Martha Atwood Baker Added To Ursinus Music Department

Mrs. Martha Atwood Baker, former Metropolitan soprano, has been added to the Ursinus College music department, it was announced today by President Norman E. McClure. Mrs. Baker will be on campus at least once each month to give voice lessons to Ursinus students, at the discretion of Miss Marion G. Spangler and Dr. William F. Philip, of the College music faculty.

Mrs. Baker has sung with the world's leading opera companies and symphony orchestras. After five years of study in Europe, she made her debut at Siena, Italy, as Mimi in Puccini's opera, "La Boheme", in 1923. In 1926 she joined the Metropolitan Opera Company and was the first American singer to make her debut with the Metropolitan in New York. She canceled her contract after four and a half years to become the first artist to step from the Metropolitan into radio exclusively, opening the Times Square Studio for N.B.C. at that time.

As soloist she has appeared with the Boston, Worcester, Baltimore, Detroit, Toronto, Portland, and Dallas symphony orchestras. On the radio she has had many appearances with the General Motors, Atwater Kent, and Walter Damrosch music appreciation programs.

Mrs. Baker founded the Cape Cod Institute of Music in 1919. At that time it was known as the Wellfleet Music Colony. Last Summer several Ursinus students studied at the Institute, where Dr. William Philip, of the College music department, is a member of the faculty.

Mrs. Baker sang the soprano role in the Ursinus presentation of Handel's "Messiah" before Christmas. Last year she gave a recital and conducted a voice clinic at Ursinus.

Walton's Orchestra Signed for Lorelei Event on February 16

Attention, girls! That long-awaited Lorelei is approaching rapidly. 'Tis time to look over your list of eligible males and pick out that unsuspecting (?) one.

At the meeting of the Lorelei Committee last Friday, Madge Harshaw '40, chairman of the committee, announced that Clyde Walton and his orchestra, who played for the Harvest Hop last year, will supply the music for the occasion.

As previously announced, the date has been set for February 16. The committee will invite Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hashagen to chaperon the dance.

NOTICE

Ursinus College will open for the second semester on Monday, February 5, at 8:00 a. m.

McLaughlin Announces Fraternity Party Dates

Dates for fraternity rushing parties, which begin the Tuesday following the semester holidays, were announced today by Hugh McLaughlin '40, President of the Interfraternity Council. They are as follows:

Tuesday, Feb. 6—Beta Sigma Lambda; Wednesday, Feb. 7—Zeta Chi; Thursday, Feb. 8—Demas; Friday, Feb. 9—Sigma Rho Lambda; Sunday, Feb. 11—Alpha Phi Epsilon.

Open house will be held by all fraternities on Monday, Feb. 12; freshman rushees may attend the open house parties of any or all of the fraternities to whose regular parties they had been invited. Bids will be extended on Tuesday morning, Feb. 13, between 8:45 and 9:15 a. m. in the basement of the Library.

The Interfraternity Council emphasizes the ruling that all freshmen attending parties must return unaccompanied to their rooms by 10:30 p. m. The only exception to this rule is the Sigma Rho party, which will not start until after the basketball game on Friday night; rushees attending this party must be in their rooms by 12:30 a. m.

Rev. Sheeder Attends Meeting Of Hazen Conference Committee

Rev. Franklin I. Sheeder, registrar of the College, attended a meeting of the Planning Committee for the Hazen Conference on Student Counseling in New York City today. The Eastern Hazen Conference will be held at Ursinus College in August of this year.

Tomorrow Rev. Sheeder will preach the opening sermon at the meeting of the Philadelphia Classics in the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia.

I. R. C. Selects Members for Forum Contest on February 7

Virginia Shirtz '41, Douglas Davis '41, and Denton Herber '42, will be the three Ursinus students to participate in the quiz forum to be conducted by Miss Besse Howard, Director of the Pennsylvania branch of the League of Nations Association, on Wednesday, February 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Three members of the Swarthmore I. R. C. will oppose the Ursinus I. R. C. group in the forum, which will consist of a half-hour talk by Miss Howard, a half-hour current events contest, and the usual question period.

Four Frosh Women Debate at Norristown High on Thursday

This is the first year that Ursinus freshman women are having the opportunity of debating with outside schools. Formerly the competition had been only intra-collegiate.

On Thursday, January 18, the freshman team, under the direction of Shirley Staples '41, debated Norristown High School. The problem was, "Resolved: That America should be given preference over aliens in securing positions". Those who debated were: Mary Virginia Ernest, Carol Swartley, Peggy Brown, Betty Stevenson. Future debates are planned with Germantown High School.

Cagers Defeat Lebanon Valley, F. and M.; Upset by Bucknell

The Ursinus basketball team maintained its .667 Conference average during the past week, winning two games and losing one. Lebanon Valley was defeated on the home court, 45-41, in a listless game on Tuesday, and the Bears trounced F. and M.'s high-flying Diplomats, 38-33, at Lancaster on Thursday. However, the Grizzlies, showing a reversal of form, dropped a 37-31 decision to a supposedly weaker Bucknell five at home on Saturday night.

Blanked in the final quarter after holding a lead throughout almost the entire first three periods, the Ursinus Bears went down to a startling defeat at the hands of the Bucknell Bisons on the home court Saturday night by a 37-31 score. The Ursinus five, crippled by the loss of Frank Meade and John Wise, played winning ball for three quarters of the game against the tough Bison zone defense, but suddenly collapsed in the final ten minutes to let the league leaders romp to victory.

Bears Ahead at Half

Coach Hashagen's team spurred to a 6-1 lead at the beginning of the game, with Bob Keehn and Hal Moyer connecting from outside, and stepped ahead 17-14 at the half-way mark. A blistering third period, which saw each club score 14 points, found the Ursinus five still holding the lead and appearing to have the game well in hand. Then without warning the bottom dropped out of the Bear attack, and they failed to score a single counter in the closing period, while Bob Longaker and substitute Bill Baker connected in rapid succession to wipe out the lead and go on to a 6-point win. It was the impregnable 2-3 zone defense the Bucknell five used that stymied the local team in the closing period. The Bears could not work the ball in, and were rushed too much to connect on set shots. A fast break, the only weapon to use in piercing such a defense, failed to materialize, and the Bears went down to defeat.

Moyer High Scorer

Hal Moyer led the Ursinus scoring with 13 points, with Hal Chern second on 6. Buzas, Baker, Longaker, and Snyder divided the Bisons' scoring pretty evenly, and were directly responsible for the last period winning spurt.

Frank Meade and John Wise, varsity center and guard, were on the sidelines with injuries and sickness, and were sorely missed despite the fact that substitutes Dave Jacobs and Al Hutchinson did good jobs in their places.

F. AND M. GAME

Coach Ken Hashagen's Ursinus court five snapped out of its doldrums last Thursday and outscrapped and outscored a topnotch F. and M. team, 38-33, on the Lancaster Armory court. The Bears played a great game in dropping the Diplomats from the top rung of the Conference, shooting to an early lead and holding it all the way.

It was Bobby Keehn, playing the best game of his career at Ursinus, who paced Coach Hashagen's veteran five to its fourth league win. Keehn completely outclassed Fritz Fox, stellar F. and M. guard, who is reputedly one of the hardest men in the league to score on, and racked up 14 points to lead the attack. The slim Bear guard also stood out with his ball handling and fine defensive work.

Substitutes Star

Two substitutes stepped from the Ursinus bench into places of glory when they turned in sterling performances to bring the crippled Bear team home the winners. Al Hutchinson, sophomore guard, took the sick John Wise's place and was the outstanding man in the battle off the boards. In addition to that, Hutchinson contributed three important second-half field goals to keep the Bears ahead of the rallying F. and M. five.

The second reserve who filled in with a great job was junior center Dave Jacobs, who replaced the injured Frank Meade early in the second half, and continued Meade's stellar task of blanking Johnny DeBold until the closing minutes. Jacobs, with Hutchinson, controlled a great majority of the rebounds off both boards, and kept the losers at bay.

Meade Injured

Meade was badly injured in the first half when he collided with Bill Wagner and, after trying to continue, had to leave the game at the outset of the second half. Before leaving he had accounted for 5 points, and had held the high-scoring DeBold to absolutely nothing.

Bill Wagner was high for F. and M. with 16 points, with sophomore Johnny Leykamm contributing 10.

LEBANON VALLEY GAME

The Bear courtmen chalked up their third league victory last Tuesday night on the home boards, defeating Lebanon Valley, 45-41, in a loosely-played game. Only the fact that the Bears continued their accurate foul shooting of previous games saved the day, as the visitors outscored them by one field goal, but counted only on seven of fourteen fouls, while the homesters tallied 13 out of 18.

Both teams' passing was rather sloppy, and their shots were often wild. The Bears seemed to be playing well enough to keep ahead, and consequently were not pushed at any time. The game was, for the most part, not up to par.

"Abe" Chern headed the scoring column with 14 points, and Bobby

Jan Peerce Has Philadelphia Fame

The concert by Jan Peerce, American tenor whose rapid rise to fame in the last three years has won for him the title of "the amazing young tenor", will bring to Ursinus on February 22 a singer well-known to Philadelphia audiences for his work in opera and as a soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Reviewing the opera "Rigoletto", which was presented on Saturday, January 13, in Philadelphia, Henry Pleasants of The Evening Bulletin commented: "Mr. Peerce sang the 'Parmi veder le Lagrime' aria as no other American tenor, in the Metropolitan or out, can sing it, and brought his characteristic brilliance, and fluency to the 'Questa o Quella' and the 'La Donna e Mobile'."

Of the same opera, The Philadelphia Inquirer critic wrote: "Mr. Peerce scored his accustomed triumph in 'La Donna e Mobile' and the other famous tenor passages in 'Rigoletto'. He was in fine voice."

Last summer Peerce made his second appearance at the Robin Hood Dell, with the men of the famed Philadelphia Orchestra. However, the recital he will present at Ursinus will be the first program he has presented alone in the Philadelphia area. His first New York recital presented on November 7, 1939, in Town Hall, was heralded as "the artistic triumph of the year".

Commenting on his recent performance in "La Traviata", Pleasants, a reputedly exacting critic, wrote: "Mr. Peerce sang fervently without going in for those open and blatant sounds which less discriminating and less accomplished tenors pass off as dramatic and heroic utterances. He even threw in the optional high C in the off-stage measures at the close of the first act, relating the top note to the phrase so well that the effect was stunning without being conspicuous or spectacular."

Peerce is now under the concert aegis of S. Hurok, leading American impresario, who also manages the Ballet Russe, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, and Marian Anderson, contralto.

Tickets for the recital on February 22 will be released at the opening of the second semester. Student tickets will be offered at fifty cents each.

Students Would Continue Dies Com.

The "Dies Committee for investigating un-American activities", which has included some of the nation's colleges in its inquiries, should be continued, a majority of U. S. students believe.

This is the result of a poll taken by the Student Opinion Surveys of America shortly before Congress convened again. But is should be pointed out that although 56 per cent say that money should be appropriated for the committee to go on with its work, this study of campus sentiment is not to be interpreted as an approval of all that the legislator from Texas and his associates have done.

Students often voiced their dissatisfaction with the methods and results of the committee, it was reported by the national staff of interviewers that the Surveys uses. The Ursinus Weekly cooperates in conducting these polls.

Asked, "Do you think the government should provide money to continue the Dies committee for another year?" students everywhere answered, YES, 56 per cent, NO, 26 per cent. There was a large number, 17 per cent, who had no opinion, many admitting they had never heard of the committee. The Surveys finds that out of nearly three dozen subjects it has used in its polls this is one of the least known. A majority of those who did know about it, however, believe that the investigation of isms in this country is desirable and necessary.

The committee recently made news again when its members disagreed on the nature of its report to Congress, one of the points in controversy being the American Student Union and its alleged connections with communism. A year ago the Surveys found that only one out of every ten students believed there had been any attempt to influence him with fascist, socialist, or communist propaganda on his campus.

Wanted — A Purpose

"Mussolini," they say, "has lifted the Italian chin three inches higher." Without judging the aims or the methods of Il Duce, it is enough to say that with a leader and a purpose, an entire nation can do some remarkable things. If it is only a more confident facing of adverse facts and a more courageous dealing with those facts, this is an achievement eminently worthwhile. "Chins up" is a symbol of determination, a pledge of fortitude, and an essential for success. Things may look very bad indeed at times, but there are opportunities at every hand; it is up to us to face these opportunities, and to make use of them. For our own happiness, as well as for any real success, it is necessary that we have a real life purpose.

A person's education imposes upon one a real test. There is a really terrible truth in the fact that the same materials that are used to make camera films can also be used to manufacture blasting gelatin—a deadly war-time explosive—and that education will help a man to manufacture either of the two he chooses. So it is that a man's education can help him to bless humanity or to curse it, to serve or to destroy, to build up or tear down.

Education without purpose is not only a waste of time and money; it is also a rather dangerous thing. It causes stagnation and despair.

American college youth are really essentially fine and upright people, very frank, honest, and sincere, but dreadfully confused. They have placed religion on the margin of the campus and not in the center where it rightfully belongs. More than that, in spite of alert, good, healthy minds, they have no cause, no purpose—nothing to live for supremely. There is nothing for them to do collectively.

Yet in Russia, Germany, and other nations youth are flinging away their lives for a cause (namely, war) which can never settle anything, and can only make misery and hardship.

Would it not be a good thing for all of us college youth to grab up the opportunities around us—those vast untouched fields, such as working for peace, for truth, for pure democracy, for religion? And if we are to make the most of our education, we must have a purpose behind it, and that purpose must be a noble one.

The Commentator

A GREAT STATESMAN PASSES

Today this column deserts the lighter vein to record its appropriate sadness over the death of Senator William E. Borah. The veteran Senator has been an idol of this columnist for many years, and he feels that his untimely death is of more portent to the nation and the world than the activities of living national leaders, wherever they may be.

With hearty approval we watched senators of both parties pay humble and reverent tribute to the dying Sage. This was as it should have been. Borah was never one to be governed by the narrow dictates of party lines. He was a true liberal of the sort that the President often extols, but seldom recognizes.

While Borah did not concur in all that the Administration proposed, he has at times been considered a radical by his own party. Many times he voted almost alone, but he never stood alone. The weight of his opinion gave a cloak of respectability to all that he said. Men knew that his decisions were not the results of group pressure, log-rolling, nor party allegiance. They were sincere evaluations based on his own sound and well-seasoned judgment.

Perhaps Borah was too scrupulous for his own good. Perhaps so were Henry Clay and Daniel Webster. Because they dared to vote their convictions at the expense of party discipline all three failed to represent their parties in the White House. But in shaping the nation's history, Clay and Webster overshadow the presidents of their times. So, too, has the statesman from Idaho. His powerful deliberative force on the Senate and the nation has been so great that its absence is something difficult to visualize.

Perhaps his memory can best be honored by calling attention to the sizeable gap his demise leaves. Is there another senator whose long experience and respectable sincerity qualify him to counsel radical and reactionary alike? This we seriously doubt. Even our hope for American neutrality has felt sharply the death of this man, its one real voice. He was not able to avert tragedy in 1917. Perhaps he would have failed now. But just his voice in Washington was a reassurance to those of us who still believe in real neutrality and the doctrine that America can stay out of war.

We conclude with the words of President Roosevelt. "The Senate and the nation are sadly bereft by the passing of Senator Borah. We shall miss him, and long remember the superb courage that was his . . . Fair-minded, firm in principle, and shrewd in judgment . . . his passing leaves a void in American public life."

California has the "Rose Bowl", Florida has the "Orange Bowl", but Ursinus has "The Ice Cream Bowl"—but it's not a football game. It's a track meet. The first was held last Friday morning in the Patterson Field track during the snow and wind storm which threatened to outdo the blizzard of '88. The contestants? None other than "Glenn Cunningham" Heyen and "Babe Didrikson" Ganser. It was oh, so touching a scene, too.

You've all heard, no doubt, about the debutantes who give the world a break by singing at night clubs. Well, Ursinus has debs, too. Just the other evening Miss D. Frances Krusen had her coming out party with a few selected friends at a very seclusive nite spot. At the request of the orchestra (one fiddle, a battered trumpet, drums, and a piano), she condescendingly sang her version of "A Bicycle Built For Two." For her purpose, however, it had to be changed to "A Bicycle Built For Two, Three, Four, or Five".

Just the other day while telling his class which are the good and bad lipsticks on the market, one of the economics professors, and it wasn't Boswell, let his past catch up with him. And here we quote, "Just the other day I came in contact with one of my friends who was wearing a certain kind of lipstick, and—" Why, Pro-fess-or!!

Collegiate Chatter

Indiana University students are jittery these days: There's a local fireman who is seen frequently in student meeting places who looks exactly like the university president, Herman B. Wells, and his appearance causes no end of consternation. But the fireman's a thoughtful guy, though, and if you don't believe it, listen to this: "I walk across the campus quite often and always try to be friendly, because I wouldn't want to damage President Wells' reputation for friendliness."

Harvard University scientists have discovered a new earthquake wave that may be used in locating enemy artillery.

A program of French recordings was presented at the French Club meeting in the West Music Studio last Monday night. Janet MacNair '41, and Emily Pollock '41, were in charge of the program.

The recordings included two scenes from Moliere's plays, and music of Debussy as well as French folk music.

The club is planning to show moving pictures of the travelogue type at a meeting to be held on February 19.

HERE'S EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, AND EXTRA FLAVOR, and here's why: Camels are slower-burning. They have thoroughbred quality through and through. Finer, more expensive tobaccos are used, in the first place. And these choice tobaccos are combined into a matchless blend.

Smoke a Camel. Notice how slowly it burns. That is your clue to true cigarette enjoyment—the "extras" of mildness, coolness, flavor—and—extra smoking in every cigarette. Looks 'Em Over

The Bears take a couple of weeks off for exams, with a Conference record to date of four wins and two losses.

They really hit their stride in whipping F. and M., showing more scrap than ever before off the boards.

Bob Keehn turned in the greatest night of his collegiate career in coming out on top in his friendly feud with F. and M.'s bloodhound, Fritz Fox.

Al Hutchinson reminded old timers of Fats Costello's great exhibitions under the boards, despite his comparatively small stature.

Saturday's loss was like waking up after a nightmare. Drawing a goose-egg in the final canto after moving along pretty hot is almost one for Ripley.

Thompson-Gay's cramped quarters make a perfect setting for Bucknell's 2-3 zone defense, especially with "6 foot 5" Bob Longaker under the hoop.

Frank Meade missed his first game since starting basketball in Lansdowne's grammar school loop. The valuable center man might have gotten off easily if he had run into the wall instead of F. and M.'s Bill Wagner.

"Renfrew" Wise's nocturnal escapade a week ago earned him a berth in Montco's Hospital, struggling with a streptococcal infection in his throat.

These two men's absence put a big gap in the Bears' quintet which reserves Jacobs and Hutchinson stopped up, but could not quite fill.

"Whitey" Leyrer, former Ursinus one-year man, made the New York Times pictorial sports section as a member of Michigan State's basketball team, which will invade the Garden this week.

Plain, ordinary, everyday chocolate and vanilla ice cream for dessert Sunday highlighted the events of the week.

Sextet Downs St. John's Lutheran Team by 41-20

Bunny Harshaw, with 22 points, again led the team as the Ursinus girls' basketball team defeated St. John's Lutheran Church team of Reading, 41-20, last Wednesday night on the home floor.

Aided by the passing of Captain "Squeaky" Von Kleeck and Nat Hogeland's twelve-point score, the girls at no time allowed the St. John's sextet to take the lead. Alice Dougherty, Betty Snyder, and Blanche Schultz held the guard positions for the game. Substitutes were Peggy Keagle and Dot Ehmann.

The score ran 19-4 at the quarter; 28-12 at the half, and 38-18 at the third quarter in favor of Ursinus.

Kellettmen Drop Games To Two Foes Last Week

The Ursinus College freshmen basketball team dropped a game to the F. and M. frosh on Thursday evening at Lancaster, 41-30, and then lost a thriller to a strong Norristown Y. M. C. A. quintet, 41-38, on the victors' floor.

At Lancaster the Cubs were out-classed by a sharp-shooting Diplomat quintet which rolled up an impressive 24-13 lead in the first half, and managed to hold this margin despite improved ball handling by the Kellettmen. Ken Grosseck, with 4 field goals and 2 fouls, and Jim Ziegler, who rolled up 3 buckets and 1 free shot, led the scoring, while Cole and Stock starred for the victors.

The game with the Norristown "Y" proved to be more of a breather when the Cubs, starting off to an early lead, were ahead at half-time, 23-19, but bogged down in the third quarter to trail, 35-30. A mild flurry of baskets in the final period was not enough to close the space between the teams. Again it was the high scoring Grosseck who topped the point makers with 17 counters. Norristown's clever forward, Seavy, and rugged guard, Campbell, who sparked the third quarter rally, combined to score 26 between them.
