2022 COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

VANESSA E. WYCHE

Director of NASA's Johnson Space Center

Honorary Doctor of Science

Vanessa E. Wyche, a native of Conway, S.C., is the director of NASA's Johnson Space Center, home to America's astronaut corps, Mission Control Center, International Space Station, Orion and Gateway programs, and its more than 10,000 civil service and contractor employees. She is responsible for overseeing a broad range of human spaceflight activities, including development and operation of human spacecraft, commercialization of low-Earth orbit, and Johnson's role in landing the first woman and first person of color on the surface of the Moon.

Wyche previously served as deputy director at Johnson, a position she held since 2018. Other key leadership positions include: assistant and acting deputy director of Johnson; director of the Exploration Integration and Science Directorate; flight manager of several missions of the retired Space Shuttle Program; executive officer in the Office of the NASA Administrator; and leader of additional center-level technical and program organizations. Before joining NASA in 1989, Wyche worked for the Food and Drug Administration in Washington, D.C.

Wyche earned a Bachelor of Science in engineering and Master of Science in bioengineering from Clemson University. In recognition of her contributions to the engineering profession, she was inducted into the Thomas Green Clemson Academy of Engineers and Scientists at Clemson University in 2019.

Wyche is a passionate promoter of science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM), and serves as a member of Clemson University's College of Engineering, Computing and Applied Sciences advisory board, the University of Houston's C. T. Bauer College of Business advisory panel, and the Houston Exponential board of directors. Wyche is a past chair of the Space Center Houston board of directors. She is the recipient of two NASA Outstanding Leadership Medals, two NASA Achievement Medals, and a fellow of the International Women's Forum.

Wyche is married to George Wyche Jr. Esq, and has one son, George Wyche III.

RETIRING FACULTY

J. RALPH BYINGTON

Distinguished Professor/Dean/Provost/EVP Emeritus

Ralph Byington joined CCU as a professor of accounting and dean of the E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration in 2010. While at the University, he also served as interim provost, provost and senior vice president for academic and student affairs, and provost and executive vice president. As provost and executive vice president from July 2015 to early 2019, he served on the President's Council, chaired the Executive Council, and was responsible for the operations of the academic colleges and numerous administrative units.

During his tenure as Wall College dean, a Master of Accountancy program was launched, four new undergraduate concentrations were introduced in the college's management program, the MBA program was restructured, and a state-of-the-art investments lab was opened.

Prior to joining the CCU administration, Byington served as the dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of South Carolina-Aiken, and interim dean, associate dean, and founding director of the School of Accountancy at Georgia Southern University.

Byington has been involved with the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB International), including serving as vice chair and chair of the Initial Accreditation Committee. He was awarded the title Governor Emeritus by Beta Gamma Sigma, the international honor society that serves business programs accredited by AACSB. His publications include more than 130 journal articles, book chapters, newsletter items, and proceedings.

Byington earned bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Southern Mississippi and a Ph.D. in accounting from the University of Arkansas. He is a licensed CPA.

JOHN A. GOODWIN

Distinguished Professor Emeritus

John Goodwin joined the CCU faculty in 1996 and served as a professor of chemistry in the Gupta College of Science. He taught general chemistry, inorganic chemistry, and quantitative analytical chemistry.

In Spring 2019, he served as a visiting professor of chemistry at Auckland University of Technology in New Zealand, where he studied the cobalt center of vitamin B12. As an inorganic chemist, Goodwin has investigated model cobalt compounds of vitamin B12 through the years at CCU, engaging many undergraduates in research projects.

Goodwin has 34 peer-reviewed publications, which reflect the work of the University's students and collaborators at CCU, Clemson University, University of South Carolina, University of South Florida, and the Institute for Molecular Structure in Yerevan, Armenia. His grant funding highlights included a $797,000 grant from the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education for educational technology and faculty training, obtained in collaboration with Sharon Thompson, Ph.D., distinguished professor emeritus of health promotion. He has also conducted both chemical education and laboratory research through support from the National Science Foundation.

Goodwin earned two bachelor's degrees (chemistry and music performance) from Transylvania University in Kentucky and a Ph.D. in inorganic chemistry from Rice University.

RETIRING FACULTY

J. KAY KEELS

Distinguished Professor Emeritus

Kay Keels joined the CCU faculty in 2005 and served as a professor of management and decision sciences in the E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration. She taught the strategic management capstone course during her tenure and was instrumental in its development. In 2016, she earned the college's Vereen Teaching Impact Award, which recognizes a professor who sustains a high standard of teaching.

Keels' background includes teaching at the elementary, middle, and high school levels, and at the University of South Carolina, Louisiana State University, Emory University, and Brenau University. During her six years as a high school teacher in West Columbia, S.C., she also coached basketball, tennis, track, and bowling.

Born and raised in Florence and Darlington counties in South Carolina, Keels earned a bachelor's degree in special education from Columbia College, a master's degree in recreation administration from the University of Georgia, a Ph.D. in business administration from the University of South Carolina, and a Master of Divinity in theology from Emory University. She was ordained in the United Methodist Church and has served as a pastoral leader for many wedding and memorial services.

WILLIAM B. KING

Professor Emeritus

William King joined the CCU faculty in 1992 and served as an associate professor of psychology in the Gupta College of Science. He taught courses in physiological psychology, statistics, research methods, animal behavior, behavior genetics, and human neuropsychology. He has conducted research on conditioned taste aversion, and on the effects of amphetamines and LSD on social behavior. His academic interests are in methods of teaching undergraduate statistics using open-source computer software.

King holds professional memberships in the American Statistical Association and the Society for Neuroscience. Prior to coming to CCU, he taught at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville, East Stroudsburg University, and the University of South Florida. His hobbies include chess, genealogy and local history, bird watching, fiction writing, and reading.

King earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Ohio State University, and a Ph.D. in physiological psychology from the University of California, Los Angeles.

GREGORY L. KRIPPEL

Distinguished Professor Emeritus

Gregory KrippeL joined the CCU faculty in 1994 and served as a professor of accounting in the E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration. His tenure included serving as chair of the D. Wyatt Henderson Department of Accounting from 2014-2021. KrippeL's teaching interests included financial accounting, accounting information systems, and auditing, while his research examined financial accounting and pedagogical improvement in accounting.

He was instrumental in establishing the James F. Eason Endowed Professorship in Accounting, which has received donations in excess of $250,000. The position honors Eason's more than 35 years of dedication to the accounting department and its students. The professorship was awarded for the first time in Fall 2021 to Sheila Mitchell, a senior lecturer in the department.

KrippeL's first academic appointment was as an assistant professor of accounting at Auburn University from 1990-1994. His professional background also includes working for Arthur Andersen, Container Corporation of America, and Koch Carbon Inc.

KrippeL earned both a bachelor's degree in accounting and an MBA from the University of Oklahoma and a Ph.D. in accounting from Florida State University.

MICHAEL H. ROBERTS

Distinguished Dean Emeritus

Michael Roberts joined the CCU community in 2007 as a professor of biology and dean of the Gupta College of Science. During his tenure, he oversaw the development of several new academic programs, including five bachelor's degrees: health administration, biochemistry, nursing completion, engineering science, and information technology; two master's degrees: information security and data analytics, and sport management; and the University's first-ever Ph.D. degree: coastal and marine systems science.

Under his leadership, several science buildings were either built or renovated, and the college's enrollment grew from 1,800 full-time graduate and undergraduate students to more than 4,200 students, making the Gupta College the largest academic division at CCU. He also managed more than 250 faculty members and 45 staff members.

Roberts also served the University as vice president for research and emerging initiatives from June 2011 to December 2018. In addition to his work at CCU, Roberts was president of the 5th T Innovation Group, a nonprofit corporation that owned and operated the Conway and Georgetown innovation centers.

Prior to joining the CCU faculty, Roberts's academic career included stints at Clarkson University and Pace University.

He earned all three of his degrees in biology, including a bachelor's from Union College and both a master's and Ph.D. from the University of Virginia.

COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY TRADITIONS

The University Seal

The seal of Coastal Carolina University designates the founding year of the institution and associates the campus symbol, the Atheneum, with the coastal locale of the University. Bearing the Latin motto – Ex Libertate Veritas (from liberty, truth) – the seal refers to the Temple of Athene in ancient Athens where professors and students gathered. The Greek temple was named for Athena, the daughter of Zeus, who embodies wisdom and reason. The waves at the foot of the Atheneum acknowledge a diversified coastal environment encompassing a distinctive geography and history, a vital present, and an abundant future. The seal was commissioned by Trustee Oran P. Smith as a gift to celebrate the July 1, 1993, establishment of the University as an independent, public institution of higher education.

The University Logo

The identifying symbol of Coastal Carolina University captures the dynamic and traditional commitment of the University to teaching and learning. The Atheneum, constructed on the campus in 1966, is a recognized architectural symbol of a meeting place for persons engaged in literary and scientific pursuits. In the logo, the Atheneum is set against an undulating background that captures the energy and unbounded promise of the institution.

The University Medallion

As symbols of events and affiliations, medallions in academic regalia can be traced to religious orders during the Middle Ages. Since many orders, societies, and universities used similar designs – a circle, cross, or an oval – the detailed artwork in the center of the medallion was adopted to differentiate each affiliation. Colleges and universities traditionally use ceremonial and commemorative medallions for formal occasions such as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, when academic regalia is worn. To commemorate Coastal Carolina's status as an independent university, the institution's medallion was commissioned in 1994. The installation of President Ronald R. Ingle, on Oct. 22, 1994, was the first time the Coastal Carolina University medallion was publicly displayed.

The University Mace

The University mace, the symbol of the Coastal Carolina University community, attaches significance to important events of the academic calendar. Commissioned by the Horry County Higher Education Commission, the mace was designed and crafted by silversmith Alfred D. Ward and presented to the University in the spring of 1997. The mace is carried during official convocations of the University by the senior member of the faculty. When not being used for a convocation, the mace is on display in the boardroom of the E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration.

The three-dimensional, 48-inch staff is topped with a 22-karat gold-plate model of the campus symbol, the Atheneum. Modified relief seals of the University and engraved lettering embellish the sterling silver cup. Supported by a base of solid walnut, the stem of the mace is adorned with sterling silver shells, reflecting the coastal location of the University. On the base of the stem is an engraved seal of the state of South Carolina, representing the University's status as a public institution.

On the evening of July 23, 1954, a group of Horry County citizens met at the Horry County Memorial Library to discuss a daring proposal – the creation of a local college. These civic leaders were determined to improve the educational and economic profile of the area, and in less than two months – on Sept. 20 – Coastal Carolina Junior College held its first classes in the old Conway High School (enrollment: 53).

For its first four years, the new endeavor was sponsored by the College of Charleston. In 1958, Horry County voters approved a referendum levying a three-mill tax to fund the two-year college independently. Members of the college's governing board, the Coastal Educational Foundation, personally pledged funds to meet financial shortfalls.

From the beginning, Coastal Carolina has maintained a close, reciprocal relationship with the surrounding region, which during the past half-century has advanced from a primarily agricultural district into a major Atlantic coast resort. In 1959, the state's general assembly created the Horry County Higher Education Commission (HCHCEC), a regulatory body to manage the college's county tax money. For more than 60 years, the Coastal Educational Foundation and the HCHCEC have worked in concert to guide the University's endowment and fiscal policies.

In 1960, Coastal Carolina became a regional campus in the University of South Carolina (USC) system, the beginning of a 33-year affiliation. (The deal was finalized at the Chat & Chew restaurant in Turbeville, halfway between Conway and Columbia.) The following year, a site was chosen for a permanent campus.

The traditional Georgian architecture of the first campus structure, now the Edward M. Singleton Building, set the style for the new campus when it was completed in 1963. Enrollment was 110 that year, and it increased steadily during the 1960s. The present Clark and Marcia Parker Atheneum Hall Alumni Center was built in 1966, featuring the trademark symbol of the institution. In 1975, USC Coastal Carolina College awarded its first four-year bachelor's degrees, and the first residence halls opened in 1987.

By the end of the 1980s, enrollment had reached 4,000, and there were 175 full-time faculty members. In view of sustained growth and obvious potential, many supporters of the college believed that the time had come to consider leaving the USC system. In 1991, the HCHCEC voted to seek legislative approval to establish an independent Coastal Carolina University. This bold move, a watershed event in our history, was officially accomplished in 1993 when then Gov. Carroll Campbell signed the bill on the steps of the Edward M. Singleton Building.

Coastal Carolina's new status as an independent state university set the stage for a new era of growth and achievement. During the next decade, graduate courses were offered for the first time; new academic and residence buildings were added; the faculty increased in number and distinction; and the institution began attracting an increasingly diverse and gifted community of students.

In September 2003, the Chanticleers (our mascot, derived from The Canterbury Tales) won their inaugural football game in the brand-new Brooks Stadium. A founding member of the NCAA Division I Big South Conference, the Chanticleers have a proud history in 19 sports, winning the conference's Sasser Cup a total of 11 times.

In 2004, CCU celebrated its 50th anniversary. Enrollment reached 7,000 students, and the campus was expanding significantly, with properties now situated across U.S. 501 and S.C. 544 as well as its splendid 1,105-acre ocean research site on Waties Island.

In 2014, CCU established its first doctoral program - coastal and marine systems science. The enrollment milestone of 10,000 students was reached in Fall 2015.

CCU won its first-ever national championship on June 30, 2016, when the baseball program captured the NCAA College World Series title. The next day, Chanticleer Athletics officially joined the Sun Belt Conference, which also marked a move up to the Football Bowl Subdivision - the highest level in intercollegiate athletics. During Fall 2020 and 2021, the University gained tremendous national exposure thanks to the unprecedented success of the Chanticleer football program, which played in consecutive postseason bowl games - marked by a victory in 2021.

Coastal Carolina is the first institution in South Carolina to be recognized for meeting exceptional standards of inclusion by Strive for College.

On Jan. 1, 2021, Michael T. Benson began his tenure as the University's third president, assuming the role previously held by David A. DeCenzo, who retired after nearly 14 years of dedicated service at the helm. Among DeCenzo's many accomplishments were a $300 million building program, augmented by a local penny sales tax for education-related construction.

The University welcomed its largest-ever freshman class during Fall 2021 - 2,519 students. Total enrollment is 10,473.

Coastal Carolina offers baccalaureate degrees in 95 majors. Among the University's graduate-level programs are 27 master's degrees, two educational specialist degrees, and two doctoral programs.

ACADEMIC REGALIA AND PROCESSION

The custom of wearing distinctive dress for academic ceremonies dates back to the Middle Ages, when people dressed in keeping with their class: nobility, clergy, or third estate. The faculties of American universities have worn distinguishing costumes since the beginning, in 1636, at Harvard University.

Today, academic regalia is worn in the United States by persons taking part in academic ceremonies in general, at commencement exercises, at baccalaureate services, and at various inauguration ceremonies, such as the installation of a president, the conferring of an honorary degree on a distinguished guest, or the laying of the cornerstone of a building.

The institutions awarding degrees, the nature of the degrees, and the major fields of knowledge represented by the degrees can be readily identified by the designs and colors used.

The baccalaureate gown is the simplest in design. Usually black, it is distinguished by a wide yoke with shirring in front and back and by open, flowing sleeves that end in a point. The baccalaureate gown is worn closed.

The master's gown is similar to the baccalaureate gown except that it has a closed or glove sleeve that is open at the wrist. The master's gown has no other trim and may be worn either open or closed.

The doctoral gown is full flowing and has large bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and has velvet chevrons on the sleeves. While black is still the predominant color for doctoral gowns, the trim may be in a color that denotes the wearer's discipline or the color of the gown may denote the wearer's university.

The square Oxford cap, or mortarboard, of serge or broadcloth with a stiff crown is traditionally black. Once the baccalaureate degree has been conferred, the tassel is worn on the left side. The tassel is usually black, but may be of a color denoting the major field of knowledge for bachelor's and master's degrees and gold for doctoral degrees.

Candidates who are eligible to be recognized for graduation with honors wear the embroidered official white honor stole with the University Seal at graduation. Also, students who are members of the HTC Honors College, the Wall Fellows, the Jackson Scholars, the Dyer Fellows, the Swain Scholars, or other selected University honors programs are eligible to wear the University stole.

Recognized honor societies by Coastal Carolina University are:

- Alpha Kappa Delta: Sociology
- Alpha Mu Gamma: Foreign Language
- Alpha Psi Omega: Theatre
- Alpha Sigma Lambda: Adult Students
- Beta Alpha Psi: Accounting / Finance
- Beta Beta Beta: Biology
- Beta Gamma Sigma: Business

ACADEMIC REGALIA AND PROCESSION

The greatest degree of symbolism is represented by the hood. The size and shape of the American hood mark the college degree attained by the wearer. The lining of the hood is indicative of the college from which the degree was granted. If more than one color is used, one color is generally arranged as a chevron upon the other. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the major field of knowledge.

- Anthropology: Golden Yellow
- Business Administration: Drab
- Communication: Crimson

Most academic ceremonies begin and end with an academic procession. At Coastal Carolina University, candidates for degrees are first and process in the order in which the degrees will be bestowed, followed by the faculty, with senior professors first, and the platform party.

The list of candidates for graduation was prepared before final grades were reported, and inclusion herein does not constitute evidence of graduation. The listing of a name in this program should not be construed as an indication that the person will, in fact, receive a degree from Coastal Carolina University at this commencement. Conversely, the absence of a student's name from this list does not necessarily mean that the person will not be awarded a degree.

Honors for degree candidates are based on the cumulative grade point average on file at the end of the previous term. Honors to be printed on the diplomas will be based on the final Coastal Carolina University cumulative grade point average.

Where indicated with an icon (◊) or (⊞), the individual has completed all requirements for multiple degrees.

Where indicated with an icon (✦), the individual is an Honors College student.

Where indicated with an icon (†), the individual has received a Posthumous degree.

Where indicated with an icon (°), the individual has received the Trustee Award.

Engrave Your Legacy – Alumni Bricks

The Office of Alumni Engagement extends sincere congratulations to Coastal Carolina University's 2022 graduates.

Recognize your new Coastal Carolina University graduate with a lasting imprint on campus. The Alumni Walk, which leads up to the Clark and Marcia Parker Atheneum Hall Alumni Center, is being enhanced with a limited number of special bricks engraved with the names of alumni and friends. Money raised through the brick campaign will support CCU's Alumni Association Endowed Scholarship for students.

To order a brick, visit ccubricks.com.

For more information, please call Alumni Engagement at 843-349-ALUM (2586), or email alumni@coastal.edu.

Stay in touch!

Visit coastal.edu/alumni to keep your address up-to-date, renew your membership, and find out about events in your area. CCU alumni are located around the world and are ready to welcome you!

The Office of Alumni Engagement invites you to stay involved through events and programs throughout the year. Be sure you are keeping your information updated any time you relocate. Our goal is to keep you informed of CCU happenings locally and on the campus. As you graduate today, your involvement is key to a strong alumni network. Your participation increases the value of your degree from Coastal Carolina University.

Hearing Impaired Services

Commencement ceremonies will have closed captioning on the screens to accommodate guests who are deaf or hearing impaired. For the University Commencement ceremony at Brooks Stadium, it is recommended that guests requiring these accommodations sit in designated seats within Section 102 for closer proximity to the center screen.

Coastal Carolina University (CCU) does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, genetic information, mental or physical disability, or status as a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran in its admissions policies, programs, activities, or employment practices. For more information relating to discrimination, please contact the CCU Title IX Office, Coastal Carolina University, Kearns Hall 211B, Conway, SC; Title IX email titleix@coastal.edu; office phone 843-349-2382; EEO email eeo@coastal.edu; or the U.S. Dept. of Education Office for Civil Rights at www2.ed.gov/ocr.

Alma Mater

Coastal Carolina

We come to you to lead our search, and learn to reach beyond ourselves –
below the earth, beyond the stars – to form our dreams for better years.

Here, green and bronze in nature, light – sweet pine forests that surround us, ocean waters that sustain us – reflect your standards that prepare us.

May we return in thought and care to share your promise of enrichment, and celebrate and sing our praise for Coastal Carolina.

– Bennie Lee Sinclair

The Coastal Carolina University Alma Mater was written in 1994 by the late Bennie Lee Sinclair, the fifth poet laureate of South Carolina, to commemorate the first year of the institution's status as a university. The original score for the Alma Mater was written by Coastal Carolina University emeritus professor William R. Hamilton.
