M.S. IN PSYCHOLOGY OFFERED IN 1976-77

The degree of Master of Science in Psychology will be offered by the College, effective with the 1976-77 academic year. Word received from the Chancellor's Office recently gave approval to convert the clinical counseling option of the Master of Arts in Psychology to a Master of Science in Psychology, with concentration in clinical counseling.

The new master's degree raises the total of master's programs available at the College to seven. Its principal objectives are to provide students with practical skills in clinical counseling, through supervised training and experience, knowledge and research methodology.

Requirements for graduation include completion of at least 71 quarter units of course work in an approved graduate program with a g.p.a. of at least 3.0. Other fields of psychology are emphasized in the Master of Arts in Psychology, a 45-unit program.

SAVORY RECIPES
IN NEW FACULTY
WIVES COOKBOOK

College Courses II, an 85-page cookbook compiled, designed and published by the Cal State Faculty Wives, is on sale in the Bookstore. The recipes sound so tempting they make you want to rush home to do your homework.

The group will hold an autograph party on July 6 to point up publication and sale of the book, a sequel to the previously published College Courses. Refreshments for the autograph party, to be held in the President's Conference Room from 3 to 4 p.m., will be made from recipes in the cookbook's cookie section. Everyone is welcome.

Seventy percent of the funds derived from the sale of the book will go toward the organization's scholarship fund and the remainder for community projects. The price is $4.24 including tax. Copies will be on sale at the autograph party, as well as the Bookstore and through Antreen Pfau and Kyla DeRemer, co-editors.

Marilyn Pace designed the appealing format. Recipes range from apertifs to desserts.

Doyle character and adapted especially for the local campus production by William Slout, director.

The invincible "Sherlock Holmes" will be brought to the CSCSB Summer Theatre stage in an 1890 play by William Gillette, based on the Arthur Conan Doyle character and adapted especially for the local campus production by William Slout, director.

The turn-of-the-century play, tailored by Gillette as a vehicle for his own acting talents, was recently revised by the Royal Shakespeare Company and brought to New York where it was a hit.

The Players of the Pear Garden are currently in rehearsal for the four-act "melodrama with camp," as the production is termed by Dr. Slout, who will also play the arch-enemy, Professor Moriarity. Paul DeMeo plays Holmes. Production dates are set for July 15-17; 22-24; 29-31.
