

Zotero Workshop

1. Go to <http://Zotero.org>
 - a. Register for a web account
 - i. Download the stand-alone application
 - ii. Download the Browser Connector

The stand-alone Zotero application and the browser connector work together to capture references while you search and sync your stand-alone application with your Web account.

Note: If you work in more than one browser, you might decide to download a connector for each one. Just go to Zotero.org from each browser you use.

- iii. The Microsoft Word plug-in installs automatically at the same time you download the stand-alone application (if you have Word on your computer). You might have to restart Word and/or restart your computer to see the plug-in in the menu bar.

This plug-in works with your Microsoft Word program to add and format citations in Word documents from your citation library.

Note: The Mac word processing program Pages doesn't allow for plug-ins. There are some work arounds.

2. Demo:
 - a. Search in database -> add to Zotero
 - b. Web search -> add to Zotero
 - c. Working in Word
 - d. Drag & Drop PDFs
 - e. Create bibliographies (right-click; Mac users control-click)

3. Other Resources
 - a. Zotero Research Guide: <http://libraryguides.unh.edu/zotero-durham>
 - b. Zotero Documentation: <https://www.zotero.org/support/>