ABOUT ALUMNI

News of the Activities of Alumni Gathered by the Editors.

C. G. Haines, '05, Ph. D., of Whitman College, Washington, once a member of the faculty of Ursinus College, has been appointed by the American Political Science Association, chairman of a committee of seven to investigate the teaching of government in schools and colleges in the United States.

Garry Myers, '09, who had been specializing in philosophy at Columbian University, is ably filling the chair of Psychology in Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Charles L. Maurer, '12, was married on December 28, 1912, to Miss Besse Helwig, of Catawissa, Pa. Mr. Maurer, who entered college in 1910 with advanced standing from Bloomsburg State Normal school, is at present supervising principal of the Hickorytown schools and is also taking graduate work in history and sociology at the University of Pennsylvania toward an A. M. degree.

Glatfelter, '12, who had been serving as substitute, has secured a regular position as an instructor in history and geology in York high school.

The Physical Review contains an article in the November number, entitled "An Oscillographic Study of the Singing Arc," giving simultaneous oscillographic records of the acoustic as well as the potential and current oscillations in the arc. The article was contributed by Dr. John E. Hoyt, '04, of the faculty of Drexel Institute, as a record of some of his research work at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Hoyt is also one of the editors of a new text on Experimental Physics just published by the Physics Department of Drexel Institute, at the same time writing a syllabus on "Electricity and Magnetism" for the use of Engineering students of Drexel Institute, which he expects to publish soon in book form.

A large representation of the alumni of Ursinus were in attendance upon the meetings of the State Educational Association at Harrisburg during the holidays.

Dr. Omwake left for Harrisburg, Saturday, to attend the annual meeting of the Association of College Presidents.

Ralph W. Schlosser, who received his A. B. in 1911, is on the faculty of Elizabethtown College and also acts as editor of the college monthly.

Bush, one of the varsity pitchers of the 1912 season, has been signed by the Elmira Baseball Club of the New York State League.

Horten, ex-'13, pitched for the Jacksonville team during the 1912 season, which team won the pennant in the Southern Atlantic League.

SOCIETY NOTES

Schaff

The first of the inter-class debates took place in Schaff on Friday night. The debate was between the Freshmen and Sophomores on the question, "Resolved, that judges be subject to the recall." The affirmative side was debated by Singley, '15, Beltz, '15, and Vogel, '15. The negative side was supported by Light, '16, Gingrich, '16, and Yeatts, '16. The speakers did well and the debate as a whole was the best the society has had this year. The arguments of the negative side, defended by the Freshmen, secured the decision of the judges and the house decided in the same way. The other numbers on the program included a chorus with Miss Klein as leader, a piano solo by Miss Peters and an interesting Gazette by Elicker. The next inter-class debate will be between the Seniors and Juniors and will be held on Feb. 21.

Zwinglian

After the Christmas recess Zwinglian again opened her doors on Friday evening to resume the literary work. The debate although rather a broad subject, was well discussed by both the affirmative and the negative. The question, "Resolved, that the Federal government should be strengthened," was ably upheld on the negative by Messrs. Grater, Yingst and Glendenning; while Messrs. Mulford, Matlack and Pink put up a winning argument for the affirmative.

Other numbers on the program were a vocal solo by Mr. Wetzel, a piano duet by Messrs Kershner and Derr, and the Zwinglian Review.

The society was pleased to welcome as an active member Mr. Preston Sellers, of Greencastle, Pa.

Field Cage Progress.

Since the holiday season, work has been started on the interior of the building. It was decided not to engage actively in basket-ball this year owing to the late start. The cage is being levelled and a cinder track will be put in, thus offering opportunity for indoor track and base ball practice, both of which will be started in the near future.

Mr. Wasser Married.

Chas. R. Wasser, formerly superintendent of the arts and crafts department of Ursinus College, was married last month to Miss Florence E. Yohe, of Reigelsville, N. J. The ceremony was performed in New York City.

Mr. Wasser was a graduate of the Williamson Trade School. His work at Ursinus during the several years he had charge of the craft department was highly satisfactory.

William Moore, '07 who is a lecturer in the Entomology School of Agriculture in Potschefstrom, South Africa, has published a text-book on "South African Insect Pests," which is used in the local schools.

OUT THERE AT URSINUS.

(Given by Mr. Ebert at the Football Banquet, Dec. 18, 1912.)

Out where the hand clasps a little stronger

Out where a smile dwells a little longer

Out there at Ursinus.

Out where the sun is a little brighter
Where the snows that fall are a trifle whiter

Where the bonds of home are a wee bit tighter

That's where Collegeville begins.

Out where the skies are a trifle bluer
Out where friendship's a little truer

Out there at Ursinus.

Out where a fresher breeze is blowing
Where there's laughter in every streamlet flowing

Where there's more of reaping and less of sowing

That's where Collegeville begins.

Out at Ursinus the College for all
Where the boys study hard, and as hard they play ball

Out there at Ursinus.

Where the Thompson's and Gay, Yoh Gerges and Quay

From the time of the kick-off, are in every play

And always bring victory at the close of the day

That's where Collegeville begins.

Out where a world is in the making
Where fewer hearts with despair are aching

Out there at Ursinus.

Where there's more of singing and less of sighing

Where there's more of giving and less of buying

Where a man makes friends without half trying

That's where Collegeville begins.

English-Historical Group.

The regular monthly meeting of the group was held Wednesday night at Olevian Hall. The subject for the evening's discussion was China. Miss Hallman read a paper on the "Customs of China." Mr. Myers portrayed the transition of China from an empire to a republic. A talk on education in China by Miss Sigafoss and musical numbers finished the program.

Lecture Course Number.

On Wednesday evening Dr. A. W. Lamar will give a lecture on "Dixie Before the War." Dr. Lamar is himself a veteran of the Confederate army in the Civil war. After the war he took an active part in the reconstruction of the South. A lecture of this nature should attract a large audience.

1915 Class Hats.

The male members of the Sophomore class secured their hats during the past week. This addition to the local scenery consists of hats of a red and blue combination on which a modest '15 may be seen.

DR. OMWAKE GETS

PRESS NOTICE

The Philadelphia North American Publishes President's Remarks on Books.

The North American of January 11, 1913, gave Dr. Omwake's remarks on "Why People Should Own and Read Books" a prominent place on their pages devoted to Review of Books, as one of a series of short talks on the same subject by prominent men. The article was accompanied by Dr. Omwake's photograph and signature. It follows in full:

"The famous Alcuin looked upon the great chained volumes in the old cathedral library at York in his day of literary darkness and modestly penned these lines:

"There thou shalt find the volumes that contain

All the ancient fathers who remain;
There all the Latin writers make their home

With those that glorious Greece transferred to Rome—

The Hebrews draw from their celestial stream,

And Africa is bright with learning's stream."

"We can imagine the pious regard with which this refined scholar of medieval times communed with his beloved "masters of old lore," as he was pleased to call them.

"In the busy world of our day we do well to have a quiet corner somewhere to which we may go at times and clothe ourselves with the spirit of Alcuin—a kind of holy of holies, beyond the reading table with its papers and magazines, beyond the common library with its shelves of vari-colored volumes, good and bad—an unfrequented place where the master minds of the ages, past and present, philosophers, poets, scientists, stand in immortal dignity and grace. To spend an hour here is to have an experience akin to prayer.

EDITORIAL

Once again it is necessary to condemn and at the same time make known our shame resulting from a repetition of an act of vandalism such as occurred on Hallowe'en of last fall and again on Wednesday night.

The so-called "stacking" of the library is not a mere prank. It would be ordinarily called malicious mischief and classed as a crime and would be punishable with a jail sentence. It is not a mere unproved statement to say that the student-body of the college desire the offender or offenders brought to justice and expelled from the college whose laws they have broken. It is not only an offense against the college, but it is an offense against the students themselves for they are the ones who must suffer both by loss of the use of the library for some time and by the evil reputation cast upon the student body were such deeds to be perpetrated at times.

Ursinus has a high reputation in scholarship, athletics and other lines, among eastern colleges and to mount to this position in her short life has been an achievement of some note. Such deeds as the one which just occurred serve to lower the standard of the institution and should not, if in any way possible, be allowed to occur.

* * * *

The coming of the mid-year examinations brings to our attention the possibility of instituting the honor system in our college. In the small colleges it has not been adopted to any great extent, being considered unnecessary and uncalled for. In others it has been enacted and has produced better results than the former method. The larger universities have seen the need of such a system and have been more eager to adopt it. Among these institutions are mentioned Yale,

Princeton, Cornell, Wisconsin, Chicago, Penn State, and Washington and Jefferson College. At all of these institutions and others the honor system has been a success and has proved to be the best way to procure honesty in examinations.

It would be well to consider whether such a system would be a success in our college. The Student Board of Control of the University of Pittsburg recently recommended to the faculty an honor system of examinations, which if changed to meet the needs and conditions of Ursinus could possibly be utilized to our advantage. To bring the question to your attention we give space to the plan proposed by the Western University.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. All examinations in this school shall be conducted under the honor system.

Sec. 2. On taking an examination the instructor puts the student on his own honor in regard to honesty.

Sec. 3. A student taking the examination as long as he finishes examination in allotted time, is allowed to leave the room or converse with others, providing questions pertaining to the examination are not discussed.

Sec. 4. When the examination is finished the student must write the following pledge on his examination paper and sign his name:

"I do hereby pledge myself as a gentleman that I did not give nor receive any help during this examination."

Signed.....

ARTICLE II

Section 1. Failure to comply with the honor system shall be reported to the senate of the school.

Sec. 2. The senate shall have power to summon any student before it and to conduct such investigations as it may deem just and proper.

Sec. 3. Upon any investigation held before the senate any member of the faculty may be requested to attend as a witness or to aid the senate in such matters.

Sec. 4. The senate shall have power to discipline or dismiss any student, subject to the approval of the dean, if any appeal be taken.

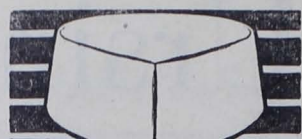

JOINT MEETING OF Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Webb gave a timely and interesting talk at the joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening. Choosing as her subject, "The Christmas Message Applied to Daily Life," she said, in brief:

We have just returned from observing the birthday of our Savior, and from hearing again the Christmas message. As we stand at the beginning of a new year, let us consider how best we may help bring about this "peace on earth, and good-will toward men."

May the new year bring us a revelation of our duty! Most of us mistakenly think of duty as a sort of dragon; but it need not be unpleasant if our mental attitude toward it is right. It has been well said, that "duty is the realization and acceptance of the thing which lies next at hand to do." We must do to-day the duties of the day, for putting off to-day's work is stealing from to-morrow.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, by the will of Almighty God in H's infinite wisdom and grace, the mother of our fellow-member, Benjamin H. Kell, has been called from her family and duties in life to the Great Beyond,

Be it Resolved that the Zwinglian Literary Society express its sympathy for our fellow-member in his hour of sorrow, that copies of this resolution be sent to the bereaved family, be printed in the Ursinus Weekly, and be recorded in the minutes of the society.

Whereas, it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from this world, by death, the mother of B. H. Kell, therefore

Resolved, that it is with feelings of profound sorrow that we are called upon to mourn the death of a mother so dear to our fellow classmate.

Resolved, that we sincerely condole with our fellow classmate on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict him, and commend him for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to our bereaved classmate, be published in The Ursinus Weekly, and be entered upon the minutes of the class.

Marlin Big Game REPEATING RIFLES

The Special Smokeless Steel barrel, rifled deep on the Ballard system, creates perfect combustion, develops highest velocity and hurls the bullet with utmost accuracy and mightiest killing impact.

The mechanism is direct-acting, strong, simple and perfectly adjusted. It never clogs. The protecting wall of solid steel between your head and cartridge keeps rain, sleet, snow and all foreign matter from getting into the action. The side ejection throws shells away from line of sight and allows instant repeat shots always. New .33-caliber now ready.

Built in perfect proportion throughout, in many high power calibres, it is a quick handling, powerful, accurate gun for all big game.

Every hunter should know all the Marlin characteristics. The Marlin Firearms Co. Send for our free catalog. Enclose 3 stamps for postage. 42 Willow Street New Haven, Conn.

If you shoot a rifle, pistol or shotgun, you should have a copy of the Ideal Hand Book—160 pages of useful information for shooters. It tells all about powders, bullets, primers and reloading tools for all standard rifle, pistol and shotgun ammunition; how to measure powders accurately; shows you how to cut your ammunition expense in half and do more and better shooting. This book is free to any shooter who will send three stamps postage to The Marlin Firearms Co., 42 Willow St., New Haven, Conn.
