Eagle Elected To Head New Ky. Artists Council

Miss Clara Eagle, art department chairman, was elected president of the Kentucky College Art Council, which was formed Thursday, April 12 in a meeting held at the Pendennis club in Louisville, according to founders of this council.

This council seeks to work through the KEA. It also seeks to implement the present state provisions for art instruction at elementary level and to aid in development of art programs at secondary level.

Thirteen of the 15 colleges in Kentucky which deal with art teachers have signified interest in such a council. Seven of these institutions had representatives at the first meeting.

In addition to college personnel, city supervisors of art and directors of art in schools and museums were also invited.

Miss Martha Christensen, city supervisor of Louisville public schools, was elected vice-president of the council. Edward W. Rennells, head of the art department at the University of Kentucky was elected secretary.

Seniors To Be School Officials for One Day

Selected Murray State seniors will, for the first time, serve as honorary administrators of all positions and departments of the college on a day to be acknowledged as Senior Day, May 12, according to an announcement by Dean J. Matt Sparkman and Ed Tilton, president of the senior class.

The senior class officers and the two senior class representatives to the Student Organization will take over the administrative duties of the college. The senior with the best grade standing in each department will become head of that department for the one day.

Senior class president Ed Tilton will act as president, while Martha Dell Sanders will be dean for a day. Dean Sealy will be dean of

Veal, Graves, Orr Win S. O. Races

Sam Veal, Vester Orr, and Carolyn Graves were elected vice-president, treasurer, and secretary, respectively of the Student Organization in a special run-off election Tuesday, April 10.

The vice-presidential race was the closest of the three with Veal winning over his opponent, Bill Wiles, by a very slim margin. Carolyn Graves defeated Barbara Brown by a substantial margin and Vester Orr won decisively over Maunone Mitchell.

Full Slate
With the selection of these three officers the personnel of the Student Organization governing body was completed. Leemon Owen (Bird Dog) Miller was elected president of the group in the regular election a week earlier, and representatives to the Student Org from the three upper classes were elected also.

In the regular election no candidate received a majority of the votes for the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, thus making necessary the run-off election to pick these officers. A total of 399 students voted in the

Neely Addresses Ag Club Meeting On Job Openings
Mr. James Neely, agriculture engineer with the Tennessee Valley authority, located at Jackson, Tenn., was speaker at the Agriculture club meeting April 10.

Neely talked to the members about the opportunities in the field of electrical engineering and pointed out that there were many openings in West Kentucky, West Tennessee, Northern Mississippi, and Northern Alabama for young men who could work with cooperative electrical distributors and power companies in the capacity of electrical advisors to the rural people who are using electrical current, according to Prof. A. Carman.

Mr. Neely referred to Emmett Thurmond, Murray State graduate, who is working in that capacity in West Tennessee. He has done a very satisfactory job in this work, according to Mr. Neely.

Mr. Neely gave demonstrations in the selection, use, and care of small electrical motors and told how to make motors useful and make them last longer.

Colius Johnson, area educational coordinator, made the arrangements for the appearance of this speaker, stated Professor Carman. About thirty members attended this meeting, according to Carman.

Student Org Begins Equipping Office

The Student Organization is in the process of equipping a new office which will be used in the future by the group as a meeting place and as official headquarters.

The new office is located on the south west corner of the Stable in Wilson hall and is the room which was formerly used as the college dark room.

The room was turned over to the Student Org when the transfer of a number of offices from Wilson hall to the Administration building was made.

Sigmatas To Have Founder's Day Banquet, Dance

The banquet will be held in observance of the fifty-third anniversary of Sigma Sigma Sigma which was founded April 20, 1898, at Farmville, Va., according to Thelma Combs, president of Alpha Chi chapter.

Nationwide Observance
All sister chapters throughout the United States will observe Founders day with a banquet on or near the anniversary date. At each banquet the same theme, "Memories of the Future," will be carried out, stated Miss Combs.

Mildred Parsons, the retiring president will serve as mistress of ceremonies. There will be no main speaker, but the program will be made up of musical numbers, toasts, and speakers, according to Miss Combs.

Murray State Welcomes High School Seniors To Its Campus Today

College Qualification Test To Be Given Here

The Selective Service College Qualification test will be given at Murray State college as well as other centers throughout the United States on May 26, June 16 and June 30, as previously announced.

Dr. Ralph H. Woods told the chapel audience April 11 that there are two bases by which young men may become eligible to be deferred by the local Selective Service board: One is to take the test and make a score of 70 or more; the other is on the basis of grades made in the respective classes.

The upper half of the 1950-51 freshman class, the upper two-thirds of the sophomore and the upper three-fourths of the junior class will be eligible for deferment, he said.

Seniors are eligible for deferment to attend Graduate school if they rank in the upper half of the class or make a score of 75 or more on the test. People who are already in Graduate school can continue.

Advise Taking Test
It should be emphasized, said Doctor Woods, that a student may become eligible for deferment on the basis of his grades or by taking the test, but the advice of Selective Service is for all young men, other than veterans who have completed a year in college, to take the test on one of the three dates.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, announced this week that the Kilday amendment, leaving deferment up to local boards, did not impair plans for giving the test or making use of scores. He further stated that drafting college men this spring would be delayed until scholastic standing and test scores are available.

President Woods emphasized, in his talk to the students, that these plans which may permit the deferment or postponement of induction of young men into the armed forces are based purely on the national interest and not on the individual's interest and not on the interest of the institution he may attend.

The Herrin band, winner of the high school band contest held in connection with high school day on November 4, performed before a Murray audience at the half-time of the Murray-Morehead football game.

Industrial Arts Building Given New Brick Facing

The industrial arts building is getting a new front—and rear.

The outside of the building is being covered with brick to replace the old imitation brick siding, and according to I. H. Key, superintendent of building and grounds, the work is almost completed.

A colonial style entrance will be added to the building in the near future, Mr. Key stated.

The Doors Are Open

Today there are more than 2,000 high school seniors on our campus, and to them we say "Welcome." We have thrown open our doors today so that you, the high school senior, may get to know Murray State.

We think that the interest you are showing in higher education by your visit today is a good sign for the future. Despite the uncertainties of the time, you are showing that you feel higher education is a necessity in your life and that you will make every effort to obtain it.

As you look about you, what do you see? Perhaps you see a campus; a group of buildings, large numbers of college students walking to and from class. Look at our fine buildings, talk to our students. Perhaps they will tell you what you want to know about college or Murray.

You were all given a "kit" of information on the offerings of Murray State's departments. Does this kit tell you what you want to know? Perhaps? We think there might be some broader things you will wonder about.

The spirit of a school, and by that we mean the feeling of belonging to it, is important. Have you wondered how you would feel about college or Murray? Murray's students have a pride in their school and its achievements even though they, like everyone else, may complain at times about minor things.

Have you wondered about the faculty you will be under? You can look at the catalog and see their degrees and background, but will it tell you how much you will enjoy being under any of them? We think you will look long and hard to find such men as Dr. C. S. Lowry, Dr. Walter E. Blackburn, and Dr. Herbert Halpert, MSC's Guggenheim fellowship winner. They will stimulate you mentally and you will be the better for it.

Have you wondered about the social life? Murray State has a social committee composed of students just as interested in social activities as you are. Every semester there is a big name band dance, just to cite one of the many activities.

Athletically Murray State has a proud tradition, and at present is the holder of three championships for 1950 in the Ohio Valley conference, one for football, and two for basketball (regular season and tournament).

Athletics are not everything, social activities are not everything, studies are not everything. Murray State has a well rounded group of religious clubs which offer an active and worthwhile program which is necessary for the complete individual.

Have you wondered about anything we have not wondered about? If so, let us know. Again we say we are glad to see you around and let us hope you will be in college next fall.

You Can Do It Too

Each year Murray State college honors those who have been outstanding in their work or in extra-curricular activities, and for high school seniors and collegians alike we would like to point out what can be won at MSC.

Heading the list of honors each year is the key awarded the "Outstanding Senior Boy" and the key given the "Outstanding Senior Girl." Last year's winners were notable and illustrate what can be done. To cite one: Robert W. (Bill) Taylor, was Student Org president, editor of the College News, a member of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," president of Kappa Pi, and chairman of the social committee.

Many departments offer awards to the best student either for departmental work or an extra-curricular activity conducted by the department. Some of these are "Outstanding Journalists" (boy and girl), "Outstanding Industrial Artist," Commerce club's "Outstanding Senior," "Outstanding Senior Chemist," "Outstanding Student of the Year" in the art department, Sock and Buskin's "Outstanding Dramatics Students," home economics "Outstanding Students," and speech awards (debate).

Two musical groups give awards, the Vivace club naming the "Outstanding Senior Girl" and "Outstanding Senior Boy," and Sigma Alpha Iota making a "Scholastic Award."

Two sororities name outstanding members, Alpha Sigma Alpha naming its "Alpha Girl" and "Fidelity Award" winner and Sigma Sigma Sigma its "Girl of the Year."

Wells hall names its "Ideal Freshman" every year at Christmastime and she is honored along with the others on Honors day. Kelta Alpha fraternity names its "Outstanding Pledge," who is also given recognition.

Delta Lambda Alpha, an honorary fraternity for freshman women (2.5 standing) has its membership recognized on the day, as does the group which has won inclusion in the volume "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," a high honor given to only 15 students annually from Murray State.

As the old leaders move on, it is up to new blood to step in and take over. College is a wonderful place to show your ability. Remember though that even if you do not win an award, you will have contributed to MSC and gained yourself, for it would be a less enjoyable place if there were no student plays, student written newspapers, student produced musical shows, student directed social activities, and so on.

May We Elucidate?

By Carl May

"Shed a tear for Murray's moat; no more on its waters will the wild duck float."

So might say the poet. Not being a poet I can't be sure. The fact remains, however, that the moat is no more, and even if wild ducks DIDN'T float on its surface the thought is one which fairly reeks of poetic beauty and originality. Besides that, it rhymes.

Inasmuch as I am a person who is not easily moved to the writing of verse, perhaps a small word of explanation for the above little masterpiece is fitting. Who could help being inspired by the arresting sight of a bulldozer gracefully shoving dirt into an old, beloved friend? So, immediately I decided to commemorate the event with a few well chosen words which cannot help but tug at the heartstrings of future readers who also loved that dear friend.

Think what a wave of nostalgia the mere word "moat" will bring to you twenty years from now. Students from other schools will have memories only of trees, lawns, and buildings. Ah, not so with us! In addition to those, we can also cherish in our mind's eye the unforgettable sight of those huge brown mounds of earth; of those beautiful, rustic plank bridges, of the calm, still, peaceful, placid, stagnant water.

Think how many tears will be shed for the poor wild duck who will have no place to land in the future, and who must keep flying, with no sign of a haven of refuge on which to land and float. And think of the sad plight of the student of the future who can never know the pleasure of gazing down from a precarious perch atop a bridge at the gently undulating waves of liquid mud following a heavy rain.

We loved that moat. It was a never ending source of inspiration to one and all. It was an unending topic of conversation which always invoked, from each passer-by, a friendly reply and some spirited speculation as to how long it might be there. For we knew in our hearts that someday, like the Model T, it would have to go. Somehow that day always seemed far in the future, but now it has finally arrived and the moat is gone.

Now people will have to revert once again to the weather as a topic of conversation. No longer can they complain of the extra steps necessary to reach the bridges which provided the only means of crossing. No longer can hardy souls collect beads from their seething friends by diving, fully clothed, into the goosy mud.

Some sneered and said that it was only a ditch, dug to entomb a new steam pipeline to carry heat to the various buildings on the campus. Those are the people who do not appreciate the beauty of a sunset or a spring day! That moat in its own little muddy way, had a true, dignified beauty that defied description. It was already acquiring a rich tradition, and who knows? Someday fables and folk songs might have been written about it. It is difficult to overestimate its power over the imagination.

But now it is gone. And we add a last line to our verse, thus ending our sad lament: "Shed a tear for Murray's moat; no more on its waters will the wild duck float; that's all she wrote."

Civil Service Announces Jobs Opened Recently

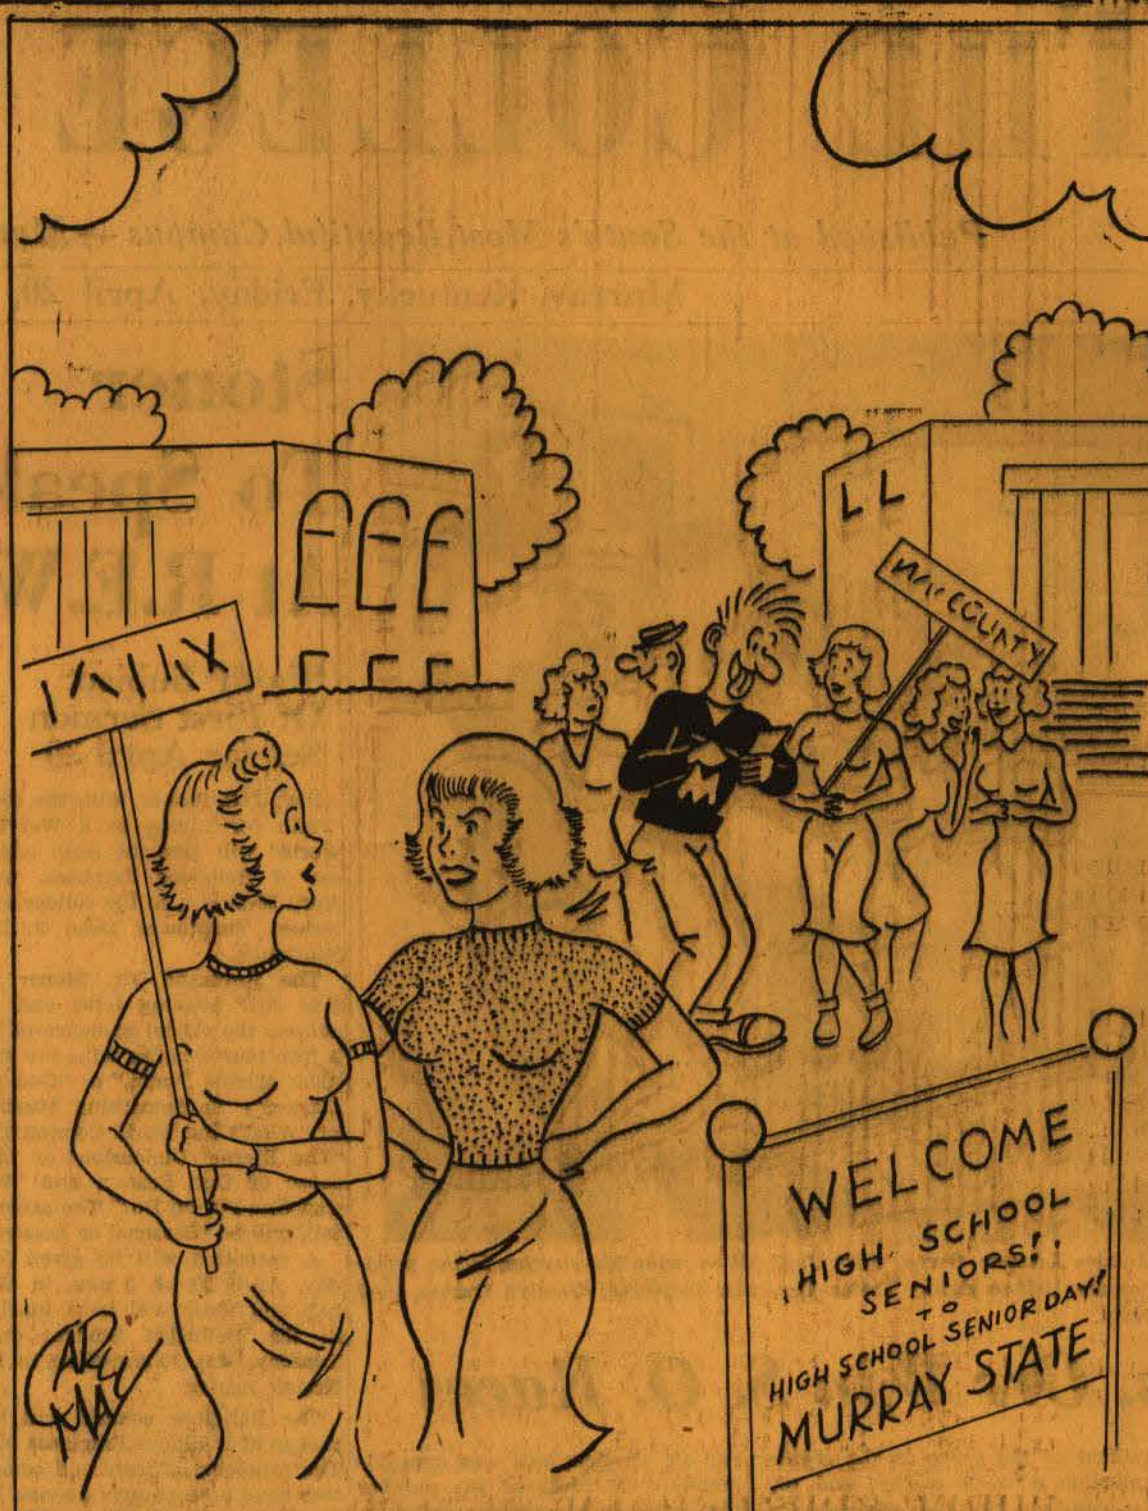

A new Junior Scientist and Engineer examination for filling positions in the various Federal agencies in Washington D. C. has been announced by the U. S. Civil Service commission, according to information received here recently.

The positions of chemist, physicist, metallurgist, and engineer pay $3,100 and $3,825 a year, and the mathematician and electronic scientist positions pay $3,100 a year, stated the announcement.

Applicants will not be required to take a written test, but they must have had appropriate education or a combination of education and experience, the announcement said.

Those persons who obtained eligible ratings in the Junior Scientist and Engineer examination that was announced in October, and have not received an appointment will not have to apply for the new examination.

Full information and application forms may be secured at most post offices, from Civil Service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service commission, Washington 25, D. C.

"In the first place I don't believe HE'S the president of the college, and even if he is why does he have to have our phone numbers?"

What Other Colleges Are Doing and Saying

A student from Morehead State college, Jim Andy Coudill, recently won first place on the internationally broadcast Horace Heidt program. According to the "Trail Blazer," Heidt has offered Coudill a place on his program to tour with the famous band. He said that the young trumpet player was one of the most talented young musicians in the nation.

The University of Mississippi and Millsaps college joined hands to form an educational center on the Millsaps campus which will offer graduate and adult undergraduate courses. Graduate credit will be awarded by the University for courses taken at the Center. The undergraduate courses offered at night will include such courses as psychology, sociology, personnel management, and accounting.

Coeds poured out of the girl's dormitory at Indiana university at 6:45 o'clock one night at the sound of the fire alarm, according to the Indiana Daily Student. They moaned about counselors who have fire drills at such an hour on date nights. Much to their surprise, the fire alarm was the real thing. A small fire was put out in one of the rooms.

Just as television is invading the cities, so it is also on the college campus. Two societies at Southeast Missouri State college unveiled their "Television Revue" offering "Entertainment typical of any night on television." Their traditional show is being abandoned in favor of the musical review, stated the Capaha Arrow.

East Carolina Teachers college will offer a course in camp counseling and a workshop in outdoor education during its summer school. Students who enroll in either course will live in cabins located at a camp site. College credit will be given for the two courses, according to the Teco Echo.

The Seawanhaka, Long Island university newspaper, recently ran a full sports page—completely blank. The paper was protesting the administration's policy of curtailing all intercollegiate athletics as a result of involvement in the basketball scandal. (A. C. P. Feature Service)

The editor of the Springfield Student, Springfield college, Mass., was able to write a complete final exam from crib notes, though there were seven proctors in the room. The dean had authorized him to take the exam in a course in which he was not enrolled, to prove that such practices could be carried out. (A. C. P.)

MSC Grad, Charles Farmer Is A Man Of Varied Talents

By Ben Hall
Teaching, radio show producing, magazine writing, music reviewing, performing as a disc-jockey, book writing—all are jobs well handled by Charles V. Farmer Jr., Murray State '38, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Farmer Sr., North 10th street.

After graduating from Murray High school in 1934 at 16, Farmer entered Murray State, and was graduated in the class of '38. Following graduation he taught at Heath High school in McCracken county and at Murray High before the army decided that it needed his talents in one of its bands.

Army's 'Best' Band
Farmer, after playing trumpet and French horn in a band which came musical authorities considered the army's best, resumed his teaching career at Augusta college in Roek Island, Ill. Somehow in between jobs he had found time to pick up a master of piano degree at the American Conservatory in Chicago.

Literarily, Farmer has edited and contributed to two books, "The Handbook of Music History" and "The Little Bach Book" in collaboration with Hans Rosenwald, dean of Chicago Music college. Rosenwald and Farmer are currently preparing an encyclopedia of musical information.

Writes Musical Reviews
For the last year, Farmer has been an editorial assistant on the staff of Music News, a music magazine published in Chicago. His job on the publication consists of reviewing musical works in which he uses such terms as "... neat and smooth as a Kentucky whisky ..." "... ripped into Revel with a right hook that broke the Steinway strings." and "... 1000 volt charge of charm was loosed upon the ladies..."

Farmer also finds time to serve as a disc jockey for "legit" music three hours nightly on the turntables of Chicago's WOAK. In addition, he produces other shows on the station.

Despite his many activities, Farmer finds time for his wife and their three year old daughter, Patricia.

In his spare time he is working on a doctor of music at Chicago Musical college. He plans to finish the requirements for the degree this year.

Through The Years

Ten Years Ago
The Murray State Alumni association offered its $100 scholarship to high school seniors for the first time. It was presented at the annual Alumni banquet.

Murray walloped the Bethel nine by a score of 21-11 in the opening game of the Thorobreds' 1941 diamond season.

The Murray State board of regents sold bonds for the construction of a fine arts building, its estimated value to be $124,000.

Two Years Ago
The cast was named for the comedy play, "Three Men On A Horse," which was to be staged by the Murray college dramatics department.

"The new $22,000 cooling system for the fine arts building will be completed by the first of May," I. H. Key, superintendent of buildings and grounds announced.

Johnny Long's orchestra played both novelty and dance numbers for the large group which attended a concert and dance held April 13.

"The library department's decision to open from two to five p.m. on Sundays proved to be a successful idea," the library staff reported. Between 80 and 100 students used the library at that time.

One Year Ago
Carl May was named editor of the 1950-51 College News. He succeeded Ann Crisp.

The Thorobreds split a double-header with Ohio Wesleyan on a day when temperatures were in the low forties. The Breds won the first game 2-0 and lost the second 8-6.

Robert W. (Bill) Taylor, Brownsville, Tenn., and Bobbie Parker were selected as the "Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl" and were presented at the Honor's Day chapel program.

The Murray State first team in debate won second place ranking in the Blue Grass Debate tournament held at Georgetown college. Ed Norris took first place in the individual speakers rating.

Church Groups

Student centers of the various church groups on Murray campus will be open to high school visitors today.

Lox Leep was chosen president of the Disciple Center in an election held April 8. Other officers picked were: O. B. Boone Jr., first vice-president; Clegg Austin, second vice-president; and Gene Moore, secretary-treasurer. These officers will be installed May 8.

On Sunday evening, April 22, Chaplain Coder, from Cairo, Ill., will be the speaker for the discussion group at the Disciple Center. On the following Sunday, four students—Bill Cooper, Carolyn Carman, Bailey Magruder, and O. B. Boone Jr.—will conduct a panel discussion on various phases of campus life.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Peyton Thurman, of Hopkinsville, will be the guests of the Baptist Student Union tonight and tomorrow. Mrs. Thurman will teach a study course for the Young Women's Auxiliary, Baptist girls' missionary organization. Dr. Thurman pastor of Hopkinsville's First Baptist church, will conclude tomorrow's session, which will be held at Kentucky lake, with a campfire devotional service.

A group of Murray Baptist students will attend the state BSU retreat at Camp Pioningo near Louisville on April 27-29. Among them will be several of next year's BSU officers, who will be elected in the near future.

Also planning to choose new leaders soon is the Wesley Foundation. The Foundation's choir continues to be active; its next special service will be presented at the Calvary Methodist church in Mayfield on May 6.

Specialists Needed In Federal Agencies Says Civil Service

"There is a continuing need for Cartographic Aids, and Engineering, Cartographic and Statistical draftsmen in the federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity," the U. S. Civil Service commission has stated.

To qualify, applicants must have from one to five years experience. The number of years depends on the grade-level of the position, stated the Commission.

Racers Win One Game, Drop Two on Road

Eyeing the Breds

By Bill Smith

The Breds open their home baseball season this afternoon when they meet Bethel college of McKenzie, Tenn., at the City Park. The game was originally scheduled for April 7, but was postponed because of rain. So it will be played today, weather permitting, that is!

Spring basketball practice got underway last week with about 20 candidates reporting. Among some of the high school students visiting the campus last week were Lynn Cole, Paducah Tilghman's two-time All-Stater, and Bob Houk, All Stater from Louisville. If these two boys should decide to cast their lot at Murray State it would bolster the Breds athletic ranks. Houk was also on the All-State football squad this year, and Cole is state high jumping champ.

On the subject of track, if the weather doesn't clear up a little the track team may have to change their track spikes for some swimming fins. These might be better suited for the local climate.

Asinine comments from MacBrayer... Coach Paul MacBrayer, basketball coach at Eastern State said recently that the four best cage teams in Kentucky next season would be the University of Kentucky, the University of Louisville, Western, and his own Eastern Maroons. Seems as if he has forgotten the Thorobreds, but after this years OVC finals I can see why he would! Wonder if he has forgotten that Beshear, Garrett, Purcell, Lampley along with others will be back for the Racers.

Garrett Beshear, Breds' sensational sophomore pivoter, was named to the Western all-opponent team. He received more votes than any other player. Beshear averaged more than 20 points a game in three games against the Hilltoppers this past season.

A host of fine basketball talent is being lined up for the North-South all-star game which will be played here in June. One of the players who has already agreed to play is Tom Gola, the Philadelphia whiz who was called by many scouts as the best high school player in the nation.

A newcomer on the Thorobreds' football schedule next fall will be Delta State. They replace Memphis State on the Racer slate. This game has been designated as Homecoming.

While looking through some old editions of the College News I came across this interesting item. Up to the time that Murray dropped boxing as an inter-collegiate sport in 1942, the Breds had lost only one match.

This loss was in 1942 to Southwestern Louisiana, which later went on to win the national boxing title.

President Tells About Qualification Tests

It should seem apparent to every one, said Doctor Woods, that the United States and her allies cannot compete with the Soviets and her satellites in terms of the manpower numbers; therefore it behooves us to attempt to compete on the basis of more highly trained and more efficient individuals who can develop and man more efficient materials in both military and civilian phases of our society.

Everyday Needs

"The needs of everyday living cannot be ignored either," President Woods continued. "The emergency" is expected to last a long time—perhaps ten or fifteen years—and we cannot do without people trained for such things as elementary education."

The tests will be used as a guide in deferring, not exempting students, the president pointed out, stating that the college student will be subject to military service after finishing college work.

Doctor Woods, who attended the National Conference on Higher Education in Chicago recently, heard the author of the plan, Dr. M. H. Trytten and Colonel George A. Irvin of Selective Service speak on what was needed to maintain the flow of trained people.

Doctor Trytten stated that it would be disastrous, even in a period of full scale combat, to stop training activities because in a technological war and technological civilization it was impossible to meet needs on a short term program.

To take the test, college students must apply immediately to any Selective Service local board for a post card application form which should be filled out and returned promptly.

Information Required

Information called for on the card includes the following: name, selective service number, place of residence (address under which student is registered with Selective Service,) mailing address, and the name of the town and number designation of the testing center where the student will be on the three dates, May 26, June 16 and June 30.

The Educational Testing Service of New Jersey will assign a student to one of the three testing dates and he should be prepared to take the test on any of the three dates.

In case the student wishes to take the test at Murray State college the blank should be filled in "404 Murray, Ky."

Admission to the testing room will be limited to those students who hold tickets of admission, which show the proper date and place for the test.

Need Document

In addition the student must bring with him to the testing room an official document showing his Selective Service number and the exact designation, number and address of his Selective Service board.

The tests will be given at 9 a. m. on the dates, but students must report to the room by 8:30 a. m. The examination will close at approximately 12:30 p. m. Each student must furnish his own pen or pencil, but no books, notes or aids will be allowed in the testing room.

The testing plan, announced in an executive order by President Harry S. Truman on March 31 originally ran into Congressional opposition on the grounds that it was discriminatory and there were predictions by the chairman of the Armed Forces committee, Carl Vinson, that the plan would be scrapped. Senator Kilday of Texas offered an amendment bearing his name leaving the deferment up to the local board.

In the locker room before a game which was rained out are Coach Carlisle Cutchin and his assistant, Prof. Auburn Wells of the social science department. Professor Wells was an outstanding athlete during his days as a student at Murray State.

Murren Stops Late Austin Peay Rally To Save 11-10 Tilt

Andy Murren came to the mound in the last half of the ninth to put down a late Austin Peay rally and save the Breds an 11-10 win in a game played at Clarksville, Tenn. April 14th.

Austin Peay scored all their runs in the last three innings and had the winning run on base before Murren retired the side in the ninth, Frank Fazi who came on in the sixth to replace starter Kayo Willis was the victim of the Governors uprising.

The Governors paraded five pitchers to the mound during the wild hitting contest. Kayo Willis, the first of three Murray hurlers, received credit for the win.

The Breds were out hit 16-13 and committed seven errors in the field.

John Ruscin and Bud Gaines each collected three hits for the Thorobreds.

Tennessee Tech Tops MSC 15-4 In Opening Tilt

TPI exploded for six runs in the bottom half of the fourth inning then went on to wallop the Breds 15-4 in a game played at TPI April 12th. It was the Breds opening game of the year.

The Racers collected only five hits off the offerings of three Tech pitchers while the Tennesseeans made 13. Ruscin's triple was the longest hit of the day for the Breds.

Andy Murren started on the hill for the Racers and was charged with the loss. Fazi relieved Murren in the fourth and finished the last four innings.

Middle Tennessee Shuts Out Breds With 2 Hits, 8-0

Middle Tennessee State shut-out the Thorobreds 8-0 behind the two hit pitching of Veech and Brock. It was the second loss in two days for the Breds on their three game road trip.

The Blue Raiders jumped on starting pitcher Bob Byars for three runs in the bottom of the second inning then added insurance tallies in the seventh and eighth frames. Kayo Willis hurled the last three innings for the Breds. Willis Wofford and Joe Mikez singled for the Racers for the only hits of the game. Byars was the losing pitcher and Veech was the winner.

Tennis Courts Will Take Year To Build—Key

There will be no hard surfaced tennis courts at MSC for another year, according to I. H. Key, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Materials necessary for the building of a storm drain underlying the tennis court area has arrived, but the college lacks the heavy equipment to roll the area so that a year of "settling" will have to take place, according to Mr. Key.

After the ground is sufficiently settled then it will be possible to put down an asphalt surface of some sort, he continued.

There will be five courts when the construction is finished, and they will be on North 15th near the barracks. The old clay courts, which the Student Org has announced will be reconditioned for this summer, will be turned over to the Training school for use as a playground.

Library Science Class Processes Baptists' Books

Students in the advanced cataloging class in Library Science have recently completed cataloging the library of the Baptist Student Union, according to Mr. Joe Bailey, Murray State librarian.

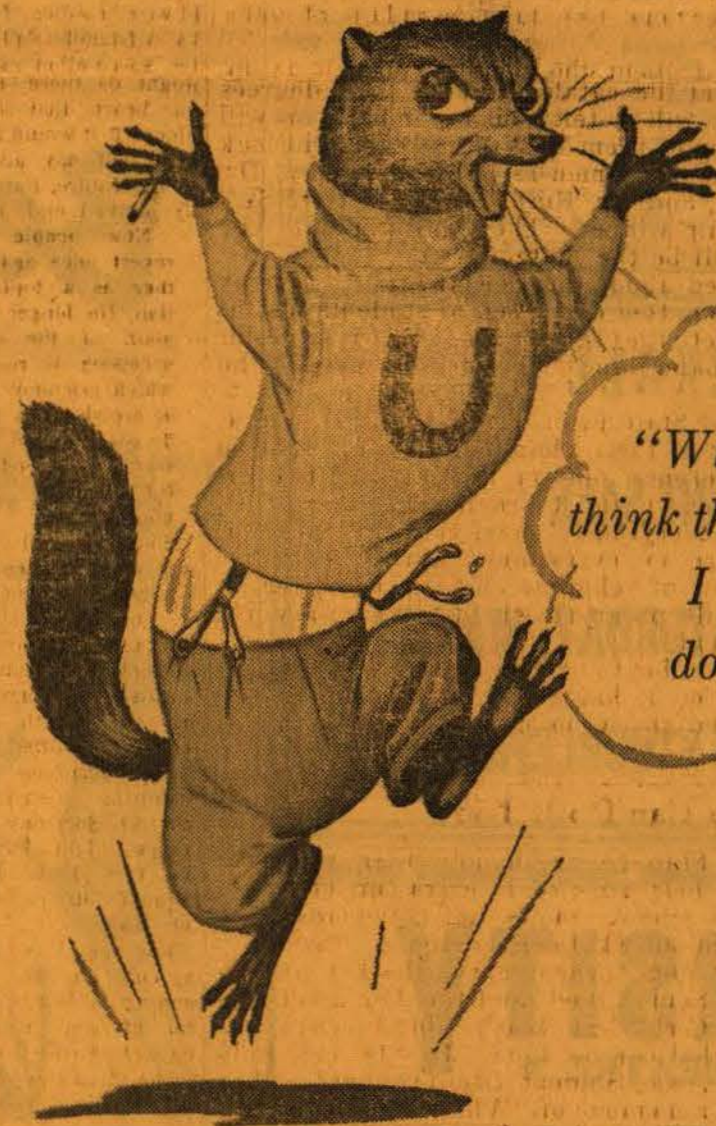

Approximately 60 books were processed for the Baptist library by the members of the class.

The Administration class in Library Science recently mended and rebound books of the Fourth Grade home room library in the Training school.

Both Library Science classes which did this work were taught by Miss Rezina Senter.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 19...THE WEASEL

"Who do they think they're kiddin'?" I invented double talk!"

No wonder he blew his stack! All this double talk about quick cigarette tests was a flagrant infringement on his patent rights! They couldn't fool this character with "one-puff"—"one-whiff" experiments. Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test—which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke... on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments needed! After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days, we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

MSC's Rated As Excellent In Speech Meet

Murray State college was rated "excellent" in the twenty-first running of the Southern Speech tournament and congress held recently at the University of Florida.

Murray entered only one team in this tournament. Members of the team were Nolan Shepard, and Henry Ramey. Both Shepard and Ramey were rated excellent throughout the tournament.

The affirmative and negative team entered into three rounds of debate. Murray's negative team won over John B. Stetson university and lost to Southeast Oklahoma State college and Millsaps college.

The affirmative debate team won over Vanderbilt university, Southeast Texas State college, and lost to University of Alabama.

Shepard and Ramey also participated in the Student congress. The theme of the congress was, "Development of Natural and Human Resources in the South."

The topic used in the debate was, "Resolved, that the Atlantic Pact organization should be extended throughout the world."

New Novels Purchased By College Library

By June Allen

The library at Murray State contains books of all kinds and types. On the shelves there are many novels to which additions have been made recently. Among the novels are books that will have a special appeal for each student.

For the student who enjoys stories of ancient times which have an air of mystic about them, "The Egyptian," by Mika Waltari will interest them. The story is set in Egypt more than a thousand years before Christ, and it encompasses all of the then-known world.

Has Wild Beauty
A novel that is similar to "The Yearling" and "The Call of the Wild" in that it captures the wonder of wild places and at the same time pulses with warm humanity is "Swiftwater" by Paul Annixter.

"The Cream of the Jest" by James Branch Cabell was presented over the air Monday, April 16 by the Radio Guild of Murray State. The show was an adaptation by Charles Greenblatt.

The cast included Dick Royer, Martha Dell Sanders, Sam Elliott, Don McDowell, Sue Blalock, Bill Wiles, Lois Ann Hayden, and John Stewart.

Special music for the show was written and directed by Ken Neidig. The studio musicians were Mark Baczynsky, Roy Eastin, Jerry War-muth, and Joe Zalata.

Sound effects were created by John Stewart assisted by Kathy Wasson. Martha Billie Starks produced the show with the assistance of Jo Ann Vance.

"Kill The Referee!"
A basketball team from Indiana State Teachers college returned from Argentina as Pan-American basketball champs. The team went to Argentina as an educational venture, according to the Indiana Statesman. It seems the officials down there had their own interpretation of basketball rules.

Technical fouls were called for yelling at opponents and for just looking at the coach. One player stated, "I'll never complain again about the officials we have back home."

Mystery Is Added
"The Crooked House" by Agatha Christie is, as the title suggests a mystery. Miss Christie is especially noted for the "different" solutions she uses in her mysteries.

Someone administered a fatal dose of poison to Aristotides, and Scotland yard could find no motive, no sign, or no evidence pointing to the killer. Terror strikes like a stab of lightning that illuminates, even as it kills. This novel is just the book for students who enjoy murder mysteries.

A novel with a deeper theme is the "Track of the Cat" by Walter Van Tilburg Clark. The cat is a symbol and a reality, it is a force, elemental and supernatural, that must be hunted and destroyed. The story is the conflict between good and evil. Neither the hunters nor the hunted win; they are both participants in the conflict.

Many other books have been purchased recently, and the stacks are full of best-sellers and other books that will hold a special interest for each student.

'Cream of the Jest' Presented Over Air By MSC Radio Guild

By Carl May
"You've simply got to get an automobile, Miss Allen," chorused Joe Blalock and I as we compared dents in the fenders of our respective gasolene propelled vehicles.

"You're the only member of the News staff who doesn't own a car. Our prestige is at stake."

"You call those cars?" jeered Miss Allen between peals of laughter. "Please!" replied Joe in an astonished tone, as he lovingly thumped the crushed remains of a candle fly from the hood of his 1929 vintage Ford.

"This car is like an old and dear friend!" he continued as he began polishing the hood with his sleeve. "I love my old Chevvie, too. I said as I patted the venerable relic on its fender. The fender rattled and vibrated precariously until I grabbed it and stopped its shaking. I began polishing it affectionately with Joe's sleeve.

How About Pets?
"Did you ever own a cute, friendly little dog or cat?" asked Joe as he began pumping up a tire which had gone flat as we talked.

"Owning a car of your own is just like owning a dog or cat. I tire and had begun quietly removing a tire from my car. "You'll become fond of it after you've had it awhile."

"Yes," panted Joe who had difficulty in finding breath to say more because of the exertion incurred by his pumping. The air appeared to be leaking out of the tire faster than he could pump it.

"I'd like you to meet my cousin Joe, the chemistry major."

"Escape By Moonlight" directed by Bette Jett is a psychological drama concerning a girl who insists that she sees her fiance who has been dead for a year.

"The Street Singer" directed by Anne Stokes is a comedy by Jose Echegaray. The play concerns the adventures of a young woman who joins a group of Spanish beggars.

There will be no admission charge for the plays, Professor Berrsenbrugge said.

Missionary Work Is Chapel Topic

Dr. E. K. Higdon, secretary of foreign missions of the Disciples of Christ, spoke before the chapel assembly April 11 on the recruitment of missionaries for foreign service.

Dr. Higdon gave six requirements for those who desire to become missionaries, the top requirement being to have a sincere desire and a feeling of a sense of duty to become a missionary.

Dr. Higdon is a resident of Indianapolis, Ind. Preceding the speaker, Dr. Ralph H. Woods, president, spoke to the students on the latest releases concerning the draft deferment examinations. (See separate story).

Joe with a lug wrench. After all he was taking my good tire—the one with some tread.

"People will like you and seek your company," continued Joe as he attempted to start his engine. It merely coughed and then was silent.

"Yes, and it's such a comforting thought to know that you have a dependable mode of transportation, at your beck and call," I added as I attempted to start my car to give Joe a shove. It didn't even cough.

"Remember what we said," Joe and I cried as we trotted down the street in an effort to catch the bus on its trip to town. "Everybody needs a car!"

Freshman of the Week

By Norma Collins

Miss Freshman of Wells hall for the week is Marjorie McCord from Vicksburg, Miss. This attractive, blue-eyed coed has one real love—piano. She has studied music a long time and her success in this field is evident. While she was attending Carr Central High school in Vicksburg, she was an active member and officer of the band, and she was also drum majorette for three years.

Marjorie McCord

Marjorie's high school career was not filled entirely with music activities. She was a member of her high school student council, newspaper staff, Girls State candidate, and was voted the most dignified senior of her class. She also received the high school citizenship award.

Marjorie's love for animals, and especially cats, has created for her an interesting hobby. She collects cat photos and her collection is quite large. She says she has at least one hundred photographs of different types of cats.

Since Marjorie has been at Murray she has been very active in the music department. She is a pianist for both the MSC Symphonic band and the Symphonic orchestra. She was also a member of the dancing chorus in the 1951 production of "Campus Lights."

Marjorie's performance as a majorette for the MSC marching band proves that she is excellent in this field. Further proof of this is in the excellent ratings she has received in twirling contests in which she has participated.

... Freshman of the Week

Our Miss Freshman is now pledging SAI music fraternity for women, and she has met the scholastic requirements for membership in Delta Lambda Alpha, honorary freshman fraternity. She is also a member of the Vivace club.

Marjorie is working toward a Bachelor of Music degree which again shows her real interest to be music. When asked about her future plans, she said she wanted to teach private music lessons after she receives her degree. Miss Freshman's diligence and well-rounded personality make her an excellent selection for Miss Freshman. Good luck, Marjorie.

Classical Works Given By Winter In Piano Recital

Prof. John C. Winter, pianist, presented a recital in the Fine Arts recital hall Thursday night, April 5.

Professor Winter selected work from six composers for his recital. The compositions were "Come Sweet Death" by Bach-Baer; Sonata in G minor, by Scarlatti; and Toccata in D major, by Bach.

Three Chopin works—Etude in C minor, Nocturne in F Sharp major, op. 15, no. 2, and Ballade, in F major, op. 38; Prelude, Girl With the Flaxen Hair, and Prelude, What the Westwind Saw, by Debussy; and Sonata No. 4 (Christmastime, 1945) by Ross Lee Finney.

'Freshman of Week' To Receive Carton Of Chesterfields

The coed who is selected "Freshman of the Week" for each issue of the College News will receive a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes as a special recognition for her achievement, starting with this issue's winner.

The cigarettes will be awarded by the Chesterfield company through Bob "Goat" Frazier, campus representative for Chesterfield cigarettes.

Each future winner will also receive a carton of cigarettes. Frazier has announced. The award will be made after the publication of each issue of the College News.

Herrold, Piercy To Hold Senior Exhibits In Art

Mrs. Zada Herrold and Robert Piercy, two MSC senior art students, will present their senior art exhibits beginning next week in the Mary Ed Hall art gallery, according to Miss Clara Eagle, art department head.

These exhibits are partial fulfillment of the requirements for a BS degree in art. They will each be shown for one week.

Mrs. Herrold, the former Phyllis Farmer, will present her exhibit beginning April 22. Her exhibit, consisting of work done since her freshman year, will include commercial work, silk screen work, black and white drawings, watercolor and oil paintings.

Mrs. Herrold graduated from Murray High school in 1947 and entered summer school at MSC.

She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha, Modern Dance club, and Kappa Pi Honorary Art fraternity.

Robert "Bob" Piercy's exhibit will begin April 29. His exhibit will include photography, oil painting, watercolor, black and white drawings, ceramics, and commercial work.

Piercy graduated from Trigg County High school, Cadiz, in 1943 and entered the army that same year.

He was discharged from the army in 1946 and entered MSC in the fall of 1947, enrolling in an art curriculum. Piercy is art editor of this year's Shield.

Smith To Serve On Staff of Penn Nutrition Meet

Miss Ruby Smith of the MSC education department has accepted an invitation to serve as a staff member representing elementary education in a nutrition workshop at Penn State college, from July 2-21.

During Miss Smith's three weeks absence this summer her classes will be taught by Miss Vera Snelling, principal of Warner Park Elementary school of Shreveport, La.

This workshop will be composed of elementary education teachers. These teachers will be studying ways of meeting nutrition problems of children, Miss Smith reports.

Miss Smith received her invitation from Dr. Eva Wilson, head of department of foods and nutrition at Penn State college.

Ditch Digging Is A Noble Art, Indeed, Sighs Writer

By William McElrath

Ditch-digging: a noble calling! What task gives the workman such joy as to feel the resisting tug of Mother Earth as he scoops her out of her age-old bed? The heart sings, the body aches, the whole being exudes good will and perspiration. I have just spent a whole morning, happily perched atop one of the columns on the west face of the Library, while watching my friend the ditch-digger ply his ancient art.

I say ancient, because who will deny that the Catacombs were fashioned by ditch-diggers? I say art, because who will deny that it requires a master's hand to wield the pick and shovel with that lazy, snail-like grace, never scraping out the minutest speck of dirt without first peering at it intently like Rembrandt viewing a blank canvas?

Leave Us Not Digress!

I say ply, because who will deny—now wait. This could go on forever. Leave us return to the subject of the essay.

This particular representative of the profession was, perhaps, two-and-forty years of age. He was clad in blue overalls, with one shoulder strap worn rakishly askew across his hip; a gently faded lumber-jack shirt of lavender and crimson; and a cap of an off-multiple shade, jauntily decorated with a bloody chicken feather and his union button. (Upon closer examination, the button was found to read, "Win With Wilkie.")

His whole attire had obviously been assembled at slight expense ($2.79 at Levy's Bargain Basement), but was quite well suited to the demands of his labor.

A Majestic Sight

This true nobleman of the soil was majestically leaning on his shovel when my delighted eyes first fell upon him. As he picked them up and returned them to me, I pondered how to open a conversation. After considerable thought, I said, "Good morning!"

He made no immediate reply, but spat sourly in my general direction. (I proved it was sour by testing it with blue litmus paper.) After some moments, he muttered, "Drat!"

"Why, what ails you, my good peon?"

"It's this comin' t' work at 7:30 in th' mornin', durn it!"
