The world without a gender lens

The world with a gender lens

What is the problem of thinking gender as women?

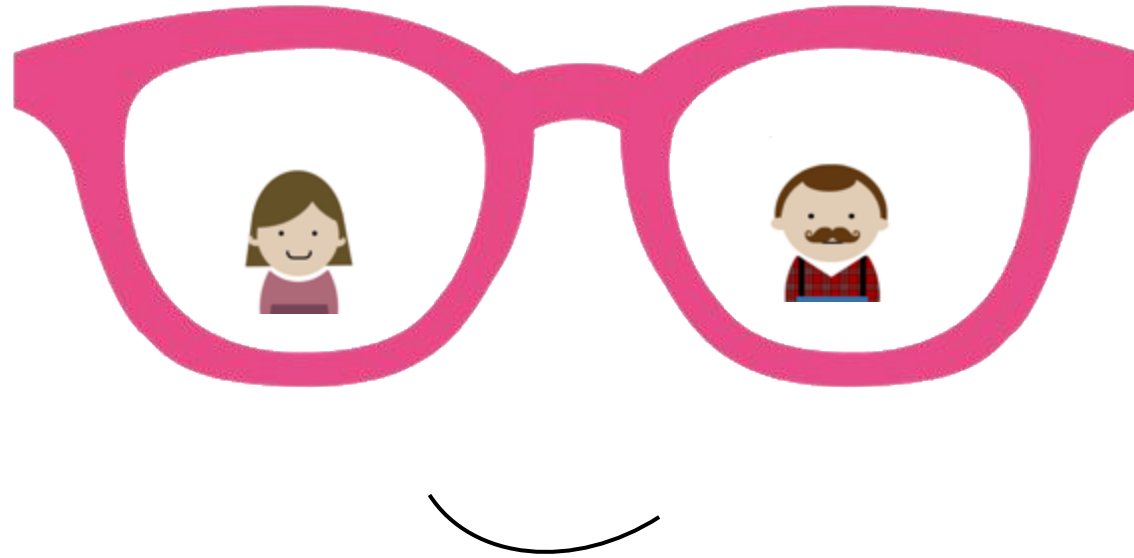

See the issue as individuals'
instead of structural problems

Support already advantaged women

Let's look at research questions with a gender lens

It helps us to have much deeper understandings of the problem you address

Research questions on food systems

- What are deltaic production systems? Are they nutritious?

Research questions with a gender lens

- How differently are women and men involved in deltaic production systems?
- Which crop production systems do poor and marginalized men and women depend on, and why?

Mangrove forests are particularly important as nutrition-rich food sources for ethnic minority women and their children.

Research questions on food consumption

- What are food consumption patterns in the delta region ?

Research questions with a gender lens

- How do food consumption patterns differ by gender, ethnicity and generation and why ?

Research questions on policy analysis?

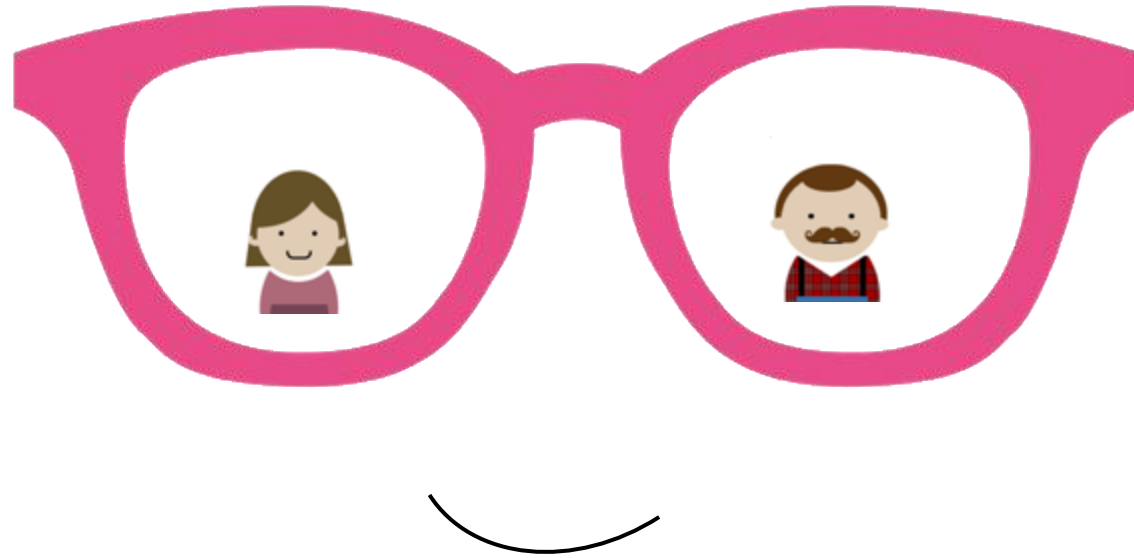

- What are priorities discussed in national food policies?

Research questions with a gender lens

- How far do the issues of inequality addressed in national food policies?
- Does the national strategy offer different recommendations for specific groups by gender, ethnicity and generation?
