Explosive, Rugged Football Holmes' Trademark

Dave Holmes, an exponent of rugged, explosive football embarks on his third season at University of Hawaii after leading the Rainbows to 7-3 and 6-3-1 records the past two years.

His skill in building solid football programs is well-documented, as is his development of a well-oiled coaching staff. This latter ability has been especially helpful this fall as he shakes off the effects of an August 8 auto accident.

And a prime example of his building ability evolved at Eastern Washington State College in Cheney, Wash., where he coached immediately prior to moving to Hawaii. Holmes' 1967 EWSC team was second in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship runoff. His Savages rolled through their regular season slate 10-0, then trimmed New Mexico Highlands University, 28-14, before falling, 28-21, to Fairmont State of West Virginia in the final.

EWSC hadn't won a game in two seasons before Holmes assumed command in 1963. The Savages registered a 3-6 win and loss mark in his inaugural year, then rolled through four winning seasons of 5-4, 8-1, 7-1-1 and 11-1.

Last year's 6-3-1 UH finish raises Holmes' career collegiate coaching record to 47-19-2, ranking him 23rd in the nation among College Division coaches with a .706 winning percentage.

Before entering the college ranks at EWSC, he coached eight years at North Central High School of Spokane and before that three years at Tonasket, Wash. His North Central teams won one Spokane City League championship, tied for two more and finished lower than second only twice.

Born in Wenatchee, Wash., and a 1948 graduate of Eastern's nearby rival, Whitworth College of Spokane, Holmes played two years at guard for the Whitworth varsity football team. He also claims a masters degree in education from EWSC, with a major in physical education.

Holmes is married (Bonnie Sue) and has four children—Nancy 19, Rolland 18, Sue Anne 16 and Jill 7
Surrounding him on the UH staff are:

HEAD OFFENSIVE COACH—Cal Murphy, first assistant to Holmes at Eastern Washington, spent the major portion of his college years at University of British Columbia but graduated later (1967) and earned his masters at EWSC. He coached at two high schools in Vancouver, B.C., from 1956-64, then joined the EWSC staff from 1965-67.

OFFENSIVE BACKFIELD—Joe Francis, a three-year starter at tailback for Oregon State University (1968 grad) and a pro with Green Bay of the National Football League and Montreal of the Canadian Football League, brings a wealth of experience to the post.

HEAD DEFENSIVE COACH—Larry Price, a former Hawaii football captain and 1965 University graduate, was a participant at tackle in the 1965 Hula Bowl game and was later named to the all-time defensive unit for the Bowl classic. He was an All-Army selection during his service years.

DEFENSIVE SECONDARY—Dick Zornes, a four-year letter winner at strong side safety under Holmes at EWSC, is in his second year at this defensive coaching slot. A 1968 graduate of EWSC, he also served as a student coach there.

LINEBACKERS—Tom Keele, who captained University of Oregon's 1958 Rose Bowl team, graduated from UO in 1960 and earned his masters there in 1963. He coached at three Oregon high schools during the period from 1965-69, then a year at Puget Sound and finally three years at San Jose State before coming to Hawaii.

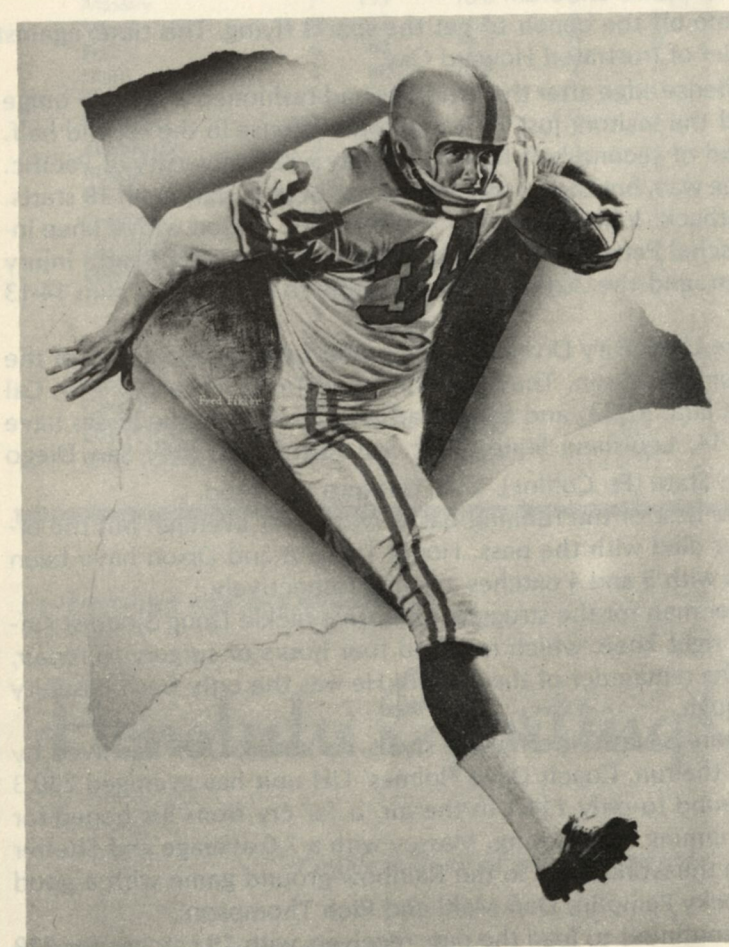

STUDENT COACHES—Brian Carter, a Northwest Conference all-star at tight end for Linfield, and Bill Diedrick, an Evergreen Conference all-star at quarterback for Eastern Washington, will handle the student coaching positions. Both played in NAIA championship games during their collegiate careers, and both bring solid coaching credentials to the job.

About Tonight's Game

UH, Tigers Collide In Shrine Classic

Football games should begin with the third quarter and starting lineups should be abolished.

These two suggestions, if implemented, would greatly deter the incidence of heart attack among University of Hawaii fans, who have lived through a traumatic though highly successful season thus far with the Rainbows.

UH picked up victory No. 7 against a single defeat this past weekend by doing in nationally-ranked Linfield College, 19-17. But it took a second half turnabout and 12 fourth-quarter points to accomplish the task. Of course, tonight it's the 40th Annual Shrine Classic against hard-to-figure University of Pacific in the annual benefit for the Honolulu Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children.

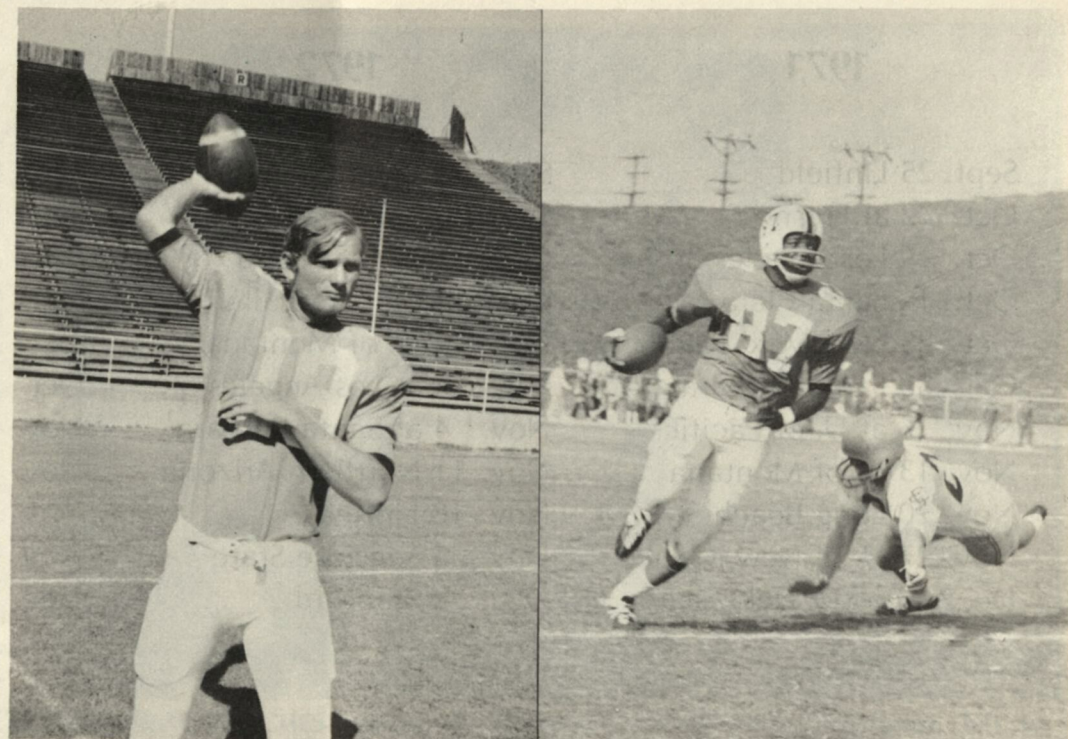

For the second straight week, a quarterback had to come off the bench to get the sparks flying. This time, against Linfield, it was sophomore Mike Biscotti coming in relief of frustrated Howard Gay.

The 'Bows finished the night with a 345-330 yards total offense edge after the Wildcats had fashioned a 260-135 bulge through two periods. That means the UH defense allowed the visitors just 70 yards total offense in the second half.

But it will no doubt take four quarters of that same brand of second-half football to stay with University of Pacific. The Tigers have had some high and some low spots along the way, but their competition has been tough in all 10 starts.

They have come to the islands without their fine quarterback, John Read, who is out for the season with a knee injury suffered against San Diego State. But backup man Herschel Petty came on in that same contest after Read's injury to complete 9 of 14 passes for 159 yards and a touchdown, and the Aztecs were only able to prevail by a slim 14-13 margin.

That performance against the Aztecs, highly ranked in the University Division polls, points up the capabilities of the Tigers, who for one reason or another still stand only 5-5 for the season. They have defeated Texas, El Paso, 24-18; Cal State, Long Beach, 9-6; University of Idaho, 17-10; Santa Clara, 47-23; and Santa Barbara, 27-13. And the losses have been to Fresno State, 34-14; Louisiana State, 34-0; San Jose State, 48-7; San Diego State, 14-13; and Colorado State (Ft. Collins), 17-8, this past weekend.

NEW PASSING COMBO..... Quarterback Herschel Petty (19) to Flanker Honor Jackson (87)

Tom Dixon has been the best of the running backs with a 4.1 average, but the offense has virtually lived or died with the pass. Honor Jackson and Dixon have been the primary pass receivers with 5 and 4 catches a game, respectively.

UH will be down another man for the struggle. Offensive tackle Doug Sjoquist suffered a severe blow to his right knee, which required four hours of surgery to repair, and will be sidelined for the remainder of the season. He was the only fresh casualty in the Rainbow camp, though.

Tonight's game will feature a clash of offensive styles. As noted, UOP has lived by the pass and the 'Bows by the run. Coach Dave Holmes' UH unit has averaged 230.3 yards-per-game on the ground to only 144.1 in the air, a far cry from his hoped-for goal of balance between running and passing. Massey with a 7.0 average and Sherrer with a 7.1 mark have been the workhorses in the Rainbow ground game with a good deal of assistance from Rocky Pamplin, Don Mahi and Rich Thompson.

Tight end Henry Sovio continues to lead the pass receivers with 19 catches for 229 yards, while Patterson has 15 and late-blooming Glenn Hookano 12.

What's In A Name?

AHAHUI KOA ANUENUE.....A Continuing Story

What's in a name?

Well, Ahahui Koa Anuenue isn't a name that will be used often in every day conversation, but let an athlete spend two or more years at University of Hawaii and the name will be firmly outlined in his memory.

And that is essentially because Ahahui Koa Anuenue is an organization whose sole function is to offer its support in upgrading University of Hawaii athletics both locally and nationally.

The name, itself, in common terms means "Society of the Rainbow Warrior". And every person who associates himself with this name is a contributor to the UH Intercollegiate Athletic Scholarship Fund.

The organization, then, is the backbone of the Athletic Department's grant-in-aid program. To be eligible for aid, an athlete must be a full-time student carrying 12 hours or more and must, in addition, meet both University and NCAA scholastic requirements. At present, 55 full scholarships are available for football and 18 for basketball, while partial scholarships are also available in these two, plus several other varsity sports.

Membership in Ahahui Koa Anuenue has swelled to 900, and the goal is to broaden the base of support even further. With this in mind, the University's athletic staff has moved into the fund-raising business, helping the hard core which has kept the program moving to date.

Among the group's accomplishments thus far are these:

- Construction of an athletic dormitory for 92 persons, located just outside the makai gate on the lower campus.
- Raising of the number of grants available for football and basketball from zero just a few years ago to the 55 and 18 respectively, that the University counts today.
- Revival of the University's athletic image to its former status and promise of accelerating this development to an even greater extent in the near future.

The benefits of participation, of course, are many, besides being part of a program of which the State of Hawaii can be proud. On the fringes are such benefits as four choice free season tickets to University of Hawaii football and basketball games, a beautiful plaque with date plates for succeeding years, a membership card and automobile decal for donors of $1,000 or more and lesser gifts for lower amounts.

This isn't to stress only the larger donations. A campaign to enroll the $10-or-more donors in a special "10-For-70" program is also under way.

So, what's in a name? Take a chance; join Koa Anuenue, attend the weekly luncheons at the Flamingo Chuckwagon on Monday noons and find out for yourself.

RAINBOWS ON PARADE

No. 64

STEVE TYREMAN has been an alternate starter at tackle all season with the Rainbows and this past weekend against Linfield turned in his best performance to date. His downfield blocking was crisp and effective, especially on the big plays which broke open the game. The 6-1, 220-pound junior from Anaheim, Calif., earned offensive "hitter-of-the-week" honors for his efforts. Steve is a transfer from Fullerton Junior College, where he was a first team All-South Coast Conference selection. He also gained All-Orange County recognition as a prep in Anaheim.

No. 60

MIKE REBER has had some problems with a shoulder dislocation, but he only missed the Cal State, Los Angeles game. And this weekend against Linfield he had some rib-cracking hits himself on Wildcat backs from his linebacker slot. His season totals of 15 tackles, 11 assists and 1 fumble recovery, plus more than 60 points on hard hits indicate his value. Against Linfield, he was defensive "hitter-of-the-week". And in addition, he can play some pass defense. The 6-foot, 215-pound senior from Bakersfield, Calif., is extremely aggressive and has excellent speed. Academically, he's majoring in oceanography.

SPIRIT AND RALLY at University of Hawaii has never been stronger, and this group is the first fruit of a new era. The girls, at left from top of the "H" to the bottom—Lorrie Chang, Sharilyn Shindo, Liz Elsen, Rhonda Liu and Terri Nelson; at right, top to bottom—Sally Boni, Jadine Yee, Debby Connor, Valorie Huff and Georgia Wong; across the middle, from left—Carolyn Carrier, Ginny Duke and Laura Cooke; and their mascot, center, Mike Fishback. The group is alive and working, their chief goal at present to raise enough funds to follow the team to Las Vegas. Higher Education Gains Foothold In Isolated Kaunakakai Via Extension Program

by ELIZABETH YOUNG
University Relations

On a clear day from Oahu's south shore, one can see the profile of a tiny island—a brown, seemingly barren expanse of volcanic rock.

This is Molokai—an island about which even many kaamainas know very little. Only 20 minutes by air from Honolulu, Molokai has remained amazingly isolated—especially from the University of Hawaii system and higher education in general. Isolated, that is, until recently.

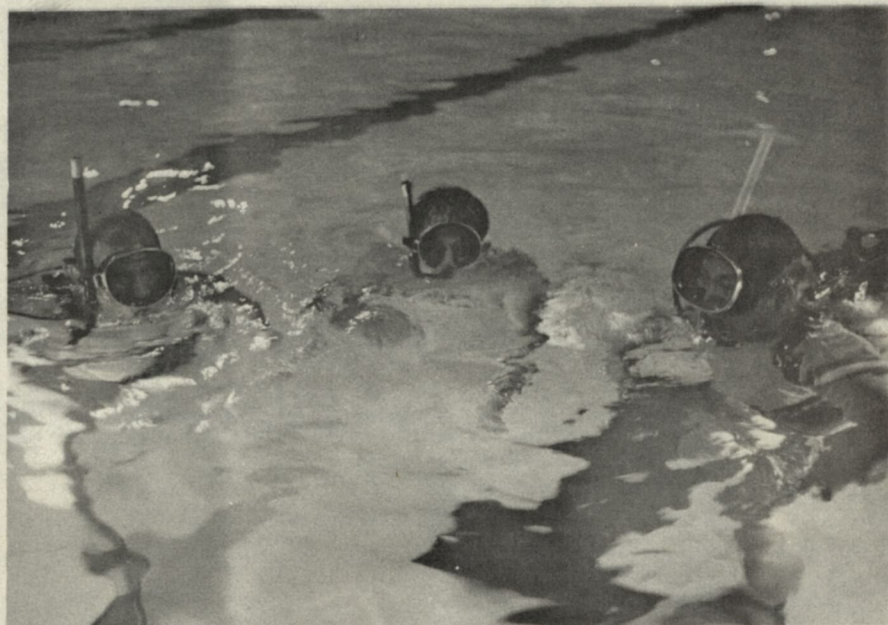

This year, for the first time in Molokai's history, college courses are being offered by Maui Community College as part of a regular extension program. The response has been, in short, quite remarkable. After only one and a half semesters, there are waiting lists for classes and people are driving from all sides of island to get to class in Kaunakakai.

The program, funded through a special appropriation of $30,000 from the state legislature, is open to anyone who is a high school graduate or 18 years of age or older. MCC's venture has proved so successful, other community colleges are hoping to start similar "outreach" classes.

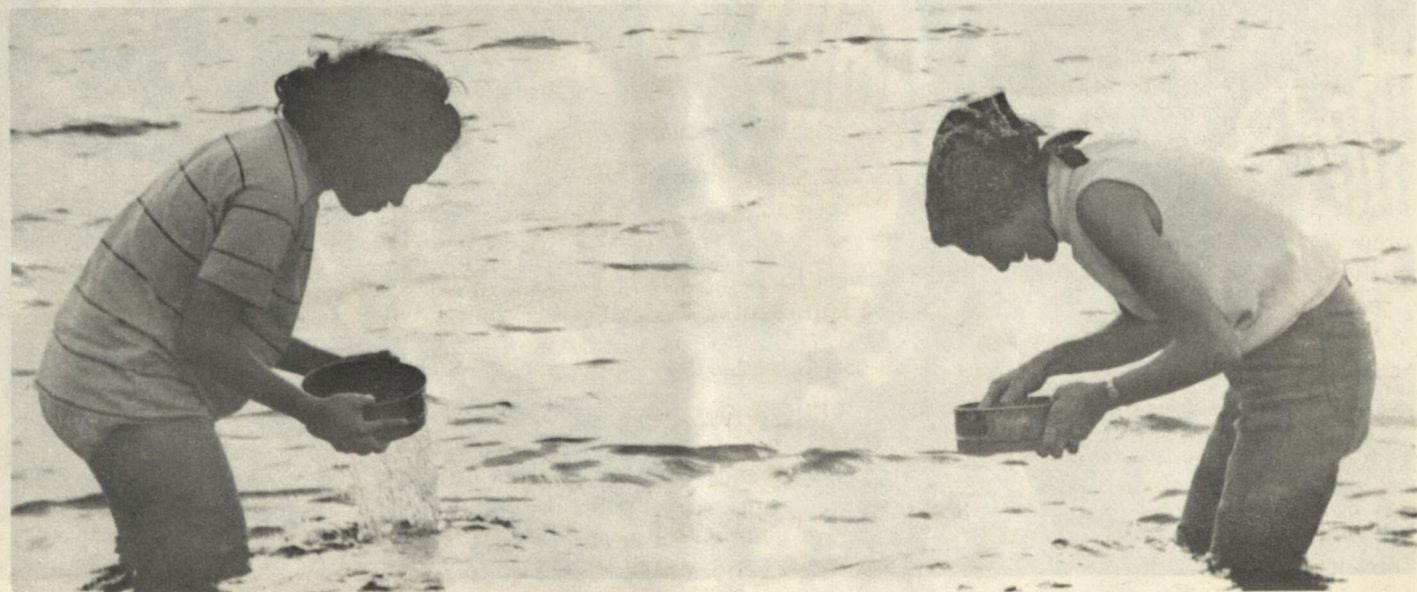

Under Maui's program, MCC instructors fly to Molokai every Friday, teach class in the evening, then return to Maui the next day. Their 74 students range in age from 18 to 52. Some are there out of curiosity, some because they want a better job and others because they have the chance to get an education they had never before hoped to achieve.

A typical story is one student in his thirties who had to return to Molokai to support the rest of the family after his father died. He has had to remain on the island, but had always hoped to continue his education sometime. When he found out MCC was going to offer college credit courses, he jumped at the chance.

"I want to take courses as long as they offer them. I would never have been able to afford leaving the island to take these classes otherwise."

SKIN AND SCUBA..... Working For Certification In Diving

MOLOKAI "LABORATORY"..... Students Sift For Sea Worms In Shallow Water

To understand the nature of this extension program, it's important to first understand Molokai. No exotic aura of tropical splendor surrounds this island. The only pharmacist on the island operates his drug store in Kaunakakai, a town which has only one main street two blocks long.

There are less than 6,000 people on Molokai, most of whom are Hawaiian, part Hawaiian or Filipino. Nearly half of the people work on the vast pineapple plantations which cover the island or on cattle ranches. The rest of Molokai is employed primarily by government services, a handful of small businesses and the island's only hotel. The population is scattered from one end of the island to the other, with only a few paved roads connecting the remote plantation towns. Transportation costs make the cost of living overall the highest in the state. Many residents are on welfare.

According to a recent study, some 80 percent of Molokai's people said they would like to be trained for a better job if given the opportunity. However, virtually the same number, when asked if they would leave the island to find a better job, said "no".

Other surveys have shown that Molokai hasn't been adequately represented in Hawaii's statewide system of higher education. Only 55 of the 6,000 residents were enrolled on any of Hawaii's eight university campuses. Whereas one out of every 24 people in Hawaii was a university student, Molokai's average was only one out of 105.

Although some efforts have been made to bring higher education to Molokai in the past, most of these have been sporadic at best and not specifically designed for Molokai's interests. Honolulu Community College has conducted a training program for teacher aides with some success. However, Maui's is the first attempt to establish a permanent, post-secondary program on the island.

The program comes at a time when new prospects for employment are opening up for Molokai. A vast hotel-resort complex is being planned for the east end of the island, a project which will open the doors for a whole new range of jobs in tourist-related services. Increased tourism would affect virtually every area of Molokai's economy.

Maui Community College's extension program hopes to help Molokai's people prepare for these new jobs. According to Maui Community College counselors, "The people are sincere in wishing to improve themselves. They feel that the potential tourist industry can lead to new and interesting types of work. Many of them would like to get in on these added opportunities."

What makes the project exciting and will, no doubt, ultimately figure as the secret of the program's success, is its reliance on the people of Molokai in determining their educational destinies.

Requests for the course leading to diving certification came as a result of the recent expeditions around Molokai's reefs to track down the crown of thorns starfish. Although the people of Molokai have been diving all their lives, they found they couldn't get jobs on the expeditions because they weren't officially certified.

A permanent Molokai Educational Advisory Committee has now been established to advise Maui Community College on Molokai's higher education needs. They will also act as a sounding board for determining the program's effectiveness.

Head Football Coach

The University of the Pacific, as California's pioneer institution of higher learning, has been in the forefront of academic innovation since its beginning in 1851.

As a relatively small, privately funded institution, Pacific has developed an academic program geared to the constantly changing needs of a 4,700-member student body. A low student-to-faculty ratio assures learning on an individual basis.

The College of the Pacific, as the "core" college, offers the widest choice to the student. He can take a variety of courses, with no pressure to declare a major until his junior year, or he can concentrate on his primary interest and study it in depth right from the beginning. This fall a new 4-1-4 school year will begin, and the middle month of January will be devoted to independent study.

University of the Pacific's President Robert E. Burns has developed three autonomous cluster colleges at Pacific. Designed for students with certain interests, the cluster concept has allowed the University to "grow larger by growing smaller".

UH Player Profiles

OFFENSE

Wide Receivers

GLENN HOOKANO Jr. 5-11 185 Kaneohe, Hi.
Glenn moves back to familiar haunts as a wide receiver after a year at defensive halfback, where he earned a letter. Should be an excellent deep receiver with fine speed and sure hands. Majoring in physical education.

GREG JOHNSON Sr. 5-11 175 Kaneohe, Hi.
Ranks as the best blocker among the receivers, and although he wasn't among the top receivers even last season, he still has the potential. Was most valuable player at Santa Ana JC in 1967. Majoring in business management.

DANA MEAD Sr. 6-1 185 Yorba Linda, Calif.
Has good height, can block and ranks as a good receiver. Lacks exceptional speed but when he runs his patterns well, he can still free himself. Ranked as an honorable mention all-star at Ventura College. Majoring in biology.

ROGER PARKMAN Jr. 5-11 175 Huntington Beach, Calif.
Transfer from Golden West JC, where he was All-South Coast Conference as a receiver. Has fine hands and speed, plus good moves. Could use a bit more size but ranks close to the pack even in that department. Majoring in physical education.

DAVE PATTERSON Sr. 6-0 185 Pico Rivera, Calif.
Led UH receivers last season. Runs routes well, can catch the ball and knows what to do with it after the reception. Ranked as most valuable player at Rio Hondo JC in 1968 and moved on to JC All-America honorable mention honors. Was All-CIF and all-state as a prepper. Majoring in physical education.

FRANK TRIGILIO Jr. 6-0 183 Honolulu, Hi.
Gained All-ILH recognition in both football and basketball at Kalani High School here. Lettered as a sophomore with the varsity last year. Has good hands and a real desire to get to the ball. Majoring in business.

Tight Ends

BILL BOYDA Sr. 6-3 225 E. Detroit, Mich.
Good blocker and big, strong receiver. Has put on 20 pounds since the 1969 season so should be able to hold his own. Two-year letter winner who was lineman of the year while at East Detroit High. Majoring in radio-television broadcasting.

SCOTT GARSKE Fr. 6-3 220 Spokane, Wash.
Honored as athlete of the year in Spokane in 1970. Has been shifted from quarterback to tight end, where he is considered an outstanding prospect even as a freshman. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

MIKE SCHAAF Jr. 6-4 225 Santa Ana, Calif.
Standout athlete at Santa Ana, both as a prepper and later as a junior college performer. Has exceptionally good size and strength and ranks as one of the hardest hitters on the squad. Could fill other gaps, if needed. Majoring in physical education.

HENRY SOVIO Jr. 6-3 230 North Surrey, B.C.
Excellent size and strength, checking in 10 pounds heavier than last season. Has good speed, deceptively so, in open field. Very hard to bring down and protects ball well on the reception. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Tackles

JACK BARNES Jr. 6-3 235 Ventura, Calif.
Transfer from Ventura JC, where he was named to the first unit offense for the Western States Conference all-star team. Good quickness for a man his size and has shaken off spring injury problems. Majoring in political science.

RICK DUSTIN Sr. 6-3 240 Santa Ana, Calif.
Has picked up considerably on offensive techniques and carries 20 more pounds on his 6-4 frame. Was a defensive standout previously at Orange Coast JC but is coming along well and was a sometimes starter last fall. Majoring in architecture.

JOHN GORDON Sr. 6-6 245 East Detroit, Mich.
Transfer from New Mexico State, where he gained all-conference honors. Strained an Achilles tendon on a summer job, but the injury seems to be responding well and Jack is nearing playing weight and shape. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

DOUG SJOQUIST Sr. 6-3 225 Burnaby, B.C.
Some hard work on the weights has added 15 pounds of ballast. Strong, hard hitter who was a two-time all-conference choice at Everett Community College before moving on to UH. Adds toughness to the tackle situation. Majoring in business administration.

STEVE TYREMAN Jr. 6-1 220 Anaheim, Calif.
Transfer from Fullerton JC where he was a first team All-South Coast Conference pick. Also won all-league and all-Orange County honors as a prepper in Anaheim. Good size and fine speed and quickness. Majoring in business.

Guards

TOM FRUECHTEL Jr. 5-11 215 Vancouver, Wash.
Has picked up added strength and ranks as one of the strongest lads on the squad. Possesses good guard techniques, blocks well and hits hard. First team all-conference at Hudson's Bay as a prepper. Majoring in business.

JIM KALILI Sr. 6-2 225 Honolulu, Hi.
Should be strongly considered for Little All-America honors this season after excellent performances against all opponents, even University of Oregon in 1969 and University of California (Berkeley) in 1968. Fine drive blocker, pass protector and exceptional pulling guard. His size remains about the same as in 1969 but his strength has increased. Majoring in travel industry management.

KEN MAYO Sr. 5-11 210 Fresno, Calif.
Blessed with excellent speed and strength, making him a fine blocker. Gained first team JC Grid Wire All-America status in 1968. Has been hampered this fall by hairline fracture of his left big toe, but should still be ready. Majoring in psychology.

TONY NAKAZAWA Sr. 6-0 205 Tolleson, Ariz.
Adequate size and strength and ranks as an extremely strong competitor. Was an all-conference selection at Glendale Community College in Arizona in 1968. Was a sometimes starter for the Rainbows last season. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Centers

ED FOOTE Sr. 6-3 230 Costa Mesa, Calif.
Returning starter at center, who is blessed with good size, speed and strength. Three-year letterman in football and baseball at Big Bear High and standout athlete at Orange Coast JC before coming to UH. Majoring in business.

BILL KAAI Jr. 6-0 210 Honolulu, Hi.
Exceptionally quick and tough and the switch to center last year seemed to relieve a chronic shoulder injury problem. Earned ILH all-star accord as a prepper at Farrington High School. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Quarterbacks

MIKE BISCOTTI So. 6-0 185 Gardena, Calif.
Fine standup, dropback passer with exceptional throwing skills. Will take some time to learn UH system but will be a real threat. Compares to Green Bay's Don Horn as a thrower. Both were Gardena High grads. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

RICHARD DIANA So. 6-3 210 Hamden, Conn.
Strong, accurate throwing arm but, like Biscotti, must learn the Rainbows' system. Has good range and accuracy but is still working out the kinks of a year's inactivity after a fresh year at Indiana University. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

HOWARD GAY Sr. 6-2 200 Livingston, Calif.
Was a fine backup passer to Larry Arnold in 1969, then had some passing problems in spring practice. But he appears to be rounding into shape at this point and will be the probable first choice, at least in early games. Majoring in physical education.

PAT OKA Sr. 6-0 190 Honolulu, Hi.
Has a fine arm but has some trouble finding targets against a hard rush. Ranks near the top of the list as a pure passer but hasn't yet managed to crack into the top echelon among the quarterbacks. Majoring in physical education.

Tailbacks

ARAN AHU So. 5-10 180 Hilo, Hi.
Excellent all-around football player, who played defensive back periodically with the varsity last year and full-time as a running back with the jayvees. Has adequate speed and quick reactions. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

ROCKY PAMPLIN Sr. 6-3 220 Newark, Calif.
Leading ground gainer for the University of Oregon Ducks last season, Pamplin is a likely pro draft pick this year. He's already been approached by the Canadian Football League. Strong, hard runner with pretty fair speed. Three-sport star at Newark (Calif.) High and honor roll student there. Majoring in journalism.

RAMON RICARDO Jr. 5-11 185 Costa Mesa, Calif.
Transfer from Orange Coast JC, where he gained honorable mention all-conference honors. Good, strong runner who will have to be at his best to stay with the competition. Should still see considerable action. Majoring in foreign languages.

LARRY SHERRER Jr. 6-2 200 Durant, Okla.

Extremely talented runner with excellent change of pace and breakaway speed. Troubled by recurring hamstring muscle injury last season and most of the spring, but worked hard strengthening both legs this summer and seems well-healed thus far. Should have outstanding year. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

RICHARD THOMPSON So. 6-1 215 Louisville, Ky.

Transfer from University of Arizona, who was a JC all-conference selection before spending a semester there. Good speed and power. Was named Louisville's most valuable back and later earned all-state honors as a prepper. Majoring in business.

Fullbacks

DON MAHI Jr. 6-0 200 Kaneohe, Hi.

Was a linebacker to fill a need last fall but reverted to his previous spot as a running back this past spring. He responded by gaining 161 yards in 19 carries in the Spring Game; will add punch and power. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

BILL MASSEY Sr. 6-2 212 Weatherford, Okla.

Shook off sophomore injury jinx last year and set a new UH rushing record. Nursed a pinched nerve in spring practice and was held out of contact, but has been hard at it in fall drills. Has great, bulling power and breakaway ability to boot. Figures to have another fine year. Majoring in physical education.

DEFENSE Linemen

SIMEON ALO So. 6-0, 205 Maui, Hi.

Lettered as a freshman after starting the season as a linebacker. Good quickness and balance. Was an ILH all-star as a prepper at Kamehameha School. Should develop into a mainstay as season progresses. Majoring in business.

JOHN BAIN So. 6-2 220 Los Angeles, Calif.

Transfer from USC, who gained all-CIF recognition as a prepper at St. Bernard in California. Extremely hard hitter with good reactions, good speed and lineman's skills. Will give the returnees plenty of competition. Majoring in psychology.

BOB CURRIE Jr. 6-3 240 Port Coquitlam, B.C.

Transfer from Wenatchee (Wash.) JC, who gained second team all-conference accolades in the Washington JC circuit. Was also the outstanding athlete as a prepper at Centennial High. Big, tough and quick. Majoring in physical education or history.

DAVE DWORSKY Jr. 6-0 220 Los Angeles, Calif.

Has been switched from middle linebacker to the defensive line to shore up problems there. Hard hitter with only average straightaway speed but good quickness and reactions. Led defensive statistics last fall. Majoring in physical therapy.

LEVI STANLEY So. 6-2 235 Waianae, Hi.

Blessed with all the tools—speed, quickness, size and strength. Checks in 10 pounds heavier than 1969, when he lettered as a freshman. Was an OIA all-star two years as a prepper at Waianae High. Majoring in physical education.

BILL TURNER Sr. 6-1 240 Snohomish, Wash.

Sometimes starter in 1969, Bill was named most improved player in spring drills. Good size and toughness; hits hard. Should be a bulwark in the forward wall this season, where strength is sorely needed. Majoring in business.

RICK WHITE Jr. 6-3 225 Huntington Beach, Calif.

Transfer from Orange Coast JC by way of U. of California. Was first team pick at defensive end in South Coast Conference in 1969. Could play either defensive end or linebacker. Majoring in history or business.

Linebackers

FELIX ALCANTARA Sr. 5-9 190 Honolulu, Hi.

Two-year letter winner who has a hard time cracking the starting lineup because of size problems but gives the 'Bows an experienced check-off man. Was an outstanding prep athlete in Frankfurt, Germany. Majoring in business.

JIM BARSUK Sr. 5-9 190 Fountain Valley, Calif.

Aggressive, hard-hitting linebacker who started a few times last year. Lacks height but is still effective, thanks to good reaction to the ball. Claims pretty fair speed and strength. Majoring in physical education.

LARRY FRANK Jr. 6-1 200 Honolulu, Hi.

Transfer from Spokane Community College, where he gained all-conference recognition in the Washington JC loop. Ranks as a rugged blocker and all-round athlete with plenty of potential.

Starred at St. Louis as a prepper. Majoring in physical education.

SAM HANNA Sr. 6-1 225 Portland, Ore.

Transfer from Brigham Young, who earned numerous scholastic and athletic awards as a prepper. Among them was election as a National Football Foundation scholar-athlete, National Honor Society and all-state in football. Strong, hard hitter with excellent reactions. Majoring in mechanical engineering.

RANDY INGRAHAM Jr. 6-0 210 San Jose, Calif.

All-America linebacker and most valuable player with San Jose City College in the Golden Gate Conference. Also a fine scholar. Has exceptional speed, great reaction to the ball and ranks as a hard hitter. Majoring in physical education.

DENNIS McCANNA Jr. 6-0 200 Spokane, Wash.

One of the hardest hitters on the squad, Mac is a transfer from University of Idaho by way of the Army. Was an all-city standout in both football and baseball at Spokane's Gonzaga High. Also ranks as a good running back. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

MIKE REBER Sr. 6-0 215 Bakersfield, Calif.

Possesses excellent speed and aggressiveness. Hard hitter who had a lot of playing time in 1969. Should battle for one of the three starting spots once again this fall. Majoring in oceanography.

Backs

STEVE ADLER So. 5-11 170 Los Angeles, Calif.

Transfer from UCLA, who was a prep star at Hamilton High. Gained all-city, all-league, All-South Bay and league most valuable player honors. Was also team's most valuable player. Tremendous ability, good speed and aggressiveness. Scholar athlete majoring in business.

MURRAY CASSIDY Sr. 6-0 185 Mt. Vernon, Wash.

Fiery performer with aggressive, hard-hitting play. Excellent performer on specialty teams. Could use more speed for secondary but has good reactions; great team player, whose spirit rallies whole defense. Majoring in physical education.

JIM COSTELLO Sr. 6-1 190 Santa Ana, Calif.

Came back from knee injury to start several games. Good hitter with only average speed, but has good reaction to the ball. South Coast Conference all-star at Santa Ana JC in 1968. Majoring in physical education.

STEVE HILL So. 5-11 170 Santa Ana, Calif.

Transfer from Santa Ana JC, where he gained South Coast Conference all-star honors. Was also most valuable prep athlete while at Santa Ana High and was named to two all-star units. Probably the best prospect in the secondary. Majoring in physical education.

GEORGE LUMPKIN Jr. 5-10 180 Los Angeles, Calif.

Transfer from Los Angeles Harbor College, where he was an all-conference performer. Has excellent techniques, is a hard hitter and has fine speed. Was also all-conference on both offense and defense at Mount Carmel High. Majoring in physical education.

SLY ROBINSON Jr. 6-1 185 Richmond, Va.

Transfer from Yakima Valley College, where he was a standout defensive back. Has excellent speed, size and reaction to the ball. Was an all-district defensive back at Maggie Walker High. Majoring in education.

DENNIS SALLAS Sr. 5-10 180 Honolulu, Hi.

Transfer from Pasadena City College where he started for two years. Will complete his eligibility at home this fall, following a fine career at Roosevelt High School here. Strong, talented performer. Majoring in criminology.

LEONARD SIMS Sr. 6-0 190 Santa Ana, Calif.

Transfer from USC, where he was a steady performer. Gained all-conference honors at junior college prior to that and was an all-CIF player in high school. Has excellent speed and size; hits hard. Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

ROGER WEATHERBY So. 5-10 170 Grants Pass, Ore.

Transfer from Grays Harbor (Wash.) JC. Best speed in the secondary (9.7 in 100), with good reactions and aggressiveness. Was all-conference and all-state at Grants Pass High. Also ranks as a fine sprinter in track. Majoring in history or pre-law.

SPECIALISTS

BILL GAETANO Jr. 5-9 140 Spokane, Wash.

Has added power this season. Was fairly accurate from close range last season, going 13-17 on conversions and 6-10 on field goals. Gained accuracy as season progressed. Majoring in history and political science.

BOB LEAHY Jr. 6-2 225 San Bernardino, Calif.

Transfer from San Bernardino Valley College, where he led the nation's junior college punters with a 44.8 average. Can boom the ball to the 65-yard distance regularly; had an 80-yarder last season. Honorable mention JC All-America as a kicker. Majoring in physical education.

Above And Below

RAINBOW FULLBACK Bill Massey (42) runs into swarms of Linfield defenders. The Wildcats had most of his bread-and-butter plays extremely well defended, but he still turned in a good performance as a blocker and had a few key runs in the last quarter charge.— Photo by Pipi Wakayama.

DO-IT-YOURSELF STATISTICS

Every football fan knows that the score doesn't always give a good picture of a game. A few statistics, like those that can be kept on this page, can make the picture clearer, show what the individual stars contribute and help to win post-game "debates." Besides, it can be fun to second guess the official scorers whose statistics will appear in tomorrow's papers. But before you start, here are some pointers on being a statistician:

1. Keep cumulative totals to be informed "up to the minute" and to simplify your figuring of team totals. Example: Jones gains 3, 6, 9, 2 yards and you write 3 9 18 20 on his line.
2. Be satisfied if you come within 10-15 yards of the official team totals. Individual judgments as to the line of scrimmage can make quite a difference in the totals.

3. Remember that it takes 10 yards to make a first down — that last inch can be as important as a yard and must be scored as one. Wait until the official places the ball and then go by the official down/yard marker on the sidelines.

4. Be sure to credit first downs on scoring plays originating from lines of scrimmage beyond the 10-yard line.

5. On plays involving penalties measured from the point of the foul, credit the rusher or pass receiver with yardage only to the point of the infraction.

6. Charge gains and losses on fumbles to the player who, in your judgment, contributed most to the error.

7. Don't score two-point conversion attempts after touchdowns as rushing or passing plays.

Lettermen Specialize In Service

Lettermen's Clubs at many universities revolve around an image of hulking sweaters emblazoned with super-sized block letters.

The approach at University of Hawaii dares to be different, and after a large measure of organizational work contributed in 1969-70, the way is open for realization of some of the group's dreams.

Hui Koa, the University of Hawaii Lettermen's Club, is fast becoming one of the most progressive organizations on campus and its purposes are many. Among them:

TO PROVIDE SOCIAL OUTLETS FOR MEMBERS.....

This is probably one of the club's most important functions. In an effort to nurture a better social climate, the club sponsors dances, beach parties, dinner affairs and picnics to name a few.

TO PROMOTE SPIRIT.....

The club has taken an intense interest in developing spirit and tradition on the campus. Special showings of National Football League films have been presented free for the general student body. Plans have also been made to expand this activity to include talk sessions between members of the UH coaching staff and the student body. And the club has its own rousing cheering section at athletic events. As its members put it, "Spirit is contagious; the more we have, the more we hope to generate."

TO SERVE THE COMMUNITY.....

In support of the community, which in turn supports the University system, the club has begun working with youngsters in the Palama district of Honolulu. Members of the club meet with the young people at Palama Settlement and teach them the fundamentals of football, basketball and baseball, and additional activities are to be added soon. The lettermen feel that by interesting these young people in athletics they can involve them to a greater degree in higher levels of education.

As can be easily seen, the Lettermen's Club is a very active group, worthy of your support.

So, when you see a member moving through the stands selling the Official 1970 University of Hawaii football program, dig down for that 50 cents and buy one.

Half of that amount goes to Lettermen's Club projects, the other half to the Ahahui Koa Anuenue Athletic Scholarship Fund.
