Students May Study in China

Two students from the San Bernardino campus may have the opportunity to study in China this fall under Cal State, Fresno's China Semester.

The CSUF program has agreed to accept two students in the upcoming quarter, announced Dr. Amer El-Ahraf (Academic Resources). The program is limited to 16 participants.

CSUF will grant 12 to 18 semester units of credit for the work done at Hangzhou University, which is near Shanghai. The program combines academic immersion in Chinese culture and language with travel to more than 15 areas of cultural and historic interest throughout China. Qualified students may be allowed to teach English at a Chinese college.

The program is sponsored by the School of Social Sciences and the School of Business and Administrative Sciences at Fresno.

The cost of $3495 includes CSUF fees, room and board in the foreign student housing at Hangzhou University, airfare to Hong Kong, two days in Hong Kong and travel costs in China. The registration deadline is May 24. Further information is available from Dr. El-Ahraf.

Faculty Reception

The annual reception honoring faculty will be June 7, beginning at 5 p.m. in the Sycamore Room. Recognition will be given to the outstanding professors and recipients of sabbaticals, difference-in-pay leaves, faculty professional development grants and meritorious promise awards.

Jack Anderson to Speak Here Monday

Jack Anderson, statistically America's most widely read columnist, will speak here at 8 p.m. Monday, May 23 in the Upper Commons.

His free lecture, open to the public, is titled "The News Behind the Headlines."

With nearly 1000 newspapers carrying Anderson's column, "Merry Go Round," his daily readership is more than 30 million. A nationwide survey commissioned by President Reagan found Anderson rated as the "most trusted and recognized of the 254,000 journalists in the United States."

As a White House staff member said, "Anderson exposes the bad guys and does the stories no other reporter has the guts, contacts or determination to do."

Anderson is co-chairman of the Grace Coalition, which has been described as "the nation's most powerful lobbying forum combating the problem of waste in government spending." In 1986 he received the Abraham Lincoln Award from the International Platform Association as the "greatest living professional speaker."

Anderson began his national exposure as a member of Drew Pearson's staff in 1947 and took over the "Merry Go Round" column in 1969. He won a Pulitzer Prize for national journalism in 1972.

Candidates For Athletic Post Named

Five candidates for the athletic director position will be on campus during the coming 10 days.

Two women are among the five finalists seeking the now full-time post. Open forums for all candidates are scheduled for 11 a.m. on the day of their visit.

The first visitor, here today (May 20), is Daryl Ann Leonard, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. She has held administrative posts in athletics at Bentley College and UWM for 15 years.

Mary Ann Tripodi, assistant athletic director at the University of Akron, will be here Monday, May 23. She has been a coach since 1969 and an assistant AD since 1985.

Dr. Reginald Price, who implemented the intercollegiate athletics program here beginning in 1984, will be interviewed Tuesday, May 24. He has been involved in teaching, coaching and athletic administration since 1964.

Dr. G. Lynn Lashbrook, director of athletics at Southern Illinois University, will be on campus June 1. His experience as a coach dates back to 1973 and as an assistant AD to 1980.

The last candidate is Greg Warzecka, director of men's athletics at the University of Chicago. He has been coaching since 1976 and has held his present post since 1985.

The open forums will be in rooms in the Lower Commons, except for the one for Dr. Price, which will be in Student Union Rooms A and B.

Commencement Tempo Quickens

Last-minute grad checks are being filed; caps and gowns orders are being placed; and invitations are in the mail for the 1988 commencement exercises Saturday, June 18.

Seniors and graduate students are now able to register to participate in the graduation exercises. In order to rent caps and gowns at the Bookstore, the participants must secure a confirmation form from the Alumni Affairs Office table in the Administration Building lobby. This form and the receipt showing payment of the $7.50 commencement fee are presented to the Bookstore to order the regalia.

Evening students may make arrangements to pick up their confirmation forms at the Evening Office, PL 107, but first must call the Alumni Affairs Office (Ext. 7811) to confirm their eligibility, explained Joanna Roche (Alumni Affairs).

Both faculty and students may pick up their caps and gowns at the Bookstore between June 13 and 17.

The commencement ceremonies will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the lawn between the Library and the Physical Education Building. However, both faculty and students are asked to check in at 4:30 p.m.

The six faculty members who will serve as marshals have been selected. Dr. Margaret Atwell (Education), the campus' outstanding professor for 1987, will be the university marshal and will carry the mace.

Serving as faculty marshals will be Dr. Russell Barber (Anthropology), Dr. Robert Blackey (History) and Dr. Lance Masters (Marketing). The students have selected as their marshals Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science) and Dr. Dorothy Mettee (Communication).

Free Drama For Children

Ten short stories for children will be performed by the Imagination Players Monday evening, June 6 in the Recital Hall..

The free, hour-long performance will begin at 7 p.m. "All children and their families are invited to join us for a delightful evening of folk tales and fairy tales," said Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill, director.

The program will include old favorites such as "Sleeping Beauty," "Three Sillies," "The Three Bears" and "The Billy Goats Gruff" as well as a native American legend from the Mohawk nation, "The Cedar Tree," and an original story, "Butterflies Alone," written, staged and directed by student Matt Webster.

The Imagination Players have toured elementary schools since 1978, performing for more than 10,000 students each year. The participants are students in a theatre arts class. During the first five weeks of the quarter, they learn the roles and Readers Theatre techniques. The remainder of the quarter is spent touring.

The class is open to students from all disciplines and nearly half of the current company are from other majors. The Players are Scott Benefiel, art major; Debbie Bordeaux, Suzanne Bush and Linda Ross, liberal studies; Jodie C. Knez, psychology; Katherine Landry, undeclared; Dana Francis, communication; Renee Ann Formulak and Shirley Grant, theatre arts and communication; and Donna Cat, Heather M. Devlin, Nikki Dustin, Weefie Hoffmaster, Cal Limar, Robbie Warshaw, Matt Webster and Abby Zurier, theatre arts.

Lisa M. Giere, theatre arts major, is the student director. Original music has been created by Michael P. Stapleton.

Bargains in Books at Library

A few treasures plus hundreds of new and used books will be on sale at "bargain basement" prices when the Pfau Library holds its periodic book sale beginning at 9 a.m., Thursday, May 26.

A multitude of topics are represented in the collection, reports John Tibbals (Library). Although the treasures are specially priced, most books will be sold for 50 cents for hardcover, 30 cents for large paperbacks, 20 cents for small paperbacks and 10 cents for loose magazines and pamphlets.

From 4 to 5:30 p.m., the clearance sale offers remaining books at $3 per bag.

The sale is held at the north end of the basement in Pfau Library near Audio-Visual Services and the elevator. Access to the site is via the stairs, not the elevators.

All proceeds from the sale of used and surplus books will be used to buy new books for the Library collection.

Demonstrations in Advanced Computers Set for Monday

Special demonstrations of powerful, advanced-function computer hardware and software will be presented Monday, May 23 under the sponsorship of the Chancellor's Office.

Faculty, administrators and staff are invited to attend whichever sessions fit their schedules and interests, said David E. Neighbours (Computer Center). The presentations here, and at the 18 other CSU campuses, will be made by a group from Cal State, Northridge, headed by Dr. John Shively.

The demonstrations will introduce new developments in computer hardware and software which are applicable to a wide range of academic disciplines, Neighbours said. "Advanced function workstations are currently being used to support a wide variety of curricula, including composition, linguistics and languages along with such traditional computer users as engineering, statistics and graphics design."

The schedule includes:

9-10 a.m. session for senior administrators, deans;

10:15-11:15 a.m., computer-assisted instruction applications;

11:30-12:30 p.m., graphics;
1:30-2:30 p.m., desktop publishing;
2:45-3:45 p.m., technical configurations and details.
Reservations are recommended to guarantee space, Neighbours said. To register or for information, call him at Ext. 7293.

Lost and Found Must Be Claimed

Items lost on campus between last September and March will be disposed of, if not claimed by June 1, announced Harry Larsen (Public Safety).

Anyone who has lost property
on campus may call Public Safety, Ext.
7555, to explore whether it may be in the lost and found collection. Articles not claimed by June 1 will be given to charity.

English Faculty Read 2000 Poems, Stories

The faculty of the English Department, assisted by graduate students, have read and judged more than 2000 entries in their sixth annual creative writing contest for junior and senior high school students.

A reception and awards ceremony honoring the participants was held yesterday in the Recital Hall.

"The quality of these poems and short stories is amazingly high.
Each bears clear evidence of the exceptional writing talent and potential in our area," noted Dr. Rodney Simard (English), contest coordinator.

First, second and third place awards were given in both poetry and fiction in junior and senior divisions.
Eleven area students took the 12 top place. Honorable mentions were given to 125 students from 39 schools.

The faculty also awarded nine special certificates of appreciation to teachers whose students drew exceptional praise for their writing.

South Africa Awareness Week Begins Today

A week-long series of lectures to foster greater awareness and understanding of the situation in South Africa begins on campus today.

The program was organized by Dr. Susan Meisenhelder (English).
She and her husband, Dr. Tom Meisen-helder (Sociology) spent last year in Botswana on a Fulbright lectureship.
Some of the speakers are friends they knew during their year there.

A speaker this noon in the Eucalyptus Room of the Commons and a benefit dance tonight in the SUMP launch the week.

A full day conference is set for tomorrow (Saturday) in the Lower Commons, beginning with coffee and doughnuts at 9:30 a.m. and concluding with a 3:30 p.m. reception. Three speakers are from South Africa: Ruth Belonsky, speaking on "A White South African's Experience of Apartheid"; Mathabo Kunene, "The Impact of Apartheid on Women and Children" and Duke More, "The Labor Movement in South Africa."

The others discussing the situation will be from the South West African Peoples' Organization Support Committee and the California Chapter of the African National Congress.

Lectures will continue next Monday through Friday, May 23-27. A complete schedule is listed in the Calendar on the last page of the Bulletin.

An art exhibit will be located on the fourth floor of Pfau Library during the week.

All events are free and open to the public.

Freeway Delays Due to Construction

Members of the campus community experiencing delays enroute to campus due to construction on I-215 may expect the situation to continue for the next two years.

The work underway between 27th St. and University Parkway is part of the extension of the Crosstown Freeway (State Route 30), which includes construction of an interchange at I-215. The $26 million dollar project will extend the east-west freeway from the current terminus on H Street west to Highland Ave. and Medical Center Drive.

Additional lanes also will be constructed on I-215, from the new interchange to University Parkway, to accommodate merging traffic.

News Briefs

The Pfau Library has a cassette recording of the California State Ballot Pamphlet for the June 7 election. The tape, which includes state propositions 66 through 77, is available in the Listening Facility on the fourth floor of the Library.

More than 100 elected officials, their staffs, candidates for public office and public managers were on campus May 13 for a conference, "The Challenges of Growth in the Inland Empire: Shaping the Future through Leadership."

Dr. Anthony Evans spoke at the luncheon on the leadership role of higher education in facing the challenges.

The conference was sponsored by the School of Business and Public Administration and the Office of Extended Education. Dr. Guenther Kress (Public Administration) was the coordinator.

May is Hypertension Month.
Nurses from the B.S. in nursing program will be conducting free blood pressure readings Monday, May 23.
They will be located at the Commons,
Student Union, Student Services lobby and Library from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Students, faculty and staff are invited to stop by to find out what the end of the school year is doing to their blood pressures.

The Children's Center will sponsor a barbecue from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Administration Building quad. The cost is $2 per person for hamburger, chips and pop.

Jazz Trumpeter To Play Here

World-famous jazz trumpeter Freddie Hubbard will appear in concert with the university's Jazz Ensemble at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, May 26 in the Recital Hall.

He also will lead a music clinic at noon. Both the clinic and the concert are free and open to the public.

In a Down Beat magazine readers' poll, Hubbard was voted best trumpet player. He is recognized as a master of hard bop.

Congratulations

to Dr. Jill Rocha (Health Center) and her husband, Joseph, on the birth of their first child, a son, Andrew Kelvin, May 12. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce.

to Janet Marshall (Admissions) and James Harper, a Cal State student, who were married April 16 in Rialto. They are making their home in San Bernardino.

Community Service

Dr. David Bellis (Public Administration) prepared the application for San Bernardino County which won a grant of $97,239 from the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs. The grant will fund an aggressive, face-to-face outreach program which will enroll 30 heroin-addicted female street prostitutes in free methadone treatment or maintenance programs. The ultimate goal is to reduce the spread of Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) resulting from needle-sharing and unprotected sex among this high-risk group.

Dr. Robert Blackey (History) spoke to a Redlands High School history class May 11 on essay test-writing skills and the Advanced Placement Program.

Catherine Carlson (Purchasing), David Neighbours and Mary Sutton (Computer Center) and Dr. Andrew Schultz (Education) made a presentation on "Professional Systems for Professional Teachers" at the statewide Computer Using Educators' conference May 14 in San Diego. They demonstrated the IBM PS/II Model 30, the Apple IIGS and the Macintosh SE. They will present the program again at the fall conference in San Jose.

Dr. Jim Charkins (Economics) presented a workshop on "Teaching Economics in an Enjoyable and Useful Manner K-12" at the History-Social Science State Framework Conference May 12 in Anaheim.

Dr. Rafael E. Correa was interviewed by KDIF radio during the Cinco de Mayo festivities on campus. He also discussed the exhibit of Mexican folk costumes, now in the Art Gallery. Dr. Correa was responsible for translating the gallery catalog into Spanish.

Dr. Mildred Henry (Education) testified before the Joint Economic Committee's Subcommittee on Investment, Jobs and Prices April 18 in Washington, D.C. The hearings addressed "Employment in the Year 2000: A Candid Look at our Future." Her testimony will be published in the Congressional Record.

Dr. Theodore McDowell (Geography) spoke to the Uptown Exchange Club May 11 in San Bernardino on "Earthquake Awareness: San Bernardino's Faults."

Professor Joe Moran (Art) spoke at Sierra High School May 3.

Dr. Carolyn Neff (Music) was guest conductor/clinician for the Redlands High School band May 10.

Dr. Cynthia Paxton (Health Science and Human Ecology) was a member of the program coordinating committee for a conference, "AIDS and Mental Health," sponsored by the UCSF AIDS Health Project May 12-14 at Occidental College. She also presented a workshop, "Talking to Kids About Sex in the Age of AIDS."

Dr. Paxton spoke to the Entry Club of Crafton Hills College May 17 on "AIDS--What Our Kids Need to Know."

Dr. Dennis Pederson (Chemistry) and Kelly Boebinger, a chemistry major, gave a hands-on science demonstration for two fourth-grade classes at Martin Luther King Elementary School April 26. Dr. Pederson also spoke to a 10th grade English class at San Geronio High School in San Bernardino May 10 on "Careers in the Sciences."

Dr. Pederson was elected to the executive committee of the biotech consortium SUPERB, California State University Program for Education and Research in Biotechnology, at the meeting of the governing board May 7 in San Diego. Dr. Nicole Bournias (Biology) is the other campus representative on the governing board.

Dr. Judith M. Rymer (University Relations) spoke to Delta Kappa Gamma May 12 in Victorville on "Women Supporting Women: Mentor and Sponsor."

Professor Mary Anne Schultz (Nursing) was named to the committee to plan a statewide workshop on Information Systems in Nursing sponsored by Region IV of the California Nurses Association. She also gave a workshop on "Normal Aging" at the Women's Faire, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, the YWCA and the Zonta Club of Redlands May 7 in Redlands.

Dr. Robert Senour spoke to the Uptown Exchange Club of San Bernardino May 18 on "Entertainment-Training: The Future with Technology."

Edna Steinman (Publications) was installed as president of the Alpha Pi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honor society for women in education, May 19 in Redlands.
