Academic Catalog

Welcome to Whitworth University! For more than 125 years, Whitworth has committed itself to providing an “education of mind and heart” that combines incredible learning opportunities with an enduring commitment to nurturing the soul. Within these pages, you will learn more about the many and diverse academic opportunities we provide for our students. What cannot be captured here is the true spirit of Whitworth. That enabling spirit equips our students to ask hard questions, allows our professors to seek new knowledge no matter where that search leads them, empowers our campus to form a lasting community characterized by grace and truth, and honors the relationships that we build along the way. When you complete your time at Whitworth, you will be among a privileged few who have been equipped to use your newfound wisdom, gifts and talents “to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity.”

Go, Bucs!

About Whitworth University

Our Mission

Whitworth University is a private, residential, liberal arts institution affiliated with the Presbyterian church. Since 1890, Whitworth has provided its diverse student body an education of mind and heart, equipping its graduates to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity. This mission is carried out by a community of Christian scholars committed to excellent teaching and to the integration of faith and learning.

Our Core Values

Since 1890, Whitworth University has held fast to its founding mission to provide its students an education of mind and heart characterized by rigorous and open intellectual inquiry and the integration of Christian faith and learning. Anchored in the Reformed tradition and enriched throughout its history by strong evangelical and ecumenical currents, Whitworth's mission is carried out by a diverse community of dedicated Christian scholars and staff members who are called to a variety of vocations to serve and support students. Whitworth believes that the best learning occurs in the context of relationship – inside and outside of the classroom – where faculty and staff members alike invest in the lives of students. Whitworth is committed to modeling the highest standards of integrity and fairness and to being a trusted and valued member of the community.

Whitworth's three core themes flow from its mission statement and guide the Whitworth community. As a Christian liberal arts university Whitworth strives to fulfill its mission through the following:

- a community of Christian scholars integrating faith and learning and promoting worldview development in its graduates;
- an academically excellent education firmly rooted in the liberal arts and sciences preparing its graduates for careers and lives of service; and
- an inclusive campus community fostering in its graduates intercultural competencies and civic engagement in an increasingly diverse world.

Our Heritage

In 1853, George Whitworth, a minister in the Ohio Valley, convinced 15 families to join his in a wagon train heading from St. Louis to the West. Whitworth's was the only family to complete the brutal five-month journey and reach the Puget Sound area.

An ordained Presbyterian minister, Whitworth had initially set out on the Oregon Trail to follow his calling to serve as a missionary. He would go on to found at least 15 Presbyterian churches across the Pacific Northwest. He also served as president of the University of Washington and as superintendent of schools in Thurston and King counties.

In 1883, Whitworth opened Sumner Academy in the village of Sumner, in Washington Territory, under the charge that "No efforts will be spared to elevate the character of the school and to make it an institution of learning of the highest grade." On Feb 20, 1890, the school's trustees signed resolutions to increase the curriculum and stature of the academy, which would be known as Whitworth College.

The catalog from 1890 defined the vision for Whitworth College: "It is intended to give both sexes a thorough course of education...ever directing them in pursuit of that learning and culture of mind and heart that make the finished scholar....While it is denominational, it does not aim to be sectarian, opening its doors to all lovers of truth and learning."

In 1899, the college had outgrown the rural community of Sumner and moved to Tacoma. Fifteen years later, when Spokane developer Jay P. Graves offered land in his Country Homes Estates, Whitworth moved a final time. In September 1914, classes began in Spokane.

Whitworth began a new era after 117 years as a college when, in 2007, the board of trustees approved changing the school's name to Whitworth University. The change was prompted by trends in the higher-education marketplace that led the board to clarify Whitworth's standing as a four-year liberal-arts institution. Whitworth's 17th president, Bill Robinson, helmed the transition and said at the time, "As Whitworth University, we will remain as committed as ever to the liberal-arts emphasis and the warm, interpersonal culture for which Whitworth is known."

Today, under the leadership of Beck A. Taylor, Whitworth's 18th president, the university is carrying out its 10-year vision and strategic plan, Whitworth 2021: Courage at the Crossroads. The university has made great strides in deepening its commitments to academic excellence and to the integration of Christian faith and learning, equipping graduates to respond to God's call on their lives with intellectual competence, moral courage, and deep compassion.

Accreditation

Accrediting Bodies

Whitworth University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, the institutional accrediting body in the Northwest.

Whitworth University has formal authority from the state of Washington to offer undergraduate and graduate education programs through the master's degree under Washington Student Achievement Council Approval Section 3675, Chapter 36, Title 38, U.S. Code (Eligibility Requirement 2).

The Whitworth Music Department is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. Certification programs in the School of Education are approved by the Professional Educators Standards Board of Washington. The College of Nursing of Washington State University, Eastern Washington University and Whitworth University is approved by the Washington State Board of Nursing and the Commission for Collegiate Nursing Education. The Whitworth Athletic Training Education Program is nationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education.

Whitworth is also a member of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the Council of Independent Colleges, the Association of American Colleges, the Association of Presbyterian Colleges and Universities, and the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities.

Program Review

In addition to the programs listed above that are accredited by external agencies, all of Whitworth's academic programs undergo an internal systematic review managed by the faculty-led Teaching, Learning, and Assessment Committee (TLAC). TLAC reviews the student learning outcomes and assessment results of each area on a three-year cycle. The purpose of these reviews is to support continuous improvement in all of our programs. In addition to reviewing its programs regularly, Whitworth also regularly assesses its general education programs for effectiveness.

The 4-1-4 Calendar

In 1969, Whitworth became one of the first educational institutions in the country to adopt the 4-1-4 academic calendar. This calendar is now favored by many liberal arts colleges and universities due to its flexibility and its potential for innovative short-run and off-campus courses.

Whitworth's fall semester begins in early September and ends with Christmas Break. During Jan Term, Whitworth's one-month winter term between semesters, students take one intensive course. Many students participate in internships, independent studies or study-abroad programs during this month. Whitworth has also developed a number of tuition-reciprocity agreements with other colleges and universities on the 4-1-4 calendar; these agreements allow students to experience another college or university during January without upsetting tuition or financial aid arrangements. The spring semester begins in early February and ends in mid-May. A 12-week period of summer instruction is also offered in varied formats, from weekend workshops to online and traditional lecture courses.

Academic Services

Academic Advising

Each student is assigned a faculty advisor. First-year and transfer students are assigned to a specifically designated advisor who will assist in matters of academic transition. Following the first semester, each student selects an advisor whose academic specialty corresponds with the student's area of academic interest.

Whitworth faculty members help students meet the following goals through academic advising:

- clarification of life and career goals
- creation of suitable educational plans, including selection of courses and other educational experiences
- interpretation of institutional requirements
- an increase in each student's awareness of educational resources available, including referral to and use of institutional and community support resources
- development of student's decision-making skills
- evaluation of student's progress toward educational goals
- reinforcement of student's self-direction

Students are required to meet with their advisors prior to registering for classes each term. Advisors are available to meet during the semester, as well, to discuss the goals listed above. Faculty advising is a much-valued program, and supporting students' development and academic progress is an institutional priority.

The advisor is the primary link between each student's academic program and other resources of the university. As such, s/he plays an important role in students' personal and academic development. Students are encouraged to discuss educational objectives as well as personal goals and concerns with their advisors. While Whitworth makes every effort to assist students through the academic advising system, students are expected to monitor their own academic progress, to know the graduation requirements pertinent to their programs, to be cognizant of their grade point averages, to make appropriate course selections, to be aware of their final exam schedules, and to add/drop courses as needed to meet their educational goals. Advice and information are also available to each student from both the academic affairs office and the registrar's office.

Library

Harriet Cheney Cowles Memorial Library, at the heart of the campus, is home to the Whitworth Division of Information Resources, which encompasses campus information systems and instructional technology and media services as well as library collections and services. The facility houses three general-purpose computer labs and features multiple computer stations throughout; wireless access is also provided for personal computers and mobile devices. The library is also home to Whitworth Composition Commons, the university's writing center.

Library collections comprise more than 300,000 books, periodical volumes, recordings, and audiovisual or digital media. Archives — extensive collections of original documents — record Whitworth's history and aspects of the history of Protestantism in the Pacific Northwest. Along with its sizable print collection, the library subscribes to a vast array of digital information resources and participates in national and regional consortia of lending libraries. Visit the library's homepage at www.whitworth.edu/library.

Instructional Resources

Whitworth Instructional Resources provides operation and support services for the campus computer labs, the Blackboard course-management system, classroom technology, and instructional technology, and media services. Three library computer labs, plus multiple computer stations, in addition to satellite computer labs located in several departments around campus, provide more than 300 computers for students. The Blackboard course-management system provides students with web-based access to course materials and resources. Classrooms are equipped with computers and projection equipment, providing faculty and students with access to networked files and the Internet. ITMS provides audiovisual resources for students and faculty, including access to video and audio viewing/listening stations, audio and video duplication services, and instructional technology support and production. The university provides the opportunity for all on-campus residents to connect their personal computers to the campus network from their rooms. Wireless access to the network is also available to students, faculty and staff across the campus. Off-campus students may also connect to the university network via VPN access.

Student Success Center

The Whitworth Student Success Center is located in the Lindaman Center, in Room 206. The staff comprises the director of student success, the assistant director of student success, a student success specialist, and roughly a dozen student success coaches. The coaches are current Whitworth students who are trained to support their peers in an academic and holistic coaching model. Success coaches provide individualized academic support through effective instruction in study skills and time management. Additionally, the student success staff and coaches connect students to resources on campus such as tutoring, the counseling center, financial aid, and more. To learn more, visit www.whitworth.edu/studentsuccess. Success coaching is available for all of the university's matriculated day students.

Composition Commons

Whitworth's Composition Commons offers assistance to any writer (student, staff, or faculty) on any writing-related project (class assignment, poem, short fiction, cover letter, etc.) at any stage of the writing process (brainstorming, development and organization, revising and editing, etc.). The WCC is also equipped to answer questions about design and multimodal composing. The WCC staff is available seven days a week: Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., with restricted hours Friday through Sunday. Writers may make appointments by going online to <https://whitworth.mywconline.com/> or by stopping in the library (Cowles 242) to set up a drop-in session. Email WCC Director Jessica Clements at jclements@whitworth.edu for more information.

Educational Principles

For more than 127 years, Whitworth's vision has been the pursuit of intellectual and spiritual development. Through decades of change, this fundamental purpose has remained firmly centered in the person of Jesus Christ. Our understanding of Christ is based on Scripture, the inspired and trustworthy record of God's self-disclosure and our final rule for faith and practice. As a university affiliated with Presbyterianism, Whitworth stands within the historic Reformed tradition. Believing that God is the ultimate source of all truth and is to be loved with "all our mind and heart," Whitworth embraces freedom of inquiry and the unhindered pursuit of truth. Therefore, we equip our diverse student body to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity, working for redemption and healing in a broken world.

Whitworth's educational principles are grouped broadly into three categories: the knowledge that students will gain, the skills they will need to work effectively in the world, and the faith and values that our community seeks to reflect. These principles are interdependent: Together they reflect an institution-wide commitment to providing a Whitworth education in which faith, learning and living are purposefully integrated.

Knowledge

Whitworth's educational mission is fulfilled through instruction and mentoring by Christian faculty and staff. Informed by their disciplines, which they attempt to view thoughtfully through the eyes of faith, faculty members encourage students to know themselves, the world, and the nature of their responsibility to God and to creation.

Specifically, Whitworth is committed to providing its students with the following:

- A solid grounding in the liberal arts and sciences

We promote a knowledge of the methods, assumptions and content areas of at least one discipline, and an understanding of interdisciplinary themes and connections. We are also committed to helping our students to appreciate intellectual and aesthetic traditions throughout the world and to understand challenges to those traditions.

- An understanding of Christian faith and its implications for liberal arts learning

As an educational community open to a wide variety of voices, Whitworth is shaped by a theological heritage that examines the implications of faith for what is known and strives to understand the limits as well as the importance of rational knowledge.

Skills

We are committed to preparing students to pursue fulfilling careers and to make an effective contribution to the common good; this is a challenging task in a rapidly changing world that is technologically, culturally and intellectually complex. We equip students for meaningful vocations by developing the following abilities:

- Intellectual skills

We are committed to developing the capacity for critical thinking, ethical decision-making, problem-solving and creative expression. We also aspire to build skills in computation, quantitative analysis and responsible use of technology.

- Relational skills

We encourage reflection, self-understanding, and the ability to relate well within and across cultures. We are also committed to developing in our students the capacity to communicate with empathy and effectiveness through the skills of listening, speaking and writing.

- Professional skills

We equip students with the technological literacy and other skills appropriate to their chosen areas of study and essential to their professional contributions to society. We encourage thoughtful career choices and lives of meaningful service.

Faith and Values

A Whitworth education is grounded in commitment to Christ and His teachings by faculty and staff members who embrace a variety of Christian traditions. We offer Christian perspectives on learning, and we support character development that relates faith to life's most central issues. These include the following:

- Response to God

We encourage serious consideration of commitment to Christ, the gospel and the church, and to living as an act of worship and gratitude to God.

- Relationship to others

We encourage the development of character virtues (including compassion, humility, honesty and courage) in intellectual pursuit, as in all of life. We want our students to think and to act ethically, and to embrace responsible citizenship and service.

- Stewardship of creation

We encourage exploration and appreciation of the complex nature of life, responsible care for the natural world, and commitment to human health and well-being.

Student Life and Services

Taking seriously the vision of George Whitworth to provide “an education of mind and heart,” the Whitworth Student Life Division participates in the educational mission of the university by viewing all aspects of life on campus as a laboratory for learning. We continue this tradition because we believe that this commitment to building character and cognitive skills reflects scriptural principles and community values; we also believe that this “whole-person” approach to learning is educationally effective.

The student life division offers numerous services designed to support learning in all areas of life. Health-center and counseling programs are available, as are career/life-advising services and support networks for students from around the world and for multicultural students who represent diverse U.S. ethnic backgrounds. In addition, a vibrant student-activities program is offered to enhance learning, to encourage fun, and to help each student build connections within the Whitworth community.

Campus Ministry

Whitworth enthusiastically embraces its call to equip students to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity. Campus ministry programs and activities provide opportunities for every student at Whitworth to draw closer to Jesus. It is the special responsibility of the Whitworth Campus Ministry Office to provide occasions for worship, personal growth, mission, service, and the building of Christian community. Each semester, a student-leadership team of small-group coordinators is trained and equipped to coordinate Bible-based small groups within each residence-hall community. Campus ministry also designs two weekly community worship services with student-led worship teams. The student-led Hosanna is a Tuesday-evening gathering for worship through music, Scripture, reflection, and prayer, and the student-led AWAKE meets on Wednesday evenings to connect in community, hear from speakers, and learn about walking with Jesus as a college student. Campus ministry staff members also provide pastoral counseling and encouragement through one-on-one relationships. These are some of the many opportunities offered to the Whitworth community to encourage a growing commitment to Christ. They are open to all students.

Campus Housing

Life in any of Whitworth University's residence halls will help you discover new ways to explore and apply what you have learned in the classroom. You will interact with students from other cultures, participate in a variety of activities and events, and make lasting friendships. All students are required to live on campus if it has been less than two years since their high school graduation. Requests for exemptions must be processed using the Residency Requirement Waiver Form, available at www.whitworth.edu/housingrequirement.

Educational Support Program

<http://www.whitworth.edu/ess>

Whitworth University is committed to delivering a mission-driven educational program that cultivates in students the capacity to engage effectively across the many dimensions of diversity. Whitworth is committed to the fair and equal treatment of all students in its educational programs and activities. The university does not discriminate against students based on race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age or disability; it complies with all applicable federal and state non-discrimination laws in its instructional programs.

If you have a documented condition that affects your learning or performance in the campus environment, contact the Whitworth Educational Support Office (Katie McCray, ext. 3380; kmccray@whitworth.edu) to identify appropriate accommodations.

Students who have concerns about how they have been treated should contact Associate Provost Brooke Kiener, McEachran Hall, ext. 4657, bkiener@whitworth.edu.

Whitworth is committed to providing equal opportunities to all academically qualified students. Resources are available to assist with learning and physical disabilities. Our policy is to ensure all students reasonable accommodation in the admissions process and in their programs of study and activities.

Academic requirements may be modified as necessary to ensure that Whitworth does not discriminate against students with disabilities, as long as accreditation of classes will not be at risk. These modifications will not affect the substance of the educational programs; nor will they compromise educational standards. Also, they will not intrude upon legitimate academic freedom. Modifications may include changes in the amount of time permitted for the completion of degree requirements, substitution of specific courses, and other adaptations as needed.

Appropriate documentation of all disabilities is required for services to be rendered. It is the responsibility of each student to request accommodation or auxiliary aids at least eight weeks before classes, programs or activities begin.

Reasonable accommodations and auxiliary educational services that are not precluded by undue hardship to the institution may be requested through the Whitworth Educational Support Office.

The use of tape recorders, Brailers, guide dogs or other adaptive devices in the classrooms or campus buildings is permitted. Auxiliary services may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- referral to appropriate on- or off-campus resources, services or agencies
- note-taking services
- academic and tutorial services
- testing accommodations
- arrangements for special auxiliary aids, including taped texts, large-print materials and/or interpreters
- disability parking

Associated Students of Whitworth University

Associated Students of Whitworth University is the university's student governance and programming component. All full-time undergraduate students are members of ASWU. Elected leaders represent students from each living area and from off campus by providing information to and obtaining information from students about all university policies and about curricular and extracurricular programming. ASWU student leaders provide a vital communication link between students and Whitworth's faculty, staff and administration.

Athletics

Whitworth Athletics is affiliated with the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) at the Division III level, and is a member of the Northwest Conference (NWC). Whitworth offers 20 varsity sports. Women's sports include volleyball, tennis, soccer, softball, cross-country, indoor/outdoor track & field, basketball, swimming and golf. Men can participate in football, tennis, soccer, baseball, cross-country, indoor/outdoor track & field, basketball, swimming and golf. Whitworth also offers a strong intramurals program, which is available to the entire student body.

A commitment to excellence is the hallmark of Whitworth Athletics. In the last 20 years, more than 100 Whitworth student-athletes have received All America recognition and more than 80 Whitworth student-athletes have been named Academic All-Americans.

Recent Pirate teams have achieved the highest average GPA in NCAA Division III for their respective sports on numerous occasions, and, since 2005, more than 80 teams have captured Northwest Conference championships. During that same period, the Pirates have dominated the Northwest Conference, winning 10 McIlroy-Lewis All-Sport Trophies. This honor, awarded to the top school in the NWC based on the final standings in each of the conference's 20 sports, is a strong indicator of Whitworth's exceptional athletics program. In 2016-17, Whitworth won NWC championships in 10 sports.

Whitworth's student-athletes are encouraged to participate fully in the academic, spiritual and social life of the campus, and Whitworth's coaches are chosen for their effectiveness as teachers and mentors as well as for their knowledge and ability in athletics. We at Whitworth take great pride in the accomplishments of our student-athletes, and we strive to equip them to excel in sports, in academics, and in life.

Career Services/Student Employment

The Whitworth Career Services Office assists students in the identification of their unique talents and gifts, in the exploration of vocational interests, and in their preparation for entry into the workforce. The career services staff offers students access to computerized interest inventories, major-choice workshops, career-related seminars, internships, employment/job fairs and individualized career counseling. Extensive Internet and library resources are available for research in majors, career aptitude, employers, job-search strategies and graduate/professional schools. The student-employment office assists Whitworth students in securing part-time employment that will help them meet their expenses. Student job postings are available in the student employment office or at www.whitworth.edu/careerservices. Internship postings are also listed on this site.

Behavior Policies

Sexual Misconduct & Title IX

Whitworth University has a clearly defined policy, which applies to all campus constituencies, prohibiting all forms of sexual harassment. Because Whitworth University is committed to providing an environment that is free from any form of harassment and discrimination, every member of the university community must recognize that harassment and discrimination of any type compromises the integrity of the university's mission.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX) (34.C.F.R. Part 103) prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in educational programs operated by institutions that receive federal financial assistance. Programs and activities that may be included are admissions, recruitment, financial aid, academic programs, athletics, housing, and employment.

For the purposes of this policy, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic advancement; (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions or academic decisions affecting such individuals; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creates a demoralizing, intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or academic environment.

Sexual harassment of students is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by Title IX and includes acts of sexual violence. Both male and female students are protected from sexual harassment and/or violence in all educational programs and activities operated by Whitworth University.

Students who believe that they have been discriminated against based on their sex or who have been subjected to sexual harassment and/or assault should consult one of the university's Title IX coordinators.

The Title IX coordinators are responsible for coordinating the university's compliance with and responsibilities under Title IX. Major duties include, but are not limited to, the following:

- being available to meet with students who believe sexual harassment or assault has occurred
- ensuring that complaints are handled in accordance with established practices and standards
- personal investigation of the incident or oversight of that investigation

Students who believe that they have been subjected to sexual harassment, including sexual assault, sexual violence or other sexual misconduct, and those who have experienced any other form of gender discrimination prohibited by Title IX should freely and without fear of retaliation report such misconduct or file a complaint under Title IX with one of the following Whitworth administrators:

Classroom Behavior

Students and faculty are expected to demonstrate civility, understanding and mutual respect. The faculty handbook states that faculty should "demonstrate respect for students as individuals and adhere to their proper role as intellectual guides and counselors." By the same token, students should demonstrate respect for faculty and student peers in all academic settings and should contribute positively to the learning environment.

Disruptive classroom behavior will not be tolerated. Disruptive behavior may include, but is not limited to, threatening or abusive language or behavior, making unreasonable demands on faculty for time and attention, erratic and/or irrational behavior, continually speaking without being recognized, other verbal or behavioral expressions that interfere with the classroom environment, bringing unregistered persons to class without the permission of the instructor, and persistent disruptions including inappropriate computer use, ringing of electronic devices, etc. If a student exhibits disruptive classroom behavior, the faculty member should confront the student, clearly identify the disruptive behavior, and require that the behavior cease. A faculty member may at any time remove a student from the classroom for disruptive behavior. A faculty member, in consultation with the department chair or program director, may develop a classroom behavioral contract outlining expectations and consequences for a student who does not meet expectations, or may refer a disruptive student to the associate provost for instruction.

The associate provost will meet with any student who is referred, or who continues to disrupt the learning environment. Students may be placed on behavioral probation or suspension based on the nature of the disruption. Behavioral suspension may include suspension from one or more classes for the duration of the current term or for a longer period.

Behavioral Probation and Suspension

Students may be placed on behavioral probation on the basis of their cumulative record of behavioral policy violations, violations of civil law, or other behavior that has the potential to place any member of the Whitworth community (including the offender) in jeopardy.

Behavioral probation consists of a contract between a student and the university specifying behavioral criteria for continued enrollment. Any violation of these criteria on the part of the student may result in behavioral suspension. The decision to place a student on behavioral probation is made by the dean of students or her/his designee.

Behavioral suspension includes suspension from classes as well as from all other Whitworth facilities and services, and it may be imposed at any time a student's behavior warrants such action.

The decision to suspend a student on behavioral grounds is made by the dean of students or her/his designee. If students feel that there are mitigating circumstances, they have until 5 p.m. of the business day following the notice of the suspension decision to file a written request for appeal with the Educational Review Board, through the board chair.

Implementation of these policies, including the appeal process, is regulated by the Student Bill of Rights, Section V, as printed in the student handbook. Evening-degree-program students should refer to the Whitworth Continuing Studies Student Handbook.

Rules and Regulations

Whitworth expects each student to follow university rules and regulations as stated in the catalog. In instances where no appeal procedure is spelled out and students believe that a special set of circumstances makes appeal reasonable, they may appeal to the provost and vice president for academic affairs or the vice president for student life, depending upon the situation. The appropriate vice president or their designee will either render a decision on the appeal or refer the student to the proper office for a decision.

Admissions

Our primary goal in the admissions process is to identify students who demonstrate the academic promise and personal traits to succeed at Whitworth University. A college preparatory curriculum is recommended for entrance, though no specific classes are required. The relative strength of each student's academic performance is strongly considered.

Whitworth admits students without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status or disability.

Applying for Admission

Freshman Application Process

Application

You may apply online at www.whitworth.edu/apply or through the Common Application at www.commonapp.org. No fee is required.

Academic Recommendation Form

Please print this form from our website (www.whitworth.edu/acadrecform), and give it to a teacher or to your high school counselor to complete and submit. Your teacher or counselor may choose to submit a letter on school letterhead in lieu of (or in addition to) the recommendation form. Homeschooled applicants are required to submit one letter of recommendation from someone other than a parent or guardian who can address the applicant's academic ability.

Transcript

We also require an official high school transcript that shows courses taken, grades earned and your current cumulative grade point average.

Entrance Exams

Whitworth considers each applicant's SAT or ACT superscore (composite of the highest sub-score of each section of the test — potentially from multiple test dates). There is no preference for one test over the other. Applicants with a cumulative weighted high school GPA of 3.0 or higher (from an accredited high school or homeschool program) may choose to exclude their SAT or ACT scores from consideration in the admissions process. Applicants who choose this option on their application will be contacted by the admissions office to schedule a phone interview. SAT/ACT test scores are considered in awarding Whitworth's Academic Scholarships (<http://www.whitworth.edu/Administration/FinancialAid/ScholarshipOpportunities/FreshmanScholarships.htm>), though several of these scholarships can be earned based on high school GPA alone.

Transfer Application Process

Students who have completed a full term of coursework at an accredited college or university after graduating from high school should apply with the Whitworth Transfer Application (www.whitworth.edu/apply) or Common Application (www.commonapp.org). Transfer applicants should submit official transcripts from each college attended. In addition, one letter of recommendation or the transfer recommendation form (www.whitworth.edu/transferrecform) is required. In some situations, we may contact applicants for transfer admission and request a high school transcript and/or standardized test scores. No application fee is required.

International Student Application Process

Qualified students who are not citizens or permanent residents of the United States are encouraged to apply for admission. International students should complete either the International Student Application (www.whitworth.edu/apply) or the Common Application (www.commonapp.org). No application fee is required. Students should include with their application a letter of recommendation, certified English translations of all transcripts, and the official results from at least one of the following tests: ACT, SAT, IB Test, A Levels, or TOEFL. Test results must be sent directly to Whitworth by the testing agency. The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is required for applicants whose first language is not English. An Internet-based TOEFL score of at least 79 iBT is required; 88 iBT is preferred. Upon admission to Whitworth, international students are required to provide an official guarantee of funds (in the form of an official letter of sponsorship and an official bank statement showing funds available). For further information, please visit www.whitworth.edu/admissions/international or contact the Whitworth Office of International Admissions.

Adult Degree Programs/Continuing Studies

See Adult Degree Programs. (p. 334)

Evaluation and Acceptance

Each application is carefully reviewed before the admissions committee grants a prospective student admission to the university. Grade point average, course rigor, test scores (if provided), teacher/counselor recommendations, quality of writing sample, extracurricular participation, and leadership are all considered in the decision process.

Freshman Early Action Option

If, after reviewing the possible options, you decide that Whitworth University is one of your top choices, you may apply for early action admission (non-binding). There are two early action deadline dates. Early Action I is Nov. 15 and Early Action II is Jan. 15. Students who submit all documents prior to the either one of the early action deadlines will be notified of Whitworth's admissions decision within 10-14 business days.

Enrollment Deposit

To accept Whitworth's offer of admission, please submit your $350 enrollment deposit at www.whitworth.edu/enrollmentdeposit. This deposit will hold your place in the new class and is refundable until May 1 for freshmen and until Aug. 1 for transfer students.

Preferred Regular Application Dates

- March 1 (freshmen and international applicants)
- July 1 (transfers)

All admitted students are required to submit a final high school transcript to the admissions office upon completion of high school. Official transcripts are also required for coursework completed at any college or university.

Returning Whitworth Students

Students applying to return to Whitworth after an absence may do so online at www.whitworth.edu/ apply. Use the transfer application and type "Returning Student" in each essay prompt. Submit to the admissions office official college transcripts from each college attended during your absence from Whitworth. Students with an academic restriction (probation or suspension) should contact the Whitworth Academic Affairs Office (509.777.3203), and students with financial holds on their accounts should get in touch with Whitworth Student Accounts (509.777.3209).

Alternative Credit

A maximum of 32 alternative semester credits (48 quarter credits) may be counted toward graduation. Alternative credit includes Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB) degree courses, College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credit, and DANTES credit, based on completion of advanced work, portfolios, and credit for military service and schools. Alternative course credit is calculated as part of the transfer-credit limit of 94. Contact the registrar's office for further information.

Running Start Policy

Dual-enrollment credits are college credits that have been earned prior to graduation from high school, on the campus of either a college or a high school (in partnership with a sponsoring college or university). Running Start is an example of a dual-enrollment program, though similar programs have different names in many states. High school students with dual-enrollment credits are considered first-time freshmen as long as they attempt no university-level coursework after high school graduation. Students with dual-enrollment credits must meet freshman application deadlines and Whitworth's freshman admissions requirements, and qualified students will be eligible to receive one of Whitworth's freshman academic scholarships (<http://www.whitworth.edu/Administration/FinancialAid/ScholarshipOpportunities/FreshmanScholarships.htm>). Dual-enrollment and Running Start credits are accepted as transfer credits based on receipt of official academic transcripts from the college attended or the college sponsoring the course. Courses in which a student has received a grade lower than "C," vocational/technical courses, non-college-level courses, and incomplete courses are not transferable. A maximum of 64 semester credits (96 quarter credits) may be transferred from dual-enrollment credits.

Deferred Admission

Students may apply for admission during any academic year, and, if admitted, may defer their admission and attendance at Whitworth for two semesters. If students delay longer than the two semesters, they must submit a new application for admission. Deferment is granted on a case-by-case basis. If you attend another institution and earn college credit during your deferment period, you must reapply to Whitworth with the Whitworth Transfer Student Application or the Common Application.

Admission of Part-Time Students

Students enrolled for fewer than 12 semester credits (undergraduate) or six semester credits (graduate) are considered part time. The part-time-student classification can be on a credit or audit basis. Students seeking a graduate degree or planning to complete an undergraduate degree on a part-time basis (usually through courses taken in the evening) should contact the Whitworth Graduate and Continuing Studies Office for information on degree options and admission procedures. Part-time undergraduate students not seeking a degree from Whitworth may not be required to complete the formal admission process; please contact the registrar's office to be directed to the appropriate department.

Campus Visits

There's no better way to discover whether Whitworth is the right place for you than to experience campus for yourself. Visitors have the opportunity to tour the campus, sit in on classes, attend an admissions/financial aid presentation, spend a night in a residence hall, and connect with faculty, students and coaches. Whitworth offers a variety of one-day and overnight visit options; learn more about visiting campus and register for your visit at www.whitworth.edu/visit.

Financial Aid

Whitworth is committed to assist students and their families in obtaining the necessary resources for each student to attend the university. Many students and families qualify for financial assistance through our programs. More than 90 percent of our full-time undergraduate students receive financial assistance. Awards often include grants and/or scholarships, as well as student loans and work-study. Funding is provided by Whitworth University, the federal government, the state of Washington and private donors.

To be considered for financial aid at Whitworth, a student must take the following steps:

1. Apply for admission. A financial aid award will be prepared only after a student has been admitted to the university.
2. Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to the federal processor. The form is available online at the FAFSA website (<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>). Students should designate on the FAFSA that they want their application information sent to Whitworth (Code No. 003804).
3. Receive valid processed FAFSA results. Once these results are received and students have been admitted, the Whitworth Financial Aid Office will review the application and will send a financial aid award notifying students of the types and amounts of aid they will be eligible to receive. The award may be estimated if additional information is needed to determine a student's eligibility. Therefore, estimated awards are subject to change.
4. Respond promptly to requests for additional information required to complete the financial aid process. Requests may include tax transcripts of the document (i.e. 1040, 1040A, 1040EZ) filed with the IRS.
5. Notify the Whitworth Financial Aid Office of any scholarships received by using our online scholarship-reporting form.
6. Maintain satisfactory academic progress.
7. Check his or her Whitworth email account, Pirate Port and the financial aid office website regularly for important communications.
8. Review important consumer information related to Whitworth at www.whitworth.edu/consumerinformation.

Maintaining Satisfactory Progress for Financial Aid

The normal courseload for full-time undergraduate students is 12 to 17 semester credits in the fall and spring semesters and three to five semester credits in Jan Term. Registration for less than a full-time load will prevent a student from receiving certain forms of Whitworth-sponsored financial aid. Some federal and state-sponsored aid may be available to students who are enrolled less than half time.

A student must average 31.5 credits per academic year in order to graduate in four years. The total number of semester credits required for graduation is 126, with the exception of the management and accounting program, which requires 150 credits. Students must finish 66.67 percent of their cumulative attempted credits, and they must maintain a cumulative grade-point average of 2.0. Students are eligible to receive financial aid until they have completed the requirements for their degree or until they have attempted a maximum of 150 percent of the minimum number of credits required for the degree or certificate, whichever is less.

More information on satisfactory academic progress and financial aid is available from the Whitworth Financial Aid Office or at www.whitworth.edu/financialaid. If you would like a brochure, or if you have questions about financial aid, please call 509.777.3215.

Financial Information

Costs and Fees

Whitworth University is an independent institution, and, like most such institutions, it receives minimal support from public funds. Each student is charged tuition and fees that cover approximately three-fourths of what it costs the university to provide its services. The balance of these costs is met by income from the endowment and by gifts from trustees, alumni and other friends of the university. All details for payment of current charges must be finalized before students enroll for classes. Payment in full is due at the beginning of each semester. Students and their parents may also choose to use the monthly payment option that spreads payments over a four-month period each semester (September-December for fall, February-May for spring). An annual plan with a nine-month, 10-month or 12-month payment option is also available to cover charges for the entire school year (June-May).

Costs for the 2017-18 academic year

Tuition	$41,086
Room and Board	$11,496
Associated Student Body Fee	$240
Campus Facility & Technology Fee	$540
Student Mandatory Accident Insurance	$120
Health & Wellness Fee	$200
Total	$53,682

A full-time academic courseload is 12 to 17 semester credits in the fall and spring semesters and three to five semester credits in Jan Term.

Room-and-board charges do not cover regular university vacation periods. In addition, only students registered for on-campus classes may utilize room and board during Jan Term. The above rate provides for a double room and 21 meals per week. Several other meals-per-term plans are available. Students in private rooms pay approximately 36 percent additional room rent.

The university no longer offers health insurance to our domestic full-time day students. However, we feel it is important to continue to operate our student health center. Services at the center include no-fee consultation visits and basic labs and x-rays. All international students, regardless of academic program, are required to participate in the university's health-insurance plan. All international students, undergraduate and graduate, must have insurance to meet visa requirements.

Additional expenses for books, supplies, personal items and transportation will vary with each student and are a necessary consideration when planning total costs. Since financial aid disbursements will arrive after the term has begun, they should not be included in a student's plan for initial expenses.

Since fees are published several months in advance of the academic year, the Whitworth University Board of Trustees reserves the right to change this fee structure as necessary from year to year.

Miscellaneous Costs (2017-18)

Online Transcript Fee

- Official: $5
 - Additional $3 processing fee (per recipient)
 - There is an optional $5 rush fee (per recipient) if a request is submitted before 11 a.m. for same-day processing.

Contact the registrar's office for expedited-shipping charges. Transcripts and diplomas are released only when financial accounts are current and all holds on a student's record have been removed.

Miscellaneous Fees

A more detailed list of miscellaneous fees is available from the Whitworth Student Accounting Services Office. All are subject to change without notice.

Fees for off-campus and international-study programs vary according to the program. For additional information, check with the Whitworth Off-Campus Programs Office.

Please note: Class fees are subject to change without notice.

Tuition and Fees Refund Policy

All refunds must be claimed through proper application to the Whitworth Student Accounting Services Office. Students must secure class-drop and withdrawal forms from the registrar's office. The refund/withdrawal date will be established by the form's receipt date, recorded by the registrar's office.

The published refund schedule is available in the student accounting services office. Withdrawal and refund schedules for graduate and nontraditional undergraduate degree programs are available in the student accounting services office.

A student who officially drops or withdraws from classes during the course of the term is eligible for an adjustment of charges as follows:

Withdrawal/Drop	Refund	Applicable to
First & Second week	100 percent	Tuition and fees, room and board

Third week	75 percent	Tuition, no fees, room and board
Fourth week	50 percent	Tuition, no fees, room and board
Fifth week	25 percent	Tuition, no fees, room and board
Sixth week	0 percent

Withdrawal from Whitworth University

In order to avoid charges to his or her account, a student must notify the registrar's office regarding withdrawal or cancellation of enrollment from Whitworth University before the beginning of the term. All withdrawals and cancellations made after the beginning of the term must follow the withdrawal process in the registrar's office. Refund calculations will be made as outlined above.

Academic Policies

Academic Honesty

Just as the faculty, staff and administration at Whitworth strive to be forthright, direct and honest and to value integrity in all their dealings, the university expects all students to function in like manner. Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic honesty and to refrain from any dishonest or unethical action. In all academic exercises, examinations, papers and reports, students are expected to submit their own work. The use of the words or ideas of others is always to be indicated through an acceptable form of citation. This policy will be specified in the syllabus for each course.

Definition of plagiarism: Plagiarism occurs whenever students attempt to pass off as their own work, either verbally or in writing, the words and ideas of others. Plagiarism most often occurs in projects that require independent preparation (outside of class); although it can occur in essay examinations, this is not generally the case. Plagiarism can be either inadvertent (a failure to understand the responsibility for acknowledgment or the means by which acknowledgment should be made) or willful (with a conscious intent to deceive).

Definition of cheating and dry-labbing: Cheating is any academic activity in which students submit for grade or credit work that is not their own and/or work that has not been done within the structure and context established by the assignment. Students may plagiarize in a variety of ways: copying another student's homework, copying answers from another student's test, bringing unauthorized notes or materials to an exam, copying another student's lab notes, or making up fictitious lab results (also known as "dry-labbing"). All cheating is regarded as willful deception.

Consequences of violations of the policy on academic honesty:

- The faculty member will confront the student(s) in cases of suspected violations of the policy on academic honesty and will keep a written record of the incident.
- The faculty member will assess the gravity of the violation and determine the consequences, which may range from a failing grade on a specific assignment to a failing grade in the course.
- The faculty member will submit a written report of policy violations, with their consequences, to the associate provost in the academic affairs office.
- The student has a right to appeal any faculty member's decision by submitting a written appeal to the associate provost.
- The associate provost may then review the appeal in consultation with the Academic Policies & Appeals Committee, if such review is deemed necessary. All decisions of the associate provost and the Academic Policies & Appeals Committee will be final.
- The student will receive a warning after the first violation.
- If a student violates the academic honesty policy a second time, depending on the nature of the violations, s/he may be suspended for the remainder of the current term or for a longer period.

Academic Grievances

Grade Challenges

Grade challenges must be initiated by the student in writing within 30 days after a grade is posted. Challenges on grades go to the professor first, but in cases where resolution is not easily achieved, the procedures are as follows:

- The student must first seek resolution of the conflict in consultation with the professor.
- If a satisfactory resolution is not possible in the first phase, the student may contact the department chair
- If a satisfactory resolution is not possible in the first and second phases, the student may appeal for further adjudication by submitting a written appeal to the appropriate area dean, or her/his designee, who will issue a final decision.

Academic Grievances

A student wishing to file a grievance regarding their experience in the classroom should begin with a conversation with his/her professor or within the department involved. In cases where resolution is not easily achieved, the procedures are as follows:

- The student must first seek resolution of the conflict in consultation with the professor.
- If a satisfactory resolution is not possible in the first phase, the student may appeal for further adjudication by submitting a written appeal to the associate provost for instruction. This appeal will be the final step in the grievance process. The associate provost's decision is final.

Academic Warning, Probation and Suspension

Academic Warning

A student receives an academic warning when, during any fall or spring semester, his or her semester GPA falls below 2.0 while the cumulative grade-point average is 2.0 or above. The academic record of a student who receives an academic warning for two or more consecutive semesters will be reviewed by the Whitworth Educational Review Board, and the student may be placed on probation. Extracurricular activities are not limited by an academic warning.

Academic Probation

Students are placed on academic probation at the end of any semester or term in which their cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0 and/or they have received two consecutive warnings. Students remain on probation until their cumulative GPA reaches the minimum 2.0 standard. Since probation removes a person from good academic standing, students on probation will be limited in their opportunities to participate in off-campus study programs and extracurricular activities (varsity sports, student government, student publications, radio broadcasting, and cheer squad, for example).

Academic Suspension

Students may face academic suspension at the end of any semester or term in which their semester GPA falls below 1.0, or if, after being placed on probation, they fail to earn at least a 2.0 GPA for the succeeding semester or term. Academic suspension will be noted on the transcript.

Appeal Process

If there are mitigating reasons for unsatisfactory progress that results in suspension, students may appeal in writing to the Educational Review Board through the associate provost in the academic affairs office. Reinstatement after any semester or sequence on suspension is dependent upon the student's written application to the Educational Review Board through the associate provost. If the student is reinstated, a notation of reinstatement will be noted on the transcript. Students who are receiving financial aid should refer to satisfactory academic progress policies and appeal processes.

Academic Petitions

The Whitworth registrar has the delegated authority to see that students adhere to the university's academic policies and requirements. The petition process provides students and faculty with the possibility of a response outside the normal bounds of policy when extenuating circumstances are judged to warrant such a response. Extenuating circumstances include, but are not limited to, illness, injury, death in the family, problems with immigration, and matters in which established policies are unclear or in conflict. Holds that are unresolved by the deadline do not constitute an extenuating circumstance and are not grounds for petition.

Petition Process:

1. Petitions should be generated by an individual current or potential student on the standard Petition for Exception form. They must be signed by the student's advisor and department/program chair. A petition must not only voice the request, but must also substantiate its validity.
2. Submit the petition to the registrar's office, which will rule on the petition; in the case of a denial, written reasons will be supplied to the petitioner.
3. If the petition is denied, and if extenuating circumstances exist, the student may ask the registrar to have the denial reviewed by the Appeals and Policy Committee.

All decisions of the Appeals and Policy Committee are final and binding.

Declaring or Changing Academic Program

Declaration deadline policies apply as follows:

- Students with AA/AS degrees: by second semester
- Students with transfer credit: by second semester or by Spring Term of their sophomore year

- Freshmen: by Spring Term of their sophomore year

Note: Failure to declare a major by the appropriate deadline will result in a registration hold being placed on the student's record.

Students may elect to change their major, area of concentration, or second field, but they are advised to evaluate possible increases in the length of time required to graduate. Any changes of program or academic advisor must be requested in writing, signed by the advisor, and submitted to the registrar's office.

FERPA

Directory Information

At its discretion, the university may provide directory information in accordance with the provisions of FERPA to include a student's name, address, telephone number, email address, date and place of birth, major field of study, dates of attendance, class standing, full- or part-time status, degrees and awards received, photos, most recent previous educational agency or institution attended, denominational affiliation, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of varsity athletics teams. Students may withhold directory information by notifying the registrar's office in writing within two weeks after the first day of class for each semester. This request for non-disclosure will be honored until it is revoked. A request to withhold directory information will prevent the student's name and degree from being published on the Provost's Honor Roll. If non-directory information is required during an emergency, and if the university deems that information necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or of other individuals, Whitworth may release that information.

Students may allow the release of academic and/or financial information to designated individuals by completing the online Records Access Authorization form; this form is available on WhitNet in the Communication section.

Changes to Directory Information

Name-change policy: Current or former students of Whitworth University may change any component of their name with proper documentation and the submission of a completed name-change request form. Types of changes may include first, middle, and last-name replacements; converting an initial to the actual name; replacing a nickname; returning to a birth name, or any other documented name-change variation. Acceptable documentation will include a copy of a legal document, such as a marriage certificate, birth certificate, divorce decree or court order. In addition, one supporting piece of identification reflecting the change must be presented. Forms of identification include a driver's license, Social Security card, or other identifying documentation deemed acceptable by the registrar. After the proper identification and a completed request form are received by the registrar's office (300 W. Hawthorne Road, Spokane, WA 99251), the change will be reflected on the student's university records.

Address change: Please notify the registrar's office of any address changes by supplying your name, your student I.D. number, your old address, your new address and your phone number to the registrar's office at the address above.

Equal Opportunity Policy

It is the policy of Whitworth University to provide equal educational opportunity without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status or disability as defined by law, in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments Act of 1972, Sections 799A and 845 of the Public Health Services Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1991. In addition, Whitworth University is committed to the fair and equal treatment of all people regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability in its programs and activities. As a religious educational institution affiliated with the Presbyterian church, Whitworth University reserves the right to hire employees who share a commitment to the Christian faith.

Confidentiality

Each academic year the university informs students of their rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This act is designed to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their academic records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal or formal hearings.

Students have the right to file complaints with the FERPA office concerning any alleged failure by Whitworth University to comply with this act. The complete institutional policy statement related to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 is available through the registrar's office.

Grading

Grade Reports

Midterm Grades

On the date designated as midterm in the academic calendar, student grades of C- or lower are reported to the registrar's office. Students and their advisors are then notified of the grade so that there is opportunity for the students to improve their performance before the end of the semester.

Final Grades

Final grades are reported to the registrar's office on the designated date specified in the academic calendar. Final grades may be viewed on WhitNet or Self-Service. The date the grades can be viewed on WhitNet or Self-Service is dependent on the student's completion of course evaluations.

Incomplete Grades

Incomplete ("I") grades are granted to students who, because of special circumstances, merit an extension of time to complete a course. For cases in which an incomplete grade is appropriate, the work must be completed no later than six weeks into the next long semester. If, at the end of that time, no grade is submitted, a default grade of "F" will be recorded. To request an extension for an "I" grade, the faculty member is required to fill out a grade-change form noting the grade's change from "I" to "IE" (incomplete extended). All signatures are still required for requesting an extension. "I" grades may also be assigned in courses which, by design, extend beyond the end of the term.

After one year, an incomplete grade cannot be extended without permission from the associate provost.

Note to faculty: Accurate evaluation of students and maintenance of records are important professional duties of faculty members. Computational errors and failure to take into account a significant amount of student work may be reasons for a student's request for a change of grade. The completion or revision of additional work after the end of a term is not an acceptable basis for a grade change.

Grades and Quality Points

A	Superior: 4 points
A-	3.7 points
B+	3.3 points
B	Good: 3 points
B-	2.7 points
C+	2.3 points
C	Fair: 2 points
C-	1.7 points
D+	1.3 points
D	Poor: 1 point
D-	0.7 points
F	Failure: 0 points
W	Official Withdrawal; does not affect GPA
WA	Administrative Withdrawal; does not affect GPA
WF	Withdrawal While Failing (or past the acceptable time limit for a "W" grade), computed as an "F" in the GPA
WW	Withdrawal Without Permission (stopped attending or never attended the course), computed as an "F" in the GPA
AU	Audit; does not affect GPA
I	Incomplete; to be made up by six weeks into the next fall or spring semester; after the deadline, the grade computes as an "F"; see incomplete grades policy above for more information

IE	Incomplete; time to finish work is extended until six weeks into the next fall or spring semester; after the deadline, the grade computes as an "F"; see incomplete grades policy above for more information
S	Satisfactory; given upon completion of a Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory course; does not affect GPA; commonly used for grading internships, study abroad programs and specific non-graded courses
NS	Not Satisfactory; given for unsatisfactory work in a Satisfactory/Non Satisfactory course; does not affect GPA
P/NC	For class taken with P/NC option, Pass for a grade of "C" or higher; No Credit is given for grades of "C-," "D+," "D," "D-," or "F"; grade of P/NC does not affect GPA and is irreversible

Calculation of the Grade Point Average

Current and cumulative grade point averages are calculated on the basis of grades earned at Whitworth only. Credits for courses accepted in transfer from other institutions count toward the total required for graduation, but the grades for those courses do not affect the Whitworth GPA. The grade point average is computed by dividing the quality points total by the total number of graded (A-F) credits attempted during any given grading period. Quality points for a course are determined by multiplying the numerical equivalent of the letter grade by the credit attempted. Pass/No Credit and Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory grades are not used in computing the GPA.

Academic Forgiveness

A student who has been withdrawn from Whitworth for two years can, upon return, petition to have one semester of academic grades and credits forgiven. All grades remain on the transcript, but grade points and credits are removed so that they are no longer calculated in the GPA. A notation indicating academic forgiveness is then indicated on the student transcript.

Honors

Provost's Honor Roll

At the end of each fall and spring semester, full-time undergraduate students with a 3.75 GPA for the semester who carry a courseload of 12 semester credits for which A-F grades are given will be listed on the Provost's Honor Roll for that semester once grades have been processed.

President's Cup Award

President's Cup awards are given at commencement to students who, at six weeks into the spring term prior to completing their degree, have earned a 4.0 GPA and completed 126 credits in residence at Whitworth. Residence credits for this award can include Whitworth courses, AP, IB, and FS-392 study-abroad courses.

Latin Honors

cum laude (with honors)	3.50 GPA
magna cum laude (with high honors)	3.75 GPA
summa cum laude (with highest honors)	3.90 GPA

Note: Honors are calculated and awarded when degrees are posted.

George Whitworth Honors

For George Whitworth Honors Program requirements, see the George Whitworth Honors Page (p. 190).

Student Information

Graduate Students

Graduate students are master's candidates. Admission to master's programs is by application only.

Matriculated Students

Matriculated students are those who have met the requirements for admission and have registered for courses in their program of choice.

Non-Matriculated Students

Students who do not wish to seek a degree, and who want to attend only specific courses, are classified as non-matriculated students. These students are not required to submit the credentials required for admission as a matriculated student.

Veterans

Whitworth is approved for veteran training as an institution of higher education by the Washington Student Achievement Council. Selected programs of study at Whitworth University are approved by the Workforce Training and Education Coordinating Board's State Approving Agency (WTECB/SAA) for enrollment of those who are eligible to receive benefits under Title 38 and Title 10, USC. Whitworth is committed to upholding and complying with the intent of Veterans Administration regulations. The university does not and will not provide any commission, bonus, or other incentive payment based directly or indirectly on success in securing enrollment or financial aid to any persons or entities engaged in any student recruiting or admissions activities or in making decisions regarding the award of student financial assistance. Benefit recipients must meet satisfactory-progress standards in order to continue receiving benefits for study. VA benefit recipients are held to the same academic standards as are other Whitworth students. Records that permit monitoring of progress are kept in the registrar's office. Termination of benefits will be initiated upon receipt of a withdrawal form. It is the responsibility of the benefit recipient to submit a withdrawal form to the registrar and to notify the veterans coordinator immediately upon ceasing to attend any course. Contact Anna McNulty, assistant registrar and Veterans Administration certifying official, at amcnulty@whitworth.edu or 509.777.3798 for additional information.

Normal Full-Time Courseload

Fall and spring semesters: The normal load for full-time undergraduate students is 12 to 17 semester credits, including up to five semester credits in Jan Term. Permission to enroll in more than 17 credits must be approved in writing by the advisor for any student whose cumulative grade point average is lower than 3.0, and by the advisor and/or registrar for any student who requests enrollment in more than 19 credits.

Summer Term: The maximum allowable load is three semester credits in a three-week session and six semester credits in a six-week session.

A student must average 31.5 semester credits per year to graduate in four years. In order to remain under the catalog requirements in effect at the time of their initial enrollment, students must complete a degree within six years from the time of matriculation. Because graduate programs vary in format, students should check with their respective graduate schools to determine the normal courseload.

If students enroll in more than 17 credits, they may incur additional tuition charges. Students should check with the student accounts office to see if overload tuition charges are waived for a particular course. Jan Term is considered part of the spring semester and is free to students who were enrolled full time as matriculated day students in the fall semester or who are enrolled full time as matriculated day students for the spring semester.

Please note: Class fees are subject to change without notice.

Normal Progress and Financial Aid

A student is eligible to receive aid while s/he is working toward his or her degree until s/he reaches 150 percent of the number of credits required to earn the degree. Registration for less than a full-time load (12-17 semester credits) may prevent a student from receiving some forms of Whitworth financial aid. More information on satisfactory progress requirements for recipients of financial aid is available at the Whitworth Financial Aid website or office.

Student Registration

Registration

Whitworth University students register for classes through WhitNet or Self-Service. Students register for their next classes during their assigned registration period each semester. The registrar's office will assist students who are away from campus on study-abroad trips with registration for their next semester's or term's classes.

Students can adjust their class schedules via WhitNet or Self-Service through the first week of classes. Beginning with the second week of classes, students must complete an add/drop form, including the instructor and advisor's signature, and submit it to the registrar's office for processing. It is the university's policy to deny requests for registration in any course after the close of the term in which registration was required.

Registration for teaching assistantships, research assistantships, field studies, readings, independent studies, and internships are processed in the registrar's office. Continuing studies students and graduate students should check with their programs for registration dates. Registration for study abroad is coordinated by the Whitworth International Education Center.

Deadlines for adding or withdrawing from classes are published in the academic calendar each semester. It is the student's responsibility to check his or her registration information and to discuss any needed corrections with the registrar's office.

No person other than a faculty member attending informally with the approval of the professor may attend a Whitworth class in which that person has not been officially registered. A professor may allow students to attend his or her class only if the students' names appear on the official class roster.

In order for the university to provide the best classroom learning environment for all students, children may not attend any Whitworth class. No child may, under any circumstances, be left unattended in a university building while a parent is attending class. Safety is our main concern; we cannot ensure children's safety when they are left unattended.

Waitlisting For Closed Classes

Students may waitlist themselves via WhitNet or Self-Service for most closed classes. As space becomes available in such classes, waitlisted students will be sent an email notifying them that they have 24 hours (48 hours during summer term) to register for the course on WhitNet or Self-Service. If a waitlisted student does not register within 24 hours (48 hours during summer term), s/he will be dropped from the waitlist.

Changes in Registration

Class Attendance

Class attendance is expected and may be included in the calculation of the grade for the class. Students who register for courses they do not attend are responsible for dropping the courses officially through the registrar's office. The consequence of not officially dropping a course is a "W/W" (withdrew without permission) grade, which calculates as an "F" in the GPA. A student should contact the professor of a class if s/he (the student) plans to be absent any day during the first week of the semester/term.

Add/Drop Policy

Students are required to be registered for all of their courses before the end of the add/drop period. While it is recommended that registration for independent studies, field studies and internships be completed before the end of the 10th day of the semester, it is understood that those registrations can occur later.

Students who must change their schedule after the fifth day of the semester must do so by completing an Add/Drop form and returning it to the registrar's office with signatures from the course instructor and the students' advisor. After the 10th day of the semester, a grade of "W" will be given for any full-semester course that is dropped. A grade of "WF" will be given for full-semester courses dropped after the ninth week of the semester. See the academic calendar for applicable dates for half-semester courses. The last day to drop a course is the final day of regular instruction before final exams.

Repeat/Delete Policy

A course taken at Whitworth may be repeated at Whitworth. Courses cannot be taken under the repeat/delete policy except at Whitworth. Check the section on financial aid to determine if/how your level of aid will be affected if you repeat courses in which you received a passing grade.

1. In order for a student to repeat a course, s/he must have received a grade no higher than a "C" in the class.
2. Grades for all courses taken at Whitworth will appear on the permanent record.
3. When computing the grade point average and total hours earned, the student repeating a course will be credited with the highest grade earned for all attempts and with course credits for only one attempt.
4. If the credit level for a course has changed (for instance, from 4 to 3 hours), the residual credit not covered by the repeat will be reflected on the transcript at the grade originally awarded; this grade will be computed as part of the grade point average unless extended credit is earned and awarded.
5. The GPA will reflect the credits and quality points in the term during which the student earns the best grade unless the credits have expired, which can happen in graduate programs.
6. There is no limit on the number of times a student can repeat a course.

Course Withdrawals

Accelerated classes and graduate-level classes are sometimes offered in a nontraditional term. Check with your department to determine the withdrawal policy for your program.

Traditional semester programs have the following course-withdrawal policy:

- A withdrawal from a course during the first two weeks of the term will not appear on the transcript.
- A withdrawal after the first two weeks through the ninth week of the term will be noted with a "W" (withdrawal) grade on the transcript.
- A withdrawal after the ninth week and before final exams will be noted with a "WF" (withdraw failing) grade on the transcript.
- If a student stops attending a course or never attends but does not officially withdraw from the course by completing a drop form and submitting it to the registrar's office, a grade of "WW" (withdrew without permission) will be noted on the transcript. The student will still be bound by any financial obligations s/he has assumed.

Hardship Withdrawal

In rare circumstances, a withdrawing student may be granted a hardship withdrawal, given when a debilitating medical or psychological condition makes it necessary for him or her to withdraw from all of his or her non-graded courses and get the off-campus support/help necessary to his or her return as a student. To be considered, the student should apply to the dean of students or her/his designee within a week of the anticipated withdrawal, providing written documentation of the condition. Under hardship-withdrawal status, the student will receive a "W" in all non-graded classes for the term, and financial officers will determine charges to be paid, based on the number of weeks that university services were utilized. A hold will be placed on the withdrawing students' account until reinstatement criteria are met and reinstatement is approved by the dean of students or her/his designee.

Reinstatement Process following a Hardship Withdrawal

Students should contact the dean of students or her/his designee when they are ready to request reinstatement. Students must provide documentation that demonstrates their readiness to return to academic work and, if applicable, a residential environment. The student will also create a reinstatement plan outlining strategies and/or support systems that will provide the best possible opportunity for success. The student will be restricted from enrolling in courses until these materials are provided and reinstatement is approved by the dean of students or her/his designee.

Official Withdrawal from Whitworth University

To withdraw officially from Whitworth University, a student must complete the withdrawal form, obtain all necessary signatures, and submit the withdrawal form to the registrar's office for processing. In the event that the student is no longer in the Spokane area, or if, due to extenuating circumstances, s/he is unable to complete the withdrawal form and get signatures, s/he must notify the registrar's office by phone, email or written correspondence to request withdrawal from the university.

Hiatus Policy

Students who have completed at least one semester at Whitworth are eligible to take a leave of absence for up to one academic year and to return without reapplying for admission. This leave, known as a hiatus, allows students to maintain their access to WhitNet, Self-Service, and to their Whitworth email accounts while they are away.

Pass/No Credit Option

This option is designed to encourage students to explore areas of study outside their majors. Students may choose to take one P/NC course each academic year at Whitworth. Core/Worldview Studies courses, courses in the student's major or area of concentration, and education courses are excluded from this option. Students may elect to take PE activity courses Pass/No Credit. A grade of Pass will be assigned in a P/NC course on the basis of a grade of "C" or higher. A grade of No Credit will be assigned in a P/NC course on the basis of a grade of "C-" or lower. Once a P/NC has been declared, it is irreversible. Check the academic calendar for the deadline to declare P/NC. NOTE: If students never attend or stop attending a class in which they have declared a P/NC, they will receive a "WW" grade and not the No Credit grade; the "WW" grade equates to unofficial withdrawal from the class.

Step-Up Policy

An undergraduate senior may take up to six credit hours in graduate Business, Theology or Education (if they have met the prerequisites), which will later be waived if the student pursues one of Whitworth's graduate degrees. These six credits will count towards the student's undergraduate degree. They will not be counted again for graduate credit. However, the total credits required for a student's graduate degree will be reduced by the number of credits s/he completes in Step-Up, up to six credits, and the course requirement for the completed Step-Up classes will be waived.

Students interested in participating in the Step-Up program must obtain special permission from their academic advisor as well as the director of the graduate program in which they are interested. Step-Up is traditionally reserved only for seniors, but in special circumstances juniors might also be eligible to participate. Step-Up is included in a student's undergraduate financial aid package, thus no additional cost will be incurred for taking up to six graduate credits. Graduate classes eligible for Step-Up will be designated by the program director and based on availability. The primary function of Step-Up is to assist students in deciding on graduate programs and to prepare them for the academic rigor. Step-Up is not intended as a method of substituting graduate classes to fulfill undergraduate degree requirements. Therefore, Step-Up classes will only count towards elective credits. Note: P/NC grading is not allowed for graduate level courses even when they apply to an undergraduate program.

Class Schedules -- Guest Access

Class schedules are available through Pirate Port, Whitworth's web portal. Guest visitors (parents, prospective students, etc.) can access Pirate Port by visiting this web address: www.whitworth.edu/administration/informationssystemspirateport/guestaccess.htm.

Student Holds

Circumstances may cause a hold to be placed on a student's account. Each hold prevents the student from participating in a university privilege such as registration, adding/dropping classes, receiving official transcripts, and participating in campus activities. The list below shows the types of holds and the offices to contact regarding these holds.

Type of Hold	Department
Academic Suspension	Registrar's Office
Business Office Hold	Student Accounts Office
Loan Office Hold	Student Accounts Office
Financial Aid Hold	Financial Aid Office
Registrar's Hold	Registrar's Office
Student Life Hold	Student Life Office
Compliance Hold	International Education Center
Health Center Hold	Health Center

General Course Numbers

Lower-Division Courses

100-199: Primarily for freshmen. May not be taken for graduate credit.

200-299: Primarily for sophomores. May not be taken for graduate credit.

Upper-Division Courses

300-399: Primarily for juniors/seniors. Graduate students may count a limited number of credits.

400-499: Primarily for seniors. Graduate students may count a limited number of credits.

500-599: Graduate level. Undergraduates may enroll only with special permission.

Special Course Numbers

At undergraduate and graduate levels, course numbers ending in 80, 86, 90, 91, 95 or 96 indicate special courses. Subject matter in these courses varies.

All departments may offer these types of courses, but because not all may be listed in this catalog, students are urged to ask individual department offices about the availability of courses of the type and level desired. Their designations are as follows:

80 Field Study

86 Readings

90 Internship

91 Independent Study

95 Teaching Assistantship/Research Assistantship

96 Special Topics (offered at the 100, 200, 300, and 400 levels)

Transfer and Alternative Credit

Academic Credit and Evaluation

Academic credit is awarded on the basis of semester credits. One semester credit is equivalent to 14 contact hours and two hours of work outside of class for each contact hour. Evaluation of coursework is accomplished in a variety of ways, depending upon the nature of the course.

Acceptance of Transfer Credits

Whitworth will accept applicable undergraduate and graduate work transferred from regionally accredited institutions. In the case of graduate theological credit, this includes institutions accredited by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) in the United States and Canada. For institutions without regional accreditation, the transfer of credit will be considered if the credibility of the institution can be supported by the “three-letter rule,” which states that it is the responsibility of the student to provide letters from three regionally accredited institutions certifying that they will accept credit from the institution from which the student is seeking credit. A total of two-thirds credit will be awarded for coursework completed at non-regionally accredited Bible schools that hold an ABHE accreditation.

If transfer credit is taken from an institution using quarter credits, Whitworth University will use a two-thirds conversion calculation to convert the credits to semester credits.

Conversion of Quarter Credits to Semester Credits

Quarter Credits	Conversion	Semester Credits
1	x 2/3	.67
2	x 2/3	1.33
3	x 2/3	2
4	x 2/3	2.67
5	x 2/3	3.33

A maximum of 64 semester credits may be transferred from a two-year college; a total of 94 semester credits may be transferred from a four-year college or combination of two and four-year colleges. Credits earned more than 15 years prior to matriculation at Whitworth will require department approval if they are to fulfill a requirement in the major. Courses in which the student received a grade lower than “C,” vocational-technical courses, non-college-level courses, credit earned by exam at another institution, and incomplete courses are not transferable. Official transcripts must be received by the registrar’s office from the transferring institution in order to have credit evaluated for final acceptance.

Exception: A total of 118 credits may be accepted in transfer for students pursuing the management and accounting major in the Whitworth School of Continuing Studies. This exception to policy is made due to 150 credits being required for completion of the management and accounting degree program.

Transfer Policies for Students Holding Associate of Arts Degrees

A student transferring to Whitworth with an associate of arts (A.A.) degree from a community college in Washington (approved by the Intercollege Relations Commission for the State of Washington), Colorado, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, or with an associate of science (A.S.) degree from a community college in Washington or North Idaho College (excludes AST-Track I & II), will receive the following:

- Junior standing (60 semester credits)
- Transfer credit of a maximum of 96 quarter credits or 64 semester credits
- Waiver of all general requirements, with the following exceptions:
 - A choice of one of the following: Core 150, Western Civilization I: Christian Worldview Perspectives; Core 250, Western Civilization II: The Rationalist Worldview; or Core 350: Applied Ethics, Public Policy and Worldviews. Note: Continuing Studies students take either Core 150, Core 250, or Core 300.
 - Biblical literature: Three semester credits in the Old Testament, New Testament, or one or more books of the Bible
 - World language: Eight semester credits, 15 quarter credits, or a full year of college credit in foreign language (including American Sign Language)

In order for transfer students to meet the general education requirements, they must earn an approved associate degree prior to initial enrollment at Whitworth. Students who transfer from other institutions or states not mentioned above and who hold A.A. or A.S. degrees will be evaluated on a course-by-course basis.

Transfer students are encouraged to contact the registrar's office to determine the applicability of their coursework to specific bachelor's degrees. General information can be given over the telephone (toll-free at 800.533.4668). To obtain a complete transcript evaluation, send the request with an official copy of college transcripts to the Whitworth University Registrar's Office, 300 W. Hawthorne Road, Spokane, WA 99251.

Policy on Credit Transfer for Exchange Students

When a student studies abroad on an approved, non-faculty-led program, the credit he/she receives will be based solely on the transcript issued by the host institution or program.* When applying credit from exchange partner universities, Whitworth will use widely-accepted credit conversion rates for academic systems around the world.

*Approved programs are listed in the Whitworth Catalog under Exchanges and Study-Abroad Opportunities. (p. 201)

Washington 45

Students who transfer Washington 45 courses must still meet Whitworth's admission requirements and satisfy all general education and degree requirements. A student who completes courses from within the general education categories in the Washington 45, and earns a C or better for each course, will be able to transfer up to 45 quarter credits to Whitworth. The ratio of quarter hours to semester hours is 2/3. So for every quarter-credit earned, Whitworth will award 0.67 semester credit in transfer. A total of 30 semester hours is awarded for 45 quarter-credit hours; this is equivalent to sophomore standing at Whitworth.

Although the courses in the Washington 45 are listed under various categories, the actual course may satisfy a different general education requirement at Whitworth. Whitworth, like many institutions, has its own general education requirements, so students should check with the registrar's office regarding how these courses will transfer.

Alternative Course Credit

A maximum of 32 alternative semester credits (48 quarter credits) may be counted toward graduation. Alternative credit includes Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB) degree courses, College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credit, and DANTES credit, portfolios, and credit for military service and schools. Alternative course credit is calculated as part of the transfer-credit limit of 94. Contact the registrar's office for further information.

Advanced Placement (AP)

Whitworth is an active participant in the College Entrance Examination Board Advanced Placement program. A score of four or above on an AP test is accepted for credit in some disciplines at Whitworth. In many cases, this score will also satisfy a general graduation requirement and/or a requirement for an academic major. Refer to Whitworth's website for details.

1. Maximum credit given is 32 semester credits.

- If a department name is listed, general department credit is given. If not, general elective credit (non-departmental) is given. A course number indicates a specific course at Whitworth that has received credit.
- If a score of 5 is earned in biology, a student would receive credit for either BI 140 or BI 141. If the student needs to take BI-140 or 141 at WU, s/he then earns BI-196.
- In chemistry, documentation of lab experience is required for the fourth credit. In music, ear training is required.
- Both of the computer science A exams are in the Java language. The student must learn C++ for further classes.
- A student must petition the physics department for PS 151; default course equivalency is PS 121.
- Students can petition departments for lab credit.
- HI 101 will fulfill only HU; HI 102 will fulfill only GP.
- If a student is a declared education major who earned a five on the Government & Politics exam, PO-102 will be awarded.

Note: Students cannot receive AP credit if they're taking the equivalent course at Whitworth. Nursing students cannot count AP test toward any courses for a nursing major.

International Baccalaureate (IB)

Whitworth recognizes the international baccalaureate diploma and subject examinations; the university awards credit on a course-by-course basis for only high-level courses passed with a score of five or higher. Refer to the table below or to Whitworth's website for details.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Whitworth grants academic credit for sufficiently high scores on CLEP general exams and selected CLEP subject examinations. These cutoff scores are listed in the College Entrance Examination Board publication College Placement and Credit by Examination, which is available at most high schools and colleges. Information regarding taking CLEP exams may be obtained on our website or by contacting the Whitworth Continuing Studies Office at 509.777.3222. Credit for general CLEP exams will be awarded only if the exam is taken within one year of matriculation. Credit for CLEP subject exams will be awarded only if the exam is taken before higher-level coursework in the same discipline is completed. Students must complete an application to take a CLEP exam and have it approved by the registrar's office prior to taking the exam. The College Board allows an exam to be taken only once every three months.

General Exams

Will be accepted for credit only during the first year of matriculation.

DANTES Exam (DSST)

Whitworth awards academic credit for DANTES exams. Students must complete an application to take a DANTES exam and have it approved by the registrar's office prior to taking the exam. The exam must be completed before students complete higher-level coursework in the same discipline. In order for any credit to be awarded, the minimum score must be obtained. Contact the registrar's office for questions regarding DANTES exams.

Transcripts and Diplomas

Transcript Requests

Transcript requests may be made 1) in person, at the registrar's office, 2) by submitting (mail, email, or fax) a signed Whitworth Transcript Request Form (<http://www.whitworth.edu/Administration/RegistrarsOffice/Forms>) or 3) by using the online order system – Transcripts Plus. Please visit www.whitworth.edu/transcript for more information about how to request a transcript. Transcript requests cannot be handled by phone. Transcripts may be purchased with a VISA or MasterCard (include card number, expiration date and security code), a check made payable to Whitworth University, or cash.

Transcript Request Form

- Official: $5
 - $5 rush fee if request is submitted before 11 a.m. for same-day processing

Online Transcript Request

- Official: $5

 - $5 rush fee per recipient if request is submitted before 11 a.m. for same-day processing

Unofficial Transcript Request

- Free
 - Unofficial transcripts may only be obtained in person with photo ID in the Whitworth Registrar's Office.

Please allow at least one week of processing time during the term and two weeks at the beginning or end of a term (September, December, February and May). The fax number for the registrar's office is 509.777.3296. The mailing address is Registrar's Office, Whitworth University, 300 W. Hawthorne Road, Spokane, WA 99251.

Note: Transcripts and diplomas are released only when financial accounts are current and all holds on a student's record have been removed.

Diploma Reorder

Replacement diplomas are available through the registrar's office for a $20 fee. The replacement will be issued in the current format and with current signatures.

If the student's name has been legally changed, a new diploma may be issued upon written request with legal proof of the name change and payment of the fee.

Directed Studies

Independent Study (numbered 191, 291, 391, 491, 591)

Qualified students may undertake special projects on a tutorial basis. Department approval of proposals is based upon the following criteria:

- The student has demonstrated readiness for independent work.

- The project topics/materials are not covered in a regular course.
- A regular full-time faculty member agrees to supervise the study.
- Students should take no more than 12 credits of independent study – and, generally, no more than three per semester – during their total university career.

Students are to submit proposals that include the signatures of the faculty supervisor and the department chair to the registrar's office in order to register for an independent study.

Readings (numbered 386, 486)

If the study is primarily a review of literature, the "readings" designation may be given. This type of study could be preparatory work for a research paper, particularly at the graduate level.

Teaching Assistantship (numbered 395, 495)

This type of course is for the advanced major in a discipline. Junior standing is required. If a faculty member believes that a student has sufficient maturity in his or her field, the student may be offered the opportunity to assist in the teaching process. Responsibilities vary and may include the following: grading of papers and examinations; preparation of lectures, exams or experiments; tutorial assistance and discussion-group leadership; occasional lecture responsibility for the very mature student. TA enrollment per semester is limited to three credits. Students must complete the FERPA agreement.

Research Assistantship (numbered 395, 495)

This type of course is for the advanced major in a discipline. Junior or senior standing is required. If a faculty member believes that a student has sufficient maturity in his or her field, s/he may offer that student the opportunity to assist in research. Responsibilities vary. RA enrollment per semester is limited to three credits. Students must complete the FERPA agreement. The psychology department uses PY394 for research assistantships.

Internships and Field Studies

A vital part of any liberal arts education is the integration of classroom studies with working environments off campus. All Whitworth students are encouraged to prepare for later employment through training in the professional community. Through these programs, students earn academic credit and/or pay by integrating classroom studies with actual work experience. They also build job-search skills that prepare them for future employment. Internship and field-study placements are available in all departments of the university. The Whitworth Career Services Office provides information and guidance. A mandatory orientation and contract must be completed prior to beginning the internship or field experience. Students should take no more than 12 credits of internships, and, generally, no more than three credits per semester, during their total university careers.

Internships (numbered 290, 390, 490 or 590)

Internships are work-based learning experiences that integrate students' academic coursework with career-related work experience in the major field. Sophomores, juniors and seniors are eligible for credit. Credit is typically limited to no more than three credits in a semester. Students must attend an orientation through the Whitworth Career Services Office to explore site possibilities and enroll in the class. Fall and spring semesters, Jan Term and Summer Term.

Field Study (numbered 280, 480)

This program provides students with the opportunity to explore a career area in any field of interest. The program is an observational, exploratory, hands-on experience. Students may participate at any time from the second freshman semester through the senior year.

Graduation Requirements

Requirements for Graduation

General Degree Requirements:

- Complete all general education requirements.
- Complete all requirements and performance standards for the major or area of concentration as well as one writing-intensive course in the major, as set forth in the catalog effective at time of matriculation. (Major requirements are presented in the catalog under the appropriate discipline.)

Students may change to a subsequent catalog governing their degree requirements, but must meet all requirements of that catalog.

- Complete a minimum of 36 credits at the junior/senior level (courses numbered 300 or above).
- Degree-seeking students: Earn a minimum of 32 credits in residence.
- Complete a minimum of 126 credit hours with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0. Of these 126 credit hours, a maximum of eight semester-credit hours (12 quarter-credit hours) can be PE, athletics, or fitness wellness credits. This includes institutional and/or transfer credits of this kind.
- Thirty-two of the last 40 credits required for graduation must be taken at Whitworth.
- Complete all degree requirements within six years of matriculation.
- Students must declare their intent to graduate by completing an application for graduation by Nov. 1 of their senior year or the year prior to their completion of all degree requirements. In order to participate in commencement, any student who will not be completing all degree requirements by the end of the spring semester must submit a petition that outlines his or her course plan, showing that all requirements will be complete by Jan. 31 of the year following commencement.

Note: The management & accounting degree offered in the School of Continuing Studies requires 150 credits for graduation.

I. Requirements for Major or Area of Concentration

Complete all requirements and performance standards for the major or area of concentration and one writing-intensive course as set forth in the catalog effective at time of matriculation. (Major requirements are presented in the catalog under the appropriate discipline.) A student may change to a subsequent catalog governing his or her degree requirements, but s/he must meet all requirements of that catalog.

II. Upper-Division Requirements

Students must complete a minimum of 36 credits at the junior/senior level (courses numbered 300 or above).

III. Residency

At least 32 semester credits must be completed in residence at Whitworth for each program level (undergraduate or graduate) that the student pursues.

IV. Grade Point Average

A student must earn a 2.0 average in 1) all Whitworth courses and 2) all courses in the declared major or area of concentration. Education and athletic training students, see School of Education and athletic training department for GPA requirements.

V. Degree-Completion Requirements

Thirty-two of the last 40 credits needed for the degree must be taken at Whitworth. Students must complete all degree requirements within six years from the time of matriculation. Part-time students may petition this policy. Students who withdraw from Whitworth and return after an absence of more than two years must meet the graduation requirements in effect at the time of their return and must complete all degree requirements within six years of the time of their return (matriculation). Students must complete a minimum of one course if the above-mentioned requirements have been met. Additional information may be obtained from the registrar's office.

VI. Application for Graduation

Students must apply for graduation by Nov. 1 in the fall semester of their senior year. Application for Graduation forms are available on WhitNet. In order to participate in the May ceremony if it is possible that a student's requirements will not be completed by the end of spring semester, the student must submit a petition that outlines his or her course plan and shows that all requirements will be completed by Jan. 31 of the year following commencement.

Students who are unable for any reason to complete their degree requirements by their anticipated graduation date must complete a second Application for Graduation if all their degree requirements are not met within one year of their original anticipated graduation date.

Detailed graduation information will be sent to all students who have applied to graduate.

Double Majors

A student may graduate with more than one major if all requirements are met for each major. Some departments restrict double majors within their department. Talk with your advisor regarding your department's policy.

Requirements for a Second Baccalaureate Degree

A Whitworth graduate seeking a second bachelor's degree must meet the major requirements of the second major, must satisfy the general education requirements (under the DTA agreement) in place at the time the second degree is initiated, and must complete 30 credits of work beyond the first degree.

A second degree will not be awarded unless the graduate re-enrolls at Whitworth and completes a minimum of one course (if the above-mentioned requirements have been met). A Whitworth student seeking a second baccalaureate degree must seek the approval of his or her advisor(s) and the registrar.

Students with a bachelor's degree from another institution who pursue a B.A. or B.S. at Whitworth will be expected to meet all the major and degree requirements, including the residency requirement (32 credits) and the general education requirements (under the DTA agreement) in place at the time the second degree is initiated; they must also earn a degree in a field other than the field of the first degree.

Undergraduate Programs

General Education Requirements

Students must complete all general education requirements outlined below. Courses designated on WhitNet or Self-Service as fulfilling a general education requirement are valid for that semester only. The list of courses fulfilling general education requirements evolves and changes over time; therefore, it is important for students to check the listings on WhitNet or Self-Service when planning their class schedules. An approved general education list can be found on the registrar's office page (Whitworth login required) at https://www.whitworth.edu/Administration/RegistrarsOffice/Forms/PDF_SSL/ApprovedGenedList.pdf.

Note: A student may not use the same course to satisfy more than one of the general education requirements.

A. First-Year Program (1 credit)

The first-year program (GE 125/GE 325) is designed to assist students in connecting quickly with the Whitworth community. This program will facilitate the formation of faculty-student relationships that are centered primarily in academic context (in class and beyond the classroom) and in the advising function (academic and vocational).

B. Worldview Studies (12 credits)

A worldview is a personal set of basic assumptions about humanity, God, the nature of material reality, and the place of humans in that reality. A person's worldview also includes assumptions about how humans gain knowledge as well as prescriptions regarding all forms of human activity: political, social, creative, economic, religious and otherwise. A person's worldview is the way in which s/he makes sense of life experiences. Everyone holds this set of basic assumptions whether or not each of us is consciously aware of what the assumptions are.

The worldview studies curriculum at Whitworth exists to engage the student in the active examination of pre-suppositional thinking that forms the basis of all human meaning. Its intent is to explore the origins of human thinking at this foundational level, particularly emphasizing the Western way of answering questions of meaning.

CO 150	Western Civilization I: Christian Worldview Perspective
CO 250	Western Civilization II: The Rationalist Worldview
CO 350	Western Civilization III: Applied Ethics, Public Policy and Worldviews

Note: The Whitworth Adult Degree Program requires each student to take Core 150, Core 250, or Core 300. Please see the Undergraduate Adult Degree Programs (p. 334) requirements for more information.

C. Biblical Literature: Biblical Foundations for Faith and Practice (3 credits)

Courses in this area emphasize understanding the scriptures and their theological teachings from the perspective of the Reformed and evangelical traditions. Courses also focus on understanding the implications of scripture, as well as the hermeneutics of interpretation. Courses that satisfy this requirement will be found in the theology department.

D. World Languages, United States Diversity Studies, Global Perspectives: Community, Diversity and Justice (10 credits)

Courses in this area introduce students to domestic and international diversity, including linguistic, political, religious, racial, ethnic, gender, and other differences. They emphasize the role of diversity in determining perspective and communication patterns, as well as in applying this understanding to community living in an increasingly diverse U.S. and world. To satisfy this requirement, students must complete 3-4 credits in each of three areas:

• World Language — 4 credits

Students must demonstrate proficiency through the first-year level. They may accomplish this by passing a proctored proficiency exam in a language (tests are available in French, German, Russian, and Spanish, and, by special arrangement, Chinese and Japanese), completing the 101-102 sequence in a language, or completing a one-semester intensive course (e.g. SN 111 or FR 111). Note: School of Continuing Studies students, see Undergraduate Adult Degree Programs (p. 334) for more details about this requirement.

• United States Diversity Studies – 3 credits

These courses ask students to engage consistently with aspects of diversity in the United States through rigorous examination of primary sources and/or to participate in relevant experiential learning activities and respectful discourse. Students completing education certification will meet this requirement by fulfilling the requirements in the education program. Students who take ASL 102 may apply it to the United States Diversity requirement.

• Global Perspective – 3 credits

Courses that meet this requirement include substantial work that reflects thoughtfully on viewpoints developed beyond American society. Students who take the 102 course in a world language may apply that course to this requirement, as 102 courses provide extensive content in cultural differences. Off-campus study is highly recommended.

E. The Fine Arts: Creative Expression and Appreciation (3 credits)

Courses in this area provide opportunities for students to understand aesthetic traditions and to develop the capacity for artistic expression. Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the departments of art, English, music and theatre.

F. Oral and Written Communication Studies: Effective Communication and Social Responsibility (6 credits)

Courses in this area equip students to create, organize, share and receive clear oral and written messages.

Oral Communication – 3 credits

Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the areas of speech communication and theatre. Students completing education certification will meet this requirement by fulfilling the requirements of the education program.

Written Communication – 3 credits

Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the areas of English and journalism. Each student is also required to complete one designated writing-intensive course that must be taken within the major program. Courses labeled with a “W” after the number meet the writing-intensive requirement, but not necessarily the written communication requirement.

G. Fitness and Wellness for Life (3 credits)

Courses in this area emphasize responsible stewardship of God’s creation through maintenance of personal health; students develop skills and establish habits that prepare them for a lifetime of healthy living and physical well-being. Courses that satisfy this requirement will be found in kinesiology. Three activity courses (FW or PE) are required, one of which must be from among the following: FW 118 (for students with physical disability), FW 132, FW 134, FW 141, FW 149, FW 166, FW 175 (for continuing studies students only), or FW 219.

Note: A maximum of eight semester credits of physical education/fitness wellness/varsity athletics (ATH) courses may be counted toward the total credits required (126).

H. The Social Sciences: Human Nature and Civic Responsibility (3 credits)

Courses in this area seek to describe, primarily from the perspective of human sciences, how and why humans behave as they do individually and corporately. Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the areas of economics, history, political science, psychology and sociology, although courses in other disciplines may also be included.

I. The Humanities: Human Thought and Values (3 credits)

Courses in this area introduce students to the rich tradition of the humanities. Study focuses on the embodiment of human experience, thought and values through the scrutiny of text and symbol. Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the departments of art, English, history, world languages & cultures, music, philosophy, theology and theatre.

J. Mathematics and Statistics: Mathematical Reasoning and Social Applications (3-4 credits)

Courses in this area provide an overview of topics in quantitative thinking, analysis and problem-solving. Special attention is devoted to mathematical concepts reflecting broader social concerns, patterns of occurrence and behavior and related issues. Courses satisfying the requirement are MA 107, MA 108, MA 150, MA 158, MA 171, MA 221, and MA 256. A few courses, such as SO 338, found in other disciplines, may apply toward fulfilling this requirement.

Initial placement is based on SAT/ACT scores.

* MA 107: Basic Concepts in Modern Math: Any SAT or ACT score -- or a major in social science (history, political science or sociology), philosophy, theology, or music -- is acceptable.

* MA 108: Finite Math for Social Sciences: SAT 500-599, ACT 21-26, or a major in business, communication, English or kinesiology, is acceptable.

* MA 150: Calculus I: SAT 500-599, ACT 21-26, or students who have not taken pre-calculus or who want a refresher.

* MA 158: Calculus for Social Sciences: SAT 550 in math who are considering going into the business major, ACT 23 and higher.

* MA 171: Calculus 1: Students with an SAT of 600 or higher or and ACT of 27 or higher are strongly encouraged to take Calculus 1, assuming they have taken pre-calculus.

* MA 221: Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I: This class is for elementary education majors. Any SAT or ACT score is acceptable.

K. The Natural Sciences: The Natural World and Human Responsibility (3-4 credits)

Courses in this area provide opportunities for students to understand and apply the scientific method as an analytical, problem-solving tool via coursework that emphasizes both theoretical and experiential components. They expose students to the strengths and weaknesses of scientific methodology and the relationship between scientific inquiry and faith. Courses that satisfy this requirement will usually be found in the areas of astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology and physics.

Faculty members in the Whitworth University Art Department are committed to excellent teaching. The department's mission is to provide students who are enrolled in art courses with a rigorous intellectual environment in which students may gain knowledge and skills that will enable their creative progress in the visual arts. Art core courses provide a solid foundation in artistic form and content. Upper-division offerings expand each student's personal artistic vision and the conceptual foundation for the content of their work. All courses encourage the development of a lifelong passion for making and appreciating art. The program presents a number of options for the integration of a Christian worldview, and all students are encouraged to investigate the relationship between their worldview and their work.

Learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to...

Knowledge

- become proficient in comprehending and interpreting works of art.
- explore the history of art: artists, processes and artworks in all forms of art media.
- recognize the standards for quality in students' given disciplines and apply those standards to their own artwork and the work of others.
- demonstrate comprehension of art theory, and communicate how students' work relates to contemporary art practice.
- understand the requirements necessary to enter into a vocation in each student's field.

Skills

- master the processes and techniques of the discipline.
- develop the capacity for critical analysis in relation to art.
- be able to communicate clearly the connections between their personal worldviews and the work they create.

Faith, Values and Ethics

- gain an understanding of diversity by studying artworks and artists from a variety of cultures and backgrounds.
- develop an awareness of the ethical and spiritual issues that exist in each discipline and be able to respond in a manner consistent with his or her worldview.

Admission Process for Art Majors

Submit an application to the major by spring of the sophomore year. The application form is available in the art office, Lied 202, and includes the following:

- a portfolio of work
- a statement of rationale for admittance and intent to commit to the art major

Application for art department scholarships and talent awards can be made using the same form. Department faculty will consider each applicant for full admittance or conditional admittance to the art major. The junior exhibition will serve as a review of admittance. Admittance prior to the spring semester of the sophomore year is possible, but it does not eliminate the review process.

Students in this upper-division section will complete assignments that require in-depth analysis and critical thinking.

AR 378 Aesthetics3

The nature of art, including purposes and theories, connections to beauty and truth and practical life, and moral implications of artworks. Recommended prerequisite: PH 110 or any of AR 260-264. Also listed as PH 368. Spring semester, odd years.

AR 381 Art in France4

Approximate 3-week study abroad with emphasis on visual art of the 20th century--major art movements, artists, visual elements and design principles. Venues in Paris and South of France: Museums, galleries, artist studios (as available). Class presentations, Journal entries incorporating concepts course concepts. Offered only in conjunction with full-semester Whitworth in France Study Program. Spring semester, every third year (2019,2022).

AR 382 British Isles Arts & Crafts

A study of the visual arts - architecture, sculpture, painting, and decorative arts - in England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. Museums, galleries, cathedrals, castles and other on-site artistic expressions will offer the student an opportunity to study firsthand the works of art in historical, cultural, and artistic contexts. Fee. Offered only in conjunction with the full-semester Whitworth British Isles Study Program. Fall semester, every third year. Fee.

AR 383 Art and Architecture in Chicago

This course explores art and architecture in Chicago. The city is our classroom. Students will learn about the history of modern architecture by walking the streets and touring buildings. Inside museums and galleries, students will learn about art history and contemporary art. May Term study tour.

AR 390 InternshipAR 399 Junior Exhibition Project

Students experience all the steps necessary to organize and install a group exhibition of artworks as preparation for the senior exhibition. Spring semester. Fee.

AR 401 Drawing IV

Advanced course. Students assume responsibility for the design of one or more series of drawings employing their choice of media, technique, and imagery. Prerequisite: AR 301 or AR 302. Periodic offering. Fee.

AR 402 Figure Drawing II

Advanced course in life drawing. Student assumes major responsibility for design of problems, including choice of media. Use of series to develop personal style, imagery, content, and refinement in drawings using the human figure as subject. Prerequisite: AR 302. Periodic offering. Fee.

AR 410 Painting III

Advanced course. Student works in series. Refinement of technique and style to advance imagery and content. Prerequisite: AR 310. Fall and spring semesters. Fee.

AR 411 Watercolor III

Advanced course in watercolor. Refinement of technique, personal visual statements. Prerequisite: AR 311. Periodic offering. Fee.

AR 421 Advanced Printmaking

Individually directed projects. Prerequisite: AR 321. Periodic offering. Fee.

AR 423 Typography II

Advanced work in typography for designers. Students will continue research into page layout and the aesthetics of letterforms. Projects will be completed digitally. Prerequisite: AR 101 and AR 323. Fall Semester. Fee.

AR 424 Graphic Design II

Advanced work in design graphics. Students will continue research into the technical and aesthetic issues related to computer-generated artwork. Exploration of object-based, page-layout software and multimedia applications. Prerequisites: AR 101 and AR 324. Also listed as VC 424. Fall Semester. Fee.

AR 426 Web Design II

Advanced work in designing webpages. Students will continue research into information and aesthetics on the web. Prerequisite: AR 326. Fee.

AR 427 Advanced Time-Based Art Making

An advanced course emphasizing the technical and conceptual processes needed to work in time-based art media such as video installation, motion pictures, or animation. Also addresses aesthetic and theoretical issues related to filmmaking. Individually directed projects emphasizing editing and directing. A camera capable of creating video is required. Prerequisite: AR-327. Also listed as FVNS 427. Fee.

AR 431 Digital Photography III 3

Self-directed problems in digital photography/ computer manipulation. Digital SLR required. Fall semester. Prerequisite: AR 331. Fee.

AR 435 Arts Administration 3

An in-depth study of the administration of community art projects. Topics include grant-writing, business plans, safety/liability, marketing and public relations. Emphasizes laying the groundwork for successful community art projects within the disciplines of fine arts, music and theater. No prerequisites; however, some background in art is recommended. Also listed as TA 435. Periodic offering. Fee.

AR 440 Ceramics (Wheelwork) III 3

Students will design projects to meet their individual needs in specific areas. Ceramic works created as a series will be the focus. Prerequisite: AR 340 or AR 341. Fall and Jan Term. Fee.

AR 441 Ceramics (Handbuilding) III 3

Students will design projects to meet their individual needs in specific areas. Ceramic works created as a series will be the focus. Prerequisite: AR 340 or AR 341. Spring semester. Fee.

AR 443 Glass IV 3

Projects in glass will be individually directed. Fee. Periodic offering. Prerequisite: AR-343.

AR 444 Secondary Art: Curriculum and Methods 2

Available for art-education majors/minors. Observation and analysis of middle (junior high) and high school teachers in a classroom setting. Includes teaching methods, curriculum objectives and evaluation, classroom organization.

AR 455 Sculpture II 3

Emphasis on advanced sculpture processes such as mold making, installation, and kinetic sculpture. Prerequisite: AR 355, Sculpture I.

AR 460 Seminar 3

This capstone course is designed as a transition for the art major between art in the college setting and art beyond college. Discussion and investigation will help the student gain a clearer understanding of the nature of art and the artist. Visits to artists' studios, art-related business, galleries and museums. Through an exchange of information, ideas and methodology with both peers and professionals, the student will have the opportunity to formulate personal ideas, opinions, and goals for a future in art. Prerequisite: Art major with senior standing. Fall semester.

AR 478 Scenography II 3

A project based course in theatrical design and the values, methods, and theories of scenography. Emphasis will be on the theatre design process, play analysis, visual arts analysis, research skills, and the application of principles and elements. The format of the course includes project lab sessions, discussion of scenographic theory and practices, group critiques of the process and projects, and creation of a professional design portfolio. Prerequisite: TA 278, AR 120, AR 124, or AR 220. Spring semester, odd years.

AR 491 Independent Study 1-4

AR 499H Senior Exhibition Project 2

Required of all majors in painting/drawing, printmaking, graphic design, and three dimensional ceramics, sculpture, mixed media) art tracks. Students complete and exhibit original artworks. Review by all faculty. Spring semester. Fee.

Fine Arts Courses

FA 101 Introduction to the Fine Arts

Integrates the disciplines of art, music, theatre and dance into an examination of the fine-arts experience. Examines elements, media, expressiveness. Periodic.

FA 300 British Culture through the Arts

Experience various aspects of English theatre and British culture through three weeks in London. Students are required to visit museums, art galleries, cathedrals, universities and other places of historical and cultural significance, as well as multiple chosen theatre and music events. Priority will be given to junior/senior students. Periodic.

FA 301 Power and Politics of Art: Italy/Germany

Exploration of the arts (primarily visual arts and music) in Rome, Florence, and Berlin, with emphasis on the arts in relation to history, culture, and political systems. Jan Term, odd years.

FA 304 The Arts in Christian Worship

Explore the ways that the arts have shaped and been shaped by Christian worship practice from the early church to the present, through study in Rome, Taize, and London. Students will visit cathedrals, museums, and other places of historical and cultural significance. Jan Term, even years.

FA 305 Christianity and the Arts in Italy

This course will lead students to the following Italian cities: Milan, Venice, Florence, Siena, Assisi and Rome. The goals of this program are to study and analyze historical and religious developments of Christianity in Italy with an additional emphasis on Christian fine arts. Students will face important political, religious and artistic issues that have shaped Italian Christianity and culture in the past and present. Periodic.

FA 309 Power and Politics of Art Prep Course

A survey of European art, history, and culture for students enrolled in the Jan Term Power and Politics of Art study program. Fall semester, even years. Must be accepted for Jan Term Power and Politics of Art study program.

FA 365 Fine Arts Culture in Britain

Taught when a faculty member from the Whitworth Theatre, Music or Art Department is part of the study program to the British Isles. Periodic offering.

Humanities Courses

HU 201 International Films

Professors from different disciplines present seven international films; students view films together and react to them through short papers. Learn about international cinematic traditions and film history. Also listed as FVNS 201. Fall semester.

HU 226H The Story of the Holy Grail

This course (taught in English) will examine Arthurian legends as recorded in the literary oeuvre of Chretien de Troyes of France. Students will read the original unfinished version of the quest of the Holy Grail and devise and film their own unique ending to this enduring legend. Also listed as EMS 226H. Periodic offering.

HU 300 Introduction to the Culture of the British Isles - Abroad

This course will provide a survey of the art, history, and literature of England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales. Required for and exclusive to students participating in the British Isles Study Program.

HU 302 French Civilization - Abroad Program Preparation

A survey of French history from the Gauls and Romans through the 19th century, with emphasis on contemporary French culture. Required for and exclusive to students participating in the France Study Program. Fall semester, every third year preceding the program.

HU 314 Tanzania Study Program: Preparation Course

This course is designed to equip you with the academic and logistical background you need to thrive on the Tanzania Study Program. The preparation course will prepare you to live in east Africa for a semester, and will include a primer for the courses you will take while in Tanzania.

Asian Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

asianstudies@whitworth.edu

The Asian studies minor was created out of recognition that the vast region labeled “Asia” has greatly influenced, and continues to influence, human experience throughout the world. Whether Asia is viewed as a source of world religions, as an area that encompasses half the earth’s population, as a region that reflects much of the economic growth of the last few decades, or as a microcosm of the diversity of political and economic policies, it is clear that gaining a better understanding of Asia requires an interdisciplinary approach. The Asian studies minor builds upon the strengths of courses in the social sciences and humanities that focus on Asia or on particular Asian countries. The confluence of these courses allows students to develop an integrated understanding of the region, to read difficult texts, to understand and formulate abstract ideas, and to make informed judgments about a world of many cultures. This focus on the “other” is fundamental to all students’ understanding of their own culture and to the values that shape their worldview. We hope that from this understanding students can begin to construct bridges across cultures.

The learning outcomes of the Asian studies minor prepare the student to...

- use an interdisciplinary framework to understand a foreign culture.
- understand and reflect on the cultures of Asia in relation to the student’s own culture.
- read and speak Japanese or Chinese at a level sufficient to begin study in either country.
- augment a student’s major coursework with a concentration in Asia.
- understand the role that Asia plays in shaping the contemporary world, as well as the ways in which outside forces have shaped Asia.

Requirements for an Asian Studies Minor (18)

Language: proficiency at the 202 level in Japanese or Chinese (no more than six language credits can count toward the minor)

Additional courses (must take courses in at least two disciplines):

AS 114/AR 114	Chinese Gardens and Temples
AS 102/HI 102	The Pacific World
AS 104/HI 104	Political History of Beijing
AS 105/HI 105	Cultural Odyssey of China
AS 304W/HI 304W	Political History of Beijing
AS 305W/HI 305W	Cultural Odyssey of China
AS 345/HI 345	Cultural History of China and Japan
AS 256/PH 256	Asian Philosophy
AS 346/HI 346	Modern China and East Asia
AS 344	Contemporary China and East Asia (Cross-listed as PO 346)
AS 347/PO 347	Globalization in Southeast Asia

See advisor for current applicable courses.

Foreign study: Students pursuing an Asian studies minor must complete at least three of their credits through a foreign study experience in an Asian country.

Biology

The Whitworth Biology Department desires to broadly educate students in the fundamentals of biological processes and organismal diversity, to train students in the practice of science, and to instill an ethic of scientific responsibility in a complex world. Ultimately, this experience will inform their worldviews, their understanding of God, and their roles in society.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students in the following areas:

Content

Graduates should have a broad base of factual information and principles in biology, including basic knowledge of all major organismic groups, biochemistry and metabolism, as well as the structural and functional components at all levels of biological organization. In addition, they should have reasonable depth in one subdiscipline of biology.

Synthesis: Graduates should be able to integrate and synthesize material from different subdisciplines of biology. This goes beyond simply having knowledge of different areas and should integrate subdisciplines of biology, relating biological processes at various levels of organization.

Communication

Biology graduates should be able to communicate with professional and lay audiences about biology. This skill includes the ability to communicate coherently in both oral and written forms, in plain language, about biological matters, and the ability to use discipline-specific formats, as appropriate, for professional audiences.

Critical Thinking

Graduates should be able to interpret biological research reports and journal articles and to analyze data. They should have the ability to design a useful, workable experiment to address a particular biological question and should be able to use problem-solving skills to modify a planned experimental approach.

Technical Proficiencies

Graduates should demonstrate basic laboratory “bench” skills common to the discipline (e.g., using a microscope, performing dilutions, operating a spectrophotometer); be familiar with field techniques such as sampling, habitat analysis, and collecting and preserving samples; follow and use experimental protocols, including recording and maintaining accurate data records; and understand the factors involved in maintaining and handling organisms – plants, animals and microbes – for study.

Research

The ability to conduct a research experiment incorporates many of the goals the faculty would like students to achieve – knowledge of content, synthesis, technical proficiencies and communication skills.

Requirements for a Biology Major, B.A. (45)

BI 140	General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution	4
BI 141	General Biology II: Organismal Diversity	4

One of the following:		3
BI 311	General Biochemistry
CH 401	Biochemistry I
Approved upper-division biology electives *		24
(For teacher certification, 4-12 endorsement, BI 333, 363 and 345 must be included.)
CH 161	General Chemistry I	3
CH 161L	General Chemistry I Lab	1
CH 181	General Chemistry II	3
CH 271	Organic Chemistry I	3

(No more than four credits of internships, independent study or cooperative studies, no more than two credits of teaching assistantships, no more than four credits of BI 400 – Biological Research, and no more than 6 total credits for any combination of the above will apply to the degree program.)

* One writing-intensive biology course is required.

For teacher certification (4-12 endorsement), the following additional courses are also required:

MA 256	Elementary Probability and Statistics	3
EDU 455	Science in Secondary School	2

All endorsements subject to change; see School of Education for updated requirements.

Requirements for a Biology Major, B.S. (58-59)

Environmental Studies Minor (21-23)

Requirements for the Environmental Studies minor are listed in the Environmental Studies page (p. 155).

Au Sable Institute

The Au Sable Institute is a Christian environmental-stewardship institute whose mission is to work to bring healing and wholeness to the biosphere and the whole creation through academic programs, research projects and educational outreach. Whitworth is a participating member of the institute. Coursework taken through the institute can be counted as elective credit toward completion of a biology degree. The following courses (this is a partial list) are offered during the summer at the Au Sable Pacific Rim campus (on Puget Sound, near Seattle). Other courses are offered at the following campuses: Au Sable Great Lakes (in the Great Lakes Forest, Mich.), Au Sable East (on the Chesapeake Bay, in Virginia), Au Sable Africa (near Nairobi, Kenya), and Au Sable India (in Tamil Nadu, South India). A full listing of Au Sable courses is available in the biology department.

BIO 266 Natural History of the Pacific Northwest (3)

Biology and environment of plants and animals, nature of the physical environment, and biogeography of the Pacific Rim, from a stewardship perspective.

BIO 311 Field Botany (4)

Field identification and ecology of vascular plants as components of natural communities. Emphasis is placed upon on-site examination of plants in communities of the region. Ecological features such as community stratification and plant zonation along ecological gradients are examined. Prerequisite: one year of introductory biology or one semester of botany.

BIO 324 Natural Resources Practicum (4)

Environmental analysis and natural resources in relation to people and policy in the Pacific Rim. The focus is on local and regional environmental issues and policy in the context of environmental stewardship. It deals with the topics of old-growth forests, endangered species, fisheries issues, conservation of wild nature, international environmental issues in the Pacific Rim, land tenure and environmental stewardship.

BIO 359 Marine Mammals (4)

Biology, behavior, ecology, identification, and conservation of the marine mammals of the Pacific Rim. Work covers some of the major habitats in Puget Sound, with particular attention to the diving physiology, social behavior, and communications of whales and seals. Prerequisite: one year of general biology or one semester of zoology.

BIO 417 Marine Stewardship (4)

Stewardship of marine habitats and marine organisms in the context of environmental issues and policy. Includes developing an understanding of the structure, function, and conservation issues regarding biotic communities and ecosystems of coastal zone, estuaries, islands and the sea. Prerequisite: one year of general biology.

BIO 477 Plant Ecology (4)

Interrelationships between plants and their physical and biotic environments; plant-animal interactions; plant community composition and development; and modern methods of ordination and quantitative analysis with applications to conservation and stewardship. Prerequisite: one year of biology and one course in ecology.

BIO 499 Biological Research (1-6)

Participation in an ongoing research project of the institute, or a research project conducted concurrently with an advanced course. Prerequisite: permission of professor or concurrent enrollment in an advanced course.

Interdisciplinary Courses

STEM 115 Preparing for a STEM Career

Students will learn about the type of scientific work they would enjoy, explore scientific careers, hear guest speakers, and understand the preparation necessary at the undergraduate level in order to succeed in their chosen career. Spring semesters. Recommended standing: Freshman.

STEM 151 Seminar for Health Professions

A seminar to introduce students to the pre-health fields. Visiting speakers will represent medical, dental and veterinary fields. Course will also cover specifics of courses, majors, and other issues related to pre-health fields. Spring semester.

STEM 351 Preparatory Seminar: Health Professions

A cross-disciplinary course focusing on synthesis of general biology, general chemistry, general physics, organic chemistry, physiology, NMR and IR spectroscopy. Strategic course for learning to apply introductory science/math knowledge to questions involving higher-order content. Intended for students planning to take the Medical College Admissions Test, Dental Aptitude Test, or veterinary-school entrance exams. Intended primarily for students in their junior or senior year. Students will prepare for health professions both in terms of the entrance exams and by researching each school's focus and prerequisites. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, CH 161, CH 181, CH 271, CH 278, PS 151, and PS 153.

Courses

BI 102 Introductory Biology

Contemporary understanding of the basic organization and function of biological systems and the nature and interdependence of living organisms. Emphasis on cell structure, the diversity of organisms, and physiology. Lab. Meets natural science requirement. Also listed as ENS 102.

BI 102L Lab: Introductory Biology

BI 104 Human Ecology

Nature, dynamics and interdependence of ecosystems in relation to the human biological and cultural niche. The ecological principles of energy flow, nutrient cycling, succession, limiting factors, species diversity and symbioses are utilized to diagnose global environmental problems such as global warming, acid precipitation, ozone depletion, desertification, species extinction, deforestation and resource depletion. No lab. For non-science majors. Periodic offering.

BI 105 Plants in Culture

Basic structures and life processes in plants. Survey of historical and contemporary uses of plants. Focus on ways in which human life is physically dependent on plants, and on the many ways in which human cultures reflect the specific plants available to them. No lab. For non-science majors. Meets natural science requirement. Also listed as ENS 105. Periodic offering.

BI 107 Infectious Diseases 3

Introduction to the structure, function and diversity of microorganisms that cause human disease. Microbial infections that complicate exposure to vacation climates, pets, recreational activities and exotic cuisine will be emphasized. For non-science majors. Meets natural science requirement. Periodic offering.

BI 108 Biology of Sex & Gender 3

Investigation of the biological basis of gender variation, sexual identity, reproduction and sexual development. Emphasis given to the developmental biology, neurobiology, endocrinology and physiology underlying human male and female form and function. No lab. For non-science majors. Meets natural science general requirement. Also listed as WGS 108. Periodic Jan Term offering.

BI 110 Introduction to Human Genetics 3

Mechanisms of inheritance which account for the vast genetic diversity within the human species, hereditary disease and genetic therapy, human genome project. No lab. For non-science majors. Periodic offering. Meets natural science requirement.

BI 111 Marine Biology 3

Introduction to life in the sea. Emphasis on the diversity of marine organisms and adaptations to marine habitats, marine ecosystems and food webs. No lab. For non-science majors. Meets natural science requirement. Also listed as ENS 111. Jan Term. Periodic offering.

BI 112 Biology of Northwest Agriculture 3

The biological concepts that underlie current topics in agriculture of the Northwest will be discussed. Popular views of the biological factors thought to play a role in agriculturally related issues will be compared to established hypothesis and theories. Meets natural science requirement. Jan Term. Periodic offering.

BI 113 Biological Evolution 3

Introduces major principles of evolutionary biology, including concepts of evolutionary genetics, adaption and natural selection, and speciation and macroevolution. Contemporary controversies surrounding the teaching of evolution are also discussed. No lab. For non-science majors. Meets natural science requirement. Jan Term. Periodic offering.

BI 114H Resurrection Science 3

This course will cover basic topics such as: how the genome (DNA) instructs cells to become a living organism, genome editing (mutations), de-extinction (bringing back extinct species), as well as the critical connection between our DNA and our health. We will also examine the important nature of communicating science in a digital world full of a wide variety of audiences. An important aspect of the course will address the ethical decisions we face regarding the use of genome editing technologies and how they should be regulated. These decisions will be especially examined within the Christian, faith-based framework from which many students on campus come from. However, we will make sure to take time to ensure that non-Christian viewpoints and heard as well.

BI 115 Conservation & Human Rights 3

Conservation of natural resources occurs in cultural contexts. Overview of the science behind conservation efforts. Consideration of costs and benefits for particular human groups.

BI 120 Introduction to Environmental Science 3

Overview of how science informs our approach to environmental concerns, with application to specific current environmental challenges, including water resources, energy, land use, biodiversity, and global change. Also discussed how faith integrates with science to shape our approach to the environment. Meets natural science requirement. Also listed as ENS 120. Spring semester.

BI 120H Introduction to Environmental Science 3

Overview of how science informs our approach to environmental concerns, with application to specific current environmental challenges, including water resources, energy, land use, biodiversity, and global change. Also discussed how faith integrates with science to shape our approach to the environment.

BI 140 General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution 4

Introduces cells as the structural and functional units of living systems, emphasizing molecular characteristics of cellular and biochemical processes in the context of cellular and subcellular organization. Topics covered include basic biological chemistry, cell and virus structure, energy utilization and metabolism, viral and cellular reproduction, genetics, evolutionary theory, systematics and phylogeny. In the laboratory portion of the course, students investigate cell structure, function, and genetics. This course is part of the introductory sequence of courses designed to assist students in developing critical reasoning skills and the necessary conceptual framework for advanced study in biology. Meets natural science requirement. Fall semester.

BI 140L General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution Lab 0

BI 141 General Biology II: Organismal Diversity 4

Evolutionary origin, taxonomic classification and unique anatomical, physiological and behavioral adaptations of protists, fungi, green plants, and animals. Lab. Prerequisite: BI 140. Spring semester.

BI 141L General Biology II: Organismal Diversity Lab 0

BI 204 Medical Microbiology 4

Microorganisms, especially bacteria and viruses of medical importance. Basic structure and physiology of microorganisms, principles and control of growth, antibiotics, a survey of infectious disease. Prerequisite: CH 102. Spring semester. For nursing majors only or by instructor permission.

BI 303 Plant Taxonomy 4

History, theories and methods of classification, identification, nomenclature and description. Role of taxonomy as a biological discipline. Types of taxonomic evidence. Descriptive terminology. Survey of selected families. Lab focuses on use and construction of diagnostic keys, identification of local flora, preparation of field data records and herbarium specimens. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 and BI 141. Also listed as BI 303W and ENS 303. Spring semester, even years.

BI 303L Lab: Plant Taxonomy 0

BI 304 Ecological Measures 4

This course will explore a number of fields of ecological research and management, focusing first on the reasons for measuring ecosystem attributes pertinent to each field, as well as covering sampling design, analysis, and common measurement techniques. Three required Saturday field trips. Prerequisite: BI 345. Also listed as BI 304W and ENS 304. Fall semester.

BI 304L Lab: Ecological Measures 0

See BI-304.

BI 305 Landscape Ecology 4

Landscape ecology is the study of the causes and consequences of landscape-scale pattern and process. Topics will include ecological scale, restoration ecology, disturbance ecology, ecological modeling, and geospatial ecological techniques. Includes 1 Saturday field trip. Prerequisite: BI 345. Also listed as BI 305W and ENS 305. Spring semester. Periodic offering.

BI 305L Lab: Landscape Ecology 0

BI 308 Biology of HIV/AIDS 3

Explores the biological, socioeconomic, political and religious factors that influence the transmission, life cycle, pathogenesis and treatment of the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). No lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 311. Jan Term, periodic offering.

BI 311 General Biochemistry 3

General biochemistry course for biology majors. Focus on biopolymers, energy flow and chemical processes in living systems. No lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 & BI 141, CH 161, CH 181 & CH 271. Every semester.

BI 312 Vocational Preparation for Biology Grad School 1

This course focuses on how to apply successfully to a biology graduate program suited to the students future vocational goals. Improving skills that engage primary literature is also addressed. Various speakers will share information about graduate programs and their personal professional trajectories.

BI 321 Invertebrate Biology/Symbiosis 3

Invertebrate Biology takes a thematic, non-phylogenetic approach to invertebrate animals, the various phenomena they exhibit, and appreciation for the diversity of solutions they employ in the common challenges of life. Symbiotic biology examines the major categories of interdependent associations involving partners in all five kingdoms. Mechanisms by which symbioses are established, maintained and propagated, and the ecological and evolutionary significance of such relationships are examined.

BI 323 Animal Physiology 4

Anatomical, physiological and behavioral adaptations of animals to their particular habitats. Lectures focus on respiration in air and water, circulation, metabolism, temperature limits and thermoregulation, osmotic adaptations and excretion, and amoeboid, flagellar, ciliary, and muscular movement. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, CH 271 and BI 311 or CH 401. Also listed as BI 323W. Junior standing. Fall semester.

BI 323L Lab: Animal Physiology 0

BI 324 Animal Behavior 4

The study of the mechanisms and evolution of animal behavior. Topics include methods of observation and quantification of behavior, natural selection, sexual selection, evolution of animal choice, and the biological basis of all social interactions. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 and BI 141. Also listed as ENS 324. Also listed as BI 324W. Fall semester, odd years.

BI 324L Lab: Animal Behavior 0

BI 331 Plant Physiology 4

Water relations, mineral absorption and nutrition, translocation mechanisms, respiration, photosynthesis, nitrogen metabolism, growth regulators, photomorphogenesis, senescence and stress physiology. Focus on vascular plants. Lab emphasizes whole organism responses. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, BI 311, and CH 271. Also listed as BI 331W and ENS 331. Spring semester, odd years.

BI 331L Plant Physiology Lab 0

BI 333 Evolutionary Biology 3

Study of the evolutionary paradigm that unifies the science of biology. Origin, refinement and the contemporary form of evolutionary theory, with the objective of understanding its use in organizing the data, ideas and research of the biological sciences. The study will critique some of the popular caricatures of the evolutionary paradigm. No lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 and BI 141; junior standing recommended. Also listed as BI 333W and LS 333. Spring semester, even years.

BI 339 Intro to Field Studies 1

Theoretical and logistical preparation for the field study tour the following Jan Term. Activities will prepare students for field work at an off campus location. Permission of instructor only. Limited enrollment. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 345. Fall semester.

BI 341 Central American Field Ecology 4

Field-based course that provides a unique context to perform student designed research in three Central American ecosystems in Costa Rica. Course will focus on field data collection, analysis, and reporting for ecological systems. Requires extensive time outdoors in conditions ranging from wet and cold to hot and dry. Also listed as ENS 341.

BI 345 Ecology 4

Fundamental relationships and processes by which organisms interact with each other and their physical environment. Focus on physiological adaptations, population growth and regulation, community and ecosystem structure and function, and biogeography. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 and BI 141. Also listed as BI 345W and ENS 345. Spring semester.

BI 345L Lab: Ecology 0

BI 346 Field Parasitology 3

Field-based course exploring the interaction between parasites and hosts. Parasites in Northeastern Washington will be studied in relation to prevalence, location and affect upon the host. Organisms in the animal, plant, fungi, and protista kingdoms will be considered. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, BI 345, and BI 323 or BI 331. By permission of instructor. Periodic Jan Term offering.

BI 350 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy 4

Variations of the basic vertebrate theme that enable the species within the group to exploit the particular environment. Evolutionary development of major organ systems within vertebrate classes. Anatomical features of carnivore, herbivore and omnivore mammals will be discussed in detail. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140 and BI 141. Also listed as BI 350W. Spring semester.

BI 350L Lab: Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy 0

Lab section for BI 350.

BI 354 Developmental Biology 4

Developmental processes and patterns of form and function in multicellular organisms, particularly animals. Emphasis on molecular, cellular and environmental factors regulating gene activity, cellular differentiation, and pattern formation during various developmental sequences. Descriptive, comparative and experimental lab activities focus on chordate embryology, specifically gametogenesis, fertilization, cleavage, gastrulation and organogenesis. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 311 or CH 401; junior standing. Also listed as BI 354W and LS 354. Fall semester. Annually.

BI 354L Lab: Developmental Biology 0

BI 363 Genetics 4

Mechanisms that contribute to and maintain intraspecific diversity: meiosis, allelic segregation, chromosomal assortment, dominance-recessive allelic relationships, hybridization, multiple alleles, epistasis, linkage and recombination, polygenic inheritance and mutation. Population genetics, especially the factors that alter relative frequencies of gene pool alleles. Genetic molecules and the processes by which they are replicated, mutated and expressed. Human genetic diseases. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and CH 271. Also listed as BI 363W. Fall semester.

BI 363L Lab: Genetics 0

Corequisite course: BI 363.

BI 369 Mycology 4

Aspects of growth, metabolism, genetics and environmental modification peculiar to fungi. Distinguishing characteristics of major fungal groups. Lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 311. Also listed as BI 369W and ENS 369.

BI 369L Lab: Mycology 0

BI 370 Bacterial Pathogenesis 4

This course uses the latest experimental research to help students explore the mechanisms by which bacterial pathogens cause infection and disease in humans. The focus is on the growing understanding of the underlying similarities among pathogens and their mechanisms of pathogenesis. Students will learn how to read and interpret the primary scientific literature in bacterial pathogenesis. They will also learn microbiological laboratory techniques, and apply them in experimental problems. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, BI 311 or CH 401. Also listed as BI 370W. Fall.

BI 399 Molecular Genetics 3

Contemporary molecular genetics: the organization, storage, retrieval and transfer of genetic information at the molecular level. Topics include the chemical and physical properties of nucleic acids, DNA replication, transcription, translation, mutagenesis, DNA repair, gene regulation and expression, techniques of experimental molecular biology and applications to biotechnology. Viral, prokaryotic, and eukaryotic systems examined. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, and BI 311 or CH 401; junior standing. Also listed as BI 399W. Spring semester.

BI 399L Molecular Genetics Lab 1

Techniques for manipulation and study of DNA. Co-requisite: BI 399 or BI 399W.

BI 400 Biological Research 1-4

Individual student experimental-laboratory or field-research projects. Projects to be approved by department faculty. Prerequisite: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 311 and upper-division coursework in biology and other sciences pertinent to research project. Fall and spring semesters, Jan Term and summer.

BI 401 Seminar 1

Presentation and discussion of results of literature and laboratory investigations of biological phenomena. Departmental sessions. Prerequisites: 12 credits of 300- or 400- level biology courses. Periodic offering.

BI 404 Neurophysiology 3

Structural and functional aspects of the central nervous system of mammals. Basic neuroanatomy, nerve transmission, synaptic function and neuronal control mechanisms. Current research and contemporary topics related to central nervous system function will be investigated. Prerequisite: BI 140, BI 141, and BI 311 or CH 401. Also listed as BI 404W. Spring semester, odd years.

BI 412 Cell Physiology 3

Cell ultrastructure and molecular aspects of cell function. Emphasis on structural and molecular organization of eukaryotic cells and organelles, the regulation and compartmentalization of metabolic activities, cell cycles and reproduction, cellular differentiation and cell interactions. No lab. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, and BI 230, BI 311 or CH 401. Junior standing. Also listed as BI 412W. Spring semester, even years.

BI 447 Microbial Physiology 4

Ultrastructure, metabolic variations, genetics, ecology and evolution of prokaryotic organisms. Emphasis on the importance of bacteria in the study of various biological processes, as well as on the practical and technological importance and ecological significance of bacteria. Laboratory focus on techniques for isolating, culturing, and identifying bacteria, and on characterizing and studying their genetic and metabolic processes. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and BI 311. Also listed as BI 447W.

BI 447L Lab: Microbial Physiology 0

BI 448 Environmental Microbiology 4

This course will examine the applied effects of microorganisms on the environment and on human activity, health and welfare. The role of microbes in municipal waste treatment, bioremediation and agriculture will be discussed. The laboratory component of the course will explore the detection and quantitation of microbial activity, including cultural, microscopic, physiological and molecular approaches. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141 and CH 271. Also listed as BI 448W and ENS 448. Spring semester, odd years.

BI 448L Lab: Environmental Microbiology 0

Business and Economics

The Whitworth School of Business comprises the department of business & economics, the organizational management program for the adult learner seeking a baccalaureate degree, and the following graduate programs: the master in business administration (MBA) and the MBA in international management (MBA in IM).

The Whitworth School of Business provides an education of mind and heart in the liberal arts tradition based on Christian principles. We develop adept and moral professionals engaged with their communities and world through an integrated curriculum that emphasizes technical expertise, practical application, and experiential learning.

To accomplish this purpose, the Whitworth School of Business...

1. recruits and retains diverse faculty and staff committed to Christian principles. The WSB believes that teaching excellence, research and practical experience are essential dimensions of the learning experience and education process.
2. conducts research and other professional engagement to inform our teaching, and applies discipline-based research of interest to scholars, students and/or organizations.
3. fosters and maintains a learning environment that emphasizes the following elements:
 - analytical and critical thinking and experiential learning by integrating the theory/knowledge of essential business and economics concepts into real-world settings.
 - the provision of intellectual tools (e.g., ethical reasoning, historical, political and cultural analysis) that help students/graduates function effectively and responsibly.
 - the integration of Christian faith and learning through the reflective exploration of the meaning and purpose of a career in business.

School of Business Residency Policy:

The Whitworth School of Business requires that students complete at least 50 percent of all upper-division core business courses and at least 50 percent of their concentration-requirement courses at Whitworth University.

Double-Concentration Policy:

Students who pursue more than one BBA concentration cannot double-count a course toward multiple concentration requirements except in the following specific situation:

1. BU 377 Financial Statement Analysis can count toward both the accounting and finance concentrations.

Students who add the accounting minor to another BBA concentration cannot double-count a course toward multiple requirements except in the following specific situations:

1. BU 377 Financial Statement Analysis can count toward the finance concentration and as an elective course toward the accounting minor.
2. Any ONE accounting minor elective course can also count as one of the two required BBA business core elective courses.

"Double-count" means one course fulfills two different program requirements. Students will not receive a double number of credits.

Organizational Management and Management & Accounting Degree Programs:

For program and course description information, see Undergraduate-Adult Degree Programs (p. 346).

Prerequisites for all Department of Business & Economics Concentrations

A grade of “C” or better is required for the prerequisites listed below.

1. Prior to the sophomore year:

CS 125	Business Information Systems	3
Requirement for Economics or Finance concentrations.		4
One of the following:
MA 158	Calculus for Social Sciences
MA 171	Calculus I
Requirement for concentrations other than Economics or Finance.		4
One of the following:
MA 108	Finite Mathematics for Social Sciences
MA 150	Pre-Calculus
MA 158	Calculus for Social Sciences
MA 171	Calculus I

2. Prior to, or during, the junior year:

MA 256	Elementary Probability and Statistics	3

Note: BU 296, 396, and 496 courses will apply toward this requirement. See advisor for details.

Note: A student declared under one of the listed concentrations can take a required course for a different concentration as their core elective as long as the prerequisites are met. Students may not use the same course as an elective and as a required course should they decide to change concentrations.

One of the following (Experiential Requirement): 3

BU 338 Voluntary Income Tax

BU 406 Business Plan Competition

BU 480 Field Studies

BU 490 Internship

One of the following (Global Understanding Requirement):

(to be approved by advisor prior to graduation)

Option 1: Participate in a Whitworth Study Abroad Program, International Studies Exchange Program (ISEP), or International Business Institute (IBI). Global Understanding related courses approved under Study Abroad, ISEP, or IBI programs may substitute for BBA Core Requirements or Elective courses with the approval of student's advisor.

Option 2: Achieve a minimum of 200 level foreign language proficiency (sign language does not apply). To fulfill this requirement, a student may take 201 and 202 level foreign language classes. CLEP or Dante exams will not be accepted. Credits earned under the foreign language Global Understanding option would not apply to the total for the BBA program but would apply to the total credits required for graduation.

Option 3: 6 additional credits to be chosen from the following:

Courses with an approved Global Perspective designation at the 200 level or above (this does not include BU 311 which is a BBA core requirement) OR any of the courses listed below:

Business Courses

BU 110 Introduction to Business and Management 3

An overview of management issues in a global business environment: organizations, finance, marketing, accounting, entrepreneurship, economics, vocation planning, and socially responsible management. Also listed as LS 110. Periodic offering.

BU 120 Career & Vocation Development 3

This course assists students in recognizing career potential, providing tools for making decisions to meet educational and occupational objectives. Students will gain an understanding of how they contribute to and help shape the work environment. Topics include job and employer research; resume development and interviewing skills; understanding work-place personality; and skills for organization and self-management. For continuing studies students only.

BU 218 Marketing 3

Introduction to how organizations find, attract and retain customers via the use of the marketing mix in an increasingly competitive and global environment. Also listed as EP 218. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 220 Personal Financial Management 3

Practical information in the handling of personal business affairs. Career planning; insurance (life, health, property); home-buying or renting; investing in stocks, bonds and real estate; estate planning. No prerequisite for lower division. Upper-division credit by permission. Periodic offering.

BU 230 Financial Accounting 3

A study of the fundamental processes of accounting applied to services and merchandising proprietorships, partnerships and corporations. Analyzing, classifying and recording business transactions; preparation and analysis of financial statements. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 231 Managerial Accounting 3

Introduction to ways in which management uses accounting information for planning, pricing and controlling and for many special decision-making situations. Prerequisites: BU 230 and either MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 240 Business Law 3

A consideration of the laws affecting business transactions. Introduction to law, court systems, torts, criminal law, sales and real property. Prerequisites: Sophomore standing. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 248 Computerized Business Analysis 3

Solutions to business problems using the computerized spreadsheet, elementary database and presentation software. Prerequisites: CS 110 or CS 125 and BU 230. Periodic offering.

BU 274 Principles of Management 3

A study of the theory and practice of management of organizations, with emphasis on strategy, structure, effective use of human resources, planning, organizing, integrating and controlling functions. Also listed as EP 274. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 301 Consumer Behavior 3

A study of factors that influence the buying behavior of consumers. The relationship between understanding these variables in selected markets and an effective marketing effort will be emphasized. Prerequisite: BU 343. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Spring semester.

BU 303 Human Resources: Strategy & Development 3

A comprehensive review of the HR functions within organizations. Key areas of focus include: strategic workforce planning, assessment of learning & development goals, talent acquisition systems, and an overview of strategic HR data analytics and measurement. Also addressed are the design, communication and evaluation of compensation & benefits systems. For continuing studies evening students only.

BU 305 Dean's Executive Speaker Series 3

This course explores the various ways that individuals become successful business leaders. Each week will consist of a lecture and a discussion led by a top executive from the Spokane community. The speakers will share their professional biographies - how they got their start, what happened to them, successes and failures, and what they are doing now. They will also tell us what they have learned about marketing, management, leadership, and life during their careers. Finally, they will provide suggestions and guidance to help you successfully navigate the cross-currents of the business world. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing. Periodic offering.

BU 311 Principles of International Business 3

Introduction to and survey of the complex business and economic issues in an international commercial environment. Includes exposure to global marketing, management, finance, economics and accounting issues, integration of cross-cultural communications, history, politics, religion, gender and equity issues, and culture around the globe. Fulfills Global Perspective GE requirement. Prerequisites: BU 218 and either EC 210 or EC 211. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 158 or MA 171 recommended if declared Economics or Finance concentration. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 314 Introduction to Operations Management 3

This course will examine the concepts, processes, and methods of managing and controlling operations in manufacturing or service settings at the introductory level. Current issues such as globalization, supply chain strategy, quality control, scheduling and queuing are discussed. For continuing studies evening students only.

BU 318 Applied Marketing 3

Successful organizations need to find, attract and retain customers. This course teaches students to apply marketing fundamentals in an increasingly competitive and global environment. For continuing studies evening students only.

BU 320 Occupational Fraud & Abuse 3

In this course students will learn about the nature of fraud, its perpetrators and the compelling factors that lead to fraud. Students will evaluate various fraud schemes, prevention & detection methods, and the legal implications for companies and criminals. Prerequisite: BU 230 and junior standing. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Periodic Jan Term offering.

BU 323 Career Management & Development 3

This course will address professional and personal development for students interested in pursuing careers in business. Throughout the course students will learn tangible skills needed to succeed in the business world while implementing ways to integrate their Christian faith into their vocation. Students will become familiar with the current hiring environment and explore ways to be the most competitive and prepared candidate post-graduation.

BU 326 The Small Bus Entrepreneur 3

This course covers all aspects of business start-up beginning with identifying a product, selection of an entity, business and marketing plans. The tax environment of business will be explored. Investigating financial viability and researching types and sources of funding will be an integral part of the curriculum. Students who want to understand all pieces of starting a business from scratch or expanding their small start-up should take this course. For continuing studies students only.

- BU 327 Introduction to Time Value of Money 1
This course presents an introduction to the time value of money. Through a set of exercises and problems students learn about compound interest, present and future values, annuities, loans and bonds. Topics in capital budgeting are presented which include NPV & IRR. Students also compute the weighted cost of capital and use it to evaluate projects. For continuing studies evening students only.
- BU 330 Fund Accounting and Budget Management 3
Overview of the accounting procedures associated with governmental and agency needs. Preparation of required reports and related documents; special focus on monitoring performance. For continuing studies students only.
- BU 331 Project Management 3
This courses discusses the factors necessary for successful project management. Topics include project management concepts, needs identification, the project manager, teams, project organizations, project communications, project planning, scheduling, control and associated costs. Project management software tools will be an integral part of the course. For continuing studies evening students only.
- BU 332 Cost Accounting 3
Emphasis on the mechanics and applications of accounting principles and concepts for planning, control and decision-making. Cost behavior, cost-volume-profit relationships, responsibility accounting, standard costing, budgeting, relevant costing for non-routine decisions, capital budgeting. Prerequisites: BU 230, BU 231, and junior standing. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall or spring semester. Periodic offering.
- BU 333 Accounting Systems and Theory 3
Foundations of accounting concepts and theories with emphasis on the role of information in decision making within and about organizations. Introduction to accounting systems controls and designs. Prerequisites: BU 230, BU 231, and CS 125. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall or spring semester. Periodic offering.
- BU 334 Intermediate Accounting I 4
Modern accounting theory and practice. Analysis of the determination of income and asset evaluation. Analysis of financial statements; special financial accounting and reporting problems. Explores both US GAAP and IFRS guidelines. Prerequisites: BU 230 and BU 231. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall semester.
- BU 335 Intermediate Accounting II 4
Second semester of modern accounting theory and practice. Analysis of the determination of income and asset evaluation. Analysis of financial statements; special financial accounting and reporting problems. Explores both US GAAP and IFRS guidelines. Prerequisites: BU 334. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Spring semester.
- BU 336 Introduction to Taxation 4
A study of the concepts involved in determination of federal income tax liability, preparation of tax returns. Individual tax problems, tax planning. Prerequisites: BU 230 and junior standing. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall semester.
- BU 337 Microsoft Project Workshop 1

An optional workshop offered concurrently with BU 331 that introduces students to Microsoft Project software. Students work independently in a computer lab on a series of increasingly difficult exercises using the most widely accepted project management software. Using Microsoft's Project 2010 Step by Step workbook, the students complete a series of 12 problems that gradually increase from simple to complex. These Microsoft-developed problems are designed to challenge the student while also helping them explore the feature-rich Microsoft Project 2010 software product. Instructor support is available before or after class and on an as needed basis. For continuing studies students only.

BU 338 Voluntary Income Tax 0-2

Students apply knowledge and skills learned from coursework to a service context preparing federal tax filings for low-income and elderly taxpayers. Students qualify by exam for the IRS and are technically trained on tax software for preparation and e-filing. Jan Term and spring semester. Prerequisite: BU 336.

BU 341 Customer Relationship and Channel Management 3

An examination of buyer-seller relations and the methods for distribution of products and services with the objective of developing high customer satisfaction and long-term customer relationships. Areas of focus will include the sales and sales support functions, and development of effective distribution channels. Prerequisites: BU 218. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Periodic Offering.

BU 343 Market Research 3

A study of contemporary methods of gathering, analyzing and interpreting marketing information and how such information can be used in organizational decision-making. Prerequisites: BU 218, MA 256. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall semester.

BU 352 Human Behavior in Organizations 3

This course is designed to provide theoretical perspectives and empirical knowledge regarding human behavior as it relates to the organization. Emphasis is placed on the impact and implications of individual values, perceptions, motivation, diversity, growth and development as they relate to organizational culture and expectations. For continuing studies students only.

BU 353W Organizational Development and Change 3

This course examines organizational theory, development and change from several different perspectives, or frames: (1)structural, (2)human resources, (3)political, and (4)symbolic. Leadership, development of organizational strategies, and objective goal-setting will be explored. For continuing studies students only.

BU 354 Management of Human Resources 3

A contemporary view of human-resource management. Emphasis is placed on the basic function of human-resource management, i.e., planning, recruitment, diversity, selection, training, performance appraisal, compensation and union/management relations. For continuing studies students only.

BU 355 Managerial Accounting and Finance 3

This course will examine "the language of business" and provide an overview of key accounting and financial information that will assist managers in making sound business decisions that are based on standard financial analysis methods. Students will learn to read and understand business financial statements. For continuing studies students only.

BU 356 Managerial Marketing 3

A study of the working knowledge of marketing management and learning to think strategically and to apply marketing theory in a manner that aligns marketing initiatives with market opportunities. Students will be able to understand the functional strategies and marketing plans to optimize customer and organizational value. For continuing studies students only.

BU 357 Financial Management 3

Analysis of role of chief financial officer. Study of the tools of financial analysis and decision-making. Emphasis on management of revenues and expenses, assets and liabilities. Information about raising of capital from the sale of stocks and bonds. Prerequisites: BU 230, BU 231, EC 210 or EC 211, and junior standing. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 158 or MA 171 recommended if declared Economics or Finance concentration. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 360 Managing Nonprofit Organizations 3

Designed for individuals who work or desire to work in a nonprofit environment and seek to gain understanding and skill relating to effective management of these entities. Students will explore the legal, administrative and organizational issues surrounding not-for-profits and how to use management theory to increase productivity and delivery of services to the community. For continuing studies students only.

BU 361 Lean Management 3

This course explores streamlining business processes through the application of quality management principles to create globally competitive business entities. The course takes concepts beyond the factory floor to service and retail environments; it is designed for anyone who is interested in a career in management of either a for-profit or not-for-profit entity. For continuing studies students only.

BU 363W Small Business Management 3

Comprehensive coverage of all the operational areas involved in selecting and getting a business started. Business plans, funding, and market analysis are included. Local resources to share opportunities and problems. Prerequisites: BU 230, EC 210 or EC 211, and junior standing. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Periodic offering.

BU 365 Management Information Systems 3

This class is intended as an overview of typical management information systems beyond Microsoft Office. At the end of this class, students will have an overall understanding of how information systems work and will be able to address information system issues facing businesses today from a managerial, organizational, technological, and ethical standpoint. Students will be exposed to basic database management systems and data communication systems as well as more advanced information technologies, such as enterprise resource planning systems, business intelligence, and Web 2.0. Prerequisites: CS 125. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Spring semester.

BU 367 Fundamentals of Investing 3

This course will provide the student with a solid foundation of the core investment concepts and tools. The course will cover the overall structure of the market and study equities, fixed income, options, mutual funds, commodities/futures as well as some alternative investments. The course will also look at risk and return and the modern portfolio theory. The course will consist of lecture, discussion, presentations and guest lecturers. Prerequisite: BU 357. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Jan Term or spring semester. Periodic offering.

BU 372 Risk Management 3

Risk management professionals look at specific projects or initiatives, assess the potential damage that could occur to any involved parties and set plans for dealing with it. This course is designed to be an introduction to the practice of predicting risks and preparing steps to minimize the damage to an organization if certain events happen. Topics such as natural disasters, computer safety or equipment failure will be discussed. Students seeking careers in management of any type of entity will be benefited by the material presented in this course. For continuing studies students only.

BU 373 Human Resource Management 3

Changes in our social and economic environment have resulted in changes in the management of an organization's human resources. This course is designed to provide a contemporary view of human resource management. Emphasis is placed on the basic functions of human resource management, i.e. planning, recruitment, selection, training, performance appraisal, compensation, and union/management relations. Fall and spring semesters.

- BU 376 Global Operation/Supply Chain Management 3
Decision-making involving the management of all aspects of operations in both large-and medium-sized business organizations and in product and service companies. Study of the quantitative tools used in making these analyses and decisions. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Must have met departmental requirements of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 256 recommended.
- BU 377 Financial Statement Analysis 3
This course will provide you with tools to analyze and exploit information in corporate financial statements. The course will teach you how to use financial statement information for firm valuation and other economic decisions. The course will also help you understand and analyze the issues that corporate managers face as they design and implement financial reporting strategies, increasing your ability to assess accounting quality, and detect and undo earnings management. Prerequisites: BU 230, BU 231, and BU 357. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 158 or MA 171 recommended if declared Finance concentration. Spring semester.
- BU 381 International Business Abroad 3
Establishes a basic understanding of the theory and practical application of the "hows" and "whys" of a particulate international culture abroad, particularly as it relates to the historic, present and future challenges of that economy and to doing business with various people groups at home and abroad. Business models unique to non-American cultures will be explored in depth. Also listed as AS 381.
- BU 382 International Business Abroad Semester Module 4
Establishes a basic understanding of the theory and practical application of a particular international culture abroad, specifically how it relates to the historic, present, and future challenges of that economy in relation to conducting business with various groups both at home and abroad. This course is offered as part of a semester long study program only.
- BU 387 Financial Institutions & Markets 3
The course will analyze the risks faced by investors and savers interacting through both financial institutions and financial markets. It will examine strategies that can be adopted to control and better manage these risks. Special emphasis will be put on new areas of operations in financial markets and institutions such as asset securitization, off-balance sheet activities and globalization of financial services. Prerequisite: BU 357. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Jan Term or spring semester. Periodic offering.
- BU 402 International Management 3
Principles of management in the international environment. Strategic planning and decision-making in such areas as international marketing. Concepts of organizational design, leadership and control. Prerequisites: BU 311. Periodic offering.
- BU 405 Business Plan Preparation 3
The course will provide an in-depth study of the business plan, its production and importance in today's business environment. The student will work in a team with faculty and outside mentor support to develop a plan that could be entered into the regional competition. An important goal of the course is to provide the student with the understanding of the relationship between theory and actual business operations as they develop and present their plan. Prerequisites: BU 218 and BU 230. Periodic offering.
- BU 406 Business Plan Competition 3
The course will provide an in-depth study of the business plan, its production and importance in today's business environment. The student will work in a team with faculty and outside mentor support to develop a plan that could be entered into the regional competition. An important goal of the course is to provide the student with the understanding of the relationship between theory and actual business operations as they develop and present their plan. Prerequisites: BU 218 and BU 230. Periodic offering.
- BU 410 Global Strategic Management 3

Capstone course for business majors, integrating the functions of marketing, operations and finance from the strategic vantage point of the general manager. Case studies. Prerequisites: BU 357, and senior standing. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 411 Human Resources: Compliance & Risk Management 3

Topics include job analysis and documentation, employee records management, key legislation on employee rights (EEO, affirmative action, discrimination and harassment), with particular emphasis given to diversity & inclusion, risk management, and corporate social responsibility. The impact of key federal laws and regulations on occupational health, safety and security will also be covered. For continuing studies students only.

BU 420 Personal Financial Management 3

Practical information in the handling of personal business affairs. Career planning; insurance (life, health, property); home-buying or renting; investing in stocks, bonds and real estate; estate planning. No prerequisites for lower division. Upper-division credit by permission. Periodic offering.

BU 425 Organizational Behavior 3

A general descriptive and analytical study of organizations from the behavioral science perspective. Problems of motivation, leadership, morale, social structure, groups, communications, hierarchy and control in complex organizations. Interaction among technology, environment and human behavior. Alternate theoretical models. Prerequisite: BU 274. Also listed as LS 425. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 434 Advanced Accounting I 3

Emphasis on intercorporate investments and preparation of consolidated financial statements. Introduction to advanced topics and current problems in financial accounting, partnership accounting, report theory and practice, including foreign currency transactions. Prerequisites: BU 334 and BU 335. Periodic offering.

BU 435 Governmental and Not-For-Profit Accounting 3

A study of accounting and financial reporting standards for governmental and not-for-profit organizations. Prerequisites: BU 335. Periodic offering.

BU 436 Advanced Taxation 3

A continuing study of the concepts involved in determination of federal income tax liability and preparation of tax returns. Partnership and corporate tax problems, tax planning, introduction to tax research included. Prerequisite: BU 336. Periodic offering.

BU 440 Advanced Business Law 3

A continuing study of the laws affecting business transactions. Introduction to commercial transactions including the Uniform Commercial Code, various advanced topics such as environmental, computer, employee and international laws. Useful for accounting majors. Prerequisite: BU 240. Periodic offering.

BU 448 Integrated Marketing Communication 3

An in-depth study and application of the role, theory, tools, planning and management of integrated marketing communications. Students will explore communication with customers using various components of the promotional mix through multiple channels such as television, radio, print, direct marketing, outdoor and digital. BU 301. Fall Semester.

BU 450W Social and Ethical Issues in Business and Economics 3

Contemporary social, political, environmental and ethical forces affecting today's business and economic world. Seminar format. Dialogue with top local business, government and union leaders. Also listed as EC 450W. Fall and spring semesters.

BU 453W Organizational Theory 3

Course examines organizational theory, development and change from several perspectives. Explores leadership and development of organizational strategies and objective setting. Also listed as LS 453W. Periodic offering.

BU 455W Chaos Theory, Leadership and Management 3

A capstone course in leadership theory. Application of theory and practice to personal philosophy of leadership and how that applies to future vocational objectives. Translation of theory into practice through a major course proposal. Project. Also listed as LS 455 Jan Term.

BU 457 Employment Laws and Regulations 3

An exploration of employment laws and regulations as they relate to avoiding claims for wrongful termination, ensuring equal employment opportunity, understanding affirmative action obligations and developing sound human resource policies and practice. For continuing studies students only.

BU 458 Strategic Management 3

This course examines the nature of competition and competitive advantage that are the foundations of business strategy. Theories and frameworks to support the analysis and formulation of successful business strategies are reviewed and applied to a broad range of industries and firms. For continuing studies students only.

BU 461 Ethics in Management 3

This course will raise foundational issues in connection with ethical values, and will apply those values in the context of organizations. Ethical principles and the process of applying those principles will be addressed, integrating Christian principles with standard ethical inquiry. For continuing studies students only.

BU 463 Project Management 3

In this course we will review best practices in project management. We will cover specific methodologies and techniques for project initiation, project planning, and project control. Throughout we will emphasize the interplay of people, process, and technology that results in well-rounded project management excellence. A combination of simulation, Microsoft Project, and student-developed plans will be used to apply and reinforce the best practice concepts throughout the course. Periodic offering.

BU 466W Principles of Auditing 3

Standards, objectives and ethics for auditors in public accounting. Reporting standards, internal control, evidence and statistical sampling. Prerequisite: BU 334. Spring semester.

BU 467 Advanced International Corporate Finance 3

This course will study capital investment decisions and project analysis as well short term financial planning and management. The course will study the foundations of international management which include foreign exchange exposure and management. The course will also study how international firms manage their businesses which include FDI, capital structure, capital budgeting and management and multinational cash management. Prerequisite: BU 357, BU 377, and BU 387. Fall semester.

BU 476 Accounting Current Topics 3

Course explores current topics in accounting and their application to business settings. Students will gain a comprehensive overview of accounting.

BU 477 Forad: Multi-National Finance 3

This course applies the theories of managerial and international finance to the problems of multinational treasury management. Topics include issues and techniques in multinational funds transfers; identifying and measuring foreign exchange and interest rate risk; multinational tax planning; managing foreign exchange and interest rate risk; hedging instruments, including forward contracts, options, and swaps; and financially engineered synthetics. Students also manage the financial functions of a computer-simulated multinational corporation, construct a biennial report summarizing their management results, and present oral reports to a board of directors consisting of professors and invited business professionals. Prerequisite: BU 467. Spring semester.

BU 480 Field Studies 1-4

Field Studies

BU 489 Marketing Strategy 3

An integrative experience that allows students to understand the relationships between various aspects of marketing and other functional areas of business. Students will study the development of comprehensive marketing plans. Prerequisite: BU 448. Spring semester.

BU 490 Internship 1-12

See information on Directed Studies page.

BU 493 Entrepreneurial Development 3

A practical hands-on consulting experience whereby students work with local entrepreneurs in developing business plans and competing for sustainable financing of a small business. Requires completion of business core except BU 410. Periodic offering.

Economics Courses

EC 210 Principles of Microeconomics 3

Economics of the consumer and the firm; principles of market supply and demand and the determination of prices; analysis of competitive, monopolistic and oligopolistic markets; labor and other resource-input markets. Fulfills Social Science GE requirement. Prerequisites: MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 158 or MA 171 recommended if declared Economics or Finance concentration. Fall and spring semesters.

EC 211 Principles of Macroeconomics 3

Examination of problems of unemployment, inflation, productivity, and economic growth; measurement of national income; Keynesian and classical theories of national income determination; fiscal and monetary policies and their implications; international economics. Fulfills Social Science GE requirement. Prerequisites: MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. MA 158 or MA 171 recommended if declared Economics or Finance concentration. Fall and spring semesters.

EC 245 Economics of Social Issues 3

Economic thinking about social problems such as population growth, price controls, poverty, higher education, energy, crime, pollution, consumerism, health care, social and economic inequality, unemployment, inflation, taxation and the public debt. Periodic offering.

EC 250 Environment and Society 3

Studies the role of markets, governments, and civil society in shaping the way people behave toward the environment, focusing on the concept of sustainability in terms of society, economics and the environment. Because people interact in a variety of ways, the course moves from local to global and focuses on issues at each level. Also listed as DS/PO 250. Also listed as ENS 250. Periodic offering.

EC 301 Money and Banking 3

Nature, function and regulation of money and credit. Review of the financial institutions that control domestic and international monetary policy. Prerequisites: BU 230, EC 210, and EC 211. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Periodic offering.

EC 320 Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis 3

Theory of consumer and producer behavior; determination of price under various market structures; resource allocation and income distribution; general equilibrium analysis; application of economic principles to social problems. Prerequisites: EC 210 and EC 211. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Fall semester.

EC 321 Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3

Analysis of Keynesian, classical and other models of national income determination; fiscal and monetary policy; evaluation of the impact of international trade and capital flows on national income; theories of economic growth; macroeconomic history of the U.S. Prerequisites: EC 210 and EC 211. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Spring semester.

EC 325 Economic Development 3

Theories of economic growth and development focusing on the Third World; measurement of economic development; roles of economic systems, culture, resources, human capital, technology, foreign trade, foreign aid, foreign investment; economic appraisal methodology. Fulfills Global Perspective GE requirement. Prerequisites: EC 210 and EC 211. Must have met departmental math requirement of MA 108, MA 150, MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. EC 320 and EC 321 recommended if declared Economics concentration. Also listed as DS/LS 325. Periodic offering.

EC 345 Economics of Social Issues 3

Economic thinking about social problems such as population growth, price controls, poverty, higher education, energy, crime, pollution, consumerism, health care, social and economic inequality, unemployment, inflation, taxation and the public debt. For continuing studies students only.

EC 356 Applied Economic Principles 3

Explore national economic factors and the impact of government policy, as well as the driving force behind all economic decision-making, to analyze how and why consumers and businesses make the choices they do. Decision-making in light of scarce resources will be examined. For continuing studies students only.

EC 365W History of Economic Thought 3

Origins and development of economic thought from the early Greeks through the scholastics and mercantilists; emphasis on classical economics and criticisms of it; neoclassical theory. Also includes an overview of economic history of Europe, U.S.A., and Japan. Prerequisites: EC 210 and EC 211. Periodic offering.

EC 381 Sustainable Development Abroad: Poverty, Inequality, Environment, Social Change 3

Establishes a basic understanding of the theory and practical application of the "hows" and "whys" of a particulate international culture abroad, particularly as it relates to the historic, present and future challenges of that economy and to doing business with various people groups at home and abroad. Business models unique to non-American cultures will be explored in depth. Also listed as DS 381. Also listed as a LAS 381.

EC 402 Econometrics 3

Application of statistical modeling to empirical work in economics. A mixture of theory and applied computer work. Primary focus is regression analysis. Prerequisites: EC 210, EC 211, EC 320, and EC 321. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Spring semester.

EC 416 International Trade and Finance 3

Classical and modern theories of international trade; analysis of tariffs and other trade restrictions; balance of payments; foreign exchange-rate determination; relationship between national income and balance of payments; applications to current issues in international economics. Prerequisites: EC 210, EC 211, EC 320, and EC 321. Must have departmental math requirement of MA 158 or MA 171 with a C or better. Also listed as DS 416. Fall semester.

EC 450W Social and Ethical Issues in Business and Economics 3

Contemporary social, political, environmental and ethical forces affecting today's business and economic world. Seminar format. Dialogue with top local business, government and union leaders. Also listed as BU 450W. Fall and spring semesters.

EC 470 Senior Thesis 3

The Senior Thesis is a research based independent study designed and completed under the supervision and direction of a faculty member who will guide and direct the student in the design and completion of the research project. The completed thesis will demonstrate academic rigor in both the understanding and application of economic theory as well as competency in academic writing. Prerequisites: EC-321, EC-320. Faculty approval is required prior to registration.

Chemistry

The Whitworth Chemistry Department strives to develop confident, well-prepared students who are able to contribute to the world community on issues relating to modern chemistry. Our students are expected to develop strong oral and written communication skills, to engage in critical thinking, to develop excellent laboratory skills, to work on independent research, and to prepare for vocations in industrial, academic and professional areas.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students to...

- understand the development of chemical theory and apply current chemical content to solving problems.
- communicate scientific issues in writing.
- communicate scientific issues verbally.
- use and critically analyze the chemical literature.
- know and use standard lab techniques.
- apply independent research skills learned through research experiences and/or independent projects within courses.
- understand the connections between their faith and/or worldview and the theory and practice of chemistry, ethical decision-making and vocation.

Interdisciplinary Courses

STEM 115 Preparing for a STEM Career 1

Students will learn about the type of scientific work they would enjoy, explore scientific careers, hear guest speakers, and understand the preparation necessary at the undergraduate level in order to succeed in their chosen career. Spring semesters. Recommended standing: Freshman.

STEM 151 Seminar for Health Professions 1

A seminar to introduce students to the pre-health fields. Visiting speakers will represent medical, dental and veterinary fields. Course will also cover specifics of courses, majors, and other issues related to pre-health fields. Spring semester.

STEM 351 Preparatory Seminar: Health Professions 1

A cross-disciplinary course focusing on synthesis of general biology, general chemistry, general physics, organic chemistry, physiology, NMR and IR spectroscopy. Strategic course for learning to apply introductory science/math knowledge to questions involving higher-order content. Intended for students planning to take the Medical College Admissions Test, Dental Aptitude Test, or veterinary-school entrance exams. Intended primarily for students in their junior or senior year. Students will prepare for health professions both in terms of the entrance exams and by researching each school's focus and prerequisites. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, CH 161, CH 181, CH 271, CH 278, PS 151, and PS 153.

Courses

CH 101 Introduction to Chemistry 3

Introduction to the fundamental concepts in Chemistry for nursing majors, select allied health fields, and those who have not previously taken a Chemistry course. Recommended for science majors whose chemistry background is not adequate for initial placement in CH 161. Fall semester.

CH 101L Introduction to Chemistry Lab 1

Basic laboratory practices, titration, radioisotope measurement, simple synthesis. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 101. Fall semester. Lab fee.

CH 102 Bioorganic Chemistry 3

Fundamentals of organic chemistry and biochemistry for nursing students. Organic structure, isomerism, nomenclature. Properties and reactions of lipids, carbohydrates, proteins. Prerequisite: CH 101 or CH 161. Spring semester.

CH 102L Bioorganic Chemistry Lab 1

Simple quantitative analysis, separation techniques, enzyme studies. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 102. Spring semester. Lab fee.

CH 104 Prep Course for History of Chemistry and Art Study Program in Europe 1

Preparatory course for students accepted to the History of Chemistry and Art Study Abroad course. Students will study chemical theory, learn about art history, and ties between chemistry and art. Students will also examine the culture of the European countries to be visited.

CH 105 Chemistry History and Art in Europe 3

This course will examine how chemical ideas have developed over time, how social, cultural and historical factors have influenced the development of science and chemistry and conversely, how chemistry and science have contributed to society and human culture. The course traces the historical development of chemistry from ancient to modern times on site in London, Paris, and Munich. Students will "meet" the chemists, read from their original writings, and see where they lived and what they created. Periodic offering.

CH 111 Green Chemistry 3

The focus will be on environmentally friendly chemistry (green chemistry) applied to the design, development, and implementation of chemical processes and products that are not harmful to humans or the environment. Basic math and algebra skills will be used. For non-majors. Also listed as ENS 112. Periodic Jan Term offering.

CH 112 Chemistry and Health 3

Applications of chemical principles to concepts of health and disease. Overview of chemistry discoveries and their contributions to understanding current health issues. For non-majors. Also listed as ENS 113. Periodic Jan Term offering.

CH 120H The Chemistry in Art 3

Chemistry applied to understanding art media, color, and form as well as art appreciation, history, analysis and conservation. Explore chemistry concepts through arts & crafts projects. Appropriate for non-science students. No pre-requisites. Meets honors course criteria. Periodic Jan term offering.

CH 122 Chemistry in Modern Living 3

Overview of current chemical issues, for the non-science student. Topics may include air pollution, global warming, ozone layer, acid rain, nuclear energy, solar energy, plastics, nutrition and/or pharmaceutical drugs. Basic math and algebra skills will be used. For non-majors. Also listed as ENS 122. Periodic Jan Term offering.

CH 161 General Chemistry I 3

Foundational course in chemistry. Treatment of measurement concepts, atomic and molecular theories, chemical reactions, chemical bonding, basic calculations. One year of high school chemistry recommended. Passing score on placement test and demonstrated mathematics proficiency required. Students without this prerequisite must take CH 101 before electing CH 161. Fall and spring semesters.

CH 161H General Chemistry I Honors 3

Foundational course in chemistry. CHEM 161H differs from the regular CHEM 161 offering in its small class size, its emphasis on active, collaborative, and problem-based learning, and a more rigorous, process-oriented approach. The dominant theme of the course is the connection between the molecular-level attributes of matter (elemental composition, atomic structure and electronic configurations, bonding, molecular structure and intermolecular forces) and the observable physical and chemical properties of individual substances as applied in the real world. One year of high school chemistry recommended and math proficiency required. Fall semester.

CH 161L General Chemistry I Lab 1

Basic laboratory techniques, simple synthesis, titration, qualitative analysis. Prerequisite: CH 161, CH 161H, or concurrent enrollment. Fall and spring semesters. Lab fee.

CH 181 General Chemistry II 3

Properties of solutions, introduction to kinetics, acid-base concepts, equilibrium, nuclear radioactivity, electrochemistry, and thermochemistry. Prerequisite: CH 161 or CH 161H. Fall and spring semesters.

CH 181L General Chemistry II Lab 1

Titration, equilibrium constant determination, reaction kinetics, electrochemical studies. Prerequisites: CH 161L and concurrent enrollment in CH 181. Fall and spring semesters. Lab fee.

CH 271 Organic Chemistry I 3

Detailed treatment of basic organic chemistry concepts. Nomenclature, conformational and structural analysis, basic reaction mechanisms. Prerequisite: CH 181. Fall and Spring semesters.

CH 271L Organic Chemistry I Lab 1

Preparation, purification and identification of organic compounds. An introduction to organic synthesis. Prerequisites: CH 181L and concurrent enrollment in CH 271. Fall and spring semesters. Lab fee.

CH 278 Organic Chemistry II 3

Reactions of organic molecules, mechanisms of reactions, and how such reactions may be employed in the synthesis of new compounds. Prerequisite: CH 271 with minimum grade of C-. Spring semester.

CH 278L Organic Chemistry II Lab 1

Synthetic techniques for organic compounds, design of multi-step synthesis, introduction to chemical literature, and spectroscopy. Prerequisites: CH 271L and concurrent enrollment in CH 278. Spring semester. Lab fee.

CH 304 Prep Course for History of Chemistry and Art Study Program in Europe 1

Preparatory course for students accepted to the History of Chemistry and Art Study Abroad course. Students will study chemical theory, learn about art history, and ties between chemistry and art, in addition to doing an in-depth literature research review of a historical chemist. Students will also examine the culture of the European countries to be visited.

CH 305 Chemistry History and Art in Europe 3

This course will examine how chemical ideas have developed over time, how social, cultural and historical factors have influenced the development of science and chemistry and conversely, how chemistry and science have contributed to society and human culture. The course traces the historical development of chemistry from ancient to modern times on site in London, Paris, and Munich. Students will "meet" the chemists, read from their original writings, and see where they lived and what they created. Periodic offering.

CH 310 Chemical Entrepreneurs 3

This class will examine in detail the role a chemist plays in bringing products to market, and how Chemistry interfaces with the many facets of modern companies. Be your own boss and explore your entrepreneurial instincts as you and your team "startup" your own company and design a "virtual" chemistry-based product, modelling it by computer. Actual synthesis/building of the product will not be required. Prerequisite: CH 271. Also listed as CH 310W. Periodic offering.

CH 315 Chemical Literature 1

An examination of current scientific literature and writing in chemistry. Students will gain skills in searching, reading and analysis of chemical literature. Students will practice writing using conventions found in chemistry. Prerequisite: CH 271. Fall and spring semesters.

CH 325L Community Chemistry Outreach 1

Promotion of science education through service-learning opportunities in the community, such as the presentation of fun chemistry experiments/demos as part of departmental outreach efforts to local K-12 students. Prerequisite: CH 101 or CH 161. Jan Term and periodic spring.

CH 331 Environmental Chemistry 3

Study of the environment from a systems approach. Includes study of the hydrosphere (water), atmosphere (air), and geosphere (earth) and interactions with the anthrosphere (humans). Prerequisites: CH 271. Also listed as ENS 331 and CH 331W.

CH 331W Environmental Chemistry 3

CH 335 Analytical Chemistry 3

Approaches to analyte separation and quantification including sampling, quality control, basic statistics, advanced treatment of equilibrium and electrochemistry, spectroscopic instrumentation, and chromatography. Prerequisites: CH 181 and CH 271 (CH 278 suggested). Also listed as CH 335W. Fall semesters, even years.

CH 335L Analytical Chemistry Lab 1

Statistical analysis of data, separation techniques, use of instrumentation in solving analytical problems. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 335 or 335W. Fall semesters, even years. Lab fee.

CH 336 Spectroscopic Analysis 3

Advanced treatment of the most common spectroscopic techniques including UV-Vis, IR, NMR, and GC-MS. Prerequisites: CH 181 and CH 278. Also listed as CH 336W. Fall semester, odd years.

CH 336L Spectroscopic Analysis Lab 1

Use of instrumentation in solving analytical problems. Prerequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 336 or CH 336W. Fall semester, odd years. Lab fee.

CH 340 Forensic Chemistry 3

An examination of chemical theories and practices related to the analysis of chemical evidence in criminal investigations. This course will cover the major techniques and instruments used in the analysis of chemical and pattern evidence commonly used when analyzing forensic samples, including toxicology, explosive and firearms residues, drug classification, and ink and paint analysis. Periodic offering.

CH 351 Inorganic Chemistry 3

A study of the elements (especially metals) and their compounds. Bonding, crystal-field theory, coordination compounds, organometallics, symmetry, group theory and descriptive inorganic chemistry. Prerequisites: CH 181 and MA 171. Also listed as CH 351W. Fall semester, even years.

CH 351L Inorganic Chemistry Lab	1
Approaches to synthesis of inorganic compounds. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 351 or CH 351W. Fall semester, even years. Lab fee.
CH 381 Chemistry Seminar	0
Discussion of current chemical topics. Listen to and discuss student presentations, guest lectures; attend local scientific meetings. Fall and spring semesters.
CH 394L Chemistry Research	0
Research in chemistry, first semester. By permission.
CH 401 Biochemistry I	3
Structure and function of major classes of biomolecules. Overview of enzyme catalysis and kinetics. Prerequisites: CH 271 and CH 278. Also listed as CH 401W. Fall semester.
CH 401L Biochemistry I Lab	1
Separations, assays and kinetic studies in biochemical systems. Primary focus is on amino acids, peptides, and protein enzymes. Prerequisites: CH 271L and CH 401. Spring semester. Lab fee.
CH 403 Biochemistry II	3
Metabolic pathways and biochemical energy conversions. Overview of gene transcription, translation, and cellular controls. Prerequisite: CH 401. Also listed as CH 403W. Spring semester.
CH 421 Thermochemistry	3
Kinetics, thermodynamics, liquids and solids, changes of state, phase diagrams. Prerequisites: CH 181, PS 153, and MA 172. Also listed as CH 421W. Spring semester.
CH 421L Thermochemistry Lab	1
Energetic, kinetic and thermodynamic studies. Primary focus is on phase transitions, mixtures, and gases. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 421 or CH 421W. Spring semester. Lab fee.
CH 423 Quantum Chemistry	3
Basic quantum mechanical theories, and its application to lasers, magnetism, molecular structure, and vibrational and electronic spectroscopy. Prerequisites: CH 181, PS 153 and MA 172. Also listed as CH 423W. Fall semester, odd years.
CH 423L Quantum Chemistry Lab	1
Infrared and electronic spectroscopy, laser spectroscopy and computer modeling of quantum chemistry problems. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CH 423 or CH 423W. Fall semesters, odd years. Lab fee.
CH 481 Chemistry Seminar	1
Discussion of current chemical topics. Student presentations, guest lectures; attend local scientific meetings. Oral scientific presentation required. Fall and spring semesters.
CH 488L Chemistry Research	1
Student pursuit of a laboratory problem of fundamental interest to chemistry. By permission. Prerequisite: CH 315. Jan Term.
CH 490H Internship	1-4
CH 494L Chemistry Research	1
Research in chemistry, second semester, or for students completing research off campus at another university, an industry site or a national laboratory. By permission.
CH 497 Dissemination of Chemistry Research	1

Research performed on campus or off-campus will be shared with others. Students are expected to complete a research paper and give a presentation to a conference audience. The course should be taken in the Spring semester after completion of chemistry research. By permission. Prerequisite: CH 494L or CH 488L. Spring semester.

Communication Studies

The Whitworth Communication Studies Department provides students with the theories and skills necessary for effective communication in diverse contexts. Working within the tradition of the liberal arts, the department introduces students to theoretical, historical and philosophical assumptions fundamental to communication scholarship and practice.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to...

- be aware of the relationships between the theory and practice of journalism or speech communication and the student's faith or worldview.
- demonstrate writing skills required to excel in an entry-level communications-related job and/or graduate school.
- demonstrate public-speaking and presentation skills required to excel in an entry-level communications-related job and/or graduate school.
- demonstrate interpersonal skills required to excel in relational, cultural, and technological contexts.
- demonstrate critical-thinking skills required to excel in the intellectual, professional, and personal dimensions of life.
- understand the fundamental historical, theoretical, sociological, and legal concepts underlying communication.

The Whitworth Communication Studies Department offers a major and a minor in each of three areas: communication, journalism and mass communication, and speech communication.

Visual Communication (19 Credits)

Requirements for the Visual Communication minor are listed at the Visual Communication page. (p. 315)

Journalism and Mass Communication Courses

JMC 125 Writing for Mass Media	3
News values; creativity and structure in news writing; journalistic style and format; accuracy, clarity and conciseness in writing; basic reporting and research skills, interviewing, listening, and observing. Also listed as EP 125. Also listed as VC 125. Fall and spring semesters.
JMC 126H Writing for Digital Media	3
Students will explore the research and media theory that covers writing for digital media, then apply those concepts to a weekly online multimedia publication. Jan Term.
JMC 209 Introduction to Communication Research	3
Introduction to communication studies research methods and tools, including traditional and electronic resources. Students will develop scholarly writing and argumentation skills. SP 113 or JMC/SP 212 highly recommended. Spring semester.
JMC 212 Theories of Human Communication	3

A comprehensive treatment of major theoretical approaches toward understanding the production and interpretation of human communication. Also listed as EP 212. Fall and spring semesters.

- JMC 231 Photojournalism 3
Introduction to photojournalism and the photographic and visual skills needed to create a compelling news image. Students shoot and critique documentary-style photographs and begin to develop a professional portfolio that includes news, feature, sports, portrait and picture stories. Spring semester, even years.
- JMC 244 Publicity and Public Relations 3
Role and effect of publicity and public relations in the United States. Public relations process, public-opinion polling, development, evaluation of public relations programs. Prerequisite: JMC 125. Also listed as EP/LS 244. Fall semester.
- JMC 245 Applied Journalism: Newspaper 1
Staff work on university newspaper. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.
- JMC 246 Applied Journalism: Radio 1
Staff work on university radio station. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.
- JMC 247 Applied Journalism: Yearbook 1
Staff work on university yearbook. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.
- JMC 248 Applied Journalism: Public Relations Agency 1
Whitworth's student-run public relations agency, Beyond the Pines, is designed to give students of all majors who are interested in public relations an opportunity to practice their skills in a real-world environment. Students work in client-based teams to provide a broad array of public relations services to area nonprofit organizations. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semester.
- JMC 302 Public Relations & Digital Communication 3
This course covers the paradigm shift that social media is creating at the juncture of communication and technology. Students learn how to utilize online channels such as Twitter, Facebook, blogs, online ads, geo-based location and rating services, and other e-marketing tactics to engage your audience. Explores multiple platforms for monitoring, managing and tracking campaigns. Offered through Continuing Studies. Periodic Offering.
- JMC 310W Professional Communication: Writing 3
Against the backdrop of general communication theory, enhance your writing skills and apply them to documents and projects common in the world of work - news releases, brochures, reports, newsletters, correspondence, and others. Offered through Continuing Studies. Periodic offering.
- JMC 311 Public Relations and Communication 3
Students examine the role of managed communication in public relations problems unique to health, education, and human and public service organizations. This study includes the theory and practice of public speaking with a focus on civic persuasion. Students will strengthen written communication skills critical for effectiveness in professional environments. Offered through Continuing Studies. Periodic offering.
- JMC 315 Media Criticism 3
Analysis of messages from primary mass media sources including print and broadcast news, Internet, entertainment and advertising. Course uses various tools to examine how messages are used by media producers and audiences to create meaning. Also listed as EP/JMC 315. Spring semester.
- JMC 325W Reporting for Mass Media 3
News-gathering techniques and strategies, including direct observation, participant observation and interviewing; using public records and documents, libraries and statistics; dealing with sources; polls and surveys. Prerequisite: JMC 125. Fall semester, even years.
- JMC 335 Interactive Journalism 3

Students will gain skills in multi-media journalism, combining experiences in audio, video, and Internet reporting and storytelling. Students will produce multi-media story packages and gain a grounding in new media theory. Prerequisite: JMC-125. Also listed as FVNS 335. Spring semester.

JMC 336 Introduction to Video and Audio Journalism 3

Development of writing, reporting, editing and production skills for video and audio storytelling. Introduction to using field video and audio equipment. Broadcast news writing and production. Prerequisite: JMC 125. Also listed as FVNS 336. Fall semester.

JMC 337 Advanced Video and Audio Journalism 3

Planning, researching and gathering of material and producing long-form journalistic audio and video pieces. Theories, concepts and ethical considerations related to documentary journalism. Prerequisite: JMC 336 or equivalent. Periodic offering.

JMC 339 Digital Storytelling 3

Explores theory and practice of digital, multi-modal writing and storytelling. Students will analyze and create digital stories using freely available tools for capturing, editing, and presenting audio, video, and text. Cross-listed with EL/FVNS 339. Prerequisites: EL 210, EL 245, JMC 125, or permission of instructor. Periodic offering.

This course will introduce advanced photography students to the production of Flash-based audio slideshows. Besides the photographic skills needed to produce a photo essay, students will also learn how to record and edit interviews and sound clips into their presentations. Prerequisite: JMC 231. Also listed as FVNS 340. Periodic offering.

JMC 343 Editing, Layout and Design 4

Introduction to principles of page layout and design, with emphasis on preparing text and visual elements for a mass media audience by using desktop publishing techniques. Prerequisite: JMC 125. Also listed as EP/VC 343. Spring semester.

JMC 345 Media and Society in Germany 3

Off-campus program in Germany. Students gain basic understanding of contemporary German society and current issues such as European unity, changing demographics, the Christian church and the media in Germany. Students have an opportunity to acquire/solidify digital storytelling and media production skills in a cross-cultural and transnational setting. German language skills not required. May Term, even years.

JMC 346 Media Impact in Contemporary U.S. 3

Students taking this study program visit New York and Washington, D.C. to learn from media executives and scholars what they believe are the main issues currently facing the media; course also explores impact of media on contemporary U.S. society. Media industries visited will include newspapers, television, radio, magazine and book publishing, and advertising. Jan Term, odd years.

JMC 347 Mass Media History 3

Origins and development of print and broadcast mass media in the United States. Prerequisite: JMC 212 or SP 212 recommended, junior standing, or by permission of instructor. Also listed as EP 347. Fall semester.

JMC 362W Article and Feature Writing 3

Editorial writing, interpretive and critical writing, and magazine writing for publication. Prerequisite: JMC 125. Fall semester, odd years.

JMC 370 Action Heroes to Zany Moms: Representations of Women in Popular Culture 3

This course approaches recent popular culture in the US as more than simply entertainment. Particular attention is paid to representations of gender, sexuality, race, and class as intersecting, dynamic social categories embedded in narratives about women and feminism. Different media effects theories are explored and discussed. Cultural theory is used to learn how social anxieties, problems, and desires are constructed, managed, and challenged through cultural texts, critically analyzing how popular culture shapes who we are. Focus is on primarily visual culture, and a variety of genres and mediums.

JMC 402 Mass Media Law 3

The First Amendment and court-protected freedom of expression, libel, right of privacy, copyright, covering government and the courts, broadcast regulation. Prerequisite: JMC 212 or SP 212. Spring semester.

JMC 445 Editorial Practicum: Newspaper 1

Editorial work on the university newspaper. Prerequisite: JMC 245 and appointment to editorial position. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.

JMC 446 Broadcast Management Practicum: Radio 1

Management work on the university radio station. Prerequisite: JMC 246 and appointment to management position. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.

JMC 447 Editorial Practicum: Yearbook 1

Editorial work on the university yearbook. Prerequisites: JMC 247 and appointment to editorial position. May be repeated for credit. Fall and spring semesters.

JMC 490 Internship 1-4

JMC 493 Communication Ethics 3

Nature and criteria of ethical behavior; personal and organizational ethical issues facing the mass media, including the power of the media, news gathering and reporting techniques, media source relations, privacy, freedom of the press, taste, conflicting interests, fairness and objectivity. Senior standing. Fall semester.

Speech Courses

SP 113 Interpersonal Communication 3

Introductory course to communication studies that surveys perception, self-concept, feedback, listening, disclosure, conflict management, language and nonverbal communication. Fall and spring semesters.

SP 209 Introduction to Communication Research 3

An introduction to communication studies research methods and tools, including traditional and electronic resources. Students will develop skills in scholarly writing and argumentation. Prerequisite: SP 113 or JMC/SP 212 highly recommended. Spring semester.

SP 210 Introduction to Public Speaking 3

Introduction to speech construction and delivery. Speech skills are surveyed, including research, listening and nonverbal communication. Fall and spring semesters and periodic Jan Terms.

SP 212 Theories of Human Communication 3

A comprehensive treatment of major theoretical approaches toward understanding the production and interpretation of human communication. Also listed as VC 212. Fall and spring semesters.

SP 223 Small Group Communication 4

A theoretical and practical look at group communication processes such as conflict management, decision-making, group dynamics, leadership, and problem-solving. Fall semester.

SP 245H Applied Speech: Forensics 1

A practicum course for students involved in the intercollegiate forensics program. An in-depth course in advanced public speaking and debating that may be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: by permission. Fall and spring semesters.

SP 313 Advanced Interpersonal Communication	3
Explores communication issues in the development of personal relationships, specifically friendships, romantic, family, and work relationships. Topics include the processes of establishing relationships, maintaining relationships, and coping with relational challenges. Fall semester, odd years. For Communication majors only.
SP 315 Philanthropy and Communication	3
A survey of the concepts and practices of philanthropy and stewardship as applied to the not-for-profit industry in the U.S. Students will examine the philosophical tenets of philanthropy and the biblical imperatives of stewardship to understand how and why people give. Periodic Offering.
SP 323 Organizational Communication	3
Structure, process and function of communication in organizations, including diagnosing communication problems, analyzing communication networks, and managing communication. Prerequisite: Students must have met the oral communication requirement. Spring semester.
SP 347W History and Theory of Rhetoric	3
The origin and development of speech communication from its earliest conceptions in ancient Greece through the present, with particular emphasis on the theories of rhetoric. Prerequisite: JMC 212 or SP 212. Offered annually.
SP 351 Group Dynamics	3
A focus on group behavior, including work teams and how their functioning affects organizational effectiveness. Emphasis on effective group processes for role clarification, decision-making, problem-solving, conflict resolution and group communications. Students develop communication strategies and application of concepts through completion of a small-group project. Offered through Continuing Studies.
SP 352 Conflict Management	3
Investigates how individuals can manage relational conflict more effectively, with an emphasis on the language and structure of conflict. Students will develop skills in managing social and task conflict in both professional and personal contexts. Periodic offering. Offered through Continuing Studies.
SP 362 Argumentation and Debate	4
An in-depth course on the construction and delivery of valid arguments, logical and emotional appeals, attitude change, fundamentals of academic debate, and practical application of persuasive methods. Course surveys American presidential debates and models of argument. Prerequisite: SP 210. Also listed as LS 362. Periodic offering.
SP 398 Intercultural Communication	3
Study of how elements such as ritual, status, symbolism, concepts of time and use of space create our worldview. Class promotes cross-cultural understanding using interactive and visual communication to communicate effectively across cultures. Intent is to broaden cultural awareness and enhance multicultural literacy. Also listed as LS 398. Jan Term.
SP 402 Freedom and Responsibility of Speech	3
An in-depth examination of the First Amendment and court-protected freedom of expression including sedition and political speech, religious speech, protest speech, academic freedom, and symbolic expression. Prerequisite: JMC 212 or SP 212. Fall semester.
SP 410 Advanced Public Speaking	4
An in-depth course on speech construction in different contexts. Students deliver a variety of persuasive speeches. Emphasis on reasoning, delivery skills, and speech criticism. Prerequisite: SP 210. Fall semester, odd years.
SP 415 Persuasion	3
Study and application of persuasion theories and research as they relate within interpersonal, media, ministry, and other contexts. The course will consider, primarily from a social science perspective, how speakers, messages and various persuasive appeals can modify attitudes and behaviors. Fall semester, even years.

SP 436 African-American Preaching 3

An introduction to the preaching in African-American traditions as a distinctive communication event. Emphasis is given to historical, cultural, theological, and rhetorical dimensions of preaching in African-American traditions. Periodic offering.

SP 445H Applied Speech: Forensics 1

A practicum course for students involved in the intercollegiate forensics program. An in-depth course in advanced public speaking and debating that may be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: by permission. Fall and spring semesters.

SP 461 Applied Cross-Cultural Communication 3

Explores the importance of competent communication in the international arena. Study of how elements such as ritual, status, symbolism, concepts of time and use of space create our world view. This course will provide opportunities for students to enhance both professional and interpersonal skills in the area of communicating effectively across cultures. The intent is to broaden cultural awareness and enhance multicultural literacy as applied in nonacademic settings. For continuing studies students only.

SP 490 Internship 1-4

SP 493 Communication Ethics 3

An in-depth examination of the nature and criteria of ethical oral communication behavior in interpersonal, public speaking, group and intercultural settings. Examines ethical theories and their application to credibility, lying and persuasion in social, political, and religious contexts. Senior standing. Also listed as LS 493. Spring semester.

Development Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

Description:

The minor in development studies is an interdisciplinary program geared toward Whitworth students in all departments who may have interest in development work.

Program Goals:

- Students will have an understanding of concepts pertaining to sustainability, development theory, global social structures, and/or global economic systems.
- Students will develop intercultural and professional competencies.
- Students will synthesize their knowledge of development with the practice of development in an applied context.
- Students will be challenged to explore their faith commitments and moral convictions in light of development issues and practices and will be encouraged to view development work as a vocation and/or a religious calling.

Requirements for a Development Studies Minor (22)

Required Classes (10 Credits)		10
DS 196	Topics: Intro to Development Studies (Cross-listed as PO 196)
DS 250/PO 250/EC 250	Environment and Society
DS 390	Internship (Development Internship)
DS 465	Development Studies Symposium
Elective Classes (12 Credits)		12
Cultural Competency: At least 3 Credits from the following
DS 120/USCS 120	Introduction to U.S. Cultural Studies
DS 310/USCS 310	U.S. Cultural Studies: Community-Based Research
DS 311/USCS 311	U.S. Cultural Studies: Campus-Based Research
DS 335H/USCS 335H	U.S. Tribal Identities
DS 220/SO 220	Race and Ethnicity *
DS 238/SO 238	Sociology of Middle-Eastern Society
DS 200/SO 200	Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
Professional Competency: At least 6 credits of the following:
DS 249	Principles of Service and Leadership (Cross-listed as LS 250)
DS 350/LS 350	Transforming Leadership **
DS 425/SO 425	Making Change: Social Intervention Strategies *
Global Structures: At least 3 credits of the following:
DS 303/SO 303	Globalization and Social Change And Wealth
DS 353/PO 353	International Political Economy
DS 381/EC 381	Sustainable Development Abroad
DS 425W/PO 425W	International Development
DS 325/EC 325	Economic Development
DS 416/EC 416	International Trade and Finance ***

* Prerequisites in the Department of Sociology apply.

 Prerequisites in the Leadership Studies Program apply.

Editing and Publishing (Interdisciplinary Minor)

The editing & publishing minor, housed in the English department, is an interdisciplinary minor designed for students interested in focused engagement and practical experience with text production, editorial discernment, and multi-platform design and publishing. Students study the aesthetics and ethics of editorial work and multiple methods of textual production, including bookmaking, web-based journals, e-publications, and emerging forms of design. Courses for the minor have traditional humanities strengths in that they ask students to analyze media productions and to respond intelligently to their content as well as their structure. The minor also has practical, experiential components, in that it helps students begin to explore the publishing and editing fields in professional settings. The completion of the minor results in portfolio- and résumé-worthy projects and experience, as well as significant professional internships. With a consistent focus on team-based projects and public engagement grounded in historical, aesthetic and ethical frameworks, the EP minor provides students a unique undergraduate opportunity to contextualize their academic experience and explore how humanities disciplines are correspondent, relevant and significant to career pursuits.

Education

The School of Education at Whitworth University includes the department of teacher education, the Whitworth Center for Gifted Education, the department of graduate studies in education, the Master in Teaching Program, the Whitworth Office of Educational Certification & Career Services, and the Evening Teacher Certification Program. All certification programs in the School of Education are approved by the Washington State Professional Educator Standards Board and are accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

The mission of the Whitworth School of Education is to prepare teachers, counselors and administrators to be educators of mind and heart who are scholars, community members, effective practitioners, visionary leaders and guardians. The School of Education provides opportunities to integrate theory and practice in diverse settings through the study of established and emerging content, as well as through pedagogical and professional knowledge. Whitworth University prepares educators to have a positive impact on the learning and development of those whom they are called to serve.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students to be the following:

Scholars: Educators of mind and heart possess current knowledge of the content areas in which they work, understand the connections among disciplines, use tools of inquiry, and demonstrate an attitude of ongoing learning as existing fields of knowledge continue to evolve and grow. Educators of mind and heart strengthen their existing knowledge base through continuous intellectual and scholarly growth based on current research, the study of their own practice, the analysis of data collected, and the application of data to the solution of problems in their respective fields of study.

Community Members: Educators of mind and heart develop and sustain collaborative and interdependent relationships among teachers, students and their families, counselors, administrators, and other community members. Educators of mind and heart understand their roles as professional colleagues in the schools, the community, and professional organizations. They help to shape the culture of classrooms and schools to reflect the values of our democratic society. They model professional behaviors appropriate for those entrusted with educating today's children and young people.

Effective Practitioners: Educators of mind and heart are prepared to analyze situations, set goals, plan and monitor actions, assess outcomes, and reflect on their professional thinking and decision-making. They are committed to culturally responsive and relevant practices that engage students and are purposeful in making a positive impact on their students' learning. They demonstrate proficiency in the selection and differentiation of materials, strategies and assessment practices that are appropriate for the diversity of students and the educational contexts in which they serve. They use formative and summative data as evidence for decision-making. They are competent in using technology and other 21st-century skills in the educational setting to improve their own practice and the learning of their students.

Visionary Leaders: Educators of mind and heart have a vision. They articulate a personal philosophy of education that includes a belief in the worth and ability of each human being and provides a framework guiding personal and professional decision-making and development. The educators' practices are intentionally aligned with this vision for the benefit of members of their learning communities. Educators of mind and heart model transformational and servant leadership in their learning communities and in their contributions to society.

Guardians: Educators of mind and heart act as advocates for children and youth, demonstrating a sincere and equitable commitment to the success of all, paying attention to the role that diversity, including gender, ability, ethnicity, race, culture, religion or socioeconomic status, brings to learning and the community. Educators understand and respect the interconnected, global nature of society and encourage sustainable practices designed to preserve our world for future generations. In the Christian tradition of servant leadership, educators serve humankind and seek opportunities to assist, encourage and support all those under their care in a manner that leads to transformation in the lives of their students.

Whitworth University is in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education Title II reporting requirements. The most recent Whitworth University Title II report is available on our website: www.whitworth.edu/soe/titleII.htm. For more information or to request a copy, contact the office of the dean of the School of Education.

Department of Teacher Education Undergraduate Program

The Whitworth Department of Teacher Education views the role of the teacher as a calling – a commitment to understanding and responding compassionately to the needs of children and youth. The undergraduate teacher-education program conceptualizes our graduates as educators of mind and heart who serve as scholars, community members, effective practitioners, visionary leaders and guardians. Courses in the program are structured around this conceptual framework, and students are encouraged to view their future roles as teachers through this model. Per Washington state law, all field experiences require Washington State Patrol/FBI fingerprint clearance, as well as a character clearance application via the OSPI website for pre-residency clearance. See the School of Education for information and requirements.

Important Notes for All Undergraduate Teacher Education Students

1. Requirements for Washington state teacher certification, endorsements, and highly qualified teacher status (NCLB) are subject to change. Therefore, all teaching areas and programs must be approved by the Whitworth Department of Teacher Education.
2. Admission to the teacher education program and student-teaching program must be approved by the department of teacher education.
3. Full admission to the teacher education program requires a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 at Whitworth. See department for admission guidelines.
4. Application for student teaching must be submitted one semester in advance. Admission to student teaching is required before a student enrolls in student teaching courses.
5. WSP/FBI fingerprint clearance and completion of the Washington State Pre-Residency Clearance application is required of each student for any field experience after EDU 203.
6. Admission to the department of teacher education and student teaching do not guarantee state certification.
7. Students cannot enroll in upper-division courses without first being admitted to the teacher-education program.
8. All grades in courses used for teacher certification and endorsements must be “C” or better. Courses that apply toward certification may not be taken P/NC.
9. Students seeking secondary certification must complete a major in an academic area approved by the department of teacher education.
10. Students seeking elementary certification must complete a minimum of 20 semester credits in an approved endorsement area.
11. An application for a Washington State Teaching Certificate is required for program completion.
12. Students are responsible for information in the certification handbook, which is available on the department website.
13. Passage of the WEST-B or equivalent score on ACT or SAT is required for Benchmark II of the program. Passage of the WEST-E or NES in each area of endorsement is required for Washington State certification.
14. Students must have taken and passed the WEST-E or NES in their major before they may begin student teaching.
15. Passage of the edTPA (Teacher Performance Assessment) is required for Washington State certification.
16. Successful candidates receive a Washington State Teaching Certificate. Students planning to seek certification in another state must research certification and testing requirements for that state and are encouraged to do so early in their program.
17. An ELL endorsement may be required in certain states, such as California, Florida and Nevada. Students are responsible for knowing state requirements for ELL endorsements.

Post-Baccalaureate Certification Programs

Two teacher certification programs are available at Whitworth for people who already possess undergraduate degrees: (1) the Evening Teacher Certification Program and (2) the Master in Teaching Degree Program.

The Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program, a collaborative effort between the School of Education and Whitworth Continuing Studies, allows adults who work full time to complete a teacher certification program in a cohort-based accelerated evening and Saturday format. The program is designed to prepare elementary certificated teachers; however, candidates wishing to obtain secondary certification can complete a program consisting of a combination of traditional day and accelerated evening classes. Within the ETC program, post-baccalaureate students may choose between the master of education and certification-only tracks. Students can enroll in the 500 level of designated courses and apply up to 18 ETC semester credits as electives if accepted to Whitworth’s M.Ed. program. For transferability, application must be made within four years of ETC program completion. Cohorts begin in August and February. For more information, please see the ETC program description in the Adult Degree Programs/Continuing Studies section of this catalog or contact an ETC advisor at 509.777.3222.

The Whitworth Master in Teaching Degree Program allows students to pursue a master's degree and teacher certification concurrently. Whitworth was the first university in Washington state to receive approval for an MIT program after state legislation permitted this option. This is an intensive, selective, full-time day-school graduate program that begins in June and continues for 13 months, culminating in June of the following year. Both elementary and secondary certification options are available in the MIT program. Application to the program must be made by April 1st. (See graduate section of this catalog.) For more information about the MIT program, contact the Assistant Director at 509.777.3769.

Evening Teacher Certification: Degree Completion in Elementary Education

Courses are limited to students enrolled in the Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program, a collaborative effort between the School of Education and Whitworth Continuing Studies. Students can earn a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education along with Washington state residency teacher certification. Those currently holding a college degree can complete certification requirements only, or certification in conjunction with a Master of Education degree if accepted to the Whitworth Graduate Studies in Education Program. For complete program and course descriptions, see the Adult Degree Programs/Continuing Studies section of this catalog.

American Sign Language Courses

ASL 100 Intro to Sign Language 3

Preparation for language acquisition via overview of sign language with concentration on language universals of category and relationship. For continuing studies students only.

ASL 101 Introduction to Sign Language & the Deaf 4

Study of American Sign Language, language acquisition, teaching methods, teaching sequences and materials for persons with hearing impairments, communication disorders, and cognitive delays. Overview of the history of sign language as well as receptive and expressive finger-spelling. Also listed as EDS 501 (students must register for graduate-level course and complete extra project if in a graduate program). Fall Semester and Summer.

ASL 102 Sign Language & the Deaf II 4

Advanced study of American Sign Language and the culture of the deaf. Expansion and improvement of manual communication skills, translating or interpreting abilities, and development of mental-processing techniques for comprehending the meaning of unfamiliar signs. Overview of educational aspects of deaf culture and sign language. Also listed as EDS 502. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: ASL 101. Spring Semester and Summer.

Education: Teacher Ed. Courses

EDU 150 Exceptionality Across the Life Span 3

This course acquaints students with the issues associated with human diversity across the lifespan in today's society. The focus is on individuals who have disabilities, their struggle for legal rights and social inclusion, and resources available for support. Students will also work directly with community agencies that serve people with disabilities. Jan Term.

EDU 201 Educational Psychology for Children and Adolescents 3

A study of children and youth with a focus on psychology in the classroom. Developmental aspects (cognitive, social-emotional, moral, spiritual, and physical) and sociological challenges (abuse and neglect, substance abuse, poverty, familial discord) and their impact on teaching and learning are examined. Pre-requisite or Co-requisite: EDU 202. Also listed as LS 201. Fall and spring semesters and Jan term.

EDU 201H Honors Educational Psychology 3

Honors section of Educational Psychology with emphasis on applied research in educational psychology. A study of children and youth with a focus on psychology in the classroom. Developmental aspects (cognitive, social-emotional, moral, spiritual, and physical) and sociological challenges (abuse and neglect, substance abuse, poverty, familial discord) and their impact on teaching and learning are examined. Prerequisite or corequisite: EDU 202. Spring semester.

EDU 202 Exploring Teaching 1

On-campus seminars examine the profession of teaching. Co-requisite: EDU 203. Also listed as LS 202. Fall and spring semesters and Jan Term.

EDU 203 Field Experience 1

Semester-long field experience in which candidates are placed in classrooms as teaching assistants and tutors. Opportunity for candidates to reflect on their potential as educators, and relate classroom experience to EDU 201 and Washington state educational reforms. May require transportation to an off-campus placement. Concurrent enrollment in EDU 202 required. Fall and spring semesters and Jan Term.

EDU 320 Exceptional Learners and Inclusion 3

Provides an overview of children with disabilities, gifted education, legal issues, intervention strategies, family systems, and teaming approaches related to special education. Emphasis placed on accommodations for high incidence conditions. Introduction of Individualized Education Plans and completion of a service-learning experience in a home setting. Also listed as EDS 520 (students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 201, EDU 202, and EDU 203. Fall and Spring Semesters.

EDU 321 Intervention for Behavior and Motivation 3

Introduction to behavior disorders, applied behavior analysis, data collection, and research design. Students plan, collect data, implement and evaluate an intervention. They learn to collect data and do functional assessments and document learning. Field experience included. Also listed as EDS 521. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 320. Fall and Spring Semesters.

EDU 322 Assessment and IEP Planning 3

Practice and study of formal and informal, assessments. Integration and implementation of assessment into the development of Individualized Education Plans (IEP) for children and youth in special education settings. Students also will use data-based decision making to inform educational practices and behavior-change interventions. Also listed as EDS 522. (Students must register for graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 320. Fall semester.

EDU 323 Intervention for Academic Learning Problems 3

Methods and strategies to address academic learning problems for students with mild disabilities in math, reading, language, writing, and spelling. Includes class-wide peer tutoring, active responding, guided notes, Precision Teaching, Direct Instruction, Success for All, data-based intervention approaches and other relevant curriculum. Service learning project included. Also listed as EDS 523. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 320. Fall and Spring Semesters.

EDU 326 Diversity, Equity and Inclusion 3

The purpose of this course is to increase knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to create environments that are inclusive and enriched by diverse views and people. Increased levels of cultural sensitivity and responsiveness will be developed through didactic and experiential learning. The didactic portion will focus on Survey of historical and societal influences on the education of cultural groups in the USA. This is a step up course. Undergraduate students can take it for graduate credit. It is also a part of the US Cultural Studies Minor.

EDU 329 Principles of Behavior for Mid/Secondary Classroom 3

This course examines principles and practices of behavior management in the middle and secondary classroom. Fieldwork includes planning and carrying out a classroom intervention for a student with special needs. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisites: EDU 320. Spring semester.

EDU 340 K-8: General and Language Arts Methods Curriculum 3

This course presents methods and materials for elementary teachers. Observation and teacher assistantship in the public schools, microteaching, Common Core Standards for English/Language Arts and unit preparation utilizing appropriate teaching models based on learning theory, provide opportunities to reinforce course content. The various strands of language arts will be explored including: writing, listening, speaking, and reading. Candidates will gain familiarity with writing programs and methods for assessing student writing. Prerequisite: junior standing. Corequisites: EDU 341 and EDU 342. Meets Whitworth's oral communication requirement. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 341 Mathematics: Elementary/Middle School Methods (K-9) 2

Introduction to math curriculum, instruction, and assessment in the elementary classroom. Development of lessons and unit plans based on best-practice research and Common Core Standards. Prerequisite: junior standing. Co-requisites: EDU 340, EDU 342. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 342 Elementary Curriculum Field Experience 1

Semester-long placement in an elementary classroom to develop competencies in teaching and assessing learning in language arts and math. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: junior standing. Corequisites: EDU 340, EDU 341. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 343 Science: K-9 Methods and Assessment 2

Introduction to instruction and assessment of science teaching at the elementary and middle levels and ideas for integrating science concepts in other disciplines. Includes theories, teaching strategies, demonstration and laboratory techniques, and an overview of curriculum, assessment guidelines, Common Core Standards, conducting field trips, and safety considerations. Prerequisite or co-requisite: EDU 340, EDU 341, EDU 342 and one college-level science course. Fall and spring semesters and Jan Term.

EDU 344 Children's Literature and Social Studies 3

This course is designed to provide an introduction to children's literature as well as a foundation for teaching social studies. It highlights the genres of the literature, learning about and through literature, and using quality literature integrated with other content. For social studies instruction, the course examines the state standards for social studies in the areas of world and American history, geography and civics and how to use children's literature as a content source for those areas of curriculum. Prerequisite: EDU 201 and EDU 202. Fall and spring semesters and Jan Term.

EDU 350 Methods of Teaching in Middle and High School 3

Candidates learn the fundamental knowledge and skills to implement standards-based instructional planning, the Common Core Standards, and to use multiple instructional strategies for teaching in secondary schools. Meets Whitworth's oral communication requirement. Prerequisite: EDU 201, EDU 202, EDU 320, junior standing and completion of at least 9 semester credits in major, or chair permission. Corequisite: EDU 351. Spring semester.

EDU 351 Middle/High School Field Experience 1

Placement in a middle or high school for a field experience in teaching area. Includes working with students in groups, assisting teachers, and planning and teaching lessons. A minimum of 30 hours is required. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 201, EDU 202, EDU 320, junior standing and completion of at least 9 semester credits in major, or chair permission. Corequisite: EDU 350. Spring semesters.

EDU 361 Second-Language Acquisition 3

An overview of interdisciplinary theories of how students acquire a first and an additional language informed by the fields of linguistics, psychology, sociocultural, and political studies. A view to gaining informed approaches for supporting English Learners and their access to the core curriculum. Also listed as LS 361/EDU 561 and TES 361. Fall and Spring Semesters.

EDU 362 ELL Methodology and Assessment 3

Application of language-acquisition theory to the teaching of limited-English-proficient students. Listening, speaking, reading and writing strategies as well as the purpose and administration of language-proficiency assessment. Also listed as EDU 562. Fall and Spring Semesters.

EDU 363 ELL Methods in Language Arts and Reading 3

Content centers around the Common Core State Standards intertwined with the Washington State English Proficiency Standards. Strategies for scaffolding content reading tasks for English Learners are explored and practiced. The course also addresses the literacy needs of English Learners in their core curriculum subjects with ways that instructors of core subjects can increase content achievement while supporting literacy needs. Also listed as EDU 563. Spring semester.

EDU 364 ELL/TESOL Field Experience 1-3

The ELL/TESOL Field Experience provides an opportunity to implement the knowledge and strategies being learned in the content ELL courses. The implementation is designed to occur during students' EDU 368/EDU 369 intercultural placements or in the students' own classrooms, if applicable. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 363. Also listed as EDU 564. Fall, Jan Term, and Spring Semesters.

EDU 366 Teaching English Language Learners 1

An introduction to instructional strategies for teaching English Language Learners in the regular classroom and an overview of current programs and laws regarding the teaching of ELL students. Prerequisite: junior standing required. Waived with any other ELL course. Fall semester.

EDU 367 Introduction to Intercultural Education 1

Examination of both personal and institutional cultural proficiency in education. The impact of cultural and linguistic diversity on academic achievement is explored along with the crucial skills for effective intercultural communication. Also included is the examination of one's own cultural values, attitudes, and beliefs as they influence instruction and assessment practices used with P-12 students in the content areas. Offered only for those pursuing a teaching certificate. Prerequisite: junior standing required; senior standing recommended. Also listed as EDU 567. Fall semester.

EDU 368 Field Immersion in Intercultural Education 3

Participation in an intercultural off-campus experience at local, USA, or international educational site. Involves full school day experiences with culturally and linguistically diverse students. Includes observation, lesson planning, assisting students with special needs, tutoring, teaching, and attending professional meetings at culturally diverse sites. Except for local settings, students live in the community and participate in life of the community. Candidates prepare culturally proficient analysis of their experiences, use levels of cultural insights to interview persons of diversity, and infuse lesson plans with culturally and linguistically diverse strategies and assessments. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 367. Jan Term and alternating May Term.

EDU 369 Field Immersion Intercultural Education 3

Participation in an intercultural off-campus experience at local, USA, or international educational site. Involves full school day experiences with culturally and linguistically diverse students for art, kinesiology, music, and theatre majors. Includes observation, lesson planning, assisting students with special needs, tutoring, teaching, and attending professional meetings at culturally diverse sites. Except for local settings, students live in the community and participate in life of the community. Candidates prepare culturally proficient analysis of their experiences, use levels of cultural insights to interview persons of diversity, and infuse lesson plans with culturally and linguistically diverse strategies and assessments. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 367. Jan Term and alternating May Term.

- EDU 372 Refugee and Immigrant Experiences 3
 This course is a hands-on introduction to the lives of refugees and immigrants in the USA and the local area, with emphasis on second-language learning and teaching. It looks at the experiences of immigrant populations through the lens of their cultural and linguistic adjustment, including an experiential service-learning component. Fall semester.
- EDU 401W Democracy, Leadership, and Schooling 3
 A capstone course to clarify spiritual, philosophical, social, and educational convictions as they relate to the teaching profession. Exploration of ways to translate worldview convictions into educational practice. Prerequisite: EDU 320. Also listed as LS 401W. Fall and spring semesters.
- EDU 410 Environmental and Sustainability Education in the K-12 Classroom 3
 This course is designed to prepare teacher candidates to integrate environmental and sustainability education principles in the elementary, middle level or high school classroom. The primary focus of the course is to develop candidates' skills in methodology that can be used in indoor and outdoor settings to engage students in activities that promote environmental understanding and sustainability through inquiry, place-based learning, field investigation and civic engagement. Periodic offering.
- EDU 424 Early Intervention for Special Education 3
 Instructional methods, management strategies and interdisciplinary intervention techniques appropriate for working with children with disabilities from birth to age six in integrated settings. Includes strategies for supporting families and developing Individual Family Service Programs (IFSP). Also listed as EDS 524. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 320. Fall Semester.
- EDU 426 Intervention for Severe Communication, Sensory, and Physical Problems 3
 This course will examine the characteristics of individuals identified with severe disabilities, their unique educational and service delivery needs, family and community issues, and instructional strategies and supports. Methods and strategies will emphasize assessment, functional skills, adaptive behaviors, augmentative communication, generalization, and specific behavior-change procedures. Technology, trends, and evidence-based behavior analytic practices will also be taught. Also listed as EDS 526. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 320. Spring Semester.
- EDU 430 Intervention for Autism Spectrum Disorders 3
 This course will address the diagnostic criteria and defining characteristics of ASD and related disabilities. The course will also discuss characteristics of effective behavioral interventions and explore the impact of having a child with ASD on a family. Finally, students will become knowledgeable about the characteristics of verbal behavior and assess, identify, and plan for instruction regarding verbal behavior. Also listed as EDS 530. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 321. Spring Semester.
- EDU 434 Early Speech, Language and Literacy 3
 Introduction to components of speech and language; and change involving second language acquisition whether oral or manual, with application to literacy and learning for students with disabilities. Junior/Senior standing or Graduate students. Also listed as EDS 534. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 320. Spring semester.
- EDU 436 Intervention Through Positive Behavior Intervention Support 3
 An overview of theory, research and methods related to identifying community values and establishing school-wide Positive Behavior Support. Includes functional behavior assessment, data collection methods, interventions and behavior management strategies to respond effectively to students who exhibit severe challenging behavior. Also listed as EDS 536. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDU 321. Fall Semester.
- EDU 438 Early Intervention Interdisciplinary Method 3

Early childhood special education methods using an interdisciplinary and Activity-Based Intervention approach. Requires on-site seminar and fieldwork. Junior/Senior standing or Graduate student. Also listed as EDS 538. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 424. Alternate Summers.

EDU 440 Methods for Teaching Reading 3

Processes of teaching reading, reading skills, reading comprehension and vocabulary development at the elementary level. Includes hands-on use of current published reading materials for planning reading lessons and an overview of Common Core Standards. This course may be taught at an off-campus location. Prerequisites: EDU 340, EDU 341 and EDU 342. Corequisites: EDU 441 and EDU 442. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 441 Diagnosis/Intervention Reading Difficulties 3

Study and use of instruments to assess reading abilities and the diagnosis and intervention of specific reading problems. Candidates assess elementary students, identify reading problems, and design and implement an intervention. This course may be taught at an off-campus location. Corequisites: EDU 440 and EDU 442. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 442 Literacy Field Experience 1

Placement in an elementary school for a semester-long field experience to observe reading and language-arts lessons modeled by classroom teachers and to assess reading abilities of selected students. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Corequisite: EDU 440, EDU 441. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 443 Methods for Teaching Writing 1

This course will focus on strategies for teaching and assessing writing for grades K-8. Emphasis will be on the writing process, writer's workshop, writing across the curriculum and using the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) to develop prompts for the three genre expectations for elementary and middle grades. Prerequisite: EDU 201 or EDU 202. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 444 Literacy Center Field Experience 1-2

This class will be largely clinical in nature and will allow students pursuing a reading endorsement to have additional time to learn various intervention programs and to work individually with a struggling reader. Students will find the experience to be extremely valuable in helping them understand the nature of reading difficulties and one method for structured intervention. Application required. Spring semesters.

EDU 453 Social Studies in Secondary School 2

Overview of social studies curriculum, instruction, and assessment in middle/high school. Emphasis on Common Core Standards in the area of social studies. Prerequisite: EDU 350. Fall semester.

EDU 454 Mathematics in Secondary School 2

Overview of mathematics curriculum, instruction, and assessment in middle/high school. Emphasis on Common Core Standards in mathematics. Prerequisite: EDU 350. Fall semester.

EDU 455 Science in Secondary School 2

Overview of science curriculum, instruction, assessment, and classroom/lab safety in middle/ high school. Emphasis on Common Core Standards in science. Prerequisite: EDU 350. Fall semester.

EDU 458 Content Area Reading and Writing 2

Strategies for improving comprehension of content area materials, adapting lessons for a wide range of learners, analyzing the appropriateness of written materials, and connecting writing to the content area. Also listed as EDU 548 (students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 461 Assessment, Management, and Differentiation for Elementary School 3

The purpose of this course is to prepare elementary teacher candidates to use appropriate instructional assessments, differentiation techniques, and classroom management strategies for K-8 classrooms. Prerequisites: Junior standing and EDU 340, EDU 341, & EDU 342. Corequisite: EDU 440. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 465 Assessment, Management, and Differentiation for Middle and High School 3

The purpose of this course is to prepare secondary teacher candidates to use appropriate instructional assessments, differentiation techniques, and classroom management strategies for 4th-12th grade classrooms. Prerequisites: Junior standing and EDU 350 & EDU 351. Corequisite: EDU 485. Fall semester.

EDU 470 Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA) Seminar 1

This one-credit course will serve to prepare undergraduate teacher candidates to pass the edTPA as part of the Washington State teacher certification process. The course will prepare candidates in the written reflection commentaries, videotaping and data collection and analysis process that are embedded in this performance assessment and providing ongoing support to candidates through the assessment window. Fall and Spring semesters.

EDU 472 Professional Issues in Elementary Education 1

Seminar on professional responsibilities, membership in professional organizations, faith and values related to teaching and parent/community relations. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 474 Elementary Student Teaching Seminar 1

Professional portfolio development, issues in student teaching, documentation of positive impact on student learning, and certification and job placement. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 476 Professional Issues in Secondary Education 1

Public-school laws, professional rights and responsibilities, membership in professional organizations, faith and values related to teaching and parent/community relations. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 478 Secondary Student-Teaching Seminar 1

Professional portfolio development, issues in student teaching, documentation of positive impact on student learning, and certification and job placement. Fall and spring semesters.

EDU 480 Field Experience (Level Specified) 1-6

May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course.

EDU 481 Special-Education Practicum, Early Childhood or K-8 1

A teaching-assistant practicum of 30 hours in a special-education classroom. Concurrent enrollment permissible in EDU 483, Advanced Practicum: Special Education, Early Childhood/K-8. Application is required. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory. Also listed as EDS 581. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisites: EDU 320 and EDU 321. Fall, Spring, Jan Term, and Summer Semesters.

EDU 482 Special-Education Practicum, Middle Or High School 1

A teaching-assistant practicum of 30 hours in a special-education classroom. Concurrent enrollment permissible in EDU 484, Advanced Practicum: Special Education, Middle/High School. Application is required. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory. Also listed as EDS 582. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program.) WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Prerequisite: EDU 320 and EDU 321. Fall, Spring, Jan Term, and Summer Semesters.

EDU 483 Advanced Special-Education Practicum: Early Childhood or K-8 4

A practicum of 120 hours in a special-education classroom under teacher supervision. Application and permission required. Also listed as EDS 583. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 321, EDU 323 and EDU 481. Fall, Spring, Jan Term, and Summer Semesters.

EDU 484 Advanced Special-Education Practicum, Middle or High School 4

A practicum of 120 hours in a special education classroom under teacher supervision. Application and permission required. Also listed as EDS 584. (Students must register for graduate level course and complete extra project if in a graduate program). WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 321, EDU 323 and EDU 482. Fall, Spring, Jan Term, and Summer Semesters.

EDU 485 Middle/High School Field Experience 1

Placement in a middle or high school in teaching area immediately prior to the student teaching semester. Includes working with students in groups, assisting teachers, and planning and teaching lessons. A minimum of 30 hours is required. May require transportation to an off-campus field experience. WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Corequisite: EDU 465. Fall semester.

EDU 490H Internship 1-4

EDU 493 Directed Teaching, Middle School and Special Education 11

WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 329, EDU 465 and EDU 485.

EDU 494 Directed Teaching, High School and Special Education 11

WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 329, EDU 465 and EDU 485.

EDU 496 Directed Teaching, Elementary Level 11

WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 321, EDU 440, EDU 441, and EDU 442.

EDU 497 Directed Teaching, Middle-School Level 11

WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 329, EDU 465 and EDU 485.

EDU 498 Directed Teaching, High-School Level 11

WA State Patrol / FBI fingerprint clearance and OSPI Pre-Residency Clearance application are required for this course. Pre-requisites: EDU 329, EDU 465 and EDU 485.

Engineering and Physics

The purpose of the Whitworth University Department of Engineering and Physics is to provide our students with an academically rigorous education in physics and engineering. This education takes place in a context of committed Christian faith, intellectual challenge, and holistic mentoring. Through a foundation in physics and engineering as well as professional communication and ethics, we prepare students for lives of meaningful work in which they will explore the laws of the natural world that God has made and will design solutions to meet the needs of humanity.

Engineering

Program Educational Objectives

The B.S. in engineering from Whitworth University is designed to prepare our graduates for professional practice or advanced studies by providing a broad education in engineering fundamentals in a liberal arts environment. The objectives of the program are that recent graduates will...

1. be active in engineering practice or apply their engineering background and problem-solving skills in non-engineering fields.
2. increase their capacity to serve their profession, their community, and the world by building on the foundational knowledge, skills and values gained at Whitworth.
3. help meet the needs of humanity as professionals who exhibit high ethical and professional standards.
4. communicate truthfully and effectively with various audiences on both technical and non-technical topics.
5. serve their profession, the community, and God's creation.

Student Outcomes

Upon graduation, Whitworth University engineering majors will be able to demonstrate...

1. an ability to identify, formulate and solve complex engineering problems by applying principles of engineering, science and mathematics.
2. an ability to apply the engineering design process to produce solutions that meet specified needs with consideration for public health and safety and global, cultural, social, environmental, economic and other appropriate factors.
3. an ability to develop and conduct appropriate experimentation, to analyze and interpret data, and to use engineering judgment to draw conclusions.
4. an ability to communicate truthfully and effectively with a range of audiences.
5. an ability to recognize ethical and professional responsibilities in engineering situations and to make informed judgments, which must consider the impact of engineering solutions in global, economic, environmental and societal contexts as informed by Christian and other applicable perspectives.
6. an ability to recognize the ongoing need to acquire new knowledge, to choose appropriate learning strategies, and to apply this knowledge.
7. an ability to function effectively as a member or leader of a team that establishes goals, plans tasks, meets deadlines and creates a collaborative and inclusive environment.

8. An ability to articulate how their values and beliefs are connected to their vocation.

Physics

Student Outcomes

Upon graduation, Whitworth University physics majors will be able to demonstrate...

1. the ability to apply knowledge of mathematics and physics.
2. the ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as to analyze and interpret data.
3. the ability to function on teams comprising individuals with differing skills, habits and backgrounds.
4. an understanding of professional and ethical responsibility informed by a Christian perspective.
5. the ability to communicate truthfully and effectively.
6. the knowledge, experience and attitude to enhance their capabilities and adapt continuously to a changing world.
7. the knowledge and habits required to continue with successful advanced study in physics or related fields.
8. significant experience conducting original research in basic or applied science.

Note: Students may not receive more than one major in the Department of Engineering and Physics.

Requirements for a Physics Major, B.A. (46)

Dual Degree Pre-Engineering Transfer Program

Pre-engineering advisor: Richard Stevens

Whitworth's pre-engineering program is designed to give students the broad foundation of a liberal arts education, as well as technical training to be successful in a variety of engineering disciplines. Arrangements have been made with several top engineering schools to allow pre-engineering students to complete their first two or three years of coursework at Whitworth and the remainder of the five-year program at a partner engineering school. Partnership arrangements exist with Washington University (St. Louis), the University of Southern California, Washington State University, and Columbia University. Upon completing a customized Whitworth pre-engineering curriculum with at least a 3.25 GPA and a good record, students are assured enrollment in one of the partner engineering schools. Students report that the broad knowledge base and the critical-thinking, teamwork and communication skills acquired at Whitworth have enabled them to thrive in both engineering school and the professional environment. Recent graduates are working at successful engineering firms around the country. The following courses are required to qualify for our partner engineering schools, with additional courses available to prepare for specific engineering fields.

Important note:

Completion of PS 151 and PS 153 with at least a 3.0 GPA is required for enrollment in all subsequent courses in the sequence. Students with a GPA between 2.5 and 3.0 in those two courses are eligible to file a petition with the chair of the Department of Engineering and Physics for a provisional exemption to enroll in further courses.

Requirements for a Science Endorsement for Majors in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics

The science endorsement requires a major in biology, chemistry or physics plus additional courses. For a list of these additional courses, please see the biology or chemistry sections of the catalog.

Interdisciplinary Courses

STEM 115 Preparing for a STEM Career 1

Students will learn about the type of scientific work they would enjoy, explore scientific careers, hear guest speakers, and understand the preparation necessary at the undergraduate level in order to succeed in their chosen career. Spring semesters. Recommended standing: Freshman.

STEM 151 Seminar for Health Professions 1

A seminar to introduce students to the pre-health fields. Visiting speakers will represent medical, dental and veterinary fields. Course will also cover specifics of courses, majors, and other issues related to pre-health fields. Spring semester.

STEM 351 Preparatory Seminar: Health Professions 1

A cross-disciplinary course focusing on synthesis of general biology, general chemistry, general physics, organic chemistry, physiology, NMR and IR spectroscopy. Strategic course for learning to apply introductory science/math knowledge to questions involving higher-order content. Intended for students planning to take the Medical College Admissions Test, Dental Aptitude Test, or veterinary-school entrance exams. Intended primarily for students in their junior or senior year. Students will prepare for health professions both in terms of the entrance exams and by researching each school's focus and prerequisites. Prerequisites: BI 140, BI 141, CH 161, CH 181, CH 271, CH 278, PS 151, and PS 153.

Engineering Courses

EN 121 Epic Fails in Engineering 3

This course will study notorious engineering failures and the scientific, political, and ethical considerations that are associated with these disasters. Failure will be studied not only for its negative consequences, but also from a redemptive perspective. This class is intended for non-science majors, and a high-school level knowledge of algebra and geometry is expected.

EN 125H Engineering in Society 3

Introduction to principles of engineering design and their application in small-scale design projects, context of engineering vocation and the engineer's place in society, and foundations for collegiate success as an engineering student. Honors Program offering, freshman only. Fall semester.

EN 130 Introduction to Engineering 2

This course introduces students to the way different engineering disciplines contribute to society, so they can begin to understand their career options. The course also describes the degree options available to Whitworth students and their respective requirements. The course includes an engaging design project and orientation to the engineering tool shop. Spring semester.

EN 171 Engineering Graphics & CAD 3

An introduction to modern concepts, standards, and techniques for preparing technical drawings that provide effective communication between design engineers, analysts, and fabricators. Engineering graphics techniques including spatial visualization, two dimensional sketching, multiview orthographic projection, pictorial drawing, solid modeling, and working drawings will be accomplished using AutoCAD and Inventor computer aided design software. Spring semester.

EN 173 Introduction to Embedded Systems

This course provides an introduction to embedded systems, the computers that are inside the devices you use each day and which allow those devices to monitor and react to the outside world. Learn about the hidden workings of the systems designed by engineers to make modern cars and phones smart. Some prior programming experience recommended. January, odd years.

EN 181 Manufacturing Processes

The course provides a comprehensive introduction to the processes used in the manufacture of plastic and metal products. It is a practical course that requires the use of machine tools and casting aluminum. Therefore, students should expect to be exposed to sharp edges as well as hot and molten material. The course will naturally require students to stand for extended periods and participate in physical activity. The concepts discussed in the textbook will be reinforced with hands-on experience; ultimately informing design and the tradeoffs in choice of materials, features, and process selection. Includes several field trips to manufacturing facilities.

EN 211 Statics

Mathematical review, equilibrium of a particle, free-body diagrams, equilibrium of a rigid body, structural analysis, friction, center of gravity, moments of inertia. Prerequisite: PS 151 and MA 171. Fall semester.

EN 230 Electric Circuit Analysis

Introduction to fundamentals of electric circuit analysis. Techniques include node-voltage, mesh-current, phasor representation, and Laplace transform. Transient and steady-state responses of RLC circuits. Single-phase sinusoidal steady-state and three-phase balanced systems. Introduction to filters and operational amplifiers. Circuit simulation with PSpice. Prerequisite: PS 153. Co-requisite: MA 281. Spring semester.

EN 230L Electric Circuit Lab

Design, assembly, and testing of electrical circuits with a focus on linear analog systems. Introduction to the use of common laboratory electronic equipment. Co-requisite: EN 230. Spring semester.

EN 271 Computational Methods

Introduction to the investigation of physical processes using computers. Survey of various computational techniques to solve equations commonly used in physics and engineering. This is a hands-on course with an emphasis on solving these equations for applications in physics. Prerequisite: MA 273. January, even years.

EN 287 Principles of Engineering Design

Introduction to methodologies, goals and challenges in engineering design. Also covers issues in communication, cost analysis, and ethics in engineering design. Prerequisite: EN 130. Co-requisite: EN 171. Spring semester.

EN 300 Engineering Thermodynamics

This course will cover the interaction of matter and energy, analyze energy transfer, and consider the limitations of thermodynamic systems due to energy and entropy. These considerations will be applied to real-world applications such as engines and heat pumps. Prerequisite: PS 251W. Spring semester, even years.

EN 311 Mechanics of Materials

Basic concepts of solid mechanics & mechanical behavior of materials, including stress-strain relationships, stress transformation, beam bending, elasticity, plasticity and fracture. Quantitative analysis of materials-limiting problems in engineering design. Prerequisite: EN 211. Spring semester, odd years.

EN 320 Fluid Mechanics and Heat Transfer

This course presents the fundamentals of both fluid mechanics and heat transfer from an engineering perspective. The fluids portion considers fluid statics, fluids in motion, momentum and energy equations, boundary layers, internal flows (e.g. pipes), and external flow (drag and lift). The heat transfer portion considers steady and transient conduction, internal and external forced convection, natural convection, radiation heat transfer, and heat exchangers. All topics are presented in the context of real world applications to create engineering estimates of performance. Prerequisite: EN 300. Fall semester, even years.

EN 321L Thermal and Fluids Laboratory 1

Practical experience measuring thermodynamics, fluid mechanics, and heat transfer phenomenon with an emphasis on applications in engineering and making engineering judgments based on data. Co-requisite: EN 320. Fall semester, even years.

EN 330 Semiconductor Electronic Devices 3

Provides a foundation in the science of semiconductor materials so the student is able to understand the characteristics and behavior of semiconductor electronic devices. Key devices such as diodes, field-effect transistors, and bipolar junction transistors are examined in detail. Prerequisite: PS 251W and EN 230. Spring semester.

EN 330L Electronic Devices Lab 1

Experimental measurement of properties of semiconductor materials, pn-junction diodes, bipolar junction transistors, and field effect transistors. Also includes an introduction to the application of these devices. Co-requisite: EN 330. Spring semester.

EN 335 Signals and Systems 3

An introduction to time and frequency domain analysis of continuous-time and discrete-time signals and linear systems. Topics include Fourier series, Fourier transform, fast Fourier transform, Laplace transform, z transform, convolution, sampling, aliasing, communications, modulation, and filters. Prerequisite: EN 230. Fall semester.

EN 351 Dynamics 3

Fundamental principles and methods of Newtonian mechanics including kinematics and kinetics of motion and the conservation laws of mechanics. Basic particle and rigid-body applications. Also listed as PS 351. Prerequisites: PS 153 and MA 281. Fall semester, odd years.

EN 356 Mathematical Methods I 2

Survey of various mathematical methods commonly used in physics and engineering. Topics covered will include linear algebra, vector calculus, and complex analysis. The emphasis will be not just on the mathematical theory, but also on the various applications of these methods. Prerequisite: MA 273. Spring semester.

EN 358 Mathematical Methods II 2

Survey of various mathematical methods commonly used in physics and engineering. Topics covered will include ordinary differential equations, elliptic, parabolic and hyperbolic partial differential equations, and various analytical and numerical solution techniques for them. The emphasis will be not just on the mathematical theory, but also on the various applications of these methods. Prerequisite: MA 281. Fall semester.

EN 388 Internship Preparation 1

Students will receive guidance in seeking an internship and will set objectives for that experience. Reading and reflection will deepen students' understanding of the role of work in life and how that is shaped by faith and values. Fall semester.

EN 393 Internship Reflection 1

Students will assess an internship experience and how it has shaped their thinking about their career. Reading and reflection will further deepen their understanding of the role of work in life and important workplace issues. Fall semester.

EN 411 Materials Science and Engineering 3

This survey course introduces the atomic nature of materials and how it can be manipulated and intentionally designed. Materials processing is connected with the resulting properties and performance of engineering materials. Prerequisite: PS 251W. Spring semester, odd years.

EN 484 Engineering Design Project I

This is the first course in a two-course capstone design sequence. In this sequence students apply engineering procedures and practices to a comprehensive design project. Throughout both courses the students work in teams to create typical industry project documentation such as written reports, CAD models and drawings, engineering performance estimates, schedules and status reports, and oral presentations. Emphasis in the first course is on early project work such as initial planning, alternative solution generation, and initial design models and analyses. Prerequisite: EN 287. Fall semester.

EN 485 Engineering Design Project

Introduction to methodologies, goals and challenges in engineering design. This is a hands-on course, with an emphasis on design of engineering systems for international development, and appropriate technology for developing communities. Also covers issues in communication, cost analysis, and ethics in engineering design. Prerequisites: EN 171 and either EN 211 or PS 373. Fall semester, odd years.

EN 487H Engineering Design Project II

This is the second course in a two-course capstone design sequence. In this sequence students apply engineering procedures and practices to a comprehensive design project. Throughout both courses the students work in teams to create typical industry project documentation such as written reports, CAD models and drawings, engineering performance estimates, schedules and status reports, and oral presentations. Emphasis in the second course is on project completion. Typical work includes completion of design detailing, performance analyses, prototype construction, verification testing, and final reporting. Prerequisite: EN 484. Spring semester.

Geology Courses

GL 131 Understanding Earth

Structure of the earth and the forces of plate tectonics that build and move continents. Examination of the dynamic interactions between the lithosphere (crust), atmosphere, and hydrosphere. Laboratory included. Also listed as ENS 131.

GL 131L Lab: Understanding Earth

GL 139 Environmental Geology

Interactions of the human species with land, sea and air. Geologic hazards, earth resources, oceanography, meteorology. Also listed as ENS 139.

GL 141 Introduction to Oceanography

This course provides a broad introduction to the oft times mysterious oceanographic realm. Topics include: nature of the seafloor; seabed resources; chemical and physical properties of water; currents, waves and tides; coastlines; primary production and other "life in the water".

GL 149 Science in Hawaii

This science course fulfills the general education requirement and is taught on the "Big Island" of Hawaii. It is designed to provide a basic understanding of foundational earth science topics including: plate tectonics; earthquakes; volcanoes; coastlines; climates; renewable energy; and Earth's place in the Universe.

Natural Sciences Courses

NS 101 Earth and Sky

A broad study of earth science including geology and astronomy, oceans, the atmosphere and fundamental underlying physical concepts. Includes the nature and the origin of the solar system, the structure of the earth, and how earth processes operate and affect human life; for example: volcanoes, earthquakes, rivers, groundwater, glaciers, ocean processes, atmosphere and weather. For elementary education students. Also listed as ENS 101. Fall and spring semesters.

Physics Courses

- PS 101 Physics of Weapons 3
A science course specifically designed for non-majors, this course will examine the ties between science and the technology of weapons. Societal impacts of these weapons and Christian responses will be examined. The primary focus of the course will be on physics, and knowledge of high-school algebra and geometry is expected.
- PS 121 Concepts of Physics 3
A study of fundamental unifying ideas of physics and of how scientists learn about the physical world. Emphasis on the comprehension of concepts. For non-science majors. Periodic offering.
- PS 123 Origins 3
Examination of the human quest to understand the origins of the Universe. Emphasis given to the historical development of scientific theories and the spectrum of Christian perspectives on origins. For non-science majors; algebra and geometry will be used. Periodic offering.
- PS 125 Introduction to the Cosmos 3
This course provides a broad introduction to the science of astronomy. The initial emphasis consists of a brief overview of the universe and of scientific inquiry, as well as historical astronomy. Subsequent studies take an inside-out approach beginning with residents of the solar system and then progressing to stars, pulsars, black holes, and galaxies. The course also examines the factors that contribute to Earth's ability to sustain life. The last topic to be considered is cosmology, the science of the origin and development of the universe. Throughout the course we will contemplate the tensions that arise when viewing our universe through the lenses of divine action and natural forces.
- PS 127 Introduction to Space Flight 3
A study of the scientific concepts behind the development and practice of space flight. Other topics include the history of space flight, military applications, socio-political implications, crew training, commercial spinoffs of space exploration and the outlook for the future. For non-science majors. Prerequisite: MA 107 or MA 108. Periodic Jan Term offering.
- PS 141 Introduction to Astronomy 4
Nature and origin of the solar system, starlight and star life, components and structure of a galaxy, the expanding universe and cosmology. Astronomical instruments are also discussed. Includes laboratory. Spring semester.
- PS 146 Physics in Current Events 3
Using current events as a starting point, we will discuss the physics behind these events and explore where it leads. Topics may include forces, energy, waves, sound, electricity and magnetism, heat, fluids, relativity, nuclear and particle physics, astronomy, and astrophysics. The selection will be based largely on current events in news media, such as newspapers, TV, radio, and the Internet. Students are encouraged to suggest topics of interest to them. Course includes a lab component. Fulfills the natural science requirement. Also listed as ENS 146.
- PS 151 General Physics I 3
Basic principles of mechanics. Corequisite: PS 151L & MA 171. Also listed as LS 151. Fall semester.
- PS 151L General Physics I Lab 1
Laboratory experiments in mechanics. Includes introduction to propagation of uncertainty. Prerequisite: PS 151 or concurrent enrollment.
- PS 153 General Physics II 3
Basic principles of thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism. Prerequisites: PS 151, also MA 172 or concurrent enrollment. Spring semester.
- PS 153L General Physics II Lab 1
Laboratory experiments in thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism. Prerequisites: PS 151L, also PS 153 or concurrent enrollment. Spring semester.
- PS 154L Near Space Research Project 1

Laboratory course involving the design, implementation, testing, and analysis of an experiment in near space. Provides project-based learning in thermodynamics, electromagnetism, and electronics.

PS 200 Physics Outreach	1
Promotion of physics and engineering education through service-learning in the community. An example of this outreach is working with local middle school students to help design and construct experiments to be flown to the upper atmosphere with a high-altitude balloon.
PS 251W Modern Physics	4
Continuation of PS 153. Basic principles of optics special relativity, and modern physics. Includes laboratory. Prerequisite: PS 153. Completion of this three-semester sequence is the normal pattern for entry into all upper-level physics courses.
PS 251L Lab: General Physics III	0
PS 351 Dynamics	3
Fundamental principles and methods of Newtonian mechanics including kinematics and kinetics of motion and the conservation laws of mechanics. Basic particle and rigid-body applications. Also listed with EN 351. Prerequisites: PS 153 and MA 281. Fall semester, odd years.
PS 353 Advanced Dynamics	4
Continuation of PS 351. Numerical techniques in dynamics, velocity-dependent forces, oscillations (linear, nonlinear, and coupled), motion in a noninertial reference frame, and alternative formulations of mechanics (Lagrangian and Hamiltonian). Includes laboratory. Prerequisite: PS 351. Spring semester, even years.
PS 353L Advanced Dynamics Lab	0
PS 361 Nuclear Physics	4
Nuclear structure, radioactivity, nuclear reaction interactions of nuclear radiations with matter. Includes Lab. Prerequisites: PS 251W. Fall semester, even years.
PS 361L Lab: Nuclear Physics	0
PS 363 Thermal Physics	4
Statistical mechanics, kinetic theory, laws of thermodynamics and states of matter. Implications for engines and other applications in many areas of science. Includes laboratory. Prerequisites: PS 251W and MA 281. Spring semester, odd years.
PS 363L Lab: Thermal Physics	0
PS 371 Optics	4
Nature of light, geometrical and physical optics, interference, quantum optics, optical instruments. Includes laboratory. Prerequisites: PS 251W and MA 281. Spring semester, even years.
PS 373 Electronics	4
A "learn-by-doing" practical introduction to the fundamentals of electronic devices and circuits. Emphasis on modern instrumentation. Includes laboratory. Prerequisite: PS 153. Spring semester.
PS 388 Internship Preparation	1
Students will receive guidance in seeking an internship and will set objectives for that experience. Reading and reflection will deepen students' understanding of the role of work in life and how that is shaped by faith and values. Fall semester.
PS 393 Internship Reflection	1
Students will assess an internship experience and how it has shaped their thinking about their career. Reading and reflection will further deepen their understanding of the role of work in life and important workplace issues. Fall semester.
PS 451 Electricity and Magnetism I	3

Electric and magnetic fields, boundary value problems, steady and alternating currents, electrical instruments, and measurement techniques. Prerequisites: PS 153 and MA 281. Fall semester, even years.

PS 453 Electricity and Magnetism II 4

Continuation of PS 451. Maxwell's equations, electromagnetic waves, advanced topics in electrical and magnetic phenomena. Includes laboratory. Prerequisite: PS 451. Spring semester, odd years.

PS 455 Quantum Mechanics 4

Principles of quantum mechanics, including Schroedinger's equation applied to the rigid rotor, the hydrogen atom and the harmonic oscillator. Includes laboratory. Prerequisites: PS 251W and MA 281. Also listed as LS 456. Fall semester, odd years.

PS 471 Research in Physics 1-4

Supervised research projects in areas such as electronics, optics, nuclear physics, computer applications, atmospheric physics. Prerequisite: permission of professor. Jan Term.

PS 473 Experimental Physics 1-4

Supervised research projects in areas such as electronics, optics, nuclear physics, computer applications, atmospheric physics. Prerequisite: permission of professor.

Whitworth's English majors choose one of three approaches to the major, based on their interests and career goals: literature (Track I), writing (Track II), or preparation for secondary teaching (Track III). Students in every track complete challenging courses in literature, writing and critical theory, so that all majors become careful and insightful readers, judicious and flexible researchers, and clear, imaginative writers. We aim to graduate students whose strong speaking, writing, analysis and problem-solving skills make them extraordinary, resourceful professionals.

The department offers six minors: a general (and very flexible) English minor, a minor in editing and publishing, a minor in film and visual narrative, a minor in teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL), a medieval and early modern studies minor, and a language arts minor designed especially for education students. We also support the university's interdisciplinary minors in U.S. cultural studies and women's & gender studies.

Each year we see graduates go on to excellent graduate programs or begin careers in a variety of fields, including teaching (at all levels, at home and abroad), marketing, professional writing, community outreach/nonprofit work, banking, management, and work in the film and publishing industries.

The Whitworth English faculty includes Christian scholars and creators specializing in British and American literature, creative writing, and composition and rhetoric. Our students have the opportunity to take traditional literature and writing courses alongside courses that investigate subjects such as digital composition, public discourse and rhetoric, professional writing, community art, film and publishing. We are committed to mentoring and guiding our students through their studies, and we love to see the hallways, offices and student-lounge space in Westminster Hall (our departmental home) full of enthusiastic students. Our students complete a senior portfolio process during which they refine their professional documents, consider career pathways, and work directly with a mentoring faculty member to revise and reflect on major writing projects. As we work to prepare our students for professional success, we also hope to pass on to them our own love of reading, writing, language and storytelling in all forms. Through our teaching, our research and writing, and our shared community events, we hope to encourage our students to live lives of spiritual commitment, resolved to act as stewards of God's creation while promoting civil and personal justice, at home and in the community.

The English major prepares students as follows:

1. At the completion of their lower-division coursework, all English majors (Tracks I, II, and III) should have acquired a command of foundational literary terminology; a basis for understanding the themes and histories of British, American, and world literatures; the ability to craft critical readings responding to a variety of literary genres; and experience writing in different genres.
2. By the time they graduate, students completing Tracks I and II (literature and writing) will also exhibit more advanced literary skills, including improved aesthetic discernment; oral interpretation and presentation skills; enlarged literary and personal vocabulary; critical reading, thinking and writing skills; facility with several critical approaches to literary analysis; and a command of research methods, bibliographic resources and documentation.
3. At the completion of their upper-division work for Tracks I and II (literature and writing), students should demonstrate in-depth knowledge of several literary eras as well as the major writers and works of those eras; an ability to write a variety of literary analyses and genres; and competence working with other students' in editing and revising their own writing.

4. At the completion of their upper-division work, Track III (teaching) students should have gained the specialized knowledge expected of secondary teachers of English and language arts, and they should be able to fulfill the state-mandated requirements for endorsement in language arts or another related field, as set forth in the current catalog.

Editing and Publishing (21 Credits)

Requirements for the Editing and Publishing Minor are listed on the Editing and Publishing page.

http://catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/interdisciplinarystudies/editing_and_publishing/

The Editing and Publishing (EP) Minor provides focused engagement and practical experience with text production, editorial discernment, and multiplatform design and publishing. EP students study the aesthetics and ethics of editorial work and multiple methods of textual production. They will create portfolio- and resume-worthy projects, and they will undertake significant professional internships. The EP Minor provides students with a unique opportunity to directly apply their humanities education to professional situations and future careers.

(EP Requirements (p. 105))

Film and Visual Narrative (18-20 Credits)

Requirements for the Film and Visual Narrative Minor are listed in the Film and Visual Narrative page http://catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/interdisciplinarystudies/film_and_visual_narrative/

The Film and Visual Narrative Minor is designed for students who are interested in focused engagement with film, visual storytelling, and emerging forms of digital narrative. FVN students study the history and aesthetics of film and related sequential visual media. While the minor focuses mainly on analyzing and responding to media, rather than on production, some electives in the minor give students the chance to experiment in various ways with media production.

(FVN Requirements (p. 158))

Medieval and Early Modern Studies (19-20 Credits)

Requirements for the Medieval and Early Modern Studies minor are listed at the Medieval and Early Modern Studies page

http://catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/interdisciplinarystudies/medieval_early_modern_studies/

The Medieval and Early Modern Studies (MEMS) Minor is designed for students interested in early time periods (from the fall of Rome in 450 CE to about 1800). The minor draws from many different fields on campus, including English, History, Music, and Art. Students will study these fields and time periods using interdisciplinary approaches.

(MEMS Requirements (p. 235))

TESOL Minor: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (16 Credits)

Requirements for the TESOL minor are listed at the TESOL page

<http://catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/interdisciplinarystudies/tesol/>

This short-term TESOL program is designed for students who would like to teach English to speakers of other languages. It is excellent preparation for (among other things) teaching abroad, teaching in private language schools, adult education, the Peace Corps, and Fulbright English Teaching Assistantships around the world. Students will study English language structure and acquisition, language pedagogy, and approaches to socio-cultural knowledge; all students will gain practical field experience in TESOL. Students in any major may apply for the TESOL Minor. Please note that the minor is not designed to lead to official certification for the U.S. public school system (which can be obtained through the completion of the teacher-education program in Whitworth's School of Education, catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/education/).

(TESOL Requirements (p. 289))

Women's and Gender Studies (WGS) Minor (18 Credits)

Requirements for the Women's and Gender Studies Minor are listed at the Women's and Gender Studies page.

<http://catalog.whitworth.edu/undergraduate/womensgenderstudies/>

The Women's and Gender Studies Program provides students with an intellectual framework for analyzing the role of gender in all aspects of their lives. It empowers each minor to imagine a world in which equality and freedom are possible for all people, and it invites them to take action to bring that world into being. Whether students hope to launch a business with women in developing countries, minister from a lens of equality, study environmental law, write novels, practice obstetrics, or pursue elected office, Women's and Gender Studies will allow them to frame a course of study to help find a path best suited to their interests.

(WGS Requirements (p. 316))

Environmental Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

The environmental studies minor adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the development of environmental literacy and competency as it pertains to the breadth of academic disciplines at Whitworth. The minor integrates natural science, social science and humanities to help students attain a balanced education that encourages careful stewardship of the earth. The minor comprises two required courses (three credits each) as well as 15 elective credits from an approved list, with at least one course each in the natural sciences, social sciences and humanities.

Benefits to Students. The environmental studies minor will provide Whitworth students with ...

- an enhanced ability to think critically about some of the most pressing questions of our day and to consider the environmental impact of their personal and professional decisions.
- a broad approach to environmental issues, including scientific, social, and economic perspectives.
- a greater appreciation for the application of faith and learning to creation care and environmental stewardship.
- enhanced marketability: Employers are increasingly concerned with the ramifications of the environmental impacts of their endeavors, and they hire accordingly. Students pursuing graduate education will be more competitive as a result of the wide perspective provided by this minor.

Core/Worldview Studies

Core is Whitworth's three-part worldview studies program. A worldview is "a commitment, a fundamental orientation of the heart that can be expressed as a story or in a set of presuppositions that we hold about the basic constitution of reality, and that provides the foundation on which we live and move and have our being" (Sire, 2004). A worldview serves as a lens through which we perceive and relate to reality; it is a set of core beliefs and basic understandings about the bigger and deeper questions of life.

Program Goals: The Whitworth University Worldview Studies Program exists to engage you in examining actively the pre-suppositional thinking that forms the basis of all human meaning-making. Its intent is to explore the origins of human thinking at this foundational level, particularly emphasizing the Western tradition of answering questions of meaning. The Worldview Studies Program seeks to meet these four general core objectives:

1. Furnish students with the basic categories of worldview thinking evident in the West including the nature of God, the nature of humanity, how we know, the nature of reality, and how we should live individually and corporately.
2. Expose students to a variety of answers that Westerners have given to these categories of worldview thinking across the disciplines of academic study, since worldviews express themselves in all aspects of human culture.
3. Provide opportunities for student contemplation and evaluation of both the categories of worldview thinking and the answers that Westerners have given to these categories in light of Scripture and the historic doctrines of the Christian Church.
4. Equip and encourage students to explore the parameters of their own worldviews via discussions, student activities, directed lectures, examinations, and readings.

The Ultimate Questions: To get at these worldview beliefs and their related issues, the Whitworth Worldview Studies Program focuses on three foundational questions:

1. What is the nature of God, the world, and humanity?
2. How do we know?
3. How should we act in response to a broken world, as individuals and as a community?

Although each of these questions will be addressed in some way within all three Core courses (150, 250, and 350), each Core class will emphasize and devote special attention to one question in particular, as follows:

Core 150: "What is the nature of God, the world, and humanity?" [This is known as "stating the claims."] This course examines the various ways in which this question has been answered, using the Christian tradition as a main point of reference, emphasizing questions of a religious and theological nature.

Core 250: "How do we know?" [This is known as "justifying the claims."] This course explores various ways of "knowing" (intuition, empirical senses, innate reason, and authority), and examines the rationalist worldview tradition that has emerged and influenced the Christian West, focusing upon questions of a philosophical nature.

Core 350: "How should we act in response to a broken world, as individuals and as a community?" [This is known as "applying the claims."] This course explores the ways in which Western worldview claims, particularly those of Christianity, are applied in the private and public spheres of life, emphasizing questions of a practical and ethical nature.

Core Courses

CO 150 Western Civilization I: Christian Worldview Perspective 4

The initial Worldview course focuses on theology and anthropology, the nature of God and humanity. Beginning with a brief comparative examination of various global worldview perspectives, the course focuses primarily upon key theological concerns of the Christian movement from its earliest beginnings to today, examining how those concerns have worked themselves out in various and diverse ways in the Church, as well as in the daily life of individuals and cultures in the Western world.

CO 150H Western Civ. I: Christian (Honors) Worldview Perspective 4

The initial Worldview course focuses on theology and anthropology, the nature of God and humanity. Beginning with a brief comparative examination of various global worldview perspectives, the course focuses primarily upon key theological concerns of the Christian movement from its earliest beginnings to today, examining how those concerns have worked themselves out in various and diverse ways in the Church, as well as in the daily life of individuals and cultures in the Western world.

CO 250 Western Civilization II: The Rationalist Worldview 4

The second Worldview course focuses on epistemology/hermeneutics and metaphysics, sources of knowledge (how knowledge claims are justified) and the nature of reality. The class examines the important and continuing impact of rationalism in shaping Western intellectual traditions, explores issues of faith and reason, and discusses challenges to a traditional Western canon.

CO 250H Western Civilization II: (Honors) The Rationalist Worldview with Films 4

Relying on film and field trip, the second Worldview course focuses on epistemology/hermeneutics and metaphysics, sources of knowledge (how knowledge claims are justified) and the nature of reality. The class examines the important and continuing impact of rationalism in shaping Western intellectual traditions, explores issues of faith and reason, and discusses challenges to a traditional Western canon.

CO 300 Reason/Knowing: Nature and Human Nature 4

This worldview course for Continuing Studies students focuses on epistemology, metaphysics and human nature questions within the complex traditions of Christian and Rationalist worldviews from the Hebrews and Greeks in ancient times through the 19th and 20th century challenges to Rationalist assumptions.

CO 350 Western Civilization III: Applied Ethics, Public Policy and Worldviews 4

This is the third course in the Worldview Studies program. It explores the relationship between our worldviews and our responses to the world's problems. Its emphasis is on the applications of worldview claims, particularly those of Christianity, in the private and public spheres of life, and it addresses practical and ethical questions. The interplay between worldviews, ethics, and public policy in various disciplines will be examined in the discussion groups.

CO 350H Western Civ III Honors 4

In this section, you will apply the main theme of CO 350 - how worldviews shape ethics and public policy - to the specific case of the American space program. As a part of your enrollment in this 'Honors' section, you are required to demonstrate a deeper understanding of the historical, social, and political factors that have shaped the policy-making process in the space program, as well as how worldviews of the key actors influenced that process.

General Education Courses

GE 125 First Year Seminar 1

Presentations, discussions, and activities that encourage the successful transition to college life and help first-year students become a part of the Whitworth community.

GE 125H Honors First Year Seminar 1

Presentations and discussions are designed to inform frosh with honors at entrance about the university's traditions, procedures and to help them become a part of the Whitworth community and the GW Honors Program. Elective for first-term frosh interested in pursuing the GW Honors Program.

GE 130 Success Strategies for Adult Learners 3

Development of study and thinking patterns that will allow the student to become independent scholars and critical thinkers. Designed for non-traditional age students returning to college. Periodic offering.

GE 148 Planning: Major/Career 1-3

Explores and defines personal interests, values, goals and personality in relation to choosing a major. Provides specific information on career and job opportunities to help students make career choices and other major decisions. Spring semester.

GE 303 Latin American Prep Course 1

Preparation for the Latin American Study Program.

GE 304 Maximizing Study Abroad 2

GE 325 Transfer Seminar 1

Presentations, discussions, and activities that encourage the successful transition to college life at Whitworth and help transfer students become a part of the Whitworth community.

GE 330 Community Leadership Training 1

A survey of topics related to effective community leadership, such as characteristics of community, conflict management, valuing diversity. Attention is given to development of applicable skills. Also listed as LS 330. Fall and spring semesters.

GE 335 Transitions to Adult Learning 3

An introduction to the expectations and methodology of the accelerated learning format and the programs in the School of Continuing Studies. Through readings, discussion, and writing assignments, the course examines critical thinking and communication skills. Topics include self-directed collaborative learning, academic research, and history/culture of Whitworth. This course must be taken within the first semester of attendance at Whitworth University.

Health Professions

Preparation for Health Professions

www.whitworth.edu/healthprofessions

Whitworth has a long history of preparing students for graduate programs and successful careers in the health professions, such as athletic training, chiropractic, dental, medical, nursing, pharmacy, physical therapy and veterinary medicine. Recent graduates have been accepted into professional schools at the following institutions:

Albert Einstein College of Medicine	Saint Louis University
A.T. Still University	San Jose University
Bastyr University	Stanford University
Central Washington University	Touro University
Cornell University	University of Arizona
Creighton University	University of Edinburgh, Scotland
Des Moines University	University of Hawaii
Eastern Washington University	University of Indiana
Hastings College	University of Indianapolis
Idaho State University	University of Kentucky
Indiana University	University Nevada, Las Vegas
Iowa State University	University of Oregon
Jefferson University	University of Pennsylvania
Loma Linda University	University of Pittsburgh
Mayo School of Health Sciences	University of Southern California
Mayo Graduate School of Medicine	University of Utah
Michigan State University	University of Virginia
Midwestern University	University of Washington
Oregon Health and Science University	Utah State University
Palmer College of Chiropractic	Virginia-Maryland Regional
Pacific Northwest University	Washington State University
Rosalind Franklin University	Western University of Health Sciences

The choice to pursue a career or graduate program in the health and wellness arena connects seamlessly to the mission of Whitworth University: equipping graduates to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity. Whitworth's rigorous liberal arts education gives students a broad knowledge base and a set of analytical, critical-thinking, and communication skills that enable them to thrive in graduate school and in their chosen careers. During his or her time at Whitworth, each student is encouraged to explore new areas of interest and to choose a major that focuses on an area that s/he finds most exciting. Most health-related graduate programs accept students from all majors and disciplines, as long as they have taken the required prerequisite courses. Therefore, all students preparing for careers in the health professions are encouraged to work closely with an advisor in their chosen major and with the health professions advisor (listed below each program's title) to develop a curriculum that prepares them to take the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT), the Dental Admission Test (DAT), or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), and/or to apply to the graduate school of their choice.

Specific prerequisites for programs may differ; it is the student's responsibility to check the prerequisites for the institution to which s/he wishes to apply. The following are some examples of health professions and the suggested courses for entrance into these graduate programs.

Pre-Chiropractic

Advisor: Mike Ediger

Chiropractic schools vary widely in their prerequisites. Check with your advisor and the D.C. school in which you are interested for more specific course requirements. Also, meet with your advisor regularly to develop an academic plan that meets your interests and goals.

Pre-Dentistry

Advisors: Karen Stevens, Mike Sardinia, Deanna Ojennus

The following courses are usually required for pre-dentistry students:

BI 140 & 140L	General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution and General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution Lab	4
BI 141 & 141L	General Biology II: Organismal Diversity and General Biology II: Organismal Diversity Lab	4
BI 370 or BI 447	Bacterial Pathogenesis (plus lab) Microbial Physiology	4
CH 161 & 161L	General Chemistry I and General Chemistry I Lab	4
CH 181 & 181L	General Chemistry II and General Chemistry II Lab	4
CH 271 & 271L	Organic Chemistry I and Organic Chemistry I Lab	4
CH 278 & 278L	Organic Chemistry II and Organic Chemistry II Lab	4
CH 401 or BI 311	Biochemistry I General Biochemistry	3
PS 151	General Physics I	3
PS 153	General Physics II	3
One year of college English		6

Pre-Medicine

Advisors: Karen Stevens, Mike Sardinia, Deanna Ojennus, Beth Abbey

The following courses are usually required for pre-medicine students:

BI 140 & 140L	General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution and General Biology I: Genes, Cells and Evolution Lab	4
BI 141 & 141L	General Biology II: Organismal Diversity and General Biology II: Organismal Diversity Lab	4
BI 363 & 363L or BI 399	Genetics and Lab: Genetics Molecular Genetics	4
CH 161 & 161L	General Chemistry I and General Chemistry I Lab	4
CH 181 & 181L	General Chemistry II and General Chemistry II Lab	4
CH 271 & 271L	Organic Chemistry I and Organic Chemistry I Lab	4
CH 278 & 278L	Organic Chemistry II and Organic Chemistry II Lab	4

Health Science

The Whitworth Health Sciences Department offers majors in health science (for both a B.S. and a B.A.), community health, athletic training, and nursing.

The mission of the Whitworth Health Sciences Department is to equip its graduates to serve humanity through study of the form and function of the human body and the body's connection to health and wellness. Through a curriculum that integrates theory and practice, graduates will be able to appreciate this relationship both critically and creatively and will learn to apply it to various health-related fields.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare graduates to...

- explain the form and function of the human body.
- explain various factors that make up holistic human health and wellness.
- identify their strengths and interests and demonstrate how these can be used to serve humanity.
- demonstrate appropriate strategies to communicate health and wellness concepts.
- demonstrate critical-thinking skills and the ability to access and evaluate health information and resources.
- articulate a worldview that integrates professional ethics with cultural competence and personal values.

B.S. in Health Science, Pre-Athletic Training track

The B.S. in Health Science, pre-athletic training track, is designed for individuals interested in pursuing a Master's degree in Athletic Training (either at Whitworth or at another institution). This pre-athletic training track integrates all pre-requisite courses for Whitworth's Master of Science in Athletic Training (see more information at <http://www.whitworth.edu/athletictraining/>). An additional pre-athletic training track is offered through the Kinesiology department (p. 204).

Mission statement

The mission of the Athletic Training Program at Whitworth University is to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to become proficient and professional entry-level athletic trainers. This is accomplished through high quality instruction and experiences that model ethical practice, effective communication and compassion. The program utilizes a holistic approach in developing multi-dimensional healthcare professionals and servant-leaders within the context of a Christian liberal-arts environment.

Athletic Training Courses

AT 170 Advanced CPR and First Aid	1
This course provides a comprehensive survey of cardiopulmonary resuscitation and first aid, focusing especially on situations likely to be encountered by professionals in health science and kinesiology. The intention is to provide the knowledge and skills necessary to work in an emergency to help sustain life, reduce pain, and minimize the consequences of injury or sudden illness until more advanced medical help can arrive. Leads to certification at the healthcare provider level.
AT 270 Emergency Response	2
First-aid and safety procedures. Emergency response and CPR certificates from the Red Cross awarded to those who qualify. Lab required.

Through self-evaluation, and critical analysis, students will be introduced to a variety of Health Science related professions. This introductory course is designed for 1st and 2nd year students and is offered each Jan Term.

HS 185 Medical & Anat. Terminology 2

Designed to help students understand health care related language, and prepare for HS 220 and HS 221. Medical terms, abbreviations, prefixes, suffixes, and root words will be examined as they related to body systems, medical disorders, and health care. Summer.

HS 215 Nutrition for Nursing 3

Introductory course on nutrition with a focus on how it impacts all aspects of health. Consideration will be given to nutrient metabolism, the clinical applications of nutrition specific to nurses, and assessment of one's own health. Prerequisites: CH 101 & 102; Jan Term

HS 220 Anatomy and Physiology I 4

Gross anatomy and physiological applications of the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, respiratory, and nervous systems of the human body. Emphasis given to the relationship of major organs to health and disease. Lab component provides practical application in the location and isolation of anatomical parts. Designed for students in nursing, athletic training, and kinesiology as well as other allied health programs. Lab required. Prerequisite: sophomore standing. Fall semester. Lab fee.

HS 220L Lab: Anatomy and Physiology I 0

HS 221 Anatomy and Physiology II 4

Gross anatomy and physiological applications of the cardiovascular, lymphatic, endocrine, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems of the human body. Emphasis given to the relationship of major organs to health and disease. Lab component provides practical application in the location and isolation of anatomical parts and physiological assessments. Designed for students in nursing, athletic training, and kinesiology as well as other allied health programs. Lab required. Prerequisite: HS 220. Spring semester. Lab fee.

HS 221L Lab: Anatomy and Physiology II 0

HS 261 Community Health 3

This course will explore foundations of community health, our nation's health status, health disparities, social determinants of health, and local and national health agendas. Specific emphasis is placed on social, behavioral, and environmental community health-related issues and the controversies that surround them. It will allow students to bridge health content knowledge with behavior change theory and application. Emphasis will be placed on developing and understanding: needs assessment, program rationale, mission statements, goals and objectives, implementation plans, and evaluation protocols. Prerequisite: HS-361 and HS-362. Spring semester.

HS 490 Internship 1-6

HS 498 Senior Seminar 3

Exploration of issues and mechanisms of health professional accountability, a humanistic basis of healthcare, cultural competence, social justice issues in healthcare, basic health policy principles, principles that guide ethical decision-making, patient rights, and healthcare professional duties. Senior standing. Fall and spring semesters.

History

Why Study History at Whitworth?

There are many reasons to study history. First of all, it's just plain interesting. Far from being a mere recitation of names, dates and places, the study of history opens windows and doors to cultures all over the world, from the ancient world to the recent past. You can study the fall of the Qing dynasty in China, the impact of the Crusades on Europe and the Middle East, the rise of Mayan and Aztec cultures, the diversity and triumph of African culture, and the culture and influence of the United States. The list goes on and on. History focuses on powerful and influential individuals such as Adolf Hitler, Mao-Tse Tung, Mary Wollstonecraft, Malcolm X, Joan of Arc, Rosa Parks and Elvis Presley. Historians develop interest in cultures, institutions, politics, religions, economics, anthropology, sociology, science and psychology. Historians study dreamers, believers, artists, entrepreneurs, politicians and musicians.

Second, historians ask big questions, such as "Why?" and sometimes, "Why not?" We ask why any human being would participate in the killing of 6,000,000 Jews — and whether we could do such a thing ourselves. Historians ask small questions that often have big consequences. We are interpreters of the meaning of events who raise difficult questions and avoid easy answers, and we are careful thinkers who practice empathy and offer critical judgment with humility.

Third, history majors get jobs. We'll help you develop a set of skills in research, writing, speaking and thinking. We'll help you with internships and connections. Mostly we'll help you develop broader interests and more enthusiasm for the world around you, which is one of the most important steps to meaningful employment.

Here are our goals:

Vocation: The history department offers skills development for a wide variety of vocations, and we offer a program of support for increased knowledge of 1) opportunities available for liberal arts students, 2) how faith and ethics intersect with vocational choices, and 3) how to navigate internships and applications successfully. Each year we offer internships at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C., and many local internships.

Oral and Written Communication: We teach skills in presentation, debate, group work, and several different kinds of history writing.

Research Skills: We teach research methods and presentation, including how to create historical context, how to analyze different kinds of evidence, how to search effectively and efficiently, and how to present research results in various media.

Historiography: Every history class presents both context and theory, teaching students how to interpret events through a grid of accepted ideas in the field/region in which they wish to work.

A history degree prepares successful candidates for jobs and for graduate school in a broad range of disciplines, including some for which there are tests such as the Praxis (education certification), the LSAT (law school admission), and the GRE (required by most graduate schools in most fields). Majors are urged to speak with their advisors about online or other preparation for such tests.

Honors, George Whitworth

George Whitworth Honors

GEORGE WHITWORTH HONORS PROGRAM PHILOSOPHY AND VALUES

The Whitworth Honors Program is rooted in the following principles that shape the program and reflect Whitworth's core values:

- Academic excellence: Requirements for credit granted in honors-program learning experiences will exceed the academic expectations of most Whitworth courses.
- Active and collaborative learning: Learning experiences are characterized by joint intellectual effort among students, or between students and faculty in pursuit of deeper knowledge and understanding. Learning experiences in the honors curriculum are designed to require active participation and a high degree of self-direction from students.
- Christian mission: The honors program includes experiences with a faith-learning integration component.
- Community: Registration for honors program offerings is elective and open to all Whitworth students. When space is limited, priority will be given to honors students, assuming their timely registration.
- Educational breadth: Honors graduates must complete academic-enrichment experiences across the curriculum (not just in proximity to their major).
- Preparation for vocation: Honors experiences are designed to provide a high level of preparation for post-baccalaureate educational and/or career opportunities.

The primary aim of the program is to provide academic benefits by deepening student engagement -- by adding "depth, complexity, and novelty."

1. Depth is the level of mastery and understanding of the material presented. Students in the honors program will study course content more extensively or in greater depth than in typical college courses. This leads toward the student's greater insight through the discovery of detail, patterns and trends.
2. Complexity is the level of thought and processing involved in an activity. Dealing with complexity helps students to understand concepts at a high level and to see the interrelationship of concepts.
3. Novelty refers to the unique personal experience of the student. S/he may study something that is not a part of the regular curriculum but that is of interest to him or her. Self-directed study leads toward heightened individuality and expansion of personal belief systems.

A secondary aim of the program is to provide students a range of experiences to enhance their preparation for post-baccalaureate study and vocations.

GEORGE WHITWORTH HONORS PROGRAM

The George Whitworth Honors Program allows high-achieving, motivated students who are admitted with honors to be eligible for a menu of challenging academic-enrichment experiences over their four years at Whitworth. Program components benefit students differently, depending upon their particular interests and learning styles. The strength of the program is that the student directs himself/herself through a diverse set of learning experiences across multiple disciplines. These experiences may include honors general education or interdisciplinary courses, honors courses within a major, advanced seminars, honors creative projects, honors research, honors study abroad, and honors internships. Eligibility for priority enrollment in many honors courses is dependent upon the student's GPA. Eligibility to participate in certain types of honors experience (e.g., research, internship, performance) is by faculty approval, based on applications that demonstrate preparation related to the honors area.

Eligibility to Graduate with George Whitworth Honors

Incoming first-year students with honors at entrance automatically qualify for the honors program (with 1870 SAT and 3.75 cumulative high school GPA). Honors students must register to be officially enrolled in the program, and must maintain a 3.75 GPA to remain in the program.

Overview/Areas of Interdisciplinary Study/Courses

Interdisciplinary teaching and scholarship cross boundaries between academic disciplines or schools of thought to expand traditional limits on knowledge and to address new and emerging challenges. The epidemiology of AIDS and the dynamics of climate change, for example, require the insights and resources of multiple disciplines. The Whitworth 2021 strategic plan emphasizes interdisciplinary studies as essential to a comprehensive and relevant liberal arts education and to subsequent vocational service and success.

Interdisciplinary studies at Whitworth entail a range of offerings, including academic majors, minors and signature general-education courses such as Core 150, 250 and 350. Several of these areas of study incorporate significant programmatic and co-curricular elements such as events, speakers and leadership/service opportunities.

Interdisciplinary Majors

American Studies, History Emphasis (p. 180)

Art History (p. 46)

Bioinformatics (p. 225)

Cross-Cultural Studies, History Emphasis (p. 181) or Political Science Emphasis (p. 267)

Mathematical Economics (p. 222)

Peace Studies, Political Science Emphasis (p. 269)

Visual Design in Computing (p. 46)

Area of Concentration

Students who wish to integrate related courses from a variety of academic disciplines have the option of declaring an area of concentration in lieu of choosing a departmental major. Here are the guidelines for an area of concentration:

- You must declare the area of concentration before the first semester of your junior year or be a transfer senior.
- Your AOC must involve an in-depth study in one topical area.
- Be sure your AOC reflects an integration of disciplines into one topic.
- Be prepared to meet the AOC requirement of 40-60 credits.
- Remember that your AOC must be at least as rigorous as a departmental program.
- If your AOC involves teacher certification, you must clear it through the School of Education.
- Keep in mind that your AOC cannot include more than four independent studies.
- Be sure to include one writing-intensive course in your AOC.

Interdisciplinary Minors

Asian Studies (p. 61)

Development Studies (p. 103)

International Education

The Whitworth International Education Center combines off-campus programs, international student services and the English for International Students Program. The team is housed in Hendrick and Westminster halls.

Mission Statement: The Whitworth International Education Center prepares students, faculty and staff to be global citizens by expanding opportunities for them to experience and explore cultures throughout the world.

Knowledge of a world culture other than one's own is a major learning goal at Whitworth. In order to provide the best opportunity for students to live and learn in vastly different cultural settings, the university offers a wide variety of international and multicultural courses involving travel. In off-campus venues, students acquire understanding that helps form their value systems, priorities and commitments to serve a world in need. Participants return better prepared to live in an interdependent world.

Whitworth's goal is to ensure that all students who wish to do so are able to study another culture abroad or elsewhere in the United States. The Whitworth Off-Campus Studies Office assists students in planning and executing their international and multicultural study programs. Working with an expanding network of partner universities and institutions in the U.S. and throughout the world, the center provides programs for both individuals and groups. Official exchange programs between Whitworth and other international universities are generally the least expensive for students. Overseas travel scholarships are available to qualified students.

Note: Whitworth does not operate programs in countries where a U.S. Department of State travel warning has been issued.

English for International Students

gbrekke@whitworth.edu

For students whose primary language is not English, advanced-level courses are available to bring students' reading, writing and oral communication skills up to a level of proficiency for participation in other courses at Whitworth University. These courses require students to use an integrated set of skills for critical thinking, analytic reasoning, problem-solving, and written and oral communication. Each EIS course carries four semester credits and is creditable toward graduation.

All international students whose primary language is not English or who are non-U.S. citizens are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and to have their official scores sent by Educational Testing Service to Whitworth University. Official International English Language Testing System (IELTS) scores may be substituted for TOEFL scores. TOEFL or IELTS scores that are more than two years old will not be accepted.

TOEFL minimum score: 79 iBT

TOEFL preferred score: 88 iBT

IELTS score: 6.5

Students who meet the minimum English proficiency requirement but have scores lower than those listed as preferred will be required to enroll in EIS 106, EIS 107, EIS 108, and EIS 109, which are offered only in the fall semester and Jan Term. These students should therefore plan to begin their time at Whitworth in the fall semester.

English for International Student Courses

Whitworth Semester Abroad

During at least one semester each year, a group of Whitworth students travels to a foreign country for three or four months and receives instruction from Whitworth faculty as well as from native scholars. These “mini-universities” abroad generally include 12-25 students and are limited to students at or above the sophomore level. Applications for semester-abroad programs are due one year in advance, and students may be screened on the basis of maturity and adaptability to foreign environments. The schedule for these programs is as follows:

Britain and Ireland

Courses: Dependent upon faculty leaders; have included English literature, history and art, business, theology

Highlights: Visits to major cities and historic sites

Years: 2018 (spring semester) and every third year thereafter

Highlights: Live on campus at Minzu University, in Beijing, where Mandarin is taught by local professors.

Years: Periodic

Jan Term Programs

The month of January affords a broad variety of short study programs led by Whitworth faculty. Aside from courses offered on a regular basis (usually alternating every other year), several “one-of-a-kind” experiences for students are typically offered during Jan Term. Programs are announced the February prior to the Jan Term in question. Applications are accepted shortly thereafter, and program rosters are finalized by the end of the spring semester prior to the Jan Term. The courses are as follows:

International Student Exchange Program

This consortium program allows Whitworth students to attend any of 160 member universities in Europe, Africa, Asia, Australia, Canada and Latin America. Payment for tuition, room and board is made to Whitworth. The student pays a placement fee, health insurance, visa fees and airfare. Some scholarships are available to qualified students.

Some of the universities that have welcomed Whitworth students through ISEP include the University of Ulster (Ireland); Linnaeus University (Sweden); University of Hyderabad (India); Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Valparaiso (Chile); and Universidad Americana (Managua, Nicaragua).

Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU)

As a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, Whitworth supports three of the coalition's study programs. Four positions per year are open to Whitworth students who want to spend either fall or spring semester studying at one of the following locations:

American Studies Program, Washington, D.C.

Highlights: Students live in apartments in the nation's capital. The program includes coursework and internships that focus on current national and international issues in public policy in the context of Christian faith.

Requirements: Junior standing, serious Christian commitment, and strong academic record

Latin American Studies Program, San Jose, Costa Rica

Highlights: Students live with host families. Program includes intensive Spanish-language coursework; seminars on Latin-American history, politics, economic and religious life; a service-related internship; and a two-week tour of other Latin American countries. Two specialized academic tracks — international business and management, and tropical sciences and sustainability — are available to qualified students.

Requirements: Junior standing, serious Christian commitment and strong academic record

Los Angeles Film Studies Center

Highlights: The program provides an introduction to the mainstream Hollywood film industry and examines the industry within a Christian context and from a liberal arts perspective. Students learn from both theoretical and hands-on approaches, including an internship.

Requirements: Junior standing, serious Christian commitment and strong academic record

Oxford: (SCIO) Scholarship and Christianity in Oxford

Whitworth students interested in an especially robust academic experience, particularly those enrolled in the George F. Whitworth Honors Program, are invited to consider the Scholarship and Christianity in Oxford Program (SCIO). As a student through SCIO, you are a registered visiting student for a semester at Oxford, which gives you access to one-on-one tutoring with Oxford scholars, world-renowned libraries and an intensive study experience within one of many different academic disciplines. This Oxford experience can be the perfect bridge from Whitworth to the world of graduate studies.

Requirements: Junior standing, serious Christian commitment and strong academic record

Kinesiology

The Whitworth Kinesiology & Athletics Department offers a major in kinesiology and minors in kinesiology and athletic coaching. These academic programs provide both a theoretical and a practical educational experience for future teachers, coaches and health/wellness/fitness specialists. The kinesiology major allows students to choose from two educational tracks. The teaching track prepares students to teach/coach in public or private schools. Students in the teaching track are also required to complete an education (elementary or K-12) certification. The non-teaching track prepares students for health, fitness and physical education-related career opportunities and requires an internship in the discipline.

The learning outcomes for this major prepare students to...

- develop a holistic understanding of the importance/role/significance of the fitness/wellness discipline.
- develop the skills and abilities necessary for employment in careers in the education, exercise and/or health-related professions.
- learn and apply the concepts of professionalism and integrity in the fitness and wellness industry.
- be prepared for entry into advanced degrees in health, fitness, physical education, sports management, sports psychology, exercise science, movement studies and related fields.
- become health, fitness and physical education teachers who will have a positive impact on the learning and development of those whom they are called to serve.
- be eligible for certification exams in strength and conditioning, as well as in personal training.

Whitworth students are required to complete a minimum of one writing-intensive (“W”) course within their major. Kinesiology courses that currently meet that requirement are KIN 322W and KIN 430W. Students pursuing an education endorsement must have an alternate-level field experience, which may be fulfilled with EDU 493, EDU 494, EDU 496, EDU 497, or EDU 498. In addition, EDU 493, EDU 494, EDU 496, EDU 497, or EDU 498 may be substituted for the kinesiology internship experience if the student is pursuing an endorsement in health and fitness. A grade of “C” or higher in all major courses is required if the student is pursuing teacher certification or an education endorsement. All endorsements are subject to change; see School of Education for updated education requirements.

Fitness and Wellness

In addition to the previously described degree programs, the kinesiology & athletics department is responsible for the oversight of the institution's general education requirements for "fitness and wellness for life." Courses that fulfill these requirements are designed to emphasize responsible stewardship of God's creation through maintenance of personal health. Students develop skills and establish habits that prepare them for a lifetime of healthy living and physical well-being. Students are required to complete three activity courses, one of which must be among the fitness/wellness (FW) course listings.

The learning outcomes for fitness-for-life courses include...

- provision of an environment for students to participate in regular physical activity.
- students who are challenged to develop healthy lifestyle habits and choices.
- development of an understanding and appreciation for the miraculous creation of the human body.
- the understanding and application of appropriate fitness and wellness terminology.

Leadership Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

The mission of the Whitworth Leadership Studies Program is to educate the minds and hearts of those who practice leadership. The program makes a significant and unique contribution to the study and practice of leadership through its integration of principles and theories of leadership with the transforming nature and the moral authority of Christ. Students acquire knowledge and skills informed by emerging and related collaborative and transforming leadership theories. The program teaches a perspective on world need that is broad, inclusive and empathetic.

The learning outcomes of this minor prepare the student to obtain the following:

Knowledge

Students who complete the Whitworth Leadership Studies Program will...

- develop knowledge of the evolution of the theories of leadership and management, as well as theories that inform various practices of leadership, e.g., conflict management.
- be able to understand, in different kinds of leadership situations, how to choose appropriate situational leadership styles and understand the basic leadership theory that informs their practice of leadership.
- understand how complexity theory and chaos theory inform their analysis of organizations.
- understand the differences between transactional and transforming leadership and the benefits of each in different kinds of leadership and organizational settings.
- learn to develop and present a comprehensive project proposal.
- explore the relationship of leadership to service by participating in local and global service projects.
- have appreciation and knowledge of both the breadth and the depth of contemporary and classical leadership literature.

Skills

Students who complete the leadership studies program will gain skills and competence in the following areas:

- moral reasoning
- leading change
- critical-thinking skills
- creative problem-solving skills
- conflict-resolution skills
- human motivation
- organizational behavior
- communications issues
- servant-leadership
- ethical practices in leadership

- participation on leadership teams

Requirements for a Leadership Studies Minor (19)

Required core courses:

LS 250	Principles of Service and Leadership	3
LS 350	Transforming Leadership	3
LS 401	Leadership Seminar	1

Three semester credits from the following: 3

LS 490	Leadership Internship
LS 455W	Chaos Theory, Leadership and Management
LS 330/GE 330	Community Leadership Training
LS 172/TH 172	Foundations for Christian Leadership
LS 173/TH 173	Foundations for Christian Leadership II

Supporting curriculum (choice of nine semester credits): 9

Business and Economics (no more than six semester credits):

LS 110/BU 110	Introduction to Business and Management
LS 425/BU 425	Organizational Behavior
LS 450W/BU 450W	Social and Ethical Issues in Business and Economics
LS 453W/BU 453W	Organizational Theory
LS 455W/BU 455W	Chaos Theory, Leadership and Management
LS 325/EC 325	Economic Development

Communication Studies (no more than six semester credits):

LS 244/JMC 244	Publicity and Public Relations
LS 323/SP 323	Organizational Communication
LS 351/SP 351	Group Dynamics
LS 398/SP 398	Intercultural Communication
LS 493/SP 493	Communication Ethics

English, Political Science and History (no more than six semester credits):

LS 316/EL 316	American Drama Since 1900
LS 410W/HI 410W	American Intellectual History
LS 297/PO 297	Nonviolent Defense and Conflict Resolution
LS 353/PO 353	International Political Economy
LS 371/PO 371	Introduction to Public Administration
LS 424W	International Development (Cross-listed as PO 425W)

Psychology and Sociology (no more than six semester credits):

LS 365/SO 365	Cities and Urban Life

Theology & Philosophy (no more than six semester credits):

LS 221/TH 221/PH 221	Ethics
LS 313W/TH 313W	History of Christianity I
LS 314W/TH 314W	History of Christianity II

Other Discipline Areas (no more than nine semester credits):

LS 333/BI 333	Evolutionary Biology
LS 354/BI 354	Developmental Biology
LS 201/EDU 201	Educational Psychology for Children and Adolescents
LS 402W	Democracy, Leadership, and Schooling (Cross-listed as EDU 401W)
LS 322/KIN 322	Philosophical and Psychological Aspects Of Coaching
LS 332/AT 333	Organization and Administration of Athletic Training
LS 302/MI 302	Applied Team Leadership
LS 225/MU 225	General Conducting

LS 427/MU 427	Advanced Conducting
LS 151/PS 151	General Physics I
LS 456	Quantum Mechanics (Cross-listed as PS 455)
LS 361/TA 361	Fundamentals of Directing
Special Topics:
LS 196	Topics in Leadership Studies
LS 396	Topics in Leadership Studies

Courses

LS 151	General Physics I (Cross-listed with PS 151)	3
LS 151L	General Physics I Lab (Cross-listed with PS 151L)	1
LS 172	Foundations for Christian Leadership	2
LS 173	Foundations for Christian Leadership II	2
LS 196	Topics in Leadership Studies	1-3
LS 201	Educational Psychology for Children and Adolescents (Cross-listed with EDU 201)	3
LS 202	Exploring Teaching (Cross-listed with EDU 202)	1
LS 221	Ethics (Cross-listed with PH 221 and TH 221)	3

The Whitworth Mathematics & Computer Science Department offers a solid foundation in mathematics, statistics, computer programming, databases, networks and software engineering. Talented faculty in the department's interdisciplinary programs help students learn to apply mathematics and computing skills in the fields of natural science, business and industry, and the social and behavioral sciences.

Believing that God wants all individuals to strive to reach their full potential, department faculty challenge motivated students by providing them the opportunity to participate in activities that go beyond the traditional classroom experience. These involve state-of-the-art research and development, service-learning projects and teaching-assistant opportunities. Through theory, practice and the pursuit of knowledge, students develop the problem-solving skills that will help them succeed in their professions and in life. The learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to do the following:

Mathematics

- Demonstrate an appropriate level of problem-solving skills using analytical reasoning.
- Demonstrate proficiency in oral and written communication.
- Develop necessary skills for ongoing learning.
- Understand the need for solid ethical decision-making. Consider how faith and/or worldview can inform one's vocation and professional practices.
- Transition from concrete to abstract thinking according to the design of the undergraduate program in mathematics.
- Demonstrate proficiency with various technological tools.

Computer Science

- Demonstrate an appropriate theoretical foundation for computer science.
- Develop software-engineering proficiency.
- Cultivate problem-solving and critical-thinking skills.
- Reinforce interpersonal skills and effective teamwork.
- Demonstrate proficiency in communication skills – written, verbal, and presentation.
- Gain an international perspective and the ability to work cross-culturally.
- Understand the need for sound ethical decision-making and the social and legal implications of those decisions. Consider how faith and/or worldview can inform one's vocation and professional practices.

Computer Science Honors Program

The intent of the honors program is to provide motivated students with the social and academic activities necessary to foster their growth as individuals and their commitment to excellence and service to others. Students enrolled in the program must complete a major in computer science. To qualify for graduation as a Whitworth Computer Science Honors Program graduate, candidates must complete the following requirements by the end of their senior year. Each requirement will be documented in the student's portfolio.

1. Apply for admission to the honors program after completing CS 172.

2. Maintain an overall cumulative GPA of 3.5 or above.
3. Complete the professional-learning requirement by fulfilling each of the following activities:
 - Join either the Association for Computing Machinery or the IEEE Computer Society.
 - Regularly attend ACM/IEEE Computer Society meetings.
 - Participate in the planning and presentation of a minimum of two ACM meetings.
 - Document meeting plans and presentations in the portfolio.
 - Participate in ACM/IEEE activities (social events, special-topics seminars, etc.)
4. Complete the service requirement by participating in at least one of the following areas:
 - as a teaching assistant for computer science courses
 - as a research assistant for a computer science faculty member
 - as a lab assistant for the general computing labs
 - as a technician for the Whitworth Computing Services Department
 - by participating in related service-learning projects
5. Satisfactory completion of an internship and/or research assistantship
6. Completion and defense of a senior research project
7. Completion of one semester of CS 499W, Research Methods

Interdisciplinary Courses

STEM 115 Preparing for a STEM Career 1

Students will learn about the type of scientific work they would enjoy, explore scientific careers, hear guest speakers, and understand the preparation necessary at the undergraduate level in order to succeed in their chosen career. Spring semester. Recommended standing: Freshman.

Computer Science Courses

CS 110 Introduction to Computer Information Systems 3

Basic concepts of computer hardware, software and information processing. Impact of computers on society and the ethics of information technology. Hands-on experience with operating systems, file systems, word processors, spreadsheets, databases and communication tools. Fall semester.

CS 125 Business Information Systems 3

Introduction to business application software. Students will cover business application software concepts including Microsoft Excel, Access and very introductory macro programming for these applications. The course will start with advanced Excel topics, proceed to Access and finish with introductory macro programming concepts. Students will implement and present a business-related project using either Excel or Access. Fall and spring semesters.

CS 171 Computer Science I 3

Introduction to problem-solving, abstraction and design using the C++ language. Special emphasis on development of algorithms and writing programs in a structured form. Recommended prerequisite: MA 108 or higher. Fall and spring semesters.

CS 172 Computer Science II 3

Problem-solving, abstraction and design using the C++ language. Special emphasis on pointer variables, recursion, and file handling. Introduction to data structures (including stacks, queues, linked lists, and binary trees), classes, and object-oriented programming. Prerequisite: CS 171. Fall and spring semesters.

CS 178 Intro to Excel for Business Students 1

An introduction to the use of Excel for business students, this course prepares students to understand the basics of Microsoft Excel. This course uses case-based tutorials to engage students in applying skills to real-world situations, making concepts relevant. The course enhances critical thinking by using the program to solve problems and create reports. This course is a 1 credit weekend workshop.

CS 273 Data Structures 3

An introduction to stacks, queues, recursion, linked lists, trees, graphs, sorting, and searching. Emphasis on algorithm analysis. Prerequisite: CS 172. Fall and spring semesters.

CS 274 Ethical, Social & Legal Issues in Computer Science 3

Students will research, discuss, and argue a variety of current ethical issues related to computer science. Students will also learn about the professional organizations' supporting computer scientists and understand each organization's code of ethics. Finally, students will understand how to be professionals in computer science. Prerequisite: CS 171. Spring semester.

CS 278 Computer Organization and Assembler Programming 3

Computer organization and the structure of digital computers. Work in MASM assembler language programming on a PC computer. Prerequisite: CS 172. Fall semester.

CS 294 Career and Vocation Seminar 1

Students in this course will learn about different career and vocational paths related to mathematics and computer science and go about pursuing a specific path. Further, students will explore how their own faith and worldview can interact with their discipline through vocation discussions. Spring semester.

CS 301 Internet Applications Development

An information technology course designed as an introduction to the tools and methods of Internet applications development. Special emphasis on Internet programming languages and the design of interactive WWW documents. Prerequisite: CS 171. Also listed as FVNS 301. Jan Term, odd years.

CS 313 Networks

Fundamental concepts of computer network theory, topologies, architecture, and protocol layers. Provides a foundation in current networking technology for local area networks, wide area networks, and the Internet. Prerequisite: CS 273. Fall semester, odd years.

CS 314 Microsoft Networks

A network-systems technology course designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to complete day-to-day administrative tasks in a single domain or multiple domain Microsoft-based network. Students will learn how to install, configure, customize, optimize, troubleshoot, and support local- and wide-area network environments. Prerequisite: CS 172. Spring semester, even years.

CS 315 Distributed Scalable Computing

Introduction to concepts of distributed and parallel processing paradigms. Project development using a variety of programming technologies. Development in Windows and Linux Operating Systems. Prerequisite: CS 273. Fall semester, even years.

CS 320 Quality Assurance in Software Development

Students in this course will cover techniques in testing computer software. Topics will include: History of software and testing, ad-hoc testing methods, test plans, formal testing methods, automation and testing tools, and security testing. Students will have a firm foundation in testing as well as improved skills as software developers. Prerequisite: CS 172. Fall semester, even years.

CS 344 Human Computer Interaction

An introduction to the human-computer interaction (HCI). Students will learn definitions of HCI, the history of computer user interfaces, interaction models, and user-centered design and task-analysis. Students will also learn the principles and guidelines for implementing user interfaces using dialog, voice input, and multi-modal interfaces. Also listed as FVNS 344.

CS 355 Introduction to Bioinformatics

This is an interdisciplinary course that integrates molecular biology, biophysics, statistics and computer science. The course provides an introduction to the computational tools, techniques and algorithms that are used by biologists, geneticists and computational chemists to gain a deeper understanding of the fundamental processes that govern biological organisms. Prerequisite: CS 172 recommended. Spring semester, odd years.

CS 357 Computer Graphics

Hands-on experience with state-of-the-art computer graphics rendering and display techniques. Emphasis on texture mapping, ray tracing, and 2-D and 3-D object manipulation and animation. Prerequisite: CS 273. MA 330 highly recommended. Also listed as EP 357. Spring semester, odd years.

CS 359 Introduction to Technology & Culture: Study Abroad Program Preparation

Required for those students taking part in CS 360: Technology & Culture: Study Abroad Program in Jan Term. In addition to preparing students to experience a foreign culture, this course studies technology from global, economic, religious, gender and intercultural viewpoints. The course serves to build community among the program participants and prepares them for international travel, intercultural sensitivity, and cross-cultural experiences. Taken in preparation for CS 360. Permission of instructor. Fall term, odd years. Also listed as CS 359.

- CS 360 Technology & Culture: Study Abroad Program 3
 A Jan Term study program focusing on the interactions between technology and culture. Students will broaden their cross-cultural understanding by exploring the role of technology in another culture as well as the influence the culture has had on technology. Students will participate in university exchanges, visit vital industries, travel to important historical cultural sites, attend different churches, and engage in other rich cross-cultural experiences such as service projects. Prerequisite: CS 359. Destination country varies, e.g. Ireland/Britain, India, etc. Jan Term, even years.
- CS 370 Programming Languages 3
 Concepts and paradigms of programming languages. Topics include: history of programming languages, language-design principles, syntax, semantics, data types, control structures, object-oriented languages, functional programming, logical programming, and parallel programming. Includes laboratory experience in comparing paradigms and behaviors of different languages. Prerequisite: CS 273. Fall semester, odd years.
- CS 371 Windows Applications Development 3
 A foundation for developing conventional Windows applications using object-oriented and component-based programming techniques. Topics include component-based development, network applications, graphical user interface components, exception handling, and components for web applications. Prerequisite: CS 273. Jan Term, even years.
- CS 372 Java Applications Development 3
 A foundation for developing conventional applications in the object-oriented Java programming language. Topics include Java programming constructs, multithreading, graphical user interface components, exception handling, and Java networking. Prerequisite: CS 172. Jan Term, odd years.
- CS 373 Digital Logic Design 3
 Combinatorial and sequential logic circuit design and analysis. Hands-on experience with modern design tools, hardware description languages (e.g. VHDL), and FPGA devices. Topics include number systems, minimization, multiplexers, decoders, encoders, code converters, comparators parity, circuits, and shifters. Recommended: MA 278 and PS 153. Fall semester.
- CS 374 Database Management 3
 Comprehensive introduction to design and development of databases and database applications. Combined approach of relational database theory and application development using popular database management systems. May also include current trends such as XML databases, data warehousing, and web interfaces. Prerequisite: CS 273. Fall semester.
- CS 375 Mobile Application Development 3
 A foundational approach to developing applications for smart mobile devices, including smart phones and tablets. Students will learn what standard conventions are currently used (e.g. UI design principles) and how to address limitations of developing for mobile devices. Prerequisite: CS 172. Fall term.
- CS 376 Technology Management 3
 The course examines theory and practice in management of information technology and software projects in internationally competitive organizations. Study includes leadership of cross-functional personnel and international teams, innovative strategies in technical "cultures", analysis of organizational structures, project marketing, quality assurance, and general project management. Prerequisites: CS 125 or CS 171, and must take BU 110. Fall semester, even years.
- CS 390 Internship 1-4
- CS 401 Computer Architecture 3
 Digital computer system design and analysis. Topics include: synchronous/asynchronous sequential machines, parallel structures, pipelining, and input/output. Includes laboratory experience in microprocessor design and architecture. Prerequisite: CS 373 required and CS 278 recommended. Spring semester.
- CS 457 Artificial Intelligence 3

Introduction to artificial intelligence concepts. Foundational theory includes intelligent agents, search, first-order logic, knowledge representation, planning, probabilistic reasoning, and genetic programming. Projects and programming of robotics as autonomous agents. Prerequisite: CS 273. Spring semester, even years.

CS 459 Managing Technology

Examines information and skills needed by managers to make effective and informed decisions in regard to technological issues. Components will include technological literacy and innovations, as well as strategic technology management. For continuing studies students only.

CS 472 Software Engineering

Designed as an intensive, project-oriented, senior capstone course. Topics include software system analysis and design, software project management and life cycle, software tools, documentation, and maintenance. Prerequisites: CS 273 and CS 374W. Senior class standing. Spring semester.

CS 473 Advanced Algorithm Design and Analysis

Advanced study of the design and analysis of algorithms. Topics include advanced complexity analysis, advanced recursive algorithms, graph theory algorithms, optimization problems, algorithms related to number theory, and other contemporary topics. Analysis of problems associated with searching and sorting. Prerequisites: CS 273 and MA 278. Fall semester.

CS 475W Operating Systems

Introduction to the theory of basic operating systems. Includes memory management, scheduling, resource management, synchronization, process and thread management, security, and concurrent processes. Prerequisites: CS 273 and CS 278. Spring semester.

CS 496 Research Assistantship

Opportunity to work closely with a professor on a research project. Prerequisite: CS 273. Periodic offering.

CS 499W Research Methods

Examination of research methods and a foundation for the Computer Science research program. An opportunity to challenge the advanced and motivated student. Includes readings, dissemination methods research projects in current topics, and working closely with faculty in a mentoring relationship. Prerequisite: CS 172 or instructor permission. Fall semester.

Mathematics Courses

MA 107 Basic Concepts in Modern Mathematics

Mathematics for the liberal arts student. An introduction to contemporary mathematics and its role in society. Current and past applications of mathematics in the real world will be examined. Topics may include management science, coding information, geometric applications, and statistics. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

A study of mathematical applications to business, economics, social sciences, and personal finance. Topics include mathematics of finance, systems of linear equations, matrices and linear programming. Prerequisite: MA 107 or 500+ SAT. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

Preparation for the calculus sequence. Solving systems of equations, exponential, logarithmic and trigonometric functions, and equations with applications in the social and natural sciences. Prerequisite: MA 107 or 500+ SAT. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 158 Calculus for Social Sciences

Limits, rates of change, differentiation, graphing and optimization, integration, and business applications. Prerequisites: MA 108 or the equivalent of 550 or above on the SAT. Fall and spring semesters.

Functions, limits, continuity, differentiation, and anti-differentiation. Emphasis on solving problems numerically and graphically, as well as algebraically. Prerequisite: MA 150 or 600+ SAT. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 172 Calculus II 4

Applications of integration, transcendental functions, techniques of integration, and infinite series. Prerequisite: MA 171. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 220 Structure of Elementary Mathematics 3

This course is designed for the prospective elementary or middle school teacher. It focuses on development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present-day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and statistics. It applies toward the general-education math requirement for elementary-education majors only.

MA 221 Math for Elementary School Teachers I 3

For the prospective elementary teacher, includes an introduction to problem solving, set operations and their application to arithmetic, numeration systems, arithmetic, algebra, and number theory as related to elementary school mathematics curriculum. Does not apply toward the math general education requirement except for candidates for elementary teaching certificates. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 222 Math for Elementary School Teachers II 3

Course designed for future elementary school teachers. Covers topics of probability, descriptive statistics, geometry, measurement, and motion geometry. Does not apply toward the math general education requirement except for candidates for elementary teaching certificates. Prerequisite: MA 221. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 256 Elementary Probability and Statistics 3

Descriptive statistics, probability, probability distributions, hypothesis testing, confidence intervals, correlation, and regression. Fall and spring semesters, and Jan Term. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 273 Calculus III 4

Multivariable calculus, including partial differentiation, vector analysis, and multiple integrals. Prerequisite: MA 172. Fall and spring semesters. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 278 Discrete Mathematics 3

A study of the foundations of mathematics (including sets, logic, relations, and functions), algorithms, combinatorics, and graph theory. Focus will be on developing logic and problem-solving skills involved in higher mathematics. Prerequisite: MA 171. Fall and spring semesters.

MA 281 Differential Equations 3

A study of ordinary differential equations and their use in mathematical models in the physical, biological and social sciences, and in economics. Covers analytic and numerical solution techniques. Prerequisite: MA 273. Fall and spring semesters.

MA 294 Career and Vocation Seminar 1

Students in this course will learn about different career and vocational paths related to mathematics and computer science and go about pursuing a specific path. Further, students will explore how their own faith and worldview can interact with their discipline through vocation discussions. Spring semester.

MA 317 Introduction to Complex Variables 3

Introduction to complex numbers, analytic and elementary functions, and integration, series, residues and poles, and conformal mapping. Prerequisite: MA 273. MA 278 can also be taken as co-requisite. Spring semester, odd years.

MA 328 Math History Study Abroad Prep 1

Required preparatory course for students planning on participating in the Jan term Math History Study Abroad Program. Includes background reading in the history of mathematics, information on specific sites visited while abroad, research for presentation to be given on site in Europe. Prerequisite: MA 172.

MA 329 Math History

Study of the historical and cultural contexts of mathematics through readings, film and site visits in Europe. Prerequisite: MA 171, MA 172 & MA 328.

MA 330 Linear Algebra

Vector spaces, linear transformations, matrices, determinants, Euclidean spaces, systems of equations, and eigenvalues. Prerequisite: MA 172. MA 278 strongly recommended. Fall and spring semesters.

MA 350 Numerical Analysis

Elementary discussion of errors, polynomial interpolation, quadrature, linear systems of equations, solutions of non-linear equations. Numerical differentiation, integration, solutions to differential equations. Prerequisites: MA 273, MA 330, and CS 172. MA 278 strongly recommended. Spring semester, even years.

MA 352 Intro to Mathematical Biology

This course covers the following areas of biology: population growth, neuroscience, epidemiology, predator-prey models, cardiac dynamics and selected special topics. Mathematical topics will include: discrete and continuous differential equations, nonlinear analysis, bifurcation theory. Prerequisite: MA 281. Jan term, odd years.

MA 357 Mathematical Statistics I

A theoretical study of probability, random variables, their distributions and characteristics of distributions. Prerequisites: MA 256, MA 273, and MA 278. Fall semester. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 358W Mathematical Statistics II

A theoretical study of confidence intervals and estimators, test of hypothesis, ANOVA, regression and correlation, and non-parametric methods. Prerequisite: MA 357. Spring semester, even years. TI 83 or 84 calculator required.

MA 360 Number Theory

Divisibility, congruence, prime numbers, Diophantine equations, quadratic reciprocity, and number theoretic functions. Emphasis on mathematics education and problem-solving. Prerequisites: MA 172 and MA 278. Periodic offering.

MA 362 Cryptography

This course will provide an overview of the mathematical and historical concepts related to cryptography. Students will explore the theoretical foundations of both classical and modern cryptographic systems, as well as relevant topics in number theory. Both the making and breaking of these systems will be covered. Prerequisite: MA 278. Jan term, even years.

MA 365 Modern Geometry

Sets and propositions, postulation systems, affine geometry, Euclidean, and non-Euclidean geometry. Required for high school mathematics teachers. Prerequisites: MA 171 and MA 278. Spring semester.

MA 390 Internship

1-4

MA 410 Abstract Algebra I

Logic, sets, relations, functions, groups, rings, fields, and vector spaces. Mathematics education and computing applications studied. Prerequisites: MA 172 and MA 278. Fall semester, odd years.

MA 411 Abstract Algebra II

Rings, integral domains, homomorphisms, and fields. Emphasis on theory and proof. Prerequisite: MA 410. Periodic offering.

MA 430 Graph Theory and Combinatorics	3
Study of paths and circuits, trees, planarity and duality, coloring of graphs, digraphs and networks, permutations and combinations, multinomial theorem, generating functions, principle of inclusion and exclusion, and recurrence relations. Prerequisites: MA 172 and MA 278. Also listed as MA 430W. Spring semester.
MA 430W Graph Theory and Combinatorics	3
Study of paths and circuits, trees, planarity and duality, coloring of graphs, digraphs and networks, permutations and combinations, multinomial theorem, generating functions, principle of inclusion and exclusion, and recurrence relations. Prerequisites: MA 172 and MA 278. Spring semester.
MA 440 Introduction to Real Analysis I	3
Sets and functions, properties of the real numbers, completeness axiom, elements of point-set topology, and sequences. Prerequisites: MA 273 and MA 278. Fall semester, even years.
MA 441 Introduction to Real Analysis II	3
Limits of functions, continuity, differentiation, Riemann integration, and infinite series of numbers and functions. Prerequisite: MA 440. Spring semester, odd years.
MA 490 Internship	1-6
MA 496 Research Assistant	1-3
Opportunity to work closely with a professor on a research project. Periodic offering.
MA 499W Research Methods	3
Examination of research methods and a foundation for the Computer Science research program. An opportunity to challenge the advanced and motivated student. Includes readings, dissemination methods research projects in current topics, and working closely with faculty in a mentoring relationship. Prerequisite: CS 172 or instructor permission. Fall semester.

Medieval & Early Modern Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

The medieval and early modern studies (MEMS) minor is designed for students interested in early time periods (from the fall of Rome, in 450 CE, to about 1800). The minor draws from many fields, including English, history, music and art. Students will study these fields and time periods using interdisciplinary approaches.

Requirements for Medieval and Early Modern Studies Minor (19-20)

Note: No more than six lower-division credits may count toward this minor.

1. CULTURE IN CONTEXT (3 credits)		3
EMS 343/EL 343	Shakespeare on Film
EMS 371W/EL 371W	British Renaissance
EMS 425/HI 425	Holy War in Europe
EMS 447/EL 447	Shakespeare Seminar
EMS 420/SN 420	Spanish Culture and Civilization
2. LITERATURE IN CONTEXT (6 credits)		6
EMS 207/EL 207	British Literature Before 1800
EMS 238/EL 238/ HI 238	Arthurian Literature
EMS 338/EL 338	Arthurian Literature
EMS 371W/EL 371W	British Renaissance
EMS 405W/EL 405W	Chaucer and Medieval Literature
EMS 409/FR 409	Survey of French Literature I
EMS 226H/HU 226H	Arthurian Legends in French Literature
EMS 409W/SN 409W	Survey of Spanish Literature I
3. HISTORY (6 credits)		6
EMS 101/HI 101	The Mediterranean World
EMS 102/HI 102	The Pacific World
EMS 120H/HI 120H	Crusades From Primary Sources
EMS 181/HI 181	The Atlantic World
EMS 201/HI 201	Pirates: A World History through Naval Crime
EMS 315/HI 315	Medieval Europe
EMS 325/HI 325	History of Latin America
EMS 326/HI 326	Religion in Latin America
EMS 345/HI 345	Cultural History of China and Japan
EMS 364/HI 364	Medieval Russia: Mongols and Madmen
EMS 425/HI 425	Holy War in Europe
EMS 426/HI 426	Slavery in Latin America
4. ONE MORE COURSE from the lists above, or any course on medieval or early modern studies offered in History, English or other departments. (3-4 credits)		3-4

Note: Examples of other courses that could fulfill this requirement if those departments approve:

EMS 261/AR 261	History of Renaissance and Baroque Art
EMS 264/AR 264	History of Medieval Art

EMS 247/EL 247	Shakespeare
EMS 447/EL 447	Shakespeare Seminar
EMS 301/MU 301	Music History I
EMS 427H/SN 427H/HI 427H/ WGS 427H	Gender and Identity Formation in Latin America
EMS 450/SN 450	Spanish American Narrative & History
EMS 465H/SN 465H	Don Quixote
EMS 313W/TH 313W	History of Christianity I
EMS 476W/TA 476W	History of Theatre I
5. SENIOR PORTFOLIO FOR MEMS (1 credit)		1
EMS 497/HI 497/ EL 497	Medieval and Early Modern Studies Senior Portfolio

Military & ROTC

Whitworth students may elect to participate in Army ROTC through a partnership program with Gonzaga University. Coursework requires travel to the Gonzaga campus, which is located six miles south of Whitworth.

The ROTC program is a cooperative effort between the U.S. Army, Gonzaga University and Whitworth University. It provides training and qualification for leadership positions in the Regular Army, the U.S. Army Reserve, or the Army National Guard. A student may earn a commission as an Army second lieutenant while achieving a college degree in the academic discipline(s) of his or her choosing. Cadets incur no obligation during their first two years of ROTC and are not members of the U.S. Army (unless they are ROTC scholarship winners). Lower-division courses are open to all Whitworth students.

The objectives of the program are to prepare academically and physically qualified scholar/athlete/leaders for the challenge of serving as commissioned officers in the U.S. Army. To that end, the program stresses building leaders of character and competence to serve their country and community.

The program meets the country's requirement for officer-leaders in the Army (active duty, National Guard, and reserves). It is, therefore, multifaceted, with distinctive sub-elements to meet individual needs and requirements. For example, ROTC is traditionally a four-year program, but individuals with prior service, members of reserve or National Guard units, participants of JROTC in high school and summer Leader's Training Course participants may receive advanced placement credit and may complete the program in two years. All students typically enroll in one military science class, the leadership laboratory and the Military Physical Fitness course each semester. The program consists of two phases: the basic (lower-division) course, usually taken during the freshman and sophomore years or completed through advanced placement credit, and the advanced (upper-division) course.

Basic Course: First- and second-year courses, MI 101, 102, 201, and 202, are designed for beginning students who want to qualify for entry into the advanced course and for students who may want to try military science without obligations. In addition to their academic requirements, basic-course cadets may participate in a variety of extracurricular activities. Placement credit for the basic course may be granted to students who have completed initial entry training for the armed forces, three years of Junior ROTC in high school, or the ROTC leaders' training course. MI 101 and 102 concentrate on fundamental skills, concepts, values and problem-solving and provide an overview of how the military fits into society. MI 201 and 202 more thoroughly address problem-solving, critical-thinking, communication and conflict-resolution skills.

Advanced Course: The advanced course consists of MI 301, 302, 401, and 402. It is open only to students who have completed the basic course or earned placement credit (see above). Students must also enroll in leadership labs (301L, 302L, 401L, or 402L) and Military Physical Fitness (303, 304, 403, or 404). Students also attend the four-week cadet summer training program during the summer between their junior and senior years. In addition to meeting their academic requirements, advanced-course cadets provide student leadership for the Gonzaga Bulldog Battalion.

Completion of the basic course, advanced course and LDAC, coupled with a bachelor's degree from the university, qualify the cadet for a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Financial Assistance

Contracted students receive a subsistence allowance. Junior cadets receive $450 a month for up to 10 months, and senior cadets receive $500 a month for up to 10 months. Freshman and sophomore cadets receive $300 and $350 a month, respectively, for up to 10 months each year.

Scholarships

Freshman- and sophomore-level students may compete for Army ROTC campus-based scholarships. These scholarships are applied to tuition and fees and also provide an allowance for books. A student need not be enrolled in ROTC to be eligible to compete for two- or three-year scholarships. No commitment is made until a scholarship is accepted, the student meets all administrative and physical criteria, and the oath for contracting is administered. High school seniors interested in applying for a four-year scholarship typically submit applications by Jan. 10 of their senior year.

Fees, Uniforms and ROTC Texts

A lab fee is the only fee associated with participation in the ROTC program. Uniforms and other equipment are furnished without charge. Students are responsible for, and must return, all government property issued to them.

Extracurricular Activities

Color Guard: The Gonzaga University Color Guard participates in a variety of school and civic functions during which precision drill or presentation of the U.S. flag is appropriate.

Intramural Sports: The ROTC program sponsors teams that participate in flag football, volleyball, basketball, softball and other sports in Gonzaga and Whitworth universities' intramural leagues. The program sponsors special-event teams at both Gonzaga and Whitworth and supports cadet intramural teams as coordinated by Whitworth cadets with the professor of military science.

Special Qualification Training: Advanced-course and select basic-course cadets may participate in confidence-building courses such as Air Assault School, Airborne School, Northern Warfare Training Center, and Cadet Troop Leadership Training at locations around the world.

Note: Purchasing an annual Washington State Park Discover Pass for classes is highly encouraged. Passes are $33 per year.

Music

The Whitworth Music Department strives to be a community of musicians that recognizes creativity as an essential aspect of being created in God's image and a place where individual and community creativity are blended toward a higher purpose. We prepare students for further studies and professional careers in music, as well as for vocational involvement in music, through the study of the discipline on both a theoretical and a practical basis.

This major will develop in each student...

- technical skill and musicianship in both individual and ensemble performance.
- a strong foundation in music theory, analysis, and aural skills.
- knowledge of a wide selection of musical literature, and an understanding of the aesthetic properties of style and the ways in which they shape and are shaped by cultural and artistic forces.
- an understanding of the intersection between musical art and worldview and of the vocation of the musician in community.

Note to all music majors: Additional information about course requirements and scheduling is included in the Student Guide to the Music Department, which is available in the music department office.

nursing@wsu.edu :: mediger@whitworth.edu (mediger@whitworth.edu)

The Washington State University College of Nursing is committed to inspiring and transforming healthcare for generations to come. The WSU CON embraces the core values of caring, altruism, social justice and maximizing human potential. In addition, the college endorses the values of Washington State University and the consortium institutions, Eastern Washington University and Whitworth University, which include inquiry and knowledge, engagement and application, committed partnerships, leadership, character, stewardship, teamwork and diversity.

The College of Nursing is a unique consortium program established in 1968, serving Whitworth, WSU, and Eastern. The faculty, staff and instructional resources of the College of Nursing are located on the WSU Riverpoint campus, in downtown Spokane.

The bachelor of science in nursing program is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education and is approved by the Washington State Board of Nursing.

The undergraduate nursing major leading to the bachelor of science degree in nursing prepares generalists in professional nursing practice. Upon successful completion of the baccalaureate program, graduates are eligible to take the licensure examination for registered nurses.

Upon acceptance by the College of Nursing, Whitworth students will also be jointly enrolled through WSU, which handles all registration, tuition, course fees and financial aid. Students from out of state will be charged non-resident tuition by WSU unless they have established permanent Washington state residency. Nursing students will not be covered by Whitworth financial aid and other scholarships while at the College of Nursing. Whitworth will charge a minimal enrollment fee. Upon completion of graduation requirements, the student will receive a joint diploma from Whitworth University and Washington State University. Transcripts will be issued by each institution.

Undergraduate Program (BSN)

Application/Admission

Application Deadline: Students may complete their applications online through NursingCAS. Visit nursing.wsu.edu for more information and deadlines.

All courses prerequisite to the upper-division major, general university requirements and junior standing must be completed by the end of spring semester for enrollment the following fall and by the end of fall semester for spring enrollment. During the spring or fall semester, when the application is being reviewed, the student must have no more than three prerequisite courses to complete. A letter or numerical grade must be submitted for prerequisite courses. The pass/no credit option or advanced-placement credit cannot be used. Residency of 32 semester credits is required at Whitworth prior to acceptance at the College of Nursing. The degree is generally completed in two years of study at Whitworth and two years at the WSU College of Nursing.

Applicants are judged on the following criteria:

- a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher;

- a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher in prerequisite courses;
- at least a "C" grade in each prerequisite course; P/F grades are not accepted;
- junior standing;
- a minimum of 50 hours of work or volunteer healthcare experience;
- a minimum score of "proficient" on the Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS);
- evaluation in a personal interview.
- Admission is competitive, and being a Whitworth student does not guarantee admission to the WSU College of Nursing.

For further information, please contact Whitworth's nursing advisor, Mike Ediger, at mediger@whitworth.edu or 509.777.4624.

For information on the upper-division program at WSU, contact the College of Nursing, www.nursing.wsu.edu or 509.324.7338.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing, B.S. (101)

126 semester credits, including the 101 credits of prerequisite and nursing courses. Completion of Whitworth's general graduation requirements. Oral communication, modern language, and Core 250 or 350 are waived for nursing majors. Global perspectives will be met by NU courses through WSU.

Philosophy

The Whitworth Philosophy Department introduces students to the content and methodology of the discipline of philosophy. While emphasizing the history of philosophy and current philosophical issues, the department's courses help develop logical-reasoning and critical-thinking skills. The program focuses on both the critical and the constructive aspects of philosophy while encouraging Christian character development and career preparation. The learning outcomes of this major include the following:

Content mastery, including knowledge of the following:

- the history of philosophy, including key authors and texts
- key issues, key questions, and major alternatives
- central issues relative to the intersection of philosophy with other disciplines, e.g. philosophy of religion, philosophy of mind

Critical thinking, including the ability to do the following:

Develop analytical skills:

- ability to listen to and analyze various modes of discourse
- ability to read texts carefully

Develop argumentation skills:

- Identify and follow arguments (including the ability to discern fallacies, detect assumptions, identify presuppositions and implications of ideas).
- Construct arguments both orally and in writing – including the ability to assert, explain and justify a position.

Constructive Synthesis:

- Understand worldviews.
- Articulate competing worldviews (with particular exposure to a Christian worldview).
- Recognize worldviews in dispute.
- Develop a personal worldview.
- Develop ability to connect ideas, pulling ideas from various sources to enhance and synthesize.
- Integrate philosophy into one's personal life.

Christian Character Development:

- Cultivate moral virtues and aid in character development through teaching, modeling and mentoring.
- Expose students to the Christian faith as a viable option for thinking persons.

Career Preparation:

- Prepare some students for law school, seminary, philosophy graduate programs and other liberal arts graduate programs.
- Prepare all students to translate acquired skills into marketable professional competencies.

Courses

PH 110 Introduction to Philosophy 3

The great issues and ideas of philosophical inquiry. Treatment of subjects such as logic, metaphysics, epistemology, ethics, political philosophy and different world views. Emphasis on both critical and constructive thinking. Fall and spring semesters.

PH 199H Philosophy in the Real World 3

The purpose of this class is to explicitly explore how some of the most central areas of philosophy interact with different disciplines. In particular, we will be looking at how philosophical concepts and theories may affect one's understanding and handling of non-philosophical problems. In addition, this class will engage the various interdisciplinary discussions within the context of trying to develop various intellectual virtues. Periodic Offering.

PH 201 Logic 3

The formal nature of logical thought and the informal, practical application of critical thinking to the analysis of arguments. Includes sections on arguments and fallacies in ordinary language, syllogistic arguments and symbolic logic. Fall and spring semester, odd years.

PH 205 Utopia: Social Order vs. Individual Freedom? 3

What would an ideal society be like? Inevitably experimental utopias have grappled with attention between two social values: social order or harmony on the one hand and individual freedom on the other. This course explores questions about the nature and value of freedom, the basis for social order or harmony, and whether or how the latter may justify limits to the former. Periodic Offering.

PH 209 The Vices: Virtue and Evil 3

An examination of several prominent moral vices, particularly the "seven deadly sins," with a view to their apparent attractiveness and inherent self-destructiveness. Jan Term, odd years.

PH 210 The Ten Commandments as Moral Law 3

An investigation of how a set of 3000-year-old rules can still have relevance and application for our lives. Includes grounding the Decalogue in divine-command theory and virtue theory, understanding the rules' original context and intent, and translating the rules to contemporary daily life. PH 110 and Core 150 helpful but not required. Cross-listed with TH-210. Jan Term, even years.

PH 211 The Philosophy of Forgiveness 3

Forgiveness is generally thought to be a morally good response to a wrong-doing. This class will examine the nature of forgiveness. What is the relationship between forgiveness and justice? How is forgiving a wrong-doing different from condoning a wrong-doing? Is there such a thing as unconditional forgiveness? PH 110 is helpful but not required. Periodic Jan Term.

PH 221 Ethics 3

The nature of moral judgments and values. Examination of the criteria upon which ethical decision-making is based and the nature of the good life. Cross-listed with TH/LS 221. Fall Semester only.

PH 244 Reasons for Faith 3

An examination of the rational status of Christian belief. Topics include the relationship between faith and reason, the evidence for God's existence, and the evidence for uniquely Christian doctrines (e.g., the Christ's Resurrection). Also listed as PH 344. Periodic Jan Term offering.

PH 256 Asian Philosophy 3

A study of the major schools of Asian philosophy, with emphasis on Chinese thought. Spring semester, even years. Also listed as AS 256.

PH 261 C.S. Lewis 3

The thought of C.S. Lewis, as found in his philosophical, theological and imaginative works, and the interconnections between those works. Critical evaluation of Lewis's ideas and application of those ideas to contemporary issues. Also listed as TH 261. Fall semester.

PH 299 The Meaning of Life 3

This class will investigate the meaning of life in two different ways. First we will explore whether life and all it involves has some greater purpose or aim. In other words we will be looking at different perspectives on whether our life have significance beyond the here and now. Relatedly, we will go on to explore how one goes about organizing one's life with all its competing values and demands. In other words we will be looking and critically evaluating ways in which people might find value in life (e.g. through money, family, religion or relationships) and how we should structure our lives to balance life's various goods. Also listed as TH 299. Offered Jan term, odd years in New York City.

PH 301 Symbolic Logic 3

This course attempts to formalize the structure of proper logical reasoning through the use of an artificial symbolic language that assists in recognizing proper from improper argumentation. The main goal in this class is to begin mastering this symbolic language with the goal of learning to reason well. We will begin by looking at the nature of propositional statements, the truth-functional connectives they use, and translating statements made in our natural language to this artificial symbolic language. Then we will turn to the construction of arguments. We will learn to recognize valid from invalid arguments by constructing truth-tables to derive valid arguments using universal logical truths. Fall semester, even years.

PH 305 History of Ancient Philosophy 3

The development of philosophical ideas from the Pre-Socratics to the Middle Ages, using primary source readings. Special emphasis on Plato's and Aristotle's ideas on the major issue of life. Fall semester, even years.

PH 306 History of Modern Philosophy 3

The development of philosophical ideas from Descartes through the 18th century, using primary source readings. Figures studied include: Descartes, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Kant. Spring semester, odd years.

PH 307 History of Contemporary Philosophy 3

The development of philosophical ideas in the 19th-, 20th-, and 21st-century Europe and America. Both the Continental and Anglo-American traditions will be explored. Fall semester, odd years. Prerequisite: PH 305 or 306W.

PH 319H Ethics Bowl 1

This course constitutes the research and practice leading up to the Intercollegiate Ethics Bowl, Northwest Regional, in November. It also includes the competition. As a team, students analyze, present on, and argue complex ethical cases. Course can be taken repeatedly for credit. Offered Fall and Spring semesters.

PH 320 Philosophy of Religion 3

The place of reason in faith. Issues addressed include classical arguments for and against the existence of God, the relationship of faith and reason, and the nature of religious language, miracles and immorality. Recommended prerequisite: Core 250. Spring semester.

PH 321W Ethics-Social/Behavioral Studies 3

This course focuses on four themes in moral philosophy: The Foundations of morality, Moral knowledge, Moral motivation, and Ethics in real life. The course will apply these ethical themes to topics in social and behavioral fields. Satisfies the Writing-intensive requirement. For continuing studies students only.

PH 329H God, Knowledge, and Language 3

This course explores a number of issues at the intersection of postmodern thought, theology, and Anglo-American (analytic) philosophy. We'll begin with the question, What is the nature of truth?, a question that is sharply to be distinguished from the following two: . Which claims or propositions are true? . How do we know what is true? After a detailed inquiry regarding the nature of truth, we'll consider the extent to which it's sensible to think that some theological claims are true. In this connection, we'll examine classical and contemporary views of the Divine nature. We'll then proceed to consider postmodern views of knowledge and interpretation, taking Descartes' philosophical project as our backdrop. During this part of the course, we'll examine recent debates between postmodernists and their critics (these debates take place both within and outside of Christian circles). Finally, we'll consider the question, Can Christian belief be reasonable in today's intellectual climate? This inquiry will require a deep investigation of the nature of human rationality and the prospective sources for reasonable belief. Periodic Offering.

PH 336 Social-Political Philosophy 3

An examination of the nature of justice and the extents of our social obligations. Considers both historical and contemporary sources, the latter including feminist and multicultural thinkers. Covers both theory and particular issues, like just war, economics and justice, rights to free expression, etc. Also counts as a PO elective. Fall semester, even years.

PH 340W Epistemology 3

The nature and limits of knowledge. Focus on contemporary issues raised in recent books and journals. Recommended prerequisites: PH 305 or PH 306, or CO 250. Fall semester, odd years.

PH 341 Metaphysics 3

The ultimate nature of reality. Focus on issues raised in recent books and journals. Fall semester, even years.

PH 344 Reasons for Faith 3

An examination of the rational status of Christian belief. Topics include the relationship between faith and reason, the evidence for God's existence, and the evidence for uniquely Christian doctrines (e.g., the Christ's Resurrection). Also listed as PH 244. Periodic Jan Term.

PH 421 Philosophy of Science 3

An examination of various issues related to scientific methodology. Topics covered include the demarcation of science from pseudoscience, the rationality of induction, scientific explanation and confirmation, scientific laws, the realism/anti-realism debate, rationality and objectivity in science, and the relationship between science and faith. Spring semester, even years.

PH 423W Marxism and the Socialist World 3

Focus on Marx's critique of capitalism. Later interpretations and application of Marx's theories in a variety of revolutions, from those of the Soviet Union, China, Yugoslavia and Cuba to current upheavals in the socialist world. Also listed as PO 423W. Periodic offering.

PH 425 Philosophy of Mind

An exploration of one of the most actively debated and contentious issues in contemporary philosophy: What is the nature of the human mind? Examines current theories and the relationship to the claims of artificial intelligence, neuropsychology and Christian understandings of human nature, as well as the question of determinism versus free will. Spring semester, odd years.

Prerequisite: PH 110 and either PH 196, PH 201, PH 256, PH 261, PH 305 PH 306W or PH 344.

PH 498 Senior Capstone

Writing and discussion intended to give senior students an opportunity to integrate the various strands of their philosophical education and reflect on their future. Fall semester, senior year.

The Whitworth Political Science Department strives to embody the university's education of mind-and-heart mission through excellent teaching, open and robust debate, active scholarship and personal mentoring. Our goal is to prepare students for careers in government and politics, law, humanitarian work, teaching, research and peacemaking, as well as for work in related fields, such as business and missions. The department is committed to providing students with the political knowledge and skills that will enable them to assume responsibility from the local level to the global community. Through the study of political theory and law, the analysis of a variety of political systems, internships and off-campus study, and rigorous research projects, faculty members challenge students to develop both the tools and the vision for understanding, nurturing and transforming the society in which they live. All of our courses are informed by a commitment to justice and reconciliation as articulated by the great political thinkers throughout history, and, especially, as defined by the principles of the Christian faith.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students in the following ways:

1. With regard to knowledge, political science students will gain competency in the primary sub-fields of political science: American, comparative, international relations, and theory/philosophy; will develop an understanding of citizenship in the local, national, and global community; and will understand the role of government and also the way nongovernmental actors (individuals, groups and institutions) can function in society to promote or undermine the common good.
2. With regard to skills, political science students will become proficient in quantitative and qualitative research and analysis, written communication (policy papers, legal positions, literature reviews, and research papers), and oral communication (the ability to speak and listen, skills essential for public discourse). Above all, students will learn to exercise their skills as responsible citizens and as leaders in government, the private sector, education and the community of faith.
3. With regard to faith and values, political science students will learn civil and global responsibility, principled pluralism and respect for the common good rather than self-interest. In addition, students will be able to articulate the philosophical or religious foundations of their political commitments, and they will be able to express those commitments in ways that are appropriate in a multicultural and multi-faith society and world.

Pre-Law

Whitworth's rigorous liberal arts education is ideal training for law school and the legal profession. Recent graduates have been accepted into law schools at Yale, Stanford, Duke, University of Michigan, Cornell and University of Washington, and Whitworth alumni are working at some of the most successful law firms in Washington and throughout the U.S. Pre-law students are welcome to select any liberal arts major, but they may find the most relevant law-school preparation in programs offered through the departments of history, political science, literature, philosophy, economics, sociology, psychology, mathematics and science. Regardless of students' majors, Whitworth prepares its graduates to succeed in law school by equipping them with a broad knowledge base and strong analytic, critical-thinking and communication skills. In addition, the pre-law advisor actively assists students in developing an appropriate course plan and in making other arrangements for taking the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) and applying for law school.

While Whitworth does not have a designated pre-law curriculum, the following courses are recommended:

3+3 Law and Justice Program

Advisor: Julia Stronks

Highly motivated students interested in law school can complete a bachelor's degree at Whitworth and a law degree at Gonzaga in a total of six years, rather than the typical seven, through a 3+3 partnership between the two universities. This innovative program provides the best of Whitworth's liberal arts foundation and pre-law curriculum with the Jesuit-inspired, solution-oriented curriculum of Gonzaga's law school to provide students a cost-efficient path to a law degree.

Examination of key Supreme Court decisions involving separation of powers, national regulation of the economy, church and state, civil rights and civil liberties. Prerequisite: PO 102.

PO 465W International Law

International law is a tough but interesting concept. Domestic law is positive law, which means that it is written down. Natural law is that which is written on our hearts. International law lives somewhere between the two. Part of it is written down; part of it is written on our hearts. You will make yourself crazy if you cannot allow yourself to live halfway between the concrete and the ephemeral for three months. We'll be looking at the law that binds nations. Sometimes nations are bound when they give their permission; sometimes they are bound in an absolute sense. But, there is no enforcement of this binding law. If there is no enforcement, why does it exist? Who obeys it? Who decides what it is? Is it real? These are the questions that connect all the units of the semester.

PO 490 Internship

PO 498 Vocations in Political Science

Skills for graduate study and/or positions in domestic and international affairs.

PO 498W Senior Seminar

In-depth research paper. Skills for graduate study and/or management positions in domestic and international affairs. Fall and spring semesters.

The Whitworth University Psychology Department is committed to academic rigor and sensitive human service through the promotion of the scientific study of mind and heart. As part of a Christian liberal arts institution, we seek to train and produce responsible, enlightened citizens who think critically and contribute actively to the field of psychology. Following a scientist-practitioner model, the curriculum is designed to develop both breadth and depth of knowledge in core areas of psychology. Students engage in research and practice that encompass foundational and advanced requirements and electives, culminating in dual senior capstone experiences. Students apply their learning as they design their own research projects, critically evaluate scientific information and other claims, and reflect on the integration of psychology with Christian faith and other worldview perspectives. They gain experience working in the community at a practicum placement of their choice, and they have the opportunity to travel to destinations that bring their classroom learning to life. We offer an enduring foundation in the investigation and understanding of human behavior, emotion and mental processes, in an atmosphere that nurtures relationships among people of diverse backgrounds and offers mutual support and friendship among faculty and students.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to do the following:

1. Demonstrate familiarity with the major concepts, theoretical perspectives, empirical findings, and historical trends in psychology.
2. Understand and apply basic research methods in psychology, including research design, data analysis, and interpretation.
3. Respect and use critical and creative thinking, skeptical inquiry, and, when appropriate, methods of discovery to solve problems related to behavior and mental processes.
4. Understand and apply psychological principles to personal, social and organizational issues.
5. Value empirical evidence, tolerate ambiguity, act ethically and reflect other values that are the underpinnings of psychology as a science. Engage each student's mind and heart in order that each may "honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity," incorporating the tools that psychology has to offer in this endeavor.
6. Demonstrate information competence and the ability to use computers and other technology effectively for many purposes.
7. Communicate effectively in a variety of formats.
8. Recognize, understand and respect the complexity of sociocultural diversity.
9. Develop insight into one's own and others' behavior and mental processes and apply effective strategies for self-management and self-improvement.
10. Pursue realistic, yet creative, ideas about how to implement psychological, interdisciplinary and personal knowledge, skills and values in vocational pursuits in a variety of settings that meet personal goals and societal needs.

Gain firsthand experience of the process of researching, critiquing, and writing in a collaborative small-group format under the guidance of a psychology faculty member and their research. Prerequisite: PY 101 and senior psychology major. Selection by instructor. Periodic offering.

PY 499H Advanced Senior Thesis 1

Students will refine their original senior research project for publication in a professional journal or presentation at a regional or national professional conference. Prerequisite: PY 401W and approval of a faculty sponsor. Spring semester.

Sociology

The Whitworth Sociology Department's mission is to prepare students with the skills to describe, explain, interpret and make a difference in social life. The department equips students to promote well-being in the arenas of social life around them and encourages students to explore the relationships between sociology and faith. To these ends, students are expected to master the substantive content of sociology and its methods of research and data analysis, to develop an ideal vision of social life as informed by sociology and each student's deepest convictions, and to be prepared to advance that vision through a career and social engagement. The faculty is committed to providing excellence in teaching, scholarship and mentoring, and to modeling community engagement through research, writing, consultation and service. In addition, sociology faculty members help foster a stimulating and supportive learning community and offer perspectives on social life and social issues from a variety of value frameworks and Christian traditions.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students to...

- demonstrate competency of the conceptual core of sociology in one of the four specialized tracks within the major.
- demonstrate an understanding of the breadth of human social experience and inequalities.
- demonstrate an ability to conduct and assess social research using digital data analysis.
- demonstrate an ability to access and use reliable sources of sociological data and analysis.
- demonstrate proficiency in written communication.
- work to clarify their worldviews, values and deepest convictions, relating them in meaningful ways to sociology, to social issues and to the way they conduct their lives.
- identify and apply sociological concepts toward a career.
- demonstrate an understanding and appreciation of humans as social and cultural beings and apply that knowledge to responsible participation in social life.

U.S. Cultural Studies Minor (18)

Requirements for a U.S. Cultural Studies Minor are listed under the USCS page (p. 313).

Courses

SO 120 Introduction to Sociology 3

Examination of the concepts, methods and findings sociologists use to understand social life in the U.S. and other cultures. Analysis of social groups and processes, from families and cities to crime, social change, and inequalities of gender, race and class. Exploration of social problems and how to make a difference. Also listed as TES 120. Fall and spring semesters.

SO 143H Race Across America 3

This unique Amtrak study tour across America exposes students to the history and experience of non-white racial/ethnic groups. These histories, communicated via museum exhibitions, tours, and special lecturers, detail the contributions, sufferings and cultures of these groups. These specific analyses are complemented by an examination of the general sociological dynamics of race in America. Prerequisites: selection by instructor, completion of SO 120; freshman Honors standing. Jan Term, odd years

SO 200 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology 3

This course has two basic objectives: to develop a framework for understanding other cultures and to learn skills to communicate that understanding. Through a systematic investigation of the nature of culture and a comparative study of cultures and peoples known to humankind at the present time, it is expected that we can better understand ourselves and the social world around us. Also listed as DS 200. Offered Jan Term in Hawaii.

SO 205 Social Stratification: Power, Prestige And Wealth 3

Examination of structural and cultural processes that govern social stratification, life chances, and social exclusions. Application of concepts to social problems related to stratification, demonstrating an ability to propose effective ways to treat harmed persons and develop preventive structural changes. Prerequisite: SO 120.

SO 220 Race and Ethnicity 3

Examines racial and ethnic relations around the world, with emphasis on the United States. Students explore race as a social construct and its intersections with class, gender and immigrant status. Emphasis is put on racism within social institutions along with analysis of beliefs and privilege at the individual level. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as DS/WGS/USCS 220.

SO 222 U.S. Civil Rights Movements 3

This course explores social movements by focusing on a single case the US Civil Rights Movement. The course looks at the history of the civil rights movements as a vehicle to explore the dynamics of social movements. Prerequisites: SO 120. Jan Term.

SO 230 Sociology of Education 3

This course explores the relationship between education and society: why some students advance further than others; what shapes the organization of schools; how race, class, and gender interact with education; and educational reform. Prerequisite: SO 120. Spring semester.

SO 238 Sociology of Middle-Eastern Society 3

An overview of geography, history, demographic characteristics, social stratification, political behavior, socio-religious institutions, revolutionary change, problems of diversity, complementarity and integration in the people and cultures of the Middle East, including the Palestinian-Israeli conflict; the gulf crisis and its aftermath; the Middle East and international inequality; and prospects for peace and the future. Also listed as DS 238. Fall semester.

SO 252 Sociology of Gender 3

This course will cover topics related to the construction, development, and impact of gender in society. Students will examine how are gender intersects with race, ethnicity, class, sexuality and other dimensions of identity. Finally, students will look at the relationship between family, education, the media, politics, economics, and religion. Students will be asked to consider the role of faith and values and how that shapes our understanding of gender in society. Prerequisites: SO 120 or WG 201. Also listed as WGS 252.

SO 271 Introduction to Social Welfare 3

Examine the theory and practice of social welfare in social and historical context. Develop an understanding of the variety of at-risk populations served by public and private agencies and look at the ways in which we attempt to provide for their welfare. Thoughtfully consider social welfare in light of Christian faith. Prerequisite: SO 120. Fall semester.

SO 272H Honors Sociology of Religion: Religious Ecology 3

This course offers a hands-on, in-depth exploration of one approach within sociology of religion - religious ecology. Religious ecology does not refer to religious and theological approach to ecological issues such as the environment or global climate change. Rather this is an approach that seeks to understand religious institutions and organizations by examining them within their own ecological context: by situating them within their local social, cultural, demographic and organizational contexts.

SO 275 Population Analysis 3

An analytical approach to population movements and the effects that population movements have on social environments. Students will interface with computer-based Geographic Information Systems (GIS) to learn specific skills and techniques used by professional demographers. Students will apply these skills to promote social well-being in various local and global contexts, reflecting upon their moral responsibilities as members of a populated world. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as ENS 275.

SO 283 Deviance, Crime and Criminal Justice 3

Analysis of the theoretical core of criminology, including concepts related to deviance, crime, and criminal justice. Students will assess the nature of social problems related to the criminal justice system, show an ability to propose effective ways to treat harmed persons, and develop preventive structural changes. Students will also clarify faith commitments, values, and deepest convictions as they relate to social issues regarding deviance and crime. Prerequisite: SO 120.

SO 303 Globalization and Social Change And Wealth 3

Globalization and Social Change is an introduction to global studies from sociological and interdisciplinary perspectives. The course will examine economic, political, cultural, and social ties between nations, drawing on theories and concepts from several disciplines that include international studies, political science, economics and the humanities in addition to sociology. Topics to be covered include global social movements, global inequality, the media, and the spread of western cultures and ideologies. Also listed as DS 303. Also listed as LAS 303.

SO 307 Latin American Politics 3

Explore the wide range of problems facing Latin American societies based on their past underdevelopment. Takes a thematic approach, focusing on subjects as diverse as the military, peasants, Indians, U.S. foreign policy, multinational corporations, urbanization and education. Build an understanding of Latin America using the resources of sociology. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as LAS 308.

SO 311 Families and Society 3

Family, kinship and marriage in societal context. Human families in their many forms are examined cross-culturally and historically; primary emphasis is upon the changing shape and character of American families today. Impact of class, race and values on family life is explored. Special focus is on parent-child relations and the problems of children in American families. Prerequisite: SO 120. Fall semester.

SO 311W Families and Society 3

Family, kinship and marriage in societal context. Human families in their many forms are examined cross-culturally and historically; primary emphasis is upon the changing shape and character of American families today. Impact of class, race and values on family life is explored. Special focus is on parent-child relations and the problems of children in American families. Continuing Studies only.

SO 315 Funding and Grant Writing 3

Identification of potential funding sources and preparation of application documents is covered. Analysis of successful grants and assistance from local resources will be reviewed. Individuals who work for entities who depend on grants and outside funding should take this course. For continuing studies evening students only.

SO 320 The Sociological Tradition: Theories in Context 3

An examination of the emergence of sociology and sociological thought focusing on the men and women who developed sociology and how their questions and perspectives were shaped by philosophical and social contexts. The course will assess the sociological tradition, explore how it helps us understand contemporary society, and relate it to faith perspectives. Prerequisite: SO 120. Fall semester.

SO 325 Sociology of Death and Dying 3

Looks at death due to both disease process and trauma. Elements of study will include various care giving options; emotional aspects associated with lengthy dying process v. traumatic death; as well as loss and grief; cultural influences regarding care/treatment; religious/spiritual influences; legal and business issues.

SO 326 Sociology of Marriage 3

Examination of marriage and intimate relationships in the U.S. today. Sociological research and value perspectives are used to understand such issues as mate selection, cohabitation, careers and marriage, power, communication and conflict, diverse marriage styles, divorce and remarriage. Major emphasis given to the nature and dynamics of sexuality and gender in intimate relationships. Faith perspectives on marriage, sex, and gender are explored. Prerequisite: SO 120.

SO 337W Social Research 3

Designing, conducting and interpreting research in an essential skill required of many modern occupations. In this class in organized curiosity, students receive experience in social research by participating in the design and implementation of a class research project. Valuable skills in problem formulation, research design, measurement, questionnaire construction, interviewing, data collection and analysis will be gained as the student encounters these issues in our class research project. Prerequisite: SO 120 and two other sociology courses. Fall semester.

SO 338 Statistical Analysis in Sociology 3

Learn how to use the computer to do statistical analysis. Become familiar with some basic statistical procedures and develop skills ranging from simple tasks of data entry, data management, data transformation, defining data files and file editing to more complex tasks of univariate, bivariate and multivariate statistical data analysis. Hands-on experience using SPSS software. Prerequisite: SO 120. Spring semester.

SO 343 Sociology of Religion 3

How can one make sense of religion? A variety of theoretical and methodological "ways of looking" will be used in an attempt to understand religious behavior. Religion will be explored both as it is affected by its social context and as it affects society. Sociology has been seen as both serious threat to cherished religion and a valuable tool for ministry. Both tensions and conversations between Christianity and sociology will be examined. Prerequisite: SO 120. Periodic offering.

SO 365 Cities and Urban Life 3

Develop skills for understanding today's urban world. Explore the development of the city, patterns of urban settlement, the influence of urban environment upon group life and individual personality, the pathology and possibilities of urban life, and social aspects of urban planning. Examine the situation of the "truly disadvantaged" and learn how to explore an urban subculture. The real city as a learning laboratory: literature, games, guests, movies, field trips, class TV studies and field projects. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as CE/LS 365.

- SO 368 The Helping Process in Social Services 3
Learn to use core concepts, values, and skills for helping people in social-service settings. Become familiar with interviewing, assessing and behaving professionally in these settings. A Christian view of the helping process will be integrated with the skills and knowledge.
- SO 370 Delinquency and Juvenile Justice 3
The class will review prominent theories on delinquency causation and will use these theories to understand case examples of people who exhibit delinquent behavior. A firsthand introduction to the components, agencies, programs and trends in the juvenile-justice system will move from theory to more pragmatic concerns. Prerequisite: SO 120. Spring semester.
- SO 375H Planned Communities 3
This course examines the way the physical environment affects social dynamics. But instead of just talking about the relationship between space and social life, students will create tangible models of communities that manipulate these relationships. In this sense, students will become community planners. Travel to various planned communities is required.
- SO 377 Sects and Violence 3
This course investigates the organizational dynamics of new religious movements: seeking to understand why/how they proliferate, and exploring processes of recruitment. We will also examine conflicts of these movements with churches, anti-cult organizations, and the state. Prerequisite: SO 120.
- SO 381 Sustainable Development Abroad: Poverty, Inequality, Environment, Social Change 3
Establishes a basic understanding of the theory and practical application of the "hows" and "whys" of a particulate international culture abroad, particularly as it relates to the historic, present and future challenges of that economy and to doing business with various people groups at home and abroad. Business models unique to non-American cultures will be explored in depth. Also listed as DS 381. Also listed as LAS 381.
- SO 383 Seminar in Criminal Justice 3
Students will better understand the criminal justice system and policing. Students will analyze current public policies regarding criminal justice within the American social context. Field experiences and guest speakers will prepare students for their practicum as well as expose them to career opportunities. Students will be required to reflect on their personal policing philosophy given their Christian faith or deepest convictions.
- SO 386 Readings 3
Students will better understand the criminal justice system and policing. Students will analyze current public policies regarding criminal justice within the American social context. Field experiences and guest speakers will prepare students for their practicum as well as expose them to career opportunities. Students will be required to reflect on their personal policing philosophy given their Christian faith or deepest convictions.
- SO 410 Intergroup Dialogue 3
This course engages students with one another to work collaboratively on addressing topics related to race, class, gender, and cultural differences. Students will meet sporadically throughout the semester and will co-facilitate two intergroup dialogue sessions overseen by the course instructor(s). Course will be offered every other spring (odd years).
- SO 425 Making Change: Social Intervention Strategies 3
Learn to use a 'sociological imagination' to explore the relationship between personal troubles and public issues while examining a variety of social problems. Examine steps, strategies, approaches and skills used to make change while developing an understanding of neighborhoods, communities and organizations. Experience change firsthand and apply course material by participating in a service learning project outside the classroom. Prerequisite: SO 120 and SO 337. Also listed as DS 425. Spring semester.
- SO 430 Sports and Society 3

Interrelationships of sports with other aspects of culture. Role of sports in American society. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as KIN 430. Spring semester.

SO 430W Sports and Society 3

Interrelationships of sports with other aspects of culture. Role of sports in American society. Prerequisite: SO 120. Also listed as KIN 430. Spring semester.

SO 437 Social Research Practicum 2

This is hands-on research practicum in which the students will engage in an actual social research project under the guidance and supervision of a faculty member, write an article-length paper based on the project, and present their findings and results at two scholarly conferences in the Spring - the Pacific Sociological Association Conference (PSA) and the Spokane Intercollegiate Research Conference (SIRC). Prerequisite: SO-120, SO-337, and SO-338.

SO 438 Social Research Practicum II 1

This is hands-on research practicum in which the students will engage in an actual social research project under the guidance and supervision of a faculty member, write an article-length paper based on the project, and present their findings and results at two scholarly conferences in the Spring, the Pacific Sociological Association Conference (PSA) and the Spokane Intercollegiate Research Conference (SIRC). Prerequisites: SO-120, SO-337, SO-338 and SO-437.

SO 466 Ethics in Public Service 3

Examining the role, values and issues of management in social service and public agencies in the context of democratic governance, citizen participation, power structures and professional codes of conduct, with an emphasis on developing skill in critical and ethical reasoning and decision making.

SO 475 Sociology Practicum 3

Through placement in a social agency, students apply their sociological understandings and develop new questions and insights to enrich their sociology. Interns meet in a cluster-group seminar to learn together and process their experiences. Prerequisite: SO 120. Junior or senior sociology major. Spring semester.

SO 478 Contemporary Sociology: Perspectives and Practice 3

A capstone course for senior sociology majors. Contemporary sociological perspectives are examined, from neo-Marxist to postmodern sociologies. Diverse forms of sociological practice are explored with emphasis upon how sociologists connect their personal commitments with sociological practice. Students clarify how they will "live their sociology." Prerequisite: SO 320W. Spring semester.

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (Interdisciplinary Minor)

Theatre

Whitworth Theatre is dedicated to cultivating artistic integrity in its students and its program as we explore the many aspects of theatre in an environment that challenges our students to integrate their faith with their art, both within and beyond the Whitworth University community.

Students in the theatre program address two primary questions:

- What does it mean to be a Christian in theatre (or to be a theatre artist)?
- What is Christian theatre (or the function of theatre)?

Departmental Goals and Objectives

By the end of the sophomore year, the student will be able to...

- analyze a dramatic script from the perspective of the actor.
- employ a variety of rehearsal techniques.
- prepare an audition.
- create both individual and group performances from a variety of texts.
- articulate basic theoretical and ethical performance issues.
- construct basic stock units for a set.
- employ proper vocal techniques for performance (acting track).
- employ proper movement techniques for performance (acting track).

By the time of her/his graduation, the student will be able to...

- define “Christian theatre” and explain what it means to be a Christian in theatre from a personal point of view (or, if a student is not a Christian, to define “theatre” and what it means to be in theatre given his or her worldview).
- execute the four fundamentals of play directing: play analysis, communication with actors, design and production, interpretation and style.
- identify important practices, playwrights, and plays in the history of theatre, and articulate the relationship between theatre and the culture within which it exists.
- construct a theoretical argument using historical information.
- create and present a project demonstrating expertise in a chosen area: performance, directing, theatre in education or community engagement, design or research.
- develop and demonstrate a standard audition packet as defined by URTA (acting track) or a portfolio (production track).

Theology

The Whitworth Theology Department is solidly rooted in the Trinitarian faith of the church throughout the ages. We are committed to the authority of Holy Scripture as God's word and to the worldwide mission and ministry of Jesus Christ. Our goal is to provide students with an intellectually challenging, academically rigorous, and spiritually enriching theological education that will equip them to serve in a wide variety of contexts. The theology major focuses on the classical disciplines of biblical studies, church history and Christian theology; as students move through the curriculum, we encourage them to discern Jesus Christ's call on their lives and to respond in faithful obedience.

Students will develop strengths in the following areas:

Understanding of the Bible:

- a good working knowledge of the content, emphases, major theological themes and central message of Scripture
- an awareness of various contextual considerations (historical, religious, political, geographic, socio-economic, linguistic and literary) necessary for reading and understanding scripture
- an ability to interpret Scripture Christo-centrally; the development of a biblical theology with a focus on the gospel of Christ

Understanding of the history, theology and mission of the church:

- an overview of the historical and cultural development of the church throughout the centuries
- an introduction to the major thinkers, texts, leaders, spiritual traditions and movements of the church
- an understanding of the history and development of Christian doctrine
- a commitment to the church and its ministry throughout the world

The skills of critical thinking, reading, research, writing and speaking:

- a spirit of open inquiry
- an appreciation of excellent scholarship
- an introduction to the use of primary and secondary source texts
- the ability to think and communicate clearly and critically
- the ability to understand and argue a point of view
- the ability to develop and formulate independent conclusions

Whitworth's theology department affirms that true knowledge consists of knowing and receiving God's love for the world as revealed in Jesus Christ. At the heart of this revelation is the gospel, Christ's work of reconciliation, which the Holy Spirit applies to our lives. The foundation of the department's curriculum is rooted in this gospel: how the Bible witnesses to it, how theology describes it, how church history explores its global impact over the past 2000 years, and how Christians are called to believe and live. The curriculum also helps students develop important skills, like careful reading and clear writing, which will serve them well no matter what their vocation is. The curriculum includes a set of core courses all students must take as majors, and a series of tracks, which allows students to go deeper in their area of interest and to apply the discipline of theology to current culture.

The theology minor is designed to introduce students to the academic field and practical application of theology without having to major in the discipline. Students who minor in theology will be able to sample from the great feast of Christian theology. Our goal is to help students learn to think theologically and to see the relevance of the gospel for every area of life. In addition to the generic theology track, the theology minor also allows students to pursue an area of specialization. These tracks integrate the field of classical theology with important areas of contemporary concern. Our ultimate aim is to help students understand the gospel and to explore its implications for their lives.

Courses

TH 119 Introduction to the Theology Major 1

This course is an introduction and invitation to the study of Christian theology. It is intended for students who would like to explore what Christian theology is all about. We'll read great texts and have conversations about a range of interesting and important topics, such as what the point of going to college is, what Christians believe about God and the world, and what it means to follow Jesus Christ in the world today. Spring semester.

TH 130 Introduction to the Bible 3

An overview of the entire Bible, with emphasis on literary, historical and theological themes and the diversity and unity within the Bible.

TH 131H Encountering the Covenantal God 3

This class is an introduction to a theological understanding of God's biblical covenant with mankind. It provides an answer to the following key questions: Who is the covenantal God and who are man and woman created in his image?

TH 135 A Biblical Introduction to God 3

This class presents a Christian view of the nature and character of God based on the Bible. Our goal: to bring students' perspectives on God into conversation with the biblical view, as we learn to think, speak, and write theologically.

TH 140 Great Themes of the Bible 3

An examination of central biblical themes (creation, covenant, sin, forgiveness, salvation, etc.), through which students will develop an understanding of the message of the Bible as a whole. Attention will be given to the connections between these themes and students' ordinary lives.

TH 141 Great Themes in Paul's Letters 3

An examination of the major themes of Paul's letters, such as salvation, discipleship and the Holy Spirit, through discussion of key Pauline passages, with a view to understanding Paul's gospel and applying it to contemporary life. Periodic offering.

TH 154 Introduction to the Christian Faith 3

The major beliefs and practices of the Christian faith. Fall semester. Periodic offering.

TH 165 The Bible for Doubters	3
An introduction to the overall content and themes of the Bible which is organized around difficult questions and welcomes students who are asking such questions. No Christian commitment is presumed.
TH 172 Foundations for Christian Leadership	2
Foundations for Christian Leadership is a 2 credit course each semester (fall and spring; students may choose to take it for only one semester, highly recommended for both semesters) specifically designed to help students build a strong foundation for Christian leadership and to consider a variety of service opportunities. The course will consider different aspects of Christian leadership, theology, spirituality, personal growth, and relational skills in order to clarify students' gifts and calling. The course encourages students to consider servant leadership as a lifestyle and a vital part of their college experience. Fall semester.
TH 173 Foundations for Christian Leadership II	2
Foundations for Christian Leadership II is a 2 credit course which builds on TH 172 helping students develop a spiritual foundation for Christian leadership, and helps students consider a variety of service opportunities. The course will consider different aspects of Christian leadership, theology, spirituality, personal growth, and relational skills in order to help students in their existing ministry and/or helping to clarify students' gifts and calling. The course encourages students to consider servant leadership as a lifestyle and a vital part of their college experience. Spring semester.
TH 175 The Acts of the Apostles	3
The book of Acts begins with Jesus commissioning His disciples to continue His ministry through the power of the Holy Spirit, from Jerusalem, where the church was born, to Rome, the capital of the Gentile world. Acts tells the story of how the church grew, in both numbers and diversity. This course will explore the growth of the church in its infancy and the lessons that can be learned from this story today. Fall semester.
TH 184 Physicality and Spiritual Formation	1
The course seeks to offer students opportunities to explore the biblical, historical and experiential connection of prayer, posturing and movement. An overview of embodied prayers and movement meditations will be presented. Jan Term.
TH 205 Angels, Demons, Heaven and Hell	3
This course examines the life, teachings, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, with particular emphasis on how our assumptions about angels, demons, heaven, and hell may help or hinder our understanding, experience and communication of the Gospel. The course will examine these New Testament concepts in light of the historical and cultural context from which they emerged.
TH 210 The Ten Commandments as Moral Law	3
See under PH 210. Periodic Jan Term offering.
TH 211 Wrestling with God's Wrath	3
An examination of the biblical theme of God's wrath, especially as it relates to God's love and the redemption of his people. Special attention will be given to this theme as it appears in both pop culture and the public square.
TH 212 Redemption of Creation	3
An introduction to the whole story of the Bible with a focus on the created order and God's plans in redemption and new creation. Considers the significance of a biblical theology of creation and redemption for contemporary issues. Also listed as ENS 212. Fall semester.
TH 213 The Book of Revelation	3
An introduction to the book of Revelation, with a focus on its literary artistry, theological message and relationship to the rest of Scripture. Considers its genre, historical setting, different interpretive approaches and contemporary significance.
TH 214 Theology & Ecology	3

Develops a biblical theology of creation care rooted in Scripture's portrayal of creation and redemption in Christ. Attention is given to environmental issues and the ecology and natural history of the Northwest. Includes study, work, worship, outdoor exploration and disciplined reflection. Also listed as ENS 214. January, odd years, Tall Timber Ranch in the Cascades.

TH 221 Ethics 3

See PH/LS 221.

TH 231 Introduction to the Old Testament 3

This course aims to invite students into the world of the Old Testament. By introducing students to its content and historical, literary, and theological context, the course seeks to offer resources for engaging with the ethical, theological, historical, and hermeneutical challenges the Old Testament poses. This course has no prerequisites and takes for granted no prior knowledge of the Bible. Fall Semester, Odd Years.

TH 232H Wisdom Literature 3

A detailed study of Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Job within their original and canonical contexts, alongside an examination of their contribution to Christian theology and reflection on what constitutes "wisdom" in contemporary society and how it compares to the biblical vision.

TH 241 New Testament 3

The content and theology of the New Testament in light of its literary, historical and religious background, with a view to gaining a good working knowledge of the New Testament. Special focus on Jesus Christ, the gospel and the Christian life. Offered Fall and spring semesters.

TH 242 Life and Teachings of Jesus 3

The pivotal events and major teachings of Jesus as recorded in the Gospels, and their relevance to today.

TH 243 Jesus and the Kingdom of God 3

A study of the kingdom of God as promised in the Old Testament, fulfilled in the life and ministry of Jesus, and consummated upon his return. Spiritual, social, and ethical implications of Jesus' message.

TH 245 Philippians 3

The letter to the Philippians is one of the most encouraging epistles of the New Testament by one of the most prominent missionary-pastors of the early Church, the apostle Paul. Philippians is one of the shortest books of the New Testament, but is also one of Paul's letters most relevant to contemporary Christianity nearly two thousand years later. The purpose of this course is two-fold. (1) It will provide a thorough exposure to and familiarity with this Pauline epistle. Through careful reading and reflection on Philippians, students will gain an understanding of the epistle's historical circumstances, its structure and development, its major themes, its lasting impact on the church, and its challenge to Christian faith today. (2) It will introduce the student to basic methods of biblical interpretation, which they will practice in their study of Philippians.

TH 247 The Gospel of Matthew 3

This course offers a thorough exploration of the Gospel According to Matthew, the first book of the New Testament canon and one of the most influential literary works in the early Church. Among other topics, students will explore the Gospel's portrayal of Jesus, literary structure, perspective on discipleship, historical backgrounds, relation to the Old Testament, and transformational power for today.

TH 250 Gospel of John 3

A detailed study of John's Gospel, chapter by chapter, in a search to understand Jesus and life with him from John's spiritual perspective.

TH 256 Biblical Theme of Shalom 3

A study of the theme of biblical peace through a word study of the Hebrew term shalom and the Greek term eirene, the two words most often translated as "peace," with emphasis on the ministry of Jesus as the epitome of God's revelation of peace and the implications for Christian community. Also listed as CE 256.

TH 256H Honors Biblical Theme of Shalom	3
A study of the theme of biblical peace through a word study of the Hebrew term shalom and the Greek term eirene, the two words most often translated as "peace," with emphasis on the ministry of Jesus as the epitome of God's revelation of peace and the implications for Christian community. Jan Term, even years.
TH 260 Romans	3
A comprehensive introduction to Paul's most complete exposition of the Christian faith, the Epistle to the Romans, with a view to understanding the epistle's historical setting, structure, chief themes, and lasting impact. Periodic offering.
TH 261 C.S. Lewis	3
The thought of C.S. Lewis, as found in his philosophical, theological and imaginative works, and the interconnections between those works. Critical evaluation of Lewis's ideas and application of those ideas to contemporary issues. Also listed as PH 261. Periodic offering.
TH 273 Old Testament and Gender	3
The primary purpose of this course is to develop deeper thinking with regard to the various roles of women and men in Old testament texts and what we can learn from them. Emphasis will be on informed analysis with full awareness of the sociological gender biases that have molded both the texts and their traditional interpretations.
TH 274 New Testament and Gender	3
The primary purpose of this course is to develop a deeper thinking with regard to the various roles of women and men in New Testament texts and what we can learn from them. Emphasis will be on informed analysis with full awareness of the sociological gender biases that have molded both the texts and their traditional interpretations.
TH 275 Bible and Gender	3
The primary purpose of this course is to develop deeper thinking with regard to the various roles of women and men in Old and New Testament texts and what we can learn from them. Emphasis will be on informed analysis, with full awareness of the sociological gender-biases that have molded both the texts and their traditional interpretations. Offered through continuing studies.
TH 279 Theology and Film	3
In this course, we will watch excellent films, read fascinating essays, and have good conversations about some of the most important things in life. The topics we will explore include friendship, work, love, forgiveness, happiness, death, and God. Periodic Jan Term offering.
TH 281 Gospel of Luke	3
This course introduces students to the Gospel of Luke by providing an overview of its basic content and an understanding of its central message. Considerations will be given to its origins, literary nature, historical context, geographical setting, major characters and central themes.
TH 288 Genesis in the Letters of Paul	3
This course examines the Pauline Epistles through the lens of the Old Testament book of Genesis. Each Pauline letter will be examined systematically, addressing the biblical themes of Creation, Sin, Death, Exile, Covenant, Slavery, and Redemption found in Genesis. Theology Majors should take TH 449: Paul's Letters.
TH 299 The Meaning of Life	3
This class will investigate the meaning of life in two different ways. First we will explore whether life and all it involves has some greater purpose or aim. In other words, we will be looking at different perspectives on whether our lives have significance beyond the here and now. Relatedly, we will go on to explore how one goes about organizing one's life with all its competing values and demands. In other words, we will be looking at and critically evaluating ways in which people might find value in life (e.g. through money, family, religion or relationships) and how we should structure our lives to balance life's various goods. Also listed as PH 299. Offered Jan term, odd years in New York City.
TH 301 Spiritual Classics: Books That Can Shape Your Life	3

This seminar introduces students to classic spiritual writings that have shaped the lives of Christians and influenced Western culture through the centuries. Students will examine the communication modes of allegory, colloquy, correspondence, biography and autobiography used by the authors under consideration. Figures include Francis of Assisi, Teresa of Avila, Thomas a Kempis, John Bunyan, CS Lewis and Martin Luther King, Jr., among others. Spring semester.

TH 306 History and Theology of Worship 3

History and theology of the practice of corporate worship and the role of music in worship from the Old Testament to the present. Particular emphasis will be placed on the evolving role of congregational song in worship.

TH 307 Seminar on Early Christianity 3

A careful study of primary source texts from the early Christian period, including Irenaeus, Origen, and Eusebius, which will culminate in a major research paper. Fall semester, odd years.

TH 308 Christianity in Britain Preparation 1

A prerequisite to the Christianity in Britain Jan Term Study Program, this one-credit course consists of seven class sessions comprised of overview lectures, intercultural awareness training, and reading assignments that will introduce students to the course material and prepare them to travel throughout England and Scotland.

TH 367 The Triune God 3

Trinitarian faith is vital to the life and health of the Christian church. After surveying the so-called rediscovery of the Trinity in the 20th century, we will explore the biblical foundations of the doctrine, its historical development, and several recent attempts to relate the Trinity to topics like pastoral ministry, human personhood, worship, and interreligious dialogue.

TH 368 Interpreting Scripture 3

This course enables students to develop skills for interpreting Scripture, exploring the ways in which Scripture has been read in various times and places, introducing hermeneutical theories concerning its meaning and significance, and providing practical tools. Spring semester.

TH 369 Science and Faith 3

An introduction to relationship between science and Christian faith as potentially complimentary ways of knowing, with a focus on questions that contemporary scientific interpretations of reality raise for biblical faith and questions that biblical faith raises for the understanding and application of science.

- TH 370 World Religions 3
A study of the primary non-Christian religions of the world, with special emphasis on the beliefs and practices of those religions. Spring semester.
- TH 371 Great Christian Thinkers 3
An exploration of several indisputably great Christian thinkers (Augustine, Thomas Aquinas, Calvin, Barth, and others). Key aspects of their thought will be highlighted and examined, with attention to their exciting biographies and emphasis on their practical relevance to the lives of students. Prerequisite: fulfill the biblical literature requirement. Spring semester.
- TH 372 Three Outsiders: Kierkegaard, Barth, and Bonhoeffer 3
This seminar is a study of the life and thought of Soren Kierkegaard, Karl Barth, and Dietrich Bonhoeffer. Specifically, it will examine their penetrating attacks on religion and the church, as well as their brilliant and timely suggestions for what it means to follow Jesus Christ (and to be the church) in a context that is no longer predominantly Christian. Fall semester.
- TH 373 Who Is Jesus Christ? 3
Jesus asked his disciples, "Who do you say that I am?" and the church has been pondering that question ever since. For the last two millennia Christians have struggled to understand and respond to this central mystery, and in this seminar we will join that ongoing conversation. We will orient ourselves around a single question, "Who is Jesus Christ?" and throughout the semester we will read and think about some of the very best answers that Christians have ever given to this fundamental question. Fall semester.
- TH 375 Soul Care Through Life Stages 3
This course considers the human developmental stages across the entire life span, with special emphasis on the nurture of the spiritual life through their various seasons of life. Students will examine biblical, theological, psychological, and spiritual issues in the life cycle, especially as these issues relate to ministry. Periodic Offering.
- TH 376 Theology and Culture 3
"Theology and Culture" begins with the Reformation period and explores how the Christian community has experienced the challenges of modernity, political theologies, ecumenism, postmodernity and the "new" atheism. It focuses on how, in the face of these challenges, the Church has shaped the culture, and how the culture has shaped the Church. Fall semester.
- TH 377 Theology in the Public Square 3
With Christendom now behind us, the American church has been given an urgent and exciting opportunity to re-think its presence in the public square. The purpose of this course, then, is to explore the uniqueness of the gospel. We will consider a Christian approach to human life and dignity; to community and its barriers; to excellent work and the freedom of genuine play. Our goal is to gain a fresh appreciation for the creative and unexpected ways that the gospel illumines our world.
- TH 380 Young Life Leadership 1
TH 380 YL Practicum is for Young Life leaders who are in the Student Staff Training Program. It is a discipleship/training program that allows motivated and ministry minded college leaders to understand the heart of true ministry. Through both formal training and direct ministry experience, students will learn and reflect upon how to effectively carry out excellent YL ministry with kids. Students can take course for a maximum of 2 credits per year. Instructor permission required.
- TH 381 Campus Ministry 2
Designed to explore all aspects of campus-based ministry, including developing a philosophy of ministry, designing and implementing a strategy for leadership development, and the principles and skills necessary to cultivate a sustainable approach to leadership in ministry. Fall semester.
- TH 384 The Bible and Outsiders 3

The United States as a melting pot is considered beautiful to some and reproachful to others, with confessing Christians casting their vote on both ends of the spectrum. Those who constitute the melting pot are considered by many in America as 'outsiders'-those who do not belong. Other 'outsiders' include the poor, refugees, women, the incarcerated, those disabled or mentally ill, those caught in forms of modern-day slavery, and religious and ethnic minorities, to name just a few. What is the relationship between such 'outsiders' and the gospel of Christ, and what should be the relationship between such 'outsiders' and followers of Christ? This course will trace throughout the biblical narrative the ways in which God used such 'outsiders' to bring redemption to the world. We will discover in God's journey toward humanity and in Jesus's calling of humanity what should be humanity's vocational response toward one another, not least toward those considered 'outsiders'. This is a service-learning course, in which students will interact face-to-face on a regular basis with some of the most vulnerable people in Spokane. Due to the service-learning component and the fall-semester offering, this course is not recommended for Freshman.

TH 386 Readings 1-4

TH 389 Theologies in Dialogue 3

The course focuses on the dialogue between Catholic and Protestant theologies and fosters the quest for positive, balanced theological solutions. It strives for a common understanding of Scripture and Tradition, the Church and authority in the Church, Baptism and the Eucharist. Periodic offering.

TH 393 Christian Spirituality 3

The history, theology and practice of spirituality, and its implications for life today as we worship, work, build friendships and play. Fall and Spring semesters.

TH 433 Theology and Practice of Ministry I 1

An exploration of ministry that is biblically informed and culturally relevant. This course is the first of two required capstone courses for the Theology Department's Ministry Formation major and minor. Spring semester.

TH 434 Theology and Practice of Ministry II 1

An exploration of ministry that is biblically informed and culturally relevant. This course is the second of two required capstone courses. Fall semester.

TH 435 Internship in Ministry 2

A supervised experience of ministry in a local church or Christian organization. The internship will require mentoring, service, reflection and study. By permission only. Must be taken in conjunction with TH 433 and TH 434.

US Cultural Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

uscs@whitworth.edu

Sociology Department (p. 281)

The Whitworth United States Cultural Studies Program acknowledges that many factors, such as race, ethnicity, national origin, socio-economics, gender, sexual orientation and type of disability, influence our lives and experiences in the U.S. In one way or another, others' perceptions of us, or even our self-perceptions, have been formed by these personal characteristics and by the groups that are identified by these characteristics. Our goal is to study these groups so that we can understand their lives and our own in the contemporary United States. Students of all identities and backgrounds are welcomed and encouraged to pursue this minor.

Through this program of study, our goals are...

1. to study the foundations and interactions of diverse groups living in the U.S. from an interdisciplinary framework.
2. to develop intercultural competencies for other coursework, graduate or professional schools, and eventual vocations.
3. to increase willingness and capacity to serve campus and communities by advancing social justice and reconciliation.

Women's and Gender Studies (Interdisciplinary Minor)

wgs@whitworth.edu

At Whitworth, we affirm that all people are created in God's image and share a common humanity. At the same time, we acknowledge that many factors, such as gender, race, class, sexual orientation and religious upbringing, influence our learning and our lives. These personal characteristics, including gender, may influence the ways in which women and men pursue scholarship; the ways in which women and men are represented in scholarship, in history and in society; and, ultimately, the ways in which women and men may come to honor God, follow Christ, and serve humanity. Through curricular and co-curricular means, teaching both mind and heart, the Whitworth Women's and Gender Studies Program offers students the unique opportunity to think through gender issues from a Christian perspective and to articulate, support and critique feminist views in the light of biblical and theological traditions.

The learning outcomes of this minor prepare the student to...

- use an interdisciplinary framework to engage with the pluralistic culture.
- identify and investigate the intersections of gender, race, class and religion with gender experiences.
- seek an increased understanding of gender issues from various Christian perspectives.
- explore, develop, articulate and critique feminist views.

A minor in women's and gender studies prepares successful candidates for jobs and for graduate school in a broad range of disciplines, including human resources, education, political science, journalism, social work, counseling and medicine. Candidates are urged to speak with the program director about coursework and internships.

World Languages and Cultures

We, as a dedicated team of international faculty, strive to educate students in cultural differences and sensitivity. We seek to provide students with the language skills, cross-cultural experiences, and literary and cultural understanding to allow them to navigate effectively within other cultures. Through this process, students are empowered to understand linguistic and cultural differences within their own society. Because we know our students well, we are able to guide them as they discern career opportunities and vocational calling. As a result of this range of learning experiences, our graduates are ready to become citizens of the world.

The learning outcomes of this major ensure that our students will attain the following:

- language skills that allow students to communicate on a wide range of topics in the target language
- knowledge of a range of representative literatures
- recognition of cultural differences and understanding of differences within each student's own culture
- the experience of living and studying in another culture
- discernment regarding career and vocation
- an articulate expression of their faith/worldview in relation to their discipline, their vocation, the target culture, and the communities they encounter in the U.S. and abroad

General Requirements for a Major in French or Spanish:

- Students majoring in French or Spanish are required to study abroad for a semester in a French- or Spanish-speaking country to gain further proficiency in the language and a keen understanding and appreciation of French/Hispanic culture. Only courses taken in the target language will count toward the student's French or Spanish major. The France Study Program, offered every third year, provides courses in French, communication and art. The Central America Program, offered every third year, provides courses in upper-level Spanish language, politics and cultural topics, and has a service-learning emphasis. There are also many Spanish and French programs in overseas locations such as Chile, Guatemala, Mexico, Spain, France and Quebec.
- All French majors must schedule and take the ACTFL OPI (Oral Proficiency Interview) during their junior or senior year (senior year is preferred). All Spanish majors must schedule and take either the DELE exam, offered on campus during the fall semester, or the ACTFL OPI during their junior or senior year (senior year is preferred). Spanish majors hoping to work abroad should take the DELE; education majors should take the OPI (also required for an endorsement in the language; education students must take the exam only once for both majors). All students should consult with their advisors during the junior year to determine the appropriate exam for each student.
- A grade of C or better is required for all courses in the major or minor.

Undergraduate, School of Continuing Studies - Adult Degree Programs

The Whitworth School of Continuing Studies provides higher-education opportunities for adult students in an environment that cultivates student success, critical reflection and professional development. We uphold Whitworth's mission of an education of mind and heart by treating all students with dignity; by providing avenues for spiritual, as well as intellectual, rigor; and by serving each individual with compassion and integrity.

School of Continuing Studies Admissions

The Whitworth School of Continuing Studies is designed for adult learners who, because of work and family obligations, need to attend the university on a schedule that fits their busy lives. Applicants to the School of Continuing Studies must...

- submit an online application that includes an essay, references and a $25 application fee;
- if applicable, ask that all official transcripts from previously attended colleges and/or universities be sent directly to the School of Continuing Studies office (if no prior college/university credit has been earned, high school transcripts or GED may be required); and
- meet with an academic advisor.

Due to the expectation that students contribute knowledge gained in the work environment to the collaborative learning taking place in class, each applicant to the School of Continuing Studies under the age of 23 must also...

1. have family or work responsibilities that would prevent her/him from attending a traditional daytime university program;
2. have a two-year transfer degree, or substantial previous college experience, preferably with a 2.75 or higher GPA; and
3. have three years of full-time employment history, documented by submission of a résumé.

Program-specific admission requirements: Students planning to enter the organizational management, "upside-down," criminal-justice administration, or evening teacher certification program must meet specific admissions requirements listed with program descriptions in this section of the catalog.

Admission Evaluation and Acceptance

Each application is carefully reviewed before the admissions committee grants a prospective student admission to the university. The following criteria may be considered in the admission-decision process: transfer-credit grade point average; personal interview; availability of appropriate academic program(s); prior coursework and pattern of coursework completion; references; and demonstration of college-level writing competency. Applicants will receive notification of their admittance status in writing from the School of Continuing Studies.

Applicants not meeting the minimum GPA or other admission requirements may be offered restricted admission and may be required to complete successfully the classes specified by the academic advisor.

Bachelor Degree Requirements

Completion of Whitworth general education requirements

Completion of 36 semester credits of upper-division courses (numbered 300 or above)

Completion of a writing-intensive "W" course in the major

Completion of an approved major (with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher)

Completion of at least 32 semester credits in a degree program at Whitworth

Completion of 126 total semester credits, including those transferred from other institutions.

Note: The management and accounting degree requires 150 credits for completion.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 in all Whitworth courses

Completion of 32 of last 40 credits for the degree at Whitworth

Completion of all degree requirements within six years of matriculation

Students must declare their intent to graduate by completing an application for graduation by Nov. 1 of their senior year (or the year prior to their completion of all degree requirements). In order to participate in commencement, students who will not be completing all degree requirements by the end of the spring semester must submit a petition that outlines their course plan, showing that all requirements will be complete by Jan. 31 of the year following commencement.

Whitworth Policies

For additional Whitworth policies, please see the section on Academic Information (p. 23).

General Education Requirements

Students enrolled in the School of Continuing Studies must complete the university's general education requirements as specified in the Undergraduate Programs section of the catalog, with the following exceptions:

- The first-year program entails successful completion of GE 335 Transitions to Adult Learning (3 credits).
- The student may fulfill the worldview studies requirement by completing either CO 300: Reason/Knowing: Nature and Human Nature; CO 250: Western Civilization II: The Rationalist Worldview; or CO 150 Western Civilization I: Christian Worldview Perspectives (4 credits).
- The world languages requirement may be met in the following ways: through a three-credit conversational-language course specifically designed for Whitworth's Continuing Studies programs, or through a full year (eight semester credits or 15 quarter-credits) of a world language at Whitworth or another university.

Course Enrollment Limits for Continuing Studies Degree Programs

A student may choose to enroll in one three-credit, non-accelerated evening course (fall, spring, and summer) in addition to his or her accelerated-format schedule. Tuition for each course will be charged at the current applicable tuition rate. Continuing studies students may not enroll in more than 17 credits during each continuing studies accelerated-format term, including regular-semester course registrations that overlap into a portion of any accelerated-format term.

Continuing Studies Change in Program

Students moving from a continuing studies program to a traditional day program must complete the day program's requirements for general education (including world languages) subject to the core transfer-credit policy. Continuing studies students who have completed 90 credits or more in their program may not transfer to a traditional day-program major unless this transfer is approved by the School of Continuing Studies, the academic department in which the major is housed, and the department of academic affairs.

Students attending Whitworth as matriculated-day students who want to cease attending during the day, change their major and enroll in a continuing studies program must fulfill the following requirements:

1. must not have attended Whitworth for at least one full calendar year prior to applying to the School of Continuing Studies;
2. must apply and be accepted for admission to the School of Continuing Studies;
3. must major in a program offered by the School of Continuing Studies; and
4. must meet all continuing studies general education requirements.

Continuing Studies Academic Warning

A student enrolled in Whitworth Continuing Studies courses may be placed on academic warning at the end of any 12-week period of an accelerated-format sequence during which s/he is registered for six or more credits (whether or not those credits are completed) and during which sequence the student had a term GPA below 2.0 and a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or above.

Continuing Studies Academic Probation

If a student fails his or her first course at Whitworth University, s/he will be put on academic probation. A student is placed on academic probation at the end of any 12-week period of an accelerated-format sequence during which s/he earned a term GPA below 2.0 and 1) s/he was on academic warning within the previous 12 months, or 2) s/he has a cumulative GPA lower than 2.0.

During this 12-week period, the student must have been registered for six or more credits (whether or not those credits were completed). A student who is on probation may not register for more than three courses, or nine semester credits, in the subsequent accelerated-format term. Students remain on probation until their cumulative GPA reaches the minimum 2.0 standard.

Exception: If a student previously attended Whitworth and has a cumulative GPA below 2.0 upon re-admission through continuing studies, the academic advisor may make an exception to the academic probation policy.

Continuing Studies Academic Suspension

If a student fails his or her first two courses at Whitworth University, s/he will be placed on academic suspension. At the end of an 18-week period (excluding breaks), if a student is registered for nine credits (whether or not nine credits are completed), and the term GPA during that 18-week period is below 1.0, or if the student has a term GPA of 2.0 or below and is on academic probation, s/he will be placed on academic suspension. A pattern of successive class withdrawals (over more than one term or sequence) may also be grounds for suspension. Academic suspension will be noted on the transcript.

Continuing Studies Appeal Process

If there are mitigating reasons for unsatisfactory progress that results in suspension, students may appeal in writing to the Educational Review Board through the Whitworth Academic Affairs Office. Reinstatement after any semester or sequence on suspension is dependent upon written application to the Educational Review Board through the academic affairs office. If the student is reinstated, a notation of reinstatement will be noted on the transcript. Students who are receiving financial aid should refer to satisfactory academic progress policies and appeals processes.

Program for Community College Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) Degree Holders

This degree is often referred to as an “upside-down” degree because it reverses the usual order of a student beginning with general university course requirements and finishing with studies in a specialized field in order to complete a four-year bachelor’s degree. This program allows a student to complete an A.A.S. degree at a Washington state or approved out-of-state community college in a specific field and subsequently to come to Whitworth for completion of the general education requirements, a major and upper-division credits required for a bachelor’s degree.

A.A.S. Degree Credits Accepted by Whitworth

Whitworth will accept credit from selected associate of applied science degrees from regionally accredited Washington state or approved out-of-state community colleges if a student chooses to apply that credit toward a bachelor’s degree offered through the School of Continuing Studies. The student will transfer in with 60-64 semester credits (depending upon the total number of credits earned through the A.A.S. degree) and will be granted junior standing. A list of accepted A.A.S. degrees is available in the Whitworth School of Continuing Studies office or on the continuing studies website.

Admission Requirements for Community College A.A.S. Degree Transfer

In addition to fulfilling School of Continuing Studies admission requirements, applicants for the “upside-down” A.A.S. transfer degree program must meet the following criteria:

- Completion of an approved A.A.S. degree within the last 10 years from a community college in Washington or an approved out-of-state community college. If the A.A.S. degree is older than 10 years, the transcript will be evaluated on a course-by-course basis and/or the application will be assessed on the applicant’s current use of the degree in her/his profession.

Criminal Justice Administration

In collaboration with Whitworth’s College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Continuing Studies offers a B.A. in Criminal Justice Administration. This interdisciplinary degree builds on the strength of a liberal arts core curriculum, providing the adult student with a balanced and coherent study of the arts, the humanities, and the natural and social sciences. Whitworth is dedicated to providing an academically excellent liberal arts education that will equip each student with the skills necessary to respond creatively to the personal and professional challenges of life.

Admission to the criminal justice administration program is contingent upon the applicant’s transfer of an A.A.S. degree in criminal justice, corrections or fire science or a similar A.A.S. degree, or upon successful completion of the police academy; or upon other related professional experience within the criminal justice arena, as determined by the admissions committee.

The criminal justice administration major builds on the learning outcomes students have achieved through completion of an associate of applied science degree and/or through professional experience. In addition to these outcomes, the criminal justice administration major prepares students to...

- demonstrate knowledge of theories and application of management principles associated with criminal justice systems.
- identify and analyze ethical and legal issues specific to law enforcement, corrections and security roles.
- understand and articulate the administration and role of public service in society.
- demonstrate the ability to relate well within and across diverse community cultures.

Evening Teacher Certification

Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education

Stacy Hill (Director)

The mission of the Whitworth School of Education is to prepare educators of mind and heart who are scholars, community members, effective practitioners, visionary leaders, and guardians. The School of Education provides opportunities to integrate theory and practice in diverse settings through the study of established and emerging content as well as through pedagogical and professional knowledge. Whitworth University prepares educators to have a positive impact on the learning and development of those they are called to serve.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students to be...

SCHOLARS

Educators of mind and heart possess current knowledge of the content areas in which they work, understand the connections among disciplines, use tools of inquiry, and demonstrate an attitude of ongoing learning as existing fields of knowledge continue to evolve and grow. Educators of mind and heart strengthen their existing knowledge base through continuous intellectual and scholarly growth based on current research, the study of their own practice, the analysis of data collected and the application of data to the solution of problems in their respective fields of study.

COMMUNITY MEMBERS

Educators of mind and heart develop and sustain intentionally collaborative and interdependent relationships among teachers, students and their families, counselors, administrators, and other community members. Educators of mind and heart understand their roles as professional colleagues in the school, community and professional organizations. They actively help to shape the culture of classrooms and schools to reflect the values of our democratic society. They model professional behaviors appropriate for those entrusted with educating today's children and young people.

EFFECTIVE EDUCATORS

Educators of mind and heart are prepared to analyze situations, set goals, plan and monitor actions, assess outcomes, and reflect on their professional thinking and decision making. They are committed to culturally responsive and relevant practices that engage students and are purposeful in making a positive impact on their students' learning. They demonstrate proficiency in the selection and differentiation of materials, strategies, and assessment practices that are appropriate for the diversity of students and the educational contexts in which they serve. They use formative and summative data as evidence for decision-making. They are competent in using technology and other 21st-century skills in the educational setting to improve their own practice and the learning of their students.

VISIONARY LEADERS

Educators of mind and heart have a vision. They articulate a personal philosophy of education that includes a belief in the worth and ability of each human being that provides a framework guiding personal and professional decision making and development. The educators' practices are intentionally aligned with this vision for the benefit of members of their learning communities. Educators of mind and heart model transformational and servant leadership in their learning communities and in their contributions to society.

GUARDIANS

Educators of mind and heart act as advocates for children and youth, demonstrating a sincere commitment to the success of all and paying attention to the roles that diversity – including gender, ability, ethnicity, race, culture, religion, and socio-economic status – brings to learning and the community. Educators understand and respect the inter-connected, global nature of society and encourage sustainable practices designed to preserve our world for future generations. In the Christian tradition of servant leadership, educators serve humankind and seek opportunities to assist, encourage and support all those under their care in a manner that leads to transformation in the lives of their students.

The Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program, a collaborative effort between the School of Education and the School of Continuing Studies, allows adults who work full time to complete a teacher-certification program in an accelerated evening and Saturday format. Students can earn a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education with teacher certification, while those with a college degree can complete the requirements for certification only. Post-baccalaureate students can enroll in the 500 level of designated courses and apply up to 18 semester credits as electives if they are accepted into a Whitworth Graduate Studies in Education program within four years of ETC program completion.

Articulation Agreement

Spokane Falls Community College (SFCC) and Whitworth University have entered into an agreement that allows for the seamless transition of students in the Education Paraprofessional Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) at SFCC to Whitworth's Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education Program or Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies Program. Students who complete the coursework identified by this agreement for award of an AAS degree at SFCC will transfer with 60-64 semester credits (depending on total number of credits earned through the AAS degree) and will be granted junior standing at Whitworth. This agreement is intended to eliminate duplication of coursework and is consistent with the goals and objectives of both institutions.

Admission Requirements

Students must first complete all continuing studies admission requirements to enroll in needed prerequisite or content coursework.

Additional requirements for admission to the School of Education and an evening teacher certification cohort include the following:

- a minimum of 60 semester credits (90 quarter hours) of college work with a 2.5 GPA from accredited colleges or universities, or a 3.0 minimum GPA in recent coursework at Whitworth
- successful completion of EDE 302, Foundation of Education and Community Engagement, and the related field experience
- passing scores on the three subtests of the Washington Educators Skills Test - Basic (WEST-B) or minimum scores on a state-approved alternative

Certification Requirements

Academic requirements for a Washington state teaching certificate include the following:

- the cohort coursework, totaling 53 semester credits
- 20 semester credits in an endorsable discipline
- all prerequisite and content-area requirements (see below)
- grades of "C" or better in all courses applicable to certification

Students earning a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education must also complete all Whitworth general requirements.

In addition, please see “Important Notes for all Undergraduate Teacher Education Students” on the School of Education (p. 107) homepage.

Evening Teacher Certification Curriculum

The ETC program is offered in a cohort-based format in which a core group of approximately 20 students work collaboratively through each of the courses in sequence. Within the final semester, students will complete a full-time student-teaching practicum. Cohorts begin in August and February.

Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies

The Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies Program is designed for individuals who are interested in the field of education, but who do not plan to complete the requirements to become a certified teacher.

The Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program views the role of educators as a calling – a commitment to understanding and responding compassionately to the needs of children and youth. Educators are more than classroom teachers. They are involved in every aspect of a child’s life. The EDP conceptualizes our graduates as educators of mind and heart who serve as scholars, community members, guardians, effective practitioners and visionary leaders. Courses in this program are structured around this conceptual framework, and students are encouraged to view their future roles as educators through this model.

Education - Evening Courses

EDE 204 Child and Adolescent Development	3
---	----------

This course examines developmental aspects (cognitive, social-emotional, moral, spiritual, and physical) and sociological challenges (abuse and neglect, substance abuse, poverty, familial discord) and their impact on teaching and learning. Candidates study children, youth and adolescents, with a focus on psychology in the diverse classroom.

EDE 280 Field Study	1-4
----------------------------	------------

EDE 302 Foundations of Education and Community Engagement	3
--	----------

The course explores the philosophical foundations and critical issues related to education, faith/world view and the education profession, certification in Washington and the dispositions of successful practitioners as identified by the Whitworth School of Education conceptual framework. It also provides an introduction to educational opportunities in community organizations including museums, art, music or theatre groups, youth organizations and science centers. Students complete a service learning experience, either in a K-12 classroom or education-related community organization. Cross listed with EDE 502.

EDE 320 Exceptional Learners and Inclusion 3

This course provides an overview of exceptional children, gifted education, disabling conditions, legal issues, intervention strategies, family systems, and teaming approaches related to special education. Emphasis is placed on accommodations for high-incidence conditions. Candidates will develop individualized education plans and complete a practicum experience in a school or home setting. Cross-listed with EDE 520.

EDE 335 Technology in Education 1

This course introduces the technology skills currently used in K-12 classrooms to improve teaching and learning, and the principles guiding the use of technology tools. This course prepares candidates with the technological knowledge and skills to increase productivity in instructional design, assessment, and communication; enhance student engagement; and promote active, meaningful learning for 21st century digital natives. Cross-listed with EDE 535.

EDE 340 Differentiated Instructional Strategies and K-8 Social Studies Methods 3

This course introduces candidates to differentiated instruction and assessment of social studies in the diverse K-8 classroom. Candidates learn and use Washington and Common Core State Standards and Understanding by Design curriculum planning methods, using ETC instructional plan. From the School of Education conceptual framework, the course emphasizes becoming an effective practitioner through planning and is designed to prepare candidates for Task 1 of the Teacher Performance Assessment. This course meets Whitworth's oral communication requirement. Cross-listed with EDE 350 and EDE 540.

EDE 342A K-8 Mathematics Methods 3

This course introduces candidates to curriculum, differentiated instruction and assessment in the diverse K-8 classroom. Problem solving is emphasized as a tool to teach mathematics equitably to all students. Learning theory and current best practices are utilized to create lesson plans aligned with the Washington and Common Core State Standards for mathematics. It is also designed to prepare candidates for Task 1 and 3 of the Teacher Performance Assessment. Cross-listed with EDE 542A.

EDE 342B K-8 Science Methods 3

This course introduces candidates to intentional practice of classroom management, active and equitable participation for culturally, ethnically, linguistically and academically diverse students, lesson planning, and formative assessment to differentiate instruction for all K-8 learners. The integration of science concepts in other disciplines is emphasized. It includes theories, teaching, lesson plan development, strategies, demonstration and laboratory techniques, an overview of curriculum, assessment guidelines, Washington State standards, Common Core State Standards, Next Generation Science Standards, and conducting field trips and safety considerations. Prerequisite: one college-level science course. Cross-listed with EDE 542B.

EDE 342C Instructional Strategies Practicum 1

The course places candidates in a culturally, ethnically, linguistically and/or academically diverse elementary or self-contained middle school classroom to develop competencies in teaching and assessing learning in math and science. This course is designed to prepare candidates for the Teacher Performance Assessment by video taping and analyzing a lesson during this placement. Cross-listed with EDE 351B.

EDE 345A K-8 Physical Education & Health Methods 1

This course introduces candidates to methods for teaching and assessing physical and health education in elementary school. Current methods and materials are used to develop the elementary curriculum, differentiate physical education and health instruction and assessment and teaching appropriate activities. Cross-listed with EDE 545A.

EDE 345B K-8 Theatre Methods	1
This course teaches theatre techniques useful across the curriculum in any elementary classroom. Candidates learn how to integrate theatre concepts into literacy, character education and social studies curriculum. Candidates develop and teach lessons that use theatre methods, as well as apply and differentiate for diverse learners in K-8 classrooms. Cross-listed with EDE 545B.
EDE 345C K-8 Music Methods	1
This course emphasizes the music experience in an elementary setting. Candidates study the use of different musical concepts, methods and materials, integration of music into other content areas, and process/product will be studied. Candidates become familiar with terminology and various music programs, while learning how to differentiate instruction and assess musical skills and concepts for diverse learners in K-8 classrooms. Cross-listed with EDE 545C.
EDE 345D K-8 Art Methods	1
This course emphasizes the art experience in an elementary setting. Candidates study different media, integration of art into other content areas, and process/product. Candidates become familiar with terminology and various art programs, while learning how to differentiate instruction and assess art skills and concepts for diverse learners in K-8 classrooms. Cross-listed with EDE 545D.
EDE 350 Integrated Instructional Methods	3
This course introduces candidates to interdisciplinary instruction through micro-teachings and analysis of teaching and learning behaviors. It focuses on integrating curriculum in the candidate's major and related content areas. Candidates learn instructional methods and assessment strategies that are utilized to create lesson plans aligned with the Washington and Common Core State Standards. It addresses character education and equity pedagogy. This course is designed to prepare candidates for the Teacher Performance Assessment. Cross-listed EDE 340 and EDE 550.
EDE 351A Instructional Strategies Practicum I	1
The course places candidates in a diverse middle school or high school classroom to develop competencies in teaching and assessing learning in the candidate's specific content area. This course is designed to prepare candidates for Task 1 and 2 of the Teacher Performance Assessment by teaching, video taping and analyzing a lesson during this placement.
EDE 351B Instructional Strategies Practicum II	1
The course places candidates in a diverse middle school or high school classroom to develop competencies in teaching and assessing learning in the candidate's specific content area. This course is designed to prepare candidates for Task 1 and 2 of the Teacher Performance Assessment by teaching, video taping and analyzing a lesson during this placement.
EDE 363 ELL Methods in Language Arts and Reading	3
This course emphasizes the application of language acquisition theory to the teaching of English language learners. Strategies to teach listening, speaking, reading, and writing teaching, as well as the purpose and administration of language proficiency assessment, are presented and practiced. This course may be conducted online. Cross-listed with EDE 563 and EDU 363 and EDU 563.
EDE 366 Teaching English Language Learners	1
An introduction to instructional strategies for teaching English Language Learners in the regular classroom and an overview of current programs and laws regarding the teaching of ELL students.

Humanities

In collaboration with Whitworth's College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Continuing Studies offers a B.A. in Humanities. This interdisciplinary degree builds on the strength of a liberal arts core curriculum, providing the adult student with a balanced and coherent study of the arts, the humanities, and the natural and social sciences. Whitworth is dedicated to providing an academically excellent liberal arts education that will equip each student with the skills necessary to respond creatively to the personal and professional challenges of life.

Learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to...

- understand human experience, thought and values through exposure to texts and varying academic disciplines.
- explore various options for study and/or professional engagement.

Students have the opportunity to design their own academic program in consultation with an advisor. A minimum of 45 semester credits is required for the completion of the humanities major.

Requirements for Humanities, B.A. (45)

At least 30 credits of the 45 semester credit total must be from the following areas: art, communication studies, English, history, music, philosophy, theology, theatre	30
Up to 15 credits of the 45 semester credit total may also be from the social sciences: economics, political science, psychology, sociology	15
One of the above courses must be a writing-intensive course, designated by a “W” after the course number.

Organizational Management

Organizational Management Major (p. 345) Management & Accounting Major (p. 346)

Organizational Management Major, B.A.

The Whitworth Organizational Management Program blends current organizational theory with practice, providing a one-of-a-kind educational experience for the adult who seeks to complete a bachelor’s degree while working. This major is included in one of the three divisions of Whitworth’s School of Business; it meets all requirements for a business degree granted by Whitworth University.

Organizational Management Program Admission Requirements

Admission to the School of Continuing Studies does not guarantee admission to the Whitworth Organizational Management Degree Program. In addition to being admitted to the School of Continuing Studies prior to beginning the organizational management major, students must...

- complete a minimum of 60 semester credits, either by transfer or at Whitworth, with a grade point average of 2.0 or above;
- provide a current résumé; and
- complete an admission interview with the director of the organizational management program.

Admission Evaluation for Organizational Management Program

Final determination of admission into the organizational management program is made by the director of the program in consultation with continuing studies advisors and staff. This decision may be based on prior coursework, recommendations from prior instructors, a personal interview, business aptitude, ability to work well in a cohort-based program, and grade point average. Applicants will receive notification of their admittance status from the Whitworth School of Continuing Studies Office.

Portfolio Assessment

Students enrolled in the organizational management program who have obtained college-level knowledge through prior experience outside of the traditional college classroom may earn college credit through portfolio assessment. Designed for the adult who is self-motivated and highly skilled in analytical process, portfolio development involves knowledge assessment, documentation, third-party verification and an understanding of college-level learning expectations. Examples of appropriate college-level learning include work-related training seminars and self-directed study. See a continuing studies advisor for details.

Organizational Management Curriculum

Each course is a prerequisite for the course that follows. A passing grade must be achieved in each course in order for a student to continue on to the next. A failing grade (F) may necessitate withdrawal from the program.

The learning outcomes for the organizational management degree are consistent with those articulated by the Whitworth School of Business for all business degrees. Learning outcomes of this major include graduates who are able to...

1. engage in successful problem-solving and decision-making activities that require critical reasoning and creativity to develop sound, integrated solutions.
2. identify internal and external economic and financial conditions facing the organization.
3. demonstrate clear and persuasive verbal and written communications skills.
4. engage in sound self-management practices
5. articulate a personal code of professional ethics and formulate effective, ethical strategies to address relevant organizational issues.

Management & Accounting Major, B.A.

The Whitworth Management & Accounting Degree Program blends a traditional accounting curriculum with a business-management core to equip the adult student with competencies in both accounting and management. This degree prepares students for careers as controllers and directors of finance in industry.

Admission into continuing studies does not guarantee admission into the management & accounting degree program. Final determination of admission into this cohort program is made by the director of the program in consultation with continuing studies advisors and staff. This decision is based on factors that include prior coursework, recommendations from prior instructors, a personal interview, business aptitude, ability to work well in a cohort-based program, and grade point average. Applicants will receive notification of their admittance status from the Whitworth Continuing Studies Office.

As part of the Whitworth School of Business, the management & accounting degree is differentiated from the traditional undergraduate accounting degree by several features, including the 150 credits required for completion. Those who hold this undergraduate degree will have met the academic requirement to take the CPA exam and will be equipped for positions in senior management. The accounting courses are offered in a 15-month series designed to maximize student retention and learning.

The learning outcomes for the management and accounting degree are consistent with those articulated by the School of Business for all business degrees. Learning outcomes of this major prepare the student to...

1. engage in successful problem-solving and decision-making activities that require critical thinking, reasoning and creativity to develop sound, integrated solutions.
2. identify internal and external economic and financial conditions facing the organization.
3. demonstrate clear and persuasive verbal and written communications skills.
4. engage in sound self-management practices.
5. articulate a personal code of professional ethics and formulate effective, ethical strategies to address relevant organizational issues.

Theological Studies

Theological Studies, B.A.

Designed for people who have been working as religious professionals or as active laypeople in religious organizations for at least five years, the Whitworth B.A. in Theological Studies Program will provide an excellent theological education — both academic and practical — for those whose circumstances in life would make it difficult for them to earn a B.A. degree in a conventional undergraduate program. Taught by core faculty members in the Whitworth Theology Department, the courses in the program are built on a sturdy foundation:

- Classical Theology: Professors teach the traditional theological disciplines of biblical studies, systematic theology and church history, as well as more applied areas.
- Practical Preparation: Classes address contemporary challenges people in ministry face every day and explore concrete and creative solutions.
- Spiritual Formation: Students learn together in a praying, worshiping community, enjoy meals together and practice many of the traditional spiritual disciplines.

Program Design

The Whitworth B.A. in Theological Studies Program is built on a degree-completion model, which assumes two years of prior college/university coursework. If students who have not completed two years of prior coursework want to complete the B.A., they must fulfill general education requirements and/or electives equivalent to a minimum of 60 semester credits before applying to the program. All students must complete the general education requirements for the Whitworth School of Continuing Studies along with the total number of credits required for a bachelor's degree. It is advisable that students complete all degree requirements, except portfolio credits, prior to beginning M.A. in theology coursework. Students in the B.A. program will take courses with the M.A. in theology students, though the assignments will be geared to an appropriate level for undergraduate education.

Portfolio

Due to the practical application of theological study in the B.A./M.A. degree program, students will have the opportunity to complete a portfolio of college-level learning they have achieved outside the classroom. Students can earn a maximum of 32 semester credits through portfolio or other nontraditional means of credit (i.e. CLEP). Administration of the portfolio process will take place in the continuing studies office and will follow the process and procedures approved by the faculty for the organizational management degree.

Admission

Students apply to the School of Continuing Studies for admission to the undergraduate program; however, students must also apply separately to the B.A. in theological studies degree program, meeting the application requirements that M.A. students must complete. Admittance into the B.A. in theological studies program is not assumed by admission into continuing studies.

Requirements for Admission into the B.A. in Theological Studies:

- Five years of documented work experience in ministry-related fields (church; para-church organizations; social work; lay ministry, etc.)
- Exceptional academic ability as demonstrated by prior university coursework and/or coursework completed at Whitworth prior to the student's admission into the B.A. program.

Academic Policies for Graduate Programs

The following policies are in effect for all graduate programs. Please note that each program may have additional policies listed under the specific program descriptions located in other sections of this catalog.

Academic Standards

1. Completion of all semester credits in approved courses, following a degree plan, is required for all master's degrees. This is in addition to any required prerequisites.
2. For degree purposes in some master's programs, nine semester credits (or 13 quarter credits) of approved graduate credit may be transferred from other colleges or universities. An acceptable graduate course can be transferred only if the candidate has earned a grade of "C" or higher. Confirm which graduate courses will transfer with the program advisor.
3. Master's degree and certification candidates must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale for all courses taken as part of an approved graduate degree.
4. No credit toward a master's degree or certification program will be allowed for a course in which the student receives a grade of "C-" or lower. Note: Programs may require higher than a C-; please see specific program descriptions. Courses in which a grade of "C-" or lower is earned, if required for the degree or certification program, must be repeated. Following any term/module in which a student's cumulative grade point average is below 3.0, the student may be placed on academic probation. The student may be dismissed from the graduate program if three grades

- of “C” or lower are accumulated, or if it is necessary for the student to be placed on academic probation more than twice.
5. Grades of P/NC are not allowed in any graduate-level course.
 6. A grade of incomplete (“I”) is approved for regular courses in emergency situations only. The incomplete must be made up by six weeks into the following long semester. If satisfactory progress is not made on completing the required work, an appropriate final grade will be awarded.
 7. Incomplete (“I”) grades are given for practicums, internships, research projects and thesis projects that extend beyond the term in which they are scheduled. Incomplete grades for practicums, internships and research projects must be completed within six months of issuance. If not, the student must re-enroll and pay tuition.
 8. Credits toward a graduate degree must have been completed within six years of matriculation.
 9. A six-semester-credit courseload qualifies a student as full time during each term (fall semester, spring semester, summer terms). A four-semester-credit courseload qualifies a student as being enrolled at three-quarter-time status. A three-semester-credit courseload qualifies a student for half-time status.

Class Attendance

Class attendance is expected and may be included in the calculation of the grade for the class. Students who register for courses that they do not attend are responsible for dropping the courses officially through the registrar’s office. The consequence of not officially dropping a course is a “WW” (withdrew without permission) grade, which calculates as an “F” in the GPA. Students should contact the professor or teaching department if they plan to be absent any day/night during the first week of the semester/term. No person, other than a faculty member attending informally with the approval of the professor, may attend a Whitworth course in which that person has not been officially registered. Professors may allow students to attend their classes only if the students’ names appear on the official class rosters. Students are prohibited from bringing children, other family members, or guests to their classes except in an emergency and with the permission of the instructor.

Active Status and Suspension

1. Students who take no courses leading to the completion of their master’s degree within a one-year period will be placed on inactive status. Should their status change from inactive to active, they are responsible for any new university or program requirements.
2. Students may be suspended, expelled, or placed on academic probation for failure to meet academic standards and for plagiarism, cheating, misrepresentation of background information, or violation of respective program requirements and university behavior expectations. Subsequent readmission follows the procedures for new admission under the catalog requirements in effect at the time of reapplication.

Appeals

1. The right of appeal, through instructors/professors/deans in the following order, is available for students who feel they have received an unfair grade:
 - a. the instructor of the course
 - b. the program director
 - c. the dean or dean’s designee of the school
2. Appeals in cases of suspension or expulsion
Discuss the issue first with the program director; the right of appeal is available to all students if the appeal is presented in writing within three weeks of the incident, to the following people in the following order:
 - a. the program director
 - b. a committee composed of the dean of the school, the director/chair of the program, and representatives of the program
 - c. the Educational Review Board

Graduation Procedures

Formal graduation takes place in mid-May. In order to ensure that his or her name will appear in the graduation program, a student must file an application for graduation in the program graduate office by Nov. 1 of the academic year during which s/he will complete the degree. All coursework and program requirements must be completed by the end of the term prior to the degree-posting date.

Program evaluations are available through WhitNet or Self-Service. In some programs, students may petition to participate in the May graduation ceremony though all requirements will not be completed by the end of spring semester. Check with program directors for program-specific requirements. Detailed graduation information is available on the commencement website, www.whitworth.edu/administration/RegistrarsOffice/Commencement/Index.htm. Whitworth University reserves the right to withhold transcripts and diplomas until all campus debts are cleared and all holds on student records are removed.

Athletic Training

Mission Statement

The mission of the Whitworth University Athletic Training Program is to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to become proficient and professional entry-level athletic trainers. We accomplish this goal through high-quality instruction and diverse experiences that model ethical practice, effective communication and compassion. The program uses a holistic approach in developing multidimensional healthcare professionals and servant-leaders within the context of Christian higher education.

Program and Student-Learning Outcomes

- 1. Whitworth University athletic training students will incorporate spiritual, ethical, moral and legal behavior into the practice of athletic training.
 - a. Whitworth University athletic training students will appreciate the value and nature of personal faith and of incorporating worldview into vocational practice.
 - b. Students will abide by the standards of practice established by the Board of Certification as well as the NATA Code of Ethics.
- 2. Whitworth University athletic training students will understand the role of an athletic trainer as a healthcare provider within the larger context of the continually evolving healthcare system.
 - a. Students will work in collaboration with other healthcare providers.
 - b. Students will communicate effectively, both in verbal and written form, with all those involved in caring for a patient.
- 3. Whitworth University athletic training students will demonstrate entry-level proficiency through classroom, laboratory and clinical learning experiences in the five domains of athletic training: injury/illness prevention and wellness protection; clinical evaluation and diagnosis; immediate and emergency care; treatment and rehabilitation; and organizational and professional health and well-being.
 - a. Students will achieve 100% ultimate pass rate on the BOC exam for those who continue to attempt it.
 - b. Students will be well prepared to meet the challenges of entry-level employment positions.
 - c. Students will demonstrate contemporary knowledge and skill in the comprehensive examination, assessment, management, treatment and/or rehabilitation of patients with injuries and illnesses as they pertain to an active lifestyle
 - d. Students will learn clinical skills under the supervision of high-quality preceptors at quality clinical sites.
 - e. Students will recognize quality evidence from a variety of sources and incorporate that evidence into practice.
- 4. Whitworth University athletic training students and alumni will demonstrate professional behaviors consistent with the athletic training profession and healthcare.
 - a. Students and alumni will invest in and promote the profession of athletic training or other chosen vocations.
 - b. Whitworth University athletic training students and alumni will support their professional community by assuming a service and/or leadership role in an area that has an impact upon the practice of athletic training or respective vocation.
 - c. Students will establish habits that will result in lifelong learning and professional development.

Admissions

Students applying to the professional phase of Whitworth's MSAT program must first complete the following admission requirements.

- Students applying directly to the two-year professional phase of the athletic training program must have a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Current Whitworth students and transfer students applying for the five-year accelerated track must demonstrate successful completion of all undergraduate major and general education requirements prior to beginning the professional phase of the MSAT program. Completion of the pre-athletic-training track does not guarantee entry in the MSAT program.

All prospective students (accelerated track or two-year master's track) must complete the following admissions materials, which will be submitted to the graduate admissions office:

- completion of the Supplemental Athletic Training Application (including current résumé, written essay and letters of recommendation);
- current CPR and First Aid certification;
- more than 60 observation hours documented in at least two different clinical location/practice settings;
- a successful interview with the AT program admissions committee (if needed);
- an overall grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 or higher on all undergraduate coursework. Official transcripts must be submitted as part of the application for all courses completed at institutions other than Whitworth;
- completion of the prerequisite courses listed below with a grade of "C" or better within the last eight years. Equivalent Whitworth courses are suggested in parentheses. It is the student's responsibility to check for course equivalency. Refer to the Whitworth Transfer Equivalency Guide (<http://www.whitworth.edu/cms/administration/registrar/transfer-info/transfer-equivalency-guides>) or contact the Whitworth University Registrar's Office (registrar@whitworth.edu) for more information. Course title, credits and numbers vary by school.

Anatomy & physiology: Two courses in a combined anatomy & physiology sequence (i.e. Anatomy & Physiology I & II), or one course in each anatomy and physiology; must include laboratory experience (HS 220, HS 221).

Nutrition or personal health & nutrition: One course covering the different macro- and micronutrients in foods and how a balance of these nutrients contributes to a healthy diet (HS 315, HS 363)

Structural & mechanical kinesiology: One course covering the analysis of human motion, including joint and muscular action (HS 320)

Exercise Physiology: One course covering human physiology during exercise; must include a laboratory experience (HS 326 AND HS 326L)

Introduction to Psychology: One course covering introductory human psychology and behavior (PY 101)

Elementary Probability & Statistics: One course covering descriptive statistics, probability, basic principles of hypothesis testing and data analysis (MA 256)

Writing: One course focusing on academic writing and research, emphasis on revision and adaptation of writing for appropriate audiences (EL 110)

General Policies

- Students should be familiar with graduate school policies (p. 350), which includes specific academic standards, class attendance, suspension, appeals and graduation procedures.
- No credit toward a master's degree will be allowed for a course in which the student receives a grade of "C" or lower. A student will be required to re-take (at additional expense) any required course in which s/he earns a "C" or lower. Note: This is a higher standard than the Whitworth graduate studies policy of "C-" or higher.
- The MSAT program does not accept any transfer courses to apply toward the completion of graduate course requirements. Exceptions may be granted on appeal for certain courses.

- Students must maintain full-time status and follow the required course sequence each term. This is an intensive full-time program with day and evening requirements. As such, outside employment is discouraged and may not be possible while a student is completing this degree.
- The athletic training student handbook, updated annually, includes additional policies and procedures related to the MSAT program.

Courses

AT 520 Emergency Response and Acute Care 3

This course provides a comprehensive survey of emergency management of sudden injury and illness, including appropriate recognition and evaluation strategies, acute care considerations (e.g. splinting, CPR), and referral. The intention is to provide the knowledge and skills necessary for the trained healthcare professional to manage an emergency situation and provide care which sustains life, reduces pain, and minimizes the consequences of injury or sudden illness until more advanced medical help arrive or the situation is resolved.

AT 521 Techniques in Athletic Training 1

Survey of techniques utilized in clinical athletic training practice which are essential before the first clinical rotation. Techniques will include taping, bandaging, protective equipment & device application, and therapeutic interventions

AT 532 Pathophysiology and Therapeutic Modalities 3

This course will address the effective application of therapeutic modalities in order to facilitate the healing and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. Content includes the pathology of injury to various body tissues, the healing response, and the physiological effect of therapeutic modalities commonly used in sports medicine.

- AT 534 Examination of Lower Extremity Pathology 4
In-depth study of primarily orthopaedic conditions affecting the lower extremities including physical examination, injury recognition, treatment, prevention and emergency management. Laboratory experiences emphasize the methods and techniques in evaluating lower extremity injuries/conditions, as well as preventative taping/bracing.
- AT 537 Clinical Anatomy Lab 2
Course will include dissection of the human cadaver, emphasizing the musculoskeletal, articular, nervous and vascular systems. Emphasis will be placed on the role of anatomical structures as they relate to common pathologies in physically active populations.
- AT 544 Techniques in Manual Therapy 2
This course is an introduction to the principles and application of common manual therapy techniques in athletic training. Topics will include joint mobilizations, proprioceptive neuromuscular facilitation, strain-counterstrain, trigger point, and other soft-tissue techniques.
- AT 545 Examination of Spine and Upper Extremity Pathology 4
In-depth study of primarily orthopaedic conditions affecting the spine and upper extremities including physical examination, injury recognition, treatment, prevention and emergency management. Laboratory experiences emphasize the methods and techniques in evaluating spine and upper extremity injuries/conditions, as well as preventative taping/bracing.
- AT 546 General Medical Conditions 3
This course prepares the athletic training student to be able to appropriately identify, evaluate, treat, refer and counsel patients who present with non-orthopedic medical conditions. Topics include (but are not limited to) medical conditions of the nervous system, urinary/reproductive system, cardiovascular/respiratory systems, endocrine system, renal system and integumentary system.
- AT 549 Research Methods for Evidence Based Practice 3
This course focuses on the design of clinically-relevant original research as well as utilizing the current literature to answer a clinical question. Topics include critical review of literature, experimental methods, interpretation of basic statistics in clinical research, and writing a manuscript.
- AT 552 Therapeutic Exercise 3
Instruction on the effective application of therapeutic exercise in order to reduce disabilities, functional limitations, and impairments in a variety of athletic/patient populations. Content includes principles of therapeutic intervention design, implementation and progression for a variety of orthopedic pathologies including post-surgical care.
- AT 557 Biomechanics of Human Movement 3
This course introduces students to advanced analysis of human movement using biomechanical principles. Course will cover the fundamental principles of biomechanics, with application to human movement analysis using biomechanical software, laboratory and clinical instrumentation.
- AT 559 Statistics in Health Professions Research 3
This course introduces statistical concepts common in health professions research (including t-tests, ANOVA, repeated-measures ANOVA, correlation, and regression). Emphasis will be placed on selecting appropriate statistical tests, analyzing data using statistical software, interpreting results, and effectively communicating results through text, tables and figures.
- AT 561 Exam Preparation 1
This course is a guided review aimed at improving student success on the Board of Certification (BOC) national licensure examination. An emphasis will be placed on self-assessment of professional competence and creation of a professional development plan to achieve goals of initial and on-going credentialing.
- AT 563 Administration and Business in Athletic Training 3

This course focuses on healthcare administration and business skills necessary for success within the athletic training profession, especially how to create and comply with administrative policies and regulations that guide and govern safe and effective healthcare practice. Content includes themes of management, leadership, legal concerns, and business modeling.

AT 571 Clinical Experience I 2

Clinical experience in athletic training I. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating traditional academic coursework with clinical practice.

AT 572 Clinical Experience II 2

Clinical experience in athletic training II. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating traditional academic coursework with clinical practice. Students will develop professional characteristics, attitudes, and communication skills. Students will have opportunities to incorporate holistic, compassionate patient care and demonstrate servant-leadership within the athletic training profession

AT 573 Clinical Experience III 1

Clinical experience in athletic training, emphasis on general medical pathologies and skills. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating academic coursework with clinical practice.

AT 574 Clinical Experience IV 1

Clinical experience in athletic training IV, emphasis in clinical practice settings. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating traditional academic coursework with clinical practice in rehabilitation.

AT 575 Clinical Experience V 3

Clinical experience in athletic training V. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating traditional academic coursework with clinical practice.

AT 576 Clinical Experience VI 3

Clinical experience in athletic training VI. Primarily involves the completion of clinical hours under the direct supervision of a licensed preceptor (athletic trainer or other healthcare provider), fulfillment of clinical competencies, and assignments integrating traditional academic coursework with clinical practice.

AT 581 Seminar in Healthcare 2

An overview of the U.S. health care system, including the roles, responsibilities, scope of practice and referral guidelines for various health professionals. Special emphasis will be placed on the role of athletic trainers within the system, as well as systemic opportunities and barriers affecting athletic training practice.

AT 582 Seminar in Athletic Training 2

An overview of the historical and current context of the athletic training profession, including roles and responsibilities of various governing organizations (e.g. NATA, BOC, CAATE, and state licensing boards), government regulation, and understanding important athletic training professional documents (e.g. position statements, Standards of Practice, NATA Code of Ethics, etc.).

AT 583 Pharmacology for Athletic Trainers 2

This course prepares the athletic trainer to safely and effectively recommend over the counter medications, recognize common prescription medications and their implications for physical activity, understand basic pharmacological principles, and act appropriately when the abuse of legal or illegal substances is suspected.

AT 584 Psychology for Athletic Trainers 2

This course equips athletic training students with the knowledge and skills to respond appropriately to psychosocial disorders and mental health emergencies, as well as address psychological factors in injury response and rehabilitation in order to facilitate return to optimal function. Emphasis is placed on developing clinician skills in communication.

AT 585 Sports Nutrition 3

This course will focus on the role of evidence-based nutrition in optimizing physical performance in active individuals. An emphasis will be placed on evaluating recent research in the field and translating this information to lay audiences.

AT 586 Strength and Conditioning Programming 3

This course is designed to be a practically-based and administrator-focused strength and conditioning experience for athletic training students. In the course of this class, students will learn basic strength and conditioning program design principles and how to perform, teach, and supervise relevant weightlifting skills and athletic assessments. Students will also learn various concepts related to the administrative aspects of strength and conditioning, such as facility design, risk management, and industry best practices. Competence with the content covered in this course, combined with pre-requisite content knowledge, should allow students to successfully sit for the Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist exam.

AT 598 Capstone in Athletic Training 2

This capstone experience is designed to prepare athletic training students for successful transition to entry-level employment in athletic training or further graduate education. The course will include engagement with current professional issues and reflection on professional philosophy, as well as completion of a capstone graduate project.

The Whitworth School of Business comprises the department of business and economics, the organizational management program (a program for the adult learner seeking a baccalaureate degree), and the following graduate-degree programs: master of business administration (MBA) and MBA in international management (MBA in IM).

The Whitworth School of Business provides an education of mind and heart in the liberal arts tradition based on Christian principles. We develop adept and moral professionals engaged with their communities and world through an integrated curriculum that emphasizes technical expertise, practical application and experiential learning.

Vision in Action: As part of our vision, School of Business students will have done the following by the time they obtain their graduate degrees:

- received comprehensive training and education in global business management
- developed an understanding of the nature and complexities of business decision-making in times of change and uncertainty
- participated in an academic culture in which students learn through relational interaction with outstanding faculty who are highly qualified as scholars and practitioners, from each other, and from other stakeholders (alums and other business professionals) of the university through challenging, relevant and diverse teaching methods
- joined top-quality students who are interested not only in becoming competent in traditional business disciplines, but in living lives of distinction and meaning as world citizens in an ever-changing, competitive environment
- gained practical business experience through application, while developing essential communication, interpersonal and leadership, and critical-thinking skills
- further developed character, integrity, and a capacity for ethical analysis and judgment, traits that are important to an increasingly complex, diverse and globalizing world
- enhanced their value in the employment marketplace
- connected to a worldwide alumni network

Programs and Curricular Focus

The Whitworth School of Business is recognized as an academic leader in preparing graduate students to compete successfully in today's international marketplace. Our goal is to provide comprehensive training and education for the business leaders of tomorrow, based on the dynamic globalizing environment of business in the 21st century. Courses in finance, operations and project management, marketing, human resources, and leadership are designed to give students the business skill sets to be competitive in the job market while developing their intercultural intelligence and expanding their knowledge of world markets. Evening seminar-style courses offer students the choice of full- or part-time study. Full-time enrollment in two courses per six-week module provides students the opportunity to earn an MBA or MBA in IM degree in 10 months. Part-time enrollment allows students to take only one course in each module and still complete their degrees in 22 months.

Faculty

Faculty members are active in the fields of global business and management studies. They bring practical business and cross-cultural experience to the classroom and engage in research and consulting for governments and corporations locally and throughout the world. Qualified business practitioners from the community bring added expertise and experience to the classroom through special courses, guest lectures, and supervision of internships, special projects, and business-plan development.

Application Procedures and Admission Criteria

Due to the graduate programs' unique six-module design, students may apply for admission throughout the year.

Admission decisions are based on an applicant's undergraduate academic record, recommendations, prior experience, graduate examination (GMAT or GRE) score, or alternate exam option, and approved English-language exam (TOEFL) score for students whose native language is not English. Applicants will be invited to interview with the director.

The following guidelines apply:

- Transfer courses from other graduate programs will be assessed; typically, only nine semester credits, or 14 quarter credits, will be considered for transfer as a student enters the MBA or MBA in IM program.
- Whitworth requires the TOEFL or IELTS exam for all international applicants unless the applicant has acquired her/his bachelor's degree from the U.S. or from a country where the official language is English. A score of 88 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) OR an overall score of 7.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) is considered the minimum for admission to Whitworth University. Test scores must be sent directly to Whitworth.
- A minimum GMAT score of 500 or a combined minimum GRE score of 300 is generally required for admission to the MBA or MBA in IM programs. However, the committee takes a holistic perspective in its review. Appropriate consideration is given to all components of the application packet.
 - An entrance exam alternative may be requested.
- Each applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Students holding bachelor's degrees, or their equivalent, from a college or university outside of the United States may be asked to submit their transcripts to an independent transcript-evaluation agency for review.

Prerequisites

Undergraduate introductory courses in the following disciplines are generally required for admission to the MBA and MBA in IM programs. Applicable work experience can be applied after review:

- accounting
- microeconomics
- macroeconomics
- marketing
- statistics
- finance

Application Procedures

Online Application and $50 Fee:

The online application has several components and gives you the opportunity to upload your résumé and essay, to send recommendation requests to your references, and to pay your $50 application fee.

You also have the option of emailing your résumé and essay to us at a later time (graduateandcsadmissions@whitworth.edu). In addition to submitting your application materials, you will meet with the program director to talk about your particular goals in obtaining an MBA.

GMAT/GRE/Entrance-Exam Alternative:

Whitworth will waive the entrance-exam requirement for applicants with an undergraduate GPA of 3.25 or higher. (If your cumulative GPA is lower than 3.25 due to first- or second-year grades, we will consider the last 90 quarter/60 semester credits for your calculated GPA.) If your undergraduate GPA is below 3.25, please follow these instructions:

Exam Options:

- Submit an official GMAT score report (exam must have been taken in the last five years).
- Submit an official GRE score report (exam must have been taken in the last five years).
- Exam alternative: You may submit a 1,500-word analytical essay in lieu of GMAT or GRE scores. The essay should demonstrate your ability to analyze, synthesize and critically reflect upon information. Applicants must request this option through the admissions office and will be sent a case study to analyze in order to prepare a response.

When you complete your essay, submit it directly to the Whitworth Graduate Admissions Office at graduateandcsadmissions@whitworth.edu.

Please note: Applicants may be granted admission into Whitworth's MBA program, but they are not eligible for departmental academic scholarships awarded by the university unless a GMAT or GRE score report is submitted.

Résumé

On your résumé, please include both work experience and, where applicable, service activities and recognitions.

We strongly recommend that MBA applicants have full-time work experience. The admissions committee is especially interested in the quality of an applicant's professional skills as evidenced in her/his level of responsibility, leadership, supervision and teamwork. The committee also considers the relevance of these skills both to the applicant's intended course of study at Whitworth and to the career goals stated in the essays.

Service, activities and recognition, such as public, community or military service, travel experiences, extracurricular activities and any honors or recognitions received, are all important indicators of an applicant's motivation and character. The most appropriate place to include this information is on your résumé. The accompanying essay may also be an appropriate place to discuss your personal background.

Recommendations:

Recommendations should come from individuals who have a superior working knowledge of the applicant, should be professional in nature, and should speak to the applicant's professional work, qualities, career potential and likelihood of success in the classroom.

Recommendations are completed via an online recommendation request sent directly to each reference once the applicant begins the application process.

Transcripts:

Though a student's GPA is reviewed for probability of academic success, we understand that undergraduate GPAs, particularly those from several years ago, may not reflect an applicant's current ability or commitment to academic success.

Order official transcripts from ALL colleges or universities previously attended; have them sent directly to us at the following address:

Whitworth University
Graduate Admissions
300 W. Hawthorne Rd.
Spokane, WA 99251

Prerequisites:

Whitworth's MBA program requires prior coursework or equivalent work experience in key functional areas of business: accounting, economics, finance, marketing, and statistics. If applicants do not have the necessary background, Whitworth offers several online and self-paced completion methods to satisfy these requirements.

Personal Essay:

The essay is a critical component for assessing applicants' motivation for attending Whitworth's evening MBA program; it sums up the applicants' background and goals, as well as their communication and presentation skills. In your essay, you are asked to respond to three particular questions: Why Whitworth? Why an MBA? Why now? Your essay should be no longer than one single-spaced page single-spaced, or approximately 600 words. A strong essay will convey careful research on Whitworth and enthusiasm for the program.

Non-U.S. Citizens must also include the following:

- TOEFL and/or IELTS Tests

Whitworth requires the TOEFL or IELTS exam for all international applicants unless the applicant has acquired her/his bachelor's degree from the U.S. or a country where the official language is English. A score of 88 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) OR an overall score of 7.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) is considered the minimum for admission to Whitworth University. Test scores must be sent directly to Whitworth.

For the TOEFL, an official score report must be sent directly to the MBA office at Whitworth University (300 W. Hawthorne Rd., Spokane, WA 99251), from the Educational Testing Service (ETS). Whitworth's institution code is 4593. To learn more about TOEFL or to request your score, contact ETS at its website. (<http://www.ets.org>)

- Student Financial Statement

A detailed International Student Financial Statement form with supporting verification documents must be provided to the Whitworth Office of International Admissions. Submit documents to gsb@whitworth.edu. In compliance with U.S. Immigration Service requirements, your documents must show evidence of adequate available financial resources to attend Whitworth and the MBA program.

An affidavit of financial support is required from students whose financial resources are supplemented to any degree by someone other than themselves. Use INS Form I-134 for sponsors from the U.S.

- University transcript and degree requirements

All applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university. Requirements for admission include an undergraduate GPA of 3.0. International applicants with diplomas from non-English-speaking universities may be required to provide a professional credential evaluation of their university transcripts. To obtain a professional credential evaluation, submit official transcripts and/or documentation of degree earned to the following site:

World Education Services

http://www.wes.org/application/apply_now.asp

If you have any questions, contact WES:

U.S.A. Telephone/FAX 212.966.6311; email online: www.wes.org/contact

Please choose the "Document by Document" service. All transcripts and evaluations should be forwarded to Whitworth University.

Non-degree-seeking students may be asked to meet the requirements expected of degree candidates. Class enrollment is on a space-available basis, giving priority to degree-seeking students. Non-matriculating students are generally limited to six credits in the MBA program before they are expected to apply for admission.

International Students: In some cases, additional English-language study may be recommended, although such coursework does not apply toward the MBA or MBA in IM degree.

Academic Policies

Academic Standards:

1. Documentation of experience will be required of anyone petitioning to substitute experience for prerequisites. A four-semester-credit course load qualifies a student as being enrolled at three-quarter-time status. A three-semester-credit course load qualifies a student for part-time status.
2. To be considered a full-time student in the MBA or MBA in IM programs, a student must complete at least six credits within the academic semester at the university. International students are required to be enrolled for each module to maintain full-time status in compliance with immigration guidelines.
3. A student may apply six semester credits of MBA or MBA in IM coursework taken as a non-degree enrollee for completion of the degree. After completion of at least two courses with non-degree status, the student is encouraged to submit a formal application for degree standing.

Registration:

1. Registration every semester is based on a program plan that all students will pursue following admission into their program.
2. A student who officially drops or withdraws from classes during the course of the term is eligible for an adjustment of charges as follows:
 - First week: 100 percent
 - Second week: 80 percent
3. No refunds are given after the third week of class. If you receive a 100-percent refund and have already received the books for the course, you will be responsible for paying back the cost of the books.

Features of the GSB Programs:

- Unique one or two year program.
- Courses taught by Whitworth faculty and area business professionals.

- Prepares students with a range of managerial and financial competencies required by today's employers.
- Small, evening seminar-style classes.
- Foreign language instruction is offered in small groups focusing on business vocabulary at advanced levels.

Masters of Business Administration Courses

MB 501 Organizational Behavior and Leadership 3

This course addresses the critical challenges of leading organizations in today's dynamic global environments. Practical issues of leadership and management in the context of different cultures will be covered. Topics include leadership dynamics, group motivation, architecture of organizations, and comparative management techniques based on the patterns of organizational behavior in the U.S. and other countries.

MB 505 Managerial Accounting 3

This course focuses on managerial accounting and its key role in supporting the operational and strategic needs of an enterprise. Topics will include managerial decision-making and internal reporting using accounting information and various analytical tools. Current issues in managerial accounting as well as case analysis will be integral components of this course.

MB 510 Corporate Finance 3

The objective of this course is to further develop the students' ability to use quantitative methods in financial decision-making. This course will discuss capital budgeting, valuation, capital structure, and payout policy. The course's objective is to provide a theoretical framework for considering corporate finance problems and issues and to apply these concepts in practice.

MB 513 Operations and Project Management 3

This course covers the tools used for managing projects in organizations, and provides the opportunity for a real-world application of the concepts comprising project management. Topics covered in this course range from operations strategy, process planning and analysis, quality management, supply chain management, service profit chain, forecasting, and logistics management. Students will develop an understanding of the strategic importance of operations and how operations can provide a competitive advantage in the marketplace.

MB 515 Advanced Financial Statement Analysis 3

This course will provide students with tools to analyze information in corporate financial statements. The course will teach students how to use financial statement information for firm valuation and other economic decisions. The course will also help students understand and analyze the issues that corporate managers face as they design and implement financial reporting strategies, increasing students' ability to assess accounting quality, and detect and undo earnings management.

MB 517 Business Statistics and Decision Analysis 3

The course is designed to address two major issues: statistics and research as applied to workplace decisions, problems, and opportunities. By the time the student completes the course, they will have a solid foundation in statistical thinking and will know how to design, conduct, and interpret organizational research. Topics include regression analysis, confidence intervals, and hypothesis testing.

MB 522 International Economics 3

This course investigates the analysis of consumer theory, production theory, exchange, and market interactions. Theory and comparative study of economic growth and development in third-world countries; roles of government, private sector, non-government organizations and international agencies in economic development.

MB 525 Ethics and Law in International Business 3

This course uses the global business context to introduce students to important legal and ethical challenges business leaders face in today's complex business world. Case studies and readings will address how business leaders, constrained by law and motivated to act ethically in a global context, should analyze relevant variables to make responsible decisions.

MB 526 Integrated Marketing Strategies 3

This course covers managerial marketing concepts applied in industrialized countries. We will analyze global marketing activities related to both strategic and tactical solutions. Consideration of initial entry phase to expansion and global rationalization for both large and small entities will be addressed. Class interaction will occur through market/product analysis projects and case studies.

MB 529 Global Strategic Management 3

This capstone course focuses on case studies, simulations, and lecture/presentations to help understand the changing dynamics of strategy. Implementation for large and small business entities will be examined. The balance of global scale efficiency, target market responsiveness, and worldwide innovation will be analyzed.

MB 530 Entrepreneurship and New Venture Creation 3

A critical function of this course is for students to analyze, synthesize, and apply theory to their personal experience in the marketplace. To help achieve this objective, there is an experiential component where entrepreneurs will visit the class and share the realities of starting and running a business. A key business plan project will be completed.

MB 535 Optimizing Human Resources 3

This course provides an extensive understanding of the factors underlying human resource management as applied in domestic and global organizations. Emphasis is placed on the impact of international changes and trends that will affect human resource practices. Topic areas include multi-national organization considerations for planning, recruitment, selection, training, performance appraisal, compensation, benefits administration and union/management relations. The course also develops a working knowledge of legal issues that include relevant ethical, moral, social and political concerns.

Education

SPECIAL EDUCATION ENDORSEMENT (0-12)

Completion of the prerequisite courses and the M.A.T.'s required special education courses and field experiences will prepare a candidate for an endorsement in special education (P-12). Please see the special education director for advising.

EARLY CHILDHOOD SPECIAL EDUCATION ENDORSEMENT (P-3)

Completion of the endorsement in special education, combined with two additional courses – EDS 534 Early Speech, Language and Literacy and EDS 538 Early Intervention Interdisciplinary Method (or equivalent coursework) – and an advanced practicum in an early intervention or preschool special education setting will prepare a candidate for an endorsement in early childhood special education (P-3). Please see the special education director for advising.

GIFTED EDUCATION SPECIALTY ENDORSEMENT

The gifted education specialty endorsement can be obtained while a student is earning the master of arts in teaching degree, emphasis in gifted and talented (M.A.T./GT), or the master of education in teaching and learning degree. It can also be earned separately in an 11-credit program that includes a field study and a culminating portfolio. For advising, please contact the Whitworth Center for Gifted Education in the graduate studies in education department at 509.777.3226.

ENGLISH TO SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES (ESOL) ENDORSEMENT

The English-to-speakers-of-other-languages (formerly English-language-learner, or ELL) endorsement provides in-depth training in English-as-a-second-language methods, English-language-learner strategies, and English-language-development pedagogy. This program also explores the ways in which issues of cultural diversity, such as poverty, affect instructional and assessment practices. Courses from the ESOL endorsement may be applied to elective credits in various master's programs throughout the School of Education.

Certification

- While every attempt is made to ensure that certification programs are compatible with degree study, certification requirements may go beyond degree requirements.
- Whitworth University certification programs lead to Washington state certification. For certification in another state, the applicant will need to contact the appropriate state's certification agency to determine requirements.
- Whitworth University certification programs must meet requirements instituted by the Washington Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Professional Educator Standards Board. Hence, certification requirements are subject to change upon notification by the OSPI and PESB and must be incorporated into all appropriate certification plans.
- Certification study without the pursuit of a degree is possible where appropriate.
- Only candidates in good standing will be certified. Contact the Whitworth Office of Graduate Studies in Education at 509.777.4405 for further details.

The Whitworth Educational Certification and Career Services Office is located in Dixon Hall. For assistance with any of the following items, please call 509.777.4405 or 509.777.4403.

Advising

Call the Whitworth Office of Graduate Studies in Education, 509.777.4360, for an appointment to discuss our various programs. An advisor will be assigned to assist you.

Admission Policies

1. No more than six semester credits should be taken prior to admission to GSE, as there is no guarantee those credits will count toward a graduate degree.
2. Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
3. Complete an application packet by the following dates:
 - a. MIT: April 1
 - b. M.A./M.Ed. School Counseling and M.A. in Marriage and Family Therapy programs: Feb. 1
 - c. All other programs for fall semester: July 1; for spring semester: Nov. 1; for summer semester: April 1
4. There are two levels of admission, as follows:
5. Full admission: cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher, satisfaction of all prerequisites and acceptable recommendations.
6. Restricted admission: cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or higher, acceptable recommendations, and conditions identified by the admissions committee.
7. The entrance-exam requirement is waived for applicants with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher. Applicants with an undergraduate GPA below 3.0 must submit official GRE or MAT scores or complete an analytical essay in lieu of GRE or MAT scores. Please see the application for the essay prompt.
8. Completion/concurrent enrollment in a teacher-education program is required for all School of Education master's degree and certification programs except MIT; M.Ed. social & behavioral health; M.A./M.Ed. school counseling; M.A. in marriage and family therapy; and M.Ed. in administrative leadership. Photocopies of all Washington teacher, administrator and/or ESA certificates, as well as certificates from other states, must be submitted with the application for admission.
9. Prerequisites prior to graduate study may be required where applicants lack appropriate preparation. Students whose first language is not English may be required to complete prerequisites prior to consideration for admission to GSE. These courses are determined with an advisor to improve expertise in English, math, education methods and study skills.
10. Part of the application process to GSE is completion of the character-and-fitness supplement. Based upon a review and documentation of items disclosed in this supplement, Whitworth may deny admission to any individual applying to GSE. Applicants with suspended or revoked educational certificates (teachers, counselors, principals, psychologists or others) for a program leading to state certification will not be processed for admission to GSE until such certificates have been reinstated. This includes certificates from other states as well as those from Washington.
11. For international students, the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or International English Language Testing System (IELTS) and the GRE are required prior to admission. The minimum score accepted is 88 on the TOEFL or an overall score of 7.0 on the IELTS. Testing is also done in English and in math prior to the student's graduate coursework, to determine any prerequisites that need to be written into the degree plan. International applicants with diplomas from non-English-speaking universities may be required to provide a professional credential evaluation of their university transcripts from World Education Services. International students must also provide a current passport copy and proof of adequate financial resources for graduate study prior to admission.
12. Social & behavioral health, marriage & family therapy, and school counseling applicants will be interviewed.
13. Graduates of the graduate studies in education and master in teaching programs at Whitworth seeking an additional master's degree may have the core classes waived if they have been completed within the previous six years. These classes include Educational Research, Milestones in Education, Curriculum Development and Psychology of Learning or course equivalents.

Note: At any given time, one or more of our programs may be undergoing revision to stay current with changing Washington State Board of Education requirements. Please consult your advisor to ensure that you have the most current information on your program.

Academic Policies for Graduate Education Programs

Academic Standards

1. Whitworth GSE offers independent studies (EDA/EDU/EDC/EDG/EDS-591) that may be taken on a tutorial basis. GSE approval is based upon the following criteria: No regular course covers the project materials, and a designated faculty member agrees to supervise the study (with a limit of two such studies during a student's entire program). Students are to submit proposals with the signatures of the faculty supervisor and the director/department chair to the GSE office by the registration deadline of the term during which the study will be taken.

Admission and Expulsion

1. Students who take no courses toward the completion of their master's degree within a one-year period will be placed on inactive status. Should these students return to active status, they may be responsible for any new university or program requirements.
2. Students may be suspended or expelled for failure to meet academic standards and for plagiarism, cheating, misrepresentation of background information, or violation of program requirements. Subsequent readmission follows the procedures for new admission under the catalog requirements in effect at the time of reapplication.
3. Whitworth reserves the right to withhold transcripts and diplomas until all campus debts are settled.
4. Students are prohibited from bringing children, other family members and/or guests to their classes except in an emergency and with the permission of the instructor.

General Guidelines

1. Whitworth Graduate Studies in Education students may register online or in the GSE office in Dixon Hall. Tuition is paid through student accounting services, in McEachran Hall. If a student enrolls in a course that is not approved for a specific program, that class will be considered an enrichment course only; it will not count toward a graduate degree or certification program.
2. Check with your advisor each term for pre-registration advising and for exit requirements.
3. Online registration is available, with advisor clearance, after a student's first term.

Gifted Education Specialty Endorsement

The Gifted Education Specialty Endorsement can be obtained while earning the Master of Education in Teaching and Learning degree or the Master of Arts in Teaching, Emphasis in Gifted and Talented. It can also be earned separately in an 11-credit program, including a field study and a culminating portfolio. Please contact the Center for Gifted Education for advising.

Master of Arts in Teaching Special Education (M.A.T.)

Flint Simonsen (program coordinator)

This program is designed to extend the skills and knowledge of teachers who wish to work with exceptional children and youth. It emphasizes curriculum needs of pupils rather than disability categories. The program can accommodate teachers who are seeking to complete their endorsement in special education under the new Washington state requirements. It is also intended to provide graduate-level specialized training for teachers who are already endorsed in special education. The program prepares teachers to understand inclusion (working with exceptional children in the regular classroom), as well as to work with special-needs learners in resource rooms or self-contained settings.

Prerequisite competencies are required. Transfer classes (graduate or undergraduate) may be accepted in place of the following courses, but any substitutions must be individually evaluated. The following courses, with the exception of field experiences, may be taken at Whitworth as part of the graduate electives required:

Possible Special Education Prerequisites:

EDS 520	Exceptional Learners & Inclusion	3
EDS 521	Intervention for Behavior and Motivation	3

M.Ed. Educational Administration

Dr. Steve Smedley, Program Director

This program is for potential principals/program directors in public or private (P-12) schools. Each candidate must have appropriate evaluations/references on file in the GSE office before admission is approved and must schedule a conference with the coordinator of the Educational Administrative program. The program carries with it competency-based certification with recommendations from the Administrative Professional Education Advisory Board. This board is composed of representatives of the Association of Washington School Principals, Washington Association of School Administrators, Washington Education Association and Whitworth University.

Experience Requirement: Candidates must hold or have held a valid teacher's certificate or a valid educational staff associate certificate, and must have demonstrated successful school-based experience in an instructional role with students, for a minimum of three years by completion of program.

Certification at the Residency Level: Generally achieved together with the completion of the M.Ed. degree in administration. Certification is available for P-12 administration. The certification program is also available for teachers or counselors who have already completed a master's-degree program.

Master in Teaching Program

David Cherry (Program Director)

www.whitworth.edu/mit

mit@whitworth.edu

The Whitworth Master in Teaching (MIT) Program was initiated in 1989 as a result of the Washington State Legislature calling for alternative teacher-education programs. It was the first such program in the state. Part of a nationwide movement to strengthen America's corps of teachers by putting successful members of society's workforce into teaching positions, MIT programs provide schools with mature teachers who understand the demands of the real world and whose teaching reflects these realities.

Those pursuing this option include professionals who are changing careers, those who are re-entering the work force, and recent graduates of undergraduate institutions. The professors teaching in the program are from both the higher education level and the K-12 public schools. Coursework and assignments are integrated and are both theoretical and practical. Upon successful completion of the program, candidates earn a Residency Teacher Certificate and a master in teaching degree.

This progressive, performance-based, cohort teacher certification and master's degree program extends over 13 months of full-time coursework and a year-long school practicum. This rigorous program is characterized by 1) integration of academic work with an ongoing field experience; 2) programmatic coherence both from course to course and from on-campus to field work; 3) systematic study of classroom practice; and 4) individual self-reflection and renewal. All teacher candidates design a teacher work sample (TWS). Through this performance assessment, MIT candidates provide credible evidence of their ability to facilitate and improve student learning. Because of the significance of the TWS, most of the courses in the program address specific standards of the TWS.

The student learning outcomes of this program, prepare students to be the following:

Scholars: Educators of mind and heart possess current knowledge of the content areas in which they work, understand the connections among disciplines, use tools of inquiry, and demonstrate an attitude of ongoing learning as existing fields of knowledge continue to evolve and grow. Educators of mind and heart strengthen their existing knowledge base through continuous intellectual and scholarly growth based on current research, the study of their own practice, the analysis of data collected, and the application of data to the solution of problems in their respective fields of study.

Community Members: Educators of mind and heart develop and sustain collaborative and interdependent relationships among teachers, students and their families, counselors, administrators, and other community members. Educators of mind and heart understand their roles as professional colleagues in the schools, the community, and professional organizations. They help to shape the culture of classrooms and schools to reflect the values of our democratic society. They model professional behaviors appropriate for those entrusted with educating today's children and young people.

Effective Practitioners: Educators of mind and heart are prepared to analyze situations, set goals, plan and monitor actions, assess outcomes, and reflect on their professional thinking and decision-making. They are committed to culturally responsive and relevant practices that engage students and are purposeful in making a positive impact on their students' learning. They demonstrate proficiency in the selection and differentiation of materials, strategies and assessment practices that are appropriate for the diversity of students and the educational contexts in which they serve. They use formative and summative data as evidence for decision-making. They are competent in using technology and other 21st-century skills in the educational setting to improve their own practice and the learning of their students.

Visionary Leaders: Educators of mind and heart have a vision. They articulate a personal philosophy of education that includes a belief in the worth and ability of each human being and provides a framework guiding personal and professional decision-making and development. The educators' practices are intentionally aligned with this vision for the benefit of members of their learning communities. Educators of mind and heart model transformational and servant leadership in their learning communities and in their contributions to society.

Guardians: Educators of mind and heart act as advocates for children and youth, demonstrating a sincere and equitable commitment to the success of all, paying attention to the role that diversity, including gender, ability, ethnicity, race, culture, religion or socioeconomic status, brings to learning and the community. Educators understand and respect the interconnected, global nature of society and encourage sustainable practices designed to preserve our world for future generations. In the Christian tradition of servant leadership, educators serve humankind and seek opportunities to assist, encourage and support all those under their care in a manner that leads to transformation in the lives of their students.

Admission Requirements

- Evidence of successful work with children or youth
- Bachelor's degree in an approved teaching endorsement area from a regionally accredited college or university
- Grade-point average of 3.0 for the last half of college. Graduate coursework and/or work history will be considered
- Completion of online application available at www.whitworth.edu/mit, where applicants will complete the following:
 - $35 application fee
 - A written two- to three-page statement on why the candidates have chosen teaching as a profession and why they have selected the MIT program at Whitworth University for professional preparation
 - A current resume
 - Submission of three recommendations, requested via online forms once the application process is initiated
 - Submission of the character-and-fitness supplement
- Official transcripts from all colleges attended
- An interview with the MIT faculty which will be scheduled after all application documents are submitted.

- Basic-skills test: WEST-B (www.west.nesinc.com (<http://www.west.nesinc.com>) to register online). There are three sections to this test. Two of the three must be passed for provisional admission. All sections must be passed by the end of the summer term for full admission. SAT and ACT scores can be accepted in lieu of the WEST-B
- WEST-E subject-matter test. The WEST-E must be taken prior to the start of the program for provisional admission. All sections of the WEST-E must be passed by the end of fall term (December) for full admission.

All admissions to the MIT Program are conditional. Full admittance is granted upon successful completion of summer and fall coursework and passage of all WEST-E and WEST-B tests.

Applications for the program will be accepted through April 1 or until program capacity is reached. It is advisable to apply as early as possible.

Please note: 530 series courses are taken by all MIT students. 540 series are taken by elementary track students and 550 series courses are taken by secondary track students.

Master of Education in Educational Studies

The Master of Education in Educational Studies Program is designed for individuals who are interested in the field of education, but who do not complete the requirements to become a certified teacher.

This 38-40 credit program is housed within the Master in Teaching (MIT) program. Students will complete all required academic and classroom-based courses, associated teacher work samples, one semester of part-time student teaching during the fall term, and one half of the full-time student teaching in the spring term along with the intercultural field experience. This degree does not meet the requirements for teacher licensure in Washington State. Students will only be accepted into this program from the MIT cohort upon recommendation from the MIT faculty and Director.

Education (MIT) Courses

EDM 530A Educational Foundations and Critical Issues		1
Philosophical foundations of education, critical issues related to education, and the MIT candidate as a compassionate and ethical teacher-scholar. Elementary and secondary.
EDM 530B Educational Foundations and Critical Issues		2
Philosophical foundations of education, critical issues related to education, and the MIT candidate as a compassionate and ethical teacher-scholar. Elementary and secondary.
EDM 530C Educational Foundations and Critical Issues		1
This course presses teacher candidates to reflect upon their professional development and plans for continued growth. Candidates also recognize potential indicators across various categories of child abuse and neglect. A review of legal responsibilities pertaining to the reporting of abuse will also be learned.
EDM 531A Exceptional Learner and Differentiated Instruction (A)		1
This course provides an overview of the exceptional learner and introduces differentiated instructional strategies that address different learners' needs in a regular classroom.
EDM 531B Exceptional Learner and Differential Instruction (B)		2
A continuation of EDM 531A based on the professional development over the year.
EDM 532 Child and Adolescent Development and Learning Theory		2
Improvement of learning and teaching effectiveness, including recent developments in human development (cognitive, social, emotional, moral), child growth and development, human learning (behavioral and cognitive) and teaching/instruction. Elementary and secondary.
EDM 533A Research and Assessment (A)		1
This course provides an overview of educational research and analysis of the current educational research literature. Students are also introduced to action research and effective classroom assessment strategies.
EDM 533B Research and Assessment (B)		2

Students in this course develop and conduct an action research project that is carried out during their internships in K-12 public school classrooms. The topics selected are associated with the curricular standards and practices in public school districts throughout Washington State.

EDM 533C Research and Assessment (C) 1

Analysis of classroom based assessment data gathered from the action research project to determine impact on student learning.

EDM 534 Teaching English Language Learners 1

An introduction to the strategies, policies, and standards for teaching English Language Learners. Provides an overview of current programs, standards integration, and laws regarding the teaching of English Learners.

EDM 535 Technology in Education 1

The goal of this course is to prepare participants to teach with the technology found in today's schools. They will learn how to gain access to information and how to communicate using current technology, including the Internet and multimedia. They will also begin developing technological strategies that will be applied to other education courses in the field. Elementary and secondary.

EDM 536A Culturally Competent Teachers 2

Examination of how attitudes, behaviors and values are shaped; the nature and use of power in society, one's own values, principles of effective multicultural education, cultural influences on learning, and intercultural communication skill training. Elementary and secondary.

EDM 536B Field Experience: Multicultural/Intercultural Education 3

A field experience teaching students from a culture other than one's own. To increase one's teaching skills across difference. (Full time in a school classroom for approximately a three week block). Fee.

EDM 538 Teacher-Scholar Seminar & Teacher Performance Assessment 1

This seminar provides the MIT teacher candidates with the opportunity to complete the application process for teacher certification and prepare the job seeking portfolio. This seminar also prepares MITs to be ready to take the high stakes teacher test, Teacher Performance Assessment(edTPA), that must be passed before they can earn a teacher certificate in Washington State.

EDM 539A Teacher Work Sample 1

The MIT teacher candidates begin meeting the standards of the TWS. Through this performance assessment, teacher candidates provide credible evidence of their ability to plan for and facilitate learning by meeting the nine TWS standards.

EDM 539B Teacher Work Sample 1

The MIT teacher candidate implements the TWS during full-time student teaching. Candidates gather data regarding the extent to which their plan and their teaching had a positive impact on student learning. Based on reality, modifications to the initially developed TWS are made.

EDM 539C Teacher Work Sample 1

The MIT teacher candidate edits and completes all nine components of the TWS. Each candidate shares the contents of their TWS with peers and faculty.

EDM 540 Math for M.I.T. 4

This theory/methods course prepares elementary teacher candidates to teach mathematics in K-8 through using the constructivist approach. Inquiry, contextual problems, use of manipulatives and models, and strategies for problem solving/application approaches to math will be used.

EDM 542A Elementary Social Studies: U.S. History 1

These courses introduce the content of U.S. history (EDM 542A), civics (EDM 542B), and economics (EDM 542C) that are typically taught at grades 1-8 in the state of Washington. Guiding the content are the benchmarks set forth for each grade level as stated in Washington State Essential Academic Learning requirements (EALRs).

EDM 542B Elementary Social Studies: Civics 1

These courses introduce the content of U.S. history (EDM 542A), civics (EDM 542B), and economics (EDM 542C) that are typically taught at grades 1-8 in the state of Washington. Guiding the content are the benchmarks set forth for each grade level as stated in Washington State Essential Academic Learning requirements (EALRs).

EDM 542C Elementary Social Studies: Economics 1

These courses introduce the content of U.S. history (EDM 542A), civics (EDM 542B), and economics (EDM 542C) that are typically taught at grades 1-8 in the state of Washington. Guiding the content are the benchmarks set forth for each grade level as stated in Washington State Essential Academic Learning requirements (EALRs).

EDM 542D Elementary Social Studies: Pacific Northwest History 1

This course introduces the concepts and content of Pacific Northwest History that is typically taught at grades 1-8 in the state of Washington guiding the content and the benchmarks set forth for each grade level as states in Washington's Essential Academic Learning Requirements. Summer Term II.

EDM 543 Language Literacy in Elementary School 4

This course examines processes, methods, approaches and materials for teaching reading and language skill.

EDM 544A Elementary General Methods, Assessment, Management 1

This course introduces basic teaching theories and strategies needed for culturally relevant teaching, assessing students, and managing classrooms.

EDM 544B Elementary General Methods, Assessment, Management 3

This course introduces basic teaching theories and strategies needed for culturally relevant teaching, assessing students, and managing classrooms.

EDM 545A Elementary Art Methods 1

This course places an emphasis on the art experience. Students will become aware of their own judgment and bias relating to art. The use of different media, integration of art into other content areas, and process/product will be studied. The student will become familiar with terminology and knowledge in various art programs. The student will learn how to teach art skills and concepts to elementary school children.

EDM 545C Elementary Science Methods 2

This science methods course involves students in science instruction, focusing on four instructional methods utilized in the elementary classroom: inquiry, integrated, thematic, and problem-based/ applied. The goal of this course is twofold: 1) to provide students with an overview of current methods and 2) to begin a resource collection of grade-level specific science content, activities, assessments, resources and references for use during the teacher-scholar practicum.

EDM 545D Elementary Music Methods 1

Curriculum and methods for teaching music in the elementary school. Procedures and materials for teaching music in the self-contained elementary classroom. Elementary.

EDM 545E Elementary PE and Health Education Methods 1

Methods for teaching physical education and health education in the elementary school. Current methods and materials used in developing the elementary curriculum and in teaching the appropriate activities for each grade level.

EDM 545F Elementary Social Studies Methods 1

Elementary teacher candidates will learn social studies classroom techniques and strategies including: social skills instruction, storytelling, project design and implementation, multicultural appreciation, curriculum integration, creative expression, observation and reflection, and integrating global citizenship.

EDM 547A Elementary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 2

This teaching experience in an elementary school classroom begins when the MIT student reports in late summer and then moves to half-time after MIT classes begin. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 547B Elementary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 5

Full-time student teaching in an assigned public elementary school classroom. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 547C Elementary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 5

Full-time student teaching in an assigned public elementary school classroom. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 547D Elementary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 2

Half-time student teaching in the assigned public school classroom from mid-May until the last week; full time during the last week. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory. Elementary.

EDM 548 Elementary: Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA) Seminar 1

This seminar prepares and supports teacher candidates in the Master in Teaching program for taking and passing the Washington State-mandated edTeacher Performance Assessment (edTPA).

EDM 553 Literacy Across the Disciplines 3

Practical approaches and effective teaching techniques for presenting reading assignments in the content areas will be presented and implemented. The focus of this course is to develop the abilities of teachers to enhance the secondary student's ability to "read to learn" rather than to "learn to read". Secondary.

EDM 554 Secondary General Methods/Curriculum Development and Assessment 4

Principles of planning; daily lesson planning; unit development; different instructional techniques; providing for individual differences; and classroom management.

EDM 554A Secondary General Methods, Assessment, Management 1

This course examines basic theory and strategies needed to plan, develop, teach, and assess effective culturally relevant lesson plans and units of study. Strategies supported by research needed to manage the physical classroom environment and to create a respectful and culturally positive learning climate that assures maximum learning will be learned.

EDM 554B Secondary General Methods, Assessment, Management 3

This course examines basic theory and strategies needed to plan, develop, teach, and assess effective culturally relevant lesson plans and units of study. Strategies supported by research needed to manage the physical classroom environment and to create a respectful and culturally positive learning climate that assures maximum learning will be learned.

EDM 555A Secondary Art Methods 2

EDM 555B Sec English/Lang Arts Methods 2

EDM 555C Sec Foreign Language Methods 2

EDM 555D Sec Mathematics Methods 2

EDM 555E Secondary Music Methods 2

EDM 555F Sec PE/Health Methods 2

EDM 555G Secondary Science Methods 2

EDM 555H Sec Social Studies Methods 2

EDM 555S STEM Methods: Project-Based Instruction and Learning 1

This course provides a theory-driven rationale and methods on project-based instruction in secondary schools. It is part of a cluster of courses which consist of content-specific STEM methods courses and practicum in middle, high school math, science, or computer science classrooms. STEM teacher candidates will observe well-implemented project-based instruction in local schools. They will develop a project-based unit grounded in the common core curriculum and/or next generation science standards. Finally, they will incorporate project-based instruction as one strategy during their internship in secondary classrooms.

EDM 557A Secondary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 2

A teaching experience that begins when the MIT student reports in late summer and then moves to half time after MIT classes begin. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 557B Secondary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 5

Full-time student teaching in the assigned public secondary school classroom. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 557C Secondary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 5

Full-time student teaching in the assigned public secondary school classroom. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDM 557D Secondary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 2

Half-time student teaching in the assigned public school classroom from mid-May until the last week; full time during the last week. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory. Secondary.

EDM 558 Secondary: Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA) Seminar 1

This seminar prepares and supports secondary teacher candidates in the Master in Teaching program for the Washington State-mandated Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA).

EDM 596 Elementary Teacher-Scholar Practicum 1-10

Full-time student teaching in an assigned public elementary school classroom. Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

Education: Administration Courses

EDA 501 Team Building and Leadership Skills 3

The overarching objective of this course is for students to possess a sophisticated perspective on the importance of leadership on human behavior in organizations. This course is designed to help students understand the group processes that build teams and influence team performance; and to build leader, team member and facilitator skills that effectively influence teams to meet team goals.

EDA 502 Introduction to Administrative Leadership 1

This course is designed to give students an introduction to administrative leadership principles and the program at Whitworth. Students will learn how to utilize LiveText, develop an electronic professional portfolio, and examine basic leadership strategies. This is offered in an accelerated course format offered over one weekend.

EDA 506 Student Development Theory and Practice 3

This course is designed to present the concepts and principles of student development and learning theory. It will include application of theories and how they inform practice to varying student demographic groups. This course is offered in a hybrid format.

EDA 511 Orientation to Leadership 1

This course is the study of personal leadership effectiveness. It focuses on an understanding of self as leader and on the importance of the interpersonal relationship aspects of effective leadership. This one-credit course helps students understand their own leadership styles and focuses on building effective interpersonal relationships as a leader. Leadership and personality inventories will help students understand themselves and others. The course is taught in a seminar, interactive style.

EDA 512 Visionary and Transformational Leadership 3

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the theoretical base that informs management and leadership in organizational contexts, including leadership theory, development and implementation of a vision, and how effective leadership can transform organizations. Information will be presented utilizing a combination of lecture, class discussion, electronic media, and team assignments.

EDA 514 Leadership for School Improvement 3

Development of skills to foster systemic change toward improved student learning, including how to develop a learning culture focused on learning, how to do strategic planning and how to manage student behavior to enhance the learning environment.

EDA 515 Human and Organizational Resources 2

The purpose of this course is to learn the skills to set up efficient and effective management systems in organizational settings. Topics include finance and human resource management and allocation, safety and security issues, the use of technology to streamline management functions and systems analysis.

EDA 517 Legal & Ethical Practices of Moral Leadership 3

Twenty first century, pluralistic society cries out for ethical, wise, and moral leadership. Balancing current research and theory on ethical and leadership studies, as well as practical ideas for increasing ethical behavior in organizational settings, students will gain insight into leadership theories, practical approaches to applied ethics and moral leadership. Students will also explore their own leadership as it relates to their decision making processes as a leader and develop a personal philosophy of moral leadership to enhance the healing power of such leadership approaches in organizations.

EDA 518 Intercultural Communications & Conflict Resolution 2

This course is designed to help you become more aware of the nature of culture and how it permeates our lives. It seeks to help you understand your own personal cultural identity as well as our cultural identity as Americans. It will also help you examine theories of conflict causation, motivation, and resolution. Finally, it invites you to learn how to communicate, work with more effectiveness across cultural difference, and resolve conflicts.

EDA 520 Legal & Policy Foundations 2

Students will develop a heightened sensitivity and awareness of the important role legal requirements play in administering today's school programs successfully. Emphasis will be placed on realistic situations that have direct relevance to educational leaders in Washington and Idaho.

EDA 521 Public School Finance 2

Survey of the financial dimensions of public school administration including: budget development and management; the role of state, local, and federal agencies in school finance issues; collective bargaining; personnel; accountability; the special levy system; accounting procedures; purchasing; and risk management. Additional contextual dimensions (community needs assessment, intervention, consultation, education, outreach, and program implementation) and knowledge and skill base is increased via an exploration and project development regarding the current community base.

EDC 556 Research Evaluation & Writing 2

This course provides the opportunity to research areas related to the student's major field of study, develop investigative research skills, and improve academic writing.

EDC 557 Family Systems Theory 3

The objective of this course is to acquaint the beginning student of marriage and the family with the framework commonly known as "systems theory." Both the lecture material and the readings are directed toward helping the student to "think systems," i.e. to conceptualize the dynamics of family relationships in systemic terms in a manner consistent with a recovery-oriented understanding of care. The course examines a variety of issues related to social processes within the family and without, including developmental/family life cycle concerns examined from an ecological perspective of family stress and resilience. Different theories of family interaction will be surveyed, with the family conceptualized as an integrated behavioral, emotional, and linguistic system.

EDC 558 Theories of Family Therapy 3

This course examines the issues of family therapy, stressing the application of general systems theory to therapy with families. The focus is on the major constructs in family therapy, identification of family structures and communication patterns, and the formulation of treatment goals.

EDC 559 Theories of Couple and Marriage Therapy 3

This course is designed to provide an in depth overview of marital/couple therapy. The course will address theories of marital interaction and two approaches to clinical treatment with couples. Assessment and treatment issues regarding domestic violence will be discussed.

EDC 560 Psychopharmacology 2

This course examines the pharmacological impact of drugs on the brain with a particular emphasis on clinically-diseased states. Review of mental illness and the medications used to treat various disorders. Classes of medications will be discussed. Side effects, monitoring and efficacy will be explored. The role of the non prescriber in encouraging and enhancing medication compliance in persons with mental illness will be explored.

EDC 561 Advanced Systems Theory: Critical Issues in MFT 3

The course prepares students for the potential ethical and legal dilemmas that arise in the marriage and family therapy profession. This course teaches students ethical standards associated with the profession, along with core values essential to personal and professional development. Students will develop an ethical decision making model and apply it to contemporary issues facing the marriage and family professional.

EDC 562 Ethics in Human Sexuality 2

The course will provide an investigation into the ethics of human sexuality and the AAMFT Code of Ethics as it relates to sexual misconduct for Marriage and Family Therapists. Some of the topics to be covered: gender role expectations and power differential, changing attitudes and mores related to sexuality, premarital relations, contraception, abortion, homosexuality, and celibacy.

EDC 563 Human Sexuality and Sex Therapy 3

The study of the biological and psychological aspects of human sexuality and the treatment of sexual dysfunction in couples.

EDC 564 Critical Issues in Social and Emotional Learning 2

This course examines issues related to social emotional learning and development. It will explore contributing factors and how teachers and caring professionals can help children overcome problems that impact their motivation to learn as well as their interpersonal skills.

EDC 565 Response to Complex Trauma	2
Students will learn critical supportive and therapeutic skills to effectively help children, adolescents and their families deal with the impact of trauma. Topics include: sources and effects of complex trauma, as well as the different types of trauma and how these experiences are manifested. Graduate level course. This is a step up course by permission of instructor.
EDC 566 Strategies: SEL for School & Life	3
This course provides teachers and other professionals with strategies to promote social emotional learning in children that will enable them to be successful in school and in life. Graduate level course. This is a step up course by permission of instructor.
EDC 571 Case Management in Behavioral Health	3
An in-depth analysis of the case management process for use in behavioral health. Focuses on evidence-based practices in contemporary case management, clarification of practitioner attitudes, cultural competence, effective communication skills, client assessment, service plan development, case documentation, the monitoring of services and treatment, and case termination.
EDC 572 Physiology Pharmacology for Addiction	2
This course covers the psychological, physiological and sociological effects of mood altering substances and behaviors. Emphasizes pharmacological effects of tolerance, dependency/withdrawal, cross addiction and drug interaction. Course needed for CDP certification. Prerequisite: EDC 535.
EDC 573 Cross-Cultural HIV/AIDS Prevention & Treatment	1
This course is designed to teach participants the basic concepts of HIV/AIDS prevention, transmission and the correlation between chemical dependency and mental health issues. Social issues surrounding HIV/AIDS, STD and Chemical Dependency will also be explored and dialogue will be encouraged. The connection of HIV and STD's to alcohol and chemical usage will be made. This course is offered on a weekend accelerated format.
EDC 574 Community Prevention Methods	2
This online/hybrid course is designed to provide students an overview and understanding of the significant issues and trends in the community and family behavioral health with an emphasis behavioral health promotion and disease prevention as it relates to chemical dependency.
EDC 575 Screening, Assessment & Treatment for Co-Occuring Disorders	3
This course will provide the student with an understanding of problems associated with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders. It will focus on treatment, case management, evidence-based practices, and relapse prevention. It includes an integrated approach to address the issues accompanying co-occurring disorders.
EDC 581 School Counseling Practicum	5
Preliminary field experience offering intensive skill development necessary to function in the role of professional counselor in school settings. Prerequisite: concurrent enrollment in EDC 523; permission of program faculty; recommendation by PEAB (Professional Education Advisory Board). Optional concurrent enrollment permitted in EDC 506. The student will meet for individual supervision with their university supervisor for tape critique a minimum of one hour per week in addition to the practicum seminar. Spring semester.
EDC 581A Practicum in Social and Behavioral Health	4
Preliminary field experience offering intensive skill development necessary to function in the role of professional counselor in school settings. Prerequisite: permission of program faculty. The student will meet for individual supervision with their university supervisor a minimum of one hour per week in addition to the practicum seminar.
EDC 582 Marriage and Family Therapy Practicum	5
Preliminary field experience offering intensive skill development necessary to function in the role of marriage and family therapist in community agencies or church settings. Spring semester. Prerequisites: EDC-532 with a grade of B, permission of program faculty and concurrent enrollment in EDC 533. This course is graded satisfactory/non-satisfactory.

EDC 583 Counseling Internship I: School 1-3

Field experience in a school setting under direct individual and group supervision. Students will register for EDC 583 in the fall for 3 credits and 1 credit in Jan Term. Students will register for 3 credits of EDC 584 in the spring and 1 credit in May Term. Prerequisite: completion of all coursework; grade of "B" or better in EDC 581 and EDC 523; permission of program faculty.

EDC 584 Counseling Internship II: School 1-3

Field experience in a school setting under direct individual and group supervision. Students will register for EDC 583 in the fall for 3 credits and 1 credit in Jan Term. Students will register for 3 credits of EDC 584 in the spring and 1 credit in May Term. Prerequisite: completion of all coursework; grade of "B" or better in EDC 581 and EDC 523; permission of program faculty.

EDC 585 Marriage and Family Therapy Internship I 1-4

Field experience focused on preparing students for employment as marriage and family therapists within community agencies or church settings. Students will register for EDC 585 in the fall and EDC 586 in the spring. Prerequisite: permission of program faculty and grades of "B" or better in EDC 582 and EDC 533. This course is graded satisfactory/non-satisfactory.

EDC 586 Marriage and Family Therapy Internship II 1-4

Field experience focused on preparing students for employment as marriage and family therapists within community agencies or church settings. Students will register for EDC 585 in the fall and EDC 586 in the spring. This course is graded satisfactory/non-satisfactory.

EDC 588 Peer Review 1

A state-required course for school counselors to demonstrate counseling knowledge and skills during their employment as counselors prior to recommendation for continuing ESA certification.

EDC 596A Graduate Action Research Project 0

Project focuses on services offered by the student during internship and explores treatment needs and intervention efficacy. Fall semester.

EDC 596B Graduate Action Research Project 0

Project focuses on services offered by the student during internship and explores treatment needs and intervention efficacy. Spring semester.

EDC 597 Exit Exam 0

Students should register during the semester they anticipate completion of all coursework. Fee.

EDC 598A Graduate Thesis 3

A major advisor (chair) and two committee advisors direct the thesis study. Approved copies, ready for binding, must be submitted to the Graduate Studies in Education Office one week before the end of the term in which the degree is anticipated. Prerequisite: advanced approval required from the academic advisor to enroll in the thesis option. Fall semester.

EDC 598B Graduate Thesis 3

A major advisor (chair) and two committee advisors direct the thesis study. Approved copies, ready for binding, must be submitted to the Graduate Studies in Education Office one week before the end of the term in which the degree is anticipated. Prerequisite: advanced approval required from the academic advisor to enroll in the thesis option. Spring semester. Fee.

EDC 599 Master's Oral Examination 0

Oral defense of the thesis project. Exam is directed by chair of thesis-committee. Students should register during the semester they anticipate completion of the thesis project. Fee.

Education: Gifted Talented Courses

EDG 508 Differentiating Instruction for Highly Capable Students 1

Approaches to design differentiated curriculum and instructional strategies in all content areas to meet the needs of gifted students in today's classrooms. Differentiation by content, process, product and assessment using the parallel curriculum model and other current research-based practices. Summer semester, online.

- EDG 517 Identifying and Developing the Talents of ELL Gifted Students 1
 English-language learners (ELLs) are often unrepresented in programs that serve gifted and talented students due to a myriad of reasons, including teacher perceptions/biases, lack of staff training, lack of communication, inappropriate assessments, and inadequate opportunities for talent development. This course examines the causes of under representation of gifted ELL students in gifted programs and explores recommendations for developing the talents and potential of these students.
- EDG 520 Challenging Students Through Cluster Grouping 1
 Cluster grouping of students for instructional purposes is a programming strategy that can be used to meet the needs of high achieving and gifted students in the regular classroom. When teachers try to meet the diverse learning needs of all students, it becomes extremely difficult to provide adequately for everyone. Cluster grouping provides full time services to high-achieving, high-ability students while assisting all students in improving their academic achievement and educational self-efficacy. It also leads to improved classroom behavior and raises the performance of all students. This course will focus on the theoretical rationale and research supporting this model as well as practical methods for organizing the cluster groups, providing staff development, and differentiating lessons by injecting challenge, interest, and student ideas into class assignments.
- EDG 521 Teaching for Creativity in the Common Core Classroom 1
 This course focuses on strategies for adapting existing lessons and mandated curricula to encourage the development of student creativity and critical thinking alongside more academic skills.
- EDG 528 New Directions in Gifted Education 1
 Through current literature, active websites and recent conference materials, students review foundational ideas, latest identification tools, new curriculum methods, technology developments and creativity ideas. Jan Term, online.
- EDG 550 Introduction to Gifted Education and Talent Development 3
 This course is designed to explore the current research, trends, and practices within the field of gifted and talented education. This course is an introduction to the historical and philosophical context of gifted education and theories of intelligence; characteristics of gifted behaviors across cultures; an overview of curricular options for enhancing and accelerating instruction; and identification techniques and program services.
- EDG 551 Social and Emotional Components of Giftedness 2
 This course will explore current research and material relevant to the social and emotional issues that may arise for gifted and talented students, specifically their effective growth and potential adjustment concerns. This course is designed for teachers and counselors of the gifted to help them understand the cognitive complexity and emotional intensity of high ability students while also acquiring strategies to help them serve this special population.
- EDG 553 Creativity and Analytical Thinking 3
 The major purpose of this course is to study the theoretical and practical aspects of creativity and analytical thinking. Exploring the question of what creativity is and how we develop it in ourselves and in our students will be the focus of the course. The course is an overview of major definitions, theories, and research related to the study of creativity and the creative individual. Strategies for adapting existing curricula to develop creative and analytical thinking abilities, the assessment of creative thinking, methods for enhancing personal creative abilities, and techniques for examining the creative process will be presented.
- EDG 554 Curricular Strategies and Instructional Models for High Ability Learners 3
 The focus of this course is on the application of instructional and curricular models and strategies for designing appropriate learning experiences for the gifted and talented. Additionally the course will explore how the characteristics of gifted students, identification of student profiles, and unique educational challenges must be considered when designing instructional learning experiences for these students. This course is designed for teachers, coordinators, administrators, and others responsible for the education of highly capable students.
- EDG 555 Designing High Quality Gifted Education Programs and Services 3

"High quality" gifted programs are based on sound theoretical, philosophical, and empirical support, but what are the characteristics of exemplary programs? What should we do to ensure that these elements are present in our gifted education programs? This course provides an overview of program models used in the field of gifted education; how to design comprehensive services; maintain ongoing support for services; identify and assess students; establish productive relationships with faculty and administration; and provide professional development. Participants will be given the opportunity to assess their current practices or design new practices to improve the quality of their gifted education programs and practices.

EDG 571 Teaching the Underachiever 3

This course explores leading considerations for underachievement in schools today: cultural differences, poverty, brain-based learning and appropriately challenging gifted students. Current research and effective practices to identify and remediate underachievement will be shared.

EDG 581 Field Study and Action Research 1-3

This course requires students to conduct action research in an educational setting related to highly capable students or programs. The field study and action research project is designed to be the culminating experience for students who are pursuing the Master of Arts in Teaching: Gifted and Talented degree.

EDG 596 Graduate Research Project 3

In lieu of a practicum, if necessary. The graduate research project proposal requires approval from the director of the Center for Gifted Education, the director of Graduate Studies, and the Institutional Review Board (IRB). The director of the Center for Gifted Education will supervise the 120-hour project. Prerequisite: satisfactory completion of EDU 515.

EDG 598 Portfolio: Specialty Endorsement 0

Final assessment to show evidence of knowledge and skill to meet Washington state standards and competencies in the Gifted Education Specialty Endorsement.

Education: Montessori Courses

EDT 501 Montessori Foundations 3

This course examines developmental aspects (cognitive, social-emotional, moral, spiritual, and physical) of early childhood. An emphasis will be placed on the psychology of the child proposed by Dr. Maria Montessori.

EDT 502 Montessori Philosophy & Psych 2

This course provides a study of child psychology and development from age six through early adolescence. The course includes how the Montessori pedagogy was developed based on observation of children in different stages of development.

EDT 503A Elem. Science Methods: Earth, Biological, and Physical Science
Curric. & Instruction A 1

This course introduces candidates to curriculum, differentiated instruction and assessment in the diverse K-8 classroom. The integration of science concepts in other disciplines is emphasized, as well as an understanding of the interdependencies of the Earth and life upon it. It includes theories, teaching, strategies, demonstration and laboratory techniques, an overview of curriculum, assessment guidelines, standards, and conducting field trips and safety considerations. In Part A of the course, an overview of physics, chemistry, geology, biology and astronomy are provided. A particular focus will be on the interdependencies of life on earth. The great lessons in each content area will be taught.

EDT 503B Elem. Science Methods: Earth, Biological, and Physical Science
Curric. & Instruction B 3

This course introduces candidates to curriculum, differentiated instruction and assessment in the diverse K-8 classroom. The integration of science concepts in other disciplines is emphasized, as well as an understanding of the interdependencies of the Earth and life upon it. It includes theories, teaching, strategies, demonstration and laboratory techniques, an overview of curriculum, assessment guidelines, standards, and conducting field trips and safety considerations. In Part B of the course, students will begin to go in-depth into each of the methods and content presentations in physics, chemistry, geology, biology and astronomy. Students will develop the materials and lessons to teach each of the courses.

EDT 503C Elem. Science Methods: Earth, Biological, and Physical Science
Curric. & Instruction C 1

This course introduces candidates to curriculum, differentiated instruction and assessment in the diverse K-8 classroom. The integration of science concepts in other disciplines is emphasized, as well as an understanding of the interdependencies of the Earth and life upon it. It includes theories, teaching, strategies, demonstration and laboratory techniques, an overview of curriculum, assessment guidelines, standards, and conducting field trips and safety considerations. In Part C of the course, students will refine their understanding of the interdependence of each of the sciences through practice teaching.

EDT 504 Elem Social Studies Methods 2

This course focuses on the understanding of the origins and development of the universe and of the human being's relationships to this development. An introduction to sociology, prehistory, human history and the interconnections of these fields is presented. Curricular integration, project-based learning, as well as differentiated instruction and assessment are emphasized.

EDT 505A Elementary Language Arts Curriculum and Instruction A 2

This course focuses on the development of spoken and written language as well as important functional aspects of grammar that are appropriate for elementary children through early adolescence. Effective curricular and instructional strategies are included in this course. In Part A, the focus of the course is on the foundational knowledge of the development of spoken and written language and grammar. Basic lesson preparation, materials and methods are introduced.

EDT 505B Elementary Language Arts Curriculum and Instruction B 2

This course focuses on the development of spoken and written language as well as important functional aspects of grammar that are appropriate for elementary children through early adolescence. Effective curricular and instructional strategies are included in this course. The focus of the part B of the course is on more sophisticated methods of instruction and material development for the language arts curriculum.

EDT 506A Elementary Mathematics Curriculum and Instruction A 2

This course focuses on the principles and methods of arithmetic, algebra, and geometry that provide a child with the understanding of and proficiency with key ideas in mathematics throughout their elementary experience. It emphasizes the development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present-day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and statistics. A developmental approach to teaching mathematics is stressed, as well as problem solving. The interconnection of the areas of mathematics is explored. In Part A of the course, the focus is on the development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry and statistics.

EDT 506B Elementary Mathematics Curriculum and Instruction B 2

This course focuses on the principles and methods of arithmetic, algebra, and geometry that provide a child with the understanding of and proficiency with key ideas in mathematics throughout their elementary experience. It emphasizes the development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present-day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and statistics. A developmental approach to teaching mathematics is stressed, as well as problem solving. The interconnection of the areas of mathematics is explored. In Part B of this course, students will begin to go in-depth into each of the methods and content presentations in number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry and statistics. Students will develop the lessons to teach each of the courses.

EDT 506C Elementary Mathematics Curriculum and Instruction C 2

This course focuses on the principles and methods of arithmetic, algebra, and geometry that provide a child with the understanding of and proficiency with key ideas in mathematics throughout their elementary experience. It emphasizes the development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present-day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and statistics. A developmental approach to teaching mathematics is stressed, as well as problem solving. The interconnection of the areas of mathematics is explored. In Part C of this course, students will refine their understanding of mathematics and geometry through practice teaching and lesson development.

EDT 507 Elementary Music, Drama and Art Methods 2

This course emphasizes the music, art and movement experiences in an elementary setting. Candidates study the use of different musical and art concepts, methods and materials, integration of music and art into other content areas, and artistic products. Candidates become familiar with program components of music, art and movement while learning how to differentiate instruction and assess skills and concepts for diverse learners in classrooms.

EDT 508 Practicum A: Observation of the Montessori Classroom 2

The Observation of the Montessori Classroom Practicum focuses on the development of scientific observation skills in a Montessori prepared environment. Students will observe Montessori classrooms to identify and explain the guiding principles of the methodology. Emphasis is also placed on observing how children learn in a Montessori classroom.

EDT 509 Practicum B: Student Teaching Internship 3

The purpose of the second practicum is to gain experience teaching in a Montessori classroom. Candidates plan, instruct, and assess for student learning under the guidance of an experienced mentor teacher and a supervisor. This experience also emphasizes socialization, classroom management and professional activities within a diverse school culture.

EDT 560C Elementary Mathematics Curriculum and Instruction C 2

This course focuses on the principles and methods of arithmetic, algebra, and geometry that provide a child with the understanding of and proficiency with key ideas in mathematics throughout their elementary experience. It emphasizes the development of number systems, vocabulary, and symbolism in the present-day use of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and statistics. A developmental approach to teaching mathematics is stressed, as well as problem solving. The interconnection of the areas of mathematics is explored. In Part C of this course, students will refine their understanding of mathematics and geometry through practice teaching and lesson development.

EDT 596 Graduate Research Project 3

The capstone project requires the research and design of specific materials for the teaching albums in each content area appropriate for use in a Montessori classroom. This is developed and finalized under the supervision of a Montessori trained Whitworth University supervisor. The project proposal must be approved by the director of the M.Ed. Montessori program and the supervisor/instructor. Letter grade is assigned.

Education: Special Ed. Courses

EDS 501 Introduction to Sign Language and the Deaf 4

Study of American Sign Language, language acquisition, teaching methods, teaching sequences and materials for persons with hearing impairments, communication disorders, and cognitive delays. Overview of the history of sign language as well as receptive and expressive finger-spelling. Also listed as ASL 101 (students must register for graduate-level course and complete extra project if in a graduate program).

EDS 502 Sign Language and the Deaf II 4

Advanced study of American Sign Language and the culture of the deaf. Expansion and improvement of manual communication skills, translating or interpreting abilities, and development of mental-processing techniques for comprehending the meaning of unfamiliar signs. Overview of educational aspects of deaf culture and sign language. Also listed as ASL 102. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDS 501.

EDS 520 Exceptional Learners & Inclusion 3

Provides an overview of children with disabilities, gifted education, legal issues, intervention strategies, family systems, and teaming approaches related to special education. Emphasis placed on accommodations for high incidence conditions. Introduction of Individualized Education Plans and completion of a service-learning experience in a home setting. Also listed as EDU 320 (students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program).

EDS 521 Intervention for Behavior and Motivation 3

Introduction to behavior disorders, applied behavior analysis, data collection, and research design. Students plan, collect data, implement and evaluate an intervention. They learn to collect data and do functional assessments and document learning. Field experience included. Also listed as EDU 321. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDS 520.

EDS 522 Assessment and Individualized Education Program (IEP) Planning 3

Practice and study of formal and informal, norm-referenced, criterion-referenced, curriculum-based, and functional assessments, including the Brigance, the Woodcock Johnson, the AAMR Adaptive Behavior Scale, the PIAT and others. Integration and implementation of assessment into the development of Individualized Education Plans (IEP) for children and youth in special education settings. Also listed as EDU 322. Students must register for graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDS 520

EDS 523 Intervention for Academic Learning Problems 3

Methods and strategies to address academic learning problems for students with mild disabilities in math, reading, language, writing, and spelling. Includes class-wide peer tutoring, active responding, guided notes, Precision Teaching, Direct Instruction, Success for All, data-based intervention approaches and other relevant curriculum. Service learning project included. Also listed as EDU 323. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDS 520.

EDS 524 Early Intervention for Special Education 3

Instructional methods, management strategies and interdisciplinary intervention techniques appropriate for working with children with disabilities from birth to age six in integrated settings. Includes strategies for supporting families and developing Individual Family Service Programs (IFSP). Also listed as EDU 424. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program). Prerequisite: EDS 520.

EDS 526 Intervention for Severe Communication, Sensory and Physical Problems 3

Methods and strategies for working with students who have low incidence and multiple disabilities, with emphasis on functional skills, augmentative communication, positioning and handling techniques, mobility, social-skill development and adaptive behaviors. Program planning and implementation. Also listed as EDU 426. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program).

EDS 530 Intervention for Autism Spectrum Disorder 3

In this course we will discuss the diagnostic criteria and defining characteristics of autism spectrum disorder and related disabilities, as well as effective interventions and the impact of having a child with autism on a family. Prerequisite: EDU 321 or EDS 521.

EDS 534 Early Speech, Language and Literacy 3

Introduction to components of speech and language; and change involving second language acquisition whether oral or manual, with application to literacy and learning for students with disabilities. Junior/Senior standing or Graduate students. Prerequisite: EDU 320/EDS 520.

EDS 536 Intervention through Positive Behavior Support 3

An overview of theory, research and methods related to identifying community values and establishing school-wide Positive Behavior Support. Includes functional behavior assessment, data collection methods, interventions and behavior management strategies to respond effectively to students who exhibit severe challenging behavior.

EDS 538 Early Intervention Interdisciplinary Method 3

Early childhood special education methods using an interdisciplinary and Activity-Based Intervention approach. Requires on-site seminar and fieldwork. Junior/Senior standing or Graduate student. Prerequisite: EDU 424/EDS 524.

EDS 562 Ethical Research and Treatment Method 3

Ethical considerations for professional practice and research in behavioral assessment, treatment, and systems. Prerequisites EDS 521, EDS 536.

EDS 564 Advanced Readings in Applied Behavior Analysis 3

Classic and current studies in applied behavior analysis concepts, research, and effective intervention in preparation for Behavior Analyst Certification Board Exam and professional practice. Prerequisites EDS 521 and EDS 536.

EDS 581 Practicum: Special Education, Early Childhood/K-8 1

A teaching-assistant practicum of 30 hours in a special-education classroom. Concurrent enrollment permissible in EDS 583/EDU 483, Advanced Practicum: Special Education, Early Childhood/K-8. Prerequisites: EDS 520/EDU 320 and EDS 521/EDU 321. Also listed as EDU 481. Application is required. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program.) Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory

EDS 582 Practicum: Special Education, Middle/High School 1

A teaching-assistant practicum of 30 hours in a special-education classroom. Concurrent enrollment permissible in EDS 584/EDU 484. Prerequisite: EDS 520/EDU 320 and EDS 521/EDU 321. Also listed as EDU 482. Application is required. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program.) Grade is Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory.

EDS 583 Advanced Practicum: Special Education, Early Childhood/K-8 4

A practicum of 120 hours in a special-education classroom under teacher supervision. Application and permission required. Also listed as EDU 483. (Students must register for a graduate-level course and complete an extra project if in a graduate program).

EDS 584 Advanced Practicum: Special Education, Middle/High School 4

A practicum of 120 hours in a special education classroom under teacher supervision. Application and permission required. Also listed as EDU 484. Students must register for graduate level course and complete extra project if in a graduate program. Prerequisite: EDS 582/EDU 482 or concurrent enrollment.

EDS 585 Behavior Analysis Intensive Practicum 5

Ten weeks of 25 hours each week in clinical or classroom behavioral intervention with individuals who have developmental delays, severe disabilities, or autism spectrum disorder. Must be supervised by a BCBA professional. (Must be taken for a total of 15 credits and 750 hours). This is a 3-semester field experience totaling 15 credits.

EDS 586 Behavior Analysis Supervised Independent Fieldwork 1-5

Clinical or classroom behavioral intervention with individuals who have developmental delays, severe disabilities, or autism spectrum disorder. Must be supervised by a BCBA professional. (Can be taken for variable credits between 1 and 5 per term). This field experience will be combined across terms to meet the supervision hours and requirements from the international Behavior Analyst Certification Board.

EDS 595 Exit Project 1

Students submit research papers in formal presentations and for publication. A one-hour-per-week peer-group and advisor feedback meeting is required prior to the official presentation. Fee.

Education: Teacher Ed. Courses

EDU 501 The Psychology of Learning 3

A study of the psychological theories of learning and the connections between psychological theory and educational practice for pre-school, elementary, secondary, and adult learners. Includes psychological theories related to intelligence, motivation, attention, memory, creativity, problem solving, and personality.

EDU 502 Curriculum Design, Development and Implementation	3
A study of curriculum foundations and the components of curriculum design and development. Includes strategies for implementation of curricular changes in P-12 schools, curriculum evaluation, and the role of state and national standards based curricula in schools.
EDU 510 Prof Teach Seminar	4
EDU 514 Educational Statistics	2
Study of statistics needed to understand educational research and to do primary research.
EDU 515 Educational Research	4
Development of basic research skills; evaluation of current educational research and new knowledge in education. A research paper is required. Includes computer lab time and development of the research paper. Prerequisites: unconditional admission and computer literacy.
EDU 526 Diversity, Equity and Inclusion	3
The purpose of this course is to increase knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to create environments that are inclusive and enriched by diverse views and people. Increased levels of cultural sensitivity and responsiveness will be developed through didactic and experiential learning. Also listed as EDU 326. Undergraduate students may elect to take this as a step up course for graduate credit. Graduate students must register for the graduate level course. This is approved as a part of the US Cultural Studies Minor.
EDU 542 Advanced Instruction and Integrated Technology	3
This course will expand and build upon the knowledge and skills in instructional methodology and technology that teachers learn in initial teacher preparation programs. Major topics include advanced group instruction; inquiry; project based learning; differentiation; co-teaching; integration of standards based technology.
EDU 543 Assessment and Data Analysis	3
This course will provide an in depth study of classroom, school and district assessment and data analysis. Master's candidates will gain knowledge and skills to improve their classroom assessment and to provide school and district leadership in assessment and data analysis.
EDU 544 Children's Literature & Social Studies Literacy	3
This course is designed to provide an introduction to children's literature as well as a foundation for teaching social studies. It highlights the genres of the literature, learning about and through literature, and using quality literature integrated with other content. For social studies instruction, the course examines the state standards for social studies in the areas of world and American history, geography and civics and how to use children's literature as a content source for those areas of curriculum.
EDU 546 Diagnosis and Treatment of Reading Diff. Disabilities	3
Identification and causes of reading problems. Study of diagnostic instruments and intervention strategies used in group and individual situations. Administration and interpretation of standardized and informal assessments. Also listed as EDE 446.
EDU 548 Content Area Reading and Writing	2
Strategies for improving comprehension of content area materials, adapting lessons for a wide range of learners, analyzing the appropriateness of written materials, and connecting writing to the content area. Fall and spring semesters. Also listed as EDM 553 and EDU 458.
EDU 550 Milestones in Education	3
A study of current issues in education and the historical connections to those issues including philosophical, political, and societal and religious foundations. Includes study of the links between education and Christianity and the liberal arts tradition. This is an interdisciplinary course.
EDU 561 Second-Language Acquisition	3

An overview of interdisciplinary theories of how students acquire a first and an additional language informed by the fields of linguistics, psychology, and sociocultural and political studies. A view to gaining informed approaches for supporting English Learners and their access to the core curriculum. Also listed as EDU 361.

EDU 562 ELL Methodology 3

Language learners must progress in four domains of language acquisition: listening, speaking, reading and writing. Some researchers include the skill of viewing as well. True academic achievement requires content experience involving all these domains. Therefore this course provides a myriad of practical classroom methods to achieve proficiency in all domains within core curriculum expectations. Awareness of these domains in assessment practices is also addressed. Also listed as EDU 362.

EDU 563 ELL Methods Language Arts/Reading 3

Content centers around the Common Core State Standards intertwined with the Washington State English Proficiency Standards. Strategies for scaffolding content reading tasks for English Learners are explored and practiced. The course also addresses the literacy needs of English Learners in their core curriculum subjects with ways that instructors of core subjects can increase content achievement while supporting literacy needs. Also listed as EDU 363.

EDU 564 ELL-CLD Field Experience 1-3

The ELL-CLD Field Experience provides an opportunity to implement the knowledge and strategies being learned in the content ELL courses. The implementation is designed to occur during students' intercultural placements or in the students' own classrooms, if applicable. Also listed as EDU 364.

EDU 565 CLD Assess & Evaluation 3

Topics include issues, principles, instruments and methods of assessment related to the education of linguistic and culturally diverse learners. Classroom, district-wide, and state instruments for language proficiency are analyzed. Performance on language proficiency instruments versus content-specific, classroom performance is explored. Also, an overview of the Language-Learning-versus-Language-Disability issues is also addressed. Also listed as EDU 365.

EDU 567 Cultural and Linguistic Diversity in Education 1

Content includes the examination of both personal and institutional cultural proficiency in education. The impact of cultural and linguistic diversity on academic achievement is explored along with the crucial skills for effective intercultural communication. Also included, is the examination of one's own cultural values, attitudes, and beliefs as they influence instruction and assessment practices used with P-12 students in the content areas. Also listed as EDU 367.

EDU 596 Graduate Research Project 3

The elementary/secondary M.Ed. program's capstone project requiring a minimum 120 hours of research and design of specific materials appropriate to use with a designated group of students under the supervision of a Whitworth University supervisor. The project proposal must be approved by the director/chair of GSE, the supervisor/instructor, and the Institutional Review Board (IRB). Letter grade is assigned. Prerequisite: EDU-515.

EDU 597 Exit Portfolio/Project 0

Exit-exam information is available through a student's graduate advisor. All exams must be completed prior to the month of a student's degree posting.

EDU 598A Thesis 3

Thesis study is directed by a major advisor (chair) and two committee advisors. The thesis committee conducts the final oral examination. Approved copies of the thesis, ready for binding, must be submitted to the Graduate Studies in Education office one week before the end of the term in which the degree is anticipated. Letter grade is assigned. Prerequisite: advanced approval from your academic advisor and the Institutional Review Board (IRB). Fall semester.

EDU 598B Thesis 3

This study is directed by a major advisor (chair) and two committee advisors. The thesis committee conducts the final oral examination. Approved copies of the thesis, ready for binding, must be submitted to the Graduate Studies in Education office one week before the end of the term in which the degree is anticipated. Letter grade is assigned. Prerequisite: advanced approval from your academic advisor and the Institutional Review Board (IRB). Spring semester. Fee.

Overview

Mission

At Whitworth, we seek to produce Christ-centered, well-educated, spiritually disciplined, and visionary leaders for the church and society. Typically, students beginning our programs are already engaged in some form of leadership within a church, school or nonprofit, or they have shown interest and promise to pursue such leadership. Students sometimes use our programs as a foundation for an M.Div. or other advanced degree, or as the first step in becoming a chaplain. The students who benefit most from our programs share our deep commitment to the following:

- Classical Theology: Professors teach the traditional theological disciplines of biblical studies, systematic theology and church history.
- Practical Preparation: Classes address contemporary challenges that people in ministry face every day; they also explore concrete and creative solutions.
- Spiritual Formation: Students learn together in a praying, worshiping community, enjoy many meals together, and practice traditional spiritual disciplines.

While each of our graduate programs in theology comprises a unique set of required courses and differs in the number of elective courses that students may take, all share the same foundation. No matter the degree they seek, each one of our students completes a series of six core courses (18 credits) covering the classical disciplines of bible, doctrine and history. For details, see the page for each individual program.

Design and Schedule

Our graduate programs are designed specifically for individuals who are energized by learning with peers and scholars and are prepared to grow in their Christian vocation. Students have the opportunity to integrate community and spiritual enrichment by sharing meals, worshiping together, and networking with colleagues. One of the more unique features of our schedule is that on-campus time for each course is clustered. This enables individuals with family commitments and full-time jobs, as well as students living outside the Spokane area, to pursue theological education in community. Students complete assignments before each monthly on-campus meeting; they engage in classroom discussion; and each course requires students to submit a final project oriented toward practice. Between on-campus sessions, students and professors engage online to continue each student's learning.

Academic Values

The Whitworth University Theology Department is solidly rooted in the Trinitarian faith of the church throughout the ages. It is committed to the authority of Holy Scripture as God's word and to the worldwide mission and ministry of Jesus Christ. Its goal is to provide students with an intellectually challenging, academically rigorous, and spiritually enriching theological education that will equip them to serve in a wide variety of contexts. Each of our graduate programs is centered upon the classical disciplines of biblical studies, church history and Christian theology. As students move through the curriculum, they are challenged to discern God's call on their lives and to apply what they are learning to the ministries in which they are engaged. For student-learning outcomes, see the page for each individual program.

Application and Admission Process

Admission Requirements

Each of our graduate programs seeks students who are currently involved in a church and/or Christian organization, as well as those who desire a deeper knowledge and understanding of Christian theology. Applicants must have completed a bachelor's degree with a 3.0 or higher GPA from a regionally accredited institution. Prior graduate coursework may also be considered if an applicant's GPA is below 3.0.

If the applicant's academic record does not demonstrate graduate-level academic ability, further evidence of academic ability may be required.

A student's application is complete when we have received the following:

- a completed application

- two professional recommendations
- official college/university transcripts
- a personal essay of up to 600 words
- a writing sample of up to 1,000 words
- a current CV

For further details, and to apply online, go to www.whitworth.edu/theologyma. Information not submitted online should be sent directly to the following address:

Graduate Studies in Theology
Whitworth University
300 W. Hawthorne Road
Spokane, WA 99251

An on-campus interview is required prior to or following submission of all application documents. Call 509.777.3222 to schedule an appointment.

Transfer Credit

Whitworth will accept applicable graduate work transferred from regionally accredited institutions or institutions accredited by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) in the United States or Canada. For institutions without regional accreditation, transfer credit will be considered if the credibility of the institution can be supported by the "three-letter rule," which states that it is the responsibility of the student to provide letters from three regionally accredited institutions certifying that they will accept credit from the institution from which the student is seeking credit.

Admission Criteria

The following criteria will be considered in the admission-decision process: undergraduate academic record, personal interview, quality of writing samples, professional recommendations, and involvement in churches and/or Christian organizations. Applicants will be notified of their admission status by the graduate studies office once all documents are received and reviewed by the admissions committee.

Description

The MA(T) program prepares Christians for theologically informed service in a wide variety of fields. Students pursuing this degree are often intrinsically motivated lay leaders within their churches or within other, non-profit organizations. These students desire graduate level training in the classical disciplines of bible, theology, and church history, as well as the flexibility to take elective courses in a range of sub-disciplines.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the MA(T) will be able to:

- Analyze the biblical writings in terms of their historical, literary, and theological contexts; critically appropriate those interpretations for contemporary life and ministry.
- Analyze the major events, movements and figures in church history; evaluate how this history can influence and form the contemporary church.
- Analyze the fundamental themes of Christian theology in their development and interrelationship; evaluate ways these themes can transform thinking and living.
- Accurately read texts, and clearly and cogently argue a point of view.
- Develop a basic understanding of the content of several sub-disciplines in theology; and create a plan for implementing them in everyday life.

Description

The MA(CM) program combines rigorous academic preparation and vocational training. The students drawn to this degree are often pursuing full time service in a range of ministries centered both on a traditional, Christian community and chaplaincy. In addition to a classical program of theological study, these students require special preparation in the practical ministries of preaching, leadership, pastoral care and worship.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the MA(CM) will be able to:

- Analyze the biblical writings in terms of their historical, literary, and theological contexts; critically appropriate those interpretations for contemporary life and ministry.
- Analyze the major events, movements and figures in church history; evaluate how this history can influence and form the contemporary church.
- Analyze the fundamental themes of Christian theology in their development and interrelationship; evaluate ways these themes can transform thinking and living.
- Accurately read texts, and clearly and cogently argue a point of view.
- Develop a basic understanding of the fundamental practices of pastoral ministry; and create a plan for effective implementation in concrete situations.

Description

The MA(MC) program trains Christian leaders to respond with theological depth and cultural understanding to God's mission to the world. Students pursuing this degree are often church-planters, leaders in non-profit organizations, and pastors working specifically at the boundary line between church and world. In addition to a classical program of theological study, they require special preparation in the particular skills of missional awareness, contextual reflection, and public engagement.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the MA(MC) will be able to:

- Analyze the biblical writings in terms of their historical, literary, and theological contexts; critically appropriate those interpretations for contemporary life and ministry.
- Analyze the major events, movements and figures in church history; evaluate how this history can influence and form the contemporary church.
- Analyze the fundamental themes of Christian theology in their development and interrelationship; evaluate ways these themes can transform thinking and living.
- Accurately read texts, and clearly and cogently argue a point of view.
- Develop a basic understanding of mission strategies in light of our cultural contexts; and create an effective model of cultural engagement or church planting.

Courses

THG 501 Christian Leadership 1

This course will introduce the M.A. in Theology program by focusing on the way in which Christ's values provide a leadership template for Christian leaders. We will also look at the ways in which the most successful 21st century organizations are structured and led.

THG 509 New Testament Greek I 4

The basic vocabulary and grammar required for reading the Greek New Testament. An intensive course. Fall semester, odd years.

THG 510 History of Christianity I: Great Tradition 3

The history, thought, and practices of the Christian church from its beginning to the dawn of the Reformation, with special attention given to pastoral, ecclesiastical, and cultural issues. Summer offering.

THG 512 New Testament Greek II 4

Translation of the Epistles of John and selected passages from the Gospel of John in Greek. An intensive course. Prerequisite: THG 509. Spring semester.

THG 515 Christian Theology 3

An examination of all the major topics of Christian theology. Attention will be given to the core content of each doctrine, the coherence of the doctrines with one another, and the practical implications of the gospel in the lives of individuals, the church, and the world.

THG 518 Greek Reading and Exegesis I Tradition 3

This course develops proficiency in the grammar and vocabulary of Koine Greek through the reading of a variety of Greek texts, particularly in the New Testament, and it introduces students to the fundamentals of New Testament exegesis. Prerequisite: THG-512. Fall semester, even years.

THG 519 Greek Reading and Exegesis II 3

Continuation of THG-518. Prerequisite: THG-518. Spring semester, odd years.

THG 520 History of Christianity II: Reform and Renewal 3

The history, thought, and practices of the Christian church from the beginning of the Reformation to the present, with special emphasis on church reform and spiritual renewal.

THG 525 Leadership in the Christian Community 3

The foundational premise behind this course is that the leaders' own personal journey of faith and their own continued growth in emotional, mental, and spiritual health is the most critical component in responding to challenging ministry realities in our rapidly changing world. In this course, we will look at some of the seminal issues facing ministry leaders and the communities they serve today, and some of the personal attributes and ministry skills that are necessary to survive and thrive over the long haul.

THG 530 Christian Spirituality 3

This course will explore the nature of Christian Spirituality by focusing on the way in which various spiritual disciplines apply today. We will also look at the ways in which Christians of the past and present followed Christ and put in practice God's Word.

THG 535 Biblical Exegesis for Ministry 3

This graduate level course in Theology will explore the various genre of scripture (narrative, history, poetry, parable, exhortation, teaching, and pastoral guidance) in order to discern the precise interpretive tools required to understand each type of literature in its original historical form and context. This course serves as prerequisite for the course "Preaching and Teaching the Bible," in which contemporary application and proclamation will be considered. Spring semester, odd years.

THG 540 Life of Jesus and the Early Church 3

This course introduces students to the significance of the gospels for preaching, catechesis, and life in Christ by examining the genre of gospel literature, the formation of the four-fold gospel tradition, the unique characteristics and purpose of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, and the early missionary outreach of the church, as recorded in the Book of Acts.

THG 541 Biblical Hebrew I 3

An introduction to Biblical Hebrew study within a ministerial context, including vocabulary, grammar, and syntax, for the purpose of reading narrative texts from the Hebrew Bible. Fall semester, even years.

THG 542 Biblical Hebrew II 3

An introduction to Biblical Hebrew, including vocabulary, grammar, and syntax, for the purpose of reading narrative texts from the Hebrew Bible. Spring semester, odd years.

THG 543 Hebrew Reading & Exegesis I (narrative) 2-3

This course, the first of a two-semester sequence, presupposes the knowledge of the fundamentals of biblical Hebrew grammar and is intended to enable students to gain greater mastery over the vocabulary, syntax and grammar of biblical Hebrew and to introduce them to the fundamentals of exegesis of the Hebrew Bible (Old Testament), including textual criticism, literary analysis, and theological interpretation. Prerequisites: THG 541 and THG 542.

THG 544 Hebrew Reading & Exegesis II (poetry) 2-3

This course, the second of a two-semester sequence, presupposes the knowledge of the fundamentals of biblical Hebrew grammar and experience in translating and interpreting biblical Hebrew narrative. The course is intended to enable students to continue to develop in their mastery of the vocabulary, syntax and grammar of biblical Hebrew and to introduce them to the fundamentals of exegesis of the Hebrew Bible (Old Testament), including textual criticism, literary analysis, and theological interpretation. In this semester, students will be introduced to the issues involved in translating biblical Hebrew poetry. Prerequisite: THG 541, THG 542 and THG 543, or the equivalent.

THG 545 New Testament Theology 3

Focused attention on the dominant theological contours of the New Testament, its literary genre, the historical context in which Jesus and the early Church ministered, as well as the development of exegetical skills. A consistent emphasis throughout will be the potential of the New Testament witness to transform Christian life and thought.

THG 550 New Testament Letters 3

A careful study of Paul's Letters, Hebrews, the General Epistles, and Revelation, focused on the content, distinctive emphases, and theology of each letter, and its potential to transform Christian living and thinking today; development of exegetical and hermeneutical skills.

THG 560 Old Testament Theology 3

The literature of the Old Testament, the history of Israel, critical issues and method in Old Testament study, and the theology of the Old Testament with an emphasis on covenant as an integrative theme and as anticipatory of Jesus Christ.

THG 565 Pastoral Care in a Faith Community 3

This course equips students for ministries of compassion and caregiving. We will examine the varieties of struggles and illnesses common to our time and culture, and seek to apply the rich resources of the Christian tradition and the Church to the task of fostering healing and wholeness for those in our care. Through a combination of Biblical and theological perspectives, as well as the insights of modern psychology, students will gain a holistic understanding of the task of pastoral care. Jan Term, even years.

THG 567 Mission-Shaped Church: The Church in Post-Christendom 3

Students will learn to analyze our postmodern, pluralist American context with the goal of developing a more faithful witness. Special consideration will be given to a biblical-theological rationale for the existence of the church as well as tensions between Christendom and missional models of its life.

THG 570 Christianity & Culture 3

This course helps students develop an understanding of the notion of "culture", especially in terms of postmodern culture, and its relationship to the Christian faith in order to better equip students for Christian ministry.

THG 572 Reasons for Faith 3

The course will consider the rational basis for belief in the gospel, in light of common critiques. Three topics will be given special attention: the existence of God, the reliability of the bible, and belief in Jesus Christ.

THG 574 Missional Perspectives of Global Christianity 3

The Global South has emerged as the center of evangelical Christianity. The purpose of this course is to understand that movement, its impact on how missions are conducted today, and how collaboration and partnership need to be redefined for tomorrow. Several pressing topics will be given special attention, including the Middle East migration crisis, the rise of fundamentalisms, and the moral challenge of sexual ethics. We will also hear from key mission practitioners abroad through live video interviews. Coursework will culminate in the creation of a ministry outreach methodology that is more adequate to today's globalized world.

THG 577 Theology in the Public Square 3

With Christendom now behind us, the American church has been given an urgent and exciting opportunity to re-think its presence in the public square. The purpose of this course, then, is to explore the uniqueness of the gospel. We will consider a Christian approach to human life and dignity; to community and its barriers; to excellent work and the freedom of genuine play. The goal of this graduate level course is not only to appreciate how the gospel illumines our world, but to develop our own strategies for creative engagement in our contexts.

THG 580 Teaching/Preaching the Bible 3

A study of effective communication in teaching and preaching the bible. Attention will be given to the nature of human communication, principles of teaching biblical texts, and the preparation and presentation of messages involving a variety of biblical genres. Prerequisite: THG 535.

THG 580A Teaching and Preaching the Bible: Theology

A study of effective communication in teaching and preaching the bible. Attention will be given to theological foundations, the nature of human communication, principles of teaching biblical texts, and the preparation of a Christian witness that is more winsome, effective and faithful. (See also THG-580B and C)

THG 580B Teaching and Preaching the Bible: Spirituality

A study of effective communication in teaching and preaching the bible. Attention will be given to theological foundations, the nature of human communication, principles of teaching biblical texts, and the preparation of a Christian witness that is more winsome, effective and faithful. (See also THG-580A and C)

THG 580C Teaching and Preaching the Bible: Performance

A study of effective communication in teaching and preaching the bible. Attention will be given to theological foundations, the nature of human communication, principles of teaching biblical texts, and the preparation of a Christian witness that is more winsome, effective and faithful. (See also THG-580A and B)

THG 586 Readings

THG 599A Master's Thesis

A master's thesis is aimed at development of scholarly competence and expertise on a particular topic of church history, Christian doctrine, or biblical studies. Students may register to complete the two parts of this project (THG-599A and THG-599B) within the same semester or across consecutive semesters.

THG 599B Master's Thesis

The second of two parts required for a thesis.

Whitworth Campus

The Aquatics Center houses a six-lane, 25-yard competition pool with a movable bulkhead.

Arend Hall houses 100 women and 74 men in single, double and triple rooms.

Auld House is home to Whitworth's human resource services and payroll offices.

Baldwin-Jenkins Hall is a freshman residence hall, with 84 residents living in Jenkins and 80 living in Baldwin. A common lounge area separates the two wings.

Ballard Hall, originally constructed in 1914, is a residence hall for 62 women and is the sister hall to McMillan.

Boppell Hall houses 84 mostly upper-division students in apartment-style suites that include two bedrooms, private bathrooms, and common living areas with kitchenettes and storage spaces.

Cowles Memorial Auditorium seats 1,250 people for lectures, theatre, dance, music performances and other events that take place throughout the year. The theatre department's offices are also located in this building.

The Cowles Music Center was expanded and renovated in 2016. This state-of-the-art facility features 21,000 square feet of new rehearsal spaces for choral and instrumental ensembles, teaching studios, practice rooms and faculty offices for the music department.

Diana Marks Field is home to Whitworth's softball team.

Dixon Hall serves as one of the university's primary classroom buildings. Offices for the Whitworth School of Education and the psychology department are located here.

Duvall Hall is home to 160 students, from all four class levels. Duvall features multi-bedroom units that house 6-10 students; each unit includes a private living room and bathroom.

Eileen Hendrick Hall houses the Whitworth Intercultural Center and the International Education Center.

The Eric Johnston Science Center is home to the offices of the physics and math & computer science departments. The building includes classrooms, labs, two greenhouses, a science library, and a recently renovated auditorium and lecture hall.

Graves Gymnasium houses kinesiology & athletics classes and a number of intramural activities. Some athletics coaches' offices are also located here.

Hardwick House is home to the office of alumni & parent relations and annual giving. Alumni are always encouraged to drop in!

Harriet Cheney Cowles Memorial Library, constructed in 1948, has been expanded twice and includes one classroom and four computer labs. The library's collection contains approximately 260,000 books, periodical volumes and digital holdings. A growing staff of reference librarians is on hand to help students find what they need.

Hawthorne Hall features seven classrooms and two computer labs. It also houses the offices of continuing studies, institutional advancement, university communications, and The Whitworth Foundation.

The Hixson Union Building is home to the campus bookstore, post office, Mind & Hearth Coffee House, café, dining hall, multipurpose room, The Whitworthian (student newspaper) office, Natsibi (yearbook) office, and Whitworth.fm, the university's online radio station. The HUB also houses offices for the Associated Students of Whitworth University, the student life division, student employment, educational-support services, career services, and residence life.

The Lied Center for the Visual Arts features teaching studios for ceramics and sculpture, drawing, mixed media, painting and printmaking, a computer-graphics laboratory, and the Cowles Student Gallery and Bryan Oliver Gallery.

The Lindaman Center houses the offices of the philosophy, sociology, political science and communication studies departments, as well as two computer labs.

McEachran Hall is home to the offices of the president, academic affairs, finance & administration, the registrar, student accounts and financial aid.

McMillan Hall is Whitworth's original building, built in 1913; it once housed all of the institution's classrooms, offices, dormitory rooms and the dining hall. "Mac" is now an all-male residence hall that is home to 83 men and is the brother hall to Ballard.

MacKay Hall houses the admissions office.

Omache Field covers 120,000 square feet and includes a 240 x 400-foot playing area for ultimate Frisbee, soccer, flag football, bubble ball and other intramural and recreational sports.

Paul Merkel Field, located behind the fieldhouse, is home to Whitworth's baseball team.

Oliver Hall is a 170-student residence hall that houses members from all four class levels in single, double and triple rooms. The three-story building features unique common areas, large-group and small-group meeting spaces, and study areas.

The Pine Bowl, where Whitworth's football and track & field teams practice and compete, also includes Boppell Track, an all-weather facility.

Robinson Science Hall, dedicated in fall 2011, houses the biology, chemistry and health science departments and encompasses three floors with classrooms, state-of-the-art laboratories, instrumentation and research facilities.

Schumacher Hall houses the Whitworth Health & Counseling Services Center.

The Scotford Strength Center is the strength and conditioning facility for varsity athletics.

The Scotford Tennis Center/Cutter Tennis Courts includes six courts – three outdoor and three indoor – in an inflated "tennis bubble."

Seely G. Mudd Chapel is the venue for Tuesday- and Thursday-morning community worship and for evening student-led services that take place weekly throughout the academic year. It also is home to the chaplain's staff and to various programs provided by staff members and by student ministry leaders.

The Soccer Complex houses the field for men's and women's soccer along with a pressbox shared with the softball field.

Stewart Hall is a co-ed freshman residence hall with four-person, suite-style rooms.

Tacoma Hall houses the Marriage & Family Therapy Wellness Center and the Northwest Autism Center.

The University Recreation Center (U-Rec), opened in 2013, includes three basketball courts, a large cardio and weight-training room, an elevated track, a rock-climbing and bouldering facility, and the outdoor recreation office.

The Village consists of three residential buildings that offer students a home-like experience in mostly single rooms.

Warren Hall is the largest of Whitworth's residence halls, with 220 residents in three separate wings, each of which has its own student character.

Westminster Hall is home to the department offices for English, world languages & cultures, theology, and kinesiology & athletics.

Weyerhaeuser Hall serves as one of Whitworth's primary classroom buildings and is home to the Whitworth School of Business and the history department. The Weyerhaeuser Center for Christian Faith & Learning, the student investment club trading room, and the Dornsife Center for Community Engagement are also housed here.

The Whitworth Fieldhouse is the venue for basketball and volleyball games and practices; it also houses batting and pitching cages, a ballet loft, and indoor track & field facilities. The James P. Evans Athletic Training Center is also located in the fieldhouse.

AREND HALL

Constructed in 1957 and remodeled in 1986, Arend Hall (named in honor of Albert Arend, Whitworth trustee from 1925-84) houses 93 women and 70 men on three floors.

BALDWIN-JENKINS HALL

Baldwin-Jenkins, named for Estella E. Baldwin, registrar from 1935-70, and Marion R. Jenkins, dean of women from 1931-63, is predominantly a freshman residence hall. Eighty-nine residents live in Jenkins and 71 live in Baldwin; a common lounge separates the two wings. Baldwin-Jenkins was built in 1968.

BALLARD HALL

Built in 1914, Ballard Hall burned to the ground in 1927 and was rebuilt and reopened in 1928. Named for W. R. Ballard, university trustee from 1892-1912, this hall was originally an all-male dormitory. It is now a residence hall for 66 women and is the sister hall to McMillan (see below).

BOPPELL HALL

Constructed in 2001, Boppell Hall houses 84 female upper-division students (sophomore through senior) in apartment-style suites that include two bedrooms, private bathrooms, and common living areas with kitchenettes and storage spaces. The residence hall is named in honor of former longtime chair of the Whitworth University Board of Trustees Charles "Chuck" Boppell, '65, and his wife, Karlyn, '67. Chuck is a recent winner of the university's highest prize, The George F. Whitworth Medal.

DUVALL HALL

Dedicated in fall 2006, Duvall houses 160 students representing all four classes. Its unique three-to five-bedroom "pods" house 6-10 students per unit. Each pod includes its own private living room and bathroom. The hall is named in honor of the late R. Fenton Duvall, beloved and highly respected Whitworth professor emeritus of history, who served the university from 1949-81.

McMILLAN HALL

Constructed in 1914 and remodeled in 1987, McMillan Hall is Whitworth's original building, which once housed all classrooms, offices, dormitory rooms, and the dining hall. At one time a female dorm, then a co-ed facility after the fire in which Ballard Hall was destroyed, "Mac" is now an all-male residence hall and the brother hall to Ballard. Named for the Rev. Hugh H. McMillan, Whitworth trustee from 1907-31, the hall houses 83 men.

OLIVER HALL

Oliver Residence Hall, completed in 2009, is a 170-bed facility that houses all four class levels in single, double and triple rooms. The three-story building features unique common spaces, large- and small-group meeting spaces, and study spaces. Oliver Hall was named for Walter Oliver, '67, former chair of the board of trustees, to honor his rich legacy of support for Whitworth.

STEWART HALL

Constructed in 1963 and remodeled in 1988, Stewart was named in honor of the Rev. Calvin W. Stewart, Whitworth president from 1890-98. Stewart Hall houses 35 men and 35 women in four-person, suite-style rooms. Like Baldwin-Jenkins, Stewart houses only first-year students.

THE VILLAGE

The Village, constructed in 1972, comprises three 20-student residence halls – Akili, Shalom, and Tiki – that offer first-year students a homelike experience. Most of the rooms are singles.

WARREN HALL

Constructed in 1952 and 1963 and remodeled in 1989, Warren is named in honor of Frank Warren, Whitworth's longest-serving president (1940-63) and one of its most beloved leaders. The building that bears his name is divided into three wings: East, South and West. Warren Hall is home to more than 200 students.

THEME HOUSES

Whitworth's extensive theme-house program provides juniors and seniors with varied living environments and leadership opportunities. Each residence is based on a proposal submitted by groups of students who then live in the house and host educational and/or service-oriented programs.
