'Sea the USA' To Open 7:30 Tomorrow Night

Board the Chattanooga Choo-choo tomorrow night to "Sea the USA," a synchronized water show presented by the "Sea Mists."

Performances will be given tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the pool of the Carr Health Bldg. Admission is 75 cents.

The imaginary choo-choo will visit such places as New York, Virginia, Hawaii, and Kentucky represented by beatniks, sailors, hula girls, and hillbillies respectively, in its tour of 12 states. These skits will be presented both on poolside and in the water.

This is the second show the "Sea Mists" have presented since forming in the fall of 1963. Last year's show was entitled "Broadway Hits".

The group is sponsored by the Woman's Athletic Association and consists of 19 girls.

Members are chosen from try-outs held annually. The only requirements are that one must be a full-time, undergraduate student. No specific swimming courses are necessary.

IMPORTANT SPOKES These five members of the "Sea Mists" are working on a number in one of the final practice sessions for their annual water show. The show entitled "Sea the USA" will

7 Coeds Nominated For Local Phase Of 'Laurel' Contest

Seven coeds have been nominated for Murray State's representative to the "Mountain Laurel Contest" in May.

The local phase of the beauty pageant, sponsored annually by the Student Council, will be Tuesday. The winner will travel to Pineville to compete for the major state title.

Coeds from colleges and universities throughout the state compete in the final phase. The winner is chosen on the basis of personality, beauty, and poise.

Coeds nominated thus far and their sponsors are:

Kay Hart, Dexter, Mo., Alpha Gamma Delta; Sandra Hope-well, Valley Station, Lambda Chi Alpha; Kay Minor, Mt. Vernon, Ill., Student Organization.

Charlene Ragan, Lilbourn, Mo., Alpha Gamma Rho; Marie Ruddle, Fulton, Alpha Kappa Psi; Suzy Schnieders, St. Louis, Mo., Alpha Sigma Alpha; and Joanne Tiglio, Pittsburg, Penn. Woods Hall.

The deadline for nominations is 6 p. m. Saturday. Names and telephone numbers of candidates should be sent to Mary Lou Smith, Box 95, University Station, or taken directly to the Student Organization Room in the SUB.

Any campus organization may make a nomination.

Last year's local winner was Marilyn Charlton, Wingo.

PROJECT RECEIVES $158,500:

Grant Awarded for 'Upward Bound'

Two Federal grants totaling $158,500 have been awarded to the School of Education to conduct a summer "Upward Bound" project for high-school students and a summer workshop in audio-visual aids for college teachers.

The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a grant of $117,500 to continue the "Upward Bound" project in which 130 high-school sophomores and juniors were enrolled last summer.

These same students will return to campus in June to begin another eight weeks of study.

The US Office of Education notified the university that $41,000 will be available for the summer workshop.

The "Upward Bound" project was first conducted last summer, but the audio-visual workshop will be new.

Purpose of "Upward Bound" is to prepare and encourage students from low-income families, who have the potential to succeed in college, to continue their education.

Seventy per cent of the students participating in the program will attend college, predicted Dr. Donald Hunter, dean of the School of Education. Norm-

'The Private Ear,' 'The Public Eye' To Open Tomorrow

"The Public Eye" and "The Private Ear" will be presented by the University Theater tomorrow through Saturday nights at 8 in the Auditorium.

The plays, written by Peter Shaffer, are directed by Mr. Robert Johnson drama division.

Brandon Neese, Paris, Tenn.; Bobby Dodd, Murray; and Christine Carter Luther, Murray, are cast in "The Public Eye."

Cast in "The Private Ear," are Brad Smith, Owensboro; Janet Call, Princeton; and Ken Massie, Newport News, Va.

Price of admission is $1.25 per person. Tickets for the plays are on sale in the lobby of the SUB, and will be on sale in the auditorium before performances. Season tickets may also be used.

Registrar Changes Mid-Semester Date

A change in the date mid-semester grades are due in the registrar's office has been announced by Mr. Wilson Gantt, registrar.

The first nine weeks will end March 24, and mid-semester grades must be turned in to the downstairs registrar's office by March 27, Mr. Gantt said.

The second nine weeks will begin March 27, he added. This change will have no effect on the last nine weeks, but may cause several changes in the days scheduled for mid-semester tests.

Graduating Seniors Should Apply Now

Seniors planning to graduate in June should file an application with the registrar's office immediately if they have not done so, according to Mr. Wilson Gantt, registrar.

Those expecting to graduate in August must file an application on or before April 7, and those who plan to graduate in January, but will not be attending summer school, must make application by the end of this semester, he added.

Also seniors graduating in June who have fulfilled the requirements for a teacher's certificate must make application for the certificate before the beginning of spring vacation.

Arab-Israeli Dispute To Be IRC Topic

Dr. Sidney N. Fischer, who has lectured throughout the world about the Middle East, will discuss the Arab-Israeli dispute at the International Relations Club meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the SUB ballroom.

A professor of Middle East history at Ohio State University, Dr. Fischer has written several books about Turkey and the Middle East, including "Social Forces in the Middle East." He taught at Roberts College in Istanbul, Turkey.

Dr. Fischer received his master's degree at Oberlin College and his PhD from the University of Illinois in 1935.

The meeting is open to all interested students.

April 1 Deadline Set For Summer Work

Students who plan to work for the university this summer must file an application in the work-study office, 16 Administration Bldg., by April 1.

Summer employment on the Federal Work-Study program will depend entirely on the availability of federal funds, Mr. McDougal said.

Students working on the university part-time employment program who wish to continue working during the summer and fall semesters should turn their applications in to the business office, 4 Administration Bldg.

'News' Takes First Class; Superior in Some Areas

The Murray State News has received a "First Class" honor rating from the Associated College Press for the first semester.

The News received 3,600 points, only 100 short of the total needed for an "All-American" rating.

A First Class rating is comparable to "Excellent" and publications receiving this rating may be justly proud of their achievement, according to the ACP rating sheet.

The News received perfect scores for news page makeup, general news coverage with special mention to ROTC coverage, editorial page features, sports coverage, and picture cutlines.

The judges gave a superior rating to the creativeness of the paper with: "Let me congratulate you for your efforts and enterprise in the area of human interest, interviews, and personality pieces."

Sports coverage was excellent. "You cover the subject like a blanket!" But, the sports writing, according to the judge, was underpar as was news writing, and copy reading.

The judge also felt that the picture content was poor with "too many beauty contestants."

The News received a Second Class rating last year and First Class ratings in 1965. Ratings are given after each semester.

"Although we aimed for All-American this year," commented Nancy Strow, co-editor, "we are proud that we came so close!"

Secret Panel Announces 'Best Groomed' Finalists

Twenty finalists for the "Best Groomed Contest," sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education, have been chosen.

A panel of anonymous judges began observing students March 1. They based their choices on good taste, neatness, appropriateness, and consistent good grooming.

The first round of judging ended March 8.

The final voting round will end April 5, at which time one boy and one girl will be selected as the "Best Groomed" students on campus.

The finalists are:
Paula Albritten, Murray; Margaret Rose Bryan, Murray; Marilyn Charlton, Wingo; Pam Dallas, Dongola, Ill.; Kay Minor, Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Carla Rondy, Barberton, Ohio; Mary

Ryan, Barberton, Ohio; Ann Kay Sanders, Murray; Betsy Sprunger, Murray; and Mary Jane Wood, Greenville.

Mac Anderson, Trenton, Tenn.; Tony DiPaolo, Hazlet, N. J.; Jim Ellis, Murray; Eddie Grogan, Murray; Ben Hogancamp, Murray; Sam Housden, Murray; Ken Milligan, Trenton, Tenn.; Mike Reid, Symsonia; Dean Rodney, Herrin, Ill.; and Spencer Solomon, Benton.

9 Pledges Installed Into Phi Mu Alpha

Nine pledges have been installed by Phi Mu Alpha, a professional music fraternity.

The new pledges are:
Dan Arnett, Bowling Green; William Averitt, Paducah; Kent Bradley, Petersburg, Ill.; Bob Brown, Louisville; Thomas George, Salem.

Gareth Hardin, Salem; E. L. Lancaster, Dover, Tenn.; Hilton Thomas, Mayfield; Steve Wyatt, Paducah.

Joe Grant, Louisville, is pledge-master of the spring pledge-class.

Life Saving Course Will be Conducted At University Pool

A Senior Life Saving course will be conducted during the last part of March at the university pool, according to Mr. Ronald McCage, Red Cross water safety chairman.

This course is being made available in cooperation with Murray State and Dr. Chad Stewart, head of the physical education department.

Qualifications are that an enrollee must at least be 16 years old or a junior in high school. Those interested should sign-up on one of the posters which will be at the Health Bldg. or call the Red Cross chapter office, 753-1421.

Graduates will attain a Senior Life Saving Badge upon completion of the course.

According to Mr. McCage, additional life guards and instructors are needed, and will receive additional authorization on their present cards by assisting.

4 Faculty Members Attending IA Parley

Four faculty members are attending the American Industrial Arts Convention in Philadelphia today.

Prof. G. T. Lilly, Dr. Clifton Lemons, Dr. Eugene Schanbacher, and Prof. Kenneth Winters, all of the industrial arts department, were scheduled to participate in professional panel discussions.

An exhibit showing the highlights of MSU with emphasis on the industrial-arts program was set up at the convention by the faculty members.

The purpose of the convention is to promote and improve the field of industrial arts and develop the efficiency of industrial-arts education on all levels.

Next Payment Due Saturday on Meals

The second payment for meal tickets is due Saturday, according to Mr. P. W. Ordway business manager.

Seven-day tickets cost $91, and students with five-day tickets will owe $74.

Payments should be made at the Cashier's Office in the Administration Bldg.

Ballard Will Speak To Sigma Pi Sigma Tomorrow in SUB

Dr. Stanley S. Ballard, chairman of the physics department of the University of Florida at Gainesville, will speak at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in Meeting Room 3 of the SUB.

The president-elect of the American Association of Physics Teachers will speak on "Light—Visible and Invisible."

Besides the public lecture, Dr. Ballard will meet informally with students and visit several physics classes during his stay on campus.

His appearance is under the auspices of the Visiting Scientist Program and is sponsored locally by Sigma Pi Sigma, a national physics honor society.

A past national president of Sigma Pi Sigma and the Optical Society of America, Dr. Ballard is a native of California. He has degrees from Pomona College, Claremont, Calif.; Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; and the University of California at Berkeley.

Dr. Ballard has lectured extensively both in this country and abroad, has presented 69 papers before various scientific articles. He collaborated with other authors on two books.

Dr. Ballard has also been a technical consultant to industry.

Steely Accepts Position At Clinch Valley College

Dr. Frank Steely, history department head, has resigned to take a position as Academic Dean of Clinch Valley College, an extension of the University of Virginia.

Dr. Steely's resignation is effective July 1. He joined the Murray State staff in 1956. As head of the department, he teaches courses in American diplomacy and American cultural history. He is also the supervisor of a new Master of Arts in history program.

A frequent speaker on and off campus, Dr. Steely has guided two student tours to Europe —

Air Force Exams Scheduled for SUB Today, Tomorrow

An Air Force officer selection team will be in the lobby of the SUB today and tomorrow to administer the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test.

The Air Force is seeking applications from college seniors and graduates for assignment to pilot, navigator, scientific or engineering and non-technical career areas, according to Capt. Hollis I. Marshall, Officer Training School selection officer for this area.

Air Force commissioned officers requirements have recently increased and the Officer Training School program offers an excellent opportunity for college graduates to fulfill their military obligation as commissioned officers while working in an Air Force job commensurate with their academic background, Capt. Marshall stated.

Anyone desiring further information about the program should contact the team.

one in 1963 and one in 1965.

A graduate of the University of South Carolina, Dr. Steely received his MA degree from the University of Kentucky in 1948.

He received his PhD in 1956 from the University of Rochester.

Prior to joining the Murray State history staff, Dr. Steely was the social science department head at Blue Mountain College, Blue Mountain, Miss.

New Check Policy Will Go Into Effect On July 1—Ordway

Beginning July 1 students will no longer be able to make payments to Murray State University by using universal (counter) checks nor altered checks, according to Mr. P. W. Ordway, business manager.

Only checks properly encoded with magnetic ink and imprinted with the location of the bank to which it is designated will be accepted.

The discontinuance of the use of counter checks and altered checks is due to a new policy of the Federal Reserve Banks.

Beginning Sept. 1 the Federal Reserve Banks will not process universal checks nor checks which are altered from one bank designating to another, and do not contain the properly encoded magnetic ink characters designating the bank location.

All faculty and staff members who receive payments by check for the university, and all organization treasurers and faculty advisers should insure that checks are properly encoded before accepting them after July 1, said Mr. Ordway.

Students who are returning to school this fall must provide their own properly encoded check forms in order that they will be acceptable, he added.

Two Science Institutes Scheduled for Teachers

Two summer science institutes for high-school teachers will be conducted here this summer.

Approximately 80 of the 330 applicants have been invited to participate. A number of other applicants have been placed on an alternate list.

Individuals invited to participate must accept or decline the invitation by April 1, according to Dr. W. E. Blackburn, chemistry department head, director of the institutes.

Most of the financial support for these programs, including funds for the support of the participants and part of the instructional expenses, is being provided by the National Science Foundation. MSU is also bearing some of the instructional costs.

Associate directors for the institutes are Dr. A. M. Wolfson, biology department head, and Dr. W. G. Read, physics department head.

IA Dept. Receives Grant For Technical Studies

A grant totaling $16,845.65 has been awarded to the industrial arts department for a research project in the area of vocational and technical education.

The grant was awarded by the State Department of Education. "The study will be concerned with the identification and quantification of technical competencies needed by teachers of selected areas of vocational and technical education," said Dr. H. L. Oakley, dean of the School of Applied Science and Technology.

Consultants from six industrial fields as well as consultants from universities, technical schools, and the State Department of Education will be invited to the campus for seminars.

The six industrial fields included in the study are drafting and design technology, metal technology, electrical technology, electronics technology, graphic arts and printing technology, and automotive technology.

The consultants of the industrial fields will meet here at separate times to discuss and arrive at standards which should be considered in the training of an individual entering that particular field of industry.

Dr. C. Dale Lemons will direct the research project.

The study will be composed of two phases with the first phase continuing to June 30. The second phase is expected to extend from July 1 through July 31, 1968.

The second phase of the research project is expected to be financed by another grant from the federal government.

"This study is the first to arrive at basic standards for the qualifications of the individual entering a particular field of industry," said Dr. Oakley.

"The results of the study will be used not only by Kentucky, but also other states for the development and improvement of vocational and technical teacher programs," he said.

"This is the first effort to bring together the best ideas of experts both in the field of industry and education to arrive at standards for training fields," Dr. Oakley added.

Contest Sponsored For Young Writers By Story Magazine

A writing contest involving $6,650 in prizes is being sponsored by Story magazine.

This is the same magazine that first printed works of such authors as J. D. Salinger, William Saroyan, Tennessee Williams, and Truman Capote.

The awards will be made to college story writers, poets, playwrights, biographers, critics, essayists, film writers, TV writers, photo-essayists, journalists, and cartoonists registered in a college or university in the United States.

"It is through the medium of the contest that Story will continue its tradition of providing a showcase for the best college creative work," said Mr. M. R. Robinson, chairman of the board of directors of Scholastic Magazines Inc.

Additional information may be obtained by writing Four Winds Editorial Offices, 53 W. 43 St., New York.

State Agents Seek Kentucky Students As Social Workers

Intensive recruiting for social workers is being carried on by the Kentucky Departments of Economic Security and Personnel under a federal demonstration project grant.

Four persons from the Personnel Division of Economic Security are contacting 43 colleges and universities in Kentucky and nearby states which have colleges with a high number of Kentucky students.

The drive includes campus visits, faculty contacts, group presentation, interviews, letters to graduating seniors and advertising in campus and alumni publications.

Interviewers for employment for the state government will be on campus March 28, and interviews can be arranged through the Placement Office.

"In the Economic Security department alone, there is a need for 350 social workers, mostly in Eastern Kentucky," Mr. C. Leslie Dawson, commissioner of the department, said.

Starting salary is $5,230 with an increase to $5,490 after six months.

Students, or graduates with a career in social work in any a career in social work in any of eight state agencies seeking social workers should contact: James F. Thompson, Personnel Director, Department of Economic Security, Capitol Annex, Frankfort.

Additionally, most state agencies employing social workers offer graduate stipend programs for a master's degree in social work.

Students who have completed the sophomore or junior year in college who are interested in the field of social work should contact the Department of Economic Security regarding the possibility for summer employment.

UMIT Girls Uniting To Increase Ratio Of Scientific Coeds

(ACP) — Coeds enrolled in the University of Minnesota Institute of Technology (IT) are uniting to erase their "slide rule, glasses, walking computer" image.

To achieve recognition as "normal students" instead of campus oddities, the coeds hope to establish an all-female IT "society" which will work to improve the male-female ratio, according to Jan Schwartz, IT sophomore and Engineering Day Queen.

The sales pitch for enrollment in IT and a science career is expected to be directed at the high-school sophomore, to give her time to plan her program to meet IT entrance requirements.

Seventy-five women and 3,308 men are enrolled in the Institute of Technology. This ratio may seem advantageous but, said freshman Sue Nelson, "most of the guys just look at you as if they're wondering, 'What is she doing here?' I suppose most people think we're in IT to catch a husband. For most of us, that's the thing furthest from our minds."

Anticipated competition keeps away many coeds, Miss Schwarz said. "Most people think the IT girl is a real brain, a walking genius. Because many girls are afraid to compete against this image, they enroll in liberal arts courses."

Miss Nelson was enthusiastic about increasing opportunities for women in government work and technical writing. "Actually," she said, "a woman can combine a career in the science field with raising a family and keeping house just as well as she could in another job, like secretarial work."

10 Pledges Installed By Alpha Phi Omega

Ten pledges were installed by Alpha Phi Omega, a service fraternity, Monday night at the Lutheran Center.

They are: Wendell Auberry, Louisville; Bob Cole, Sturgis; Steve Divine, Central City; Frank Fabiano, Kingston, N.Y.; Joe Kerr, Rantoul, Ill.

Richard Melhorn, Jefferson-town; Juan Rodriguez, Cadiz; Craig Roeder, Bremen, Ind.; Bill Scholebo, Pinkneyville, Ill.; and Ed Tompkins, Osbornville, N.J.

MSU Student Loans Exceed $2,000,000

Murray State students have borrowed more than $2 million over the last nine years through the National Defense Student Loan Program, the coordinator of student financial aid at MSU reported today.

Mr. Johnny McDougal said the $2 million mark was passed last month when 554 students received $182,875 to apply on their spring semester expenses at Murray State.

The National Defense Student Loan Program is the largest source of loans for MSU students, Mr. McDougal noted. Funds allocated to Murray have steadily increased since 1959, when the first loan under the program was made, and next year more than $500,000 will be available.

The program, authorized in 1958, by the National Defense Education Act, is recognized as the "father" of modern federal aid-to-education. Today it is only one of a host of loan and grant programs available to college students.

These are sponsored by both federal and state governments and sometimes funded by private banks.

This semester National Defense loans at Murray ranged from $100 to $500 for undergraduates and slightly more for graduate students, Mr. McDougal said. The average amount was $330.

Dr. Hussing Invited For Science Panel Sponsored by NSF

Dr. Karl Hussing, chemistry department, has been invited to participate in a symposium on "Instruction in the Organic Chemistry Laboratory."

The symposium which is sponsored by the National Science Foundation will be held at Ursuline College in Louisville on March 31 and April 1.

Objectives of the symposium are improved techniques and contents of the organic chemistry laboratory course.

Music Fraternity Awards 3 Grants

Phi Mu Alpha, a music fraternity, has awarded three $300 scholarships to high school seniors entering MSU in the fall.

The scholarship winners are John Davis, Mayfield; Thomas Gustavson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Gayle Schmidt, Greenville.

The three winners were recommended by a faculty committee consisting of Dr. Wayne Sheley, Mr. Larrie Clark, Mr. John Winter, all of the music division.

Ten musicians were recommended by the faculty committee. The top three were awarded scholarships.

'Last Resort' Programs To Be Moved Up 1 Day

Production dates for "The Last Resort," an annual stage production of Sigma Chi, a social fraternity, have been changed to March 23-24, according to Jim Morris, Paducah, program chairman.

The annual event was previously scheduled to be presented March 24 and 25.

This year's show will feature skits by the four social sororities. Each skit will be a take-off on a television program and will be judged on the basis of originality and how well the skits follow their themes.

A $50 prize will be awarded to the sorority with the best skit instead of a trophy as in previous years, Morris said.

Also performing in the show will be Alice Allen, Bowling Green, who sang in "Campus Lights"; the Mindoti Trio featuring Diane West, Murray; Keith Straus, Chicago, former "Campus Lights" star; popular combo and chorus girls.

Tickets will go on sale tomorrow in the SUB, at Callo-way County, Murray, Mayfield and University High Schools, and from members of the fraternity. Tickets cost $1 per person or $1.50 a couple.

Formal Inspection Of ROTC Brigade Set for Tomorrow

The 1967 Annual Formal and General Inspection of the MSU ROTC Unit will be tomorrow under the supervision of Col. Henry C. Bowden Jr., professor of military science at Marshall University.

First to be inspected will be the MSU honor guard. The inspection team will then proceed to attend and inspect classroom procedures employed in teaching military science.

Later in the morning the team will have a conference with President Ralph H. Woods and discuss ROTC at Murray State.

The highlight of the inspection will come at 4:30 in the afternoon when Col. Bowden and his advisers will visit and inspect units of the Second Battalion and observe the retreat parade and ceremony.

Dr. Hunter Serves On NCATE Board

Dr. Donald Hunter, dean of the School of Education, served on an eight-man council to accredit David Lipscomb College, Nashville, as qualified for teacher education.

The meeting was held March 6-8 in Nashville.

The council represented the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education in this area and has national recognition.

The other seven members were chosen from various colleges throughout the Midwest region.

Selections made for NCATE are based on excellency in teacher education and of the quality of the faculty, the student body, and the dedication of the college to teacher education.

Present Draft Selection Undemocratic; Condition Merits Much Consideration

The current American draft system has been termed inadequate by our nation's leaders, and President Johnson last week made proposals in an attempt to update and make fairer the system of calling young men to military service.

President Johnson's proposals are based primarily on a report from the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service, but the President's message differs somewhat from the commission's report.

The President proposed four major steps: (1) that eligible 18- and 19-year-olds be called up first; (2) that they be chosen through a nationwide lottery; (3) that deferments for all graduate students except those studying to become physicians, dentists, or ministers be eliminated; and (4) that deferments for all fathers and those in so-called essential work be ended.

The 20-member advisory group recommended a consolidated system with more centralized administration in an effort to revise the draft board set-up. It recommended an impartial random selection system without calling it a lottery.

The commission also called for the abolishment of all student deferments and the replacement of the nation's 4,000-plus draft boards by 300 to 500 area centers.

Both the President and his commission agreed that men 18 to 19 years old should be taken first. The likelihood of service by older men would then be lessened, and the younger men would have an opportunity to mature while in service.

After completion of a term in the service, the young man would have a much clearer perspective whether to attend college. If he chose to attend, he would probably make better grades and have his plans for a career after college well laid.

Mr. Johnson left the question of whether undergraduates should be deferred until they obtain a bachelor's degree undecided for the time being. The President invited wide discussion on the subject of deferments, noting that his expert advisers cannot agree on it.

Previous recommendations have been that deferments be allowed, but that after four years in college subject to draft. This proposal seems to be the most reasonable solution.

Our country must think of its fighting force in time of conflict, but we must also think of the future which will require well educated leaders.

Each man should be allowed four years of college before entering the service. He should then be willing to volunteer at least two years to his country's service. If he does not volunteer, he should be drafted upon receiving his BS or BA. He should not be allowed more than four years to obtain his initial degree.

Upon completion of his Army duty he can continue his study at a higher level with financial aid from the GI Bill or enter his chosen vocation without worry of his career being interrupted by the service.

The deferment issue will be a difficult one to decide upon. The elimination of draft boards and the installation of a lottery system will also require much careful consideration.

When the present draft law expires June 30 we expect several changes to be made. But between now and then much time for careful thought must be taken because our national safety will be involved.

The lawmakers now have a number of recommendations, including President Johnson's. From these recommendations Congress should be able to reach a solution which will be fairer and more democratic.

It's Election Time! Make Your Choice A Responsible One

Smile. Gladameetya. It's election time again.

Tuesday petitions will be issued to those students interested in Student Organization offices. Before that day, much thought should go through the minds of students selecting, nominating, or encouraging others to run for offices. But, will it?

The Student Council does a great deal for the university campus — more than it often gets credit for. Those elected to its offices are expected to work — and work hard.

Since the university has expanded, with activities as well as academically, Council members are required to initiate and carry through numerous projects throughout the year. This takes time, talent, and dedication.

There is no room in the Student Council offices for students who win on popularity alone.

There is no room for Greek candidates whose sole purpose is to gain recognition for their organizations.

There is no room for independent candidates who are running only to "beat the Greeks."

All of us should consider each individual who could be a possible member of the Student Council. If he is qualified and willing, we should encourage him to request a petition. However, if he is incapable, even though popular, we should look further.

It is up to us, the students of Murray State, to choose our Student Council leaders. We can't afford to make mistakes.

Today's Generation No Different From Adolescents of Yesterday

"What is wrong with today's younger generation?" "What are they trying to prove, and to whom?" We never dreamed of such things when we were young!"

These are but a few of the remarks one can overhear without half-trying. Pessimism of and concern for America's youth grows each day. This growth could be paralled to cancer, for it serves no useful purpose and brings only pain to those afflicted with it.

Many adults, either through bigotry, narrow-mindedness, or plain old ignorance, refuse to see, much less acknowledge, the abundant good performed by this group of apparently bad characters.

Adolescents have influenced America's economy greatly. As a result of their increased spending power, literally millions of dollars have been added to merchants' coffers each year. By means of employment, youth helps to pay part of the expenses of this nation through taxes.

In Viet Nam many teenagers are fighting and dying for their country. The good deeds of this country's youth far outweigh the improper actions and misconduct of a small, if notorious, minority. Such facts are seldom considered.

That the growing pains of this age group will be suffered by their offsprings is significant. But even more poignant is the fact their parents survived the same ordeal. The parents of today express dismay at the actions of their children, but one can safely say those same parents were guilty of similar social transgressions. Such actions are seldom remembered.

In a "Letter to a Young Gentleman" Robert Louis Stevenson said, "Youth is wholly experimental." Perhaps some experiments go too far and produce undesirable results, but knowledge emerges from, and usually prevents, similar mistakes.

The world of tomorrow will evidence an insatiable need for educated leaders. These political and social leaders will need an education, not only of ancient history or of the works of Shakespeare, but also in the facts of life.

The realm of adolescence holds forth no entire pictures in black or white, but only varying shades of grey. No sane, objective person can justifiably indict all teenagers for the actions of a minority. Conversely, no juvenile can hold forth judgement on all adults because of the labeling and libeling of a few misguided, mental octogenarians.

A half-truth injures more than a lie in many instances. The notoriety received by a small faction of youth presents the entire generation with a formidable task. To rectify a falsehood or expose the truth, one must work against public opinion, with high odds against success.

However, that is how this nation was built. By the time this generation is looking askance at their children, the grey of the picture of so long ago might have faded to a shade just barely off-white.

"Captain Video, I presume?"

"If I hear of anybody in the reviewing stand saying that anyone in my company has hair that is too long I'm going to slap 25 demerits on that cadet."

Sound familiar cadets? Last Thursday wasn't it when your company commander threatened to hit you with those illegal demerits. Illegal? According to the ROTC handbook five to ten demerits are to be given for hair not suitable the military cadet.

If we are going to make a cadet handbook, let's stand by it and not get carried away. Just because the cadre is wearing those pretty, little yellow teapots on their heads is not reason to go Army.

Lander Disgusted At Administration For Lecture Policy

Dear Editors:

Many informative and enlightening lectures concerning contemporary topics of interest to the students of Murray State University are being squashed by the administration on the feeble grounds that they "aren't good for us."

Two prime examples of this attempt by the administration to coddle and wet-nurse the present student-body are the fact that the Rev. Martin Luther King and George Wallace, ex-governor of Alabama, agreed to do a series of college debates across the country but weren't allowed to appear here.

Also, the administration was opposed to the appearance of George Lincoln Rockwell, the head of the American Nazi Party. While we may not agree with what Mr. Rockwell may have to say, the Constitution does give him the right to say it.

In a way, we as students are a party to hindering freedom of speech, unless we are allowed to have controversial figures come to our campus and state their beliefs, even though we may not agree with what they say.

We are tired of hearing what a big, beautiful world it is, when we know that elsewhere people are dying for their beliefs. In short, we are tired of being fed pabulum and having our hands held by people who refuse to believe that the student is a thinking individual, conscious of what is going on about him, and able to make rational judgments for himself, instead of swallowing what is fed to him by those who don't wish to see the boat rocked.

Sincerely,
Wayne Lander

Williams Criticizes Kady's Wet County

Editors:

I am sure columnist Martin J. Kady wants someone to react to his crusade to make Murray and Calloway County a legal place for the public sale of alcoholic beverages. I will volunteer to feed his ego.

As a citizen of Murray, let me inform Mr. Kady that the residents of Calloway County are aware of the legal provisions for making liquor available for sale to the public of our community. We knew it even before any college student from any other community thought it necessary to inform us and tell us all of the glorious things we miss by being a "dry" county. We have preferred it dry.

It would seem to me that any individual supposedly intelligent enough to select a college to attend also would notice that Murray does not offer them legal liquor. The prospective student drunkard should select schools in communities that offer him what he wants and let the local people worry about their sagging treasury. When the liquor drinking people in Murray are sober, they do not complain about their city being dry for they realize the plague and corruption it keeps out of town, yet they get their alcohol as they want it.

The statement that "clergy and people in administrative positions agree that making Murray wet would be a positive solution to the problems of drunkenness on the highways, etc." is certainly a slap in the face to the people in these positions in Murray. I certainly doubt the accuracy of the statement as well as it being asinine in its solution to a recognized source of evil.

Mr. Kady needs to work on the members of the local Alcohol Committee that meets regularly in the Calloway County Health Department. There some of the preachers, doctors, welfare workers, nurses, business men, former drunks, and administrators make plans to try and alert the public to the recognized evils of alcoholic beverages. Mr. Kady, you are wrong morally and financially. You also have a poor theme for your attempts at journalism.

Again — as one citizen of Murray, if I had to vote for a "wet" Murray or to lose college students demanding alcoholic beverages to accompany their stay in Murray — I'd gladly lose every student of this type.

Yours truly,
Wayne M. Williams

Editors Criticized For News Policy On 'Campus Lights'

Dear Editors:

After reading the article "The News Editors Commend 'Lights'" in the March 1 edition of The Murray State News I have come to but one conclusion — it is a very poor situation and staff organization which does not stand behind the published comments of its staff critics.

Having some professional experience in the newspaper business I know that the editors of a paper have the last word in passing copy on to be printed. The editor which fails to perform his duty — that of editing the copy which passes his desk — is inadequate in his job and is in a sense letting down the reading public.

I was shocked to read the aforementioned article and I am sure that the "editors" — after some thought — realize that they were not in fact criticizing the reviewer of Campus Lights, but rather themselves who should know what is printed.

It is the job of a reviewer to give his opinion of the performance which he witnesses, and if it is good, fair, or poor it is his duty to say so. It is also the duty of the editors to incorporate a reviewer who knows what they, the editors, expect of him and who knows his or her business. I am sure that the editors of The Murray State News have, at least, performed this duty, but why refute a critical comment after publication?

If the commentary goes against the paper's policy why print it in the first place? Why not kill it before it gets out? It appears to me that the editors were committing the great sin of newspaper editing — that of waiting for public opinion to arise.

However, the article was not without its humorous side; the writeup having started with the profound comment: Editors occasionally read The News too. Indeed, if the editors had read the story concerning Campus Lights before rather than after — as was implied — its publication things would have worked out much better.

What happened to that great sense of camaraderie common in all good organizations — especially that of the American press? That strange habit of backing up what you print or not printing it at all. It is a pity that this does not appear to exist on The Murray State News. Granted, the editors have every right to comment favorably on good work on the part of "Campus Lights," but not at the expense of a staff member and the prestige of their paper both in the eyes of their readers and, perhaps more important, their own eyes.

Adams Condemns Apathetic Students

Dear Editors:

One night last week a lecture was given by Dr. Gerold Priestly. The attendance measured a grand total of 38. Where were the culturati of Murray at this time? While this man was presenting a very interesting talk, that fantastic night and day spot across from the Library was packed to the gills with that super marvelous mass of humanity who consider themselves gifts to society. Is our grand culturati more interested in checking each other for bad breath and body odor than they are in listening to a brilliant lecture on a topic that should be of interest to us all?

While the "lotus eaters" were in their prevailing intellectual slumber Dr. Priestly discussed the timely subject of Viet Nam.

The people who attended shared with me a rather embarrassed feeling at his unspoken but implied question as to the whereabouts of the rest of the people who are screaming to know what is going on in Viet Nam.

We verbalize about unrest on campus around this noble institution, but I don't believe that the student body possesses the energy to overcome the apathy which reigns supreme. Apathy is a constant barrier to MSU that can only be overcome by showing interest in that which is available. Interest is the only foundation on which a formidable structure of student activities and privileges can be built.

Flag Means Honor; Why Not Respect It? Questions Metcalf

Dear Editors:

In 1931, by executive order, the President of the United States declared that the "Star Spangled Banner" will be the National anthem of the United States. Since that time, American school children of all ages have been taught to honor the national anthem as well as the flag.

Children throughout the country recite the Pledge of Allegiance, which we all know: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America . . ." It is not just the flag or the national anthem that we respect, but "the Republic for which it stands."

At the present time over 450,000 American service men and women are engaged in what has been described a "Nasty Little War." About 6,000 men have died in this conflict, and "patriotism" is once again the topic of the times. Men are dying on the battlefield for our country, yet there are many young men and women of this university, who are either in too much of a hurry or just don't care to take a few minutes to pay proper respect to the national anthem or the lowering of the American flag.

Twice a week the ROTC Brigade of Murray State conducts a battalion-size review on the University Baseball Field. An important part of this review is the retreat ceremony, during which the American Flag is lowered to the music of our national anthem. During the ceremony, the cadets stand and salute as the flag is being lowered and the national anthem is being played. What does the average Jack or Jill college student do as they walk by the ceremony? Nothing! They are in too much of a hurry or just don't care to stop and pay respect to their country.

In World War II, 292,000 Americans found time and cared; in Korea 36,360 Americans found time and cared; and today, in Vietnam, over 6,000 Americans have found time and cared enough to give their lives for their country and your country, so that young men and women like you could go to college and choose your way of life.

A short while ago, The Murray State News expressed concern over the lack of patriotism in that the flag was not flown at the Administration Bldg. The next day the ROTC Department assumed the responsibility, and the flag is being flown daily.

Surely students could find time on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons should they pass by the parade field during the playing of the national anthem, to stop, face toward the music or flag, and pay proper respect to their country.

This is a small gesture by itself, perhaps, but one that symbolizes the love of our country and our "American Heritage." Others have found time and cared. Can't you?

3 Education Plans Ratified By Council

The student council has ratified three proposals by the Kentucky Students' Association concerning state higher-education institutions.

Drafted by the KSA and to be approved by member colleges were:

(1) A provision to seat a student as a non-voting member on the boards of regents of state supported schools.
(2) To abolish regulation of class attendance by the university, leaving it rather in the hands of professors.

(3) To investigate the possibilities of multi-story buildings for parking space.

The requirements of the first proposal must be met by legislation. The KSA will work for its enactment at the next General Assembly.

Other KSA recommendations were voted down and one was tabled for further discussion.

Hatcher Will Serve Three-Year Term At National Post

Miss Mildred Hatcher, English department, has been reappointed to the public relations committee of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Miss Hatcher will serve another three-year term as a member of the committee. She is also the National Council liaison officer for the First District Education Association English Group and a judge for the Annual Achievement Writing Awards.

Scholarships Awarded Coeds For Academic Achievement

Ten coeds have been awarded dorm scholarships for the spring semester.

They are:

Mary Balch, Frankfort; Karen Beswick, Jeffersonville, Ind.; Patricia Brown, Princeton; Sandra Cummings, Cairo, Ill.; Sheri Lou Elliott, Fulton; Linda Gardner, Clarksville, Ind.; Joan Pruitt, Clinton; Lena Ruschival, Louisville; Sally Threkeld, Owensboro; and Sandra Whistle, Henderson.

These scholarships are taken from the funds collected by the women's residence halls each year.

They are awarded on the basis of academic achievement (a coed must have a 3.5 the previous semester to apply), participation in dorm activities, and campus activities.

A committee composed of the dean of women, assistant dean of women, and the dorm mothers select the recipients of the scholarships.

Coeds to Attend Dinner Ending 'Nurse's Week'

Twelve student nurses from Murray State will attend a banquet at the Executive Inn Motel in Louisville Saturday.

The banquet will climax "Student Nurse's Week for 1967" as called for by a proclamation issued by Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt.

The governor's purpose in honoring student nurses this week is to inspire and stimulate them into becoming more aware of their civic and professional privileges and duties.

This also provides an opportunity to inform the public of the roles of the student nurse and her values in this chosen field.

This year marks the 16th year of the Student Nurses Association of Kentucky.

Those who will attend the banquet sponsored by SNAK are:

Marti Adams, Hazel; Janet Alexander, Henderson; Cathy Edner, Murray; Joyce Frazier, Louisville; Linda Gerbig, Evansville, Ind.; Martha Goatley, Mayfield.

Marsha Hendon, Murray; Gwynn Jones, Murray; Mary Jane Perry, Marion; Linda Sanderson, Mayfield; Yvonne Shriver, Covington; and Evelyn Szekeres, St. Alpha, N. J.

Mofield To Speak Tomorrow To Kentucky Women's Clubs

Dr. Ray Mofield, executive assistant to the president, will speak to the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs at the Ken-Bar Inn tomorrow night. His topic will be "Tourism in Kentucky."

Garner, Andrews

In Weekend Movie

"The Americanization of Emily" will be shown by Alpha Phi Omega, a service fraternity, in the Little Chapel this weekend.

James Garner and Julie Andrews star in the movie.

The movie begins at 7:30 Friday and Saturday nights and 6:45 on Sunday. Admission is 50 cents per person and 90 cents a couple.

Smart Shoppers Avoid 'Bargains'

By JoAnne Fore

If you are like most college girls, your closet probably has its share of "dud's" that were bought in a hurry or were "really big bargains" at a sale.

Do you have in your closet that blouse that looked good in the store, but doesn't suit you at all? Do you have skirts that looked well made, but the first time you wore them, the zipper broke and the hem came out?

What about all those dresses you bought thinking they were exactly what you had been looking for? You'll never wear it again. . . nor that cute knit skirt that fit before you washed it.

Every shopper, no matter how experienced, gets "stuck" now and then. But shopping and buying are tricky today because of fashion trends and competition between stores.

You'll spend your money wisely and enjoy doing it if you follow some of these rules.

Learn to read tags. Check the tags and labels for fiber content and washing instructions.

Beware of stores that make a habit of having too many sales.

Beware of bargain basements. Many times these are just last year's styles moved downstairs.

Don't fall for the line, "It's the right thing for you." It might look nice on you, but will it fit the occasion you are buying it for?

Don't take substitutions for what you want. At least, not until you've looked in several stores.

Compare prices before you buy.

Get to know your local sales seasons and take advantage of these.

Beware of the "pushing salesman," he'll have you convinced before you realize it.

It is not hard to shop and get that blouse or dress that is exactly what you wanted. All it takes is a little looking around on your part and thinking before you buy.

PANTS SHOES

What's Spring '67 all about? Elegant sportswear, the new dressy way to be casual! It's a feminine attitude toward pants, a tailored one toward suits. PLAN YOUR SPECIAL DAY:

Springtime, For Love And Brides

By Peggy Dwyer

Spring is a romantic time of year. Every blooming bud seems to cast a blessing on the young people in love.

Whenever your special month is, it's never too early to begin planning.

One of the first things you must do is to select your wedding attendants. Possibly you don't know just what your maid or matron-of-honor and bridesmaids are supposed to do, and what responsibilities they should assume.

But before accepting your invitation to be a part of the wedding party, these young ladies may want to know what obligations they are accepting.

Your maid-of-honor, your source of help and encouragement, plays a very important role. She must be willing and able to assist you at a moment's notice, during these weeks prior to the ceremony.

Financial obligations are perhaps the most distasteful to discuss.

The bridesmaids and maid-of-honor, if they live away from the town where the wedding is to take place, are responsible for providing their own transportation. They must be there at least one day before the wedding, and preferably several days.

It is customary for the bride-to-be to secure places with friends for her out-of-town attendants to stay. If this is not possible, each girl is responsible for her own bills for room, meals, and other expenses.

The bride does provide the transportation to and from all activities directly related to the wedding.

The bride selects the complete attire of her attendants. It is the wise girl who keeps in mind the figures of the participants and consults them about their budget and later use of the dresses. Each girl is responsible for everything that she wears, and after the wedding it is hers.

In some areas it is possible for the maid-of-honor and bridesmaids to rent their dresses. If the bride chooses to have them do this, each girl pays the rental charge.

The bride may have a friend make the attendant's headpieces. If this be the case, the headpiece becomes the property of the girl who wears it.

The brides' family is responsible for the wedding party's flowers. The bride also gives each of her attendants a gift.

The attendants if they live close enough, are all invited to showers given for the bride-to-be. Local custom dictates whether or not they take a gift to each shower.

If, however, the attendants are unsure about which policy to take, they cannot go wrong by taking an inexpensive gift to each one.

Near the day of the ceremony each attendant should present the bride-to-be with a nicer gift. This plan is also advisable because the attendants can see what the couple has received and can choose some item that they need.

Every bride-to-be wants to be the honoree at a bridal shower for her own close friends. It is not absolutely necessary for one of the wedding party to give such a shower, but usually the attendants are the girl's best friends and would be the one to give the shower.

To lessen the expense, two or more of the attendants may have the shower. It need not be elaborate — especially for young people.

It usually works quite nicely for the shower to be personal. This gives the bride-to-be a chance to get a few frilly, feminine things for her trousseau which she might not otherwise buy.

Make your plans early. Choose your bridal attendants. Make sure they know what obligations they will be expected to assume. Enjoy your day!

Long Named Head Of Business Group

George Long, Benton, has been elected president of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity.

A junior, he is a business-finance major.

IMPROVED PITCHING, MORE SPEED:

2 Baseball Letterman To Return

"If we are going to continue to have winning seasons at Murray this team had better be good, because we are catching almost all the other teams at their strong years."

This is the way baseball Coach Johnny Reagan feels about his Racers' chances of another OVC championship season.

The Racer mentor, beginning his 10th campaign at Murray, calls this year's team, which had 21 returning lettermen, "one of my most interesting."

The coach said that the team will be most interesting to watch in that "we expect it to have one of our best pitching staffs ever, and we should have improved hitting. Also, this will be a club with better speed, which will give us an opportunity to play more of an offensive winning game."

"I feel that the ball club will be more experienced than last year's, with all these lettermen back," Coach Reagan added.

"Even with the loss of Beaton (pitcher John Beaton, who posted a 5-2 record last year, signed a contract last spring with the San Francisco Giants, making him ineligible for college competition) this pitching staff will probably be stronger because of depth."

Coach Reagan has eight pitchers back from last year, including Dave Gourieux (5-2 last year), Bob Berry (1-0), Wayne Davis (2-3), Brad Green (1-1), Don Harris (0-1), Mike Kistner (0-1), Linuel Meredith (0-1), and Hanson Williams (1-1).

"Besides these returning pitchers we have added two of the best high school hurlers in our area in Rodney Pryor and Danny Howes. Both are very capable and we expect to be winners for us even as freshmen," the coach added.

Coach Reagan summed up the rest of the team as such: — Infield — "Our infield should have adequate depth with Jim Reid at third base, Tim Mappin or Roger Fields at short-stop, Jay Burnett Fields at shortstop, Jay Burnett or Mike Ward at first base. Indications are that Bill Cole and Mike Fitzgerald will give us the needed infield depth." — Outfield — "We feel our outfield is more than adequate and very deep. We feel we are in good shape there, and it would appear that some platooning will occur. It will probably be Bill Ryan and Dallas Grant platooning in left field, Don Harris and Tommy Toon sharing the center field chores, and Bill Solomon and Wally Andzel taking care of right field.

"New faces in the outfield will be Richard Nichols and Lynn Stranak." — Catching — "I'm not positive who will carry the major load but all indications are that it will be Mike Ward (who also will appear at first base). I feel that he is adequately backed up in the catching department by Frank Orr, Phil Hayden, and an outstanding freshman, Mike Jones."

"I think we will have a successful campaign if we can stay healthy and get the pitching we are capable of," said Coach Reagan, winner of six OVC championships and six "Coach of the Year" awards. He also stated that Harris and Burnett had been voted team co-captains for this year.

PiKA, TKE Establish Records For Pinfall in Greek Bowling

Three weeks ago Tau Kappa Epsilon, the TKE's, bowled what was believed to be the highest total game in the history of fraternity bowling. They had a pinfall of 940.

Last week the TKE's broke their three-week old record, but they lost.

Pi Kappa Alpha, bowling a three-game set against the TKE's, had lost the first two games and the league lead to the TKE's, and in the final game both teams were red-hot.

TKE had a 235 from Tony Schmidt and he led them to a 974 game.

The Pike's however, went them one better. Roger Fields rolled a blazing 252, and Larry Jones rolled 216 to lead the Pikes to a record 988.

and blank blank had a 000, for a record pinfall of 988.

The standings:

Tau Kappa Epsilon	135.60

PULLED MUSCLE HAMPERS MSU STAR:

Freeman Takes Greene A. Detroit

Murray sprint star Jim Freeman, running in the NCAA Indoor Championships at Convention Arena in Detroit last Friday, ran the 60-yard dash in 6.2 seconds to win his preliminary heat and defeat Charlie Greene, the eventual champion, before pulling a leg muscle.

Due to Freeman's pulled muscle, Murray track Coach Jack Mansfield felt that Freeman should try to conserve himself. The coach felt that even though he would like to have seen Freeman win the event and possibly give Murray points in the meet, there was too much of a possibility of losing Freeman for the season.

"Freeman is one of the best sprint men in the country, if not the best, in the 60-yard dash," said Coach Mansfield, "It was a shame that he pulled his muscle, it cost him a chance for the championship."

It is doubtful that Freeman's injury will be healed enough for him to compete in Murray's opening meet of the outdoor season.

The Racers will take on Indiana University and Purdue University in a triangular meet in Cutchin Stadium on March 25.

Indiana and Purdue are traditional conference and state rivals in any sport and Coach Mansfield believes that this rivalry will help to make the meet a very interesting and exciting one.

The Racer mentor stated that "Indiana has some strong men in the hurdle events, while Purdue has some good distance runners."

Admission will be free, with field events beginning at 7:30 and the running events beginning at 8 on the evening of March 25.

Vultures, Sigma Chi, SAACS, GG's Victorious In Cage Play

The GG's, the Vultures, Sigma Chi, and SAACS were victorious in the first round of the intramural championship tournament.

The GG's increased their four-point halftime lead by one point during the second half to defeat the Animals, 31-26. The game was forfeited to the GG's with 25 seconds remaining when the Animals, seeing very little chance to win, began to play too roughly.

A 21-point performance by Roy McKamey sparked the Vultures to an easy 60-19 victory over the Seamen. Two other players were in double figures for the winners.

Sigma Chi proved to be too powerful for the Hustlers as they won easily, 49-29. Sigma Chi played a well-rounded game with three players scoring in double figures.

The SAACS also won easily over Alpha Gamma, 56-27. Tom Ramage led the winners with 18 points while two other teammates hit in double figures.

The semi-final round finds Sigma Chi playing the GG's and the Vultures taking on SAACS. The winners of these games will compete for the championship in the big gym of the Health Bldg., at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The fraternities will compete for the IFC points with eight games on tap this week.

The games this week will allow each team to have played five games. This includes games played in the campus tournament.

Since Sigma Chi won the title in the campus league play they will win any ties in the standings.

Coed Cage Action Advances Rapidly Into Final 3 Weeks

With just three weeks remaining in tournament play, the Globe Skippers are leading the field in the girls' basketball league with a 5-0 record. The Jet Set and the Raiders are close behind in a tie for second with 5-1 records.

In action last week, the Sharp Shooters defeated the Baptist Student Union, 32-26; the Jet Set remained in the running with a win over the Dames Club, 58-13; and the Group took a default from Tri-Sigs.

Karate and Company found the going rough as they dropped a 39-13 decision to the Sharp Shooters, and the Raiders, a team consisting of faculty members, remained in the running with a seven point victory over the Baptist Student Union, 22-15.

In action tomorrow night, the only game scheduled is Karate and Company taking on the Raiders.

Due to the Sea Mist's show, some future games have been rescheduled for later dates.

Racers McPherson And Cunningham On All-OVC Squad

Two Thoroughbreds and two Hilltoppers plus one Golden Eagle equal the official All-OVC team, as selected by coaches and athletic directors around the league.

Herb McPherson, Dick Cunningham, Clem Haskins, Dwight Smith, and Ron Filipek led in the voting for selection on the 10-man team.

Western dominated the squad, with Wayne Chapman and Greg Smith named along with Dwight Smith and Haskins.

Rounding out the star-studded outfit is Morehead's Jim Sandfoss, Eastern's Bobby Washington, and East Tennessee's Harley Swift.

NATION'S TOP REBOUNDER . . . Dick Cunningham was recognized officially by the NCAA this week as the nation's top rebounder, averaging 21.8 a game.

Racer Cagers Fifth In Scoring Average

Official final statistics by the NCAA show that Murray State was fifth in the nation in team offense, with an average of 89.5 points a game.

The Racers were 16th in free throw percentage, and individually Dick Cunningham led the nation in rebounding with 479 grabs in 22 games, for an average of 21.8.

Herb McPherson was 37th in scoring, averaging 21.8 a game. He scored 501 points.

FURGERSON YELLS 'TIME OUT' — FOOTBALL NEWSLETTER IS BORN

By Karl Harrison

Football Coach Bill Furgerson, working like a man possessed, it seems, to build a winning team out of one which couldn't win a game last year, has come up with a football newsletter, called "Time Out," which is sent to all football letter winners at Murray.

Working along with the "M" Club in getting names of the alumni, Coach Furgerson and sports information director Joe Tom Erwin published the first newsletter March 1. It will be a monthly affair.

The first issue contained pictures of the new coaching staff, a picture of one of Murray's new recruits signing with the Racers, and a personal story on Paul Ward, a former Murray star who is now in the coaching profession on the high-school level.

Also contained in the newsletter are the names and vital statistics on all of Murray's new signees, next fall's schedule, and a personal article from the coach.

The editor of the newsletter would like to begin a column in the next paper telling of the doings of former MSU footballers, personal things about their family, good seasons by coaches, promotions, and the like.

Any information such as that mentioned should be mailed to Joe Tom Erwin, Sports Information Office, MSU.

Murray's first home outdoor track meet, previously scheduled to be a dual affair with Indiana, now has taken on a new light; along with Indiana will be their Big Ten arch-rival Purdue, making the meet a triangular one.

Indiana, noted for its strong hurdlers, and Purdue, said to have some fine distance runners, will give the home-standing Racer harriers plenty to cope with.

Jim Freeman, who pulled a muscle in Detroit last week, should be back in action by the 25th, date of the meet.

HOMECOMING TO BE OCT. 7:

'67 Football Schedule Revamped

One new opponent has been scheduled for the Racers football team next fall and the conference schedule has been completely revamped.

The new opponent will be Iowa Wesleyan, who will play the Racers at Homecoming, Oct. 7.

The complete schedule: Sept. 16, UTMB, there; Sept. 23, Tennessee Tech, home; Sept. 30, Morehead, home; Oct. 7, Iowa Wesleyan, Homecoming; Oct. 14, Middle Tennessee, there; Oct. 21, Eastern, home; Nov. 4, Austin Peay, home; Nov. 11, Evansville, there; Nov. 18, Western, there.

MSU Debate Team Wins Second Place In Forensic Contest

Murray State's varsity debate team ranked second in the Pioneer Debate Tournament at Eastern Kentucky University Friday and Saturday.

The team won eight rounds and lost four. This record was a tie with North Carolina. However, when broken down into points, MSU received 540 points for third place while North Carolina had 537.

Jack Ell, Princeton, and Ed Frank Jeffery, Murray, made up the affirmative team. They won three out of six rounds.

The negative team was represented by Mike Nims, Paducah, and Mike Smith, Murray. They won five rounds and only lost one round.

Also, there were ratings given to the individual speakers. Out of all the students participating in the tournament, three of MSU's students rated in the top four. They were Jeffery second, Nims third, and Smith fourth.

Physics Dept. Receives Grant To Build Reactor

The physics department has been awarded $17,804 to purchase materials needed to construct a subcritical nuclear reactor.

The Atomic Energy Commission will also loan the department 1.65 tons of natural uranium needed for the reactor. Uranium is a commodity which cannot be purchased on the open market, according to Dr. William Read, head of the physics department.

The grant money will be used to purchase and fabricate nuclear grade graphite, Dr. Read said.

The reactor will be designed and built by the physics faculty and will be only the third such facility in the state. Others are at the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville.

Dr. Read said courses to utilize the installation would be offered after completion of the science-building addition now under construction.

April 1 Is Deadline Set for Application For Education Test

Application deadline for students who plan to take the Comprehensive Examination is April 1. The exam is scheduled for 2 p.m. May 3, and 8 a.m. May 6 in 652 Education Bldg.

Secondary-education students who desire to take part of the Comprehensive Examination in a subject matter may do so if they have completed at least 12 hours of subject matter courses in a particular area. Otherwise, the exam will be taken in secondary education.

Application forms can be obtained from Mr. Robert Rowan, School of Education.

NATO Representative Will Speak at Seminar

A US representative to NATO, Mr. William D. Boggs, will speak on America's responsibilities to NATO at an all-day seminar in the SUB ballroom today.

The seminar, which starts at 9:30 a.m., is sponsored by the American Federation of Women's Clubs.

The program will begin with a symposium on religion and mental health, followed by a good discussion on community improvement.

A luncheon will be served at 12:15, and the afternoon program will feature Mr. Boggs. The seminar will end about 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Boggs, who entered the foreign service in 1960, served as assistant US ambassador in Viet Nam from 1961 to 1963. He served on a US mission to the European Common Market in Brussels from 1963 to 1965.

Specializing in French NATO affairs at the present, Mr. Boggs has attended six NATO Parliamentarian's conferences, including the one held in Paris in November.

Campus Voting Day Changed to April 4

Campus election day has been moved up, from April 6 to April 4 by the Student Council.

The Thursday to Tuesday change was enacted because of a complaint by members of the United Independents that many students were absent from campus on the voting day, which is the last Thursday before spring vacation.
