Polls Will Open At 8 Tomorrow, And Close at 5

Thirty-three candidates will be seeking Student Council positions in tomorrow's election.

There are four candidates running for president, two candidates for vice-president, two seeking the office of secretary, two vying for treasurer, six candidates for senior representatives, seven for junior representatives, and 10 for sophomore representatives.

Three representatives will be elected from each class. Candidates running for Student Council president are: Mike Cherry, Princeton; Bill Cunningham, Benton; Dan Harelson, Paducah; and Robert Henderson, Water Valley.

Those candidates for vice-president of the Student Council are: John Wadsworth, Haddonfield, N. J., and George Roberts, Louisville.

Two candidates running for secretary are Patsy Spann, Murray, and Peggy Weeks, Princeton.

Judy Thomas, Habermel Named 'Best-Groomed'

Judy Thomas, senior, Murray, and Dick Habermel, senior, Jeffersonville, Ind., have been named winners of the annual "Best-Groomed" contest sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education.

They were selected by an anonymous panel of judges consisting of 33 students and teachers. Ten coeds and 10 men were chosen as semi-finalists, and from these the winners were selected.

The decision of the judges was based on appropriateness of dress, neatness, general appearance, and care of clothing.

Miss Thomas, an elementary education major, is a past president of Alpha Omicron Pi. She was named one of the semi-finalists in last year's contest.

This year she was elected a "Campus Favorite," Scabbard and Blade "Sweetheart," and ROTC "Battalion Sponsor." She is a member of ACE, the Students' National Education Association, and the Young Democrats.

Habermel, an elementary education major, is a past president of Alpha Tau Omega. He was a finalist in the "Best-Groomed" contest last year.

He has been elected a "Man on Campus" for the past two years and is the senior representative of the Student Council. A representative to the Inter-Fraternity Council, member of the first student-faculty committee, and class assembly, he is finance chairman of ACE and a member of SNEA.

Last year's winners were Melissa Henry, senior, Jonesboro, Ark., and Thomas Adams, senior, Hickman.

May 1 Set As Deadline For Paying Degree Fees

May 1 is the deadline for paying degree fees for those students who will graduate May 31, according to Mr. P. W. Ordway, business manager.

The fee for the master's degree is $20 and the fee for the baccalaureate degree is $7.50.

Payment can be made in room 7A of the Administration Building.

Clark to Bring 'Caravan' For Concert on Monday

Dick Clark's Caravan of Stars, sponsored by the Student Organization, will present a concert Monday night at 8 in the Murray State College Sports Arena.

Tickets for the concert will be on sale for $1.75 by the Student Council members until 1 p.m. Monday. Tickets at the door will be $2.25.

Dick Clark of NBC's "American Bandstand" will be the master of ceremonies for the show. Others on the program are: The Ad Libs, Jewell Aken, the Larks, Mel Carter, Mike Clifford, the Executives, the Ikettes, Tommy Roe, Del Shannon, the Shangrilas, Dee Dee Sharp, Jim Soul, the Velvelettes, Don Wayne, and the Zombies.

The Zombies, whose recording of "She's Not There" hit the top on the charts last fall, will be headlining the "caravan" for this show.

Others among the "tops" for this concert are the Ad Libs with their recording of "Boy

From New York City," Jewell Aken singing "The Birds and the Bees," the Larks and their recording of "Jerk," and Del Shannon singing "Stranger in Town."

"The Student Council has tried to make this, the final concert of the spring semester, one of the biggest and best for MSC students," said Steve Titsworth, sophomore, Murray, chairman of the SO concert committee. "I believe with the lineup of stars the 'caravan' has what each student will want to see in a concert. The prices have been held low to make it possible for more students to attend."

Annual Art Auction Opens at 7 Tonight In SUB Ballroom

Paintings, prints, drawings, pottery, sculpture, weaving, and jewelry for sale.

These items are among those being offered for sale today at the annual art auction in the SUB ballroom. Auctioning will be from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. with Mike Martin, junior, Evansville, Ind., auctioneer.

All profits from the event will go for the art scholarship fund.

Jerry Rich, senior, Robinson, Ill., will be general manager for the event.

Committees and chairmen for the auction are:

Auctioneer, Mike Bowman, junior, Sandy Point, Maine; speakers, Jim Lawton, junior, Louisville; lighting, Burnett Sasseen, senior, Paducah; display and set-up, June Smith, junior, Middletown.

CARAVAN OF STARS The Ad Libs, who have the well-known recording of "Boy From New York City," will be one of the 15 top attractions who will appear in Dick Clark's Caravan of Stars Monday in the Sports Arena.

National Critic to Speak At Today's Convocation

"What's Happening to the American Character" will be the subject of Mr. Vance Packard's speech at convocation today at 9:30 a.m. in the Auditorium.

All 9:30 classes are being dismissed for the convocation so that students will have a chance to hear the noted author, critic, and teacher, said Dean William G. Nash.

The convocation is being sponsored by the Student Organization.

Mr. Packard, author of "The Hidden Persuaders," "The Status Seekers," and "The Waste Makers," is the first author in many years to have three successive books hit the No. 1 spot on the nation's best-seller lists in the non-fiction field.

A native of Pennsylvania, with a master's degree from Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism, Mr. Packard for years delivered weekly lectures at Columbia and New York University in addition to a busy schedule of story-gathering, research projects, and interviews in connection with the writing of his highly successful books.

A former newspaperman and magazine writer, he has contributed to most of the major American periodicals and in recent years has devoted all his time to social criticism.

'BEST GROOMED' Winners of the "Best Groomed" contest sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education are Judy Thomas, junior, Murray, and Dick Habermel, senior, Jefferson, Ind. They were chosen by 33 anonymous judges from 10 finalists in each group.

READ BEFORE VOTING TOMORROW:

Presidential Candidates' Statements

Because of the interest in the Student Council election tomorrow, The College News asked that each of the four presidential candidates submit a short statement for publication.

The statements of their platforms are:

Mike Cherry:

"I pledge to you a positive program; I plan to start nothing without completing it

"My platform is very broad, and includes all aspects of student life. Among the key planks in my platform are:

"Respecting the integrity of each student by keeping him informed; a judicial board, and I am sure this can be achieved through proper procedure (Has the present chairman of the Judicial Board Committee accomplished this?).

"Later hours for women; fighting the 'suitcase college' image by providing weekend recreational activities; spring vacation during Easter weekend; an investigation committee to look into the housing act; an organized tutoring list; a student book exchange or less profit by the book store; and making sure that something is done about the paving of Orchard Heights.

"Most importantly, fellow students, I will be a president who will incorporate realism with idealism and will use appropriate means to achieve the end. This, I feel, has been the real shortcoming of the present administration, indeed, or all past administrations.

"I do not believe in surrendering our goals to the college administration, but I do believe that we must be realistic and work with them instead of against them.

"Our college is rapidly expanding and we need a progressive Student Council with progressive leadership. I will provide this leadership. Regardless of whom you vote for, be sure and vote."

Bill Cunningham:

"I am a candidate for president of the Student Organization because I feel strongly that I have the qualifications and the perception of the student government that is required of a good president.

"I intend to offer a new philosophy of student government at Murray State College. It is a philosophy that appeals to each student's sense of responsibility and integrity.

"I am in favor of disbanding the usual campaign methods of the past Student Organization candidates which includes careless promises that drift away with the campaign rubbish of name cards, posters, and banners.

"I have written to 30 or 40 large colleges and universities throughout the nation in effort to obtain additional information on effective student governments. From the universities and colleges such as Purdue, Michigan, and Penn. State, I have obtained ideas that have been intergrated with my own form, the 14-point platform.

"The 14-point platform includes a judicial board, tutoring list, investigation committee, an organizational seminar, a book exchange, stronger human rights commission, and others.

"I think it is time for the student Council of Murray to move with those of larger schools. I think it's time for interity and responsibility on the part of the Student Council officers in an attempt to provide services that the students deserve.

"I ask for your support and your vote so that we may answer the call of this challenge."

Dan Harelson:

"The main plank of my platform concerns the Judicial Board. My feelings on this issue are as follows: I am personally for a Judicial Committee. However, I feel that we, as students, should first obtain an effective Code of Conduct. After we have seen the rules that will govern us, then we shall know what steps must be taken in order to secure an efficient Judicial Board.

"The other issues of my platform include a student book exchange, later permission for girls, and possible methods to acquire a greater percentage of students to vote in campus elections.

"It is my intention to continue a major portion of the activities started by previous student councils. Activities to which I am referring are lecture series, big-name concerts, Committee A, cafeteria committee, and all effective working ideas.

"I shall take advantage of every opportunity to strengthen any of these activities and to insure the students that they will have a highly efficient student organization.

Robert Henderson:

"I, Robert Henderson, a senior with majors in elementary education and history and a minor in English, seek your vote and support for my election to the office of president of the Student Organization.

"If I am elected president, I promise that I will be free from pressure from any group. I will be available to any student or group at any time and will use the office, not for any personal reasons, but for the benefit of the entire student body.

"I am a believer in evolution rather than revolution. I will cooperate with any progressive movement by the administration or the student body, for I feel that this is the real responsibility of the office and I will discharge this responsibility to the best of my ability."

1,472 Seniors Attend 'High School Day' Here

A total of 1,472 seniors representing 43 schools from Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, and Kentucky, attended the annual high school day Friday, according to Mr. Charles Eldridge, director of field services.

Following registration the seniors met in the Auditorium for the senior-day program opened with music by the MSC band. The Band was directed by Prof. Paul Shahan, music division.

President Ralph Woods welcomed the seniors and visitors to Murray State. He expressed his hope that all of the future students would make the most of their college careers, explaining that there are fewer opportunities in the labor market today than there have been in the past.

During some weeks in recent years automation has caused unemployment figures to rise by as much as 35,000, said President Woods. "The demand for college trained people is five times greater than the supply."

Bill Boone, junior, Blytheville, Ark., and Pete Lancaster, senior, Somerset, entertained the students with a singing routine.

Mike Cherry, Your Candidate For President

- A candidate with the best experience, the best platform, and one who can do more than talk about his platform.
- A candidate who respects the integrity of the student body and thinks their intelligence is above lavish promises.
- A candidate who can get a judicial board and will keep the student body informed.
- A candidate with a platform that includes: later hours, fighting the "suitcase college" image, Spring vacation coinciding with Easter weekend, investigation committee to look into the Housing Act, an organized tutoring list.
- A candidate who will incorporate realism with idealism and one who will use appropriate means to achieve the end.

Fellow Students, I humbly ask for your consideration and, if possible, your support. I do not want to be "the" President but "your" President. Time is short and there will be many of you whom I won't meet, but it won't be because I haven't tried. I would like to ask each student, whether you vote for me or not, to make every effort to vote, which is vastly more important than voting for me. Let's show the world that we are interested in our Student Government. Then we can more readily achieve our goals.

Bill Collie Selected For National Grant In Seminary Work

William E. Collie, senior, Louisville, has been selected as one of five winners of the annual Adoniram Judson Scholar Awards at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Collie will receive a stipend of $1,000 for the first year of studies when he enters the seminary this fall.

A former BSU summer missionary to Thailand, he has served as president of the BSU and is a member of the International Relations Club, Spanish and French Clubs, and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity.

Collie will enter the School of Theology at Southern Seminary, where he will study for the bachelor of divinity degree.

at 12:30. Miss Anne Herron, library science, will review the Broadway play "A Man for all Seasons."

On April 27 there will be a study group meeting at 3 p.m. at the Foundation.

Newman Club

The executive committee of the Newman Club will meet tonight at 6. This meeting will be followed by the regular meeting of the club at 6:30. Father Mattingly will have the program.

Cumberland Presbyterian

The College Cumberland Presbyterian Fellowship will meet tomorrow night at 6:30 at the Wesley Foundation building. There will be a film on "Choosing Your Marriage Partner."

Mrs. Dan Hutson, English department, will lead a discussion on "Choice of a Mate." Refreshments will follow the program.

Westminster Fellowship

Westminster Fellowship will meet tonight at 6:30 and Suzanne Carleton, freshman, Rivera Beach, Fla., will be devotional leader. The discussion topic will be "Science—An Asset or a Liability."

Tomorrow night at 7 the student choir will rehearse. Sunday night at 6:30 the Fellowship will meet and Hewitt Harned, freshman, Frankfort, will be the devotional leader. Mrs. Henry Mac Kenzie will speak to the group on "Church Music."

Baptist Student Center

There will be an installation of the new executive council tomorrow night at 6:30. The speaker will be the Rev. Jim Price of Clay.

The BSU choir will practice Tuesday evening at 6 for the "All-Campus Sing."

Peterson, Parr Forming Campuswide Honorary

A chapter of Alpha Chi, national honorary society, is being installed on campus.

Co-sponsors of the group will be Prof. Clell Peterson, English department, and Prof. James Parr, head of modern foreign languages department.

The purpose of the organization will be to recognize outstanding academic achievement among members of the junior and senior classes on a campus-wide basis, said Dr. Parr.

Approximately four per cent of the top seniors will be eligible each year and the top one per cent of the junior class.

Selection of a charter group is already underway and those chosen can be expected to be notified shortly when initiation will be held, added Dr. Parr.

The purpose of Alpha Chi is to encourage sound scholarship and devotion to truth, not only among its members but among all other students on campuses where there are chapters.

It is opposed to bigotry, narrowness, and discrimination on any basis other than that of genuine worth. High scholarship is the primary requisite for membership, but good character and reputation are considerations, said the professor.

An outstanding feature of Alpha Chi chapters is their activity and close affiliation with the faculty. The constitution calls for monthly chapter meetings at which there will be activities promoting scholarly achievement. Visiting speakers will be presented, student papers will be read, and faculty-led discussions will be held.

The number of active chapters of Alpha Chi in the United States is 58 with a total of 25,000 members.

Suggestion Award Won by Freshman

David Nesbitt, freshman, Port Monmouth, N. J., has been awarded the $5 prize by the Student Council for the best suggestion submitted last month.

Nesbitt suggested that a shuttle-bus service should be run from the campus to the lake during warm weather.

A $5 prize is given each month to the student who submits the best suggestion to the Student Council.

Debate Team Wins First-Place Honor In Speech Contest

The MSC debate team won first place in the 35th annual Southern Speech Association Tournament April 5-7.

The team also tied for fifth place in a national conference of Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary fraternity, April 12-14 at Indiana University.

At the national conference the affirmative team, Mike Nims, freshman, Paducah, and Mike Smith, freshman, Murray, finished with a 4-4 standing.

The negative team, Vernon Gantt, junior, Murray, and Martin Tracy, senior, Murray, finished with a 7-1 standing giving them a total score of 11-5.

Southwest Missouri State took first place with a 14-2 record.

Patsy Tracy, senior, Murray, placed sixth in a student congress competition. She was the only girl to place in the top 10.

At the Southern Speech Association, Smith and Nims were defeated in six rounds. MSC was one of five teams that rated "superior."

A second entry from MSC composed of Ken Hauptli, freshman, Murray, and Gantt won three of their six debates for a "good" rating.

The subject being debated by the colleges this year is, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Establish a Program of Public Work for the Unemployed."

Humor Magazine Articles Are Due Friday Afternoon

Friday is the deadline for submitting articles for the 1965 publication of the Fuze, annual humor magazine published by Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

Any articles dealing with campus happenings for the past year which are satirical in nature and any cartoons of the same origin can be submitted.

Those interested in submitting an article must see one of the editors, Ed Trotter, Bob McGaughey, Pat Brown, or Mr. Louis Edmondson, head of the journalism division.

Articles should be turned in to The College News office, 111 Wilson Hall, by 5 p. m.

2 Chemists Attend Meeting in Detroit

Two professors from the chemistry department attended the American Chemical Society meeting held in Detroit, Mich., April 4-7.

Attending were Dr. W. E. Blackburn, head of the department and Mr. M. P. Christopher.

Mr. Christopher participated in a meeting on chemistry curricula, and Dr. Blackburn attended a meeting of the ACS council.

Approximately 6,000 members of the organization attended the meeting.

HOPE TO BE SECRETARY Patsy Spann (left), junior, Murray, and Peggy Weeks, sophomore, Princeton, are the only candidates for the post of secretary of the Student Council.

LIKES NEW OFFICE Dean Lillian Tate takes advantage of the spacious desk and room which is now her new office. The new office is located on the lower floor of the Administration Building.

Dean Tate Moves Into New Quarters, Announces Hours

The office of Miss Lillian Tate, dean of women, has been moved from Woods Hall to the lower floor of the Administration Building.

Dean Tate's new office hours are 8:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday and 8:30 to 12:00 on Saturday.

The three-room office was converted from the former mimeograph office. Dean Tate and her secretary, Mrs. Jerry Bayless, moved in the week before spring vacation.

According to Dean Tate, the new office is much more spacious and efficient than the old one.

Kenneth Kennedy Appears On Network TV Program

Kenneth Kennedy, Cadiz, a former Murray State student, appeared on CBS's "To Tell the Truth" television program April 14.

Kennedy dropped out of school this year after being elected national president of the Future Farmers of America. He is currently touring the United States.

Kennedy plans to attend MSC next year after his term as president expires.

Military Science Grants Limited to Sophomores

Three 2-year ROTC scholarships will be awarded for next year by the military science department, according to a notification received by the Department of Defense.

One principal and one alternate will be nominated for each scholarship from among sophomores who apply.

A selection board will consist of Col. Lance Booth, Col. B. L. Parker, two faculty members designated by the president, and Bob Harry, senior, Louisville, cadet brigade commander.

The scholarship will consist of full tuition, books, laboratory fees, and $50 a month for each of the two school years.

Cadets selected must agree to complete the prescribed military courses, drills, and summer camp; enlist in the Army Reserve for a six-year period; and accept a commission as a regular or reserve officer.

If a student accepts the regular commission, he must serve four years in the regular army and two years in reserve.

Selection criteria will be the same as for distinguished military students.

Wrather Announces Schedule Of Interviews for This Week

Representatives from three schools and five organizations will be on campus to interview students during the week, according to Mr. W. O. Wrather, director of placement.

Two schools and a newspaper firm which will be on campus today are:

A representative from Montgomery County Schools, Dayton, Ohio, to interview students interested in teaching all elementary grades, elementary art, music, Spanish, German, and junior-high industrial arts.

The Western Springs, Ill., school system representatives to conduct interviews with those interested in teaching industrial arts.

The Courier Journal, Louisville whose representative will interview men interested in summer newspaper jobs.

Tomorrow three organizations will be holding interviews. They are:

A representative from the Health, Education, and Welfare Communicable Disease Center, Washington, D. C. will hold interviews with those interested in Program Representatives — VD branch.

UAHCO (Business forms), St. Louis, will have a representative on campus interviewing students interested in sales, accounting and training.

A representative from the Armour Agricultural Chemical Company, Atlanta, Ga., wants to hold interviews with students interested in becoming agricultural trainees and chemists.

Friday a representative will be on campus from Godwin Heights Schools, Grand Rapids, Mich., and a representative representing the United States Army to hold interviews with girls interested in summer jobs with the Army.

A MESSAGE TO ROTC COLLEGE MEN

IF YOU'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES TO BE AN ARMY OFFICER, STAY IN THE ROTC

Being an Army officer is a challenge. Officers must be leaders . . . able to take responsibility . . . get important jobs done.

It isn't easy to win a commission as an Army officer. But if you are taking the Basic Course in ROTC you're well on your way—provided you can measure up to the high standards required for admission to the Advanced Course.

As a student in one of the 247 colleges and universities offering senior ROTC training, you are in a privileged group. There's no better way for any college man to get the training and skills needed to be an Army officer than through the on-campus program created specifically for that purpose—ROTC. Here you learn to be a leader . . . to develop the qualities that add a vital plus to your academic training . . . qualities that will pay off for the rest of your life in whatever career you choose to follow.

There are other advantages too. Pay, at the rate of $40 per month during the Advanced Course plus allowances for summer training and travel. Fellowship and social activity. The chance to work with modern Army equipment, and perhaps to qualify for Army flight training if it is offered at your school. And then gold bars and a commission as an Army officer.

Why not talk to your Professor of Military Science now. Let him know you're interested in signing up for the Advanced Course. Then if you are offered an opportunity to join, don't pass it up. It's the program that's best for you . . . and best for your country.

If you're good enough to be an Army officer, don't settle for less.

Judge Candidates Carefully; Then Go to Polls and Vote

Tomorrow students will go to the polls to elect their Student Council leaders for next year. Thirty-three students have announced their candidacy for the positions.

Deciding on the students for whom to vote is not an easy matter. Several important issues have risen under the past term, and these issues will involve the new officers. Therefore, much thought should be given to this election.

Ranking high among these issues are the Judicial Board Amendment and the Code of Conduct. Others include a student book exchange, later hours for coeds, off-campus housing regulations, and student-faculty relations.

The new council, and particularly the president, will not only be faced with these problems but must also restore the council's image in the eyes of the administration. This does not mean that the president has to give in to every administrative wish, but he must be able to reason with college officials concerning student problems.

Because of the vital importance of this election, The College News contacted the four candidates for president of the Student Organization asking them to submit statements for publication concerning their platform. Their statements are printed in this issue of the paper.

Each student should read these statements carefully and evaluate the candidate not only on his platform but on his experience and ability to carry out the work. But all the evaluation in the world will not help if the student fails to go to the polls tomorrow to vote for his candidate.

Library Board Says Thanks To Two College Fraternities

Many people have the feeling that students at Murray State consider the college a separate and individual unit, and there should be no association between them and the City of Murray.

However, this is not true, especially during the moving of the Murray-Calloway County Library into its new building on Main Street.

A letter received by this paper states, "The board of trustees of the library and the library staff has been particularly impressed and is unspeakably grateful for the unusual aid and assistance that have come through the fraternities of Murray State College."

Two fraternities joined other Murray groups and individuals in helping prepare the library for its opening.

"The enormous task of painting the ceiling and walls of the large building on Main Street was accomplished on a Saturday by members and pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha," stated the letter.

"The painting of some 80 large shelves was accomplished on a second Saturday by Tau Kappa Epsilon. On the night of March 31 the TKE

"At this time when the news is full of accounts reporting college students destroying property and staging useless and extreme methods in fraternity initiations, it is indeed refreshing to witness these young people turning energy and initiative of their members into constructive and creative service for the community in which they reside.

"We, therefore, wish to thank Dr. Ralph Woods and the sponsors of the student organizations for this demonstration of positive citizenship. We feel that their fine spirit is an assurance to this community that our youngsters of today are going to be great citizens of tomorrow."

Excuse Me Buddy; What's the Score?

"Excuse me, buddy, but what's the score?" This sentence seems to sum up much of the confusion at the home baseball games this year — spectators trying to find out what the score is.

Although attendance at the baseball games is not what it should be, those who do attend have difficulty determining what the score is without keeping their own records.

Scores at the football games are displayed on the scoreboard in the stadium. Two scoreboards are provided for the fans at basketball games. Yet fans at the baseball games, which is one of the spring's major sports, do not have an adequate means of getting the scores.

There is a scoreboard at the baseball diamond, but it is rarely used. When it is used, it is usually behind the game. Since baseball is also an important sport, it seems only logical that there should also be an adequate scoreboard provided there.

"No, we don't have any back issues of that in our Library."

Letter To The Editor:

Judicial Bill Confusion Blamed on College News

Dear Editor:

Regarding your editorial of March 24: "Majority Becomes Minority in Judicial Board Confusion." May I suggest, sir, that matters could have been a great deal less confused if The College News had done its job as campus news organ?

You damn yourself in your editorial: "The only thing the students have had in way of explanation (of the judicial amendment) was an assembly (attended by very few compared to the enrollment of MSC), an overflow of mimeographed sheets passed out here and there, and many rumors."

Exactly — because The College News — which is the most widely-circulated and widely-read means of communication on campus — made no attempts to keep students informed on what was obviously the most talked-about issue on campus before the election.

There were no objective news stories on the amendment — other than the fact that one existed and that it was to be voted on. There were no stories reporting the various discussions on the bill that took place at Student Council meetings and elsewhere.

Some very interesting arguments pro and con were heard at these meetings which would surely have been of interest to the student body; yet not a word of them was in your paper. You did not print the bill itself, or make any attempt to explain it to your readers, as your big brother papers often do on controversial legislation.

You did not interview either Dr. Woods or Bob Carey, or any of the other principals involved. One who had to depend solely on your paper for information about what was going on on campus would surely wonder what your editorials of the last two weeks were all about — as did an alumnus friend of mine who called to ask what was going on after he had read about it in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

In short, a great deal of the blame for any confusion that existed over the issue must fall squarely on your shoulders because you did not fulfill your function as a responsible news medium.

And then to suggest, as you did last week, that a three-to-one majority vote is not a majority at all is a rather embarrassing thing to read in my college paper. I wonder what your reaction would have been if the vote had been reversed?

It is hard for me to believe that the 1,332 students who voted on the amendment — more than twice the number that voted on the last Student Organization amendment, incidentally — were all that confused. The margin of victory would seem to indicate the opposite.

Letters Criticize Review Of 'The Aspern Papers'

Dear Editor:

Since I was closely associated with the recent drama production of "The Aspern Papers," I do not feel it judicious that I make any comments in regard to the inane review of the production which appeared in the March 31 issue of The College News. However, the "critic's" remarks raised some questions in my mind.

First, I do not understand what meaning, if any, is attached to the phrase "experiments in theater" as cited by the "critic." Surely one would not consider Michael Redgrave's adaptation of a Henry James' novel experimental theater. It might clear up some of the reviewer's obvious confusion to mention that the Ionesco plays, which she did like, are experimental. Incidentally, the reviewer concluded the piece de resistance with the post script "we liked Ionesco." One assumes that the author is using "we" editorially, or is it possible that she found it necessary to consult someone before writing the review? Nevertheless, I suppose the lack of understanding of types of dramatic literature is to be expected at Murray where "whatever is intellectual is a mystery."

Second, the "critic" stated that "any playgoing audience is cheated when its response is expected to be wholly intellectual." If this is the case, I wonder what the response to comedy is to be? Surely our "critic" would not have us believe that the response to satire is emotional.

I must confess that I failed to grasp the point of the review. But then, perhaps there is some validity in the adage that ignorance is bliss.

Gene Raye Miller

Dear Editor:

In reading Miss Webb's critique in The College News, one finds that she contradicts herself many times concerning the drama department's recent production of "The Aspern Papers."

However, after examining her review several times, it appears that her complaint is not the performance but the selection of the play itself.

I feel that it should be pointed out to Miss Webb, and any others who feel that selection was poor, that the selection was made from a list of plays most often produced in colleges and universities during the past year. This listing was published by the Educational Theatre Journal. Perhaps, Miss Webb should also be informed that the play is not an extreme.

I would like to know why the art shows on campus and the music symphonies are not reviewed in our college paper but the drama productions are? I have been told that the former two are not reviewed because there are no qualified critics available. Why is it that everyone feels that they are qualified to write a review on a drama production? Is The College News not aware of the fact that drama is an art? I think The College News would do well to omit reviews in the field of drama until they find a properly qualified critic.

Miss Webb, why must intellect continue to be a mystery at Murray?

INSPECTING, NOT PICKETING Eager high-school seniors observed this college generation and the campus Friday during Senior Day. Many of these students will become a part of this "generation" next fall. Murray, like any other institution, is made up of a variety of students possessing different ideas and attitudes. For some of these students college is dances, parties, sports, fraternities, and sororities. For others college is books, lectures, tests, and a training field for the future.

Campus '65 Survey by Newsweek Represents College Cross-Section

In a recent survey Newsweek sent a team of interviewers to a number of colleges in order to find out how this college generation looks at itself and at the world. Over 800 students representing a cross section of colleges and universities were interviewed.

From its findings, Newsweek brought forth the first comprehensive survey of Campus '65. But even this report does not entirely sum up the manners and moods of this generation.

America's future has always belonged to its youth, but never before have the young staked out so large a claim to America's present. Not only are the young more numerous, they are more influential. Healthier and wealthier, if not wiser, than their predecessors, today's youthful tastemakers have stamped a vigorous imprint on popular entertainment, popular fashion, and the popular idiom.

Just as they thrust their way onto the center of the educational stage, so too did students thrust their way onto the center of the political stage, sitting in at the White House in Washington and marching on the courthouse in Selma. Clearly, this generation demands to be heard as well as seen. But just what is it saying?

There was the menace of the bomb, of course, but awfully abstract as bogeymen go. The economy had a fleeting dizzy spell, but today's students were babied and didn't notice. Men fought and died in bizarre Asian wars, but no one in the United States even bothered writing songs about them.

Never have so many children been such complete strangers to famine, plague, want, or war. Theirs are the blessings of prosperity, theirs the spoils of peace.

In addition to dispensing knowledge, the campus has traditionally provided students with a breathing spell between the realization of their power and their testing of it in the world. Now the testing comes on campus, with grades. The college student's serene confidence in a prosperous future is predicted on the assumption that he will enter that future with a diploma. So he must stay in college and meet its demands.

Thus do the changes come, even in a generation that finds "the world they never made" rather well made at that. But this generation is in no rush to get out into the world and here is where its aggregate behavior is most striking. A 52 per cent majority of graduating seniors interviewed said they intend to go on to graduate school.

Not only is the majority headed for graduate school, but a large plurality—36 per cent—of those interviewed said their first job would be in teaching or education, followed by 21 per cent in science and engineering. Never before has any American generation had the wherewithal to stay on the campus so long, and in such numbers. It is equally significant that this generation has decided to make use of its opportunity.

Next to his high-school ring, the first thing today's impressionable college freshman learns he can do without is his old ideas about God.

For most students, it is less a sudden traumatic loss of faith than a gradual fade-out of their adolescent concept of God. This Deity just disappears like a benevolent Cheshire cat. And for the remainder of the undergraduate career, there is little time to find a more viable replacement.

Already pressured when they enter college, forced to fight for grades, required to specialize early and then expected to repeat the whole process through graduate school, today's collegians are less inclined toward theological speculations than earlier generations.

What do they do, then? They join forces with political causes that rely on the individual, even though this reliance may involve a certain amount of inevitable bureaucracy. They do indeed join the Peace Corps. They do indeed head South and do civil-rights work. Mississippi is this generation's Spain.

In the end, the judgment of age on youth always comes down to educated bafflement. The mother looking at her newborn: What in the world can he be, this wondrous creature with so few defenses and so many chances? The adult looking at the student: What can he possibly be up to, this preposterous unicorn with the graceful gait and eager eye?

Yet he seems to know what he wants and how to get it, seems to have every good chance of taking the world for a while and, with help and best wishes, using it well.

Have Folk Singers Lost Their Popularity Here?

As the strains of "Tom Dooley" faded into applause, the Kingston Trio ushered in a new dimension of entertainment with the revival of the folk song. Admittedly, the Kingston Trio was not the first folk singing group, but most people remember them as the beginning.

On the campus at MSC folk singing has had its day—from the Peter, Paul, and Mary concert to the guitar-strumming coeds. But, the decline in popularity is obvious. No longer do students clamour for a hootenanny. Was folk singing just another fad?

Jill Burkel, sophomore, Louisville, commented, "Folk singing was a fad with some people. With them it is certain to go out. But, the others who have learned to love folk music will keep it alive for a long, long time."

Some people believe that the decline of folk singing was due to its rapid rise with everyone trying to make a "fast buck." "Folk singing has been too commercialized with the hootenanny television programs, hootenanny sweatshirts, and hootenanny guitars," said Martha Robertson, sophomore, Louisville.

Folk singers like Joan Baez, Peter, Paul, and Mary, and Bob Dylan, for example, will probably always be in demand because they sing the true folk music. Mary Louise Crouch, junior, Louisville, added, "After the folk song craze began, so many groups formed and began to write their own 'folk songs' that the results were phony!"

"I think folk singing is going out especially on campuses — people get tired of a fad. First they're all 'gung-ho' on a new idea; then they get tired and look for something else," commented Carol Estes, sophomore, Springfield, Tenn. What was the "something else" people were searching for?

When the Beatles led the invasion from England, folk singing was shoved further down the ladder. Not only did the Englishmen grab the folk singers' popularity, but they also took the songs. The Animals made a hit out of Joan Baez's "The House of the Rising Sun."

On the other hand, many people are sure that folk singing is here to stay. "Folk singing will never completely die out; it is almost a classic. After all, look how long it has been here," commented Jeanne Phillips, sophomore, Marion.

Folk singing began with individuals picking ballads on old guitars around campfires, blossomed into national popularity with groups such as the Kingston Trio and held its ground with other groups—the Chad Mitchell Trio; Peter, Paul and Mary; and the New Christy Minstrels.

It climbed fast and spread widely. "It was easy, inexpensive, and entertaining. Anyone could pick out a song on the guitar, and many people spread it by trying," said Carol Zarecor, sophomore, Humboldt, Tenn.

Echoing her sentiments, Martha Horning, junior, Marion, said "Folk singing will always be a group of people who like folk songs just as there are those people who like Western music."

Although folk singing is on the decline nationally, it will always have a place in the American heritage. Because, true folk songs are America!

Recipe for Smooth Tan Doesn't Include Cooking

By Jan Mayes

Everyone likes to relax in the sun whether it be in your own backyard or at the beach, but cooking in the sun is no fun. It's dangerous. Extensive sunning produces scaly, wrinkled skin, but the correct amount of exposure to the sun is beneficial.

Here's a few tips that might be helpful in getting a smooth even tan.

The method of gradual exposure to the sun is probably the safest and simplest method of acquiring an attractive and protective suntan.

First day expose skin to sun for 15 to 20 minutes. This means actual exposure. For example, if you lie on your stomach for 20 minutes you're entitled to equal time lying on your back.

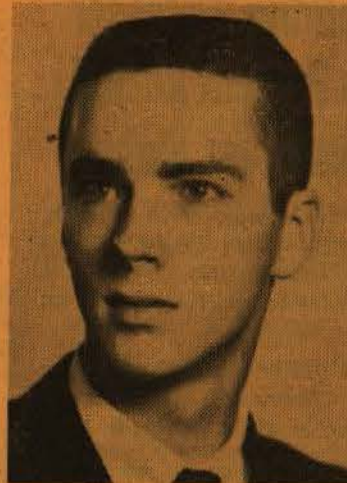

Second day, increase exposure by one-third, say from 20 minutes to a little less than half an hour. Third day, again increase exposure by one-third, from 30 minutes to 40, and so on.

By the fourth day new pigment should begin to darken your skin. In a week you should have enough skin thickening and pigmentation to give considerable protection against burning sunshine, without having paid the penalty of a severe sunburn or of skin that peels off in ragged flakes. This might be the case if you tried to get tanned in one big dose taken all at once.

Well, what about suntan lotions? They do help. Suntan lotions increase the amount of time that your skin can be exposed to the sun without burning. However, this doesn't mean that you can depend on them indefinitely. They only help for a short period.

Hope these few tips are helpful. To you people who are suffering from that burn you got in Florida during spring vacation — remember these remarks during spring vacation next year.

112 Teachers Will Participate In Summer Science Institutes

A total of 112 science teachers from 24 states will participate in two summer institutes to be held here this summer for the ninth successive year.

This year 65 of these teachers will be in an institute for teachers of general science and 47 in biology, chemistry, and physics.

Dr. W. E. Blackburn, head of the chemistry department, will be director of both institutes and Dr. William Read, head of the physics department, and Dr. A. M. Wolfson, head of the biology department will serve as associate directors.

Participants will enroll for eight semester hours of credit in courses designed for the institute. The program will last eight weeks coinciding with the regular summer semester.

In addition to formal classroom and laboratory work, field trips and other special instructional features will be a part of the program. The participants of the institutes will have access to all facilities in the Science Building.

Murray faculty members who will teach in the institute are:

Dr. John Williams, Dr. A. M. Wolfson, Dr. Hunter Hancock, all of the biology department.

Dr. W. G. Read, Dr. James Kline, and Mr. Randal Stephens, all of the physics department.

Dr. Pete Panzera, Dr. Karl Husing, Mr. M. P. Christopher, and Mr. A. L. Clark, all of the chemistry department.

Election...

Candidates for treasurer are Jim Johnson, Niles, Mich., and Bob Kincheloe, Madisonville.

The six candidates running for senior-class representative are Judy Cunningham, Mayfield; Gary Hammer, Lancaster, N. Y.; Mickey Martin, Evansville, Ind.; Andrea Sykes, Murray; Ed Trotter, Philpot; and Leslie Wintch, Newark, N. J.

Those running for junior-class representatives are Mac Anderson, Trenton, Tenn.; Jill Burkel, Louisville; Tony DiPaolo, Hazlet, N. J.; Danny Kemp, Murray; Marilyn Moyer, Murray; Steve Titsworth, Murray; and Mike Wright, Louisville.

The 10 candidates for sophomore-class representative are: Joe Clothier, Radcliff; Ed Frank Jeffrey, Murray; Ken Milligan, Trenton, Tenn.; Kay Poindexter, Russellville; Mike Reid, Symsonia; John Rose, Murray.

Jon Lavallo, Irvington, N. J.; Jack Shell, Lutesville, Mo.; Yvonne Trotter, Philpot; Ann Violett, Marion, Ill.

Students can vote in the Student Union Building ballroom from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

All students listed as undergraduates may vote in the election, according to Dean J. Matt Sparkman. He urges all students to exercise their voting rights.

If necessary, the run-off will be held April 28 in the SUB ballroom.

Mary Jane Perry Elected President Of Student Nurses

Mary Jane Perry, freshman, Marion, has been elected president of the Student Nurses' Association.

Other officers elected last week are:

Corresponding secretary: Diane Chambers, freshman, Benton, recording secretary; Betty Curtis, freshman, Millwood, treasurer; and Genevieve Humphreys, freshman, Murray, and Gayle Anderson, freshman, Murray, historians.

A picnic for installation of the new officers is planned for May.

Home Economics Group Gives Spaghetti Supper

A spaghetti supper sponsored by the Home Economics Club for all home-economics majors, minors, and faculty was given last night.

The new club officers were installed after the supper.

50 Schools to Compete In Annual Ag Field Day

Approximately 550 Future Farmers of America members from 50 schools in Western Kentucky are expected to attend the 13th annual Agriculture Field Day at the College Farm April 30.

Field Day, sponsored by the Agriculture Club, is designed to give the FFA students training prior to the state contest and to give MSC agriculture students training in conducting large-scale events.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. and will be followed by the students competing in various contests. Each school will enter a general livestock team judging beef, swine, and sheep; a dairy judging team; and a soil judging team.

One student from each school will enter the seed identification contest and the tractor driving contest.

Mr. E. G. Adams, agriculture representative for the First City Bank in Hopkinsville, will be the official judge of general livestock. Official dairy judge will be Mr. Ted Howard, county agent at Christian County.

Supervising the tractor driving contest will be Mr. Charles Bennett, Standard Oil representative from Hardinsburg. He will be assisted by Mr. Barkley Travis, Jackson Purchase RECC representative, Mr. Charles Magness, PCA representative from Mayfield, and Mr. Glynn Sims, associate county agent of Calloway County.

Soil judging will be under the direction of Mr. Maurice Humphrey of the Calloway County Conservation Service.

Military Honorary's Campaign Seeking 'Votes' Tomorrow

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society, will sponsor a "Get Out and Vote" campaign during the campus elections.

"In the past elections, very few of Murray's students have taken the advantage of their voting privilege," said Bob Whitton, president of Scabbard and Blade.

Entertainment, Cars Sought for Outwood Monthly Program

WANTED: Students who could provide entertainment for the children at Outwood School and Hospital for Retarded Children, Dawson Springs, or transportation to the center May 2.

Each month a group of students from Murray State visit Outwood and provide entertainment and give gifts donated by Murray merchants to these children.

If you've been sitting tight waiting for just your kind of car, with just your kind of power, at just your kind of price—wait no longer!

Chevrolet. It's a bigger, more beautiful car this year. Which is why that handsome silhouette could be mistaken for cars costing a thousand—even two thousand—dollars more.

Chevelle. This one's got lively looks, spirited power, a softer ride—and remarkable room atop a highly maneuverable wheelbase. No wonder it's today's favorite mid-size car.

Chevy II. No car so trim has a right to be so thrifty. But thrifty it is, with money-savers like brakes that adjust themselves and a long-lived exhaust system.

Corvair. Ask any '65 Corvair owner how it feels to drive a car with such easy steering, tenacious traction and responsive rear-engine power. And be ready to do lots of listening.

Bones Rattles On...

By Mike Driscoll

Nothing new has been heard on the report that Michigan State is interested in Coach Cal Luther for its head coaching job.

The Racer coach was mentioned along with three others as possibilities to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Forely Anderson.

An article in the Courier-Journal Sunday gave the impression to one as being pure rumor.

Things haven't changed greatly in a year especially when you are referring to Murray spring sports: The track team and baseball squad are still winning. Those going to stop the tennis team? And where are the students going to have their intramural softball games?

The tracksters have virtually the same faces with a couple of exceptions, notably Jim Pyeeman, the 100-yard and 220 outstanding performer whose speed is threatened only by his cockiness.

Perhaps some of you, along with me, have been wondering why Western is not listed on the track schedule for a dual meet.

Intramural Softball Rosters Due Today

Any teams interested in playing intramural softball should turn their rosters in to Mr. Paul Roedel, intramural director, by 7 p.m. today in the Health building.

Each team may have a 15-man roster and must name an umpire, not included on the roster, who will call games during the season.

There will be an entry fee of $5 per team.

Three OVC Foes Coming Friday For 4-Team Tennis Round Robin

It seems that Coach Tom Ecker of Western has questioned our integrity and honesty. He says he will run us any place but at Murray.

The baseball team is off and running again atop the Western Division standings of the OVC. George Dugan still hates to lose and has yet to yield an earned run in 23 innings. The pitching staff as a whole can relax a little bit behind the tremendous power being displayed by the hitters.

The team has a .311 batting average with Wally Andzel, Dave Darnall, Jimmy Pied, Mickey Martin, Mike Ward, Ron Anderson, Rich Fyvelich, and Bill Ryan all over the .300 mark.

The tennis team has won 13 in a row to go along with victories in the final seven matches last year. They have played some of the best teams in the South and should be ready for the biggest threat to their league crown, Western, when the Hillkippers come to town Friday along with Middle and Eastern.

Again this year a problem of where to play the intramural softball games seems to be present. With little more than five weeks of school left and a large number of teams expected to be entered in competition, the season could be very short.

Availability of the city park is in question which would leave two fields, the practice football field behind the stadium and the field behind the boys' dorm near the new cafeteria. That's all!

Eastern, Western, and Middle Tennessee tennis teams will invade MSC Friday and Saturday for a two-day quadrangular meet.

On Friday the MSC netters will pair off against Western at 2:30. The Eastern netters will face Middle Tennessee at the same time.

On Saturday morning MSC will take on the Eastern netters while Western will face Middle Tennessee.

Then at 1:30 Saturday the Racer netters will face Middle Tennessee while Eastern plays Western.

The four teams represented in this meet are rated the four strongest in the conference. Western finished second behind Murray State last year.

Following the quadrangular meet the MSC squad will travel to Nashville Tuesday to face the netters of David Lipscomb University. MSC defeated David Lipscomb, 8-1, Saturday on Murray's courts.

Over the "Spring Break" the Murray State netters won eight straight matches.

On April 3 the MSC netters started their road trip through the South by downing the Pensacola Naval Station team, 7-2. The next day they downed them again by a 6-3 count.

April 5 found the MSC team at Southern Mississippi where they scored a shutout, 9-0.

On April 6 the Murray netters traveled to New Orleans to play Loyola University of the South. They won the match by a 9-0 count.

Louisiana State University fared little better against the Murray Squad, losing by 8-1 on April 7.

Southeastern Louisiana lost to Murray 6-1 on April 8. Southeastern's only point was picked up by a forfeit.

On April 9 the MSC netters faced the Mississippi College netters and beat them, 9-0.

On April 10 the Murray squad traveled to the University of Mississippi where they blanked the Ole Miss squad, 9-0, to end their spring-break trip with eight victories and no defeats.

Upon returning home the netters took on Bradley University April 13. Murray won the match, 9-0.

Thursday Murray met Indiana State University and won, 7-0. The last two doubles matches were rained out.

Saturday, the netters faced David Lipscomb University of Nashville and came out on top of an 8-1 count.

Murray's first four men have won 51 matches so far this year while losing only one. The only defeat was Captain Ron Underwood's loss at Louisiana State. The other three men are Nick Barone, Jim Novitsky, and Larry Niemeyer.

Murray's No. 1 doubles team composed of Barone and Underwood hasn't lost a match.

Racer 9 Wins Two From Middle To Open Defense of OVC Crown

The defending champion Racers opened defense of their crown by defeating Middle Tennessee in a doubleheader at Murfreesboro, Tenn., April 13, 7-0 and 9-5.

The victories left Murray atop the Western Division of the conference with a 2-0 record. Western had a 3-1 mark, Middle was 3-3, and Austin Peay had lost all four of its league contests.

Murray was scheduled for a doubleheader with Austin Peay yesterday on the Racer diamond.

Lefty George Dugan went the distance for the Racers in the first game scattering three hits while striking out 11 batters.

Dugan tops the Racer pitching staff with a 2-1 record and has yet to yield an earned run in 23 innings. He has struck out 33 batters and has given up only 11 hits.

Murray scored a run in the first inning of the opener on a double by Dave Boyd and a single by Bill Ryan.

The Racers "accepted" four runs in the fourth to wrap up the contest. The only hit of the inning was a single by Dave Darnall, but Middle contributed to the cause with three errors.

The Racers used a four-run sixth inning to break a 5-5 tie and nail down the second game.

Boyd opened with a hit to right and came around on a one-out triple to center by Bill Ryan. Ron Anderson singled Ryan home before a hit up the middle by freshman Wally Andzel put runners on first and third.

Anderson came in on a wild pitch as Andzel went to second. Mike Ward hit safely to score Andzel and end the scoring in the game.

Jerry Anderson received credit for the victory. He went six full innings before Ken Meredith took over. Anderson allowed all five runs on eight hits and one Racer error.

Mickey Martin's single in the first went to no avail, but Murray collected three hits in the second to move into a 2-0 lead.

Middle tied the score in the bottom half of the second.

Ward tripled to open the fourth and came in on another Middle wild pitch.

After the Raiders tied the score in the fourth Murray again moved ahead with a pair in the fifth.

Andzel tripled with one away and came around to score on a homer by Darnall. Middle rallied to tie the count again before the Racers exploded for the winning four in the sixth.

WINNING TRIO Coach Johnny Reagan (center) jokes with pitchers George Dugan (left) and Jerry Anderson. Dugan (2-1) and Anderson (1-0) are expected to start on the mound for the Racers against Middle Saturday afternoon. Reagan-led teams have won 125 games while losing 50 since the coach took over the helm seven years ago. In those seven years Murray has won five OVC championships.

Shelton Praises Spirit Shown in Spring Drills

The football squad is in the middle of its spring drills and Coach Don Shelton says he is looking to fill what he terms "critical positions."

"We lost some very valuable men through graduation, but we feel we have the material to fill the vacant spots," reported Coach Shelton. "The players have the spirit and determination needed to blend them together into a good squad."

The loss of OVC "Lineman of the Year" John Wheeler looms as the biggest spot on defense to be filled, while the departure of Tom Glover, Dennis Jackson,

MSC Pistol Team To Go to Memphis For Weekend Meet

The Murray State varsity pistol team will fire in the Navy Memphis Rifle and Pistol Association meet Saturday and Sunday at Memphis.

Murray's pistol team coach, Capt. Joseph Palumbo, has indicated he will take Jimmy Green, Mike Boyer, Don Vied, Henry Saam, Jean Sowell, and possibly two or three others to be named later.

Miss Sowell won four out of five possible trophies earlier this season in a Navy Memphis sponsored match.

Tom Chaney, Charlie Forrest, and Vic Kubu, along with end Jerry Woodall and tackle Butch Hamilton, take away a lot of experience from a good 1964 team.

The Thoroughbred team was scheduled to have the first of two intra-squad scrimmages at Sturgis Friday night, but the game was called off due to a wet field.

The second game will be played in Cutchin Stadium April 30, at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Shelton had only praise for the spirit of the squad in the spring-drill session. "All the boys worked hard to get in shape and their attitude on the field is one that is needed for a good team."

The Racer mentor sees this team as having good speed. "The line has very good speed and the backfield will be quick with adequate speed."

Murray will continue to throw the ball a lot. "We have been one of the top offensive teams in the conference in the past years," said Coach Shelton. "We would like to continue a well-balanced attack featuring both our running and passing."

The Murray coach saw the Ohio Valley Conference as being stronger than it has ever been.

In a controlled scrimmage Friday afternoon the Blue Team scored three times to one for the Whites.

Key Doubleheader With Middle Will Be Played Here Saturday

The Thoroughbred baseball team will meet invading Middle Tennessee in a doubleheader Saturday afternoon with hopes of remaining in the Western Division lead of the Ohio Valley Conference.

The Racers will meet Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau tomorrow in a single non-league game.

Murray was re-scheduled to play league foe Austin Peay in a doubleheader at the Racer diamond yesterday. The game was postponed Monday due to wet grounds.

Coach Johnny Reagan is expected to start left-handed George Dugan and righty Jerry Anderson against the Raiders Saturday.

Dugan blanked Middle on three hits when he faced them at Murfreesboro April 13. Anderson went six innings in the second game of that doubleheader, gaining the decision, 9-5.

If either pitcher runs into trouble Coach Reagan can call upon Jack Czyz or Ken Meredith for relief chores. Czyz is 2-0 on the year, while Meredith is unscathed upon in three relief stints.

The Racer hitters have been on a slugging spree of late and have raised the team batting average well over the .300 mark.

Outfielder Wally Andzel leads the Racer hitters with a .487 average. Catcher Dave Darnall is hitting .455, third-baseman Mickey Martin .389, and first-baseman Mike Ward .324.

Centerfielder Dick Froelich has a .320 average, shortstop Ron Anderson and outfielder Bill

Ryan at .311, and leftfielder Jim Reid is hitting .300.

Ward leads the team in runs-batted-in with 16. Andzel has 12, Ryan 10, Darnall 9, and Anderson 8.

Thirty-six of the Racer hits have been for extra bases, including seven home runs.

Murray will be at home for a single game with Arkansas State Monday afternoon.

April 30 Deadline Set for Swimmers

Anyone who plans to enter the intramural swimming meet scheduled for the first week in May must turn in his name to the intramural office by April 30.

Competition will be held in five individual events and two relays. Independent groups and fraternities may enter teams.

Ribbons will be presented to all winners, but fraternities will also win points toward the Inter-Fraternity Council's athletic trophy.

Racers' Batting Sprees Down Taylor in 3 Tilts

The Racers' new phenomenon, an outstanding array of hitters, battered the invading Taylor University ball club in a double-header Saturday afternoon, 9-5 and 16-7.

The Racer hitting this year as compared with the results of the last two seasons would be like placing Mt. Everest aside Blueberry Hill.

The double victory, which saw the Thoroughbreds collect 24 hits, came the day after Murray had blanked the visitors in the first of the three-game series, 6-0.

The sweep brought Murrays' winning streak to nine after suffering two successive losses to Northwestern University to open the season.

Taylor jumped on Keith Lambert for a pair of runs in the opener Saturday on two hits and two walks.

Murray rebounded in the third with four runs. An error, two walks, singles by Wally Andzel and Bill Ryan, and a double by Mike Ward accounted for the tallies.

Taylor scored single runs in the fourth and the fifth to knot the count before a pair of runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth sewed up the contest for the Racers.

Pinch-hitter Jim Reid and Dave Boyd were credited with RBIs in the fifth with Ward delivering a two-run single in the sixth.

Don Lee, who relieved Lambert in the fourth, was credited with the victory.

Taylor opened the scoring in the nightcap with a first-inning run on a walk, a fielder's choice, and an error.

It didn't take the Racers long to retaliate. Roger Fields, one of five freshmen starting the second game, singled and went to second when Don Harris walked.

Reid singled home Fields, and Dick Froelich walked to load the bases.

First-sacker Ward then banged one over the left-centerfield fence for the first Murray grand-slam homer of the season.

Jay Burnett and pitcher John Beaton kept the inning alive with base hits to give Fields the chance for his second hit of the inning, a double to left that scored Burnett.

Taylor scored three runs in the third and three more in the fifth without a hit, but the Racers were striking for runs every inning.

Froelich and Sonny Jones each drove in single runs in the second, and the Racers added another tally in the third on an error and hits by Harris and Reid.

After scoring a pair in the fifth the Racers unloaded for four more in the sixth.

Relief pitcher Mitch Gibbs walked and was out on a fielder's choice. Bill Ryan hit for Harris and lined one over the leftfield fence for his first homer of the season.

Reid was hit by a pitch. Froelich then collected his second hit of the game, a triple to deep center. Froelich came in on a single by Ward, his fifth RBI of the contest.

Beaton gained the win, going five innings and giving up two hits and four runs while striking out four.

Henry Schwier and Jack Czyz combined to shutout Taylor Friday afternoon, 6-0.

Schwier pitched five innings plus before leaving the game with the bases loaded. Czyz came in and retired the next three batters on strikeouts.

Murray scored a single run in the fourth with the help of a hit by Darnall. Darnall proceeded to second as his hit was bobbled by the centerfielder and scored one-out later on a hit by Andzel.

The Racers put the game out of reach of the visitors with five more runs in the sixth. Darnall and Anderson hit safely and Andzel walked to load the bases.

After lining one deep over the rightfield fence foul, Froelich singled to short right to score Darnall.

Jones singled one-out later to bring in two, with the final pair scoring on an error.

DUNCAN SIGNS . . . Don Duncan, second-leading scorer in junior college basketball last season, signs a Murray grant-in-aid. Duncan, who averaged 33 points a game last season, will be eligible for varsity competition with the Racers next year.

Duncan, Roberson Sign Cage Grants

Don Duncan, the second-highest scorer in junior college basketball in the nation last season, and Ricky Roberson, an outstanding 6-9 center from Mitchell Rose High School of Memphis, have signed basketball grants-in-aid with Murray State College.

Duncan scored 936 points this past season at Centralia (Ill.) Junior College for an average of 33 a game. Two years ago the 6-0 guard tallied 832 points and was the nation's third highest scorer.

"We feel that Don is one of the finest junior college players in the country and will be a welcomed addition to the Murray State team next year," said Murray assistant coach Bennie Purcell.

Roberson drew heavy praise from Coach Luther. As a senior in high school this past season he averaged 28 points and 22 rebounds a game.

Racer Golfers Tie for 8th Spot Among 14 Schools in LSU Meet

The Murray State College golf team finished in a tie with Mississippi State for eighth place in the LSU Invitational Tournament held in Baton Rouge, La., April 15-16. Fourteen teams were entered.

The tourney was won by the host school for the fourth time in five years. LSU had to come from behind to win, as Alabama led at the end of the first day.

Murray was tied for fourth at the end of the first day, but fell apart in the second day and dropped to eighth place.

The Racers were led by Ron Acree with a 36-hole total of 150. He was followed by Bobby English with 153 and Lynn Newton and Gary Flowers with 153.

Par for the 36-hole tournament was 142.

Coach "Buddy" Hewitt said the Racers had a lot of work to do to bring the team game together to win the OVC championship, but he feels the team has the ability.

Coach Hewitt felt that the team's showing was not a true indication of what is to come for the rest of the season, because the team has not had enough play at home due to the weather.

TENN. A&I AND MEMPHIS STATE FALL:

Track Team Swamps Potent Foes in Triangular Meet

Coach Bill Furgerson's undefeated track team rode the crest of two school records and stadium mark to easily defeat Tennessee A&I and Memphis State in a triangular meet in Cutchin Stadium Friday night.

The Racers, led by unbeaten speedster Jim Freeman, tallied 83 points on six firsts, seven seconds, five thirds, and six fourth-place finishes.

Memphis State was second in the meet with 50 points and a stadium record in the mile run, while Tennessee A&I was last with 47 points and a stadium mark in the high hurdles.

Tennessee captured the 440-relay with a time of 42.2. The Racers were second in the 440-relay, before finishing first in the mile relay with a time of 3:17.2.

Freeman established a stadium record in the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.5 seconds, which also tied the school record.

Freeman also set a school mark in the 220-yard dash with a time of 21.7.

Don Needy of Murray, who finished second in the 880-yard run, set a school record in 1:52.7 only .5 of a second slower than the winning time.

Memphis State's Jeff Glover broke the stadium record in the mile run with a time of 4:13.4. Lamar Hawthorne of Tennessee A&I bested the stadium mark in the high hurdles, finishing in 14.4.

Bob Gross continued his winning ways with a first in the 440-yard dash. His time of 48.6 was a second over the school record which he set against Southeast Missouri March 31.

Wendell Webb and Larry Bur-ress of Murray finished in a tie for pole vaulting honors, clearing 12-6.

Augie Schiller finished first in the high jump with Jim Huffman of Murray second. Schiller's winning jump was 6-5.

Mike Forbes won the shot put with a heave of 50-1½. The toss was 2½ feet shorter than his school mark which he set against Southeast Missouri.

Thinlies Celebrate Spring Break By Assaulting School's Records

The Murray State track team, in an assault on the record books set a best east-of-the-Mississippi mark for the season at the University of Kentucky Relays, won the Murray Invitational Track and Field Meet, and defeated Harding College of Arkansas in a dual meet.

At the UK relays on April 3, the Racer 440-relay team of Charlie Allen, Dennis Jackson, Bob Doty, and Jim Freeman set a new UK Relays and stadium record of :41.2 seconds. This time is the best for any team east of the Mississippi and the fifth best time in the nation this year.

The Racers won their own invitational meet against three other teams on April 7: Murray 71; Arkansas State, 46; Ft. Campbell, 44½; and Union University, 17½.

Three Cutchin Stadium records were broken and one record tied. Augie Schiller broke his own record of 6-8 in the high jump with a leap of 6-8½. Bob Giersberg, running unattached, broke the stadium mark of 4:16.4 in the mile with a time of 4:14.5.

Ted Lausdele of Arkansas State threw the javelin 216-5½ to break the old mark of 192-6. Finally, Jim Freeman tied the stadium mark of :22.1 in the 220-yard dash.

Other winners for Murray in the invitational meet were:

Freeman with a 9.7 in the 100; Bob Gross in the 440 with a time of :48.65; Dan Needy, with a time of 1:56.4 in the 880, Bill

Boyd in the two-mile run in 9:31. Allen, a double winner in the 120 high hurdles and in the intermediate hurdles with times of :14.7 and :38.0, the 440-relay in :42.1, and the mile relay in 3:21.1.

On April 8 the team travelled to Harding College and won, 86-46. However, according to Coach Bill Furgerson, the team was sluggish because of its meet the previous day and times and distances were not exceptional.

The scheduled meet against Arkansas Teachers and Tulsa on April 10 at Conway, Ark., was cancelled because of a tornado.

Best times and distances by Racers this season have included:

9.5 in the 100-yard dash (Freeman, stadium record); 22.1 in the 220 (Freeman, tied stadium record); 48.5 in the 440 (Gross, school record); 1:52.7 in the 880 (Dan Needy, school record).

4:17.1 in the mile (Ed Scullion, school record); 9:28.9 in the two-mile run (Bill Boyd, school record).

14.5 in the high hurdles (Allen); 38.0 in the intermediate hurdles (Allen); 22-11 in the long jump (Allen); 42-¼ in the triple jump (Allen).

6-8½ in the high jump (Schiller school record); 130-0 in the discus (Pau Leahy); 51-4 in the shot put (Mike Forbes, school record); 14-½ in the pole (Wendell Webb, school record); 209-1 in the javelin (Nick Spadafino, school record).

41.2 in the 440 relay (Allen, Jackson, Doty and Freeman, school record); 3:17.2 in the mile relay (Needy, Bill Foulk, Barry Barks, and Gross).

Murray State will send some men to Des Moines, Iowa, for the Drake Relays Saturday. This meet attracts some of the country's best track teams.

300 ATTEND WELCOMING:

Murray Stages 'Butch Beard Day'

An estimated crowd of 300 turned out to honor basketball star Butch Beard and his Breckinridge County High School coach Don Morris in front of the Auditorium Saturday morning in the opening festivities of "Butch Beard Day."

Beard, an all-stater and this week named to the high school All-American team, made Murray his second stop on his tour of colleges he is interested in.

The 6-3 performer said he planned to visit Western Kentucky, Louisville, and Evansville before making a decision on which school to attend. He visited Kentucky earlier.

Beard and Coach Morris, high-school cage "Coach of the Year" in Kentucky, were met two miles out on the Benton highway by a police escort and a 25-car motorcade consisting of college students, townspeople, and other well-wishers.

With sirens howling and horns blowing the motorcade proceeded around the Murray town square amidst the applause and cheers of welcoming merchants, students, and townsmen who had gathered for a personal look at the talented all-around athlete.

Signs displayed in store windows saying "Welcome Butch and Don," "Murray Welcomes Butch Beard and Coach Don Morris," and "Welcome Breckinridge County Champions" showed the spirit and enthusiasm of a town proud to have the pair as its honored visitors.

The cars proceeded to the college campus where they were met by more students and faculty for the brief ceremonies on the Auditorium steps.

Larry McIntosh, vice-president of the Student Organization, opened the ceremonies by welcoming Beard and Morris on behalf of the college students. McIntosh described Beard "as not only an outstanding basketball player but also a fine student." Beard carries a B-average in high school.

McIntosh introduced County Judge Robert Miller who welcomed the pair on behalf of the town. Judge Miller livened things a bit when he jokingly told Beard that Leonard Pooler, his former teammate at Breckinridge County, who is now a performer at Murray, had been given $500 to insure a pleasant and comfortable time for Beard while he was visiting Murray. The announcement drew a look of bewilderment upon the face of Pooler who checked his pockets again only to find nothing.

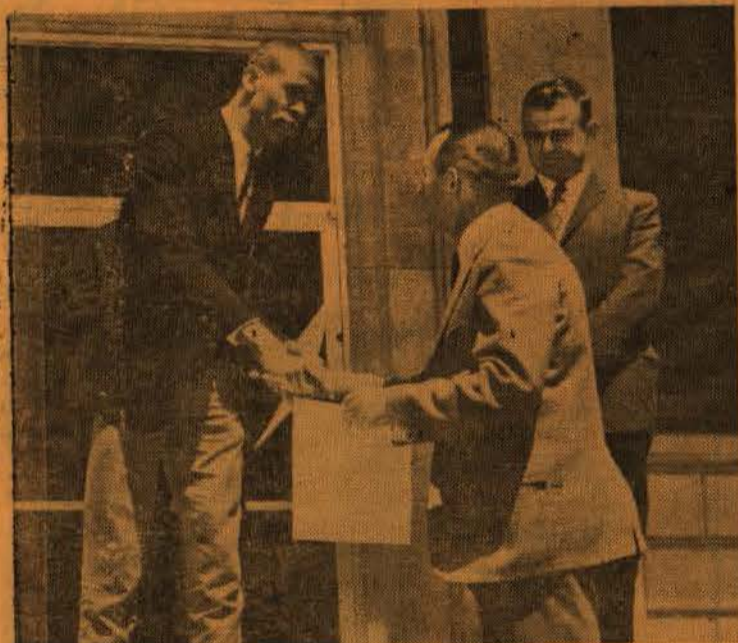

President Ralph H. Woods thanked the visitors for coming to Murray and remarked upon their fine achievement of winning the state championship.

Judge Miller introduced Mayor Holmes Ellis of Murray who presented Beard and Morris with honorary citizenship awards, a honor they now share with notables such as Governor "Ned" Breathitt.

Basketball Coach Cal Luther was next and he tabbed Beard as "a can't miss" and referred to the town and the college as "the place where Beard ought to be." "The spirit shown today," Coach Luther went on, "is only an indication of the fine enthusiasm shown throughout the year by this town and the student body."

Coach Morris thanked everyone when his turn to speak came.

Beard drew a large round of applause when he was handed the microphone next. "I'm glad to be here," he said. "I really like it so far."

WELCOME, BUTCH Head basketball coach Cal Luther shakes hands with Breckinridge's Butch Beard before handing him a certificate making Beard a "honorary citizen of Murray" during brief ceremonies on the Auditorium steps Saturday. Standing behind Luther is Breckinridge County head coach Don Morris who also received a citizenship award.
