

Eagles Down 'Breds 96-87; Triplet Scores 39 Points

By George Stevens

The Eagles of Morehead State College, blossomed the huckling Murray Thoroughbreds 96-87, an exciting game that paced the homecoming quiet to the overtime victory held in the fieldhouse Saturday night.

The contest started as a see-saw exchange as the two Ohio Valley Conference rivals vied for the upper hand during the first half of play. With 10 minutes gone, Morehead's defensive machinery began to click as Herbie Triplet and forward Heckie Thompson boomed the ball from the line the first half of play. Eagle fans leaped confidently back in their seats as Morehead rolled to a 35-16 lead over the Thoroughbreds.

But the Thoroughbreds were not to be denied as the visitors stormed into the floor during the second half. Murray then began cutting the Eagle lead.

With 4:30 remaining in the game, the startled Eagles found the scoring clock on the short end of the scoring column at 56-39.

But from that point on, senior All-Ohio candidate Herb Triplet and forward Heckie Thompson staged a desperation come back for the hard luck Eagles.

Triplet, 9-9 currently averaging 20.3 points a game, staged one of the most stimulating performances of his basketball career while at Morehead. The dribbling expert paraded the charity stripe in the waning minutes of the game tossing in valuable free throws with the all-important bonus rule in effect.

The fabulous "line Flash" collected 17 free throws of 19 attempts throughout the game. Triplet tossed in 71 field goals to total a phenomenal 39 points for the evening.

As the game evolved into the all-important overtime period, the Eagles surged into the lead. After rolling the commanding 87-64 position, Triplet was called for the all important curtain call for his impressive regulation game performance. Trip received a call of-bounds pass from running mate Mike Morgan and simply dribbled down the hardwood into the awaiting Murray full court press.

The dominating offense dribbled, dribbled and dribbled as the seconds ticked, ticked and ticked off the twin electric score clocks lining each end of the floorhouse. The student body surged to their feet in mass applause of the one man free throw specialist Triplet dribbled circles around the alert Murray defense.

A whistle pierced the roar of the spirited student body and Triplet stepped up to the foul line, tossed his free throw, added the bonus shot and Morehead was up by six.

While verbal boogies have plagued Triplet for his outstanding performance, it was a team effort that claimed the victory for Morehead.

Forward Heckie Thompson turned in a fine contest as the "indio frontslammer," standing 5-11, amassed 27 points before the night was over. Thompson rebounded throughout the night as though he was a towering forward. At the free throw line, Thompson tossed in the vitally important two free throws that tied the game up 83-83 with 60.3 seconds remaining in the game. Morehead lost several games this season but from the free throw circle but from the free throw circle in the red hot Eagles tossed in 38 of 44 attempts from the charity stripe. In the all important overtime period, the Eagles ripped the chords for 11 of 12 free throws in the clutch.

Hilltoppers Invade Eagles Sat. Night

By Les Maulier

The Morehead Eagles said it couldn't be done.

The Western Hilltoppers said it could.

When Western came to Morehead to do battle with Coach Ben Laublin's Eagles last Saturday, they will be trying to do something no Hilltopper squad has been able to do since the fubhouse was built in 1937—defeat the Eagles in their own gym.

Always, since the new floor was constructed, no matter how strong or how weak the Big Red of Coach Ed Diddle, the Langhinners have emerged victor when the "Toppers" came to Eagland. The Diddle men, for whom things have been going pretty bad anyway, will be up and swinging when the whistle shrills for the game to start.

The game will serve as an incentive for the hard-luck men of Morehead as they will be trying to carry out the tradition of whipping W.K.S. in home fashion on their home court.

Big guns for the "Toppers" are Albert Ellison, man mountain Charlie Osburn and hot shot Bobby Basow, who has led the Hilltoppers to a 10-1 record.

Following Green men all year long, Hilltoppers hit the cords for high totals at one time or another during the course of the season.

Ellison, particularly, has been a clutch performer for the West-ern-squad. Named MVP of the "Sugar Bowl" Tournament, the 6' 4" guard led his team to the "National" championship. Bringing G.C. forward Charlie Osburn has been a potent scorer as well as the team's leading rebounder.

Senior forward Al Ellison consistently hits in double figures and is a great rebounder.

The two-toosing Ed Diddle will start his 16th season as basketball coach at the Hilltop campus. Diddle has stamped himself as one of the most colorful figures to ever appear on the national athletic scene. Wherever the Hilltoppers play, the well known coach is closely watched by the fans because over the years he has become known far and wide for his "over" throwing antics, which are not for show but a nervous habit.

The Eagles will try to square things with the Diddleites as they took the first fall at Bowling Green, 70-8.

COMPLETE WOODWORK PROJECT—4-H'ers of the Haldeman Grade and High Schools working under the leadership of Mr. Zenith Frisley have completed a project in woodwork. They learned while doing. Lessons included: how to read blueprints, material layout, use and care of hand tools and tool safety. Each boy made a garden trellis and helped build a sewing machine case for the club. Those participating were: Scotty Barker, Gary Goss for the club; Keith Howard, Keith Hinton, David Nickel, Danny Burchett, Charles Howard, Keith Hinton, David Nickel, Danny Knipp, Billy Thomas, Lanny Terry, Joe Rice and Lowell Thomas.

Eagles Duel With Eastern Thursday

By Ray Allen

The Morehead Eagles journey to Richmond to take on Paul M. Brayer's highly touted Eastern Maroons this evening.

The Maroons are currently undefeated in conference play.

The scoring of this game has been the key to Eastern's success this season. The Maroons' balanced scoring attack consists of All-Conference guards Carl Cole and Jack Lipschultz. They are assisted by forwards Bruce Seidig, Phil Estep, and Ray Gardner.

The center position is handled by high jumper, G. W. sophomore Ralph Richardson and 6' 5" Ronald Wewille. In addition to their scoring punch came from Nelson White who returned after a two year hitch in service.

In the only previous meeting, the Maroons bombarded the Eagles here with a 106-30 victory. In this rout on Morehead's home floor, sharp shooting J. Estep snatched the scoring honors for the game as he ripped the cords for 29 points. K. Wewille added 19 markers, and picked off 12 free bounds.

For Morehead, Herbie Triplet slipped in 25 points and Heckie Thompson pitched in with 20 markers in a losing cause. The Eagles trailed only by five points midway in the second half, but their funk led to their down fall. The Easterners out rebounded the Eagles 54 to 38, and hit for a better percentage from the field as they blazed the nets for a 33 per cent average compared with the Eagles 40 per cent.

In the second round Morehead could pull an upset if the big boys can manage to restrain from fouling out.

'CONSERVATIVE' DEFINED

A Democratic congressman has come up with his definition of a conservative. "A man who worships dead liberals." The prof, says Representative Denton (Ind.), is that the conservative Eisenhower Administration has relied on laws of the Franklin Roosevelt Administration to prevent another depression.

"No man has more pride than a man who insists that he has none."

The only reason the rich pay taxes is because the paupers can't.

Prosperity Forecast During The Remainder Of This Year

The economic experts are now saying that the current prosperity wave will continue through 1936.

Although many financial observers believe the boom in the stock market is over, and that money will remain tight in 1936, they see record income and record spending and satisfactory profit levels. The cost of living will inch slightly higher, according to the majority of guesswork being done.

Most current estimates call for the gross national product to top $50,000,000,000 this year, whereas in 1935 it totaled about $40,000,000,000. Incomes are expected to total over $400,000,000,000, which would also be a new high, since incomes last year were about $380,000,000,000.

And, profits of corporations are expected to be up—all of which is encouraging to the Administration, and to the Republican party, for it is an acknowledged fact that peace and prosperity are major political assets of the party in power during a Presidential election year.

The growth of the economy is not only satisfying to those who are enjoying its benefits, personally, but it is gratifying from a larger viewpoint. With the communist economy in Russia expanding at an average of six or eight percent per year—and in recent years of the U. S. expanding at two to four percent, it is obviously vital for us to redouble our efforts to promote economic growth in the greatest free enterprise country in the free world.

This growth has not been rapid enough in recent years, and it is to be hoped that it can be accelerated in future years, possibly through the removal of punitive and expansion-discouraging business taxes and a greater availability of low-interest money.

We Don't Hurry Age Often Not The Criterion Much Now

In these days and times we see fewer and fewer young people dedicated to a schedule of hard work. The reason is simple—we have more money, or more and pop have more.

As a result, many young people today work a five-day week (what they consider work) or maybe a five-and-a-half day week, without ever hurrying too much, or being too much or worrying about the service they are giving, or the dollars they might be missing, etc.

They come to the office in the morning dressed neatly, have secretaries to do the typing, and detailed staff, carefully, have a happy coffee break (where they talk to the boys, and gossip, like women) and toddle off for lunch. After lunch they return refreshed, enjoy another coffee break in the afternoon (or maybe just go) and go home at five, still neat and clean.

The young wives neglect their children quite often, spending their time at the bridge table or on the golf course, seeking pleasure, and gossiping, gossiping. Many also neglect their homes, do not keep them attractive and spend little time in the yard. This is not true of all wives, or all husbands, in this young, upper brackets, but it is true of many of them.

Nothing can or will be done to harden the routine of the "post-war darlings" as of now. Money and jobs are plentiful. But we are soft, and the people of Russia are hardened and hungry and hard working, throughout history the hungrier people have sooner or later taken over from the complacent, soft and self-satisfied. There is a lesson here, very plain to see.

Drug Groups Are Under Fire

The Justice Department recently, charged two major drug companies with having conspired to monopolize the market in mild tranquilizers and combination drugs.

The Justice Department said the alleged conspiracy caused the consuming public to pay artificially high and noncompetitive prices for probabably tranquilizing drugs.

Meanwhile, in Washington, officials of one of the companies were warned at a preliminary hearing that its pricing policies were inviting price control by popular demand. This is the thought and motivation of this editorial.

The drug companies of the United States face a heavy responsibility, for they are dealing with a product which is sometimes vital to health, and even life, of millions of people.

If the Justice Department wins its suit, and two companies are found to have been guilty of creating artificially high prices, and noncompetitive prices, this will be a major blow in favor of some sort of government supervision.

The officials of drug companies, and doctors, and all those connected with the medical profession, can look around the world and see how many nations have adopted some form of socialized medicine, or government health aid, or supervision.

If this is done, intelligently, it will be readily apparent how vital it is for the drug industry to refrain from gouging the public.

Everybody In Community Is Having Lots Of Those Harmful Pains And Aches

By Clemmie Mallon
Aches and pains have been right prevalent here about Willits for the past few weeks. Several have been going to the contractor to get a few kinks straightened out so they can have some relief. Corsey Gabbard told us that he had more aches and pains in his structure than two women usually had. He had a few of the kinks jerked out though and feeling some better right at this time.

A feller's system certainly can get run down when he's got to flu what them Asians have been a suffering with, seems like all the time our foundations are sending us letters a wanting more money to fight them bad diseases and they get a damn good work in cutting down on these bad diseases. But seems like they get out of our under centers, they'll be some other one crop up what will be just as bad as the other one. Just to whip it, it looks like we're going to be something send us on some of our matters how much money negative to foundations to fight diseases what send us up your.

Some of these pills are around here by most of us government will be able to take care of all these pills and give us all a good sized check and furnish us all the commodities that we desire for food. We'll be getting a full rationed diet of commodities by 1936 (clothing will be furnished from surplus cotton and wool by 1937) cars and appliances will have to be purchased from the factories by government to keep the factories going. Then the government can give us the cars and appliances. Medicine will probably be socialized for us and we can get all our doctoring done for nothing and be kept in top top condition all the time so we can really enjoy ourselves. We will need our check give to us by our government to spend when we fly over to other countries on expense paid trips. We can spend this money for souvenirs of other countries or to pay for oddities found on the moon and other stars and planets. 1937 will be a great year for all of us.

MAN ON THE STREET

Democrats Running Ahead Of Republicans On Poll For Seats In The Congress

Results of the latest Man On The Street "trial heat" of voter preference for Congress (House of Representatives) shows Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives running ahead of Republican Congressional candidates by at least as big a margin as they raked up in the 1928 Congressional elections.

What should be of deep concern to GOP leaders is the fact that today's findings would indicate that Democratic congressional candidates would do considerably better today than they did in the 1928 Congressional elections—the same year that President Eisenhower raked up his impressive victory over Adlai Stevenson.

Today's survey results are of special significance because they provide an excellent indication of the basic strength of the two major political parties across the nation less than nine months before the all-important 1936 elections.

This November, every seat in the House of Representatives plus the national Congress plus each state's electoral votes for President, as well as about one in every three U. S. Senate seats will be up for grabs.

Here's how the vote went in a Man On The Street survey with adult citizens in all walks of life. The question "If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see in your own Congressional District—the Republican or the Democratic party?"

The results:
House of Representatives
Registered Voters—Of Those Eligible To Vote—53% Democrats
Undecided 45%
With the undecided eliminated, Democrats 56.7%
Republican 43.3%

In 1928, the Democrats won control of the House of Representatives by the big margin of 129 seats while picking up 26 per cent of the popular vote.

Today's findings thus indicate that sentiment for Democratic Congressional candidates is in a 1928-like mood, not a 1932-like mood.

Quite a few wives are incorrigible. A man shaved his wife's head to keep her from running around with men, but next day she bought a toupee and went right back into circulation.

If you can't think of anything else for which to be thankful today, you might spend a moment being thankful that—in the U. S., goosey birds aren't as numerous as sparrows.

It's costing far too much to maintain and operate our local plant, it is hoped that if and when man conquers space, he can find and move to a less expensive place of abode.

Ag Group Will Meet February 16

The 1936 Kentucky Agricultural Co-operative Conference will be held at the University of Kentucky Feb. 16-17 and 18.

Gov. Bert T. Combs will be the featured speaker of the opening session. He will talk at the conference luncheon Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Mills K. Swanson, Madison, Wis., Executive Secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Extension Workers, will be the main speaker at the Wednesday, Feb. 17 program.

All sessions will be held in the building of the Blue Grass Room, L. A. Zahradka, Lexington, Falls City Milk Co-operative, and Extension Education, Inc., conference chairman.

A hospitality hour and registration from 9 a. m. to noon on Tuesday, Feb. 16, upon the completion of the luncheon, after welcome by Dean Frank J. C. Brown, University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

The afternoon session includes a general discussion on "Significant Changes and Problems in Kentucky Agriculture," with Dr. Charles H. Brown, Agricultural Extension Station, as chairman. Dr. Brown will speak on matters of interest to cooperative directors and managers.

On Wednesday the session opens with a panel led by H. S. Cleveland, Shelbyville, war-horseman and co-operative official, with J. K. Stern, American Institute of Co-operation, summing up the day's proceedings.

Young Farm Families Topic Of Meeting

Problems facing "young farm families" will be discussed at two meetings this month.

Fred Brozman, UK Cooperative Extension Service, specialist, said the sessions are set for Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the University in Lexington, and Feb. 18 at the Round Tavern near Park City in Barren County.

About 23 counties are involved in the Lexington meeting, 26 in the Barren County session. Extension Service and the Kentucky Farm Bureau, and co-sponsors, will explain the Extension Service and the service, will give a talk on "The Changing Agricultural Scene." Farm Bureau Opposes Two State Bills

Compulsory Auto Insurance Draws Rural Section Fire

By C. H. Fields
Out of the more than 300 pieces of legislation that have already been introduced in the General Assembly in Frankfort, "Farm Bureau" is opposed to at least two of them.

House Bill 182, which would provide for compulsory auto insurance in Kentucky, and House Bill 196, known as a "fair trade" bill, which would actually provide for compulsory price fixing of practically any item that a manufacturer wanted to determine the price on at the retail level.

The compulsory insurance bill, if passed into law, would likely have the effect of raising auto insurance rates by about 50 per cent.

This is based on the experience of other states, where such legislation has become law.

Fields' proposed legislation would require "financial responsibility" to be guaranteed before a vehicle could be registered and a license issued. Although it provides three ways of providing such responsibility, the only practical alternative provided is an insurance policy.

While it is true that no insurance company would be required to issue a policy, it is true that the result of this bill, the number of persons who would find it necessary to seek financial responsibility would be increased so greatly, that it would create a market for insurance policies.

Insurance companies generally lose money on assigned risk policies. This type of retail program has not been successful in other states, and it is the first step toward socialized or state-owned insurance.

It is being pushed by selfish interests who evidently do not believe in the American competitive system in which pricing plans are determined by the free market.

Davis Chosen To Head Weight Week

A State Department of Agriculture official, James G. Davis, has been selected to head the annual observance of National Weights and Measures Week, March 17.

Davis, of Echoville, is the department's Director of Administrative Services. He was named chairman of the annual observance by the education committee of the National Conference of Weights and Measures.

"Everyone has a financial stake in the accuracy of weights and measures," Davis pointed out. "The average family has, at least, $100 a year involved—the amount estimated the average family would lose a year through faulty weights and measures."

Official inspection of weighing and measuring devices upon the ancient edict of civilization that quantity devices should be impartial to buyer and seller alike, Davis said.

Gov. Bert Comb has proclaimed the special week in Kentucky. Davis said various methods will be used to make the public aware of the observance, including presentations by mayors. At least one television show and several speaking appearances before clubs are planned in connection with the week, Davis said.

This type of inspection work is performed in Kentucky by the agriculture department's Division of Weights and Measures and by similar agencies operated by the cities of Louisville, Covington, and Lexington.

The Noisiest School In United States

Some call it "The Warehouse" and others call it "Oxford on the Rocks," but 4,000 Chicagoans are getting a college education there on the noisiest campus in the world.

At the University of Illinois, Chicago branch, the students huddle in small classrooms and try to hear the lectures while trucks rumble by their windows. Planes zoom over their heads, freighters from all over the world dock practically under their noses.

The college is located in one wing of Chicago's Navy Pier, which juts into Lake Michigan. The other wing is a freight handling area for trains and freighters.

Between the school and freight area is a rail yard. A ramp and a long skyway connect the school trucks travel to pick up material from the box cars and ships.

The school itself is located in a warehouse with classes off either side of a 12-foot-wide, seven-eighths-of-a-mile-long corridor, which looks like a subway passageway.

"The noise is so great at times when the trucks start coming by," said one student, Chicago, "that the instructor has to stop in the middle of his lecture until they go."

Other students said that at times, with trucks going by and airplanes going in for landings at nearby Meigs Field, erasers and chalk jump off blackboards and classroom seats begin to vibrate.

Truck drivers, standing on the running boards of their lined up trucks, add to the confusion.

Nixon Votes Against School Aid Measure

The Senate has turned down on a tie vote a Democratic-sponsored proposal to double the size of the school aid bill and Vice President Nixon then helped seal defeat of the measure.

The proposal, sponsored by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) and 22 other senators, first lost on a 44-44 tie vote after one Republican in favor of it switched to withdraw his vote.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) then moved to reconsider the vote in an effort to change the result. Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) countered with a move to table and thus kill the reconsideration proposal.

The vote on the Dirksen proposal again was 44-44, but Vice President Nixon then moved into the presiding officer's chair and broke the tie to put over the Dirksen motion, 45-44. This had the effect of killing any chance to revive the Clark amendment.

Nixon could have broken the 44-44 tie on the Clark amendment and put it over had he favored it. But the Eisenhower administration strongly opposes any federal aid to education program as broad as contained in the Clark proposal.

The Pennsylvania senator's proposal would have set up a 1,000,000 grant program to the states in the first year—$25 for each pupil in the nation. It also would have made funds available for teachers' salaries as well as new school buildings and continued the entire $25-per-pupil program indefinitely.

Job Discrimination Under Federal Study

Rapid and massive changes in the labor force in the 1960s will require the abandonment of job discriminations based on race, age, sex and color, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Saturday.

Mitchell made public a Labor Department study showing that industry will be hit by a tide of young and inexperienced workers just as it feels a shortage of men in their working prime—the group that provides managers and foremen.

The proportion of older workers and working women will climb steeply, the report said. Two of every five employees will be over 45, and by 1970 one of every three will be a woman.

If management can cope with these impending shifts—and with the need for better-trained and better-educated employees—the country's manpower resources can support a 50 per cent gain in production, Mitchell said. That would mean a 750-billion-dollar output in 1970, compared with a recent rate of 485 billion.

Hinted at, but not directly discussed in the comprehensive study, was a question raised by some economists: whether the economy will grow rapidly enough to absorb a net increase of 13½ million in the labor force in 10 years without painful unemployment.

Mitchell told a news conference that the study assumes there will be high-level prosperity, no depression, and no war. So, he said, high employment, a 25 per cent rise in living standards, and a three-quarter trillion dollar output rate not only are realistic, but conservative targets for the decade.

But the road is beset with complex problems, the secretary said.

"In brief, we in the United States have a crucial and diffi-

Corn Support In Kentucky Is Bigger

The amount of 1958-crop corn under price support in Kentucky had reached 122 million bushels as of the end of December, W. O. Gilbreath of the Kentucky Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today. This compares with 1,490,000 bushels of 1958-crop corn placed under support as of the same date a year earlier.

Nationally, Mr. Gilbreath said, there was a seasonal increase in December in the amount of corn placed under support, but all other grains are moving under support in smaller quantities now than they were a year earlier.

Through December 31, farmers throughout the country had put 122 million bushels of corn under price support loans and purchase agreements, a slight increase over the 108.5 million bushels at the same date in 1957. Support on

The 1958 crop will continue to be available until May 31, 1960.

The total quantity of 1958-crop wheat under support at the end of the year was 275.5 million bushels, only slightly more than half the amount at the end of 1957. More than 22 million bushels of 1958-crop wheat had been redeemed through loan repayment.

In the case of barley, oats, rye, soybeans, and grain sorghums, support on the 1958 crop placed under support through the end of December were sharply below quantities of a year earlier.

IF YOU HAVEN'T PAID YOUR TAXES

A two percent penalty was added January 1, and another six percent penalty on February 1. If you haven't paid, your tax bill has, under Kentucky revised statutes, become delinquent, will be advertised in the newspaper and sold at the courthouse door.

Avoid the embarrassment of having your name in the paper and advertising costs and other penalties by paying before the list of delinquent taxpayers is made up for publication in the Rowan County News.

Unemployment Insurance To Be Curbed If Industry Bill Receives Legislative Approval

An industry backed bill to tighten up on qualifications for unemployment insurance was introduced Monday in the House of Representatives at Frankfort.

It would:

1. Require an applicant for benefits to be actively seeking employment, even outside the locality where he had been working. Now he is required only to be making a "reasonable effort."
2. Raise from $24.50 to $27.50 the minimum nine-month earnings for eligibility.
3. Ban payments to workers given a disciplinary layoff for just cause.

4. Eliminate applicants who left work "because of marital, parental, filial or other domestic obligation or became unemployed because of pregnancy."

5. Make ineligible those who left work without good cause or who were discharged for misconduct. They now must serve a 6 to 16 weeks' waiting period, then become eligible.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Thomas M. Brannaman (D-Franklin) and several others, also tightens and defines some of the states' language.

It does not alter the present 10 minimum or $34 maximum in weekly payments, nor the 26-week limit on benefits.

A labor-supported bill introduced previously in the House would extend the coverage and raise the benefits to a minimum of $13 and a maximum of $45.

Other Bills

Rep. Gether Erick (D-Stone) introduced a bill requiring proof of liability insurance for registering an auto. The coverage would have to be up to $5,000 for injury or death to one person, $10,000 for two or more in one accident and $5,000 for property damage.

The bill would require the Department of Insurance to establish a plan to make insurance available to those unable to obtain it through normal application. These applications would be apportioned among the companies licensed to do business in the state.

Rep. George F. Harris (D-Salem) offered a bill to allow water districts establishing or acquiring gas distribution systems to serve more than one county with "natural gas."

An administration bill to spell out extradition procedures was introduced by House Majority Leader Thomas L. Ray (D-Fair dale). The bill-called the Uniform Extradition Act-would provide for extradition for misdemeanors as well as felonies.

Rep. Marlow Cook (R-Louisville) introduced a measure setting up a milk marketing and anti-monopoly commission. The agriculture practitioner, a and five others appointed by the governor would administer the act.

Basically, it is designed to end price wars on milk and dairy products-by prohibiting distributors, processors, stores or bulk milk handlers from engaging in marketing practices which the commission would declare unreasonable.

Such unlawful practices would include advertising for sale a product at less than cost for the purpose of injuring competition.

It would prevent discrimination in the price of dairy products between different localities after making allowances for delivery, and would prohibit rebates to the purchaser.

The commission would not be allowed to fix prices, but producers or dealers would be required to file schedules showing all prices.

The commission would have the power to hold hearings and investigate marketing practices, and then make rules and regulations to eliminate any practices found to be contrary to the act.

Olle M. Lyon Moves Up In Advertising Field

Appointment of Olle M. Lyon, Jr. formerly of Morehead, as a vice president and member of the executive committee of Young & Rubicam, Ltd., has been announced by Trevor G. Goodman, vice president and managing director. This is the first assignment in the International Division of the advertising agency for Mr. Lyon, who has been engaged as a senior account executive in Y & R's New York office.

A former newspaper editor and public relations executive, he was advertising supervisor with a major electrical appliance manufacturer before entering the advertising agency field with Y & R in 1952. In his new position, Mr. Lyon is a management representative in the Toronto office on several accounts.

PATIENCE ON CUBA

The United States will continue its attitude of patience toward the Cuban Government of Premier Fidel Castro. This became known after President Eisenhower had considered the deteriorating United States-Cuban relations at a recent White House conference. The United States, it was understood, will do nothing to build up a crisis and will threaten no economic sanctions, such as reducing Cuba's quota in the United States sugar market.

STRESS ON SPACE PLANS

Government spending on research and development will rise 5 per cent in the coming fiscal year, President Eisenhower's budget called for $8,391,000,000 in this category. This will be a $500,000,000 increase over the current fiscal year. More than 80 per cent of the work will be conducted by the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.
