SCHOOL REPORT.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—Having from the selectmen received the appointment of Superintending School Committee, I entered upon its duties September last; and now, in connection with my predecessor, Dr. J. R. Kimball, present the following report of the condition of the schools for the year ending March, 1874:

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Summer Term, Grammar and Primary Departments in one room.

Miss EMILY F. TUTTLE, Teacher.

At the school meeting in the spring it was decided, by a vote of the district, to have but one school in the summer. This, it seems to me, was a mistake, as it nearly or quite doubles the duties of the teacher; and, as a consequence, renders the term—although longer, it may be—less profitable. But as it was decided to consolidate, the district was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Tuttle, who has proved herself fully equal to the emergency.

Beginning the term with two schools, she remodeled both, and formed of the two, one well regulated, working school, and the examination showed to those present good results in every respect. No one present at the examination would hesitate in pronouncing the term a success. I think it is but doing justice to the teacher to say that this has been, all things considered, the best term's work ever performed in this room. Very few, who have not been teachers themselves, realize fully the amount of labor to be performed in such a school.

Winter Term, Primary School. EMILY F. TUTTLE, Teacher.

Miss T. has fully sustained her reputation as a teacher in this school. In this department she has few equals. This district cannot safely run the risk to have any other teacher in this school, so long as her services can be secured.

Grammar School. JENNY NESMITH, Teacher.

An experienced, thorough, energetic teacher, who is not afraid of work, and has the enviable faculty of being able to inspire others to work with her. A successful term in every respect. Recitations in Analysis very superior. The improvement in writing very decided. The order faultless.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Summer Term. Miss KATIE R. PRESTON, Teacher.

Miss Preston's record as a teacher has ever been good, and her work in this school was performed with her accustomed energy. Promptness was the characteristic feature.

One thing is found in this school which is found all too often in all common schools—viz.: a tendency among parents to push their children into higher studies without even consulting the teacher as to their fitness for such promotion. I hold that a person who is capable of teaching a school is also capable of saying what are the proper studies for its pupils, after, of course, making necessary inquiries.

The examination of this, as of several others, I was unable to attend, but feel safe in saying satisfaction was given to parents and pupils.

Fall Term. KATIE R. PRESTON, Teacher.

Miss P. taught this school with her usual success, meriting and securing the approbation of all interested in having a good school. We regard her as one of the best teachers in town.

Winter Term. ABBIE C. MORSE, Teacher.

An excellent scholar, thorough teacher, a faithful worker, and devoted to the interests of the school. Those scholars who seconded the efforts of their teacher made very commendable progress. But others, careless and idle, showing a greater development of destructiveness and boisterousness in-doors and outside, degrade the school from the high standing it ought to have in view of the superior advantages here possessed.

The scholars were required to prepare and recite the lessons, and the teacher heard the recitations and gave the necessary instruction—a method we commend to several of our teachers.

The order was not up to the standard; too much whispering and disturbance generally for profit.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Summer Term. Miss ABBIE MORSE, Teacher.

For practical teaching (and this, I think, is the true teaching), Miss Morse is one of the best teachers that have ever been in your schools. Thoroughness marks every step, clearness of explanation does away with the necessity for using so much of the time in getting the scholars to understand what they pass over, and in consequence rapid and thorough progress is made.

Winter Term. MARY E. ROBERTSON, Teacher.

An amiable and kind teacher, desirous of the best interest of the school; successful in teaching the younger scholars, but lacking the energy, and, we regret to say, the thorough scholarship, desirable for such scholars as are found in that school. But the praiseworthy course pursued by the parents in sustaining the teacher made the term quite profitable. We trust that in future, by early securing known competent teachers, they may experience the satisfaction of having one of the best schools in town.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Summer Term. Miss ADDIE GOULD, Teacher.

This is one of the smallest schools in town, but was fortunately under the charge of a faithful teacher—one willing to do her whole duty, even in a small school. The school was small in numbers, but good advancement was made. No one could call the school dull, although small, for every one was at work. The term closed with a good examination.

Winter Term. Mr. F. B. ADAMS, Teacher.

A small school, but, with an excellent teacher, very profitable. Order perfect in-doors and about the house. The examination showed that the teacher had been thorough in his instructions, and the scholars studious and diligent. We trust that the services of Mr. A. will be secured for another term.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Summer Term. Miss ALMA F. SHATTUCK, Teacher.

One prominent and praiseworthy feature in this school was the fact that no lesson was allowed to pass by until it had been recited correctly. None but good results can come from a school in which this is the ruling principle; and the closing exercises showed that the rule was good in this case. The term was pleasant, profitable, and, so far as I have learned, satisfactory.

Winter Term. LUCY F. MORSE, Teacher.

Altogether too amiable a young lady for this school. The instruction was excellent, but, as we judge, not appreciated. The order in the school-room faulty, and the conduct of the scholars at recess, in-doors and outside, shameful. We counsel the parents in this district to visit their school and see how their own children conduct themselves. A teacher of the "Hopkins" stamp would not be out of place in Districts 3 and 5, for one term, at least.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Summer Term. Miss LUCY MORSE, Teacher.

Miss Morse is well calculated to succeed as a teacher—practical and thorough in her instruction, and pleasant in her method of governing her school. This was a good term's work. Teacher and pupils worked together for the good of the whole, harmony prevailed through the entire term, and the examination was evidence of constant labor and close application.

Winter Term. ALMA F. SHATTUCK, Teacher.

We endorse all said of Miss S. as a teacher in report of No. 5. The exercises of the examination were excellent; the reading superior; the order faultless.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Summer Term. Miss SADIE TANDY, Teacher.

The close of this term did not quite realize my first expectations—not from any failing or lack in the teacher, for she worked incessantly to bring the school up to her ideal. With part of the scholars she succeeded, but others could not be roused from their usual slow pace, and to these the term was not what I hoped it might be. The term was, however, a successful one, as the examination plainly showed.

Winter Term. KATIE R. PRESTON, Teacher.

As successful here as in other districts where she has taught. This school is made up in part by scholars from Deering, who bring in books not used in our schools. We suggest that if scholars out of town come into our schools, they must provide themselves with books of the same kind used by us.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

One Term. TRYPHENA P. TENNEY, Teacher.

This school has not yet closed, but is in every respect satisfactory. The few scholars composing the school are reaping the benefits of having a teacher who knows how to instruct, and daily impart knowledge that will be of the greatest utility in after life.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Summer Term. Miss NETTIE KNOWLTON, Teacher.

Miss Knowlton is young, and a beginner in the teachers' ranks; but, with correct ideas of how a school ought to be conducted, she made the term a good one. This is one of the schools whose examination I was unable to attend, but from conversation with members of the district, I think satisfaction was given to all.

Winter Term. NELLIE M. JACKSON, Teacher.

We need only say that Miss J. gave unqualified satisfaction to her patrons. She is wide awake herself, and at the examination showed a live school. We trust a brilliant career as a teacher is before her.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

One Term. MYRA E. McILVIN, Teacher.

Scholars in the district, 3; from other districts, 6—thus enabling an active, inventive teacher to keep herself employed. The school was well taught and made good progress.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Miss ABBIE CLEAVES, Teacher, both Terms.

This is another of the small schools in town, but like No. 4, fortunately had a teacher willing to do her duty, even though it be given her on a small scale. The scholars were kept at work constantly—no time was wasted—and, as a natural consequence, the progress was good. One class in Mental Arithmetic, especially, made excellent improvement. At the examination their recitations showed a thoroughness rarely seen in so young scholars. In all classes, thoroughness was the order of the day.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

One Term. ETTA F. NICHOLS, Teacher.

This town furnishes three scholars, and Hillsboro' one. The supervision of this school required the combined care and labor of two S. S. Committees and two Prudential Committees; which, united with the faithful labors of a good scholar for a teacher, has secured a good school, at an expense of $8.00 for each scholar for the term.

HIGH SCHOOL.

In the spring a term of eleven weeks was taught by our well-known and experienced teacher, James E. Vose; which gave our older scholars an opportunity to make greater advances in the higher branches, of which many availed themselves with very gratifying results. The number of scholars was about seventy-five.

Mr. V. having received a louder call to a neighboring town, the services of Miss A. C. Morse were engaged for the fall term, and a profitable school of 30 scholars was the result.

I have but a few words to say in concluding my report, but feel that it is but doing justice to the teachers to say that it rarely happens that a town is supplied with such honest, faithful teachers as this town has been during the past summer. Harmony has prevailed in each school, so far as I am informed.

No change has been made in text-books; but to make a beneficial change in respect to tardiness and absence from school, which has become a great fault in the schools in this, as well as in other towns, I established a "Roll of Honor," with this condition: "Every scholar who is not absent from school one-half day, nor tardy during the term (cases of sickness being made exceptional), shall have his or her name printed in the town report, under the heading of Roll of Honor." I find that, even during the first term of its trial, it has made a decided change for the better in each school; the instances of tardiness being very much diminished. This, of course, must make the schools more profitable.

Now, with sincere thanks to all who have so kindly and generously aided and supported me in my duties as Superintendent, and more especially to the teachers and scholars for their never-failing respect and many kindnesses shown me during my visits to their respective schools, I close my labors and connections with your schools.

Respectfully,

J. R. KIMBALL,

Superintending School Committee.

Antrim, N. H., July 29, 1873.

In addition to the suggestions of Dr. Kimball, we wish to state a few facts respecting the state of our schools, and bespeak the careful consideration of the tax-payers of the town.

In Districts Nos. 4, 8, 9, 10, 12 and 13, there are 40 scholars, making an average of 6 2-3 scholars to each district. The amount of money expended for these schools was $337.10; for each scholar, $8.43. Now we inquire if some plan should not be devised and executed, by which these districts should be united or attached to other districts, so that the money expended for teachers shall benefit a greater number of our children, and secure longer terms of school. In three of these districts, they have less than ten weeks of school in a year. In the others they have longer terms, but very few scholars to get the benefit of the instructions of their teachers. We submit these facts, and urge that something be done.

We have urged upon all the importance of giving especial attention to reading and spelling; believing that good reading and spelling is the foundation of a good education, and that without these, it is impossible to make desirable advancement in the other branches of education. We ask for co-operation of all parents in this matter—especially that they do not allow their children to take a higher grade of reading books till the lower one is mastered, can be read with fluency and be understood, Finally we plead that the earnest, continued care of all our citizens be exerted in behalf of our schools. See to it that teachers who are well educated, and who have common sense, be early secured; and then be watchful of them and of your children. Show, at home and at the school-room, that you are interested in the work.

MARK TRUE,

Superintending School Committee.

REPORT OF OVERSEER OF THE POOR.

Whole cost of poor, as per town orders,	$892 45
Bills paid for 1872,	37 50
Paid for support of poor for 1873,	$854 95

Reuben Butters, Betsey Swain, Mary A. Barker and Almira Tuttle are boarded at A. H. Greeley's, for $11.25 per week. Mrs. Barker has been at Mr. Greeley's since the 15th of August last, and has been boarded by the town since last June, her relatives refusing to aid her. A. J. Curtis left Mr. Greeley's about the first of May, and was afterward boarded at Mr. L. M. Curtis' until the 29th of July last, when he was taken to the County Farm at Wilton, where he has since been kept at $2.25 per week, which includes medical attendance. Mrs. Curtis and two children are receiving aid. Mrs. Sarah Sawyer has been helped some the past year. The list of poor orders will be found on a preceding page.

Respectfully submitted by GEORGE A. COCHRAN, Overseer.

Antrim, N. H., March 2, 1872.
