COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To the Citizens of Cheshire County:

The commissioners of the county of Cheshire hereby submit their annual report for the year ending December 31, 1909, together with the reports of the superintendent of Maplewood Home, chaplain, sheriff, physician, jailer, solicitor, treasurer, auditors, and clerk of the superior court.

The county buildings are now in good repair. They are warm and comfortable for the inmates, and every precaution is taken to guard against fires.

The payments on commissioners' orders during the year are given in the semi-annual settlements as audited. A summary of all the expenses for the year is also given.

In 1901 the county delegation voted an appropriation to have the records in the register of deeds office reindexed. The work was begun under the direct supervision of Charles C. Buffum, and was carried on from year to year until its completion during the past summer.

This has been a work long needed, and we now have an index second to none in New England, and one that those who have occasion to search the records can appreciate.

Our thanks are due to Mr. Buffum for the painstaking and efficient manner with which he has completed the work.

Some one hundred volumes of the records have been rebound, and the leaves repaired, and the writing preserved so that they will last and be legible for years.

We have been fortunate both for the interest of the county and the comfort and welfare of the inmates in retaining the services of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Whitman as superintendent and matron of the Home, they having as heretofore given the best of satisfaction. We appreciate their services rendered and the interest shown by their courteous assistance.

We cordially invite everyone interested in the welfare of the county to visit the Home, and any suggestions conducive to the county's interests will receive careful consideration from us.

The number of persons receiving county aid in the different towns as rendered to us by the different overseers of the poor is two hundred and fifteen. The amount given to each is small, but the aggregate is large, yet the actual needs of these destitute families must be supplied and enough given to keep them from suffering.

There is an opinion manifest among the citizens and overseers of the poor, that those asking assistance can be supported in their own towns for the same price per week as at the Home, that it would be just as well for the county to do so, but our opinion is that whenever such poor people become sick their friends as a general rule soon realize it is not their duty to wear themselves out caring for them without ample compensation, and sometimes at an expense of ten, fifteen or twenty dollars per week. Whereas, were they at the Home the cost of their support would be no more than for any inmate, and at the same time they would receive better nursing, doctoring and accommodations every way than before coming there to live. There is a manifest disposition to keep away from the Home as long as possible, although we frequently hear from those settled there such remarks as "This is the best home I ever had," and "I wish I had come before." The cost of providing for the Home in help and supplies is kept down to the minimum, while the addition of more of those supported outside would not materially increase the expense of maintaining the Home.

The shortage in the hay and corn crops for the past year constitutes a large item in the maintenance of the Home.

During the past ten years all of the necessaries of life have greatly increased in price, and this has largely increased the expenses of the Home.

Rev. R. A. Burrows has ministered at the Home and S. S. Quinn has rendered like service at the jail, and they have so faithfully attended to the spiritual welfare of the inmates that they have our gratitude.

James A. Craig, M. D., has continued faithfully to administer the wants of the afflicted at the Home, and Charles S. Walker, M. D., for the outside poor for the city of Keene; for their efficient services and attention they have our heartfelt thanks.

During the past season we have repainted the jail, and otherwise improved it. It remains under the efficient management of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tuttle. We have found that it is well kept, that the food furnished is of good quality and of sufficient quantity, and a general cleanliness throughout the institution. To them we extend our sincere thanks.

In conclusion we wish to thank the other county officials and the overseers of the poor in the small towns for their hearty cooperation and watchful care of all county matters, and hope that no deserving poor will suffer for the necessities of life. We wish to thank the citizens for their kindly suggestions and cheerful assistance.

DANIEL R. COLE,
HOSEA W. BRIGHAM,
FORREST W. HALL,
Commissioners.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners for Cheshire County:

Gentlemen:—At the close of another year I have pleasure in submitting to you my report as chaplain of Maplewood Home. During the year I have officiated at three funerals, and conducted seventeen Sunday afternoon services, which have had an average attendance of thirty-six. Evidences of these services being productive of good feeling, and of moral and spiritual profit in the lives of their attendants have been clear and abundant as far as oral testimonies reckon. The interest evinced by the inmates in the services, their words of appreciation spoken to me, and the kind and cordial manner in which Superintendent Whitman and his loyal and devoted wife have always received me, have made my visits to Maplewood Home a real pleasure to myself.

Only one thing I regret, namely, we are unable to secure the attendance of convicts at the services. But your superintendent has given me a reason for this which I admit is tangible. Desiring, however, to reach these inmates of the house of correction, with the transforming gospel of the grace of God. I made special visits to the home in the early months of the year, moved amongst these men, and succeeded in gathering as many as were at liberty at the time into the smoke-room and there read and talked and sang the gospel to them, and a more attentive audience there could not be. At the close of each service it was my joy and privilege to have with them, I received from several the encouraging words, "Thank you. Come again soon." These words assured me that the services were enjoyed by the prisoners, and were making impressions for good upon their minds. From the smoke-room service I went into the sitting room of the male inmates of the larger house, where I held another service for another class of men whom we had not been able to attract to the Sunday services. Here again I was warmly welcomed, and my talk was listened to with an attention that was encouraging, and here again I was thanked heartily for the service and asked to come again soon. Invariably on these occasional visits I left with each man present at the services a gospel tract, and in each room some good literature, and on one occasion two or three Bibles. Only a lack of means for travelling to and from the home prevented me from continuing these special week day meetings. To walk the distance is beyond my physical ability. In these special efforts I had the moral sympathy, support and encouragement of Mr. Whitman, which I greatly and gratefully appreciated. My report would not be complete perhaps, if I did not mention that one Sunday afternoon in July I took with me to the Home a number of my Sunday school girls to give to the inmates a "children's concert." This was much enjoyed by all present. The children themselves were delighted to render this service, and no less pleased were they with the reception given them and the generous hospitality offered them at the close by Mr. and Mrs. Whitman. Wishing for yourselves, gentlemen, both in your private and public life and work in the county of Cheshire, a bright and prosperous new year, I beg to remain,

Yours respectfully,

R. A. BURROWS,

Chaplain.

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit my report as physician at Maplewood Home, for the year beginning January 1, 1909, and ending December 31, 1909.

I desire to thank the superintendent, Mr. A. A. Whitman, and matron, Mrs. Whitman, the county commissioners, and all employes for their kindness and courtesy during the year.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Cheshire, ss.

Keene, January 20, 1910.

We hereby certify that we have examined the accounts of the county commissioners, superintendent of county farm and county treasurer for the year ending December 31, 1909. and find the same to be properly cast with legal vouchers on file for all disbursements, and we believe the expenditures have been made in accordance with statute provisions.

SOLICITOR'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners for the County of Cheshire:

Gentlemen:—I beg leave to submit herewith my report as solicitor for the year beginning January 1, 1909, and ending December 31, 1909.

At the April 1909 term in the superior court the following cases were disposed of:

Edgar W. Laramour, bigamy; pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state prison.

Elmer W. Oliver, larceny; case placed on file in the hope that the young man had received a lesson and would make a useful citizen if clemency were extended.

Fred Hall, pleaded guilty to indictment for burglary and was sentenced to state prison. This was a companion case to that of Oliver, but as Hall had a criminal record and had previously been given an opportunity to reform, it was thought best to confine him.

Michael Donovan and Leslie Arthur were indicted for burglary in the plant of the Brattleboro Overall Co. They pleaded guilty and their cases were continued for sentence. Both are young boys. Their parents are poor and the interests of justice seemed to require that they be given an opportunity to reform. To date, there has been no further trouble from them.

Edmund Casey pleaded guilty to larceny and was sent to state prison. A case against him had been previously placed on file.

Viscek Knopaka. This was the case of a young Pole who was charged with aggravated assault upon another in North Walpole. He was indicted but the evidence was somewhat confused. He had spent several months in jail awaiting trial and a fine and costs seemed entirely adequate.

William H. Miller was indicted for adultery. Plead- ed not guilty and the jury disagreed.

Emma M. Castor was indicted for the same offence. Plead- ed guilty and the case was continued for sentence.

Harry S. Reynolds of Stoddard was indicted for illegal sale of liquor. He pleaded guilty and paid fine and costs.

Charles Carter was indicted for keeping liquor for sale in Troy and also for several specific offences. He pleaded guilty to the first and as it was a subsequent offence was sent to jail and ordered to pay a fine and costs.

Anthony Hall was indicted for keeping liquor for sale in Rindge. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine and costs.

Louis Denno was indicted for perjury in the foregoing case. Plead- ed guilty and was sent to the house of correction.

George M. Streeter was indicted for forgery, this being the second indictment found during my term as solicitor. He was not apprehended until the October term and he then plead- ed guilty and was sentenced to the state prison.

Walter Hill was indicted for burglary. Plead- ed guilty and was sent to state prison.

At the October 1909 term:

John B. Gobiell of Jaffrey was indicted for statutory rape of his two daughters. He pleaded not guilty. The case was tried, the jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to the state prison for not less than eighteen nor more than twenty years.

Thomas Smithers was indicted for bigamy. He pleaded guilty and by direction of the court paid a fine and costs.

John Tierney was indicted for keeping liquor for sale. Plead- ed guilty and was sentenced to jail by the court and to pay a fine.

John Fisher was indicted for burglary, plead- ed guilty and was sent to the house of correction.

David Stevens was apprehended. Plead guilty to the charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to the state prison for not less than nine nor more than twelve years.

There were some other indictments found at this term but none of the cases were tried. Less cases were presented to the grand jury than at any time since I have been solicitor.

An information was filed against Louis A. Butler for keeping liquor for sale in Keene. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced by the court to eight months at the house of correction and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

There have been several other cases tried in the police courts, principally for offences against the liquor laws. In some cases the offenders are now in jail. One of these is that of Louis Machette of Fitzwilliam, sent to house of correction for four months and fined $100 and costs for subsequent offence, he having just completed two months confinement on a suspended sentence.

There are now pending no civil cases in which the county is interested to which my attention has been directed in any way.

My attention has on several occasions been directed to the failure and refusal of the officers of towns, principally the selectmen, to perform the duties imposed upon them in relation to the prosecution of police offences. A favored expression of these officials to the person complaining is to advise that he take such offenders "on behalf of the state," apparently not appreciating that offences against the police of towns are to be prosecuted by the town officials. The excuse ordinarily given is that they do not wish to incur expense on behalf of the town. The worst offender in this respect is the town of Alstead. Numerous instances have been presented to me in which it has been said that the selectmen of Alstead refused to prosecute because it would cost the town something. In one case, the selectmen refused to prosecute a drunken man, who was attempting when arrested to break into the home of a widow, but required the complainant instead to pay. This attitude, and I wish to say that it is not the town of Alstead alone that is involved, is deplorable. As solicitor, I have always been willing to lend assistance in cases in which the intervention of county officials is proper and have even prosecuted offences against the police of towns in cases in which the relief which should properly come from the town officials has been denied. If such officials would properly post themselves on the duties of town officers, they would realize as they do not now that the duty of prosecuting minor offences rests upon them.

This refusal fails to recognize one of the underlying principles of our form of government—that it is the duty of the state to protect its citizens, and that each municipality owes to its citizens the duty of protecting them in their lives and property from offenders against police laws. Until a proper attitude is adopted and a sense of their responsibility realized by town officials in this respect, we cannot expect to attract and hold citizens of other states who have been accustomed to demand and receive proper police protection.

“The selectmen are the responsible officers of the town. The town is morally, in respect to obedience to law, what the selectmen make it.”—N. H. Issue. The selectmen are what the voters make them, so that the initial responsibility for proper enforcement of all laws rests upon the voters. In too many cases, instead of assuming their full responsibility, selectmen are prone to follow the line of least resistance, while, in others, they wittingly appoint officers indifferent or inimical to the enforcement of the laws which properly come within their jurisdiction. Avenues of information are open to local officials which are not within the command of county and state officers. In order, therefore, to secure that harmony of action necessary to effective enforcement, the voter, the selectmen and their appointees, and the county and state officials must be in sympathy with the law and cooperate each with the other, neither shirking nor evading the obligations of their respective offices.

Instead of being an advantage, the existence of local courts in towns, owing to the lack of legal knowledge and procedure on the part of the justices, as well as local prejudices and sympathies, has proved to be a decided handicap. It would, in my opinion, be much better and less expensive for the county if there were but one police or similar court in the county. The business could certainly be more effectively done by the county officials.

At present, fines and costs imposed by police courts are payable to the towns. In many instances the county is necessarily put to a considerable expense in prosecuting offenders before police courts. This is particularly true in the case of prosecutions for offences against the liquor laws in which more "raids" are unsuccessful than otherwise. The county gets no return for the services of the officers which it pays nor does it get any part of the fines imposed by the police courts for the prosecutions instituted or assumed by its officers. In my opinion, the law should be so amended that prosecutions begun by county officials, or those in which at the request of the original complainant the burden of prosecution is assumed by the county officials, should inure to the benefit, so far as there is any beneficial return, of the county rather than of the town. The city of Keene realizes more benefit from such prosecutions than any other place in the county at the present time. There would seem to be no just reason for this.

Recent developments in the city of Keene lead to the belief that there has been a moral awakening and that the American tendency to "take a chance" will be to some extent controlled. Certainly, nothing can be worse for the youthful generation than to encourage among them the speculative spirit.
