year — not including the cost of this bill — because of the drought. Supporters of the legislation say those savings will more than pay for the costs of the assistance.

President Reagan is expected to sign the bill quickly. Department of Agriculture officials say they believe it will take about two months for the assistance to reach the farmers.

Democrats...

Lloyd Clapp, a former Democratic state representative from Wingo in Graves County.

"The full-fledged Democrats will go with Dukakis. It's the swing votes right now that are so important," Clapp said. "If Bentsen hadn't been on the ticket already, I think we Democrats in conservative areas would be seeing things quite differently at this point."

Some at the Fancy Farm picnic said the outlook for Democrats could change considerably between now and November.

"It's a little early to tell who is going to win here," said state Sen. Greg Higdon, D-Fancy Farm. "Right now though, I feel like everybody is looking for a change. Dukakis is building confidence with a lot of people out here."

MCMA mails out '88-89 membership brochures

Over 1,000 membership brochures are in the mail in preparation for Murray Civic Music Association's 1988-89 membership drive.

Patron support aids in bringing concerts of the highest quality to Murray and the surrounding area. This support also allows special performances for area school children such as the Chinese Golden Acrobats and Magicians of Taipei, which will be presented this season for Murray and Calloway County elementary children.

For the season's opening concert on Oct. 6, duo-pianists Yarbrough and Cowan, America's premiere husband-and-wife team, will perform classical music with their own 7-foot Hamburg Steinways.

Australia's leading chamber music group, the Australia Ensemble, will be the second concert of the season on Nov. 15. The Ensemble is comprised of string trio, flute, clarinet and piano.

The third offering is the Chinese Golden Acrobats and Magicians of Taipei with a special children's performance on Jan. 31.

Mr. Jack Daniels's Original Silver Cornet Band will bring down the final curtain on the season with their nationally famous hometown fun on March 7.

The broad range of attractions for the 1987-88 season should appeal to everyone, particularly since there is a reciprocity arrangement with the Paducah series which allows members of both associations to attend all of the Murray and Paducah offerings.

The Paducah concerts are:

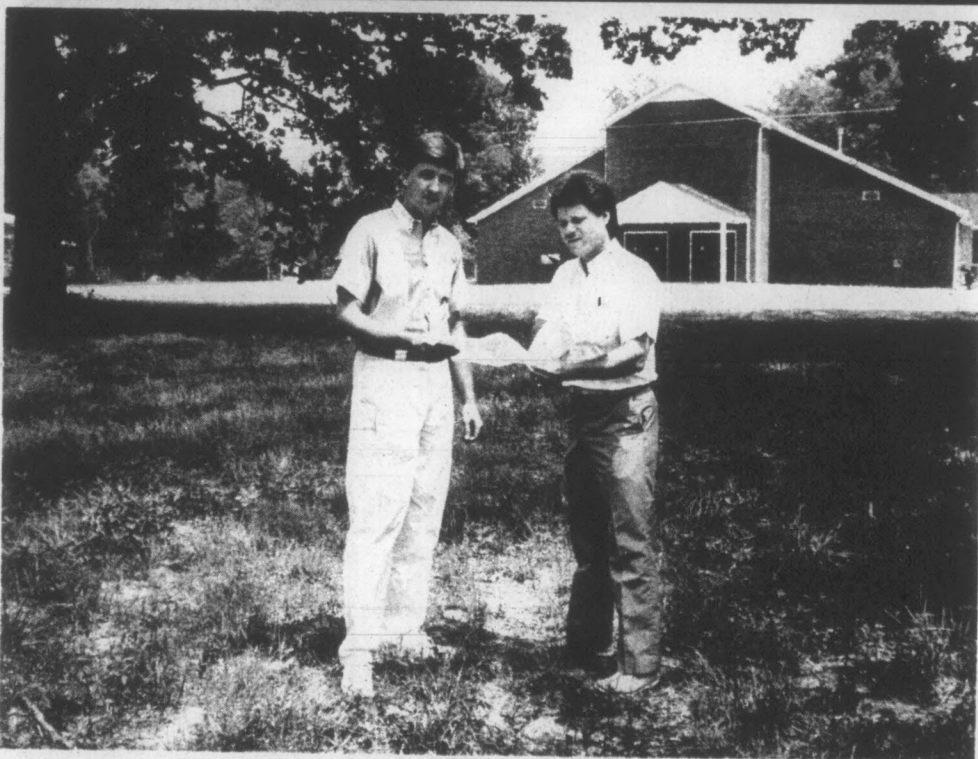

Arthur Woodley, baritone, Oct. 4; Alexandra Quartet, Nov. 7; Some Enchanted Evening (over 40 songs from Rogers and Hammerstein), Jan. 22; and Nine Svetlanova, pianist, Apr. 25.

The MCMA membership drive will be conducted the week of Aug. 29 through Sept. 2 with headquarters at the Bank of Murray's downtown branch. Richard "Doc" Farrell is in charge of the headquarters which will operate during regular banking hours. The phone number is 753-0711.

Making plans

Randy Shelton, left, and Darrell Gibson of Heartland Ministries look over the proposed construction plans for a parcel of land donated to them by Jack Dunnigan of Hardin Grain Company that will be used for the site of their forthcoming Christian radio station. The property, which came to just over one-half acre, was chosen because of its central location to Marshall, Calloway and Graves counties as well as the Kentucky Lake region. According to Shelton, Heartland Ministries' application for a station is in its final stages and could be on the air by the first of the year. The 5,000-watt, non-commercial station is currently being considered for 90.5 FM on the radio dial. Area residents wanting to learn more about Heartland Ministries or the radio station can contact Shelton at 930 Pine Street, Benton, Ky. or by telephoning (502) 527-9040.

Letters to the editor

Ross rejects legal sale idea

To the Editor:

Here we go again with a special election concerning alcohol being sold in Murray. Greed, a craving for alcohol and foolishness lead the "progressive" campaign once again.

I sure wish we would listen to what we are hearing. There are national ad campaigns on television about alcohol and its drinking. "What are these ads saying? Why is Mothers Against Drunk Drivers in existence? Where is common sense?"

We are again asked to throw caution to the wind and vote to bring the sale of this drug into our community. Why? Except for greed, addiction, and foolishness there is no reason for wanting to court this drug into a sales promotion in our community. Amidst national efforts to voluntarily "just say no to drugs" we are now asked to just say yes to the sale of alcohol and call that progressive. My fellow Murrayans, please listen to what you are hearing.

Where is the leadership of Murray? It is in your vote. There are more than drunk drivers of pickup trucks that are going in the wrong direction because of alcohol. Some people will lead you in the opposite direction who are certainly under the influence of alcohol whether it be financial greed, craving of the drug of alcohol or the foolishness of the young. Maybe not being able to live in Murray without the sale of alcohol is a sign of addiction.

Maybe having this vote every three years is a sign of addiction.

There are really good things going for Murray. Steve Zea and others have done a super job in presenting our city in the light of national attention. People from all over our nation are wanting to come and live in our community. I am proud of Murray, Kentucky. I am proud of Murray State University. I am proud that we do not have the sale of alcohol in our town. "After all this is the twenty-first century," and we have made it without alcohol. This all goes to prove that we can have a successful community without the sale of alcohol. Alcohol and the National Boy Scout Museum are a contradiction in ideals.

We are hearing that there are people who want to come to our town the way it is. Yet there are those locally and even from Paducah who think we ought to have alcohol available here like water. I have known people who do not like to live in Murray, and they don't. But there is a growing number of people who do want to live here, like myself.

I think it is wonderful that others from far away states are wanting to come to Murray, KY. We are surely doing something right. Let's stick to it. Let's keep doing what is right. I urge you to use common sense and vote "no" on September 27.

Dean Ross

Murray, Ky.

Green: vote 'no' to alcohol

Dear editor:

We are being challenged once again by those who would like to put saloons and taverns in Murray. I took a public stand against it three years ago, and I am doing so again this year!

I urge you to take such a stand, also! Come to the organizational meeting of the "Dry League" on Monday, August 15, at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 208 S. 4th St. Find out what we can do together to keep taverns out of Murray. Let's keep Murray a safe place to raise our families.

Sincerely,
Thomas L. Green, M.D.

Birthday coverage appreciated

Dear Editor:

On behalf of my mother, Nona Peterson, I wish to thank The Murray Ledger and Times for the fine photograph and coverage of her 102nd birthday.

Many thanks also to the administration and staff of West View Nursing Home who did so much to help celebrate her birthday. My mother very much appreciates the many cards and flowers and all those who visited her.

Sincerely,
Clell Peterson

Looking Back

Ten years ago

Murray-Calloway County Jaycees will begin a cleanup of junk cars in Murray and Calloway County this week, according to Dave King, chairman of the project committee.

Births reported include a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lovett, Aug. 7.

Geneva Cooper, Oleta Burkeen, Vida Trenholm, Emajean Thurman, Marti Erwin and Linda Clark attended convention of American Nurses Association held at Honolulu, Hawaii, June 11-16.

Twenty years ago

The largest summer class in the history of Murray State University was graduated Aug. 2. Awarded were 193 bachelor's degrees and 166 master's degrees.

Kenlake State Park was the site for "Mason" family reunion held during the week of July 28 to Aug. 3 with Max Mason and Neale Mason of Indianapolis, Ind., as hosts. Present were 62 relatives from seven states.

Births reported include a girl to Mr. and Mrs. William Spearman, July 15, and a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arteberry, Aug. 1.

Thirty years ago

Murray was host on Aug. 6 to representatives of Agriculture Councils from over the state. They visited several businesses in the area.

Rotary District Governor W.T. Forsee of Owenton spoke Aug. 7 at a meeting of Murray Rotary Club at Murray Woman's Club House.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Sisk will leave this week for Stillwater, Okla., where Mr. Sisk will work on his Master's degree and teach at Oklahoma State University.

Forty years ago

Congressman Virgil Chapman and U.S. Representative Noble J. Gregory were reelected in the Democratic Primary Election on Aug. 7.

Jimmy Dublin and Charley White of Hazel High School Chapter of Future Farmers of America attended the 19th annual convention of Kentucky FFA at Louisville, Aug. 5-7.

The Rev. George Bell, pastor of First Methodist Church, and his family will be honored at a reception on Aug. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ray and sons, Rob and Ronald, and Miss Evelyn Dell Cain are vacationing at Lookout Mountain, Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Blue Grass Region and Mammoth Cave National Park.

Hospital visit from Fuzzy Zoeller chips up short

My Parker Ford salesman friend, Keith Williams, was among the herd of Murray folks who braved the heat this weekend in Memphis to watch the touring golf pros shoot for that $171,000 first-place check in the Federal Express St. Jude Classic at the Colonial Country Club.

Keith spent much of his time walking along with the twosome in which Fuzzy Zoeller was playing with Bob Tway.

Fuzzy is a crowd favorite, one of the real "clown princes of golf." I've never had the opportunity to meet him or see him play — other than on television — but you can easily see that he is a very personable young man. He plays the game so relaxed he reminds us old timers of Julius Boros.

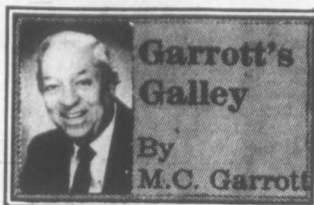

He is well known for his good-natured banter with the spectators who follow him, and for his humorous shenanigans on the course. Everybody, it seems, loves Fuzzy Zoeller.

Fuzzy lives in the Louisville area, as does Jodie Mudd, the young fellow who picked up the $171,000 first-place check Sunday.

It was Mudd's first win on the professional tour, although he has finished second a couple of times — both in playoffs after tying for the win. Fuzzy has nine big tour wins to his credit — including the Master's at Augusta, Ga., and a raft of other prestigious ones.

He lives in New Albany, Ind., which is just across the Ohio River from Louisville, and his wife is a daughter of Jim Thornton, the head man of Thornton Oil Company, which headquarters in Louisville. Mr. Thornton also happens to be the big boss of our son-in-law, Dick Snider.

As is just about everyone in Louisville, Fuzzy and the Thorntons are big University of Louisville basketball fans. So is Dick, who has been privileged on several occasions to go along with them on a company plane when the Cardinals would get into the NCAA's Final Four, and on a couple occasions win the national championship.

He has become well acquainted with Fuzzy, and thinks he is a great guy — easy to talk with and be around.

While I was in Norton Hospital in Louisville not long ago, I almost had a personal visit from Fuzzy.

Dick and daughter Kay had been invited to a Saturday night dinner party at the Zoeller home. Later, Kay related what a thrill it was to see the home and, especially, Fuzzy's trophy case.

"I thought of you, Dad," she told me, "when I ran my hands over the big Master's trophy. You would have enjoyed seeing all those trophies — a room full of them." She was right. I would have enjoyed that.

Anyway, Dick had an opportunity to talk with Fuzzy at the party, and told him that Kay's dad was in Norton Hospital. He asked if he might find the time to stop by the hospital and visit me. "It would mean a lot to Pop," he said, "and it would really pep him up. He has been pretty sick."

"I would, and I would love to do that," he later quoted Fuzzy as saying, "but I've got to catch a plane at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for New York." He was to play in the West Chester tournament the following week.

Instead, he took a beautiful and enlarged color picture of himself and wrote across the bottom of it in a big, sprawling hand: "Hurry and get well, M.C.! Best wishes, Fuzzy Zoeller."

Dick brought it to me at the hospital the next day, and our oldest son, Steve, who just happened to be in Louisville checking on old Dad, took it back to his Alabama home to frame it up real nice for me.

Like his dad, though, he is a pretty good procrastinator, and I've yet to receive it. But, one of these days, he promises me, it will hang in my office.

Wouldn't that have been something, though, having such a famous professional golfer as Fuzzy to walk into the unit and ask for Mr. Garrett! In the minds of the other patients and the nurses, I know my stock would have gone up 20 points!

Next year, the 1989 Federal Express St. Jude Classic will be played as usual in Memphis but on a new and different course, one which is not far from the Colonial Club where it has been played for a long time now. They call the new course Southwind, the same name as the big residential development of which it is a part.

Designed by Fuzzy and Herbert Green, another of the top pros, along with well known golf architect Ron Prichard, the new course is expected to be a little tougher test of golf than that offered by the Colonial.

The 216-acre championship course is being surrounded by real expensive homes. Most of the original 77 homesites already have been purchased in Phase One of the development. Phase Two is well underway, adding 70 more lots, 53 garden homes and 692 luxury apartments. It definitely will be no place for peasants!

But, beginning in 1989, the new Southwind course will become the permanent home of Danny Thomas' Federal Express St. Jude Classic in Memphis, the closest of the professional tour tournaments to us here in Murray.

I did get a phone call from Congressman Carroll Hubbard the morning following the May 23 primary election and right after he had swamped that fellow who rushed in from Florida was going to save all us poor West Kentuckians from the Lord-only-knows-what.

Whatever happened to him anyway, the last I heard of him, he had high-tailed it back to Florida.

Another phone call came from Jackie Hayes, the pretty young thing from Paris, Tenn., and Murray State who has made such a name for herself as a television news "anchor."

Jackie, now a mother and wife of a young Louisville businessman, is with station WAVE-TV in Louisville after moving back to Kentucky from one of television's biggest markets — Philadelphia.

I had her pegged to some day take Jane Pauley's place on NBC's early morning Today Show, but she gave all that up to return to Kentucky where the pace is less hectic and so she could spend more time with her family.

She had the day off — a Friday — the morning she called me and said she was "parking the car right now to go down home (Paris, Tenn.) for the weekend." She promised to come to see me the following week, but, apparently, she wasn't able to work that into her busy schedule.

I first met Jackie when she was a freshman at Murray State. She had just been elected "National Rodeo Queen" and had spoken to the Murray Rotary Club. Afterwards, she was gracious enough to visit with me for a few minutes, the notes which gave me one of my favorite columns.

I've followed her career since — first with WPSD-TV in Paducah, then WHAS-TV in Louisville, then the Philadelphia station, and now back to Louisville.

Two other former WPSD-TV personalities also hold key spots on the Louisville stations. Gary Rodemeier is with WHAS-TV, while Vicki Dortch is with the other major station in Louisville, WKLY-TV.

Not bad for old Murray State, the little school down here in the boondocks of Western Kentucky. Not bad at all.

Thoughts In Season

By Ken Wolf

Perhaps no modern psychologist had any greater insight into human nature than the 17th century "moralist" Francois de la

Rochefoucauld. "Our virtues," he wrote, are most often but our vices disguised."

Think about that — then try to scientifically disprove it...or prove it!

Remember the 10th

The 10th of each month is a very important date to your newspaper carrier. Your carrier must receive your payment by the 10th of the month in order to pay their bill.

You see, these carriers are independent business men and women. They buy their papers from us at wholesale cost and sell them to you at the retail delivery rate. When you don't pay them by the 10th they have to dig down into their own pockets to make up the difference.

Please pay your carrier promptly before the 10th of each month. They depend on you to write their pay checks.

Collection time can be an inconvenience for you and your carrier.

So...paying by mail is a simple way to avoid getting caught without the right change and you avoid the bother of monthly collection.

We're Glad
You AskedWHAT DOCUMENTS WILL
MY FAMILY NEED AT THE TIME OF MY DEATH?

One of the most frustrating responsibilities of a spouse or family, at time of death, can be that of locating important papers and documents. A current and updated listing of these papers can, indeed, be a benefit to survivors.

This is a difficult task for anyone to do because no one really wants to anticipate death or even prepare for it. On the other hand, you would be doing a real service to your family if you follow through on this. Make a list of your documents, indicating where each is.

The type of such papers and documents, along with location, might include: 1) your will, 2) Social Security papers, Veteran's records, 3) cemetery deed, 4) insurance policies, 5) such certificates as birth, marriage, organization and/or union membership, educational, military, 6) bank accounts and safety deposit boxes, 7) financial papers such as mortgages, contracts, promissory notes, negotiable papers, stocks, bonds, trust funds, 8) all recent tax returns or W2 forms.

Sometimes this information turns up information about assets either forgotten about or not known of by the survivors.

Workman and McConnell vows said

Miss Laura Lee Workman of Rock Hill, S.C., and James Hemphill McConnell of Greenville, S.C., were married on Saturday, June 18, at 7 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, Rock Hill.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Richard E. Hanners of Rock Hill and of Bobby Z. Workman of Columbus, Miss.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Pelletier of Columbus, Miss., the late Albert Earl Owen of Memphis, and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Workman of Murray.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Charles H. Patrick and Heyward R. McConnell, both of Greenville. He is the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Hemphill of Charlotte, N.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of bombazine taffeta and Chantilly lace.

The dress featured a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the hands. The fitted bodice was adorned with pearls and irridescent. The full skirt with lace paneled front and bustle with a bow centered in the back extended into a cathedral train.

Her chapel length illusion veil with puffs of net at the back was held by a circlet of silk flowers and pearls.

Mrs. Catherine White Cobb of Rock Hill was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Liesl Case of Cayce, S.C., Nancy Fenters of Florence, S.C., Marianne Long of New York, N.Y., and Sandra Freeman of Charleston, S.C.

The attendants wore full length gowns of bright fuchsia taffeta with fitted bodices and full skirts with bustles and bows.

Angela Elton of Phoenix, Ariz., niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white dress.

The groom's father served as best man.

Groomsmen were Owen Workman of Huntsville, Ala., brother of the bride, Scott Hanners, Rock Hill, and Ross McConnell, Christopher McConnell and Patrick McConnell, all of Greenville, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. James Hemphill McConnell

Andrew Patrick Jr., Greenville, was ring bearer.

A reception followed at the Rock Hill Woman's Club.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to Ontario, Canada and Niagara Falls.

The new Mr. and Mrs. McConnell are residing in Columbia, S.C., where she is a graduate student in chemistry at the University of South Carolina and he is employed by the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hugh Patrick Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Heyward Ross McConnell at the Elks Club, Rock Hill.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Burkeen of Murray; Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Dunn, Miss Deborah Dunn, Miss Ashley Tustian and Christopher Tustian, Atlanta, Ga.

ATTEND CONFERENCE - Twenty-two employees of Calloway School cafeterias recently attended an annual two-day conference in Louisville. The opening banquet featured Jane Wynn, Florida, president of National School Food Service Association. Attendees sampled the latest in school foods exhibited by brokers and food distributors. They also attended sessions designed to improve job performance. Pictured, from left, sitting, Mavis Stone, Carol Dick, Candice Jenkins, Jennie Carroll, Renea McDougal, Janice McCuiston, Annette Coles, Betty Darnell; standing, Mildred Adams, Tillie Geurin, Glenda Byerly, Joan Cooper, Delorise Boggess, Carlene Torsak, Jeanette Garland, Melissa Rowland, Freda Armstrong, Jean Barger, Ernestine Hargis, Margie Woodall and Joanna Adams, food service director for Calloway County Schools.

Sense and Nonsense Are At The Core of Big Apple Name

DEAR READERS: Every now and then someone asks, "Why is New York City called the Big Apple?" I asked my readers. Here's a sample of the responses:

DEAR ABBY: The Bible tells us that the apple was forbidden fruit. (Remember, the serpent in the Garden of Eden dared Adam to eat the apple?) Well, from that time on, the apple signified temptation. And since New York City is the most tempting city in the world, the traveling men named New York City the Big Apple.

My grandfather was a traveling salesman and told me this.

NORMAN IN NEWARK

DEAR ABBY: I once read a story written by a man who used to travel with a circus. He said that when they referred to the town they would be playing next, they called it the "apple." All entertainers hoped that one day they would play New York — the choice spot, the "big one," or "the big apple," and that is how New York City came to be known as the Big Apple.

CORNELL THOMPSON, HOUSTON

DEAR ABBY: I have researched the Big Apple appellation given to New York City. I offer the following: Sir Isaac Newton, who discovered the universe's gravitation force, was sitting under an apple tree in New York, when an apple fell from the tree and struck him in the head. He picked it up and said "Wow, that was a big apple!"

Due to his fame as a scientist, New York City was called the Big Apple.

THOMAS E. PENDERGAST

DEAR ABBY: "The Big Apple" was the name of a song which inspired a dance wherein a small group made a circle, held hands and danced to a lively beat. A gossip columnist named Walter Winchell made it popular in 1930. It took New York City by storm — that is why they call New York City the Big Apple.

A. NOLAN, ATLANTA

DEAR ABBY: New York City was named the Big Apple because during the Depression of 1929-1930, all the banks closed and many people were suddenly unemployed so they stood on the street corners and sold apples for a nickel apiece. There were so many apple stands in New York City, they called it the Big Apple.

MRS. LEONARD COOKSON, PARADISE VALLEY, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: As a former resident of New York, I believe it came to be known as the Big Apple because New York grows the most varied apples of any state in the union. For example: Delicious, Rome, McIntosh, Baldwins, Golden Delicious, Spy Greivies, Jonathon, etc. Hence the name, the Big Apple.

N. WHITMAN, LAUDERDALE LAKES, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I saw a letter in your column from a reader asking why New York City is known the world over as the Big Apple.

Back in the 1920s and '30s, people in the entertainment world — particularly jazz musicians — talked about making it to the top of the tree. To "play" New York City was to make the big time, or the "big apple," which was a jazz term. Today, New York City remains the No. 1 visitor destination in the world, thanks to both the New York City Convention and Visitors' Bureau's efforts and the state's own "I Love New York" statewide tourism campaign. Last year, we welcomed 17.8 million visitors to the Big Apple — over 3 million of them from overseas.

So, we welcome the world — and especially you and your readers.

Come and enjoy all of New York state's beauty, history, culture and unlimited recreation, from Buffalo to the Big Apple!

Hamlin man injured in accident

Glenard C. Helm, 78, Hamlin, is listed in fair condition at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital following a two-car accident on South 12th Street Monday, according to police and hospital reports.

Helm was attempting to cross 12th Street to go south from the Auto Shack parking lot at approximately 4:47 p.m. when he pulled in to the path of another car, driven by James W. Toney, 31, Rt. 1, Murray, according to the police report.

Toney swerved to avoid the Helm vehicle, but the two collided in the turn lane and skidded across the south-bound lanes, the report indicated. Toney was treated and released at the hospital.

New Western leader has deep ties to state

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Strong administrative experience and a knack for public relations are among the qualifications that Thomas Meredith will bring to his new job as president of Western Kentucky University, those who know him say.

"He has had extensive experience in the day-to-day operation of the University of Mississippi. He has very good ideas," said WKU regent Hughlyne Wilson of Prospect. "He comes highly recommended."

Meredith is "very much a realist in terms of what's possible in academics," said Mike Harrell, chairman of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education.

The 46-year-old administrator is a vice chancellor at Ole Miss but has deep roots in Kentucky.

He was born and raised in Owensboro, where he attended Kentucky Wesleyan College on a basketball scholarship.

An only child, Meredith's parents worked for Owensboro Municipal Utilities. His father, Thomas Logan Meredith, died while his son was in college.

At least four generations of Meredith's family lived in the Owensboro area, according to his mother, Charlotte Meredith. His grandmother's family, the Ben-nets, held the first land deed in Ohio County, she said.

Meredith taught social studies at Owensboro High School and worked on a master's degree at Western after from college in 1963.

Owensboro businessman Joe Iracane, who is chairman of the board of regents at Western, taught at Owensboro High School at the same time as Meredith.

In 1971 the Owensboro native earned a doctorate in education from the University of Mississippi in Oxford and took a job as an administrator in the Jeffersonville, Ind., public school system.

He returned to Mississippi to work for the board that governs the state's universities in 1974, overseeing academic programs and planning.

Ten years later he joined Ole Miss as an assistant to the chancellor, who is the university's top administrator, and became vice chancellor for executive affairs in March 1987.

Earlier last year he was a finalist for the job of executive director of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education. But Meredith withdrew his name from consideration, saying he wanted to continue working on campus rather than in a state job.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Donnye Story

Pallbearers were Mitchell Johnson, Art Bailey Jr., Chris Bailey, Richard Story, Ralph Story, Dale Thomason, Robert Trenholm, Tyrone Hancock and Jimmy Brandon, all grandsons and grandsons-in-law.

Entombment was in mausoleum at Murray Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Story, 85, Rt. 1, Murray, died Saturday at 6:55 p.m. at Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

She is survived by her husband, Festus Story; two daughters, Mrs. Bobby (Sara) Johnson and Mrs. Arthur (Anna) Bailey, Murray; two sons, Randolph Story and wife, Jean, Murray, and J.R. Story and wife, Evelyn, Lone Oak; 12 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Lorah Ashcraft

Mrs. Lorah Ashcraft, 98, of 1608 Magnolia, Murray, died this morning at West View Nursing Home. Her husband, Glen C. (G.C.) Ashcraft, died in 1969.

She had retired from the office of the Registrar at Murray State University. Prior to that time she had been an elementary school teacher and had served as hostess at Murray Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ashcraft was a member of First United Methodist Church and United Methodist Women. She had been a member of the Murray Woman's Club for over 50 years.

Born June 23, 1890, in Green County, Ind., she was the daughter of the late David Terhune and Sarah Thompson Terhune.

James Henley

Mr. James W. Henley of Route 5 Mayfield died Monday evening in his home at 8:45 p.m. He was 68.

Mr. Henley is survived by his wife, Johnnie Reed Henley; one son, Robert Henley, of Mayfield; two brothers, Crawford Henley and Ralph Henley; five sisters, Saint L. Williams, Novell Hubbs, Lucy Madden, Miltie Champion, and Louise Copland; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. at Bryn Chapel in Mayfield with the Rev. Ronnie Stinson presiding. Burial will follow at Smith Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be David Collins, Glen Tynes, Red Johnson, Charles Stamper, Elmer Byrd, J.B. Brien, and Frank Champion.

Born in Pope County, Ark. on September 14, 1919, Mr. Henley was a member of Mel Olive Methodist Church in Mayfield and was a retired employee of Mayfield's Sweetseed Mill. Mr. Henley was as well a veteran of World War II.

Friends and relatives may call the funeral home today after 5 p.m.

Clarification

One of the names of Harry Lee Waterfield's surviving daughters was incorrect in the obituary. The daughter is Nancy Walton.

Center of room should be located first when installing floor tiles

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Properly installing resilient floor tiles requires that the center of the room be located first. Laying the tile without taking this step, which is sometimes done by novice do-it-yourselfers, produces a hit-or-miss result. If you miss, the tiles will not be lined up correctly.

Use the professional way of locating the room center. Coat a string with ordinary chalk or buy one already chalked. Hardware stores and home centers usually sell them. When that has been done, mark the centers of the two end walls of the room. Ignore irregularities of contour. Drive two nails into the floor just a bit, so that they extend only about an inch above the surface. Tie the chalked string on to the nails so that you have a taut line. If it is tight enough, it will leave a chalk mark on the floor as you snap it with your fingers. Do it more than once if necessary to get a clear line.

Repeat the procedure on the two opposite walls. Now you have two chalked lines that cross each other. The spot where they cross is the center of the room for your purposes. To be certain you have done everything right, make a test. Measure four feet from the center along one line and make a dot. Do the same toward the opposite wall and make another dot. The third time measure three feet from the center along a line going towards an end wall. Again make a dot. When you measure the distance between dots one and three, each should be five feet. If they are, go ahead with the job. If they aren't, you have made a mistake somewhere and must find out what it is before you proceed.

Your next move is to place some uncemented tiles on the floor, starting at the center and going towards one wall. Do the same going towards a wall in another direction, which leaves the uncemented tiles at right angles. Your objective is to see you leave similar borders at the walls. If not, make the necessary adjustments. You are looking for borders that will be more than two or three inches. This not only will assure you the tiles will have even borders but that they will be easier to cut and put in place. Without the method, which is a lot easier done than said, you might wind up with a large border on one side and a narrow, unworkable border opposite it. With cemented tiles, you leave the backing on during this procedure.

If the floor is in bad shape, cover it with underlayment before laying the tiles. This can be either plywood or hardboard. Get the 4-by-4 size, since it is much easier to handle than the standard 4-by-8 sheets. Ask your dealer to sell you the special kind of nails required for the installation of the underlayment. The nails should be spaced about six inches apart, with about 1-16th of an inch between the underlayment material. Whether or not you use underlayment, be certain all loose boards are nailed down.

Always follow the manufacturer's recommendations about whether the tile can be laid on floors below grade. If, for example, you are contemplating installing resilient floor tiles in a basement. Get that straight with the dealer before you purchase the tile. This is especially important if your basement floor is concrete in contact with soil.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE® BOBBY WOLFF

"We thought, because we had power, we had wisdom."
— Stephen Vincent Benet.

Most players realize that possession of the ace of trumps often confers special powers to a defender who holds it. Unfortunately too many players fail to put the ace to good use.

South won the first spade and banded down his king of trumps.

"Can't get one any bigger," chanted West as he took his ace. Back came another spade and South won again. South then drew one more trump and ruffed his small spade in dummy. When East couldn't overruff, South crossed to his diamond ace to draw the last trump, claiming 10 tricks for game and rubber. Was there any way to beat the game?

The game fails if West recognizes the power of the ace of trumps. Instead of winning the first lead of trumps, West should duck. If South leads another trump, West should win and lead a third round. The defenders then take a trick in each suit for one down.

If South doesn't lead a second trump, the game fails anyway. When he tries to ruff the third round of spades, East overruffs, and once again the defenders take four tricks.

The ace of trumps is a most important card. Don't release it just to win a trick.

AP Newsfeatures

As nature abhors a vacuum, metal abhors the combination of air and moisture. Those two ingredients continually attack metal in the form of rust and corrosion. Keep them away from metal and the rust-corrosion process is stopped before it begins.

While paint is the traditional defense against rust because it seals out the corrosive forces, the fact is that such things as air conditioners, gutters, hinges, locks and hundreds of other items around the house are attacked and fouled by rust. Wear and the elements take their toll on paint. It requires only the tiniest break in the sealed surface to permit the entry of air and moisture. While air and moisture begin the corrosion, pollutants such as salt, carbon, sulphur dioxide and dozens of other chemicals and elements accelerate the deterioration. More and more we are resorting to coating systems that provide long-lasting, rust-fighting qualities. The idea is to prevent the rust, or, if it already has started, keep it from spreading.

While the new fast-drying coatings are ideally suited for use on metal, wood, masonry and galvanized iron and aluminum, it is vital the items being treated are cleaned and prepared prior to coating applications. The removal of loose rust is essential to the long-term performance of any rust preventive coating. Rust scale, loose paint or anything that isn't solidly attached must be taken off with a wire brush or scraper. Dust, grease and oil must be washed off with a detergent solution and rinsed with water. You then follow the manufacturer's instructions on the kind of primer to apply before the new paint or other finish is applied. The priming is especially important when your scraping or brushing has exposed bare metal. If any previous finish has any gloss to it, light sanding or steel wooling will remove the shine and enable the coatings to adhere.

Every so often, you may not wish to apply one of the rust-inhibiting color paints, electing instead to restore the original galvanized finish. This would be true, for instance, in the case of a trash container or a chain link fence. In that event, go through the regular wire-brushing system to remove loose rust, followed by a coat of primer. Then, instead of using a finish color of your choice, apply a galvanizing compound. It is quick drying and can be purchased wherever rust-inhibiting paints are sold. This compound is formulated to provide the same kind of protection as the original hot galvanized finish. Many persons, however, prefer to give the trash containers or chain link fences a new color, in which case silver and green are excellent choices.

Corrosion can occur when two different metals are in contact with each other and exposed to elements such as salt water, bleach or a strong detergent. Aluminum and steel in contact with each other produce harmful results. If, let us say, steel nails are used to install aluminum gutters, corrosion is almost inevitable. The same thing would happen if copper gutters were used with aluminum or galvanized downspouts. Many other such combinations produce corrosion, including what is called stress corrosion, which takes place if certain metals are used with certain chemicals.

An almost perfect 10 Shortened schedule favors Murray State football team

By CLAY WALKER
Sports Editor

Murray State football coach Mike Mahoney isn't thrilled with the idea of having only 10 games scheduled for the upcoming 1988 season. But if he's only going to have 10, the schedule couldn't be better.

The Racers were picked third in the Ohio Valley Conference's preseason coaches poll last week. Considering that the No. 1 and No. 2 teams play the Racers in Roy Stewart Stadium and that MSU enjoys a Saturday off before both games, it isn't hard to figure that the OVC is within the Racers' grasp.

"Where the open dates come are right before what looms to be, right now, the top two teams in the conference and our most important games," Mahoney said after the Racers opened fall practice Monday morning. "If we do have some people banged up at that time, it gives us an opportunity to heal before two very big ballgames."

The Racers, slated to finish second behind Eastern Kentucky and Middle Tennessee in the 1987 preseason poll, finished at 6-5 overall and 3-3 in the conference last year. Much of that disappointment can be traced to MSU's rugged road schedule. Murray was 1-5 away from home last fall, including a 1-3 conference road record.

Despite the advantages of Murray's schedule, which features five home and five away contests, Mahoney said that the OVC should see its usual parity this fall.

"Last year Eastern and Murray had four (conference games) away and two at home," Mahoney said. "This year we have four home and two away."

"We have problems with depth, but everybody has problems with depth. It's still anybody's conference to win."

The Racers will open 1988 at home against Tennessee-Martin on Sept. 3. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Murray State begins a three-game road swing when it visits regional rivals Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois on Sept. 10 and 17, respectively, and plays Nevada-Reno, of the Big Sky Conference, for the first time ever on Sept. 24.

The Racers celebrate homecoming by opening their OVC schedule with a 2 p.m. contest against Tennessee Tech. MSU visits Morehead State on Oct. 8 and comes home for a 1:30 p.m. match-up with OVC newcomer Tennessee State Oct. 15.

The Racers then take their first open date before hosting EKV at 1:30 p.m., on Oct. 29. MSU is off another two weeks, then hosts Middle Tennessee Nov. 12, at 1:30 p.m.

The Racers close the regular season at Austin Peay, Nov. 19.

Although securing an 11th game seems unlikely at this point, Murray State Athletic Director Mike Strickland said that he is still looking to fill one of the open dates in the Racer schedule.

Mahoney said that while finding a worthy opponent at this late date may be difficult, he would settle for anyone who wanted to play.

"You worry about that (the quality of the opponent) when (Cont'd on page 9)

A 'part' of history Rain dampens Wrigley's first night contest

By WILLIAM C. HIDLAY
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO — The bright lights of night baseball lit up Wrigley Field for the first time in 74 years, but the Chicago Cubs' neighbors felt their moment in history was too short.

"I feel like we saw the beginning of history being made, but we didn't get to see the end," lawyer Donald Kurasch said Monday night, as a heavy rain postponed Wrigley's first night game, between the Cubs and the Philadelphia Phillies.

"It's a disappointment," Kurasch said.

An evening of beer drinking and merry making under blue skies, white clouds and 99-degree heat turned cool, gloomy and sopping wet in the bottom of the fourth inning, with the Cubs leading the Phillies 3-1.

Two hours after 91-year-old Cubs fan Harry Grossman threw the switch that turned on the towering Wrigley Field lights, the storm clouds took over. Thunder cracked, lightning bolts lit up the sky, and the rain poured ...

And poured ... And poured.

The game was postponed two hours, 10 minutes later, delaying Wrigley's first official night game until tonight's contest between the Cubs and New York Mets.

"This is typical — it doesn't rain all summer long and then on the first night game, it has to rain," said Michael Baron, 27, an engineer.

Defense-minded Twins become triplets; Mets don't like Mondays

By The Associated Press

The Minnesota Twins' best offense has been a good defense.

The Twins have committed the fewest errors in baseball this season and turned a triple play in the fourth inning against Cleveland to lead them past the Indians 7-2 Monday night.

"They were threatening. It took momentum from their side and brought it into our dugout," said left fielder Dan Gladden, whose spectacular catch of a liner hit by Joe Carter started the triple play.

The Twins came back with three runs in the bottom of the fourth.

"Baseball is a game played with a lot of emotion and momentum," Gladden said. "They had a rally going and it pretty much killed it."

Alan Anderson, 10-7, gave up singles to Ron Washington and Willie Upshaw, bringing up Carter, the Indians' RBI leader with 75. Carter hit a drive to left with Washington and Upshaw running at the crack of the bat.

Gladden leaped against the wall to make the catch and threw back to second baseman Steve Lombardozzi. Lombardozzi tagged Washington as he raced back to second and with Upshaw frozen at second, Lombardozzi threw back to first baseman Gene Larkin to complete the triple play.

"You're looking at first and second and nobody out with Joe Carter at the plate and Ron Kittle on deck," Anderson said. "That's one of the biggest plays I've ever had made behind me."

Elsewhere in the American League, it was Toronto 5, Kansas City 1; Detroit 3, Texas 2; Seattle 4, California 3, and Oakland 9, Chicago 5.

The triple play preserved a scoreless tie. Kirby Puckett led off the bottom of the fourth with a double against Chris Codiroli, 0-3, Gary Gaetti tripled and Larkin hit the next pitch for his fifth homer.

"It was something of a spark, which the club needed at the time," Twins manager Tom Kelly said.

Blue Jays 5, Royals 1

Jeff Musselman allowed three hits in seven innings and Ernie Whitt and Tony Fernandez combined for five RBI as Toronto beat Kansas City's Bret Saberhagen for the third straight time this season. Musselman, 4-1, struck out five, walked four and lowered his earned run average to 1.80. Tom Henke worked two hitless innings to earn his 21st save.

Saberhagen, 12-10, allowed 12 hits and all five runs. His ERA against Toronto this season is 7.10.

The Blue Jays scored two runs on five singles in the bottom of the second inning. Whitt hit his sixth

Reds cautious as Dodgers visit

CINCINNATI (AP) — With the Cincinnati Reds needing a sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers this week to move themselves back into the playoff picture, manager Pete Rose is telling his players to think about anything but three games in a row.

"I don't want any players approaching (tonight's) game worrying about sweeping," Rose said said of the Reds' at-home series against Los Angeles, opening tonight. "Just take them one at a time."

Reds reliever John Franco agrees, remembering that the last time the Dodgers visited Riverfront, June 24-26, they humiliated the Reds by sweeping the three-game series themselves.

"When you're thinking 'sweep,'" he said, "that's when you might get swept." Franco says the Reds must go at least 10-2 on the current 12-game homestand to get into the thick of the race. They are presently 2-1.

There is no doubt among the Reds players that they have to win at least two of the three games against Los Angeles. Including this week's games, the Reds have three series left with the Dodgers, all three-game sets.

"We've got to at least take two of every three games and, if possible, sweep one of the series," Reds ace Danny Jackson said.

Six wins in the nine games is a minimum, Jackson said.

"We've got to play good against the Dodgers, then sweep Atlanta and then sweep Chicago," said Franco, handicapping the homestand. Rose likes the way the schedule sets up for the Reds, who are 7½ games out of first place.

homer in the fifth and Fernandez had a two-run single in the eighth.

Tigers 3, Rangers 2

Frank Tanana improved to 4-0 against Texas this season and Jim Walewander scored the go-ahead run when reliever Ed Vande Berg balked in the seventh inning.

Tanana, 13-7, allowed five hits, walked three and struck out four before being relieved by Mike Henneman when Bob Brower walked to lead off the seventh. Jeff Russell, 8-5, had shut out the Tigers on three hits before Detroit rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Mariners 4, Angels 3

Jay Buhner singled to snap an eighth-inning tie and Mark Langston allowed four hits in eight innings to lead Seattle.

Alvin Davis and Steve Balboni drew walks against California's Kirk McCaskill, 8-6, before Buhner lined to center to score pinch-runner Darnell Coles.

Langston, 8-9, struck out five to increase his total to 174 for the season, second in the AL to Boston's Roger Clemens.

Mike Schooler worked the bottom of the ninth to earn his eighth save.

Athletics 9, White Sox 5

Mark McGwire hit his 20th home run and Dave Henderson had four of Oakland's 14 hits.

Glenn Hubbard hit a homer and Jose Canseco got his 88th RBI on calendar date 8-8-88 to tie Boston's Mike Greenwell for the league lead.

Bob Welch, 13-6, allowed eight hits before being relieved by Greg Cadaret with two outs in the top of the seventh. Dennis Eckersley got the final out.

Chicago starter Bill Long, 4-7, gave up eight hits and six runs in three-plus innings.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pirates 1, Mets 0

Monday, Monday, can't top that day.

For the Pittsburgh Pirates, Monday is the only day to play the New York Mets. The Pirates have won just four games against New York this season. All four, including a 1-0 victory to close out their four-game series in Pittsburgh, have been on Mondays.

"It was a big game for us, because it meant we're six out instead of eight out," Manager Jim Leyland said. "I don't think you can start draping a flag on our coffin just yet."

The Mets won the first three games of a series in New York last weekend before the Pirates took the closer 7-2. The NL East leaders did the same thing in Pittsburgh, failing to get the sweep when rookie Rick Reed and reliever Jim Gott blanked them on three hits. That effort was slightly better than Bobby Ojeda's for the Mets, who lead Pittsburgh by six games and Montreal by 6½.

"When you win the first three games, you want the sweep, but we just didn't do it," Keith Hernandez said. "But I'll still take three out of four. Bobby pitched a great game but we just didn't give him any support."

The victory ended Pittsburgh's five-game slide.

Elsewhere in the National League, it was Houston 10, Los Angeles 0; San Francisco 5, Atlanta 2; and St. Louis 4, Montreal 2.

The first night game at Wrigley Field was rained out with Chicago leading Philadelphia 3-1 in the fourth inning.

Reed went eight innings in his major-league debut, using off-speed pitches to keep the Mets off balance. He got the only run he needed in the fourth inning when Jose Lind got an infield single, stole second, moved to third when catcher Gary Carter's throw sailed into center field and scored on Bobby Bonilla's groundout.

"I've dreamed my whole life of just getting the chance to pitch to the Mets, because they're such a great team, and I shut them out for eight innings?" said Reed, who struck out four and walked one. "It can't be real."

It was. After all, it was a Monday.

Astros 10, Dodgers 0

Mike Scott pitched an eight-hit shutout, struck out six and walked one for his fourth shutout this year and sixth complete game.

"I've thrown better with worse results," Scott said. "It's important any time you beat the team ahead of you."

The Astros got four runs in the first inning and six in the eighth.

Los Angeles starter Shawn Hillegas, 3-4, faced only four batters, walking two and giving up two run-scoring hits.

ever scheduled in major league baseball was rained out. The Phillies and Reds had to wait an extra day before playing under the lights at Cincinnati's Crosley Field on May 24, 1935.

Mike Quigley, a neighborhood activist who led the fight against night games at Wrigley, saw irony, too, as he thought about how Cubs fans have endured seemingly endless disappointments, like the times their team blew potential championships in 1969 and 1984.

"It's somewhat symptomatic of the long-suffering Cubs fan," Quigley said as he stood under Wrigley's front overhang, watching it rain. "It's kind of like the fates are against them."

Thongs filled the Wrigleyville you're scheduling in December," Mahoney said. "Right now, you can't afford to worry about it."

According to Strickland, a game that would keep MSU's momentum and crispness and, at the same time, would allow the Racers regulars some rest would be ideal.

The Racers tried to secure a game with Southwest Missouri, but were unable to come to terms despite both school's having two mutual open dates.

Unlike 1987, the 1988 schedule doesn't feature a Division I team and MSU will not play Western Kentucky in the Red Belt series. MSU meets the Hilltoppers in 1989 and 1991-1999.

"Some people say that we shouldn't play them since they left the conference (in 1982), but it's a great rivalry and since they're only a couple of hours away I think we should try to play every year," Mahoney said. "Travel expenses always go up but our travel budget doesn't, so it only makes sense that we play them."

Overall, Mahoney is pleased with the schedule. The temporary loss of WKU and the abbreviated slate of games are disappointing, but the second-year coach is proud of the 10 contests the Racers will play.

"I think when you throw in three new opponents from last year — all with playoff experience — including a new conference opponent and a regional rival in Southern Illinois, combined with the other OVC games, you have a very attractive schedule," Mahoney said.

As far as the players are concerned, Mahoney vowed the Racers will not be looking past the opener until it is behind them.

"Right now they're concentrating on getting things done in preseason camp and surviving camp and they'll go from there," he said. "Their sights are on Tennessee-Martin — that's all that they're talking about."

neighborhood early, many chugging cans of beer. An army of vendors hawked commemorative T-shirts for up to $15 apiece. And some neighborhood residents prepared for the worst, organizing safety patrols to watch for drunkenness and vandalism.

Paula Torres, 62, a retired bank loan coordinator, sat on the stoop in front of the Cubby Bear Lounge across from Wrigley's main entrance, soaking up the sun and scene.

"I think it's beautiful. It seems like everybody's in a good mood despite the heat. I haven't seen a crabby face yet," she said.

But homeowners like Shirley Habbe, 56, who has lived less than a block from Wrigley's main entrance for 20 years, weren't smiling.

"I never minded the day games because it's daylight and you can see what the people are doing, but I mind the night games," she said. "In the night ... it's going to be a mess ... There'll be a lot more drinking."

Indeed, as day darkened into night, parts of the Wrigleyville neighborhood began resembling a Mardi Gras-style beer party.

About 250 people, many clutching beer cans, gathered behind the left-field wall to watch the lights being turned on and try to catch a home run ball.

The Chicago police were prepared with a force of 172 officers, including mounted patrols and canine units, but few problems materialized.

The Chicago City Council voted in February to lift the ban on lights in the face of fierce opposition from a neighborhood group known as CUBS — Citizens United for Baseball in the Sunshine.

The Cubs scheduled seven more night games for this season and 18 for next year.

But Quigley, vice-president of the opposing neighborhood group, vowed Monday night that Wrigleyville's residents won't give up their fight, begun in 1981 when the Tribune Co. bought the Cubs and announced its plans to erect lights.

If the group fails to halt night games or at least win a curfew and other restrictions, Quigley predicted, the Wrigleyville precinct will vote the area dry of alcohol in the spring 1989 municipal election.

"I think it would be a real disservice, especially watching this carnival atmosphere, to give up the fight," Quigley said.

In a 1922 game, the Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 26-23, after holding a 25-6 lead early in the game.

In 1961, his record 61-home run year, Roger Maris hit his 50th homer in August, becoming the first player to do so.

SEC cagers slated for 42 televised contests

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Southeastern Conference basketball teams will make 13 appearances on the three major television networks along with 29 national cable appearances on ESPN, the league said in releasing its 1988-1989 television schedule.

"This is probably the most attractive national coverage we've ever had in the SEC," said league commissioner Harvey Schiller. "The tremendous success of our league in recent years is starting to attract national attention."

In addition to the national appearances, 29 SEC games will be televised regionally by Jefferson-Pilot Teleproductions, the Charlotte, N.C.-based company that owns the rights to SEC basketball.

The complete schedule released Tuesday is as follows:

Oilers deal Gretzky to Kings

MONTREAL (AP) — A deal that will send NHL superstar Wayne Gretzky from the Stanley Cup champion Edmonton Oilers to the Los Angeles Kings has been worked out, La Presse reported Tuesday.

The Montreal newspaper cited Charlie Henry, the general manager of the Gretzky-owned Hull Olympiques of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League, as saying all that remains to be decided is the date of the news conference.

Henry said on an open-line radio show on the Radiomutuel network in Hull on Monday that Kings owner Bruce McNall likely will hold a news conference in Los Angeles on Thursday.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Angel Myers became the first American woman to swim 100 meters in under 55 seconds as Janet Evans set an American record in the 400 individual medley as both qualified for the U.S. Olympic swimming team.
Myers swam the 100 meters in 54.95 seconds, her second American record of the day in the event.
Evans, 16, who holds three distance freestyle world records, was timed in 4 minutes, 38.58 seconds in the 400 individual medley, easily bettering Tracy Caulkins' mark of 4:39.24.
In the men's competition, Matt Biondi lowered his own American record with a 1:47.72 clocking in the 200 freestyle preliminaries, but was then edged in the finals by Troy Dalbey.
Rich Schroeder, a 1984 Olympian, won the men's 100 breaststroke in a time of 1:01.96.
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Don Peters resigned as U.S. Olympic women's gymnastics coach amid turmoil and unrest over his selection. He will not be replaced.
Instead, U.S. Gymnastics Federation executive director Mike Jacki said the personal coaches of the team starters would be given the three coaching credentials for the Summer Games.

DR. GOTT

Peter
Gott, M.D.

Tay-Sachs test is worthwhile

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm Jewish and would like to marry a woman of my own faith. However, I'm concerned about Tay-Sachs; there is some history of it in my family. What can you suggest?

DEAR READER: Tay-Sachs disease is an inherited neurological disorder that is most common in Jews of Eastern European extraction. It is marked by progressive paralysis and dementia. Its cause is a deficiency of the enzyme hexosaminidase, allowing a toxic buildup of certain fats in the brain.

The only treatment for this disease is prevention; that is, individuals with a family history of the disease must be identified and, unfortunately, must avoid marrying a partner with a similar family history. The genetic tendency to Tay-Sachs can be identified by a blood test. In my opinion, you and any intended partner should undergo genetic counseling.

You might look into Chevre Dor Yeshorim (Hebrew for: "Association of an Upright Generation"). This is a Tay-Sachs screening center with branches in many cities. It was initiated by an Orthodox rabbi who lost four children to this disease. To date, more than 4,000 people have been tested through the program, which will be able to tell you whom you should not marry.

Although it may seem a bit unfair to have to use scientific methods in picking a spouse, the tragedy of having a neurologically impaired child who would probably die before age 6 makes the sacrifice worth the effort. Ask your rabbi and/or doctor to look into testing and counseling for you.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake
FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1988

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)

You'll find a solution to a problem concerning home or travel by evening. Some are busy with preparing a child for school. Tonight favors going out for fun.

TAURUS

(Apr. 20 to May 20)

Think things through carefully regarding a money matter. Luck is with you in raising capital and domestic interests are also favored. Shopping is a plus now!

GEMINI

(May 21 to June 20)

Some strain could arise over a money matter with a partner, but a heart-to-heart talk will clear things up. Developments tonight make you very happy.

CANCER

(June 21 to July 22)

Problems arise at work today, but you're able to solve them. In fact, you'll improve your overall position financially. Make a point of saving.

LEO

(July 23 to Aug. 22)

Some of the doubts you have in romance are needless and this is what you find out today. The way is clear for happy times with friends and loved ones.

VIRGO

(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

You may tire of the social life quickly today and opt for time with your pet projects. You'll gain a better understanding of a family member now. Judgment is shrewd.

LIBRA

(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Delays and changes affect career interests today, though social life surpasses expectations now. Be sure to accept invitations. Happy news comes from a distance.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Though extra expenses may arise today, income is bound to improve now. Progress is assured at work and dealings with bosses prove fortunate.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

A financial concern may remain on hold for now. Concentration is good today and intellectual work is favored. Be together tonight.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

Don't let self-preoccupation create a distance between you and a close tie today. Judgment is shrewd where financial interests are concerned. Expect some luck too.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

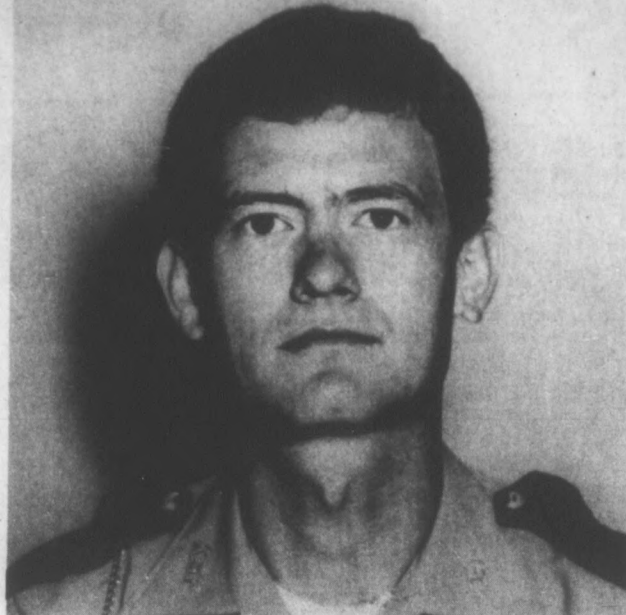

Problems in connection with a friendship may interfere with job concentration now. However, you do prove yourself to be that proverbial friend in need today.

PISCES

(Feb. 19 to Mar. 20)

Though business and pleasure do not mix favorably, it's still a day of career gains for you. Happy news at home makes tonight somewhat special.

IF BORN TODAY you have a universal outlook and may devote your life to public service.
