Creative Retirement

A man learns to play the piano at age 70. A woman of 65 takes her first computer class. Retired businessmen and educators, craftsmen and police officers and professional consultants in their fields.

These are ways people are making the most of their retirement years, which is the focus of a free, three hour event of "Creative Retirement" beginning at 2 p.m., Sunday, May 22 in the Recital Hall at CSCSB.

Geared toward people age 62 and older, the program will feature a showing of "Wait Till We're 65," an NBC film spotlight active and involved retirees.

The Cal State Department of Nursing, which is sponsoring the event, will give free health screenings for blood pressure, diabetes, wellness and physical fitness. A blood chemistry also will be available for $10.

Speakers will focus on opportunities for seniors to stay involved, develop new interests and give a hand to others who would benefit from their time, talents and professional knowledge.

Information will be provided on community services available to seniors, such as the senior information and referral centers, nutrition centers and mini-marts.

Transportation may be available for the event to persons living within a 20 mile radius of the college. Information can be obtained by calling the Department of Nursing 887-7346.

Bahá'í Faith, a Universal Rel.

by Mary Sheehan

Down through the ages, in varied ways, man has reached out to God—the Jew, the Hindu, the Christian, the Buddhist, the Muslim, and others. Men have gathered together in prayer and worship in synagogues, temples, cathedrals, and mosques.

The newly formed Baha'i club at Cal State, San Bernardino, also reaches out to God through its faith, with the purpose of uniting mankind in peace. The Club's motto is "Uniting the world one heart at a time."

During the Baha'i Club meeting at noon on Tuesday, May 3 in the Student Union Meeting Room A, club president Kenton Dunbar said, "The sacredness of the individual is upheld. We don't pressure anyone. Pressure tactics are prohibited in our faith. We try to tune in to the needs of those present, and we also try to tune people in to the Baha'i Faith."

"The Baha'i Club was just renewed in September 1982 here at Cal State. For three years prior to the renewal, the club was inactive," said Dunbar. "But the club has been active on campus for the last ten years. At present we have about ten steady members."

The Baha'i Faith is a new, independent, universal religion, whose goal is to revitalize mankind spiritually, to break down the barriers between peoples, and to lay the foundation for a unified world society based upon principles of justice and love, said Dunbar.

According to their pamphlets, the Baha'i believe that God sent a series of prophets to teach eternal moral truths and reveal new social principles suited to the times. Their prophets include such religious leaders as Abraham and Moses; Jesus Christ; and Muhammad. Baha'i believed that the latest prophet was a Persian called Baha'u'llah; Glory of God, in the Persian language.

"In 1844, Mirza Hussayn'Ali assumed the name of Baha'u'llah, and announced to the world that his mission was to unify mankind and establish peace," said Ruby Soto, secretary of the Baha'i Club. "In 1847, Baha'u'llah became associated with a religious movement led by a man called the Bab, meaning the Gate. The Bab predicted that a great prophet would soon appear. And, in 1863, Baha'u'llah proclaimed himself the prophet foretold by the Bab, Baha'u'llah founded the Baha'i Faith after the Bab's death in 1850.

"The source of all learning is the knowledge of God, and our goal on campus is to promote the awareness of the Baha'i Faith, which is a universal cause that embraces all the major religions and philosophies of the world," said Ruby. "We use several holy books, but the law book called 'Kitab'i aqdas' is considered to be our most holy book.

"The Baha'i Faith is a religion, a society, and a way of life. It reoffers spiritual truths the world needs, but from which it has turned away, and it provides laws for regulating society that are new and suited to the requirements of our age," said Soto. "It is still in its infancy, with its greatest accomplishments and periods of growth lying ahead."

A Community Fireside Meeting is held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Ruby Soto, 187 West 11th Street, San Bernardino. The meetings are informal, and are a time for sharing with one another.

Activities on campus during the month of May include the Baha'i Club booth at the Ethnic Fair on May 19, where refreshments will be served, and literature about the faith will be available. On May 23, the Club will be celebrating the anniversary of the Declaration by the Bab on May 23, 1844, that a great prophet would soon appear.

The Baha'i Club has a recording that explains their faith in more detail. If you wish further information, call 889-8946. Messages and questions can be left at the end of the recording, and a member will return the call.

Summer Sess. and Extension

With June just around the corner, it's time to start thinking about summer school.

Whether the student is seeking a degree, relicensure or professional advancement, a chance to explore a new interest or enhance a long-standing one, the summer course offerings at CSCSB will meet a variety of needs.

The college offers two summer sessions with courses carrying resident credit in addition to classes scheduled through its extension program, all listed in a free bulletin.

The five-week regular session will be June 22-July 27. The three-week post session will be Aug. 1-19. Although these courses carry regular resident credit, formal admission to the college is not required. A maximum of 10 units may be taken in the regular session and five in the post session.

Persons applying for summer session by June 10 will be assigned a registration time the morning of Tuesday, June 21. Those not pre-applying by June 10 may complete an application blank in person on June 21 and will be registered on a first-come, first-served basis between noon and 1:30 p.m. or 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. Registration will be conducted in the Gymnasium.

More than 90 courses will be offered at Cal State during the regular session, with the greatest numbers in education and administration, and several in computer science. Post session offers 12 courses.

The schedule includes art, economics, English, geography, health science, history, humanities, interdisciplinary studies, mathematics, natural sciences, paralegal studies, psychology, social sciences, sociology and Spanish.

Most classes meet two days a week. To accommodate working people, many classes are scheduled in the evening.

Summer session fees on campus are $36 per unit of credit, plus $11.50 for student services fees and $6 for parking.

Through its extension program, the college also is offering 65 classes for professional relicensure, degree credit, career advancement and personal enrichment. These classes, many of them weekend workshops, meet in Claremont, Etiwanda, Hesperia, Idyllwild, Indio, Palm Desert, Palm Springs, Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino.

The bulletin of summer session and extension classes is available by calling the Office of Continuing Education at Cal State, 887-7527.

The Paw Print Policies

The Paw Print is published under the control of the CSCSB Publications Board. It is published on a weekly basis for a total of 28 issues less quarter breaks and final exam periods. Contact the office at 887-7497, 5500 State College Parkway, San Bernardino, CA, 92407, for further information.

Letters to the Editor should be kept to a maximum of one and one-half typed pages. Letters which attack any person may be held until that person has had time to respond in the same issue as the other letter. Letters must include name and address, a phone number, and must be signed, although names will be withheld upon request. All material becomes property of The Paw Print.

The Paw Print reserves the right to edit all copies submitted in order to comply with space requirements and libel laws.

Advertising requests should be addressed or directed to the Business Manager at the address and number above.

Classified Ads may be ordered similarly except that such ads for students, faculty, and staff of CSCSB of reasonable length are free.

Ad and Copy Deadlines are the Thursday preceding the date of publication. Copy received after that date appears in the paper on a space-available basis. The Paw Print reserves the right to refuse to print ads and copy submitted after the deadline.

Advertising Policy. The Paw Print accepts advertising in good faith but makes no warranty and does not check any goods or services advertised for validity.

The Paw Print is funded by an annual allocation from the Associated Students to cover the costs of printing and expenses. It is distributed free to students and the community. The remainder of the funding is generated by The Paw Print itself.

Remember, your success is our success.

Drop by the Alumni Affairs Office today and find out about the many benefits available to members of the Association. Join the growing number of prosperous, productive CSCSB alumni. We are located in the Student Services, Room 114. The cost for membership for current seniors is $5* for your first year.

* $5 introductory offer expires June 20, 1983.

What is Zion?

"A return to Zion" (Jerusalem) enabled the establishment of the state of Israel. The idea of a type of Zionism has existed for centuries. From the time of the expulsion of the Jews from Jerusalem in 6 b.c.e. by the Babylonians to the liberation of the Jews from the ghetto's in the 19th century, there was a period of fragmentation. The Talmud, religious legal code, had held the dispersed Jews together as a type of cohesive bond. The Talmud includes legal, ethical and historical writings of ancient Rabbis. It serves as a guideline, besides the following of the Scriptures.

Theodore Herzl was the founder of what was known as Zionism in 1896.

He outlined the Zionist ideal, a political force. He wanted "to create for the Jewish people a homeland in Palestine secured by public law." From the late 1800's to 1939 the idea of Zionism grew with strength as plans to "rebuild" occurred. The agriculture in Israel was built up, industries and institutions came and a democracy was formed. Israel was being built on faith, hope and speculation. In 1948 the British, who had control over Israel, departed. In May of that year David Ben Gurion proclaimed the independence of the State of Israel.

Zionism has brought European and American Jews both to uphold and secure the welfare of Israel.

use of the sea bed, promotion of a stable world economy and issues pertaining to hot spots such as Afghanistan, Lebanon, Nicaragua and Poland.

In the afternoon, the committees brought their resolutions before the general assembly for consideration.

Fifteen Cal State students who attended the college-level Model U.N. of the Far West at Arizona State in April chaired the various committees. Faculty advisor for the event was Dr. Brij Khare, professor of political science at Cal State.

The committee chairs were Christine Avalos, Bloomington; Vivian Conlon, Victorville; Sheryl Hammer, Tarzana; James Monroe, Grand Terrace; Manual Parabela, Rialto; Arthur Santana, Cucamonga; Heather Seyden, Rim Forest; and Dexter Wash, Fontana.

Chairing from San Bernardino were Cynthia Burnett, Robert Fred Mohr, Alton Michael Smith and Randall R. Smith. Riverside residents are Thomas Reid, Rebecca Shuman and Paul Staley.

German Club... Eins, Zwei, G'suffa!

by Jeff Fitchett

These are the words to one of many songs that were sung by German students from all over southern California at the 1983 Festival Weekend of German Arts and Life. The festival was held at Camp Round Meadow, Barton Flats, California, from April 17 through April 19.

Among the 80 students who came from UC Riverside, CSU Fullerton, Long Beach University and Saddleback, CSCSB was strongly represented by the following students: Claudia Awender, Heide Fluhr, Susie Johnson, Jeff Fitchett, Greg Scott, Mike Prather, Terri Price, Mark Duncan, Tracy McCullough, Claudia Nudd, Dennis and Patricia Hatcher, John Joannou, Evan Williams, John Klopfer, Rebecca Rosser and Paula Hart. The instructors for the group were Dr. Johns and Miranda Munson.

The objectives of this festival were to develop increased student interest in the German language and culture (all festival participants were required to speak only German during the time at camp), and to provide an opportunity for students during an extended period of time.

Activities included sports, various interest sessions, hiking on nature trails, and a variety show put on by the students. The students from UCR performed their own version of "Schneewittchen" (Snow White). CSU Fullerton added to the festivities with a parody of Faust. Long Beach University sang a medley of German folk songs and Saddleback College performed satires on selected pieces of German music.

The CSCSB group put on a variety show titled "Hollywood in Deutschland." The various skits performed were written and rehearsed by the students themselves. These included "The Twilight Zone", "Family Feud", "The Archie Bunker family in Germany", an exhibition of jazzercise dancing, and a magic show.

This was the third Festival Weekend of German Arts and Life. The festival was a great success and an enjoyable experience for all involved. For the past three years, Miranda Munson has coordinated this activity for the students of CSCSB. We greatly appreciate her dedication and eagerly await next year's festival.

Wind and Jazz Combine Force

The Cal State, San Bernardino Wind and Jazz ensembles will join forces in a fund-raising event from 5 to 10 p.m., Monday, May 23 at Straw Hat Pizza, 2120 E. Highland Ave., San Bernardino.

The groups will form a Dixieland Band, which will play old favorites from the dixie and ragtime eras.

The Wind Ensemble recently performed at the Collegiate Wind Band Convention in Fresno, where it was highly rated by directors and students from colleges throughout the West Coast. Under director Keating Johnson, this group has performed at the California Music Educators Convention and in the Desert Museum concert series in Palm Springs.

The Jazz Ensemble, under director Roger Rickson, also has performed widely, placing third in a competition of university-level bands at Cal Poly, Pomona. Most recently, the ensemble performed at Los Medanos College and the University of California, Berkeley, where the group received high acclaim by jazz musicians.

To continue the opportunities to perform off campus and to commission new compositions for both groups, they are being sponsored by Straw Hat Pizza as part of the company's community involvement program.

"Half of the food receipts for the evening will be donated to help continue the high level of performance by the Wind and Jazz Ensembles," Johnson said. "All of the musicians will be on hand, and the evening will be an excellent opportunity to learn about the programs within the Cal State Music Department as well as join us in the festivities."

Humanities Worksh.

During the Fall Quarter, the School of Humanities and the Career Planning and Placement Center initiated a new series of quarterly workshops designed specifically for majors within the School of Humanities. The Fall Quarter workshop involved a speaker from the Internal Revenue Service, while a representative from Connecticut General participated in the program last quarter. Arrangements have been finalized for the Spring Quarter workshop. The program will take place on Tuesday, May 31st, from 3-4 p.m. in the School of Humanities Conference Room, PL 241. The session is designed specifically for students enrolled in the School of Humanities.

Dorothy Cole representing the Pacific Telephone Company, will be the presenter. Dorothy's presentation will include, but not be limited to, career opportunities for Humanities majors with Pacific Telephone and the value of a Humanities degree in a business setting. All School of Humanities students and faculty are encouraged to attend.

Free Theater

Director Luis Bunuel's social comedy "The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie" will be shown free at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, May 21 in the Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences Building at CSCSB.

The 1972 movie, part of Cal State's Foreign Film Series, has French dialog and English subtitles.

Fernando Rey stars in this soufflé about a small group of chic, upper-crust Parisians who spend most of the film trying, unsuccessfully, to dine together.

The movie won an Academy Award for best foreign film and the National Society of Film Critics best picture and best director awards.

Tubby the Tuba

"Tubby the Tuba," the children's classic introducing youngsters to the sounds of music, will be presented at 7:15 p.m., Friday, May 20 in the Recital Hall at CSCSB.

Composed by George Kleinsinger, with words by Paul Tripp, the lively piece focuses on the instruments of the orchestra—strings, woodwinds, brass and percussion. The work demonstrates solo sounds, along with the integration of sounds in a full composition.

Children will be able to view the instruments after the performance.

Patrick Winters, band director at Redlands High School, is guest conductor for this Cal State Music Department production. Tuba soloist will be Keating Johnson, assistant professor of music and director of bands at Cal State. Ron Murray of Redlands, a theatre arts major at the college, will be story narrator.

Admission is $1 for children age 12 and under, $2 for adults. Reservations may be made by calling JoAnn Hartzog at Cal State, 887-7662.

Help for Teachers to Learn Math?

CSCSB will conduct a special program designed to help teachers in Riverside and San Bernardino counties improve their math skills.

Funded by a $75,000 grant from the California Mathematics Project of the University of California, the program will be conducted during the 1983-84 academic year for teachers of grades four through twelve.

Drs. Richard W. Griffiths, associate professor of education and coordinator of elementary education, and Robert Stein, professor of mathematics and chair of the department, originated and are coordinating the program.

The superintendent of schools for each district in the two counties will screen applicants and select participants, according to Dr. Griffiths.

The focus of the program will be on mathematics problem solving, an area the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics has pinpointed as one of major weaknesses among teachers, Dr. Griffiths said.

During the first component this fall, the teachers will attend a class on mathematics problem solving. College credit will be given for the course. In winter, faculty from Cal State will work with the teachers in their classrooms.

During the final component next spring, teachers participating in fall and winter will conduct in-service workshops for other teachers in their districts, with the assistance of Cal State faculty.

Additional information about the project is available by calling Dr. Griffiths, 887-7571, or Dr. Stein 887-7351.

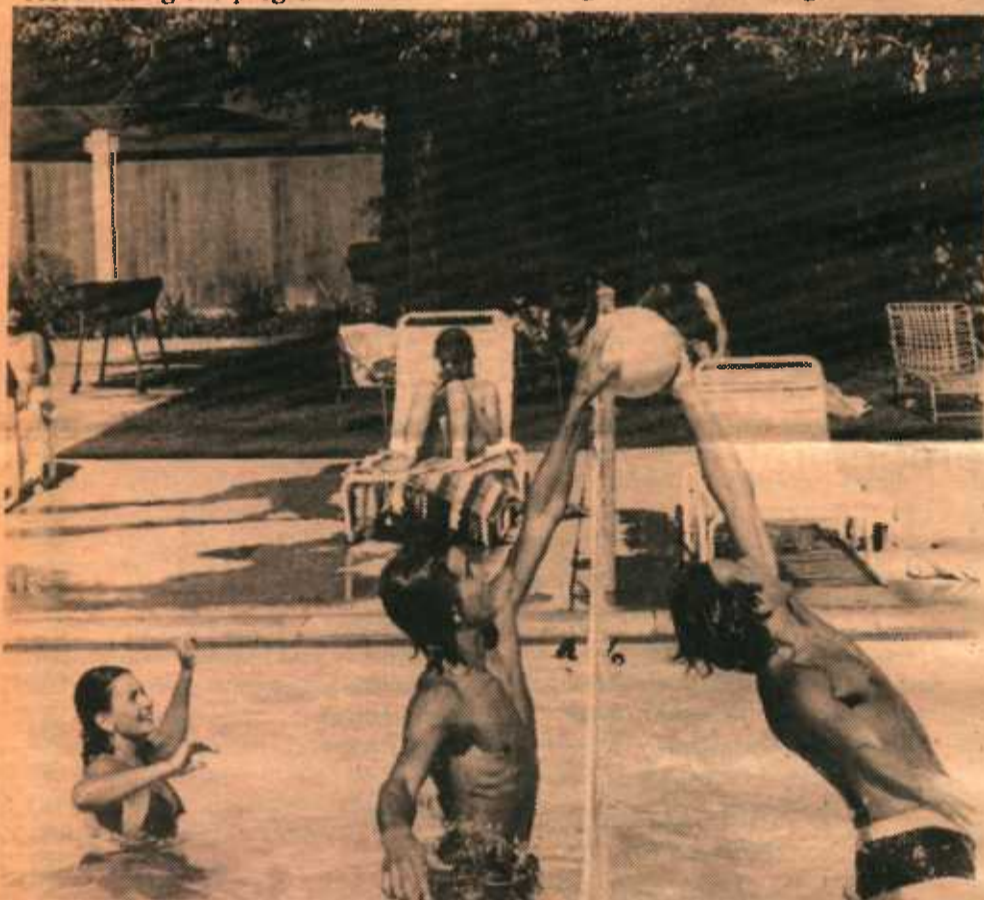

Speaker on Computer Equipment for Blind

Thank God For Life
by Floyd E. Hanzlik

Every morning when I wake up and see the sky no matter what the weather is like, sunny or rainy, I thank God for being alive.

Every time the sun shines, a man is hoping to see a beautiful woman, and a woman is hoping to see a handsome man.

Only God through you alone will we be able to tell what type of man or woman that person will have for the rest of his or her life.

Life is really a challenge, because it takes a lot to achieve what a person really wants in life, for people have their ups and downs in life.
