TEAM Kentucky: Important to recognize western Kentucky area

KSA's Nuss tells group it's been awesome this year being in Murray

> By JOHN WRIGHT Staff Writer

The 2013 TEAM Kentucky retreat was not unlike others the group has held over the years.

It had members tell about events their areas had hosted in the past year and what is to come this year. Ideas were also discussed as to how the group can improve in the future, like most statewide groups do during these gatherings. There was, however, one big difference, the location of Friday's meeting, the Robert O. Miller Conference Center in downtown Murray.

"We are a group of 20 partners, so I felt it was important to recognize western Kentucky and what it has to offer this time," said Kevin Marie Nuss, executive director for the Kentucky Sports Authority with whom TEAM Kentucky, consisting of convention and visitors bureaus and local sports commissions throughout the commonwealth, is a partner. This year marks the first for the retreat to come to a city outside the proverbial "Golden Triangle," of Northern Kentucky, Louisville and Lexington.

The superintendents who make up the board of directors of the West Kentucky Educational Cooperative unanimously voted last week to send a letter to the Murray State University Board of Regents and to Gov. Steve Beshear expressing their support for MSU President Dr. Randy Dunn.

WKEC voices support for Dunn Faculty Regent Dr. Jack Rose reported the decision earlier this week at an MSU Faculty Senate meeting. According to the minutes of the Feb. meeting, Murray WKEC Independent School Superintendent Bob Rogers made a motion to send a letter in support of Dunn to the board and Beshear, and the motion was seconded by Hickman County Schools Superintendent

Kenny Wilson. The unanimous vote represented the view of the superintendents of 27 school districts, which serve more than 82,000 students, the letter said. The letter, addressed to Board Chairman Dr. Constantine Curris, said Dunn had an "excellent ongoing relationship" with member

Gov. Beshear, lawmakers can't break pension reform impasse

By ROGER ALFORD Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) -Gov. Steve Beshear concluded a private meeting Friday with a bipartisan group of legislative leaders without breaking an impasse on how to best bring about pension reform, though he said he's optimistic that continuing talks would be fruitful.

The Democratic-controlled and Republican-led Senate have been at loggerheads on how to shore up the financially troubled pension plans for state and local government retirees.

"I thought we got off to a great start," Beshear said after

State's AG's office reviews questions about hemp

By BRUCE SCHREINER Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Kentucky's agriculture commissioner said Thursday a legal review reinforces the need for an industrial hemp bill, noting state regulations are needed in case a federal ban on its production is lifted without clear guidance. The review by Attorney General Jack Conway's office in Frankfort comes as hemp supporters seek a showdown vote in the House on the measure, which would set up a system to license hemp growers if production becomes legal. The bill cleared a House committee this week but its prospects of coming up in the full House are uncer-

The review didn't assess the hemp bill but looked at whether existing Kentucky law would allow Bluegrass state farmers to

Obama largely silent on campaign for gun control

By NEDRA PICKLER Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) -With gun-legislation taking shape on Capitol Hill, President Barack Obama has kept a low profile on an issue he has made a critical part of his secondterm agenda.

The president has not been highly visible in the debate during the past three weeks as gun bills are being written. He's been embroiled in a budget battle that has dominated his time and for now is letting Vice President Joe Biden bang the drum for tighter firearms laws.

White House officials say the president plans to speak out on gun control as the issue moves toward a Senate vote in the psychoactive compound that gives marijuana users a high.

"If federal law is changed but no federal regulatory scheme is provided, industrial hemp would be essentially unregulated in Kentucky," the AG's review said.

Agriculture State Commissioner James Comer said the findings underscore the need for state legislation to regulate hemp as a precursor to the crop's possible revival.

"Without it, achieving a waiver from the federal government to be the first state to grow hemp will be almost impossible because there will be no safeguards in place," Comer said in a statement. "Other states have already passed similar programs.

House Speaker Greg Stumbo, who requested the review, remained skeptical about the need for the hemp legislation. The Prestonsburg Democrat said the federal government would never legalize the crop without regulating it.

"You can bet on that," Stumbo said in Frankfort.

Stumbo is a deep skeptic of the hemp bill, citing concerns

Hemp advocates say the possibility of an unregulated hemp industry should be more concerning for law enforcement.

Under the bill, the state would have GPS coordinates of licensed hemp fields. Hemp growers would undergo criminal background checks, and each grower would be limited to 10 acres per license. A production license would be valid for one year.

In a letter to Stumbo, Conway's office said the findings did not constitute a formal opinion. The Associated Press obtained a copy of the letter, dated Wednesday, as the result of an open-records request.

Comer has championed the hemp bill, saying its reintroduction would give farmers a new crop and would create processing jobs to turn the fiber and seeds into products ranging from paper to biofuels. Dozens of countries already produce the supporters Hemp Kentucky needs the regulations to be at the forefront of the crop's comeback if the federal government gives its OK.

"If we don't act now, Speaker Stumbo will kill our chances to be first for these jobs," Comer said. Stumbo said the bill would break new ground in Kentucky agriculture.

"I don't know of any precedent for the agriculture commissioner to issue a license to grow a crop," he said. "You can grow whatever crop you want to without a license from him. It's like tobacco, you didn't get any approval from the state to grow tobacco under the quota system.

"And I intend to look at hosting it in eastern Kentucky next year. Most of our people haven't been to these places, and it's been awesome this year in Murray. I don't consider Bowling Green as being 'western' Kentucky. I know there is more beyond that, and we're working on changing that idea."

Glen Schorr, executive director of Orienteering USA, is a Prospect native who served as the day's keynote speaker and said this marks the farthest west he has traveled in his home state.

"Before this, it was Cadiz," said Schorr, who said he saw much to like in his first glimpses of Murray. "Murray truly is the friendliest small town in America. I've run into some very nice people everywhere I've gone since arriving (Thursday)

"I also strongly believe in this state, and this is a good group of people that's here this weekend. It's kind of like coming home."

Schorr is a part of a growing activity in America that he defined as a race through the wilderness with a map and a compass that now has 60,000 participants in the country. However, he told the group that a lesson he has learned is marketing orienteering in a way more people probably understand better.

"I say, 'Ever see the Amazing Race?' It's very similar to that, a 5K run then a walk in the woods.' People understand that better" Schorr explained, expressing the need for simplicity. His main topic, though, was the importance of partnership and having multiple groups and agencies working together to achieve big things.

For Erin Carrico, executive director of the Murray CVB, Schorr's words brought her back to less than 24 hours earlier when she accompanied Nuss and Murray-Calloway County Parks & Recreation Director Tab Brockman on a facilities tour of the community.

"It was like he was mimicking our conversation," Carrico said, remembering how Nuss had praised the Murray-Calloway community for having its groups cooperate openly for events such as last year's Kentucky State Senior Games and the United States Tennis Association regionals. "He's right, though. You've got to work with partners to be successful, and, being a smaller community than some of these others around the state, we have to do that."

Democratic House Speaker Greg Stumbo called the meeting "a first step." And Republican Senate President Robert Stivers described "good dialogue" in the closed-door meeting.

The Senate is proposing a 401(k)like retirement plan for new employees - a move the House opposes. And the House wants to use money from the lottery and horse tracks to boost the state's yearly pension contribution. The Senate is balking at that idea:

Beshear said Friday other options also are being considered, though he didn't elaborate.

A proposal passed by the House and now stalled in the Senate calls for the state lottery to add Keno and some new online games to generate revenue for the pensions. It also calls for tax revenue from slot-like devices, called Instant Racing machines, at horse tracks to be desig nated for pensions. Stumbo said those options could net $100 million a year, roughly the amount of additional money Kentucky needs to make its annual pension contribution.

In Kentucky, actual slots are banned, but two horse tracks have installed the Instant Racing machines. Players wager on the outcomes of past horse races, without knowing who won. The machines spawned a legal challenge that is now pending before the Kentucky Supreme Court.

"Recent media reports suggest that the Board of Regents will soon discuss Dr. Dunn's contract," the letter said. "Because of this knowledge superintendent members of the West Kentucky Educational Cooperative want to make you aware of the excellent relationship we have with Dr. Dunn and his administration. Dr. Dunn and his staff have been most cooperative in implementing programs, partnering with our member districts, and preparing teachers to instruct our students. The member superintendents of the West Kentucky Educational Cooperative appreciate the work of Dr. Randy Dunn and hope he will continue as President of Murray State University."

The Board of Regents voted in December to form an ad-hoc presidential contract review committee, which met for the first time in Louisville Feb. 13. The committee plans to meet again before the regular board meeting on March 15.

The Murray State News filed an inquiry complaint against the Board of Regents Feb. 25 seeking an opinion from Kentucky Attorney General Jack Conway in relation to the planned meeting on March 15. The student newspaper alleges that the board intends to discuss the contract in executive session, and the inquiry questioned the legality of not allowing members of the the public to attend. However, at the present time, neither the ad hoc committee nor the board have met in executive session to discuss the contract.

Vatican: Conclave likely to start early next week

By NICOLE WINFIELD Associated Press

VATICAN CITY (AP) - The Vatican said Friday the conclave to elect a new pope will likely start in the first few days of next week, signaling that cardinals are coming to an end of discussions about the state of the church and who best among them might lead it.

Cardinals will vote Friday afternoon on the opening date of the conclave, a vote made possible by the arrival Thursday of the last of the 115 cardinal electors, Vietnamese Cardinal Jean-Baptiste Pham Minh Man.

The Vatican spokesman the Rev. Federico Lombardi said it was "likely" the cardinals would choose Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday as the start date for the conclave. In the past 100 years, no conclave has lasted longer than five days. That said, there is no frontrunner in this election, and the past week of deliberations has exposed sharp divisions among cardinals about some of the pressing problems facing the church, including of governance carved image of Christ's face.

within the Holy See itself. Early in the week, the Americans had been pressing for more time to get to the bottom of the level of dysfunction and corruption exposed by the leaks of papal documents last year. But by Thursday afternoon, Cardinal Roger Mahony of Los Angeles tweeted that the discussions were "reaching a conclusion" and that a mood of Vatican-based cardinals had been angling for a speedy end to the discussions, perhaps to limit the amount of dirty laundry being aired.

"excitement" was taking hold.

Aside from the conclave start date, Lombardi said a few items of business remain outstanding, including drawing lots for rooms at the Vatican's Santa Marta hotel. On Friday, he showed a video of the room in which the new pope will sleep his first night as pontiff; it features a bed with a heavy, dark wood headboard featuring a

Pentagon chief Hagel makes first trip to Afghanistan

By LOLITA C. BALDOR Associated Press

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) -Defense Secretary Chuck Hagel arrived in Afghanistan Friday for his first visit as Pentagon chief, saying that there are plenty of challenges ahead as NATO hands over the country's security to the Afghans.

"We are still at war," Hagel said, warning the U.S. and its allies to remain focused on the mission while noting that the U.S. never intended to stay in Afghanistan indefinitely.

"That transition has to be done right, it has to be done in partnership with the Afghans, with our allies," said Hagel, who took over the Pentagon job a little more than a week ago. "Our country as well as Afghanistan, the region, and the allies have a lot at stake here. And our continued focus and energy and attention on Afghanistan is going to be very important."

He said it was vital to remember why the U.S. invaded Afghanistan in the days after the 9/11 attacks, including the need to rid the country of terrorists and a hostile government.

Hagel told reporters traveling with him that he plans to talk to Afghan President Hamid Karzai about the recent order expelling U.S. commandos from Wardak Province. He would not say what his message to Karzai might be.

Karzai ordered that U.S. special operations forces leave within two weeks because of allegations that Afghans working with the commandos were involved in abusive behavior and torture

The order comes despite worries that it could leave the region more vulnerable to al-Qaida and other insurgents. U.S. officials have said they have seen no evidence that American forces were involved in the abuse of Afghan civilians.

Hagel is slated to meet with U.S. commanders and Afghan leaders and plans to make his first detailed assessment of the increasingly unpopular war.

His unannounced visit comes at a turning point in the conflict.

to train the Afghan forces. Hagel must manage the transition as the U.S. steps up what will be a difficult and expensive extraction of equipment from the country even as Congress slashes billions of dollars from the defense budget.

their

combat

"I need to better understand what's going on there," Hagel told reporters during the flight to Kabul. He said he wants an assessment on the progress of the Afghan forces as they prepare to take over the security of their own country.

Hagel traveled to Afghanistan four times during his two terms as senator for Nebraska, including once in 2002 shortly after the war began, in 2006 and twice in 2008. His final two visits were in 2008, once in February with then Sens. Joe Biden and John Kerry - now the vice president and secretary of state, and in July with then-Sen. Barack Obama.

While Hagel initially supported the Afghanistan war when he was senator, his enthusiasm diminished as the conflict dragged on for more than 10 years. He pointedly observed that militaries are "built to fight and win wars, not bind together failing nations." And in a radio interview this year, he acknowledged the nation's growing weariness with the war that has claimed the lives of more than 2,000 U.S. troops and wounded another 18,000, saying that "the American people want out" of Afghanistan.

His review of the war will likely be colored in part by his own military service. Hagel is the first Vietnam veteran to lead the Pentagon, and the first man to become defense secretary after serving only in the enlisted

Senate OKs bill to bolster human trafficking law

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) - A police. bill is nearing final passage that Human trafficking is forcing would strengthen Kentucky's human trafficking law by increasing punishments for offenders and bolstering protections for victims.

The state Senate passed the bill Thursday evening. The House approved the measure last month. But it must return to the House for approval of a minor amendment that requires people to report suspected human trafficking activity to someone to work or engage in sex acts for money.

The bill bars authorities from arresting juvenile victims and instead mandates that they receive treatment and other protections. The bill also requires offenders to forfeit property used in the crimes and pay a $10,000 fine, all of which would finance a fund for victims and training for police.

Staff Report

A Benton man was taken to a hospital Thursday afternoon after being involved in a wreck on North Fourth Street in

Murray police say Michael Wyatt, 58, of Benton was northbound on Fourth at around noon Thursday when his 1988 GMC pickup truck left the roadway, entered a ditch and struck a culvert. The Murray-Calloway County Hospital Ambulance Service took Wyatt to MCCH for treatment of his injuries. He was released later, a hospital spokesperson said.

North Fourth was closed in both directions for a short time following the wreck. MPD and the ambulance service were also assisted by the Murray Fire Department at the scene.

Kentucky News in Brief

Crittenden to lower bus diesel emissions

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) - A western Kentucky school district has been awarded $80,000 in federal funding to reduce diesel emissions from its fleet of school buses.

The Crittenden County school board will use the money to replace a 1992 diesel bus with a new bus powered by propane autogas, which burns cleaner than diesel.

The project will also retrofit another 14 diesel buses with emission-control technologies, reducing tailpipe emissions by nearly Crittenden County schools Superintendent Rachel Yarbrough says the district is excited to be a test case for propane school buses in Kentucky.

Kentucky Gov. Steve Beshear says he applauds the Crittenden County district for wanting to have a more environmentally friendly fleet of buses.

The funds were made available through the federal Environmental Protection Agency's Diesel Emission Reduction

Suspect cuts plea deal in mayor shooting

HICKMAN, Ky. (AP) - A man charged in the shooting death of a western Kentucky mayor has accepted a plea bargain.

KYTN radio in Union City, Tenn., reported Friday that the deal Tommy Lattus' attorney worked out with prosecutors will send the 31-year-old Lattus to prison for more than 37 years.

Under terms of the agreement, Lattus pleaded guilty, but mentally ill Friday before Fulton Circuit Judge Tim Langford.

Lattus was charged with murder in the killing of 68-year-old Mayor Charles Murphy of Hickman, a town of about 2,500 people in southwestern Kentucky.

Police said Lattus drove himself to the Hickman police station early on Jan. 23, 2012, and told officers he had killed Murphy. A formal sentencing hearing was scheduled for March 28.

Man dies after accident at Hopkinsville plant

HOPINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) - A worker at a southern Kentucky automotive plant has been killed on the job.

The Kentucky New Era reported the victim was a man who was pinned under a machine at the Martinrea plant in Hopkinsville on Thursday evening.

A Jennie Stuart Medical Center spokesman said Jason Sholar died after being brought to the hospital's emergency room.

The company makes aluminum automotive components.

Jobless rates fall below 8 percent

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) - Kentucky's unemployment rate has fallen below 8 percent for the first time in four years.

The Office of Employment and Training reported Thursday that the January rate was 7.9 percent.

The last time the state's jobless rate was below 8 percent was November 2008 when it was 7.8 percent.

State economist Manoj Shanker said the jobless rate has been improving steadily over the past year in Kentucky where the civilian labor force reached 2,085,509 in January. The state's manufacturing sector added 1,500 jobs in January, leading all other sectors. The construction sector was second with 600 additional jobs. The transportation and utilities sector had the most dramatic losses, shedding 3,700 jobs in January. And the leisure and hospitality sector lost 1,000 jobs.

Second flu death confirmed in state

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Northern Kentucky Independent Health Department has confirmed a second death this year from the flu.

Department spokeswoman Emily Gresham Wherle told The Kentucky Enquirer on Wednesday that a middle-aged Campbell County woman died from complications caused by the virus. She said the woman, who was not identified, did not have any underlying health problems.

"It's a reminder that the flu can be serious," Wherle said. It was the second flu-related death in northern Kentucky this year. A Campbell County man died in January from flu complica-

The agency said the number of flu cases increased so much this season that a new record was set with a total of 2,712 cases reported by March 2. Last year, only 284 people in Boone, Campbell, Grant and Kenton tested positive for the flu.

Group of hikers rescued in eastern Ky.

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) - Officials say 40 Pennsylvania college students on a mission trip to Appalachia were rescued from Pine Mountain after they got lost while hiking.

John Caroulis, a spokesman for La Salle University in Philadelphia, said one student remained in the hospital Friday morning as a precaution, but the rest of the group was released and all are expected to return as scheduled Saturday.

Caroulis said the students were spending their spring break in Kentucky with Habitat for Humanity.

Kentucky State Police trooper Tony Watts says the group was reported missing about 7 p.m. Thursday.

Winners named in QEP competition

Special to the Ledger

Murray State University is required to develop a Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP), a plan for improving student learning as part of the accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. This year's theme of the QEP is "application of knowledge and skills in a real world setting." MSU students, faculty and staff submitted their ideas for the QEP tagline in a competition to win various prizes.

The winning tagline, Bringing Learning To Life, was submitted by Deborah Gregory, student from Muhlenberg County. She won an iPad for her winning submission. Faculty and staff winner was Candance Rose, who submitted Expect Tradition. Experience Purpose won President's Box seats and VIP parking for the March 2, MSU basketball game. Victoria Pierpoint, winner of an iPod Touch, and Tyler Pippin, winner of a Kindle Fire, both received honorable mentions.

The much publicized "sequestration", while problematic in some areas, should not deter people from participating in the financial markets, says Susan Wilson, financial advisor of Edward Jones

The sequester, a result of a failure between Congressional leaders and the Obama Administration to reach agreement on budgetary issues, will result in $85 billion in across-the-board government spending cuts this year. Wilson noted that the $85 billion in cuts, while not insignificant, amount to less than 2.5 percent of all government spending.

"We're disappointed because many people will be hurt by these cuts. But things will not grind to a halt in this country," Wilson said. "The markets tend not to like uncertainty, so investors should be prepared for some possible volatility in the weeks ahead, especially since sequestration was just one fight in the long-term battle over how to reduce the federal deficit. But there are still some very good reasons for people to continue investing for their long-term financial needs.

Wilson said the near-term investment environment might well be positive, due to a number of factors, includ-

· Healthy corporate earnings

A rebounding U.S. housing market

· Expected improvements in Europe and China, two regions that have caused concern

Furthermore, Wilson said, stocks are still reasonably priced, despite the big gains achieved in the current bull market, now almost four years old. Stocks in the S & P 500 index are trading at about 13.5 times their expected earnings, below the historical average of 15 times.

Keep in mind that past performance is not a guarantee of future results, Wilson said. An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold.

"These numbers are reasonable, based on historical ratios," Wilson said. "They show stocks are attractively valued, making this an opportunity for investors."

Wilson says she is not altering the overall advice she usually provides to clients.

"I still tell investors to look for quality investments, hold them for the long term, avoid excessive trading and know their own risk tolerance," she said. "Of course, it's a good idea for everyone to rebalance their portfolios periodically to make sure their investments are still helping them make progress toward their

Heritage Bank announces Herndon as local honoree

Special to the Ledger

Heritage Bank of Murray has announced Donna Herndon as the 2013 Heritage Bank Scholarship Fund Calloway County Honoree.

Five seniors from the Calloway County area will receive the Heritage Bank High School Scholarship in honor of Herndon and the commitment she has made to the Calloway County community.

Over the last 10 years Heritage Bank has committed over $194,000 dollars in scholarship funds to 388 senior high school students planning to attend a higher education institution.

This unprecedented effort is one of the largest of its kind, by touching more than 29 schools across western Kentucky, and in middle and west Tennessee. Every senior student enrolled in a high school in each of the bank's market communities has the opportunity to apply for one of the scholarship awards.

"We are very excited to play a vital role in the success of students in the neighborhoods we serve," commented John Peck, President and CEO of Heritage Bank. "We feel strongly that every student should be able to pursue his or her dreams of a college degree and it is extremely rewarding to give scholarships to each high school in our market areas.

Herndon is a retired Murray State University Alumni Director and former Calloway County Family Resource Center Coordinator. A member of the board for the Angels Community Clinic for twelve years, Herndon also currently serves as the Founding Board Chair.

Herndon said that one of her greatest joys is her involvement with the Chapter Advisory Board for the Tri Sigma sorority.

Donna has been married to Woody Herndon, a retired Vietnam Veteran, for over 50 years; together they had two children. Their daughter, Melissa Graves, blessed Donna with three grandchildren who all attend Murray State University. Their son Roger Herndon is

Wind too strong to go fishing by boat

Fishing Line By Jerry Maupin Outdoors Columnist

The sunlight is great and looking outside made me want to get back on the lake somewhere. Then, I realized I had best open the door and see what was good or not. I nearly lost my screen door due to the very strong winds so I changed my mind about fishing. Maybe next time.

There are many bays and pockets one can fish in but you cannot travel by boat. It is too dangerous to put a boat in when the winds are this strong. There are dozens of creeks that are connected to the bays of the lake and if you don't mind walking to them you just might catch some fine bluegill or even small chance you can have a lot of fun, at least see some fish. Many years ago the Clarks River was the best place in the county to catch catfish. Now however, it is much easier to choose a cove or bay along the shorelines of the lake and drive to the place. You can cast from a lot of spots which look good to you. There are many bays and perfect places to choose from on the Land Between the Lakes side. There are small pockets which you can get protection from the winds and catch some good catfish, bluegill and even a nice bass or two.

You should first check the wind direction, the area you prefer to fish from, and the tackle you need to take which should be no more than two rods and reels, hooks if you are using worms, maybe a few sinkers (small) to help you get some distance for casting and since the lake elevation is down low a new reel of line because you probably will hang up several times unless you use floats or boobers.

If you plan to keep some fish to eat, take a five gallon bucket to store them in or have a partner along that will skin the fish for you. If its a beautiful day, cook those rascals and have a picnic right there on the shoreline.

Listen to this, as long as the weather is good and warm, the winds are maybe okay, the fish are biting then you are having a good day. Now then, if you do all of the above will you please take your trash out with you and I believe the good Lord will allow you to catch some more fish. Enjoy!

Snow goose hunting on the prairie

Isn't it supposed to be warm down south? It wasn't warm last see. As a matter of fact, the geese flew in before we even had all of weekend down in Arkansas, mind you - it was downright cold. And to add insult to injury, a hefty wind was driving the chill factor even

In The Field By Kenny Darnell Outdoors

So it was as Dr. Young and I made our annual pilgrimage to Brinkley, Arkansas to help make the world a better place by eliminating a few snow geese. With snow to the north blocking the way home for the geese, we anticipated a worldclass hunt or two down on the Grand Prairie.

Our friend down at Brinkley already had a spread of snow goose decoys in place in the middle of an immense wheat field. Just as daylight began to peek over the prairie we found our places among the decoys and crawled into layout blinds. Geese started pouring in, but they were speckled geese - off limits during the special snow goose season. Then the geese stopped coming altogether. What did come were cropdusters, three of them to be exact. The commotion of the airplanes drove every goose out of the area. We finally found the birds sitting in a wheat field farther down the road. A field covered fencerow to fencerow with thousands of white geese is an awesome sight. As more geese poured into the field, we made plans to set up our spread on an adjacent wheat field. Most farmers encourage goose hunting in their fields because the immense flocks can consume their entire crop of wheat.

The next morning we set out more decoys and snuggled down in the wheat to await the first flights of geese. We didn't have long to wait as the geese started flying in as soon as it was light enough to our gear in place. The early morning was kind to us and we soon had several geese on the ground. The geese would swoop over the decoys in large flocks and would circle like the funnel of a tornado, peering at the ground for any sign of danger before they would drop low enough to shoot

Unfortunately, danger wasn't hard to find for the geese. Dr. Young and I were out of sight in our lay-out blinds, the guide and one other hunter were on their backs wearing white coats, but the other hunter's wife was sitting up like the Budda in a chair smack in the middle of the decoy spread. To make matters worse, the dear lady had been, in the words of my good friend Bob Valentine, "inoculated with a phonograph needle." In other words, she chattered. She chattered when the birds were approaching, chattered while the birds were there, and continued to chatter while the birds were leav-

There is no doubt in my mind that a substantial number of geese would have flown within range of our guns had it not been for the constant chattering. At one point, I heard Dr. Young exclaim: "The birds can hear you!" But alas, it was to no avail.

Of course, our goose count would have been higher anyway had our aim been better. We didn't exactly put on an exhibition of marvelous shooting that morning. With all of the misfortune, we still managed to scratch out a dozen or so geese.

All in all, we had a marvelous time down on the Grand Prairie of Arkansas. We even managed to work in a trip to Macks Prairie Wings in Stuttgart, the waterfowl capital of the world. We also brought home some geese which was why we went in the first place. 'Like most of our hunting or fishing outings, it wasn't just a trip - it

Survey: Reasons for hunting are diverse

FERNANDINA BEACH, Fla. - American sportsmen hail from every walk of life imaginable, and just as they are a diverse crowd, so too are their reasons for participating in hunting. While many portray hunting as an intense effort to get game, the reality is the overall outdoor experience holds much more sway in attracting people to the sport.

To monitor long term trends, each year HunterSurvey.com inquires about hunters' motivations. The January 2013 poll found that rather than one key or leading reason that motivated sportsmen to hunt, there are actually many. And no single motivator stands completely head and shoulders above the rest. When asked "Why do you like to hunt?, respondents provided the following answers (participants could check all that apply):

• Like to spend time outdoors - 92 percent

• Enjoy seeing wildlife - 87 percent

• Enjoy the peace and quiet of the outdoors - 87 percent • Enjoy the challenge - 80 percent

• Like to spend time with friends/family who hunt - 74 percent • Like providing food for my family/friends - 70 percent

• Other - 9 percent

"This matches recent in-depth NSSF research that showed hunters go afield for fun, social and outdoor reasons. From spending time with family and friends outdoors to the peace and solitude of being alone in nature, hunting is much more than taking game," says Rob Southwick, president of Southwick Associates, which designs and conducts the surveys at HunterSurvey.com, ShooterSurvey.com andAnglerSurvey.com. "Future efforts to increase hunting, or to successfully promote hunting-related products and services, must emphasize fun, social interactions and the total outdoor experience hunting provides."

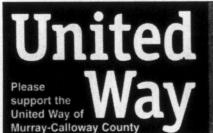

To help continually improve, protect and advance angling and other outdoor recreation, all sportsmen and sportswomen are encouraged to participate in the surveys at HunterSurvey.com, ShooterSurvey.comand/or AnglerSurvey.com. Each month, participants who complete the survey are entered into a drawing for one of five $100 gift certificates to the sporting goods retailer of their

Fishing tournament registration now

BUCHANAN, Tenn. — Sealy Outdoors is once again bringing the Big Bass Splash, the world's largest amateur big bass fishing tournament, to Paris Landing Aug. 17-18.

To kick off the tournament season, Sealy's has announced their joint marketing agreement with B.A.S.S. to market and promote the Big Bass Splash series of events. This joint venture will not only help bass fishing grow and get more people involved in fishing, but it will allow the event weigh-ins (including the Paris Landing tournament) to be streamed live on www.Bassmaster.com and all events will be covered by B.A.S.S. media.

During the tournament, amateurs fish from the banks, docks and boats and weigh-ins are held hourly, with the biggest bass each hour earning a share of the prize money. In addition to catching a big fish each hour of the tournament, prizes will be awarded for exact weighs, early bird entries, random elimination drawing and optional bonus games. Last year, $75,000 in cash and prizes was given away at Paris

Landing with the tournament concluding with Ricky Hale, of Dover, Tenn., winning a new Triton boat for bringing in the biggest catch of the two-day tournament: 7.94 pounds. Five dollars of every entry fee for the Paris Landing event goes to support the Ronald McDonald houses in Nashville, Tenn., and

OVC TOURNAMENT: MURRAY STATE 81, EASTERN KENTUCKY 73

MURRAY STATE ROLLS PAST EASTERN KENTUCKY; FACES BRUINS IN FINAL

By RICKY MARTIN Sports Editor

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- It's the highest Latreze Mushatt has jumped since July.

Coincidentally, it might have been the best Murray State has played all season.

With 11:38 left to play in Friday night's second Ohio Valley Conference Tournament semifinal, Mushatt saw an open lane. And the fifth-year senior made Eastern Kentucky pay.

Mushatt scooped the ball up with two hands, jumped toward the rim and threw down a thunderous two-handed dunk. His slam -- the first since rupturing his Achilles' in mid-July -pushed the Racers in front 59-51 and helped fuel an 81-73 Murray State victory.

"That's probably the highest I've jumped since the injury," a smiling Mushatt said. "They opened up the lane and it was my time, it was my chance to drive and I just had to finish. No matter what, I knew I had to finish. I didn't want coach to get on me for missing. It felt good though, to be able to dunk in a

And if Mushatt set the table, Isaiah Canaan delivered dessert.

On EKU's next possession, Stacy Wilson stripped the ball from Orlando Williams and found Canaan, who was streaking toward the rim. Canaan put one foot inside the paint and took off, rocking the rim one more time, sending nearly 4,000 Murray State fans into an

Cats face gut check

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) -Kentucky has been knocked on its heels again after two straight road losses, a major blow to the defending national champion's postseason hopes.

It's time for another gut check - or for this team, a series of gut checks.

"It's a one-game season, and it will be every game we play from here on out," Kentucky coach John Calipari said Friday. 'Are you going to fight like heck, play through the ups and downs of a game, or are you going to die? I can't put it any more plainly or bluntly.

"You don't know what's going to happen until the game starts with this crew."

The Bluegrass Nation won't have to wait long to find out.

The Wildcats host No. 11 Florida Saturday in their Southeastern Conference finale. The showdown loomed large before the setbacks, including Thursday's 72-62 loss at Georgia. Now, while Kentucky (20-10, 11-6) desperately needs a win, beating the SEC regular season champion Gators (24-5, 14-3) will be tough unless the Wildcats turn things around in a Florida drilled Kentucky 69-52 in Gainesville on Feb. 12, the game in which Kentucky freshman Nerlens Noel sustained a season-ending knee injury. The Wildcats are 3-3 without their dominating big man.

Sitting on the NCAA tournament bubble and time running out on the season, Calipari laid it all out for his players.

Kentucky has faced urgency since losing Noel and then getting pounded at Tennessee in its first game without him. The Wildcats recovered to win the next three including an 85-55 rout of Mississippi State nine days ago, an efficient, dominant performance that suggested they finally had adjusted to life without Noel. But then, as they have done each time they have shown improvement, the Wildcats took a step back.

committing After turnovers in a 73-60 loss at Arkansas last Saturday, the Wildcats shot 6 of 26 from 3point range (23 percent) while allowing Georgia to hit 7 of 15 from beyond the arc.

Calipari and his players tripped over each other taking blame for losing to a sub-.500 Bulldogs team: The coach shouldered the weight for his players' lack of cohesion this late in the season, while several Wildcats questioned their lack of toughness in a game they needed to win.

"I'm probably disappointed in myself because I realize I could give more effort out there," said forward Alex Poythress, who had just four points and four rebounds against Georgia. "I feel this season I kind of let some things go by ... not going all out sometimes. You know, it's time to change."

That's true, Kentucky needs somebody to step up against the Gators to lead the Wildcats to the quality win they need to make a legitimate case for an atlarge tournament bid — if they can't win the SEC tournament. And if bruising some egos is what it takes to get teammates going, guard Julius Mays is OK with that.

"As the season goes on we've had more guys buying in, but we just haven't had that full buy-in," said the fifth-year senior, who will be honored on Senior Day along with injured guard Twany Beckham.

"But even when we think we do, we always take two steps back. Now, it's come to the point where it's do-or-die for us.'

Tiger romps at Doral

DORAL, Fla. (AP) - Tiger Woods struggled on the practice range, and he didn't feel much better two holes into his second round Friday at the Cadillac Championship. He would not have guessed this would be the day to set a personal record for birdies, much less wind up with a two-shot lead.

"All I need is one shot," he said. "And as soon as I feel it on one, I can pretty much carry through. And I did that today."

It was a 4-iron on the par-3 fourth hole, the toughest on the Blue Monster.

Woods hit a bullet with a slight fade at the left edge of the green and heard the crowd cheer as the slope and the grain took the ball to within 4 feet for

And just like that, he was on

World Golf In Championship with the biggest names in the hunt, Woods ran off six birdies in an eight-hole stretch around the turn in a clean, crisp exhibition. That sent him to a 7-under 65 and a twoshot lead over former U.S. Open champion Graeme McDowell. Woods has made 17 birdies in two rounds, his most ever on the PGA Tour, though that wasn't the most important number. "It left me a two-shot lead,"

Woods said. He was at 13-under 131, his lowest 36-hole score on tour since the 2009 AT&T National. Woods followed that 4-iron with a wedge he stuffed to inside 2 feet. He added a collection of 10- to 15-foot birdie putts, and ended his big run with another 4-iron with a totally different shape, this one high and soft to 15 feet on the 224-yard 13th hole. Those par 3s ranked as the two toughest at Doral on Friday, and he birdied them both.

A birdie-birdie finish by McDowell gave him a 67 and prevented a dream final group for the weekend at Doral -Woods and longtime nemesis Phil Mickelson.

Mickelson, sparked by a visit to Augusta National earlier in stopped inches from dropping for a hole-in-one on the par-3 ninth. He had a 67 and was three shots behind, along with Steve Stricker (67).

Rory McIlroy showed signs of turning the corner with a 69, although he ended with a sloppy three-putt bogey. It was his first round under par this year, a small consolation for the world's No. 1 player. He was still 11 shots behind Woods.

Woods, who once owned these WGCs, has not won the last 10 he's played. But after a key putting tip from Stricker on Wednesday afternoon, Woods looks as comfortable as ever on a Blue Monster course where he has won three times.

"It's going to be tough to catch him," Stricker said. "We all know when he gets out in front, he's tough to catch and tough to beat. Looks like he's playing well. Looks like all parts of his game are working. Yeah, he's going to be tough to catch."

The toughest part of the weekend might be the Blue

The greens already are firm and crusty under a week of sunshine and dry air. Woods, McDowell and most everyone else expects it to only get worse.

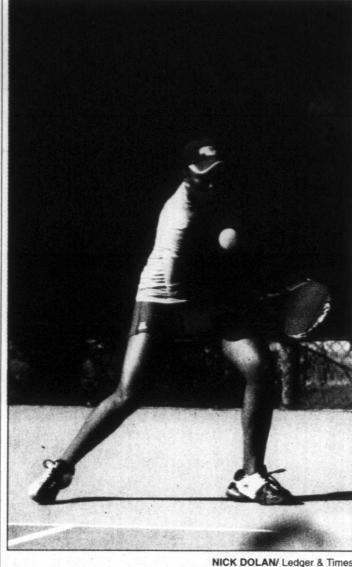

"I guess they can let this place go since they're going to tear it up on Monday," McDowell said.

Donald Trump, who bought the resort a year ago, plans a big makeover on the Blue Monster with construction to start right after the tournament. If that's the case, it could be reminiscent of Bay Hill a year ago, where Woods outlasted McDowell on the final day

"It basically was a U.S. Open that broke out in Orlando," Woods said. "We don't get too many opportunities where the weather cooperates, where they can push the golf course to a point where it's pretty tough like

Not that he would mind. Woods has thrived on the toughest courses over the years, one reason he has 14 majors.

"I'm sure a lot of people wanted to see this matchup," Canaan said about the Bruins, tonight's foe. "We got it tomorrow. They are a new team coming in (to the league) and they are a good team. Colonel head coach Jeff Neubauer said a few things changed from EKU's 77-65 victory in Murray on Jan. 9, and said some emotion may have carried over for the Racers from that loss.

"I think sometimes that, that can have an affect, when a team plays well on another team's court," he said. "That certainly can motivate, and that could be part of it. But again, I think a lot of it comes down to their defense tonight. It was very good and we ended up, I think our field goal percentage defense was around 60 percent, and so that's not who we have been throughout the season."

As if Murray State needed any silver lining in Friday night's victory, senior Ed Daniel played only 14 minutes due to foul trouble and he still finished with nine points and six rebounds. The Racers went on a 14-4 run with Daniel on the bench, and the All-OVC forward should be more fresh for today's championship game after playing sparingly Friday night.

Senior Stacy appeared to have righted whatever wrong was in his game with a 17-point performance, and Brandon Garrett joined Wilson and Canaan in double-figures with 11 points. Garrett added six rebounds in his 31 minutes -most of which came because of Daniel's foul trouble.

Eric Stutz led Eastern Kentucky with 18 points and five boards, while Mike DiNunno wrapped up his OVC

"I'm extremely proud of our guys," Murray State head coach Steve Prohm said. "Eastern Kentucky beat us up pretty good early in the year, and our guys did a good job of responding and our seniors had great leadership.

"Now we are 40 minutes from our goal, but we have to beat a tremendous team to get there."

Murray State defeated Belmont 79-74 in the team's only meeting this season.

Mason Scott celebrated his first birthday with a party at Pagliai's Pizza, Jan. 13, where friends and family attended. Four generations were represented with Gail Gallimore, Mason's great-grandmother, holding him; James Gallimore, Mason's grandfather; and Chase Gallimore, Mason's father.

MATH AND READING NIGHT

North Calloway Elementary recently held an after school event called "Math and Reading Night" in which students could participate in a variety of math-related activities and games that were taught by Murray State students from Greg Gierhart's EDU 400 class, Practicum in Teaching Mathematics. They could also take Accelerated Reader tests and double their points at the event. Once the children completed enough games, they were eligible for door prizes. Pictured are second-grader, Dalton Puckett, recipient of an insulated 31 lunch bag and $10 gift certificate; fifth-grader, Briley Scott, winner of a $50 gas card; and second-grader, Madison Johnson, recipient of a 31 tote and $10 gift certificate. Not pictured is secondgrader, JoJo Griffy, winner of a $50 gas card. The 31 products were donated for the event by Wendy Tudor, and the gas cards were donated by Newcomb Oil Company/Five Star Food Marts.

HANDKERCHIEF PROJECT

During the February program of the West Kentucky/Tennessee Chapter of Embroiderers' Guild of America, Lois Ruiz and Carla Rexroat demonstrated how an heirloom handkerchief, doily or napkin can be made into a keepsake envelope for gifts and family memories. Ruiz donated the handkerchiefs from her mother's vast collection. Her mother, Lydia Claridge, worked for Indiana Bell Telephone for 45 years, starting at the age of 17 as a ring-down operator at home. When she came later to Ohio Bell, she and the other workers were required to wear a dark suit to work. "So, she added tatting and fine crochet to colorful handkerchiefs and wore them in the pocket of her jacket every day," said Posy Lough, a member of the group. "Our members were honored to share them for our project," Lough added. West Kentucky/Tennessee Stitchers meets the second Monday of each month in the education building of the Murray First Methodist Church.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. Basically, I don't like me. I am self-conscious about my weight, my face, my personality. I'm not pretty. I have heard so many times I should "just be myself" that I am sick of it! I don't want to be myself because I don't like myself. All of my friends are either few suggestions, and the first is to stop being your own worst enemy. The more you dwell on what you think you lack, the more you will amplify those things. Find one thing you like about yourself and build from there.

Because you're self-conscious about your weight, do something about it by adopting a healthy eating and exercise plan. While you may not be a cover girl, you can be well-groomed. More important than being "witty" is to be a good listener. Remember that. and people will think you are a great conversationalist.

The more you brood about yourself, the lonelier you will become. The more you think about helping others, the less time you will have to think about yourself.

We have gone round and round about this to the point of exhaustion. Should I let this go or continue to insist that their relationship be redefined? -- UNEASY

DEAR UNEASY: Looking from the outside in, I suspect that your wife is enjoying all the attention she's receiving from this young man. She's in her mid-40s and it has to be flattering. This is not to imply that the communications will lead to anything more. So step back, find your sense of humor and try to be less heavyhanded until this blows over. Because it will.

DEAR ABBY: My stepfather died recently. I found out when I saw his obituary in the newspaper. It described him as a "loving husband and father," and while I know that's a fairly generic epitaph, nothing about it is true. He was an alcoholic who had several affairs while married to my mother. He also abused me and my stepsiblings physically and sexually.

It's bad enough that he died without having to face the consequences of his actions, but it kills me to know that "loving husband and father" is how our community and history will remember him now that he's gone. Is there anything I can do to get some form of the truth out there? ANGRY IN TENNESSEE

DEAR ANGRY: Yes, there is. Just keep talking and the word will get around.

Dr. Anthony Komaroff

S A D seems to be triggered by more limited exposure to daylight. Typically, it comes on during the late fall or winter months and subsides in the spring. Symptoms are similar to general depression. They include lethargy, loss of interest in once-pleasurable activities, interpersonal problems with friends and family members, irritability, inability to concentrate, and a change in sleeping patterns, appetite or both. The mainstay of SAD treatment is light therapy, also called phototherapy. This involves daily sessions of sitting close to a special light source that is far more intense than normal indoor light. The recommendation is typically to get 30 minutes of exposure to an intensity of 10,000 lux (a measure of light) each day. But not everyone needs that much expo-

In this therapy, the light must enter through your eyes to be effective. Some people feel better after only one light treatment, but most people require at least a few days of treatment. Some people even need several weeks. You can buy light therapy boxes without a prescription, but I recommend working with a professional who can monitor your Side effects are mild for many patients, but may be more of a concern for others. In people who are vulnerable, bright light may trigger a so-called manic episode of abnormally elevated mood. That's why mood-stabilizing medications are often recommended while undergoing light therapy. Likewise, since rashes can result. let your doctor know about any skin conditions that seem to be made worse by exposure to sun.

Does light therapy work any better for SAD than antidepressant pills? There are few studies of this question. For some of my patients, the choice of light therapy is based on a desire to avoid pills: Light therapy seems more natural.

In my experience, light therapy doesn't work for everyone with SAD. Clearly, some people are more likely to respond positively, but we don't yet have any way of knowing who they are. One exception to that statement: If a person has responded positively to light therapy in the past, he or she is likely to benefit again in the future.

If light therapy doesn't work for you, along with antidepressants you should consider a form f talk therapy called cognitive be avioral therapy. For some people, combining these treatments with light therapy works better than any one of them individual-

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS TO HELP OTHERS

Dear Heloise: Here in Ohio, neighbors and friends TAKE FOOD TO THE FAMILY'S HOME when there is a death. There was enough food within two days to overflow three refrigerators.

All was greatly appreciated. However, adding to the stress was the additional kitchen duty of cleaning baked-on foodstuff, and dishes and pans we had to try to label for return. Also, "helpers" may not be able to properly label dishes. People called in three weeks wanting to know if we had their dish, the lid was missing when a dish was returned, or they received a dish that was not theirs. This certainly adds to stress.

It would be helpful when you want to help to:

* Call to determine if food is needed. Maybe in a couple of weeks, the family would really appreciate a prepared meal, a sack of groceries, or to be taken out for a bite to eat. Kindnesses can be extended for a month or two.

* Take food only in disposable containers.

* A wonderful friend brought a supply of disposable cups and glasses, dessert and dinner plates, soup bowls, forks and spoons, napkins, paper towels, plastic wrap, aluminum foil, food and kitchen garbage bags.

* A neighbor volunteered to have a supply of ice cubes ready for use.

* Frozen foods (pizza, lasagna, etc.), if not immediately needed, can be put in a freezer for later surely help many people who want to do "something" but aren't sure what to bring. In our girlfriend circle, I'm the one who brings the paper products (including toilet paper!) and keeps the kitchen trash from overflowing. Others bring ice and soft drinks, and we each have a role we do checking the bathroom, picking up cups and plates, etc. You are absolutely right: These efforts probably are welcome a few months later, and maybe even more so. There are only so many pies, cakes and cookies that can be consumed.

 Heloise HANDY E-READER

Dear Heloise: I have an ereader that I take on vacation to cut the weight and bulk of books I used to carry. A beach vacation made me find a way to protect it from sand and surf.

I take off the cover and put the e-reader into a zipper-top bag and seal. I can work all of the pages and read without removing the bag. It keeps the book free of sand and dirt. -Judy McMullan in Houston

Horoscope

BIRTHDAY Monday, March 11, 2013:

This year your creativity flourishes and evolves. Others look to you for resolutions to their problems. Your dynamic mental perspective translates into high energy. Choose where you would like to focus your emotional and intellectual assets. You have a lot going for you, and many people admire your style. If you are single, you can afford to be discriminating when it comes to romantic suitors. If you are attached, your passion comes through in many ways, especially toward your sweetie. PISCES always wants to help or be helped. The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so;

1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)  Take some time to reflect on an important decision. You might have mixed feelings when someone comes to you and shares a personal matter. Think carefully before you react. You are about to greet a new beginning in your life; embrace it posi-

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) * A meeting could indirectly trigger a decision that points to a new path. You might find that others seem unusually supportive. Don't be surprised if you receive a touching compliment or two. Conversations will go in the direction you choose.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)  A long-desired fresh start finally becomes possible. You might care a lot about a superior or a parent and want to share your feelings with this person. Opportunities will arise -- most likely involving your work -because of your positive energy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)  Listen to your sixth sense when dealing with a friend or loved one. Talk to someone you respect to get feedback about a decision. The more information you have, the surer you will be about the course you want to take.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)  Deal with others directly on matters involving money and/or relationships. New beginnings become possible when brainstorming with others. You by Jacqueline Bigar even might reverse a stance and approach a matter quite differently as a result. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 Others come forward and have a lot to share. Don't think that someone's decision is a given, if it involves you. Lighten up about a change. A new beginning will become possible if you do. Indulge a loved one -- he or she will appreciate the attention.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)  Recognize that a loved one might have a lot going on right now. Do your best to chip in and help, yet honor your limits. Be clear about what you expect from someone. If you want to proceed with some offbeat diet, check in with-your doctor first.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)  Your solutions, though perhaps dynamic and workable. might evoke trepidation in someone. You have the ability to help this person work through his or her fear of risk-taking. He or she will be grateful for your efforts. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)  Stay close to home if possible. You might want to instrument a change in your household, or maybe you just need some more downtime. Someone genuinely admires your work ethic. You can't replace this person's appreciation for your CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) * Verbalize your wishes in such a way that others will "get" your message. You might decide to take a workshop to improve your communication style -- not because you have a problem, but because you care about others. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ★★★★ Follow a suggestion involving your budget. Buy a token of affection or a card for a loved one. You don't need a reason. Be open to approaching a financial situation in a new way, especially if what you are doing now is not working. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

* You express unusual grace and caring. Use this gift well to clear up an awkward situation. Resolutions and commitments made today are likely to succeed. Start a diet, or choose a different area that you would like to transform.
